

The Bible in a Year

International Standard Version

1st January

Genesis 1

- 1 In the beginning, God created the universe.
- 2 When the earth was as yet unformed and desolate, with the surface of the ocean depths shrouded in darkness, and while the Spirit of God was hovering over the surface of the waters,
- 3 God said, "Let there be light!" So there was light.
- 4 God saw that the light was beautiful. He separated the light from the darkness,
- 5 calling the light "day," and the darkness "night." The twilight and the dawn were day one.
- 6 Then God said, "Let there be a canopy between bodies of water, separating bodies of water from bodies of water!"
- 7 So God made a canopy that separated the water beneath the canopy from the water above it. And that is what happened:
- 8 God called the canopy "sky." The twilight and the dawn were the second day.
- 9 Then God said, "Let the water beneath the sky come together into one area, and let dry ground appear!" And that is what happened:
- 10 God called the dry ground "land," and he called the water that had come together "oceans." And God saw how good it was.
- 11 Then God said, "Let vegetation sprout all over the earth, including seed-bearing plants and fruit trees, each kind containing its own seed!" And that is what happened:
- 12 Vegetation sprouted all over the earth, including seed-bearing plants and fruit trees, each kind containing its own seed. And God saw that it was good.
- 13 The twilight and the dawn were the third day.
- 14 Then God said, "Let there be lights across the sky to distinguish day from night, to act as signs for seasons, days, and years,
- 15 to serve as lights in the sky, and to shine on the earth!" And that is what happened:
- 16 God fashioned two great lights — the larger light to shine during the day and the smaller light to shine during the night — as well as the stars.
- 17 God placed them in the sky to shine on the earth,
- 18 to shine both day and night, and to distinguish light from darkness. And God saw how good it was.
- 19 The twilight and the dawn were the fourth day.
- 20 Then God said, "Let the oceans swarm with living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth throughout the sky!"
- 21 So God created every kind of magnificent marine creature, every kind of living marine crawler with which the waters swarmed, and every kind of flying bird. And God saw how good it was.
- 22 God blessed them by saying, "Be fruitful, multiply, and fill the oceans. Let the birds multiply throughout the earth!"
- 23 The twilight and the dawn were the fifth day.
- 24 Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth each kind of living creature, each kind of livestock and crawling thing, and each kind of earth's animals!" And that is what happened:
- 25 God made each kind of the earth's animals, along with every kind of livestock and crawling thing. And God saw how good it was.
- 26 Then God said, "Let us make mankind in our image, to be like us. Let them be masters over the fish in the ocean, the birds that fly, the livestock, everything that crawls on the earth, and over the earth itself!"
- 27 So God created mankind in his own image; in his own image God created them; he created them male and female.

28 God blessed these humans by saying to them, "Be fruitful, multiply, fill the earth, and subdue it! Be masters over the fish in the ocean, the birds that fly, and every living thing that crawls on the earth!"

29 God also told them, "Look! I have given you every seed-bearing plant that grows throughout the earth, along with every tree that grows seed-bearing fruit. They will produce your food.

30 I have given all green plants as food for every wild animal of the earth, every bird that flies, and to every living thing that crawls on the earth." And that is what happened.

31 Now God saw all that he had made, and indeed, it was very good! The twilight and the dawn were the sixth day.

Genesis 2

1 With this the heavens and the earth were completed, including all of their vast array.

2 By the seventh day God had completed the work he had been doing, so on the seventh day he stopped working on everything that he had done.

3 Then God blessed the seventh day and made it holy, because on it God stopped working on everything that he had been creating.

4 These are the records of how the heavens and the earth were created. On the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

5 no shrubs had yet grown in the meadows of the earth and no vegetation had sprouted, because the LORD God had not sent rain on the earth and there were no human beings to work the ground.

6 Instead, an underground stream would rise from the earth and water the surface of the ground.

7 So the LORD God formed the man from the dust of the ground, breathed life into his lungs, and the man became a living being.

8 The LORD God planted a garden in Eden, toward the east, where he placed the man whom he had formed.

9 The LORD God caused every tree that is both beautiful and suitable for food to spring up out of the ground. The tree of life was also in the middle of the garden, along with the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

10 A river flows from Eden to water the garden, and from there it divides, becoming four branches.

11 The name of the first one is Pishon — it winds through the entire land of Havilah, where there is gold.

12 The gold of that land is pure; bdellium and onyx are also found there.

13 The name of the second river is Gihon — it winds through the entire land of Cush.

14 The third river is named the Tigris — it flows to the east of Assyria. The fourth river is the Euphrates.

15 The LORD God took the man and placed him in the Garden of Eden in order to have him work it and guard it.

16 The LORD God commanded the man: "You may freely eat from every tree of the garden, but you are not to eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, because you will certainly die during the day that you eat from it."

18 Later, the LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make for him a companion that is a suitable match for him."

19 After the LORD God formed from the ground every wild animal and every bird that flies, he brought each of them to the man to see what he would call it. Whatever the man called each living creature became its name.

20 The man gave names to all the livestock, to the birds that fly, and to each of earth's animals, but there was not found for the man any companion corresponding to him,

21 so the LORD God caused a deep sleep to overshadow the man. When the man was asleep, he removed one of the man's ribs and closed up the flesh where it had been.
22 Then the LORD God formed the rib that he had taken from the man into a woman and brought her to the man.
23 So the man exclaimed, "At last! This is bone from my bones and flesh from my flesh. This one will be called 'Woman,' because she was taken from Man."
24 (Therefore a man will leave his father and his mother and cling to his wife, and they will become one flesh).
25 Even though both the man and his wife were naked, they were not ashamed about it.

Genesis 3

1 Now the Shining One was more clever than any animal of the field that the LORD God had made. It asked the woman, "Did God actually say, 'You are not to eat from any tree of the garden'?"
2 "We may eat from the trees of the garden," the woman answered the serpent,
3 "but as for the fruit of the tree that is in the middle of the garden, God has said, 'You are not to eat from it, nor are you to touch it, or you will die.'"
4 "You certainly will not die!" the Shining One told the woman.
5 "Even God knows that on the day you eat from it, your eyes will be opened and you'll become like God, knowing good and evil."
6 When the woman saw that the tree produced good food, was attractive in appearance, and was desirable for making one wise, she took some of its fruit and ate it. Then she also gave some to her husband who was with her, and he ate some, too.
7 As a result, they both understood what they had done, and they became aware that they were naked. So they sewed fig leaves together and made loincloths for themselves.
8 When they heard the voice of the LORD God as he was walking in the garden during the breeze of the day, the man and his wife concealed themselves from the presence of the LORD God among the trees of the garden.

Matthew 1

1 This is a record of the life of Jesus the Messiah, the son of David, the son of Abraham.
2 Abraham fathered Isaac, Isaac fathered Jacob, and Jacob fathered Judah and his brothers.
3 Judah fathered Perez and Zerah by Tamar, Perez fathered Hezron, Hezron fathered Aram,
4 Aram fathered Amminadab, Amminadab fathered Nahshon, and Nahshon fathered Salmon.
5 Salmon fathered Boaz by Rahab, Boaz fathered Obed by Ruth, Obed fathered Jesse,
6 and Jesse fathered King David. David fathered Solomon by the wife of Uriah,
7 Solomon fathered Rehoboam, Rehoboam fathered Abijah, Abijah fathered Asaph,
8 Asaph fathered Jehoshaphat, Jehoshaphat fathered Joram, Joram fathered Uzziah,
9 Uzziah fathered Jotham, Jotham fathered Ahaz, Ahaz fathered Hezekiah,
10 Hezekiah fathered Manasseh, Manasseh fathered Amos, and Amos fathered Josiah.
11 Josiah fathered Jechoniah and his brothers at the time of the deportation to Babylon.
12 After the deportation to Babylon, Jechoniah fathered Salathiel, Salathiel fathered Zerubbabel,
13 Zerubbabel fathered Abiud, Abiud fathered Eliakim, Eliakim fathered Azor,
14 Azor fathered Zadok, Zadok fathered Achim, Achim fathered Eliud, 15 Eliud fathered Eleazar, Eleazar fathered Matthan, and Matthan fathered Jacob.
16 Jacob fathered Joseph, the husband of Mary, who was the mother of Jesus, who is called the Messiah.
17 So all the generations from Abraham to David totalled fourteen generations, and from David to the deportation to Babylon totalled fourteen generations, and from the deportation to Babylon to the Messiah there were fourteen generations.
18 Now the birth of Jesus the Messiah happened in this way. When his mother Mary was engaged to Joseph, before they lived together she was discovered to be pregnant by the Holy Spirit.
19 Her husband Joseph, being a righteous man and unwilling to disgrace her, decided to divorce her secretly.
20 After he had thought about it, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream. "Joseph, son of David," he said, "don't be afraid to take Mary as your wife, because what has been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit.
21 She will give birth to a son, and you are to name him Jesus, because he is the one who will save his people from their sins."
22 Now all this happened to fulfil what was declared by the Lord through the prophet when he said,
23 "See, a virgin will become pregnant and give birth to a son, and they will name him Immanuel," which means, "God with us."
24 When Joseph got up from his sleep, he did as the angel of the Lord had commanded him and took Mary as his wife.
25 He did not have marital relations with her until she had given birth to a son; and he named him Jesus.

Genesis 3

9 So the LORD God called out to the man, asking him, "Where are you?"
10 "I heard your voice in the garden," the man answered, "and I was afraid because I was naked, so I hid from you."
11 "Who told you that you are naked?" God asked. "Did you eat fruit from the tree that I commanded you not to eat?"
12 The man answered, "The woman whom you provided for me gave me fruit from the tree, and I ate some of it."
13 Then the LORD God asked the woman, "What did you do?" "The Shining One misled me," the woman answered, "so I ate."
14 The LORD God told the Shining One, "Because you have done this, you are more cursed than all the livestock, and more than all the earth's animals, You'll crawl on your belly and eat dust as long as you live.
15 "I'll place hostility between you and the woman, between your offspring and her offspring. He'll strike you on the head, and you'll strike him on the heel."
16 He told the woman, "I'll greatly increase the pain of your labour during childbirth; it will be painful for you to bear children. "Your trust turns toward your husband, yet he will dominate you."
17 He told the man, "Because you have listened to what your wife said, and have eaten from the tree about which I commanded you, 'You must not eat from it,' cursed is the ground because of you. You'll eat from it through pain-filled labour for the rest of your life.
18 It will produce thorns and thistles for you, and you'll eat the plants from the meadows.
19 You will eat food by the sweat of your brow until you're buried in the ground, because you were taken from it. You're made from dust and you'll return to dust."
20 Now Adam had named his wife "Eve," because she was to become the mother of everyone who was living.
21 The LORD God fashioned garments from animal skins for Adam and his wife, and clothed them.
22 Later, the LORD God said, "Look! The man has become like one of us in knowing good and evil. Now, so he won't reach out, also take from the tree of life, eat, and then live forever — "
23 therefore the LORD God expelled the man from the garden of Eden so he would work the ground from which he had been taken.
24 After he had expelled the man, the LORD God placed winged angels at the eastern end of the garden of Eden, along with a fiery whirling sword, to prevent access to the tree of life.

Genesis 4

1 Later, Adam had sexual relations with his wife Eve. She became pregnant and gave birth to Cain. She said, "I have given birth to a male child with the LORD."
2 She also gave birth to his brother Abel. Abel shepherded flocks and Cain became a farmer.
3 Later, Cain brought an offering to the LORD from the fruit that he had harvested,
4 while Abel offered the best parts of some of the firstborn from his flock. The LORD looked favourably upon Abel and his offering,
5 but he did not look favourably upon Cain and his offering. When Cain became very upset and depressed,
6 the LORD asked Cain, "Why are you so upset? Why are you depressed?"

7 If you do what is appropriate, you'll be accepted, won't you? But if you don't do what is appropriate, sin is crouching near your doorway, turning toward you. However, you must take dominion over it."

8 Instead, Cain told his brother Abel, "Let's go out to the wilderness." When they were outside in the fields, Cain attacked his brother Abel and killed him.

9 Later, the LORD asked Cain, "Where's your brother Abel?" "I don't know," he answered. "Am I my brother's guardian?"

10 "What did you do?" God asked. "Your brother's blood cries out to me from the ground.

11 Now you're more cursed than the ground, which has opened to receive your brother's blood from your hand.

12 Whenever you work the ground, it will no longer yield its produce to you, and you'll wander throughout the earth as a fugitive."

13 "My punishment is too great to bear," Cain told the LORD.

14 "You're driving me from the soil today. I'll be hidden from you, and I'll wander throughout the earth as a fugitive. In the future, whoever finds me will kill me."

15 The LORD told him, "This won't happen, because whoever kills you will suffer seven times the vengeance." Then the LORD placed a sign on Cain so that no one finding him would kill him.

16 After this, Cain left the presence of the LORD and settled in the land of Nod, east of Eden.

17 Later, Cain had sexual relations with his wife. She became pregnant and gave birth to Enoch. Cain founded a city and named it after his son Enoch.

18 Irad was born to Enoch. Irad fathered Mehujael, and Mehujael fathered Methushael, and Methushael fathered Lamech.

19 Later, Lamech married two wives. One was named Adah and the other was named Zillah.

20 Adah gave birth to Jabal, who became the ancestor of those who live in tents and herd livestock.

21 His brother was named Jubal; he became the ancestor of all those who play the lyre and the flute.

22 Zillah gave birth to Tubal-cain, who became a forger of bronze and iron work. Tubal-cain's sister was Naamah.

23 Lamech told his wives, "Adah and Zillah, listen to what I have to say: You wives of Lamech, hear what I'm announcing! I've killed a man for wounding me, a young man for bruising me.

24 For if Cain is being avenged seven times, then Lamech will be avenged 77 times."

25 Later on, after Adam had sexual relations with his wife, she gave birth to a son and named him Seth, because "God granted me another offspring to replace Abel, since Cain murdered him."

26 Seth also fathered a son, whom he named Enosh. At that time, profaning the name of the LORD began.

Genesis 5

1 This is the historical record of Adam's generations. When God created mankind, he made them in his own likeness.

2 Creating them male and female, he blessed them and called them humans when he created them.

3 After Adam had lived 130 years, he fathered a son just like him, that is, according to his own likeness, and named him Seth.

4 Adam lived another 800 years, fathering other sons and daughters after he had fathered Seth.

5 Adam lived a total of 930 years and then died.

- 6 When Seth had lived 105 years, he fathered Enosh.
- 7 After he fathered Enosh, Seth lived 807 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
- 8 Seth lived a total of 912 years and then died.
- 9 When Enosh had lived 90 years, he fathered Kenan.
- 10 After he fathered Kenan, Enosh lived 815 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
- 11 Enosh lived a total of 905 years and then died.
- 12 When Kenan had lived 70 years, he fathered Mahalalel.
- 13 After he fathered Mahalalel, Kenan lived 840 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
- 14 Kenan lived a total of 910 years and then died.
- 15 When Mahalalel had lived 65 years, he fathered Jared.
- 16 After he fathered Jared, Mahalalel lived 830 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
- 17 Mahalalel lived a total of 895 years and then died.
- 18 When Jared had lived 162 years, he fathered Enoch.
- 19 After he fathered Enoch, Jared lived 800 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
- 20 Jared lived a total of 962 years and then died.

Matthew 2

1 After Jesus had been born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of King Herod, wise men from the east arrived in Jerusalem

2 and asked, "Where is the one who was born king of the Jews? We saw his star in the east and have come to worship him."

3 When King Herod heard this, he was disturbed, as was all of Jerusalem.

4 He called together all the high priests and scribes of the people and asked them where the Messiah was to be born.

5 They told him, "In Bethlehem of Judea, because that is what was written by the prophet:

6 'O Bethlehem in the land of Judah, you are by no means least among the rulers of Judah, because from you will come a ruler who will shepherd my people Israel.'"

7 Then Herod secretly called together the wise men, found out from them the time the star had appeared,

8 and sent them to Bethlehem. He told them, "As you go, search carefully for the child. When you find him, tell me so that I, too, may go and worship him."

9 After listening to the king, they set out, and the star they had seen in the east went ahead of them until it came and stopped over the place where the child was.

10 When they saw the star, they were ecstatic with joy.

11 After they went into the house and saw the child with his mother Mary, they fell down and worshipped him. Then they opened their treasure sacks and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

12 Having been warned in a dream not to go back to Herod, they left for their own country by a different road.

13 After they had gone, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream. "Get up, take the child and his mother, and flee to Egypt," he said. "Stay there until I tell you, because Herod intends to search for the child and kill him."

14 So Joseph got up, took the child and his mother, and left at night for Egypt.

15 He stayed there until Herod's death in order to fulfil what was declared by the Lord through the prophet when he said, "Out of Egypt I called my Son."

16 Herod flew into a rage when he learned that he had been tricked by the wise men, so he ordered the execution of all the male children in Bethlehem and all its neighbouring regions, who were two years old and younger, according to the time that he had determined from the wise men.

17 Then what was declared by the prophet Jeremiah was fulfilled when he said,

18 "A voice was heard in Ramah: wailing and great mourning. Rachel was crying for her children. She refused to be comforted, because they no longer existed."

19 But after Herod died, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt.

20 "Get up," he said. "Take the child and his mother, and go to the land of Israel, because those who were trying to kill the child are dead."

21 So Joseph got up, took the child and his mother, and went into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus was ruling over Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. After having been warned in a dream, he left for the region of Galilee

23 and came and settled in a town called Nazareth in order to fulfil what was said by the prophets: "He will be called a Nazarene."

Genesis 5

21 When Enoch had lived 65 years, he fathered Methuselah.
22 After he fathered Methuselah, Enoch communed with God for 300 years and fathered other sons and daughters.
23 Enoch lived a total of 365 years,
24 communing with God — and then he was there no more, because God had taken him.
25 When Methuselah had lived 187 years, he fathered Lamech.
26 After he fathered Lamech, Methuselah lived 782 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
27 Methuselah lived a total of 969 years and then died.
28 When Lamech had lived 182 years, he fathered a son,
29 whom he named Noah, because he said, "May this one comfort us from our work, from pain that is caused by our manual labour, and from the ground that the LORD has cursed."
30 After he fathered Noah, Lamech lived 595 years, fathering other sons and daughters.
31 Lamech lived a total of 777 years and then died.
32 After Noah had lived 500 years, he fathered Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Genesis 6

1 Now after the population of human beings had increased throughout the earth, and daughters had been born to them,
2 some divine beings noticed how attractive human women were, so they took wives for themselves from a selection that pleased them.
3 So the LORD said, "My Spirit won't remain with human beings forever, because they're truly mortal. Their lifespan will be 120 years."
4 The Nephilim were on the earth at that time (and also immediately afterward), when those divine beings were having sexual relations with those human women, who gave birth to children for them. These children became the heroes and legendary figures of ancient times.
5 The LORD saw that human evil was growing more and more throughout the earth, with every inclination of people's thoughts becoming only evil on a continuous basis.
6 Then the LORD regretted that he had made human beings on the earth, and he was deeply grieved about that.
7 So the LORD said, "I will annihilate these human beings whom I've created from the earth, including people, animals, crawling things, and flying birds, because I'm grieving that I made them."
8 The LORD was pleased with Noah, however.
9 These are the family records of Noah: Noah was a righteous man. Blameless during his times, Noah communed with God.
10 Noah fathered three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.
11 By this time, the earth had become ruined in God's opinion and filled with violence.
12 God looked at the earth, observing how corrupt its population had become, because the entire human race had corrupted itself.
13 So God announced to Noah, "I've decided to destroy every living thing on earth, because it has become filled with violence due to them. Look! I'm about to annihilate them, along with the earth.
14 So make yourself an ark out of cedar, constructing compartments in it, and cover it inside and out with tar.
15 Make the ark like this: 450 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet high.
16 Make a roof for the ark, and finish the walls to within one and a half feet from the top. Place the entrance in the side of the ark, and build a lower, a middle, and an upper deck.

17 "For my part, I'm about to flood the earth with water and destroy every living thing that breathes. Everything on earth will die.
18 However, I will establish my own covenant with you, and you are to enter the ark — you, your sons, your wife, and your sons' wives.
19 You are to bring two of every living thing into the ark so they may remain alive with you. They are to be male and female.
20 From birds according to their species, from domestic animals according to their species, and from everything that crawls on the ground according to their species — two of everything will come to you so they may remain alive.
21 For your part, take some of the edible food and store it away — these stores will be food for you and the animals."
22 Noah did all of this, precisely as God had commanded.

Genesis 7

1 Then the LORD told Noah, "Come — you and all your household — into the ark, because I've seen that you alone are righteous in this generation.
2 You are to take with you seven pairs of every clean animal, a male and its mate, and two of the unclean animals, a male and its mate;
3 along with seven pairs of the flying birds, male and female, in order to keep their offspring alive on the surface of all the earth.
4 Seven days from now I'll send rain on the earth for 40 days and 40 nights, and I'll destroy every living creature that I've made."
5 Noah did everything that the LORD commanded.
6 Noah was 600 years old when water began to flood the earth.
7 Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons' wives entered the ark with him before the flood waters arrived.
8 From both clean and unclean animals, from birds, and from everything that crawls on the ground,
9 two by two, male and female, they entered the ark to join Noah, just as God had commanded.
10 Seven days later, the flooding started.
11 On the seventeenth day of the second month, when Noah was 600 years old, all the springs of the great deep burst open, the floodgates of the heavens were opened,
12 and it rained throughout the earth for 40 days and 40 nights.
13 On that very day, Noah entered the ark with his sons Shem, Ham, and Japheth, Noah's wife, his sons' three wives with them,
14 along with every species of wild animal, livestock, crawling creature, bird, and every creature that has wings.
15 Two of each living creature entered the ark with Noah.
16 The males and females of each living creature entered the ark, just as God had commanded. Then the LORD sealed them inside.
17 The flood continued throughout the earth for 40 days, while the flood waters increased, lifting the ark so that it rose above the surface of the earth.
18 The flood waters continued to surge, increasing throughout the earth, while the ark floated on the surface of the flood water.
19 The flood water surged even higher throughout the earth, until all the highest mountains under the sky were covered.
20 The flood waters rose 22 and a half feet above the mountains.
21 Every living thing on earth died — birds, livestock, wildlife, all creatures that swarm over the earth, and all human beings.
22 Everything that breathed and everything that had lived on dry land died.

23 All existing creatures that had lived on the surface of the ground were annihilated, from humans to livestock, from crawling creatures to birds of the sky. They were wiped off the earth. Only Noah remained, along with those who were with him in the ark.

24 The flood waters surged over the earth for 150 days.

Genesis 8

1 God kept Noah in mind, along with all the wildlife and livestock that were with him in the ark. God's Spirit moved throughout the earth, causing the flood waters to subside.

2 The water sources from the ocean depths were blocked and the floodgates of the heavens were closed.

3 Then the flood waters steadily receded, diminishing completely by the end of the 150 days.

4 The ark came to rest on the mountains of Ararat on the seventeenth day of the seventh month.

5 The flood water continued to recede until the tenth month, when, on the first of that month, the tops of the mountains could be seen.

Matthew 3

- 1 About this time, John the Baptist appeared, preaching in the Judean wilderness
- 2 and saying, "Repent, because the kingdom from heaven is near!"
- 3 He was the one the prophet Isaiah was referring to when he said, "He is a voice calling out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way for the Lord! Make his paths straight!'"
- 4 John had clothing made of camel's hair and wore a leather belt around his waist. His diet consisted of locusts and wild honey.
- 5 Then the people of Jerusalem, all Judea, and the entire region along the Jordan began flocking to him,
- 6 being baptized by him in the Jordan River while they confessed their sins.
- 7 But when John saw many Pharisees and Sadducees coming to where he was baptizing, he told them, "You children of serpents! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?
- 8 Produce fruit that is consistent with repentance!
- 9 Don't think you can say to yourselves, 'We have father Abraham!' because I tell you that God can raise up descendants for Abraham from these stones!
- 10 The axe already lies against the roots of the trees. So every tree that isn't producing good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire.
- 11 I am baptizing you with water as a token of repentance, but the one who is coming after me is stronger than I am, and I am not worthy to carry his sandals. It is he who will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.
- 12 His winnowing fork is in his hand. He will clean up his threshing floor and gather his grain into the barn, but he will burn the chaff with inextinguishable fire."
- 13 Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to be baptized by John.
- 14 But John tried to stop him, saying, "I need to be baptized by you, and are you coming to me?"
- 15 But Jesus answered him, "Let it be this way for now, because this is the proper way for us to fulfil all righteousness." At this, he permitted him to be baptized.
- 16 When Jesus had been baptized, he immediately came up out of the water. Suddenly the heavens opened up for him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming to rest on him.
- 17 Then a voice from heaven said, "This is my Son, whom I love. I am pleased with him!"

Genesis 8

6 After 40 days, Noah opened the window of the ark that he had built
7 and sent out a raven. It went back and forth as the flood water continued to evaporate throughout the earth.
8 Later, he sent a dove out from the ark to see whether the water that covered the land's surface had completely receded,
9 but the dove could not yet find a place to rest, so it returned to Noah on the ark, since water still covered the land. Noah reached out his hand and took the dove back into the ark with him.
10 Noah waited another seven days and sent the dove out from the ark again.
11 The dove returned to him in the evening, and there in its beak was an olive leaf that it had plucked! So Noah knew that the flood waters had decreased on the land.
12 He waited seven more days and sent the dove out again, but it did not return to him anymore.
13 In the six hundred and first year of Noah's life, during the first month, the flood water began to evaporate from the land. Noah then removed the ark's cover and saw that the surface of the land was drying.
14 By the twenty seventh day of the second month, the ground was dry.
15 God spoke to Noah,
16 "It's time for you, your wife, your sons, and your sons' wives who are with you to leave the ark.
17 Bring out with you every living creature — including the birds, animals, and everything that crawls on the ground — so they may disperse throughout the land, be fruitful, and multiply throughout the earth."
18 So Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons' wives emerged.
19 Every animal, every crawling thing, every bird, and everything that moves on the earth emerged from the ark by groups.
20 Then Noah built an altar to the LORD and offered burnt offerings on it from every clean animal and every clean bird.
21 When the LORD smelled the pleasing aroma, he told himself, "I will never again curse the land because of human beings — even though human inclinations remain evil from youth — nor will I destroy every living being ever again, as I've done.
22 Never again, as long as the earth exists, will sowing and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, and day and night ever cease."

Genesis 9

1 God blessed Noah and his sons and ordered them, "Be productive, multiply, and fill the earth.
2 All the living creatures of the earth will be filled with fear and terror of you from now on, including all the birds of the sky, everything that crawls on the ground, and all the fish of the ocean. They've been assigned to live under your dominion.
3 "Every living, moving creature will be food for you. Just as I gave you green plants before, so now you have everything.
4 However, you are not to eat meat with its life — that is, its blood — in it!
5 Also, I will certainly demand an accounting regarding bloodshed, from every animal and from every human being. I'll demand an accounting from every human being for the life of another human being.
6 "Whoever sheds human blood, by a human his own blood is to be shed; because God made human beings in his own image.

7 Now as for you, be productive and multiply; spread out over the land and multiply throughout it.”

8 Later, God told Noah and his sons,

9 "Pay attention! I'm establishing my covenant with you and with your descendants after you,

10 and with every living creature that is with you — the birds, the livestock, and all the wildlife of the earth that are with you — all the earth's animals that came out of the ark.

11 I will establish my covenant with you: No living beings will ever be cut off again by flood waters, and there will never again be a flood that destroys the earth.”

12 God also said, "Here's the symbol that represents the covenant that I'm making between me and you and every living being with you, for all future generations:

13 I've set my rainbow in the sky to symbolize the covenant between me and the earth.

14 Whenever I bring clouds over the earth and the rainbow becomes visible in the clouds,

15 I'll remember my covenant between me and you and every living creature, so that water will never again become a flood to destroy all living beings.

16 When the rainbow is in the clouds, I will observe it and remember the everlasting covenant between God and all living beings on the earth.”

17 God also told Noah, "This is the symbol of the covenant that I've established between me and everything that lives on the earth.”

18 Noah's sons who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham, and Japheth. (Ham later fathered Canaan).

19 These three were Noah's sons, and from these men the whole earth was re-populated.

20 Noah, a man of the soil, was the first to plant and farm a vineyard.

21 He drank some of the wine, got drunk, and lay down naked right in the middle of his tent.

22 Ham, who fathered Canaan, saw his father's genitals and told his two brothers outside.

23 Then Shem and Japheth took their father's cloak, laid it across both their shoulders, and walking backwards, they both covered their father's genitals. Their faces were turned away, and they did not see their father's genitals.

24 When Noah sobered up and learned what his youngest son had done to him,

25 he said, "Canaan is cursed! He will be the lowest of slaves to his relatives.”

26 He also said, "Blessed be the LORD God of Shem, and may Canaan be his slave.

27 May God make room for Japheth; may God live in Shem's tents, and may Canaan serve him.”

28 Noah lived 350 years after the flood.

29 After Noah had lived a total of 950 years, he died.

Genesis 10

1 These are the records of Noah's sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth, to whom descendants were born after the flood.

2 Japheth's descendants included Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech, and Tiras.

3 Gomer's descendants included Ashkenaz, Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 Javan's descendants included Elisha, Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim,

5 from whom the coastal peoples spread into their own lands and nations, each with their own language and family groups.

6 Ham's descendants included Cush, Egypt, Put, and Canaan.

7 Cush's descendants included Seba, Havilah, Sabtah, Raamah, and Sabteca. Raamah's descendants included Sheba and Dedan.

8 Cush fathered Nimrod, who became the first fearless leader throughout the land.

9 He became a fearless hunter in defiance of the LORD. That is why it is said, "Like Nimrod, a fearless hunter in defiance of the LORD.”

10 His kingdom began in the region of Shinar with the cities of Babylon, Erech, Akkad, and Calneh.
11 From there he went north to Assyria and built Nineveh, Rehoboth-ir, and Calah, 12 along with Resen, which was located between Nineveh and the great city of Calah.
13 Egypt fathered the Ludites, the Anamites, the Lehabites, the Naphtuhites, 14 the Pathrusites, the Casluhites (from which came the Philistines), and the Caphtorites.
15 Canaan fathered Sidon his firstborn, along with the Hittites,
16 the Jebusites, the Amorites, the Girgashites,
17 the Hivites, the Arkites, the Sinites,
18 the Arvadites, the Zemarites, and the Hamathites. Later, the Canaanite families were widely scattered.
19 The Canaanite border extended south from Sidon toward Gerar as far as Gaza, and east toward Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboiim, as far as Lasha.
20 These are Ham's descendants, listed by their families, each with their own lands, language, and family groups.

Matthew 4

- 1 After this, Jesus was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted by the devil.
- 2 After fasting for 40 days and 40 nights, he finally became hungry.
- 3 Then the tempter came. "Since you are the Son of God," he said, "tell these stones to become loaves of bread."
- 4 But he answered, "It is written, 'One must not live on bread alone, but on every word coming out of the mouth of God.'"
- 5 Then the devil took him to the Holy City and had him stand on the highest point of the Temple.
- 6 He told Jesus, "Since you are the Son of God, throw yourself down, because it is written, 'God will put his angels in charge of you,' and 'With their hands they will hold you up, so that you will never hit your foot against a rock.'"
- 7 Jesus responded to him, "It is also written, 'You must not tempt the Lord your God.'"
- 8 Once more the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, along with their splendour.
- 9 He told Jesus, "I will give you all these things if you will bow down and worship me!"
- 10 Then Jesus told him, "Go away, Satan! Because it is written, 'You must worship the Lord your God and serve only him.'"
- 11 So the devil left him, and angels came and began ministering to him.
- 12 Now when Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he went back to Galilee.
- 13 He left Nazareth and went and settled in Capernaum by the sea, in the regions of Zebulun and Naphtali,
- 14 in order to fulfil what was declared by the prophet Isaiah when he said,
- 15 "O Land of Zebulun and Land of Naphtali, on the road to the sea, across the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles!
- 16 The people living in darkness have seen a great light, and for those living in the land and shadow of death, a light has risen."
- 17 From then on, Jesus began to preach and to say, "Repent, because the kingdom from heaven is near!"
- 18 While Jesus was walking beside the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers — Simon (also called Peter) and his brother Andrew. They were casting a net into the sea, because they were fishermen.
- 19 "Follow me," he told them, "and I will make you fishers of people!"
- 20 So at once they left their nets and followed him.
- 21 Going on from there he saw two other brothers — James son of Zebedee and his brother John. They were in a boat with their father Zebedee repairing their nets. When he called them,
- 22 they immediately left the boat and their father and followed him.
- 23 Then he went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every illness among the people.
- 24 His fame spread throughout Syria, and people brought to him everyone who was sick — those afflicted with various diseases and pains, the demon-possessed, the epileptics, and the paralyzed — and he healed them.
- 25 Large crowds from Galilee, the Decapolis, Jerusalem, Judea, and from across the Jordan followed him.

Genesis 10

21 Shem, Japheth's older brother, also had descendants. Shem was the father of the descendants of Eber.
22 Shem's sons included Elam, Asshur, Arpachshad, Lud, and Aram.
23 Aram's descendants included Uz, Hul, Gether, and Mash.
24 Arpachshad fathered Cainan, Cainan fathered Shelah, and Shelah fathered Eber.
25 To Eber were born two sons. One was named Peleg, because the earth was divided during his lifetime. His brother was named Joktan.
26 Joktan fathered Almodad, Sheleph, Hazarmaveth, Jerah,
27 Hadoram, Uzal, Diklah,
28 Obal, Abimael, Sheba,
29 Ophir, Havilah, and Jobab. All these were Joktan's descendants.
30 Their settlements extended from Mesha towards Sephar, the eastern hill country.
31 These are Shem's descendants, listed by their families, each with their own lands, language, and family groups.
32 These are the families of Noah's sons, according to their records, by their nations. From these people, the nations on the earth spread out after the flood.

Genesis 11

1 There was a time when the entire earth spoke a common language with an identical vocabulary.
2 As people migrated westward, they came across a plain in the region of Shinar and settled there.
3 They told each other, "Come on! Let's burn bricks thoroughly." They used bricks for stone and tar for mortar.
4 Then they said, "Come on! Let's build ourselves a city and a tower, with its summit in the heavens, and let's make a name for ourselves so we won't be scattered over the surface of the whole earth."
5 However, the LORD descended to look over the city and the tower that the humans were building.
6 The LORD said, "Look! They are one people with the same language for all of them, and this is only the beginning of what they will do. Nothing that they have a mind to do will be impossible for them!
7 Come on! Let's go down there and confuse their language, so that they won't understand each other's speech."
8 So the LORD scattered them abroad from there over the surface of the whole earth, so that they had to stop building the city.
9 Therefore it was called Babylon, because there the LORD confused the language of all the earth, and from there the LORD scattered them over the surface of the entire earth.
10 These are the family records of Shem. When Shem had lived 100 years, he fathered Arpachshad two years after the flood.
11 Shem lived 500 years after he fathered Arpachshad and had other sons and daughters.
12 When Arpachshad had lived 35 years, he fathered Cainan.
13 After he fathered Cainan, Arpachshad lived 430 years and had other sons and daughters, and then died. Cainan lived 130 years and fathered Shelah. After he fathered Shelah, Cainan lived 330 years and had other sons and daughters, and then died.
14 When Shelah had lived 30 years, he fathered Eber.
15 After he fathered Eber, Shelah lived 403 years and had other sons and daughters.
16 When Eber had lived 34 years, he fathered Peleg.
17 After he fathered Peleg, Eber lived 430 years and had other sons and daughters.

18 When Peleg had lived 30 years, he fathered Reu.
19 After he fathered Reu, Peleg lived 209 years and had other sons and daughters.
20 When Reu had lived 32 years, he fathered Serug.
21 After he fathered Serug, Reu lived 207 years and had other sons and daughters.
22 When Serug had lived 30 years, he fathered Nahor.
23 After he fathered Nahor, Serug lived 200 years and had other sons and daughters.
24 When Nahor had lived 29 years, he fathered Terah.
25 After he fathered Terah, Nahor lived 119 years and had other sons and daughters.
26 When Terah had lived 70 years, he fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran.
27 Now these are the family records of Terah: Terah fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran; and Haran fathered Lot.
28 Haran died during his father's lifetime in the land of his birth, that is, in Ur of the Chaldeans.
29 Abram and Nahor took wives for themselves. The name of Abram's wife was Sarai, and the name of Nahor's wife was Milcah. She was the daughter of Haran, who was the father of Milcah and Iscah.
30 Sarai was barren, so she had not borne children.
31 Terah took his son Abram, his grandson Lot (Haran's son), and his daughter-in-law Sarai, his son Abram's wife, and they journeyed together from Ur of the Chaldeans to go to the land of Canaan. But when they had gone as far as Haran, they settled there,
32 where Terah died at the age of 205 years.

Genesis 12

1 The LORD told Abram, "You are to leave your land, your relatives, and your father's house and go to the land that I'm going to show you.
2 I'll make a great nation of your descendants, I'll bless you, and I'll make your reputation great, so that you will be a blessing.
3 I'll bless those who bless you, but I'll curse the one who curses you, and through you all the people of the earth will be blessed."
4 So Abram left there, as the LORD had directed him, and Lot accompanied him. Abram was 75 years old when he left Haran.
5 Abram took his wife Sarai, his nephew Lot, all the possessions they had accumulated, and the servants he had acquired while living in Haran. Then they set out to go to the land of Canaan. When they arrived in the land of Canaan,
6 Abram travelled through the land to the place called Shechem, as far as the oak of Moreh. At that time the Canaanites were in the land.
7 Then the LORD appeared to Abram and said, "I'll give this land to your descendants." So Abram built an altar to the LORD, who had appeared to him.
8 From there Abram travelled on to the hill country east of Bethel and set up his tent, with Bethel on the west and Ai on the east. There he built an altar to the LORD and called on the name of the LORD.
9 Then Abram travelled on, continuing on into the Negev.
10 There was a famine in the land, so Abram went down to Egypt to live because the famine was so severe.
11 When he was about to enter Egypt, he told his wife Sarai, "Look, I'm aware that you're a beautiful woman.
12 When the Egyptians see you, they will say, 'She is his wife.' Then they'll kill me, but allow you to live.
13 Please say that you are my sister, so things will go well for me for your sake. That way, you'll be saving my life."
14 As Abram was entering Egypt, the Egyptians noticed how beautiful Sarai was.

15 When Pharaoh's officials saw her, they brought her to the attention of Pharaoh and took the woman to Pharaoh's palace.

16 He treated Abram well because of her, so Abram acquired sheep, oxen, male and female donkeys, male and female servants, and camels.

17 But the LORD afflicted Pharaoh and his household with severe plagues because of Sarai, Abram's wife.

18 Pharaoh summoned Abram and asked, "What have you done to me! Why didn't you tell me that she was your wife?

19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' so that I took her as a wife for myself? Now, here is your wife! Take her and get out!"

20 So Pharaoh assigned men to Abram, and they escorted him, his wife, and all that he had out of the country.

Matthew 5

1 When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up on the hill. After taking his seat, his disciples came to him,

2 and he began to teach them, saying:

3 "How blessed are those who are destitute in spirit, because the kingdom from heaven belongs to them!

4 "How blessed are those who mourn, because it is they who will be comforted!

5 "How blessed are those who are humble, because it is they who will inherit the earth!

6 "How blessed are those who are hungry and thirsty for righteousness, because it is they who will be satisfied!

7 "How blessed are those who are merciful, because it is they who will receive mercy!

8 "How blessed are those who are pure in heart, because it is they who will see God!

9 "How blessed are those who make peace, because it is they who will be called God's children!

10 "How blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, because the kingdom from heaven belongs to them!

11 "How blessed are you whenever people insult you, persecute you, and say all sorts of evil things against you falsely because of me!

12 Rejoice and be extremely glad, because your reward in heaven is great! That's how they persecuted the prophets who came before you."

13 "You are the salt of the world. But if the salt should lose its taste, how can it be made salty again? It's good for nothing but to be thrown out and trampled on by people.

14 "You are the light of the world. A city located on a hill can't be hidden.

15 People don't light a lamp and put it under a basket but on a lamp stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house.

16 In the same way, let your light shine before people in such a way that they will see your good actions and glorify your Father in heaven."

17 "Do not think that I came to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I didn't come to destroy them, but to fulfil them,

18 because I tell you with certainty that until heaven and earth disappear, not one letter or one stroke of a letter will disappear from the Law until everything has been accomplished.

19 So whoever sets aside one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom from heaven. But whoever does them and teaches them will be called great in the kingdom from heaven

20 because I tell you, unless your righteousness greatly exceeds that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom from heaven!"

6th January

Genesis 13

- 1 Abram travelled from Egypt, along with his wife and everyone who belonged to his household — including Lot — to the Negev.
- 2 Now Abram had become quite wealthy in livestock, silver, and gold.
- 3 He journeyed by stages from the Negev to Bethel, the place where his tent had formerly been, between Bethel and Ai,
- 4 where he had first built an altar. There Abram called on the name of the LORD.
- 5 Lot, who was travelling with Abram, also had flocks of sheep, other herds, and tents.
- 6 But the land could not support them living together, because they had so many livestock that they could not stay together.
- 7 There was strife between the herdsmen in charge of Abram's livestock and the herdsmen in charge of Lot's livestock. Also, at that time the Canaanites and the Perizzites were living in the land.
- 8 So Abram told Lot, "Please, let's not have strife between you and me, or between your herdsmen and my herdsmen, since we are relatives.
- 9 Isn't the whole land available to you? Let's separate: If you go to the left, then I will go to the right; if you go to the right, then I will go to the left."
- 10 Lot looked around and noticed that the whole Jordan plain as far as Zoar was well-watered like the garden of the LORD or like the land of Egypt. (This was before the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah).
- 11 So Lot chose for himself all the Jordan plain. Then Lot travelled eastward, and they separated from each other.
- 12 So Abram lived in the land of Canaan, while Lot settled in the cities of the plain, setting up his tent in the vicinity of Sodom.
- 13 Now the men of Sodom were particularly evil and sinful in their defiance of the LORD.
- 14 After Lot had separated from Abram, the LORD told Abram, "Look off to the north, south, east, and west from where you're living,
- 15 because I'm going to give you and your descendants all of the land that you see — forever!
- 16 I'll make your descendants as plentiful as the specks of dust of the earth, so that if one could count the specks of dust of the earth, then your descendants could also be counted.
- 17 Get up! Walk throughout the length and breadth of the land, because I'm going to give it to you."
- 18 So Abram moved his tent and settled beside the oaks of Mamre that are by Hebron, where he built an altar to the LORD.

Genesis 14

- 1 At the time when Amraphel was king of Shinar, Arioch was king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer was king of Elam, and Tidal was king of the Goiim,
- 2 they engaged in war against King Bera of Sodom, King Birsha of Gomorrah, King Shinab of Admah, King Shemeber of Zeboiim, along with the king of Bela (which was also known as Zoar).
- 3 All of this latter group of kings allied together in the Valley of Siddim (that is, the Salt Sea).
- 4 They were subject to Chedorlaomer for twelve years, but they rebelled in the thirteenth year.
- 5 In the fourteenth year, Chedorlaomer and the kings with him came and defeated the Rephaim in Ashteroth-karnaim, the Zuzites in Ham, the Emities in Shaveh-kiriathaim,
- 6 and the Horites in the hill country of Seir, near El-paran by the desert.

7 Next they turned back and came to En-mishpat (which was also known as Kadesh) and conquered all the territory of the Amalekites, along with the Amorites who lived in Hazazon-tamar.

8 Then the kings of Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, Zeboiim, and Bela (which was also known as Zoar) prepared for battle in the Valley of Siddim

9 against King Chedorlaomer of Elam, King Tidal of Goiim, King Amraphel of Shinar, and King Arioch of Ellasar — four kings against five.

10 Now the Valley of Siddim was full of tar pits, so when the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, some of their people fell into them, while the rest fled to the hill country.

11 The conquerors captured all the possessions of Sodom and Gomorrah, including their entire food supply, and then left.

12 They also took Abram's nephew Lot and his possessions, since he was living in Sodom.

13 Someone escaped, arrived, and reported what had happened to Abram the Hebrew, who was living by the oaks belonging to Mamre the Amorite, whose brothers Eshcol and Aner were allied with Abram.

14 When Abram heard that his nephew had been taken prisoner, he gathered together 318 of his trained men, who had been born in his household, and they went out in pursuit as far as Dan.

15 During the night, Abram and his servants divided his forces, conquered his enemies, and pursued them as far as Hobah, north of Damascus.

16 He recovered all the goods and brought back his nephew Lot, together with his possessions, the women, and the other people.

17 After Abram's return from defeating Chedorlaomer and the kings who were with them, the king of Sodom went out to meet with him in the Shaveh Valley (that is, the King's Valley).

18 King Melchizedek of Salem brought out bread and wine, since he was serving as the priest of God Most High.

19 Melchizedek blessed Abram and said, "Abram is blessed by God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth, 20 and blessed be God Most High, who has delivered your enemies into your control." Then Abram gave him a tenth of everything.

21 The king of Sodom told Abram, "Return the people to me, and you take the possessions for yourself."

22 But Abram answered the king of Sodom, "I have made an oath to the LORD God Most High, Creator of heaven and earth,

23 that I will not take a thread or a sandal strap or anything that belongs to you, so you won't be able to say, 'I made Abram rich.'

24 I will take nothing except what my warriors have eaten. But as for what belongs to the men who were allied with me, including Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre, let them take their share."

Genesis 15

1 Some time later, a message came from the LORD to Abram in a vision: "Don't be afraid, Abram. I am your shield; your reward will be very great."

2 But Abram replied, "Lord God, what can you give me since I continue to be childless, and the heir of my household is Eliezer from Damascus?"

3 Look!" Abram said, "You haven't given me any offspring, so a servant born in my house is going to be my heir."

4 A message came from the LORD to him again: "This one will not be your heir. Instead, the child who will be born to you will be your heir."

5 Then the LORD took him outside. "Look up at the sky and count the stars — if you can!" he said. "Your descendants will be that numerous."

6 Abram believed the LORD, and it was credited to him as righteousness.
7 The LORD spoke to him, "I am the LORD, who brought you from Ur of the Chaldeans, to give you this land as an inheritance."
8 But he replied, "Lord GOD, how will I know that I will inherit it?"
9 The LORD responded, "Bring me a three year old cow, a three year old female goat, a three year old ram, a turtledove, and a young pigeon."
10 So Abram brought him all these animals and cut each of them in half, down the middle, placing the pieces opposite each other, but he did not cut the birds in half.
11 When birds of prey swooped down on the carcasses, Abram drove them away.
12 As the sun began to set, Abram was overcome with deep sleep, and suddenly a frightening and terrifying darkness descended on him.
13 Then the LORD told Abram, "You can be certain about this: Your descendants will be foreigners in a land that isn't theirs. They will be slaves there and will be oppressed for 400 years.
14 However, I will judge the nation that they serve, and later they will leave there with many possessions.
15 Now as for you, you'll die peacefully, join your ancestors, and be buried at a good old age.
16 Your descendants will return here in the fourth generation, since the iniquity of the Amorites has not yet run its course."
17 When the sun had fully set and it was dark, a smoking fire pot and a fiery torch passed between the animal pieces.
18 That very day the LORD made this covenant with Abram: "I'm giving this land to your descendants, from the river of Egypt to the great Euphrates River —
19 including the land of the Kenites, the Kenizzites, the Kadmonites,
20 the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Rephaim,
21 the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Girgashites, and the Jebusites."

Matthew 5

21 "You have heard that it was told those who lived long ago, 'You must not murder,' and 'Whoever murders will be subject to punishment.'

22 But I say to you, anyone who is angry with his brother without a cause will be subject to punishment. And whoever says to his brother 'Raka!' will be subject to the Council. And whoever says 'You fool!' will be subject to hell fire.

23 "So if you are presenting your gift at the altar and remember there that your brother has something against you,

24 leave your gift there before the altar and first go and be reconciled to your brother. Then come and offer your gift.

25 Come to terms quickly with your opponent while you are on the way to court, or your opponent may hand you over to the judge, and the judge to the guard, and you will be thrown into prison.

26 I tell you with certainty, you will not get out of there until you pay back the last dollar!"

27 "You have heard that it was said, 'You must not commit adultery.'

28 But I say to you, anyone who stares at a woman with lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart.

29 So if your right eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. It is better for you to lose one of your body parts than to have your whole body thrown into hell.

30 And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away from you. It is better for you to lose one of your body parts than to have your whole body go into hell."

31 "It was also said, 'Whoever divorces his wife must give her a written notice of divorce.'

32 But I say to you, any man who divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery, and whoever marries a divorced woman commits adultery."

33 "Again, you have heard that it was told those who lived long ago, 'You must not swear an oath falsely,' but 'You must fulfil your oaths to the Lord.'

34 But I tell you not to swear at all, neither by heaven, because it is God's throne,

35 nor by the earth, because it is his footstool, nor by Jerusalem, because it is the city of the Great King.

36 Nor should you swear by your head, because you cannot make one hair white or black.

37 Instead, let your message be 'Yes' for 'Yes' and 'No' for 'No.' Anything more than that comes from the evil one."

38 "You have heard that it was said, 'An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth.'

39 But I tell you not to resist an evildoer. On the contrary, whoever slaps you on the right cheek, turn the other to him as well.

40 If anyone wants to sue you and take your shirt, let him have your coat as well.

41 And if anyone forces you to go one mile, go two with him.

42 Give to the person who asks you for something, and do not turn away from the person who wants to borrow something from you."

43 "You have heard that it was said, 'You must love your neighbour' and hate your enemy.

44 But I say to you, love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you,

45 so that you will become children of your Father in heaven, because he makes his sun rise on both evil and good people, and he lets rain fall on the righteous and the unrighteous.

46 If you love those who love you, what reward will you have? Even the tax collectors do the same, don't they?

47 And if you greet only your relatives, that's no great thing you're doing, is it? Even the gentiles do the same, don't they?

48 So be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect."

Genesis 16

- 1 Now Abram's wife Sarai had not borne a child for him. She had an Egyptian servant girl whose name was Hagar.
- 2 So Sarai told Abram, "You are well aware that the LORD has prevented me from giving birth to a child. Go have sex with my servant, so that I may possibly bear a son through her." Abram listened to Sarai's suggestion,
- 3 so Abram's wife Sarai took her Egyptian servant, Hagar, and gave her as a wife to her husband Abram. This took place ten years after Abram had settled in the land of Canaan.
- 4 He had sex with Hagar, and she became pregnant. When she realized that she was pregnant, she looked with contempt on her mistress.
- 5 Then Sarai told Abram, "My suffering is your fault! I gave you my servant so you could have sex with her, and when she discovered that she was pregnant, she looked on me with contempt. May the LORD judge between you and me!"
- 6 Abram answered Sarai, "Look, your servant is under your control, so do to her as you wish." So Sarai dealt so harshly with Hagar that she ran away from Sarai.
- 7 The angel of the LORD found her by a spring of water in the desert on the road to Shur.
- 8 "Hagar, servant of Sarai," he asked, "Where are you coming from and where are you going?" She answered, "I am running away from my mistress Sarai."
- 9 The angel of the LORD told her, "You must go back to your mistress and submit to her authority."
- 10 The angel of the LORD also told her, "I will greatly multiply your offspring, who will be too many to count.
- 11 "Look, you are pregnant and will give birth to a son," the angel of the LORD continued to say to her. "You will name him Ishmael, because the LORD has heard your cry of misery.
- 12 He'll be a wild donkey of a man. He'll be against everyone, and everyone will be against him. He will live in conflict with all of his relatives."
- 13 So she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, "You are 'God who sees,' because I have truly seen the one who looks after me."
- 14 That's why the spring was called, "The Well of the Living One who looks after me." It was between Kadesh and Bered.
- 15 Hagar eventually gave birth to Abram's son. Abram named his son whom Hagar bore Ishmael.
- 16 Abram was 86 years old when Hagar gave birth to Ishmael for Abram.

Genesis 17

- 1 When Abram was 99 years old, the LORD appeared to Abram and announced, "I am God Almighty. Live in constant awareness that I'm always with you, and be blameless.
- 2 I'll establish my covenant between me and you, and I'll greatly increase your numbers."
- 3 Then Abram fell to the ground as God continued speaking to him.
- 4 "Look, I've made a covenant with you. You will be the father of many nations.
- 5 Your name is no longer to be Abram. Instead your name will be Abraham, since I'll make you the father of many nations.
- 6 I'm going to cause you to have many descendants, and I'll bring nations from you. Kings will come from you.
- 7 I'm establishing my covenant between me and you, and with your descendants who come after you, generation after generation, as an eternal covenant, to be your God and your descendants' God after you.
- 8 I'll give to you and to your descendants the land to which you have travelled — all the land of Canaan — as an eternal possession. I will be their God."

9 God continued to speak to Abraham, "You and your descendants who are born in the future are to keep my covenant — that is, you and your descendants, generation after generation.

10 Here is my covenant that you are to observe, between me and you and your descendants: Every male among you is to be circumcised.

11 "You are all to be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin, and this is to be the sign of the covenant between me and you.

12 Generation after generation, every male among you is to be circumcised on the eighth day after his birth, including the servant born in your house or the one purchased from a foreigner, who is not of your offspring.

13 The servant born in your house or the one purchased with money is to be circumcised. My covenant is to remain in your flesh as an eternal covenant.

14 Any uncircumcised male who does not have the foreskin of his flesh circumcised on the eighth day after his birth is to be eliminated from his people because he has broken my covenant."

15 God told Abraham, "As for Sarai your wife, you are not to call her Sarai any longer, because her name is to be Sarah.

16 I will bless her. Furthermore, I will give you a son from her. I will bless her, so that nations, kings, and people will come from her."

17 Abraham fell to the ground, laughed, and told himself, "Can a child be born to a 100 year old man? Can a 90 year old Sarah give birth?"

18 So Abraham responded to God, "If only Ishmael would live in constant awareness that you're always with him!"

19 But God replied, "No, but your wife Sarah will give birth to your son, and you are to name him Isaac. I'll confirm my covenant with him as an eternal covenant for his descendants.

20 And as for Ishmael, I've heard you. I'll bless him, and he'll have many descendants. I will multiply him greatly, he'll father twelve tribal leaders, and I'll cause his descendants to become a great nation.

21 Now as to Isaac, I'll confirm my covenant with him, to whom Sarah will give birth as your son at this time next year."

22 With that, God finished talking to Abraham, and ascended, leaving him.

23 Abraham took his son Ishmael and all the servants born in his house or purchased with his money — every male among the men of his household — and circumcised them that very day, just as God had spoken to him.

24 Abraham was 99 years old when he was circumcised,

25 and his son Ishmael was thirteen years old when he was circumcised.

26 Both Abraham and his son Ishmael were circumcised on that very day.

27 Every man born in his household, as well as those who had been purchased with money from a foreigner, was circumcised with him.

Genesis 18

1 Later, the LORD appeared to Abraham by the oaks of Mamre. As Abraham was sitting near the entrance to his tent during the hottest part of the day,

2 he glanced up and saw three men standing there not far from him. As soon as he noticed them, Abraham ran from the tent entrance to greet them and bowed low to the ground.

3 "My lords," he told them, "if I have found favour with you, please don't leave your servant.

4 I'll have some water brought to wash your feet while you rest under the tree.

5 I'll bring some food for you, and after that you may continue your journey, since you have come to visit your servant." So they replied, "Okay! Do what you've proposed."

6 Abraham hurried into the tent and told Sarah, "Quick! Take three measures of the best flour, knead it, and make some flat bread."

7 Next, Abraham ran to the herd, found a choice and tender calf, and gave it to the young men, who went off in a hurry to prepare it.

8 Then he took curds, milk, and the calf that had been prepared, placed the food in front of them, and stood near them under the tree while they ate.

9 The men asked him, "Where is your wife Sarah?" "There, in the tent," he replied.

10 Then one of them said, "I will certainly return to you in about a year's time. By then, your wife Sarah will have borne a son." Now Sarah was listening at the tent entrance behind him.

11 Abraham and Sarah were old — really old — and Sarah was beyond the age of childbearing.

12 That's why Sarah laughed to herself, thinking, "After I'm so old and my husband is old, too, am I going to have sex?"

13 The LORD asked Abraham, "Why did Sarah laugh and think, 'Am I really going to bear a child, since I'm so old?'"

14 Is anything impossible for the LORD? At the time set for it, I will return to you — about a year from now — and Sarah will have a son."

15 But Sarah denied it. "I didn't laugh," she claimed, because she was afraid. The LORD replied, "No! You did laugh!"

16 After this, the men set out from there and looked out over Sodom. Abraham went with them to send them off.

17 "Should I hide from Abraham what I'm about to do," the LORD asked,

18 "since Abraham's descendants will become a great and powerful nation, and all the nations of the earth will be blessed through him?"

19 Indeed, I've made myself known to him in order that he may encourage his sons and his household that is born after him to keep the way of the LORD, and to do what is right and just, so that the LORD may bring about for Abraham what he has promised."

20 The LORD also said, "How great is the disapproval of Sodom and Gomorrah! Their sin is so very serious!

21 I'm going down to see whether they've acted according to the protests that have reached me. If not, I wish to know."

Matthew 6

1 "Be careful not to practise your righteousness in front of people in order to be noticed by them. If you do, you will have no reward from your Father in heaven.

2 So whenever you give to the poor, don't blow a trumpet before you like the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets so that they will be praised by people. I tell you with certainty, they have their full reward!

3 But when you give to the poor, don't let your left hand know what your right hand is doing,

4 so that your giving may be done in secret. And your Father who sees in secret will reward you."

5 "And whenever you pray, don't be like the hypocrites who love to stand in the synagogues and on the street corners so that they will be seen by people. I tell you with certainty, they have their full reward!

6 But whenever you pray, go into your room, close the door, and pray to your Father who is hidden. And your Father who sees from the hidden place will reward you.

7 "When you are praying, don't say meaningless things like the gentiles do, because they think they will be heard by being so wordy.

8 Don't be like them, because your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

9 Therefore, this is how you should pray: 'Our Father in heaven, may your name be kept holy.

10 May your kingdom come. May your will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us today our daily bread,

12 and forgive us our sins, as we have forgiven those who have sinned against us.

13 And never bring us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.'

14 Because if you forgive people their offences, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if you do not forgive people their offences, your Father will not forgive your offences."

16 "Whenever you fast, don't be gloomy like the hypocrites, because they put on sad faces to show others they are fasting. I tell you with certainty, they have their full reward!

17 But when you fast, put oil on your head and wash your face,

18 so that your fasting will not be noticed by others but by your Father who is in the hidden place. And your Father who watches from the hidden place will reward you."

Genesis 18

22 Then two of the men turned away from there and walked toward Sodom, while Abraham remained standing in the presence of the LORD.

23 Abraham approached and asked, "Will you actually destroy the righteous along with the wicked?

24 Perhaps there are 50 righteous ones within the city. Will you actually destroy it and not forgive the place for the sake of the 50 righteous that are found there?

25 Far be it from you to do such a thing — to kill the righteous along with the wicked, so that the righteous and the wicked are treated alike! The Judge of all the earth will do what is right, won't he?"

26 The LORD said, "If I find 50 righteous people within Sodom, I'll forgive the whole place for their sake."

27 Abraham answered, "Look, even though I am only dust and ashes, I've ventured to speak to my LORD.

28 What if there are five less than 50 righteous ones? Will you bring destruction upon the city because of those five?" The LORD said, "I won't destroy it if I find 45 there."

29 Abraham continued to speak to him, asking, "What if 40 are found there?" The LORD replied, "I won't do it for the sake of those 40."

30 Abraham then asked, "I hope my LORD will not be angry if I speak. What if 30 are found there?" The LORD answered, "I won't do it for the sake of those 30."

31 "Look," Abraham said, "I've presumed to speak to my LORD. . . so what if 20 are found there?" "For the sake of those 20," the LORD responded, "I won't destroy it."

32 Finally, Abraham inquired, "I hope my LORD will not be angry if I speak only once more. What if ten are found there?" He replied, "For the sake of those ten I won't destroy it."

33 As soon as he finished talking to Abraham, the LORD left and Abraham returned to where he had been sitting.

Genesis 19

1 The two angels entered Sodom at sunset while Lot was sitting in the gate area of the city. When Lot saw them, he got up, greeted them, bowed low with his face to the ground,

2 and said, "Look my lords, please come inside your servant's house, wash your feet, and spend the night. Then you can get up early and be on your way." But they responded, "No, we would rather spend the night in the town square."

3 But Lot kept urging them strongly, so they turned aside and entered his house. He prepared a feast and baked unleavened flat bread for them, and they ate.

4 Before they could lie down, all the men of Sodom and its outskirts, both young and old, surrounded the house.

5 They called out to Lot and asked, "Where are the men who came to visit you tonight? Bring them out to us so we can have sex with them!"

6 Lot went outside to them, shut the door behind him,

7 and said, "I urge you, my brothers, don't do such a wicked thing.

8 Look here, I have two daughters who are virgins. Let me bring them out to you, and you may do to them whatever you wish, only don't do anything to these men, because they're here under my protection."

9 But they replied, "Get out of our way! This man came here as a foreigner, and now he's acting like a judge! So we're going to deal more harshly with you than with them." Then they pushed hard against the man (that is, against Lot), intending to break down the door.

10 But the angels inside reached out, dragged Lot back into the house with them, shut the door,

11 and blinded the men who were at the entrance of the house, from the least important to the greatest, so they were unable to find the doorway.

12 "Do you have anyone else here in the city?" the angels asked Lot. "A son-in-law? Sons? Daughters? Get them out of this place, 13 because we're going to destroy it. The LORD knows how their behaviour stinks, so he sent us here to destroy it!

14 Lot then went out and told his sons-in-law (they had married his daughters), "Get out of here! The LORD is going to destroy this city!" But his sons-in-law thought he was joking.

15 As dawn was breaking, the angels pressured Lot. "Get going!" they told him. "Take your wife and your two daughters who are here, or you will be engulfed by the devastation that's coming to this city."

16 But Lot kept lingering in the city, so the men grabbed his hand and the hands of his wife and two daughters (because of the LORD's compassion for him!), brought them out of the city, and left them outside.

17 Then one of them said, "Flee for your lives! Don't look back or stop anywhere on the plain. Escape to the hills, or you'll be swept away!"

18 "No! Please, my lords!" Lot pleaded with them.

19 "Your servant has found favour in your sight, and you have shown me your gracious love in how you have dealt with me by keeping me alive. I cannot escape to the hills, because I'm afraid the disaster will overtake me, and I'll die.

20 Look, there is a town nearby where I can flee, and it's a small one. Let me escape there! It's a small one, isn't it? That way I'll stay alive!"

21 "All right," the angel replied to Lot, "I'll agree with your request! I won't overthrow the town that you mentioned.

22 Hurry up and flee there, because I cannot do anything until you get to that town." Therefore the name of the town was called Zoar.

23 The sun had risen over the land about the time Lot reached Zoar.

24 Then the LORD rained sulphur and fire out of the sky from the LORD on Sodom and Gomorrah,

25 overthrowing those cities, all of the plain, and everyone who lived in the cities. He also destroyed the plants that grew out of the ground.

26 But Lot's wife looked back as she lingered behind him, and she became a pillar of salt.

27 Abraham went early in the morning to the place where he had stood before the LORD earlier.

28 He looked off toward Sodom, Gomorrah, and the entire plain, and he saw smoke rising from the land like smoke from a furnace.

29 And so it was that, when God destroyed the cities of the plain, he remembered Abraham and brought Lot out from the midst of the destruction when he overthrew the cities where Lot had lived.

30 Later on, Lot and his two daughters abandoned Zoar and settled in the hills because Lot was afraid to live in Zoar. He lived there in a cave, along with his two daughters.

31 One day the firstborn told the younger one, "Our father is old, and there's no man in the land to have sex with us, as everybody else throughout all the earth does.

32 Come on! Let's make our father drink wine, and then we'll have sex with him so we can preserve our father's lineage."

33 So they had their father drink wine that night, and the older one had sexual relations with her father, but he was not aware when she lay down or when she got up.

34 The next day the firstborn told the younger one, "Look! I had sex with my father last night. Let's make him drink wine tonight again as well. Then you have sex with him, too. That way we'll preserve our father's lineage."

35 So they made their father drink wine that night as well, so he was not aware when she lay down or when she got up.

36 That's how both of Lot's daughters became pregnant by their father.
37 The firstborn gave birth to a son and named him Moab, and he is the ancestor of the Moabites to this day.
38 The younger daughter also gave birth to a son and named him Ben-ammi, and he is the ancestor of the Ammonites to this day.

Genesis 20

1 Abraham travelled from there to the Negev and settled between Kadesh and Shur. While he was living in Gerar as an outsider,
2 because Abraham kept saying about his wife Sarah, "She is my sister," King Abimelech of Gerar summoned them and took Sarah into his household.
3 But God came to Abimelech in a dream during the night and spoke to him, "Pay attention! You're about to die, because the woman you have taken is a man's wife!"
4 Now Abimelech had not yet come near her, so he asked, "LORD, will you destroy an innocent nation?"
5 Didn't he say to me, 'She's my sister'? And she also said, 'He's my brother.' I did this with pure intentions and clean hands."
6 Then God replied to him in the dream, "I know that you did this with pure intentions, and it was I who kept you from sinning against me. Therefore, I didn't allow you to touch her.
7 Now then, return the man's wife. As a matter of fact, he's a prophet and can intercede for you so you'll live. But if you don't return her, be aware that you and all who are yours will certainly die."
8 So Abimelech got up early the next morning, summoned all his servants, and told them all these things. The men became terrified.
9 Then Abimelech called Abraham and asked him, "What have you done to us? How have I sinned against you, that you have brought such great sin against me and my kingdom? You've done things to me that ought not to have been done."
10 Abimelech also asked Abraham, "What could you have been thinking when you did this?"
11 "I thought that there is no fear of God in this place," Abraham replied, "and that they would kill me because of my wife.
12 Besides, she really is my sister — she's my father's daughter, but not my mother's daughter — so she could become my wife.
13 When God caused me to journey from my father's house, I asked her to do me this favour and say, 'He is my brother.'"
14 So Abimelech took some sheep and oxen, and some male and female servants, gave them to Abraham, returned his wife Sarah to him,
15 and said, "Look! My land is available to you, so settle wherever you please."
16 Abimelech also told Sarah, "Look! I am giving your brother 1,000 pieces of silver to vindicate you in the eyes of all who are with you. As a result, you will be completely vindicated."
17 Then Abraham interceded with God, and God healed Abimelech, his wife, and his female servants so they could bear children,
18 since the LORD had made all the women barren in Abimelech's household on account of Abraham's wife Sarah.

Matthew 6

19 "Stop storing up treasures for yourselves on earth, where moths and rust destroy and where thieves break in and steal.

20 But keep on storing up treasures for yourselves in heaven, where moths and rust do not destroy and where thieves do not break in and steal,

21 because where your treasure is, there your heart will be also."

22 "The eye is the lamp of the body. So if your eye is healthy, your whole body will be full of light.

23 But if your eye is evil, your whole body will be full of darkness. Therefore, if the light within you has turned into darkness, how great is that darkness!"

24 "No one can serve two masters, because either he will hate one and love the other, or be loyal to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and riches!"

25 "That's why I'm telling you to stop worrying about your life — what you will eat or what you will drink — or about your body — what you will wear. Life is more than food, isn't it, and the body more than clothing?

26 Look at the birds in the sky. They don't plant or harvest or gather food into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. You are more valuable than they are, aren't you?

27 Can any of you add a single hour to the length of your life by worrying?

28 And why do you worry about clothes? Consider the lilies in the field and how they grow. They don't work or spin yarn,

29 but I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendour was clothed like one of them.

30 Now if that is the way God clothes the grass in the field, which is alive today and thrown into an oven tomorrow, won't he clothe you much better — you who have little faith?

31 "So don't ever worry by saying, 'What are we going to eat?' or 'What are we going to drink?' or 'What are we going to wear?'

32 because it is the gentiles who are eager for all those things. Surely your heavenly Father knows that you need all of them!

33 But first be concerned about God's kingdom and his righteousness, and all of these things will be provided for you as well.

34 So never worry about tomorrow, because tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own."

Genesis 21

- 1 The LORD came to Sarah, just as he had said, and the LORD did for Sarah what he had promised.
- 2 Sarah conceived and gave birth to a son for Abraham in his old age, at the very time that God had predicted.
- 3 Abraham named his son who was born to him Isaac — the very one whom Sarah bore for him!
- 4 On the eighth day after his son Isaac had been born, Abraham circumcised him, just as God had commanded him.
- 5 Abraham was 100 years old when his son Isaac was born to him.
- 6 Now Sarah had said, "God has caused me to laugh, and all who hear about it will laugh with me."
- 7 She also said, "Who would have told Abraham that Sarah would nurse sons? Yet I have given birth to a son in my husband's old age!"
- 8 The child grew and eventually was weaned, so Abraham threw a tremendous banquet on the very day Isaac was weaned.
- 9 Nevertheless, when Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian — whom Hagar had borne to Abraham — making fun of Isaac,
- 10 she told Abraham, "Throw out this slave girl, along with her son, because this slave's son will never be a co-heir with my son Isaac!"
- 11 Abraham was very troubled about what was being said about his son,
- 12 but God told Abraham, "Don't be troubled about the youth and your slave girl. Pay attention to Sarah in everything she tells you, because your offspring are to be named through Isaac.
- 13 Nevertheless, I will make the slave girl's son into a nation, since he, too, is your offspring."
- 14 So early the next morning, Abraham got up, took bread and a leather bottle of water, gave them to Hagar, and placed them on her shoulder. He then sent her away, along with the child. She went off and roamed in the Beer-sheba wilderness.
- 15 Eventually, the water in the leather bottle ran out, so she placed the child under one of the bushes.
- 16 Then she went and sat by herself about a distance of a bowshot away, because she kept saying to herself, "I can't bear to watch the child die!" That's why she sat a short distance away, crying aloud and weeping.
- 17 God heard the boy's voice, and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven. He asked her, "What's wrong with you, Hagar? Don't be afraid, because God has heard the voice of the youth where he is.
- 18 Get up! Pick up the youth and grab his hand, because I will make a great nation of his descendants."
- 19 Then God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. So she went, filled the skin with water, and gave the boy a drink.
- 20 God was with the boy as he grew up. He settled in the wilderness and became an expert archer.
- 21 Later he settled in the desert area of Paran, and his mother chose a wife for him from the land of Egypt.
- 22 About that time, Abimelech and Phicol, the commander of his army, told Abraham, "God is with you in everything that you're doing.
- 23 Therefore swear an oath here by God that you won't deal falsely with me, my sons, or my descendants. Just as I've dealt graciously with you, won't you do so with me and with the land in which you live as a foreigner?"

24 And Abraham replied, "I agree!"
25 But then Abraham complained to Abimelech about a well of water that Abimelech's servants had seized.
26 "I don't know who did this thing," Abimelech replied, "and you didn't report this to me nor did I hear about this until today."
27 So Abraham took sheep and oxen and presented them to Abimelech, and the two of them made a covenant.
28 Then Abraham set aside seven ewe lambs,
29 so Abimelech asked Abraham, "What is the meaning of these seven ewe lambs that you have set aside?"
30 He replied, "You are to accept from me these seven ewe lambs as a witness that I have dug this well."
31 Therefore that place was called Beer-sheba, because the two of them swore an oath.
32 So after they had made a covenant in Beer-sheba, Abimelech and Phicol, the commander of his army, left and returned to Philistine territory.
33 Abraham planted a tamarisk tree in Beer-sheba, and there he called on the name of the LORD God Everlasting.
34 After this, Abraham resided as a foreigner in Philistine territory for a long period of time.

Genesis 22

1 Sometime later, God tested Abraham. He called out to him, "Abraham!" "Here I am!" he answered.
2 God said, "Please take your son, your only unique son whom you love — Isaac — and go to the land of Moriah. Offer him as a burnt offering there on one of the mountains that I will point out to you."
3 So Abraham got up early in the morning, saddled his donkey, and took two of his male servants with him, along with his son Isaac. He cut the wood for the burnt offering and set out to go to the place about which God had spoken to him.
4 On the third day he looked ahead and saw the place from a distance.
5 Abraham ordered his two servants, "Both of you are to stay here with the donkey. Now as for the youth and me, we'll go up there, we'll worship, and then we'll return to you."
6 Then Abraham took the wood for the burnt offering and placed it on his son Isaac. Abraham carried the fire and the knife. And so the two of them went on together.
7 Isaac addressed his father Abraham: "My father!" "I'm here, my son," Abraham replied. Isaac asked, "The fire and the wood are here, but where's the lamb for the burnt offering?"
8 Abraham answered, "God will provide himself the lamb for the burnt offering, my son." The two of them went on together
9 and came to the place about which God had spoken. Abraham built an altar there, arranged the wood, tied up his son Isaac, and placed him on the altar on top of the wood.
10 Then he stretched out his hand and grabbed the knife to slaughter his son.
11 Just then, an angel of the LORD called out to him from heaven and said, "Abraham! Abraham!" "Here I am," he answered.
12 "Don't lay your hand on the youth!" he said. "Don't do anything to him, because I've just demonstrated that you fear God, since you have not withheld your son, your only unique one, from me."
13 Then Abraham looked up and behind him to see a ram caught by its horns in the thicket. So Abraham went over, grabbed the ram, and offered it as a burnt offering in place of his son.
14 Abraham named that place, "The LORD Will Provide," as it is told this day, "On the LORD's mountain, he will provide."
15 The angel of the LORD called to Abraham a second time from heaven

16 and said, "I have taken an oath to swear by myself," declares the LORD, "that since you have carried this out and have not withheld your only unique son,
17 I will certainly bless you and make your descendants as numerous as the stars in heaven and as the sand on the seashore. Your descendants will take possession of the gates of their enemies.
18 Furthermore, through your descendants all the nations of the earth will be blessed, because you have obeyed my command."
19 After this, Abraham returned to his servants and they set out together for Beer-sheba, where Abraham settled.
20 Now after these things somebody told Abraham, "Look, Milcah has given birth to sons for your brother Nahor.
21 Uz is his firstborn, Buz is his brother, and Kemuel is the father of Aram,
22 Chesed, Hazo, Pildash, Jidlaph, and Bethuel."
23 Bethuel fathered Rebekah. Milcah bore these eight sons to Nahor, Abraham's brother.
24 Also, his concubine Reumah gave birth to Tebah, Gaham, Tahash, and Maacah.

Matthew 7

- 1 "Stop judging, so that you won't be judged,
- 2 because the way that you judge others will be the way that you will be judged, and you will be evaluated by the standard with which you evaluate others.
- 3 "Why do you see the speck in your brother's eye but fail to notice the beam in your own eye?
- 4 Or how can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when the beam is in your own eye?
- 5 You hypocrite! First remove the beam from your own eye, and then you will see clearly enough to remove the speck from your brother's eye."
- 6 "Never give what is holy to dogs or throw your pearls before pigs. Otherwise, they will trample them with their feet and then turn around and attack you."
- 7 "Keep asking, and it will be given to you. Keep searching, and you will find. Keep knocking, and the door will be opened for you.
- 8 Because everyone who keeps asking will receive, and the person who keeps searching will find, and the person who keeps knocking will have the door opened.
- 9 "There isn't a person among you who would give his son a stone if he asked for bread, is there?
- 10 Or if he asks for a fish, he wouldn't give him a snake, would he?
- 11 So if you who are evil know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good things to those who keep on asking him!
- 12 Therefore, whatever you want people to do for you, do the same for them, because this summarizes the Law and the Prophets."
- 13 "Go in through the narrow gate, because the gate is wide and the road is spacious that leads to destruction, and many people are entering by it.
- 14 How narrow is the gate and how constricted is the road that leads to life, and there aren't many people who find it!"
- 15 "Beware of false prophets who come to you in sheep's clothing but inwardly are savage wolves.
- 16 You will know them by their fruit. Grapes aren't gathered from thorns, or figs from thistles, are they?
- 17 In the same way, every good tree produces good fruit, but a rotten tree produces bad fruit.
- 18 A good tree cannot produce bad fruit, and a rotten tree cannot produce good fruit.
- 19 Every tree that doesn't produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into a fire.
- 20 So by their fruit you will know them."
- 21 "Not everyone who keeps saying to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will get into the kingdom from heaven, but only the person who keeps doing the will of my Father in heaven.
- 22 Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, we prophesied in your name, drove out demons in your name, and performed many miracles in your name, didn't we?'
- 23 Then I will tell them plainly, 'I never knew you. Get away from me, you who practise evil!'"

Genesis 23

- 1 Sarah lived for 127 years. That's how long Sarah's life was.
- 2 She died in Kiriath-arba (that is, in Hebron) in the land of Canaan. Abraham went in to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her.
- 3 Then Abraham rose up from beside his dead wife and addressed the Hittites. He said,
- 4 "I am an alien and an outsider among you. Give me a cemetery among you where I can bury my dead away from my presence."
- 5 The Hittites responded to Abraham,
- 6 "Listen to us, sir. You are a mighty prince among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our burial tombs. None of us would refuse you his tomb for burying your dead."
- 7 Abraham rose and bowed before the Hittites, the people of the land,
- 8 and addressed them, "If you are willing that I should bury my dead out of my sight, listen to me and make a request of Zohar's son Ephron on my behalf.
- 9 Give me the cave of Machpelah that belongs to him, at the end of his field. He should sell it to me in your presence at full price for a burial site."
- 10 Now since Ephron the Hittite had taken a seat there among the Hittites, he responded publicly to Abraham where the Hittites and everyone who was entering the gate of his city could hear him:
- 11 "No, sir. Listen to me! I'll give you the field, and I'll give you the cave that's in it. I give it to you publicly, in the sight of my people. Bury your dead."
- 12 Abraham bowed before the people of the land
- 13 and then addressed Ephron so all the people of the land could hear him: "Please listen to me! I'm willing to pay the price of the field. Accept it from me, so I may bury my dead there."
- 14 So Ephron answered Abraham,
- 15 "Sir, listen to me! The land is worth 400 shekels of silver, but what's that between us? You may bury your dead."
- 16 Abraham agreed with Ephron, so he weighed out to Ephron the money to which he had agreed publicly while the Hittites were listening: 400 shekels of silver at the current merchant rate.
- 17 That's how Ephron's field in Machpelah, east of Mamre — the field, the cave that was in it, and all the trees that were within the boundaries of the field — came to be deeded
- 18 to Abraham in the presence of all the Hittites and everyone who was entering the city gate.
- 19 After this, Abraham buried his wife Sarah in the cave at the field of Machpelah, east of Mamre (that is, in Hebron) in the land of Canaan.
- 20 And so the field with its cave was deeded by the Hittites to Abraham as a burial site.

Genesis 24

- 1 Now Abraham had grown old, was well advanced in age, and the LORD had blessed Abraham in every way.
- 2 So Abraham instructed his servant, who was the oldest member of his household and in charge of everything he owned, "Make this solemn oath to me
- 3 as a promise to the LORD, the God of heaven and earth, that you won't acquire a wife for my son from the Canaanite women among whom I'm living.
- 4 Instead, you are to go to my country and to my family and acquire a wife for my son Isaac."
- 5 "What if the woman doesn't want to come back with me to this land?" the servant asked. "Shouldn't I have your son go to the land from which you came?"
- 6 "Make sure not to take my son there," Abraham replied.

7 The LORD God of heaven, who brought me from my father's house and from my family's land, who spoke to me and promised me 'I will give this land to your descendants,' will send his angel ahead of you, and you are to acquire a wife for my son from there.

8 If the woman isn't willing to follow you, then you'll be free from this oath to me. Just don't take my son back there!"

9 So the servant made a solemn oath to his master Abraham regarding this matter.

10 Then Abraham's servant took ten camels from his master's herd of camels and left on his journey with all kinds of gifts from his master's inventory. Eventually, he travelled as far as Aram-naharaim, Nahor's home town.

11 As evening approached, he had the camels kneel outside the town at the water well, right about the time when women customarily went out to draw water.

12 That's when he prayed, "LORD God of my master Abraham, help me to succeed today. Please show your gracious love to my master Abraham.

13 I've stationed myself here by the spring as the women of the town come to draw water.

14 May it be that the young woman to whom I ask, 'Please, lower your jug so that I may drink,' responds, 'Have a drink, and I'll water your camels as well.' May she be the one whom you have chosen for your servant Isaac. This is how I'll know that you have shown your gracious love to my master."

15 Before he had finished speaking, Rebekah appeared. She was a daughter of Milcah's son Bethuel. (Milcah was the wife of Abraham's brother Nahor). She approached the well, carrying a jug on her shoulder.

16 The woman was very beautiful, young, and had not had intimate relations with a man. Going down to the spring, she filled her jug and returned home.

17 Then Abraham's servant ran to meet her and asked her, "Please, let me have a sip of water from your jug."

18 "Drink, sir!" she replied as she quickly lowered her jug on her arm to offer him a drink.

19 When she had finished giving him a drink, she also said, "I'll also draw water for your camels until they've had enough to drink."

20 She quickly emptied her jug into the trough and ran to the well to draw again until she had drawn enough water for all ten of the servant's camels.

21 The man stared at her in silence, waiting to see whether or not the LORD had made his journey successful.

22 When the camels had finished drinking, the man took out a gold nose ring weighing a half shekel and two bracelets for her wrists, weighing 10 shekels and presented them to her.

23 He asked her, "Whose daughter are you? Please tell me, is there room in your father's house for us to spend the night?"

24 "I am the daughter of Bethuel," she answered. He's the son of Milcah and Nahor.

25 Yes," she continued, "we have plenty of straw and feed, as well as a place to spend the night."

26 At this, the man bowed down and worshipped the LORD.

27 "Blessed be the LORD God of my master Abraham, who hasn't held back his gracious love and faithfulness from my master! The LORD has led me to the house of my master's relatives!"

28 The young woman then ran ahead and informed her mother's household what had happened.

29 Now Rebekah had a brother named Laban, who ran out to the man and met him at the spring.

30 And so it was, as soon as he saw the nose ring and bracelets on his sister's wrists, and as soon as he heard what his sister Rebekah was saying about what the man had spoken to her, he went out to the man who was still standing by the camels at the spring!

31 "Come on," Laban said. "The LORD has blessed you! So why are you standing out here when I've prepared some space in the house and a place for the camels?"

32 So the servant went to the house and unbridled the camels. They provided straw and feed for the camels and water for washing his feet and those of the men with him.

33 But when they had prepared a meal and set it in front of him, he said, "I'm not eating until I've spoken." "Speak up!" Laban exclaimed.

34 "I'm Abraham's servant," he said.

35 "The LORD has greatly blessed my master, so that he has become wealthy. He has provided him sheep and cattle, silver and gold, male and female servants, camels and donkeys.

36 My master's wife Sarah gave birth to my master's son in her old age, and Abraham has given him everything that belongs to him.

37 My master made me swear this oath: 'You are not to select a wife for my son from among the daughters of the Canaanites in this land where I live.

38 Instead, you are to go to my father's household, to my relatives, and choose a wife for my son there.'

39 "So I asked my master, 'What if the woman won't come back with me?'

40 "Abraham told me, 'The LORD, who is with me wherever I go, will send his angel with you to make your journey successful. So you are to choose a wife for my son from my family, from my father's household.

41 Only then will you be released from fulfilling my oath. However, when you come to my family, if they don't give her to you, you'll be released from fulfilling my oath.'

Matthew 7

24 "Therefore, everyone who listens to these messages of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on a rock.

25 The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, but it did not collapse because its foundation was on the rock.

26 "Everyone who keeps on hearing these messages of mine and never puts them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand.

27 The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and battered that house, and it collapsed, and its collapse was total."

28 When Jesus had finished saying all these things, the crowds were utterly amazed at his teaching,

29 because he was teaching them like a person who had authority, and not like their scribes.

Matthew 8

1 When Jesus came down from the hillside, large crowds followed him.

2 Suddenly a leper came up to him, fell down before him, and said, "Sir, if you want to, you can make me clean."

3 So Jesus reached out his hand, touched him, and said, "I do want to. Be clean!" And instantly his leprosy was made clean.

4 Then Jesus told him, "See to it that you don't speak to anyone. Instead, go and show yourself to the priest, and then offer the sacrifice that Moses commanded as proof to the authorities."

5 When Jesus returned to Capernaum, a centurion came up to him and begged him repeatedly,

6 "Sir, my servant is lying at home paralyzed and in terrible pain."

7 Jesus told him, "I will come and heal him."

8 The centurion replied, "Sir, I am not worthy to have you come under my roof. But just say the word, and my servant will be healed,

9 because I, too, am a man under authority and I have soldiers under me. I say to one of them 'Go' and he goes, to another 'Come' and he comes, and to my servant 'Do this' and he does it."

10 When Jesus heard this, he was amazed and told those who were following him, "I tell you with certainty, not even in Israel have I found this kind of faith!

11 I tell you, many will come from east and west and will feast with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom from heaven.

12 But the unfaithful heirs of that kingdom will be thrown into the darkness outside. In that place there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth."

13 "Go," Jesus told the centurion, "and it will be done for you, just as you have believed." And his servant was healed that very hour.

14 When Jesus went into Peter's house, he saw Peter's mother-in-law lying in bed, sick with a fever.

15 He touched her hand, and the fever left her. Then she got up and began serving him.

16 When evening came, people brought to him many who were possessed by demons. He drove out the spirits by speaking a command and healed everyone who was sick.

17 This was to fulfil what was declared by the prophet Isaiah when he said, "It was he who took our illnesses away and removed our diseases."

Genesis 24

42 "So today I arrived at the spring and prayed, 'LORD God of my master Abraham, if you wish to make the journey that I have travelled successful,
43 here I am standing by the spring. May it be that the young woman who comes out to draw water, from whom I request a little water from her jug to drink,
44 if she tells me to drink and also draws water for the camels, may she be the woman that the LORD has chosen for my master's son.
45 "Before I had finished praying, along came Rebekah with her jug on her shoulder! She went to the spring and drew some water. I asked her to please let me have a drink.
46 She quickly lowered her jug from her shoulder and told me, 'Have a drink while I also water your camels.' So I drank, and she also gave my camels water to drink.
47 "That's when I asked, 'Whose daughter are you?' "She replied, 'I'm the daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bore for him.' "So I gave her a ring for her nose and bracelets for her wrists.
48 I bowed down and worshipped the LORD, and I praised the LORD God of my master Abraham, who led me on the true way to request the daughter of my master's brother for his son.
49 So now, if you wish to show gracious love and truth toward my master, tell me so. But if not, tell me, so that I may go elsewhere."
50 "Since this has come from the LORD," Laban and Bethuel both replied, "we cannot speak one way or another.
51 So here's Rebekah — she's right in front of you. Take her and go, so she can become a wife for your master's son, just as the LORD has decreed."
52 When Abraham's servant heard what they had said, he bowed down to the ground before the LORD.
53 Then the servant brought out some silver and gold items, along with some clothing, and gave them to Rebekah. He also gave gifts to her brother and to her mother.
54 He and the men with him ate and drank, and then they spent the night.
55 But her brother and mother said, "Let the young lady stay with us a few days — at least ten — and after that she may go."
56 "Please don't delay me," the servant answered them. "The LORD has made my journey successful. Send me off so I can return to my master."
57 But they said, "We'll call the young lady and see what she has to say about this."
58 So they called Rebekah and asked her, "Do you want to go with this man?" "I will go," she replied.
59 So they sent off their sister Rebekah, along with her personal assistant, Abraham's servant, and his men.
60 As they were leaving, they all blessed Rebekah, saying, "Our sister, may you become the mother of tens of millions! May your descendants take over the city gates of those who hate them."
61 Then Rebekah and her young servant women got up, mounted their camels, and followed Abraham's servant, who took Rebekah and went on his way.
62 Later on, as Isaac was returning one evening from Beer-lahai-roi (he had been living in the Negev),
63 Isaac went out walking in a field. He looked up, and all of a sudden there were some camels coming.
64 Rebekah looked up, and when she saw Isaac, she quickly dismounted from her camel
65 and asked the servant, "Who is that man coming in the field to meet us?" "That's my master," the servant told her. So she reached for a veil and covered herself.
66 Then the servant informed Isaac about everything he had done.

67 Later, Isaac brought Rebekah into the tent that had belonged to his mother Sarah and married her. Isaac loved her, and that's how he was comforted following the loss of his mother.

Genesis 25

- 1 Abraham had taken another wife whose name was Keturah.
- 2 She bore him Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, and Shuah.
- 3 Jokshan was the father of Sheba and Dedan. Dedan's sons were the Asshurites, Letushites, and Leummites.
- 4 Midian's sons were Ephah, Epher, Hanoah, Abida, and Eldaah. All of these were Keturah's descendants.
- 5 Abraham gave everything he owned to Isaac.
- 6 While he was still alive, Abraham gave gifts to his concubines and sent them to the east country in order to keep them away from his son Isaac.
- 7 Abraham lived for 175 years,
- 8 then passed away, dying at a ripe old age, having lived a full life, and joined his ancestors.
- 9 His sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah near Mamre, in the field that used to belong to Zohar the Hittite's son Ephron.
- 10 This was the same field that Abraham had bought from the son of Heth, where Abraham and his wife Sarah were buried.
- 11 After Abraham's death, God blessed his son Isaac, who continued to live near Beer-lahai-roi.
- 12 Now this is what happened to Ishmael, whom Sarah's Egyptian servant Hagar bore for Abraham.
- 13 Here's a list of the names of Ishmael's sons, recorded by their names and descendants: Nebaioth was the first born, followed by Kedar, Adbeel, Mibsam,
- 14 Mishma, Dumah, Massa,
- 15 Hadad, Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah.
- 16 These were Ishmael's children, listed by their names according to their villages and their camps. There were a total of twelve tribal chiefs, according to their clans.
- 17 Ishmael lived for 137 years, then he took his last breath, died, and joined his ancestors.
- 18 His descendants settled from Havilah to Shur (that's near Egypt), all the way to Assyria, in defiance of all of his relatives.
- 19 This is the account of Isaac, Abraham's son. Abraham fathered Isaac.
- 20 Isaac was forty years old when he married Rebekah, the daughter of Bethuel, the Aramean from Paddan-aram and sister of Laban the Aramean.
- 21 Later, Isaac prayed to the LORD on behalf of his wife, since she was unable to conceive children, and the LORD responded to him — his wife Rebekah became pregnant.
- 22 But when the infants kept on wrestling each other inside her womb, she asked herself, "Why is this happening?" So she asked the LORD for an explanation.
- 23 "Two nations are in your womb," the LORD responded, "and two separate people will emerge. One people will be the stronger, and the older one will serve the younger."
- 24 Sure enough, when her due date arrived, she delivered twin sons.
- 25 The first son came out reddish — his entire body was covered with hair — so they named him Esau.
- 26 After that, his brother came out with his hand clutching Esau's heel, so they named him Jacob. Isaac was 60 years old when they were born.
- 27 As the boys were growing up, Esau became skilled at hunting and was a man of the outdoors, but Jacob was the quiet type who tended to stay indoors.
- 28 Isaac loved Esau, because he loved to hunt, while Rebekah loved Jacob.

29 One day, while Jacob was cooking some stew, Esau happened to come in from being outdoors, and he was feeling famished.

30 Esau told Jacob, "Let me gobble down some of this red stuff, since I'm starving." (That's how Esau got his nickname "Edom").

31 But Jacob responded, "Sell me your birthright. Do it now."

32 "Look! I'm about to die." Esau replied. "What good is this birthright to me?"

33 But Jacob insisted, "Swear it by an oath right now." So he swore an oath to him and sold his birthright to Jacob.

34 Then Jacob gave Esau some of his food, along with some boiled stew. So Esau ate, drank, got up, and left, after having belittled his own birthright.

Matthew 8

18 When Jesus saw the large crowds around him, he gave orders to cross to the other side of the Sea of Galilee.

19 Just then, a scribe came up and told him, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go."

20 Jesus told him, "Foxes have holes and birds have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to rest."

21 Then another of his disciples told him, "Lord, first let me go and bury my father."

22 But Jesus told him, "Follow me, and let the dead bury their own dead."

23 When Jesus got into the boat, his disciples went with him.

24 Suddenly a violent storm came up on the sea, so that the boat began to be swamped by the waves. Yet Jesus kept sleeping.

25 They went to him and woke him up. "Lord!" they cried, "save us! We're going to die!"

26 He asked them, "Why are you afraid, you who have little faith?" Then he got up and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm.

27 The men were amazed. "What kind of man is this?" they asked. "Even the winds and the sea obey him!"

28 When Jesus arrived on the other side in the region of the Gerasenes, two demon-possessed men met him as they were coming out of the tombs. They were so violent that no one could travel on that road.

29 Suddenly they screamed, "What do you want with us, Son of God? Did you come here to torture us before the proper time?"

30 Now a large herd of pigs was grazing some distance away from them.

31 So the demons began to plead with Jesus, saying, "If you drive us out, send us into that herd of pigs."

32 He told them, "Go," and they came out and went into the pigs. Suddenly, the whole herd rushed down the cliff into the sea and drowned in the water.

33 Now when those who had been taking care of the pigs ran away, they came into the city and reported everything, especially what had happened to the demon-possessed men.

34 Then the whole city went out to meet Jesus, and as soon as they saw him, they begged him to leave their region.

Matthew 9

1 After getting into a boat, Jesus crossed to the other side and came to his own city.

2 All at once some people brought him a paralyzed man lying on a stretcher. When Jesus saw their faith, he told the paralyzed man, "Be courageous, son! Your sins are forgiven."

3 Then some of the scribes told themselves, "This fellow is blaspheming!"

4 But Jesus, knowing what they were thinking, replied, "Why do you have such evil thoughts in your hearts?"

5 Which is easier: to say 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up and walk'?

6 But so you will know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins. . ." he told the paralyzed man, "Get up, pick up your stretcher, and go home!"

7 So the man got up and went home.

8 When the crowds saw this, they became frightened and glorified God for giving such authority to humans.

Genesis 26

1 Later on, a famine swept through the land. This famine was different from the previous famine that had occurred earlier, during Abraham's lifetime. So Isaac went to Abimelech, king of the Philistines, at Gerar.

2 That's when the LORD appeared to Isaac. "You are not to go down to Egypt," he said. "Instead, you are to settle down in an area within this land where I'll tell you.

3 Remain in this land, and I'll be with and bless you by giving all these lands to you and to your descendants in fulfilment of my solemn promise that I made to your father Abraham.

4 "I'll cause you to have as many descendants as the stars of the heavens, and I'll certainly give all these lands to your descendants. Later on, through your descendants all the nations of the earth will bless one another.

5 I'm going to do this because Abraham did what I told him to do. He kept my instructions, commands, statutes, and laws."

6 So Isaac lived in Gerar.

7 Later on, the men of that place asked about his wife, so he replied, "She's my sister," because he was afraid to call her "My wife." He kept thinking, ". . . otherwise, the men around here will kill me on account of Rebekah, since she's very beautiful."

8 After he had been there awhile, Abimelech, king of the Philistines, looked out through a window and saw Isaac caressing his wife Rebekah.

9 So Abimelech called Isaac and confronted him. "She is definitely your wife!" he accused him, "So why did you claim, 'She's my sister?'" Isaac responded, "Because I had thought '. . . otherwise, I'll die on account of her.'"

10 "What have you done to us?" Abimelech asked. "Any minute now, one of the people could have had sex with your wife and you would have caused all of us to be guilty."

11 So he issued this order to everyone: "Whoever touches this man or his wife is to be executed."

12 Isaac received a 100-fold return on what he planted that year in the land he received, because the LORD blessed him.

13 He became very wealthy and lived a life of wealth, becoming more and more wealthy.

14 He owned so many sheep, cattle, and servants that the Philistines eventually became envious of him.

15 They filled in with sand all of the wells that Isaac's father Abraham's servants had dug during his lifetime.

16 Then Abimelech ordered Isaac, "Move away from us! You've become more powerful than we are."

17 So Isaac moved from there and encamped in the Gerar Valley, where he settled.

18 Isaac re-excavated some wells that his father had first dug during his lifetime, because the Philistines had filled them with sand after Abraham's death. Isaac renamed those wells with the same names that his father had called them.

19 While Isaac's servants were digging in the valley, they discovered a well with flowing water.

20 But the herdsmen who lived in Gerar quarrelled with Isaac's herdsmen. "The water is ours," they said. As a result, Isaac named the well Esek, for they had fiercely disputed with him about it.

21 When his workers started digging another well, those herdsmen quarrelled about that one, too, so Isaac named it Sitnah.

22 Then he left that area and dug still another well. Because they did not quarrel over that one, Isaac named it Rehoboth, because he used to say, "The LORD has enlarged the territory for us. We will prosper in the land."

23 Later on, he left there and went to Beer-sheba,

24 where one night the LORD appeared to him. "I am the God of your father Abraham," he told him. "Don't be afraid, because I'm with you. I'm going to bless you and multiply your descendants on account of my servant Abraham."

25 In response, Isaac built an altar there and called on the name of the LORD. He also pitched his tents there and his servants dug a well.

26 Later, Abimelech travelled to visit Isaac from Gerar. He arrived with Ahuzzath, his staff advisor, and Phicol, the commanding officer of his army.

27 "Why have you come to see me," Isaac asked them, "since you hate me so much that you sent me away from you?"

28 "We've seen that the LORD is with you," they responded, "so we're proposing an agreement between us — between us and you. Allow us to make a treaty with you by which you'll agree not to do us any harm, just as we haven't harmed you, since we've done nothing but good for you after we sent you away in peace. As a result, you've been tremendously blessed by the LORD."

30 So Isaac held a feast for them and they ate and drank.

31 They woke up early the next morning and made the treaty. After this, Isaac sent them off and they left on peaceful terms.

32 That very same day, Isaac's servants arrived and reported to him about a well that they had just completed digging. "We've found water!" they said.

33 So Isaac named the well Shebah, which is why the city is named Beer-sheba to this day.

34 When Esau was 40 years old, he married Judith, the daughter of Beeri the Hittite and Basemath, the daughter of Elon the Hittite.

35 This brought extreme grief to Isaac and Rebekah.

Genesis 27

1 Eventually, Isaac grew so old that he could not see. One day, he called his eldest son Esau. "My son," he called out to him.

2 "Look how old I am! I could die any day now,

3 so go find your weapons, take your bow and arrows, go outside, and hunt some game for me.

4 Then prepare some food, just the way I like it, and bring it to me so that I can eat and bless you before I die."

5 Now Rebekah overheard Isaac while he was speaking to his son Esau. When Esau had gone out to the field to hunt and bring in some game,

6 Rebekah gave these instructions to her son Jacob: "Quick! Pay attention!" she said. "I heard your father talking to your brother Esau. He told him,

7 'Bring me some game and then prepare some food for me so I can eat and bless you in the presence of the LORD before I die.'

8 "So now, my son, listen to what I have to say and pay attention to what I'm about to tell you.

9 Go to the flock and bring me two healthy young goats. I'll prepare some delicious food for your father, just the way he loves it.

10 Then you are to take it to your father so that he can eat and bless you before he dies."

11 "But look!" Jacob pointed out to his mother Rebekah, "My brother Esau is a hairy man, but I'm smooth skinned.

12 My father might touch me and he'll realize that I'm deceiving him. Then, I'll bring a curse on myself instead of a blessing."

13 "My son," she replied, "let any curse against you fall on me. Just listen to me, then go and get them for me."

14 So out he went, got them, and brought them to his mother, who then prepared some delicious food, just the way his father liked it.

15 Then Rebekah took some garments that belonged to her elder son Esau — the best ones available — and put them on her younger son Jacob.

16 She put some goat skins over his hands and on the smooth part of his neck.

17 Then she handed the delicious food and bread that she had prepared to her son Jacob,

18 who went to his father and said, "My father. . ." "It's me!" he replied. "Which one are you, my son?"

19 "I'm Esau, your first born." Jacob told his father, "I've done what you asked, so please sit up and eat what I caught so you can bless me."

20 "How did you get it so quickly, my son?" Isaac asked. Jacob responded, ". . . because the LORD your God made me successful."

21 So Isaac told Jacob, "Come here, my son, so I can feel you and know for sure whether or not you're my son Esau."

22 So Jacob approached his father, who felt him and said, "It's Jacob's voice, but Esau's hands."

23 He didn't recognize Jacob, because his hands were hairy like those of his brother Esau, so Isaac blessed him.

24 He asked, "Are you really my son Esau?" "I am," Jacob replied.

25 "Come closer to me," Isaac replied, "so I can eat some of the game, my son, and then bless you." So Jacob came closer, and Isaac ate. Jacob also brought wine so his father could drink.

26 After this, Jacob's father Isaac told him, "Come closer and kiss me, my son."

27 So Jacob drew closer to kiss him. When Isaac smelled the scent of his son's clothes, he blessed him and said, "How my son's scent is the fragrance of the field, that the LORD has blessed.

28 May the LORD grant you dew from the skies, and from the fertile land; may he grant you abundant grain and fresh wine.

29 May people serve and bow before you; may you be master over your brothers; may your mother's sons bow before you; may anyone who curses you be cursed; and may anyone who blesses you be blessed."

Matthew 9

9 As Jesus went on from there, he saw a man named Matthew sitting at the tax collector's desk and told him, "Follow me." So he got up and followed him.

10 While he was having dinner at Matthew's home, many tax collectors and sinners arrived and began eating with Jesus and his disciples.

11 The Pharisees saw this and asked his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?"

12 When Jesus heard that, he said, "Healthy people don't need a physician, but sick people do.

13 Go and learn what this means: 'I want mercy and not sacrifice,' because I did not come to call righteous people, but sinners."

14 Then John's disciples came to Jesus and asked, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but your disciples don't fast?"

15 Jesus asked them, "The wedding guests can't mourn as long as the groom is with them, can they? But the time will come when the groom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast."

16 "No one patches an old garment with a piece of unshrunk cloth, because the patch pulls away from the garment, and a worse tear results.

17 Nor do people pour new wine into old wineskins. If they do, the skins will burst, the wine will spill out, and the skins will be ruined. Instead, they pour new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved."

18 While Jesus was telling them these things, an official came up and fell down before him. "My daughter has just died," he said. "But come and lay your hand on her, and she will live."

19 So Jesus got up and followed him, along with his disciples.

20 Just then a woman who had been suffering from chronic bleeding for twelve years came up behind him and touched the tassel of his garment,

21 because she had been saying to herself, "If I just touch his robe, I will get well."

22 When Jesus turned and saw her, he said, "Be courageous, daughter! Your faith has made you well." And from that very hour the woman was well.

23 When Jesus came to the official's house and saw the flute players and the crowd making a commotion,

24 he said, "Go away! The young lady hasn't died but is sleeping." But they ridiculed him with laughter.

25 When the crowd had been driven outside, he went in, took her by the hand, and the young lady got up.

26 The news of this spread throughout that land.

Genesis 27

30 Just after Isaac had finished blessing Jacob and Jacob had left his father Isaac, Jacob's brother Esau returned from hunting,

31 prepared some delicious food, brought it to his father, and told him, "Can you get up now, father, so you may eat some of your son's game and then bless me?"

32 But Isaac's father asked him, "Who are you?" "I'm Esau, your first born son," he answered

33 At this, Isaac began to tremble violently. "Who then," he asked, "hunted some game and brought it to me to eat before you arrived, so that I've blessed him? Indeed, he is blessed."

34 When Esau realized what his father Isaac was saying, he began to wail out loud bitterly. "Bless me," he cried, "even me, too, my father!"

35 Isaac replied, "Your brother came here deceitfully and stole your blessing."

36 Then he said, "Isn't his name rightly called Jacob?" Esau asked. "He has circumvented me this second time. First, he took away my birthright, and now, look how he also stole my blessing." Then he added, "Haven't you reserved a blessing for me?"

37 In response, Isaac told Esau, "Look! I've predicted that he's going to become your master, and I've assigned all his brothers to be his servants. What then can I do for you, my son?"

38 Then Esau implored his father, "Don't you have even one blessing for me, my father? Bless me, even me too, my father!" Then Esau lifted his voice and wept bitterly.

39 At this, his father Isaac replied to him, "Look! Away from the fertile land will be your dwellings; away from the dew of the skies above.

40 By your sword you'll live; but you'll serve your brother. But when you've become restless, you'll break off his yoke from your neck."

41 So Esau harboured animosity toward Jacob because of the way his father had blessed him. Esau kept saying to himself, "The time to mourn for my father is very near. That's when I'm going to kill my brother Jacob."

42 Eventually, what Rebekah's older son Esau had been saying was reported to her, so she sent for her younger son Jacob and warned him, "Look! Your brother is planning to get even by killing you.

43 Son, you'd better do what I say! Get up, run off to my brother Laban in Haran, 44 and stay there with him a few days until your brother's fury subsides.

45 After that happens and he has forgotten what you've done to him, I'll send for you so you can return from there. Why should I be bereaved of you both in one day?"

46 Rebekah also told herself, "Heth's daughters are making me tired of living. If Jacob marries one of Heth's daughters, and she turns out to be just like these other local women, what kind of life would there be left for me?"

Genesis 28

1 Later, Isaac called Jacob and blessed him, instructing him, "Don't marry a wife from the local Canaanite women.

2 Instead, get up, travel to Paddan-aram, and visit the household of Bethuel, your mother's father. Marry one of Laban's daughters, since he's your mother's brother.

3 May God Almighty bless you and make you fruitful so that your descendants become a whole group of people.

4 May he give you and your descendants the blessings that he gave Abraham. May you possess the land where you have lived that God gave to Abraham."

5 So Isaac sent Jacob off toward Paddan-aram to visit Laban, Bethuel's son, the Aramean and brother of Rebekah, the mother of Jacob and Esau.

6 Esau noticed that after Isaac had blessed Jacob as he was sending him off to Paddan-aram to marry a wife from there, he had instructed Jacob, "Don't marry a Canaanite woman."
7 After Jacob had obeyed his father and mother's instructions to set out for Paddan-aram,
8 Esau realized that Canaan women didn't please his father Isaac,
9 so he went to Abraham's son Ishmael and married Ishmael's daughter Mahalath, who was the sister of Nebaioth.
10 Meanwhile, Jacob had left Beer-sheba and was on his way to Haran.
11 He reached a certain place and spent the night there, because the sun was setting. He found a stone there, used it for a pillow, and slept there for the night,
12 when he had a dream! He saw a raised highway that had been built with its ending point on earth and its beginning point in heaven. God's angels were ascending and descending on it.
13 And there was the LORD, standing above it and telling Jacob, "I am the LORD God of your grandfather Abraham. I'm Isaac's God, too. I'm giving you and your descendants the ground on which you're sleeping.
14 Your descendants are going to become like the dust of the earth and spread out to the west, east, north, and south. All the families of the earth will be blessed through you and your descendants.
15 Now pay attention! I'm here with you, and I'm going to be watching over you wherever you go. I'm going to bring you back to this land, because I won't ever leave you until I've accomplished what I've promised about you."
16 Then Jacob woke up during the night and told himself, "Surely, the LORD is in this place and I never knew it!"
17 In mounting terror, he cried out, "How scary this place is! This is nothing less than God's house and the gateway to heaven!"
18 When Jacob got up early the next morning, he took the stone that he had used for his pillow, set it up as a pillar, drenched it with oil,
19 and named the place Beth-el, although previously the city had been named Luz.
20 Then he made this solemn vow: "If God remains with me, watches over me throughout this journey that I'm taking, gives me food to eat and clothes to wear,
21 and returns me safely to my father's house, then the LORD will be my God,
22 this stone that I've erected in the form of a pillar will be God's house, I'll give you a tenth of everything that you give to me."

Genesis 29

1 Jacob journeyed on and reached the territory that belonged to the people who lived in the east.
2 As he was observing a well that had been dug out on the open range, all of a sudden he noticed three flocks of sheep lying there, because shepherds watered their flocks from that well. There was a very large stone that covered the opening of the well,
3 and when all the flocks had been gathered there, they would roll away the stone from the opening of the well, water their flocks, and then return the stone to its place covering the opening of the well.
4 Jacob asked them, "My brothers, where are you from?" "We're from Haran," they answered.
5 "Do you happen to know Nahor's son Laban?" he inquired. "We do," they replied.
6 So he asked them, "How's he doing?" "Very well," they answered. "As a matter of fact, look over there! That's his daughter Rachel, coming here with his sheep."
7 "Look!" Jacob replied. "The sun is still high. It's not yet time for the flocks to be gathered. Let's water the sheep, then let them graze."

8 But they responded, "We can't do that until all the sheep have been gathered and the stone has been rolled away from the opening of the well. Only then can we water the flock."

9 While he was still talking with them, Rachel arrived with her father's sheep, since she was a shepherdess.

10 When Jacob saw Rachel, the daughter of Laban, his mother's brother, accompanied by Laban's sheep, Jacob approached the well, rolled the stone from the opening of the well, and then watered his mother's brother Laban's flock.

11 Then Jacob kissed Rachel and began to cry out loud.

12 Jacob told Rachel that he was related to her father, since he was Rebekah's son, so she ran and told her father.

13 When Laban heard the news about his sister's son Jacob, he ran out to meet him. He embraced him, kissed him, and brought him back to his house. Then Jacob told Laban about everything that had happened.

14 Laban responded, "You certainly are my flesh and blood!" So Jacob stayed with him for about a month.

15 Later, Laban asked Jacob, "Should you serve me for free, just because you're my nephew? Let's talk about what your wages should be."

16 Now Laban happened to have two daughters. The older one was named Leah and the younger was named Rachel.

17 Leah looked rather plain, but Rachel was lovely in form and appearance.

18 Jacob loved Rachel, so he made this offer to Laban: "I'll serve you for seven years for Rachel, your younger daughter."

19 "It's better that I give her to you than to another man," Laban replied, "so stay with me."

20 Jacob served seven years for Rachel, but it seemed like only a few days because of his love for her.

21 Eventually, Jacob told Laban, "Bring me my wife, now that my time of service has been completed, so I can go be with her."

22 So Laban gathered all the men who lived in that place and held a wedding feast.

23 That night Laban took his daughter Leah and brought her to Jacob. He had marital relations with her.

24 Laban also gave his servant woman Zilpah to Leah to be her maidservant.

25 The next morning, Jacob realized that it was Leah! "What have you done to me?" he demanded of Laban. "Didn't I serve you for seven years in order to marry Rachel? Why did you deceive me?"

26 But Laban responded, "It's not the practice of our place to give the younger one in marriage before the first born.

27 Fulfill the week for this daughter, then we'll give you the other one in exchange for serving me another seven years."

28 So Jacob completed another seven years' work, and then Laban gave him his daughter Rachel to be his wife.

29 Laban also gave his woman servant Bilhah to his daughter Rachel to be her maidservant.

30 Jacob also married Rachel, since he loved her. He served Laban another full seven years' work for Rachel.

Matthew 9

27 As Jesus was travelling on from there, two blind men followed him, shouting, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"

28 When he had gone into the house, the blind men came to him. Jesus asked them, "Do you believe I can do this?" They told him, "Yes, Lord!"

29 Then he touched their eyes and said, "According to your faith, let it be done for you!"

30 And their eyes were opened. Then Jesus sternly told them, "See to it that nobody knows about this."

31 But they went out and spread the news about him throughout that region.

32 As the men were going out, a man who couldn't talk because he was demon-possessed was brought to him.

33 As soon as the demon had been driven out, the man began to speak. The crowds were amazed and said, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel!"

34 But the Pharisees kept saying, "He drives out demons by the ruler of demons."

35 Then Jesus began travelling throughout all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every illness.

36 When he saw the crowds, he was deeply moved with compassion for them, because they were troubled and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd.

37 Then he told his disciples, "The harvest is vast, but the workers are few.

38 So ask the Lord of the harvest to send out workers into his harvest."

Matthew 10

1 Then Jesus called his twelve disciples to him and gave them authority over unclean spirits, so that they could drive them out and heal every disease and every illness.

2 These are the names of the twelve apostles: first, Simon (who is called Peter) and his brother Andrew; James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John;

3 Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the tax collector; James, the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus;

4 Simon the Cananaean and Judas Iscariot, who later betrayed Jesus.

5 These were the Twelve whom Jesus sent out after he had given them these instructions: "Don't turn on to the road that leads to the gentiles, and don't enter Samaritan towns.

6 Instead, go to the lost sheep of the nation of Israel.

7 As you go, make this announcement: 'The kingdom from heaven is near!'

8 Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse lepers, drive out demons. You have received without payment, so give without payment.

9 Don't take any gold, silver, or copper in your moneybags,

10 or a travelling bag for the trip, or an extra shirt, or sandals, or a walking stick, because a worker deserves his food.

11 "Whatever town or village you enter, find out who is receptive in it and stay there until you leave.

12 As you enter the house, greet its occupants.

13 If the household is receptive, let your blessing of peace come on it. But if it isn't receptive, let your blessing of peace return to you.

14 If no one welcomes you or listens to your words, as you leave that house or town, shake its dust off your feet.

15 I tell you with certainty, it will be more bearable for the region of Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgement than for that town!"

Genesis 29

32 Leah conceived, bore a son, and named him Reuben, because she was saying, "The LORD had looked on my torture, so now my husband will love me."

33 Later, she conceived again, bore a son, and declared, "Because the LORD heard that I'm neglected, he gave me this one, too." So she named him Simeon.

34 Later, she conceived again and said, "This time my husband will become attached to me, now that I've borne him three sons." So he named him Levi.

35 Then she conceived yet again, bore a son, and said, "This time I'll praise the LORD." So she named him Judah. Then she stopped bearing children.

Genesis 30

1 Rachel noticed that she was not bearing children for Jacob, so because she envied her sister Leah, she told Jacob, "If you don't give me sons, I'm going to die!"

2 That made Jacob angry with Rachel, so he asked her, "Can I take God's place, who has not allowed you to conceive?"

3 Rachel responded, "Here's my handmaid Bilhah. Go have sex with her. She can bear children on my knees so I can have children through her."

4 So Rachel gave Jacob her woman servant Bilhah to be his wife, and Jacob had sex with her.

5 Bilhah conceived and bore a son for Jacob.

6 Then Rachel said, "God has vindicated me! He has heard my voice and has given me a son." Therefore, she named him Dan.

7 Rachel's servant conceived again and bore a second son for Jacob,

8 so Rachel said, "I've been through a mighty struggle with my sister and won." She named him Naphtali.

9 When Leah saw that she had stopped bearing children, she took her woman servant Zilpah and gave her to Jacob as a wife.

10 Leah's servant Zilpah bore a son to Jacob,

11 and Leah exclaimed, "How fortunate!" So she named him Gad.

12 Later, Leah's servant Zilpah bore a second son for Jacob.

13 She said, "How happy I am, because women will call me happy!" So she named him Asher.

14 Some time later, during the wheat harvest season, Reuben went out and found some mandrakes in the field and brought them back for his mother Leah. Then Rachel told Leah, "Please give me your son's mandrakes."

15 In response, Leah asked her, "Wasn't it enough that you've taken away my husband? Now you also want to take my son's mandrakes!" But Rachel replied, "Okay, let's let Jacob sleep with you tonight in exchange for your son's mandrakes."

16 When Jacob came in from the field that evening, Leah went to meet him and told him, "You're having sex with me tonight. I traded my son's mandrakes for you!" So he slept with her that night.

17 God heard what Leah had said, so she conceived and bore a fifth son for Jacob.

18 Then Leah said, "God has paid me for giving my servant to my husband as his wife." So she named him Issachar.

19 Later, Leah conceived again and bore a sixth son for Jacob.

20 Then Leah said, "God has given me a good gift. This time my husband will exalt me, because I've borne him six sons." So she named him Zebulun.

21 After that, Leah conceived, bore a daughter, and named her Dinah.

22 Then God remembered Rachel. He listened to her and opened her womb,

23 so she conceived, bore a son, and remarked, "God has removed my shame."

24 Because she had been asking, "May God give me another son," she named him Joseph.
25 After Rachel had given birth to Joseph, Jacob told Laban, "Send me off so that I can go back to my place and country.
26 Give me my wives and children for whom I've served you. Then I'll leave, since you're aware of my service to you."
27 Then Laban responded, "If I've found favour in your sight, please stay with me, because I've learned through divination that the LORD has blessed me because of you."
28 Name your wage," Laban added, "and I'll give it to you."
29 But Jacob replied to Laban, "You know how I've served you and how your cattle thrived under my care.
30 What you had previously was only a few head, but the herd has now multiplied, because the LORD has blessed you through my efforts. But now, when am I going to be able to provide for my own household?"
31 "What do I have to give you?" Laban asked. Jacob responded, "You don't have to give me anything. Just do this for me: Let me tend your flock again and watch over it.
32 Let me walk among your flocks today and remove every speckled or spotted sheep, every black lamb, and let me do the same with the speckled and spotted goats. These will be my wages.
33 In the future, you'll be able to verify my honesty because, when you come to check what I've earned, if you find a goat that's not speckled or spotted or a sheep that's not black, then it will have been stolen by me."
34 "Okay," Laban replied. "We'll do it the way you've asked."
35 That very day, Laban removed the male goats that were striped or spotted, all the female goats that were speckled or spotted — that is, every one that had white on them — and all the black lambs and placed them into the care of his sons.
36 He sent them as far away from Jacob as a three day's journey could take them. Meanwhile, Jacob kept tending the rest of Laban's flock.
37 Jacob took branches from white poplar trees, freshly cut almond trees, and some other trees, stripped off their bark to make white streaks, and uncovered the white part inside the branches.
38 Then he placed the branches that he had stripped bare in all the watering troughs where the flocks came to drink. He placed the branches in front of the flock, and they went into heat as they came to drink.
39 When the flocks mated in front of the branches, they would bear offspring that were striped, speckled, or spotted.
40 Jacob kept the lambs separate, facing the striped and entirely black ones that belonged to Laban's flock. He set his own herd by itself and would not let them be with Laban's flock.
41 Whenever the more vigorous of the flock came into heat, Jacob would place the branches in the troughs in front of the flock to make them mate by the branches.
42 But he didn't put the branches in front of any of the feeble members of the flock. As a result, the feeble ones belonged to Laban, but the stronger ones belonged to Jacob.
43 Therefore the man Jacob prospered so much that he had large flocks, female and male servants, as well as camels and donkeys.

Genesis 31

1 Now Jacob used to listen while Laban's sons kept on complaining, "Jacob has taken over everything our father owns! He made himself wealthy from what belongs to our father!"
2 Jacob also noticed that the way Laban had been looking at him wasn't as nice as it had been just two days earlier.
3 Then the LORD ordered Jacob, "Go back to your father's territory and to your relatives. I'll be with you."

4 Jacob sent for Rachel and Leah to come out to the field where his flock was 5 and informed them, "I've noticed that the way your father has been looking at us hasn't been as nice as it was just two days ago. But my father's God has been with me.
6 You know I've been serving your father with all my heart.
7 Even so, your father has cheated me. He broke our wage agreement ten times.
However, God didn't allow him to harm me.
8 "When Laban said, 'The speckled ones will be your wages,' then all the flock gave birth to speckled ones. Then when he said, 'The streaked ones will be your wages,' all the flock gave birth to streaked offspring.
9 "So God has taken away your father's livestock and has given them to me.
10 As it was, when it was time for the livestock to breed, I once looked up in a dream, and the male goats that were mating with the flock were producing streaked, speckled, and spotted offspring.
11 "Later, the angel of God spoke to me in a dream, 'Jacob.' "'Here I am,' I replied 12 "'Look around!' he said. 'Go ahead, look! All the male goats have been mating with the flock, producing offspring that are streaked, speckled, and spotted, because I've been watching everything that Laban has done to you.
13 I am the God of Bethel, the place where you consecrated that stone and made a vow to me. Now get up, leave this territory, and return to your native land.'" 14 Then Rachel and Leah asked him, "Do we have anything left of inheritance remaining in our father's house?
15 He's treating us like foreigners. He sold us and spent all of the money that rightfully belonged to us.
16 Furthermore, all of the wealth that God has stripped away from our father belongs to us now and to our children. So do everything that God tells you to do."
17 So Jacob got up, seated his children and wives on camels,
18 and drove all his livestock ahead of him, with everything that belonged to him, including the livestock that he had bought and accumulated in Paddan-aram, intending to deliver them to his father Isaac in the land of Canaan.

Matthew 10

16 "See, I am sending you out like sheep among wolves. So be as cunning as serpents and as innocent as doves.

17 Watch out for people who will hand you over to the local councils and whip you in their synagogues.

18 You will be brought before governors and kings because of me, to testify to them and to the gentiles.

19 When they hand you over, don't worry about how you are to speak or what you are to say, because in that hour what you are to say will be given to you.

20 It won't be you speaking, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

21 "Brother will hand brother over for execution, and a father his child. Children will rebel against parents and have them put to death.

22 You will be hated by everyone because of my name. But the person who endures to the end will be saved.

23 So when they persecute you in one town, flee to the next, because I tell you with certainty that you will not have gone through the towns of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

25 It is enough for a disciple to be like his teacher and a slave to be like his master. If they have called the head of the house Beelzebul, how much more will they do the same to those of his household!"

26 "So never be afraid of them, because there is nothing hidden that will not be revealed, and nothing secret that will not be made known.

27 What I tell you in darkness you must speak in the daylight, and what is whispered in your ear you must shout from the housetops.

28 Stop being afraid of those who kill the body but can't kill the soul. Instead, be afraid of the one who can destroy both body and soul in hell.

29 "Two sparrows are sold for a penny, aren't they? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground without your Father's permission.

30 Indeed, even the hairs on your head have all been counted!

31 So stop being afraid. You are worth more than a bunch of sparrows."

32 "Therefore, everyone who acknowledges me before people I, too, will acknowledge before my Father in heaven.

33 But whoever denies me before people I, too, will deny before my Father in heaven."

34 "Do not think that I came to bring peace on earth. I did not come to bring peace but a sword!

35 I came to turn 'a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law.

36 A person's enemies will include members of his own family.'

37 "The one who loves his father or mother more than me isn't worthy of me, and the one who loves a son or daughter more than me isn't worthy of me.

38 The one who doesn't take up his cross and follow me isn't worthy of me.

39 The one who finds his life will lose it, and the one who loses his life because of me will find it."

40 "The one who receives you receives me, and the one who receives me receives the one who sent me.

41 The one who receives a prophet as a prophet will receive a prophet's reward, and the one who receives a righteous person as a righteous person will receive a righteous person's reward.

42 I tell you with certainty, whoever gives even a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is a disciple will never lose his reward."

Genesis 31

19 Meanwhile, Laban had been out shearing his sheep. While he was away, Rachel stole her father's personal idols.

20 Moreover, Jacob had deceived Laban the Syrian, because he had never told him that he was intending to leave.

21 Jacob fled, taking everything that he owned. He got up, crossed the Jordan river, and headed toward the hill country of Gilead.

22 Three days later, somebody reported to Laban that Jacob had fled, 23 so he took his relatives with him and pursued Jacob. Laban was on the road for seven days when he finally caught up with Jacob in the hill country of Gilead.

24 That night, God appeared to Laban the Syrian in a dream and warned him, "Be careful what you say to Jacob, whether it's one word good or bad."

25 Meanwhile, Jacob had pitched his tent on the mountain, where Laban had caught up with him. Laban and his relatives encamped on that same mountain in the hill country of Gilead, too.

26 Then Laban asked Jacob, "What did you do? You deceived me, carried off my daughters like you would war captives, 27 ran away from me secretly, and stole from me by not keeping me informed.

Otherwise, I could have sent you off with a party and singing, accompanied by a band playing tambourines and harps.

28 As it is, you didn't even allow me to kiss my grandchildren and daughters goodbye! You've acted foolishly.

29 It's actually in my power to do some serious evil to you, but last night the God of your father told me, 'Be careful what you say to Jacob whether good or evil.'

30 Now, you can go if you must go, because you certainly are longing to go to your father's house. But why did you steal my gods?"

31 "I was afraid," Jacob replied. "I thought you might take your daughters from me.

32 Now as to your gods, if you find someone has them in their possession, he's a dead man. Take our relatives as witnesses, search through our belongings, and take whatever belongs to you that's in my possession." But Jacob didn't know that Rachel had stolen the idols.

33 So Laban entered Jacob's tent, Leah's tent, and the tents of the two maid servants, but he didn't find them. Then he left Leah's tent and entered Rachel's tent.

34 Meanwhile, Rachel had taken the idols, placed them inside the saddle of her camel, and sat on them. Laban searched through the whole tent, but found nothing.

35 Then Rachel told her father, "Sir, please don't be angry that I cannot stand up in your presence. It's that time of the month." So Laban searched for the idols, but never did find them.

36 Then Jacob got angry and started an argument with Laban. "What have I done?" he demanded. "What's my crime that would cause you to come pursue me so violently?"

37 Now that you've searched all my belongings, what did you find that belongs to your house? Set it here in front of our relatives and we'll let them judge between us!

38 "Meanwhile, these past 20 years that I've been with you, your sheep and goats never had miscarriages, I never once ate any of the rams from your flock,

39 and whatever was torn by beasts, I never bothered to bring to you. Instead, I bore the losses myself. Even so, you demanded that I provide restitution for anything that was stolen, whether during the day or the night.

40 "As it was, I was attacked by drought during the day and by cold at night. I never got any decent rest.

41 I've lived in your house these 20 years — serving fourteen years for your two daughters and another six years for your flocks. During all that time you changed my wages ten times.

42 If the God of my father — the God of Abraham, the God whom Isaac feared — had not been with me, you would have sent me away empty handed. But God saw my misery and how hard I've worked with my own hands — and he rebuked you last night."

43 But Laban answered Jacob. "These women are my daughters. These children are my children. The flocks are mine. In fact, everything that you see belongs to me. But what would I do today to my daughters and the children they have borne?

44 Come, let's make a covenant just between you and me. And let it serve as a witness between you and me."

45 So Jacob took a stone and raised it as a pillar.

46 Then Jacob told his relatives, "Go gather some stones." So they picked up stones and stacked them one on top of the other. Then they had a meal together there by the stack of stones.

47 Laban named the place Jegar-sahadutha, but Jacob named it Galeed.

48 Then Laban said, "This stack will serve as a witness between you and me today." That's how the place came to be named Galeed.

49 It was also called Mizpah, because Laban said, "May the LORD watch between you and me, when we are estranged from each other.

50 If you mistreat my daughters or if you take other wives besides them, though no one is watching us, keep in mind that God stands as a witness between you and me."

51 "Look!" Laban added, "Here is the stack of stones and here is the pillar that I've set up between you and me.

52 This stack is a witness, and so is this pillar, reminding me not to cross beyond this stack of stones, and reminding you not to pass by this stack in my direction, intending to cause harm.

53 May Abraham's God and Nahor's god judge between us." So Jacob made an oath by his father's Fear, 54 offered sacrifices there on the mountain, and called on his relatives to eat some food. So they ate the food and spent the night on the mountain.

55 Early the next morning, Laban woke up, kissed his grandchildren and daughters, blessed them, and then left for home.

Genesis 32

1 As Jacob went on his way, angels from God met him.

2 As he was watching them, Jacob said, "This must be God's camp," so he named that place Mahanaim.

3 Then Jacob sent messengers ahead of him into the land of Seir (that is, into the territory of Edom) to meet his brother Esau.

4 He instructed them, "This is what you are to say to my master Esau: 'Your servant Jacob told me to tell you, "I've journeyed to stay with Laban and I've remained there until now. I now have cattle, donkeys, flocks, and male and female servants. I'm sending this message to you, sir, so that you'll show favour to me.'"

6 Later, the messengers returned to Jacob and reported, "We went to your brother Esau. He's now coming to meet you — and he has 400 men with him!"

7 Feeling mounting terror and distress, Jacob divided the people who were with him into two groups, doing the same with the flocks, the cattle, and the camels.

8 Jacob was thinking, "If Esau comes to one group and attacks it, then the remaining group may escape."

9 Then Jacob prayed, "O God of my father Abraham, O God of my father Isaac, O LORD, you who told me, 'Return to your country and to your relatives and I'll cause things to go well for you.'

10 I'm unworthy of all your gracious love, your faithfulness, and everything that you've done for your servant. When I first crossed over this Jordan River, I had only my staff. But now I've become two groups.

11 Deliver me from my brother Esau's control, because I'm terrified of him, and I fear that he's coming to attack me, the mothers, and their children.

12 Now, you promised me that 'I'm certainly going to cause things to go well with you, and I'm going to make your offspring as numerous as the sand of the sea, which cannot be counted.'"

13 Jacob spent the night there. Out of everything that he had brought with him, he chose a gift for his brother Esau —

14 200 female goats, 20 male goats, 200 ewes, 20 rams,

15 30 milking camels with their young, 40 cows with ten bulls, and 20 female donkeys with ten male donkeys.

16 He entrusted them into the care of his servants, one herd at a time. Then he told his servants, "Go in front of me, making sure there's plenty of space between herds."

17 To the first group he said, "When you meet my brother Esau, if he asks, 'To whom do you belong? Where are you going? And to whom do these herds belong?'

18 then you are to reply, "We're from your servant Jacob. The herds are a gift. He's sending them to my master, Esau. Look! There he is, coming along behind us."

19 He issued similar instructions to the second and third group, as well as to all the others who drove the herds that followed: "This is how you are to speak to Esau when you find him.

20 You are to tell him, 'Look! Your servant Jacob is coming along behind us.'" Jacob was thinking, "I'll pacify him with the presents that are being sent ahead of me. Then, when I meet him, perhaps he'll accept me."

21 So the presents went ahead of him, while he spent that night in the camp.

22 Later that night, he woke up, quickly took his two wives, his two women servants, and his eleven children, and forded the river at Jabbok.

23 He took them across the river, along with all his possessions.

Matthew 11

1 When Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples, he left there to teach and preach in their home towns.

2 Now when John in prison heard about the activities of the Messiah, he sent a message by his disciples

3 and asked him, "Are you the Coming One, or should we wait for someone else?"

4 Jesus answered them, "Go and tell John what you hear and observe:

5 the blind see, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the destitute hear the good news.

6 How blessed is anyone who is not offended by me!"

7 As they were leaving, Jesus began to speak to the crowds about John. "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?

8 Really, what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fancy clothes? See, those who wear fancy clothes live in kings' houses.

9 Really, what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and even more than a prophet!

10 This is the man about whom it is written, 'See, I am sending my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you.'

11 I tell you with certainty, among those born of women no one has appeared who is greater than John the Baptist. Yet even the least important person in the kingdom from heaven is greater than he.

12 "From the days of John the Baptist until the present, the kingdom from heaven has been forcefully advancing, and violent people have been attacking it,

13 because the Law and all the Prophets prophesied up to the time of John.

14 If you are willing to accept it, he is Elijah who is to come.

15 Let the person who has ears listen!

16 "To what can I compare the people living today? They're like little children who sit in the marketplaces and shout to each other,

17 'A wedding song we played for you, the dance you simply scorned. A woeful dirge we chanted, too, but then you would not mourn.'

18 Because John didn't come eating or drinking, yet people say, 'He has a demon!'

19 The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Look, a glutton and a drunk, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' Absolved from every act of sin, is wisdom by her kith and kin."

Genesis 32

24 And so Jacob was left alone, and he struggled with a man until daybreak.
25 When the man realized that he hadn't yet won the struggle, he injured the socket of Jacob's thigh, dislocating it as he wrestled with him,
26 and said, "Let me go, because the dawn has come." "I won't let you go," Jacob replied, "unless you bless me."
27 Then the man asked him, "What's your name?" "Jacob," he responded
28 "Your name won't be Jacob anymore," the man replied, "but Israel, because you exerted yourself against both God and men, and you've emerged victorious."
29 "Please," Jacob inquired, "Tell me your name." But he asked, "Why are you asking about my name?" And he blessed Jacob there.
30 Jacob would later call that place Peniel, because "I saw God face to face, but my life was spared."
31 The sun was rising above Jacob as he crossed over from Peniel, limping due to his wounded thigh.
32 Therefore, to this day the Israelis do not eat the hip tendon that connects to the thigh socket, because he had injured the socket of the thigh where the tendon connected to Jacob's hip.

Genesis 33

1 When Jacob looked off in the distance, there was Esau coming toward him, accompanied by 400 men! So Jacob divided Leah's children, Rachel, and the children of the two servants into separate groups.
2 Then he positioned the women servants and their children first, then Leah and her children next, and then Rachel and Joseph after them.
3 Then he went out to meet Esau, passing in front of all of them, and bowed low to the ground seven times as he approached his brother.
4 Esau ran to meet Jacob and embraced him. Then he fell on his neck and kissed him. And they wept.
5 When Esau eventually looked around, he saw the women and the children. So he asked, "Who are these people with you?" "The children, whom God has graciously given your servant," he answered.
6 Then the women servants approached, accompanied by their children, and bowed low.
7 Leah also approached, and she and her children bowed low. After this, Joseph and Rachel approached and bowed low.
8 Then Esau asked, "What are all these livestock for?" "To solicit favour from you, sir," Jacob answered.
9 But Esau replied, "I already have so much, my brother, so keep what belongs to you."
10 "Please," Jacob implored him, "don't refuse. If I'm to receive favour from you, then receive this gift from me, because seeing your face is like seeing the face of God, since you have favourably accepted me.
11 So receive my blessing, which has been sent to you, since God has been gracious to me. Besides, I have enough." Because Jacob kept pressing him, Esau accepted the gifts.
12 Then Esau suggested, "Let's set out and travel together, but let me go in front of you.
13 "Sir, you know that the children are frail," Jacob added, "and the ewes and cows with me are still nursing their young. If they're driven even for a day, the entire flock will die.
14 So allow yourself to go ahead of your servant while I travel more slowly, letting the herds set their own pace with the children until I arrive to see my lord in Seir."
15 Esau said, "Let me leave with you some of the people who are with me." "Why do that?" Jacob asked. "I've already found favour in your sight, sir."

16 So Esau set out that very day back on his way to Seir,
17 but Jacob set out for Succoth, built a house there, and constructed some cattle shelters. He named the place Succoth.
18 After Jacob had arrived safely from Paddan-aram, he entered the city of Shechem, which was located in the territory of Canaan, and encamped facing that city.
19 Then he bought a parcel of land for 100 pieces of silver from the descendants of Hamor, Shechem's father. He pitched his tent there, 20 set up an altar, and named it El-elohe-israel.

Genesis 34

1 Some time later, Dinah, Leah's daughter whom she had borne to Jacob, went out to visit the women of the land.
2 When Hamor the Hivite's son Shechem, the regional leader, saw her, he grabbed her and raped her, humiliating her.
3 He was attached to Dinah, Jacob's daughter, since he loved the young woman and spoke tenderly to her.
4 Then Shechem told his father Hamor, "Get this young woman for me to be my wife."
5 Because Jacob learned that Shechem had dishonoured his daughter Dinah while his sons were still out with their cattle on the open range, he remained silent until they returned.
6 Meanwhile, Shechem's father Hamor arrived to talk to Jacob.
7 Just then Jacob's sons arrived from the field. When they heard what had happened, they were distraught with grief and livid with anger toward Shechem, because he had committed a disgraceful deed in Israel by forcing Jacob's daughter to have sex, an act that never should have happened.
8 But Hamor said this: "My son is deeply attracted to your daughter. Please give her to him as his wife.
9 Intermarry with us. Give your daughters to us and take our sons for yourselves.
10 Live with us anywhere you want. Live, trade, and grow rich in it."
11 Shechem also addressed Dinah's father and brothers, saying to them, "If you'll just approve me, I'll give whatever you ask of me.
12 No matter how big or how extensive your demands are for a dowry and wedding presents from me, I'll provide whatever you ask. Only give me the young lady to be my wife."
13 But Jacob's sons answered Shechem and his father Hamor deceptively, because Shechem had dishonoured their sister Dinah.
14 They told them. "We can't do this. We can't give our sister to a man who isn't circumcised, because that would be insulting to us.
15 But we'll agree to your request, only if you will become like us by circumcising every male among you.
16 Then we'll give our daughters to you and take your daughters for ourselves, live among you, and be as a united people.
17 But if you won't listen to us, then we're going to take our daughter and leave."
18 What they said pleased Hamor and his son Shechem,
19 so the young man did not delay the matter any further, since he was delighted with Jacob's daughter. Now Shechem was the most important person in his father's household.
20 So Hamor and his son Shechem entered the gate of their city and addressed the men of their city.
21 "These men are at peace with us," they announced. "Therefore, let them live in the land and trade in it. Look! The land is large enough for them. Let's take their daughters as wives for ourselves and let's give our sons to them.

22 "However," they added, "only on this condition will the men consent to live with us and be united as a single people with us: every male among us will have to be circumcised just as they are.

23 Shouldn't all their cattle, acquisitions, and animals belong to us? So, let's give our consent to them, and then they'll live with us."

24 All of the males who heard Hamor and his son Shechem, who had gone out to the city gate, were circumcised.

25 Three days later, while they were still in pain, Jacob's sons Simeon and Levi, two of Dinah's brothers, each grabbed a sword and entered the city unannounced, intending to kill all the males.

26 They killed Hamor and his son Shechem with their swords, took back Dinah from Shechem's house, and left.

27 Jacob's other sons came along afterward and plundered the city where their sister had been defiled,

28 seizing all of their flocks, herds, donkeys, and whatever else was in the city or had been left out in the field.

29 They carried off all their wealth, their children, and their wives as captives, plundering everything that remained in the houses.

30 Then Jacob told Simeon and Levi, "You have certainly stirred up trouble for me! You've made me despised by the Canaanites and the Perizzites who live in this territory. Because I have only a few men with me, they're going to gather themselves together and attack me until I am totally destroyed, along with my entire household!"

31 "Should he have treated our sister like a whore?" they asked in response.

Matthew 11

20 Then Jesus began to denounce the cities in which most of his miracles had taken place, because they didn't repent.

21 "How terrible it will be for you, Chorazin! How terrible it will be for you, Bethsaida! Because if the miracles that happened in you had taken place in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 Indeed I tell you, it will be more bearable for Tyre and Sidon on the day of judgement than for you!

23 "And you, Capernaum! You won't be lifted up to heaven, will you? You'll go down to Hell! Because if the miracles that happened in you had taken place in Sodom, it would have remained to this day.

24 Indeed I tell you, it will be more bearable for the land of Sodom on the day of judgement than for you!"

25 At that time Jesus said, "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from wise and intelligent people and have revealed them to infants.

26 Yes, Father, because this is what was pleasing to you.

27 All things have been entrusted to me by my Father. No one fully knows the Son except the Father, and no one fully knows the Father except the Son and the person to whom the Son chooses to reveal him.

28 "Come to me, all of you who are weary and loaded down with burdens, and I will give you rest.

29 Place my yoke on you and learn from me, because I am gentle and humble, and you will find rest for your souls,

30 because my yoke is pleasant, and my burden is light."

Matthew 12

1 At that time Jesus walked through the grain fields on a Sabbath. His disciples became hungry and began picking heads of grain to eat.

2 When the Pharisees saw this, they told him, "Look! Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbath!"

3 But he told them, "Haven't you read what David did when he and his companions were hungry?

4 How is it that he went into the house of God and ate the Bread of the Presence, which was not lawful for him and his companions to eat but was reserved for the priests?

5 Or haven't you read in the Law that on every Sabbath the priests in the Temple violate the Sabbath and yet are innocent?

6 But I tell you, something greater than the Temple is here!

7 If you had known what 'I want mercy and not sacrifice' means, you would not have condemned the innocent,

8 for the Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

Genesis 35

1 Later, God told Jacob, "Get up, move to Bethel, and live there. Build an altar to the God who appeared to you when you were fleeing from your brother Esau."

2 Jacob announced to his household and to everyone with him, "Throw away the foreign gods that you've kept among you, purify yourselves, and change your clothes.

3 Then let's get up and go to Bethel, where I'll build an altar to the God who answered me when I was in distress and who was with me on the road, wherever I went."

4 So they handed over to Jacob all their foreign gods on which they had been depending, along with the rings that they were wearing on their ears. Jacob buried them under the oak that grew near Shechem.

5 As they set out on their journey, because the people who lived in the cities around them feared God, they did not pursue Jacob's sons.

6 Eventually, Jacob and everyone with him arrived at Luz (also called Beth-el) in the territory of Canaan.

7 He built an altar there to God and named the place El Beth-el, because God had revealed himself there when he was fleeing from his brother.

8 Rebekah's nurse Deborah died and was buried there, under the oak tree that was below Beth-el. That's why the place was named Allon-bacuth.

9 Later, God appeared to Jacob after he had arrived from Paddan-aram and blessed him.

10 Then God told him, "Your name is Jacob. No longer are you to be called Jacob. Instead, your name will be Israel." So God called his name Israel

11 and also told him, "I am God Almighty. You are to be fruitful and multiply. You will become a nation — in fact, an assembly of nations! Kings will come from you — they'll emerge from your own loins!

12 Now as for the land that I gave to Abraham and Isaac, I'm giving it to you and to your descendants who come after you. I'm giving the land to you!"

13 After this, God ascended from the place where he had been speaking to him.

14 Jacob erected a pillar of stone at that very place where God had spoken to him. He poured a drink offering over it, anointed it with oil,

15 and named the place where God had spoken to him Beth-el.

16 Later, they set out from Beth-el. While still a long way from Ephrathah, Rachel started to have trouble giving birth.

17 While she was suffering due to her difficult labour, the midwife told her, "Don't fear! You're going to have another son."

18 Just before she died, Rachel called her son's name Ben-oni, but his father Jacob named him Benjamin.

19 So Rachel died and was buried on the way to Ephrathah, also known as Bethlehem.

20 Jacob erected a pillar over her grave, and that pillar stands over Rachel's grave to this day.

22 But while Israel lived in that land, Reuben went inside his father's tent and had sexual relations with his father's concubine Bilhah, and Israel heard about it. Now Jacob had twelve sons.

23 Leah's sons were Reuben (Jacob's first-born), Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun.

24 Rachel's sons were Joseph and Benjamin.

25 Rachel's servant Bilhah's sons were Dan and Naphtali.

26 Leah's servant Zilpah's sons were Gad and Asher. These were Jacob's sons who were born to him while he lived in Paddan-aram.

27 So Jacob reached his father Isaac at Mamre, in Kiriath-arba (also known as Hebron), where Abraham and Isaac had lived.
28 Isaac had lived a total of 180 years
29 when he died and joined his ancestors at a ripe old age. Then his sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Genesis 36

1 This is a record of Esau's genealogy, that is, of Edom.
2 Esau had married Canaanite women, including: Elon the Hittite's daughter Adah, Oholibamah the daughter of Anah, who was Zibeon the Hivite's daughter, and
3 Ishamael's daughter Basemath, who was Nebaioth's sister.
4 Adah bore Eliphaz to Esau, Basemath bore Reuel, and 5 Oholibamah bore Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These were Esau's sons, who were born to him in the territory of Canaan.
6 Later, Esau took his wives, his children, everyone in his household, his livestock, all his animals, and all his possessions that he had acquired in the territory of Canaan and moved far away from his brother Jacob,
7 because their holdings were too vast to allow them to stay together, since the land where they had settled was not able to support all of their livestock.
8 So Esau lived in Mount Seir. (Esau was also known as Edom).
9 This is a record of the family history of Esau, the ancestor of the Edomites of Mount Seir.
10 The names of Esau's sons were Eliphaz (the son of Esau's wife Adah) and Reuel (the son of Esau's wife Basemath).
11 Eliphaz's sons were Teman, Omar, Zepho, Gatam, and Kenaz.
12 Timnah was a concubine of Esau's son Eliphaz. She bore Amalek to Eliphaz.
13 Reuel's sons were Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These were the sons of Esau's wife Basemath.
14 These were the sons of Esau's wife Oholibamah, the daughter of Anah, who was the daughter of Zibeon. She bore Jeush, Jalam, and Korah for Esau.
15 These were the tribal leaders of Esau's descendants; that is, the children of Eliphaz, who was Esau's firstborn: tribal leaders Teman, Omar, Zepho, Kenaz, 16 Korah, Gatam, and Amalek. These were the tribal leaders who descended from Eliphaz in the territory of Edom. These were Adah's sons.
17 These were the descendants of Esau's son Reuel: tribal leaders Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These were the tribal leaders who descended from Reuel in the territory of Edom. These were the sons of Esau's wife Basemath.
18 These were the descendants of Esau's wife Oholibamah: tribal leaders Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These were the tribal leaders who descended from Oholibamah, the daughter of Esau's wife Anah.
19 These were the descendants of Esau (also known as Edom) and their tribal leaders.
20 These were the descendants of Seir the Horite, who lived in the territory: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,
21 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan. These were the tribal leaders who descended from the Horites, the descendants of Seir in the territory of Edom.
22 Lotan's children were Hori and Hemam. Lotan's sister was Timna.
23 Shobal's children were Alvan, Manahath, Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.
24 Zibeon's children were Aiah and Anah. Anah discovered the hot springs in the wilderness while grazing his father Zibeon's donkeys.
25 Anah's children were Dishon and her daughter Oholibamah.
26 Dishon's children were Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Keran.
27 Ezer's children were Bilhan, Zaavan, and Akan.
28 Dishan's children were Uz and Aran.

29 These were the tribal leaders who descended from the Horites: tribal leaders Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,
30 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan. These were the tribal leaders who descended from the Horites, according to their tribal leaders in the territory of Seir.
31 This is a list of the kings who ruled the territory of Edom before any king reigned over the Israelis.
32 Beor's son Bela ruled over Edom. His city's name was Dinhabah.
33 After Bela died, Zerah's son Jobab from Bozrah ruled in his place.
34 After Jobab died, Husham from the territory of the Temanites ruled in his place.
35 After Husham died, Bedad's son Hadad, who killed Midian in the field of Moab, ruled in his place. His city's name was Avith.
36 After Hadad died, Samlah from Masrekah ruled in his place.
37 After Samlah died, Shaul from Rehoboth by the River ruled in his place.
38 After Shaul died, Achbor's son Baal-hanan ruled in his place.
39 After Achbor's son Baal-hanan died, Hadar ruled in his place. His city's name was Pau. And his wife's name was Mehetabel, who was the daughter of Matred, and granddaughter of Me-zahab.

Matthew 12

9 Moving on from there, Jesus went into their synagogue.

10 Suddenly a man with a paralyzed hand appeared. The people asked Jesus if it was lawful to heal on Sabbath days, intending to accuse him of doing something wrong.

11 But he asked them, "Is there a man among you who, if he had one sheep and it fell into a ditch on the Sabbath, wouldn't take hold of it and pull it out?"

12 How much more is a human being worth than a sheep! So it is lawful to do good on Sabbath days."

13 Then he told the man, "Hold out your hand." He held it out and it became normal, as healthy as his other hand.

14 The Pharisees, however, went out and plotted against Jesus to kill him.

15 When Jesus became aware of this, he left that place. Many crowds followed him, and he healed all of them, 16 ordering them not to make him known.

17 This was to fulfil what was declared by the prophet Isaiah when he said,

18 "Here is my Servant whom I have chosen, whom I love, and with whom I am pleased! I will put my Spirit on him, and he will proclaim justice to the gentiles.

19 He will not quarrel or shout, and no one will hear him shouting in the streets.

20 He will not snap off a broken reed or snuff out a smouldering wick until he has brought justice through to victory.

21 And in his name the gentiles will hope."

22 Then a demon-possessed man who was blind and unable to talk was brought to him. Jesus healed him so that the man could speak and see.

23 All the crowds were amazed and kept saying, "This man isn't the Son of David, is he?"

24 But when the Pharisees heard this, they said, "This man drives out demons only by Beelzebul, the ruler of the demons."

25 He knew what they were thinking and told them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is destroyed, and every city or household divided against itself will not stand.

26 So if Satan drives out Satan, he is divided against himself. How, then, can his kingdom stand?

27 If I drive out demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your own followers drive them out? That is why they will be your judges!

28 But if I drive out demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come to you.

29 How can someone go into a strong man's house and carry off his possessions without first tying up the strong man? Then he can ransack his house.

30 "The person who isn't with me is against me, and the person who isn't gathering with me is scattering.

Genesis 36

40 These were the names of the chiefs who descended from Esau according to their clans, territories, and names: tribal leaders Timna, Alvah, Jetheth,
41 Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon,
42 Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar,
43 Magdiel, and Iram. These were the chiefs who descended from Edom, according to their territories in their own land. This was the dynasty of Esau, who was the ancestor of the Edomites.

Genesis 37

1 Jacob continued to live in the land they were occupying, where his father had journeyed in the territory of Canaan.

2 This is a record of Jacob's descendants. When Joseph was seventeen years old, he was helping his brothers tend their flocks. He was a young man at that time, as were the children of Bilhah and Zilpah, his father's wives. But Joseph would come back and tell his father that his brothers were doing bad things.

3 Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his brothers, since he was born to him in his old age, so he had made a richly-embroidered tunic for him.

4 When Joseph's brothers realized that their father loved him more than all of his brothers, they hated him so much that they were unable to speak politely to him.

5 Right about this time, Joseph had a dream and then told it to his brothers. As a result, his brothers hated him all the more!

6 "Let me tell you about this dream that I had!" he said.

7 "We were tying sheaves together out in the middle of the fields, when all of a sudden, my sheaf stood up erect! And then your sheaves gathered around it and bowed down to my sheaf!"

8 At this, his brothers replied, "Do you really think you're going to rule us or lord it over us?" So they hated him even more because of his dreams and his interpretations of them.

9 But then he had another dream, and he proceeded to tell his brothers about that one, too. "I had another dream," he said. "The sun, moon, and eleven of the stars were bowing down before me!"

10 When Joseph told his father about this, his father rebuked him and asked him, "What kind of dream is that? Will I, your mother, and your brothers really come to you and bow down to the ground in front of you?"

11 As a result, his brothers became more envious of him. But his father kept thinking about all of this.

12 Some time later, his brothers left to tend their father's flock in Shechem.

13 And Israel instructed Joseph, "Your brothers are tending the flock in Shechem. Come here, because I'm going to send you to them." "Here I am!" he responded.

14 "Go and see how things are with your brothers," Israel ordered him. "And see how things are with the flock. Bring back a report for me." Then he sent Joseph from the valley of Hebron. When Joseph reached Shechem,

15 a man found him wandering around in a field. So the man asked him, "What are you looking for?"

16 "I'm searching for my brothers," he responded. "Tell me, where are they tending the flock?"

17 "They've already left," the man answered. "I heard them saying that they were headed to Dothan." So Joseph followed his brothers to Dothan and found them there.

18 Now as soon as they saw him approaching from a distance, before he arrived they plotted together to kill him.

19 "Look!" they said. "Here comes the Dream Master!
20 Come on! Let's kill him and throw him in one of the cisterns. Then we'll report that some wild animal devoured him and wait to see what becomes of his dreams!
21 When Reuben heard about it, he tried to save Joseph from their plot. "Let's not do any killing,"
22 Reuben told them. "And no blood shedding, either. Instead, let's toss him into this cistern that's way out here in the wilderness. But don't lay a hand on him. . ." (Reuben intended to free Joseph and return him to his father).
23 As it was, when Joseph arrived where his brothers were, they stripped off the tunic that Jacob had given him, that is, the richly-embroidered tunic that he was wearing.
24 They seized him and tossed him into the cistern, but the cistern was empty. (There was no water in it).
25 After this, while they were seated, eating their food, they looked around and saw a caravan of Ishmaelites coming from Gilead with camels carrying spices, balm, and myrrh for sale down in Egypt.
26 Then Judah suggested to his brothers, "Where's the profit in just killing our brother and shedding his blood?
27 Come on! Let's sell him to the Ishmaelites! That way, we won't have laid our hands on him. After all, he's our brother, our own flesh." So Judah's brothers listened to him.
28 As the Midianite merchants were passing through, they extracted Joseph from the cistern and sold Joseph for 20 pieces of silver to the Ishmaelites, who then took Joseph down to Egypt.
29 Later, when Reuben returned to the cistern, Joseph wasn't there! In mounting panic, he tore his clothes,
30 returned to his brothers, and shouted, "He's not there! Now what? Where am I to go?"
31 So they took Joseph's coat, slaughtered a young goat, and dipped the coat in the blood.
32 Then they stretched out the richly-embroidered tunic to dry, and brought it to their father. "We've found this," they reported. "Look at it and see if this is or isn't your son's tunic."
33 Examining it, he cried out, "It's my son's tunic! A wild animal has no doubt torn Joseph to pieces."
34 So Jacob tore his clothes, dressed himself in sackcloth, and then mourned many days for his son.
35 All his sons and daughters showed up to comfort him, but he refused to be comforted. He kept saying, "Leave me alone! I'll go down to the next world, still mourning for my son." So Joseph's father wept for him.
36 Meanwhile, down in Egypt, the Midianites sold Joseph to Potiphar, one of Pharaoh's court officials, who was also Commander-in-Chief of the imperial guards.

Genesis 38

1 Right about then, Judah left his brothers and went to live with an Adullamite man named Hirah.
2 There Judah met the daughter of a Canaanite man named Shua. He married her, had sexual relations with her,
3 and she conceived, bore a son, and named him Er.
4 Later, she conceived again, bore another son, and named him Onan.
5 Then she bore yet another son and named him Shelah. Judah was living in Kezib when she bore him.
6 Judah found a wife for his oldest son Er. Her name was Tamar.
7 But the LORD considered Er, Judah's oldest son, to be wicked, so he put him to death.

8 So Judah instructed Onan, "You are to have sexual relations with your dead brother's wife, performing the duty of a brother-in-law with her, and have offspring for your brother."

9 But Onan knew that the offspring wouldn't be his own heir, so whenever he had sexual relations with his brother's wife, he would spill his semen on the ground to avoid fathering offspring for his brother.

10 The LORD considered what Onan was doing to be evil, so he put him to death, too.

11 After this, Judah told his daughter-in-law Tamar, "Come and live as a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up." But he was really thinking, ". . . otherwise, Shelah might die like his brothers." So Tamar left and lived in her father's house.

12 Some years later, Shua's daughter, that is, Judah's wife, died. As Judah was grieving, he visited the shearers of his flock in Timnah, accompanied by his Adullamite friend Hirah.

13 "Look!" somebody reported to Tamar, "Your father-in-law is going to Timnah to shear his sheep."

14 So she took off her mourning apparel, covered herself with a shawl, and concealed her outward appearance. Then she went out and sat at the entrance of Enaim, which is on the way to Timnah, because she knew that even though Shelah had grown up, she wasn't being given to him as his wife.

15 When Judah saw her, he thought she was a prostitute, since she had concealed her face.

16 So on the way, he turned aside, approached her, and said, "Come on! Let's have some sex!" But he didn't realize that he was talking to his own daughter-in-law. "What will you give me," she asked, "in order to have sex with me?"

17 "I'll send you a young goat from the flock," he responded. But she pressed him, asking, "What security will you put up until you've sent it?"

18 Then he asked, "What pledge do you want me to give you?" "Your signet ring, cord, and the staff in your hand," she suggested. So he gave them to her, had sex with her, and she became pregnant by him.

19 Then she got up and left. Later, she took off her shawl and put on her mourning clothes.

20 Later on, Judah sent his Adullamite friend to take her a young goat, intending to retrieve what he had put up as security from the woman, but he could not find her.

21 He asked the men who lived in that area, "Where's that temple prostitute who was sitting alongside the road at Enaim?" But they replied, "There's been no temple prostitute here."

22 So he returned to Judah and said, "I haven't found her. Also, the men who are from there said, 'There's been no prostitute here.'"

23 Then Judah said, "Let her have those things. Otherwise, we'll become contemptible. I sent this young goat, but you didn't find her."

Matthew 12

31 So I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven, but blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven.

32 Whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the one to come."

33 "Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten, because a tree is known by its fruit.

34 You children of serpents! How can you say anything good when you are evil? The mouth speaks about what overflows from the heart.

35 A good person brings good things out of a good treasure house, and an evil person brings evil things out of an evil treasure house.

36 I tell you, on the day of judgement people will give an account for every thoughtless word they have uttered,

37 because by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned."

38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees told Jesus, "Teacher, we want to see a sign from you."

39 But he replied to them, "An evil and adulterous generation craves a sign. Yet no sign will be given to it except the sign of the prophet Jonah, 40 because just as Jonah was in the stomach of the sea creature for three days and three nights, so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth for three days and three nights.

41 The men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgement and condemn the people living today, because they repented at the preaching of Jonah. But look — something greater than Jonah is here!

42 The queen of the south will stand up and condemn the people living today, because she came from so far away to hear the wisdom of Solomon. But look! Something greater than Solomon is here!"

43 "Whenever an unclean spirit goes out of a person, it wanders through waterless places looking for a place to rest but finds none.

44 Then it says, 'I will go back to my home that I left.' When it arrives, it finds it empty, swept clean, and put in order.

45 Then it goes and brings with it seven other spirits more evil than itself, and they go in and settle there. And so the final condition of that person becomes worse than the first. That's just what will happen to this evil generation!"

46 While Jesus was still speaking to the crowds, his mother and brothers stood outside, wanting to speak to him.

47 Someone told him, "Look! Your mother and your brothers are standing outside asking to speak to you."

48 He asked the man who told him, "Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?"

49 Then pointing with his hand at his disciples, he said, "Here are my mother and my brothers,

50 because whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother."

Genesis 38

24 Three months later, it was reported to Judah, "Your daughter-in-law Tamar has turned to prostitution! And look! She's pregnant because of it!" "Bring her out," Judah responded. "Let's burn her to death!"

25 While they were bringing her out, she sent this message to her father-in-law: "I am pregnant by the man to whom these things belong. Furthermore," she added, "tell me to whom this signet ring, cord, and staff belongs."

26 When Judah recognized them, he admitted, "She is more upright than I, because I never did give her my son Shelah." And he never had sex with her again.

27 Later, when it was time for Tamar to give birth, she was carrying twins in her womb!

28 While she was giving birth, one of them put out his hand, so the midwife grabbed it and tied something scarlet around his hand saying, "This one came out first."

29 As it was, he withdrew his hand, and then his brother was born. Amazed, the midwife cried out loud, "What's this? A breach birth?" So that boy was named Perez.

30 Afterwards, his brother came out, and around his hand was the scarlet. So they named him Zerah.

Genesis 39

1 Meanwhile, Joseph had been delivered to Egypt and turned over to Potiphar, one of Pharaoh's court officials and the Commander-in-Chief of the imperial guards. An Egyptian, he bought Joseph from the Ishmaelites, who had brought him down there.

2 But the LORD was with Joseph. He became a very prosperous man while in the house of his Egyptian master,

3 who could see that the LORD was with Joseph, because the LORD made everything prosper that Joseph did.

4 That's how Joseph pleased Potiphar as he served him. Eventually, Potiphar appointed Joseph as overseer of his entire household. Moreover, he entrusted everything that he owned into his care.

5 From the time he appointed Joseph to be overseer over his entire household and everything that he owned, the LORD blessed the household of the Egyptian because of Joseph. The LORD's blessing rested on Joseph, whether in Potiphar's household or in Potiphar's fields.

6 Everything that he owned, he entrusted into Joseph's care. He never concerned himself about anything, except for the food he ate.

7 That's why, some time later, Joseph's master's wife looked straight at Joseph and propositioned him: "Come on! Let's have a little sex!"

8 But he refused, telling his master's wife, "Look! My master doesn't have to worry about anything in the house with me in charge, and he has entrusted everything into my care.

9 No one has more authority in this house than I do. He has withheld nothing from me, except you, and that's because you're his wife. So how can I commit such a horrible evil? How can I sin against God?

10 She kept on talking to him like this day after day, but he wouldn't listen to her. Not only would he refuse to have sex with her, he refused even to stay around her.

11 One day, though, he went into the house to do his work. None of the household servants were inside,

12 so she grabbed Joseph by his outer garment and demanded "Let's have some sex!" Instead, Joseph ran outside, leaving his outer garment still in her hand.

13 When she realized that he had left his outer garment right there in her hand, she ran outside

14 and yelled for her household servants. "Look!" she cried out. "My husband brought in a Hebrew man to humiliate us. He came in here to have sex with me, but I screamed out loud!

15 When he heard me starting to scream, he left his outer garment with me and fled outside."

16 She kept his outer garment by her side until Joseph's master came home,

17 and then this is what she told him: "That Hebrew slave whom you brought to us came in here to rape me.

18 But when I started to scream, he left his outer garment with me and ran outside."

19 When Joseph's master heard his wife's claim to the effect that "This is how your servant treated me," he flew into a rage,

20 arrested Joseph, and locked him up in the same prison where the king's prisoners were confined. So Joseph remained there in prison.

21 But the LORD was with Joseph. He extended gracious love to him, causing the prison warden to be pleased with Joseph.

22 So the prison warden entrusted into Joseph's care all the prisoners who were confined in prison. Whatever they did, Joseph was in charge of the work detail.

23 The prison warden did not have to worry about anything under Joseph's care, because the LORD was with him. That's why Joseph prospered in everything he did.

Genesis 40

1 Some time later, both the senior security advisor to the king of Egypt and his head chef offended their master, Egypt's king.

2 Pharaoh was so angry with his two officers — his senior security advisor and his head chef —

3 that he locked them up in the prison dungeon operated by the captain of the guard, the very place where Joseph was imprisoned.

4 The captain of the guard entrusted them to Joseph's custody, who took care of them, since they were to remain there in custody for a number of days.

5 Then the two of them each had a dream. They both had their dreams the same night, and there were separate interpretations for each dream — the senior security advisor and the head chef to the king of Egypt, who had confined them in prison.

6 When Joseph came to see them in the morning, he noticed how downcast they looked! They were both very sad.

7 So he asked Pharaoh's officers, who were with him in prison in his master's house, "Why are you so sad today?"

8 "We had a dream," they replied, "but there's no one to interpret it." "Interpretations belong to God," Joseph told them, "so please tell me your stories."

9 So the senior security advisor related his dream to Joseph. "In my dream," he said, "all of a sudden there was a vine in front of me!

10 On the vine were three branches that budded. Blossoms shot out, and clusters grew up that produced ripe grapes.

11 Then, with Pharaoh's cup in my hand, I took the grapes, squeezed them into Pharaoh's cup, then handed the cup directly to Pharaoh."

12 Then Joseph told him, "This is what your dream means: The three branches are three days.

13 Within three days, Pharaoh will encourage you and return you to your responsibilities. You'll attend to Pharaoh's personal wine cup, just as you did when you were his senior security advisor.

14 But keep me in mind when things go well for you. Be sure to extend kindness to me by remembering me to Pharaoh. Bring me out of this prison,

15 because I was kidnapped from the land of the Hebrews. Not only that, I haven't done anything that deserves my being confined to this pit."

16 When the head chef heard that the interpretation was good, he told Joseph, "I was also in my dream. All of a sudden, there were three baskets with white bread stacked on top of my head.

17 There was all kinds of food in the basket that was on top, including baked food for Pharaoh. The birds were eating them from the basket on my head.

18 Joseph replied, "This is what your dream means: The three baskets are also three days.

19 Within three more days, Pharaoh will behead you and hang you on gallows, where birds will eat your flesh from you."

20 On the third day, which just happened to be Pharaoh's birthday, he threw a party for all his servants. He lifted the head of both his senior security advisor and of his head chef in front of his servants —

21 that is, he restored his senior security advisor to his former responsibilities, including attending to Pharaoh's personal wine cup,

22 but he beheaded and hanged the head chef, just as Joseph had interpreted for them.

23 Despite all of this, the senior security advisor not only didn't remember Joseph, he deliberately forgot him.

Genesis 41

1 Two years later — to the day — Pharaoh dreamed that he was standing by the Nile River,

2 when all of a sudden seven healthy, plump cows emerged from the Nile to graze in the grass that grew in the reeds that lined the bank.

3 Right after that, seven more cows came up out of the Nile. Ugly and gaunt, they stood next to the other cows on the bank of the Nile River.

4 But all of a sudden they ate up the seven healthy, plump cows! Then Pharaoh woke up.

5 After he had fallen back to sleep, he had a second dream, in which seven ears of plump, fruit-filled grain grew up on a single stalk.

6 Suddenly seven thin ears of grain that had been scorched by an east wind sprouted up right after them

7 and ate up the seven plump, fruit-filled ears. Then Pharaoh woke up a second time, and it had been a very vivid dream!

8 The very next morning, he was frustrated about the dream, so he sent word to summon all the magicians and wise men of Egypt. Pharaoh told them what he had dreamed, but no one could interpret them.

Matthew 13

- 1 That day Jesus left the house and sat down beside the sea.
- 2 Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat down, while the entire crowd stood on the shore.
- 3 Then he began to tell them many things in parables. He said, "Listen! A farmer went out to sow.
- 4 As he was sowing, some seeds fell along the path, and birds came and ate them up.
- 5 Other seeds fell on stony ground, where they did not have a lot of soil. They sprouted at once because the soil wasn't deep.
- 6 But when the sun came up, they were scorched. Since they did not have any roots, they dried up.
- 7 Other seeds fell among thorn bushes, and the thorn bushes grew higher and choked them out.
- 8 But other seeds fell on good soil and produced a crop, some 100, some 60, and some 30 times what was sown.
- 9 Let the person who has ears listen!"
- 10 Then the disciples came and asked Jesus, "Why do you speak to people in parables?"
- 11 He answered them, "You have been given knowledge about the secrets of the kingdom from heaven, but it hasn't been given to them,
- 12 because to anyone who has something, more will be given, and he will have more than enough. But from the one who doesn't have anything, even what he has will be taken away from him.
- 13 That's why I speak to them in parables, because 'they look but don't see, and they listen but don't hear or understand.'
- 14 "With them the prophecy of Isaiah is being fulfilled, which says: 'You will listen and listen but never understand. You will look and look but never comprehend,
- 15 for this people's heart has become dull, and their ears are hard of hearing. They have shut their eyes so that they might not see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart and turn, and I would heal them.'
- 16 "How blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear!
- 17 I tell you with certainty, many prophets and righteous people longed to see the things you see but did not see them, and to hear the things you hear but did not hear them."

20th January

Genesis 41

9 Then Pharaoh's senior security advisor spoke up. "Maybe I should make a confession.
10 When Pharaoh was angry with some of his servants, he incarcerated me in custody of the captain of the bodyguard, along with Pharaoh's senior chef.
11 We each had a dream on the same night, and each dream had its own meaning.
12 There was a Hebrew young man incarcerated with us, who was also working as a servant to the captain of the bodyguard. We each related our dreams, and then he interpreted them for us. He provided specific meanings for each of our dreams.
13 And what he interpreted for each of us came true! Pharaoh restored me to my responsibilities, but he executed the other man".
14 Pharaoh sent word to summon Joseph quickly from the dungeon, so they shaved his beard, changed his clothes, and then sent him straight to Pharaoh.
15 "I've had a dream," Pharaoh told Joseph, "but nobody can interpret it. I've heard that you can interpret dreams."
16 "I can't do that," Joseph replied, "but God is concerned about Pharaoh's well-being."
17 So Pharaoh told Joseph, "In my dream, I was standing on the bank of the Nile River,
18 and all of a sudden seven healthy, plump, beautiful cows emerged from the Nile and began to graze among the reeds that line the bank.
19 Just then, seven other cows emerged after them, poor, ugly, and appearing very gaunt in their flesh, I've never seen anything as ugly as those cows anywhere in the entire land of Egypt!
20 But those thin, gaunt cows gobbled up the first seven healthy cows!
21 "Not only that," Pharaoh continued, "after they had finished devouring the cows, nobody could tell that they had gobbled them up, because they were just as ugly as before. Then I woke up.
22 Later, I also dreamed about seven plump, fruit-filled ears of grain that grew up out of a single stalk.
23 All of a sudden, seven thin, withered ears of grain, scorched by the east wind, sprouted up after them.
24 But the thin ears gobbled up the seven good ears. I told all this to my advisors, but nobody was able to explain it to me."
25 "Pharaoh's dreams are identical," Joseph replied. "God has told Pharaoh what he is getting ready to do.
26 The seven healthy cows represent seven years, as do the seven healthy ears. The dreams are identical.
27 The seven gaunt cows that arose after the healthy cows are seven years, as are the seven gaunt ears scorched by the east wind. There will be seven years of famine.
28 So the message that I have for Pharaoh is that God is telling Pharaoh what he is getting ready to do.
29 Be advised that seven years of phenomenal abundance are coming throughout all the land of Egypt,
30 but after them seven years of famine are ahead, during which all of the abundance will be forgotten throughout the land of Egypt. The famine will ravage the land so severely that 31 there will be no surplus in the land due to the coming famine, because it will be very severe.
32 "Now since Pharaoh had that dream twice, it means that this event has been scheduled by God, and God will bring it to pass very soon.
33 Therefore let Pharaoh select a wise, discerning person to place in charge over the land of Egypt.

34 Also, let Pharaoh immediately proceed to appoint supervisors over the land of Egypt, who will collect one fifth of its agricultural production during the coming seven years of abundance.

35 "Let them collect all the food during the coming fruitful years, store up the grain in cities governed by Pharaoh's authority, and place it under guard.

36 Let the food be kept in reserve to feed the land for the seven years of famine that will occur throughout Egypt, so the people don't die during the famine."

37 What Joseph proposed pleased Pharaoh and all of his advisors,

38 so Pharaoh asked his servants, "Can we find anyone else like this — someone in whom the Spirit of God lives?"

39 "Since God has revealed all of this to you," Pharaoh told Joseph, "there is no one so wise and discerning as you.

40 So you are to be appointed in charge over my palace, and all of my people are to do whatever you command them to do. Only the throne will have greater authority than you."

41 "Look!" Pharaoh confirmed to Joseph, "I've put you in charge of the entire land of Egypt!"

42 Then Pharaoh removed his signet ring from his hand, placed it on Joseph's hand, had him clothed in fine linen garments, and placed a gold chain around his neck.

43 Then he provided him with a chariot as his second-in-command, outfitted with a group of people who shouted out in front of him, "Bow your knees!" And that's how Pharaoh set Joseph over the entire land of Egypt.

44 Pharaoh also told Joseph, "I'm still Pharaoh, but without your permission nobody in all of the land of Egypt will so much as lift up their hands or take a step!"

45 Pharaoh also changed Joseph's name to Zaphenath-paneah and gave Asenath, daughter of Potiphara, the priest of On, to him as his wife. And that's how Joseph gained authority over the land of Egypt.

46 Joseph was 30 years old when he began to serve Pharaoh, king of Egypt, by travelling throughout the land of Egypt, independent from Pharaoh's oversight.

47 While bumper crops grew during the seven abundant years,

48 Joseph collected the surplus food throughout the land of Egypt, storing food in cities; that is, he gathered the food from fields that surrounded every city and stored it there.

49 Joseph stored up so much grain — like sand on the seashore in so much abundance! — that he stopped keeping records because it was proving to be impossible to measure how much they were gathering.

50 Before the years of famine arrived, Joseph fathered two sons with Asenath, the daughter of Potiphara, the priest of On.

51 Joseph named his firstborn son Manasseh because, he said, "God has made me forget all of my hard life and my father's house."

52 He named his second son Ephraim because, he said, "God has made me fruitful in the land of my troubles."

53 As soon as the seven years of abundance throughout the land of Egypt ended,

54 the seven years of famine started, just as Joseph had predicted. It was an international famine, but there was food everywhere throughout the land of Egypt.

55 Eventually, the land of Egypt began to feel the effects of the famine, so the people cried out to Pharaoh for food. "Go see Joseph," Pharaoh announced to all the Egyptians, "and do whatever he tells you to do."

56 Joseph opened all of the storehouses and sold grain to the Egyptians, because the famine was beginning to be severe throughout the land of Egypt.

57 In addition, all of the surrounding nations came to Joseph to buy grain from Egypt, because the famine had become severe throughout the world.

Genesis 42

1 Eventually, Jacob observed that there was grain in Egypt, so he asked his sons, "Why do you keep on staring at one another?"

2 Pay attention now! I've heard that there is grain in Egypt, so go down there and buy some grain for us, so we can live, instead of dying."

3 So ten of Joseph's brothers left to buy grain from Egypt.

4 Jacob would not send Joseph's brother Benjamin to accompany them, because he was saying, "I'm afraid that he'll come to some kind of harm."

5 Israel's sons went in a caravan that included others who were going to Egypt to buy grain, because the famine pervaded the land of Canaan, too.

6 Meanwhile, Joseph continued to be ruler over the land, in charge of selling to everyone in the land. Joseph's brothers appeared and bowed down to him, face down.

7 As soon as Joseph saw his brothers, he knew who they were, but he remained disguised and asked them gruffly, "Where are you from?" "From the land of Canaan," they replied. "We're here to buy food."

8 But Joseph had already recognized his brothers, even though they had not recognized him.

9 Furthermore, Joseph remembered the dreams that he had about them. So he accused them, "You're spies! You've come here to spy on our undefended territories!"

10 "No, your majesty," they replied. "Your servants have come here to buy food.

11 We're all sons of a common father. We're honest men, your majesty. We're not spies!"

12 But Joseph kept on persisting, "It's just as I've said — you've come here to spy on our undefended territories!"

13 "But your majesty," they pleaded, "your servants include twelve brothers, the sons of a common father back in the land of Canaan. Please! Our youngest brother remains with our father, and the other one is no longer alive."

14 "I'm right!" Joseph insisted. "Just as I said, you're spies!"

15 So here's how we'll test you. You can bet the life of Pharaoh that you're not leaving here until your youngest brother comes here!

16 One of you is to be sent back so he can get your brother while the rest of you remain in custody. That way, we'll test whether or not you're telling the truth. If you're not, as surely as the Pharaoh lives, you're spies!"

17 Then Joseph locked them all together in prison for three days.

Matthew 13

18 "Listen, then, to the parable about the farmer.

19 When anyone hears the word about the kingdom yet doesn't understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what was sown in his heart. This is what was sown along the path.

20 As for what was sown on the stony ground, this is the person who hears the word and accepts it joyfully at once,

21 but since he doesn't have any root in himself, he lasts for only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes along because of the word, he immediately falls away.

22 As for what was sown among the thorn bushes, this is the person who hears the word, but the worries of life and the deceitful pleasures of wealth choke the word so that it can't produce a crop.

23 But as for what was sown on good soil, this is the person who hears the word, understands it, and produces a crop that yields 100, 60, or 30 times what was sown."

24 He presented another parable to them, saying, "The kingdom from heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field.

25 While people were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat and went away.

26 When the crop came up and bore grain, the weeds appeared, too.

27 The owner's servants came and asked him, 'Master, you sowed good seed in your field, didn't you? Then where did these weeds come from?'

28 He told them, 'An enemy did this!' The servants asked him, 'Then do you want us to go and pull them out?'

29 He said, 'No! If you pull out the weeds, you might pull out the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest, and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, "Gather the weeds first and tie them in bundles for burning, but bring the wheat into my barn.'""

31 He presented another parable to them, saying, "The kingdom from heaven is like a mustard seed that a man took and planted in his field.

32 Although it is the smallest of all seeds, when it is fully grown it is larger than the garden plants and becomes a tree, and the birds in the sky come and nest in its branches."

33 He told them another parable: "The kingdom from heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed with three measures of flour until all of it was leavened."

34 Jesus told the crowds all these things in parables. He did not tell them anything without using a parable.

35 This was to fulfil what was declared by the prophet when he said, "I will open my mouth to speak in parables. I will declare what has been hidden since the creation of the world."

36 Then Jesus left the crowds and went into the house. His disciples came to him and asked, "Explain to us the parable about the weeds in the field."

37 He answered, "The person who sowed good seed is the Son of Man,

38 while the field is the world. The good seed are those who belong to the kingdom, while the weeds are those who belong to the evil one.

39 The enemy who sowed them is the devil, the harvest is the end of the age, and the reapers are the angels.

40 Just as weeds are gathered and burned with fire, so it will be at end of the age.
41 The Son of Man will send his angels, and they will gather from his kingdom everything that causes others to sin and those who practise lawlessness
42 and they will throw them into a blazing furnace. In that place there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth.
43 Then the righteous will shine like the sun in their Father's kingdom. Let the person who has ears listen!"

21st January

Genesis 42

18 Three days later, Joseph told them, "I fear God, so do this and you'll live.

19 If you're honest men, leave one of your brothers here in custody, then the rest of you can leave and take some grain with you to alleviate the famine that's affecting your households.

20 Just be sure to bring your youngest brother back to me so what you've claimed can be verified. That way, you won't die."

21 "We're all guilty because of what we did to our brother!" they told each other. "We kept on watching his suffering while he pleaded with us! We're in this mess because we wouldn't listen!"

22 "Didn't I tell you!" Reuben replied. "'Don't wrong the kid!' I said, but would you listen? No! Now it's payback time!"

23 Meanwhile, they had no idea that Joseph could understand them, since he was talking to them through an interpreter.

24 He turned away from them and began to weep.

25 After this, Joseph gave orders to fill up their sacks with grain, to return each of their own money to their sacks, and to supply them each with provisions for their return journey. All of this was done for them.

26 Then they each mounted up, their donkeys having been loaded with grain, and left from there.

27 Later on, one of them opened up his sack to give his donkey some fodder after they had stopped at the place where they intended to lodge for the night. There, in the mouth of his sack, was all of his money!

28 He reported to his brothers, "My money has been returned! It's right here in my sack!" Trembling with mounting consternation, each of them asked one another, "What is God doing to us?"

29 As soon as they had returned to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan, they told him everything that had happened to them.

30 "The man who was in charge of the land spoke harshly to us," they said. "He accused us of being spies!

31 But we told him, 'No! We're honest men! We're not spies!

32 Our father has twelve sons, but one of us isn't alive anymore, and our youngest brother is with our father today back home in Canaan.'

33 "But the man who was in charge of the land responded, 'I'm going to test your honesty. Leave one of your brothers with me, take some grain for the famine that's afflicting your households, and leave.

34 But bring your youngest brother back to me so I can be sure that you're honest men, and not spies. Then I'll return your brother to you, and you'll be allowed to trade anywhere in the land.'"

35 Later on, as they went about unloading their sacks, each man's bundle of money was found in each of their sacks. When they and their father saw their bundles of money, they were greatly distressed.

36 Their father Jacob told them, "You're causing me to lose my children! Joseph is gone. Now Simeon is gone, and you're planning to take Benjamin, too. Everything's going against me!"

37 "Feel free to put my own two sons to death," Reuben responded to his father, "if I don't bring him back to you. Trust me — I'll bring him back to you."

38 But Jacob replied, "My son isn't going back with you, since his brother is dead and he's the only one left. If something should harm him as you travel, then it'll be death for me and my sad, grey hair!"

Genesis 43

1 Meanwhile, the famine remained severe throughout the region.

2 As a result, when Jacob's family was beginning to eat the last of the grain that they had brought back from Egypt, their father Jacob told his sons, "Go back to Egypt and buy us some food."

3 But Judah reminded him, "The man distinctly warned us 'You'll never see my face unless your brother comes with you.'"

4 So if you send our brother with us, we'll go down and buy some food.

5 But if you don't send him, we're not going, because the man told us, 'You'll never see my face unless your brother is with you.'"

6 Israel replied, "Why did you make all this trouble by telling the man that you have another brother?"

7 "The man specifically asked about us and our relatives," they responded. "He asked us, 'Is your father still alive?' and 'Do you have another brother?' So we answered his questions. How could we have known that he would tell us to bring our brother back with us?"

8 "Send the young man with me," Judah told his father Israel, "and we'll get up and go so we can survive and not die — and that includes all of us, you and our families.

9 I'll even offer myself to guarantee that I'll be responsible for him. If I don't bring him back and present him to you, I'll personally bear the consequences forever.

10 After all, if we hadn't delayed, we could have been there and back twice by now!"

11 "If that's the way it has to be," their father Israel replied, "then do this: take some of the best produce of the land in your containers and take them to the man as a gift — some resin ointment, some honey, fragrant resins, myrrh, pistachios, and almonds.

12 Also take twice as much money with you so you can return the money that had been replaced in the mouth of your sacks. Maybe it was an accounting mistake on his part.

13 And be sure to take your brother, too. So get up, return to the man,

14 and may God Almighty cause the man to show compassion toward you. May he send all of you back, including your other brother and Benjamin. Now as for me, if I lose my children, I lose them."

15 So the men took their gift and double the money. Then they got up, took Benjamin with them, and set out for Egypt, and eventually appeared before Joseph.

16 As soon as Joseph noticed that Benjamin had come with them, he ordered his palace manager, "Bring the men into the palace. Slaughter an animal and prepare it, because these men will be dining with me for lunch."

17 So the man did what Joseph had ordered, and brought the men to Joseph's palace.

18 The men were terrified as they were being taken to Joseph's palace. "It's because of that money that was returned to our sacks the first time we were brought to him," they reasoned. "He's seeking an excuse to attack us, enslave us, and confiscate our donkeys!"

19 So they approached Joseph's palace manager and talked with him at the palace entrance.

20 "Your Excellency," they said, "The first time we came here to buy food, 21 when we arrived at our overnight lodging place, we opened our sacks and discovered each man's money was still in the mouth of his sack. All of our money was there! We've brought it back with us in full.

22 We've also brought along some more money to buy supplies, but we don't know who put our money back into our sacks."

23 "Relax," the manager said. "You can stop being afraid, now. Your God, the God of your father, has placed hidden treasure within those sacks for you. I've been paid in full." Then he brought Simeon out to them,

24 ushered the men into Joseph's palace, gave them water to wash their feet, and provided fodder for their donkeys.

25 Then off he went to prepare the honorary meal that was to be made ready for Joseph's arrival at noon, since they had been informed that they were going to be eating there.

26 When Joseph arrived at his palace, his brothers brought to him their gifts that they had carried with them and bowed to the ground in front of him.

27 Joseph asked them how they had been doing. "Is your father well, the older gentleman about whom you spoke?" he inquired. "Is he still alive?"

28 "Your servant, our father, is doing well," they replied. "He is still alive." Then they bowed down in humility.

29 As Joseph looked up and recognized his brother Benjamin, his own mother's son, he asked, "Is this your youngest brother about whom you spoke to me?" And he addressed him directly, "May God be gracious to you, my son."

30 At this, Joseph hurried out, deeply moved because of his brother, and looked for a place to weep by himself. He entered his personal quarters, wept there awhile,

31 then washed his face and came out. Barely controlling himself, he ordered his staff to serve the meal.

32 Joseph's staff served him by himself, his brothers separately, and the Egyptian staff members by themselves, because the Egyptians wouldn't take their meal with the Hebrews, since doing so was detestable for the Egyptians.

33 Meanwhile, the brothers were seated in front of Joseph in birth order, from firstborn to youngest. The men stared at one another in astonishment.

34 Joseph himself brought portions to them from his own table, except that he provided to Benjamin five times as much as he did for each of the others. So they feasted together and drank freely with Joseph.

Genesis 44

1 Later, Joseph commanded his palace manager, "Fill the men's sacks to full capacity with food and replace each man's money at the top of the sack.

2 Then place my cup — the silver one — in the top of the sack belonging to the youngest one, along with the money he brought to buy grain." So the manager did precisely what Joseph told him to do.

3 Early the next morning, the men were sent on their way, along with their donkeys.

4 They had not travelled far from the city when Joseph ordered his palace manager, "Get up, follow those men, and when you've caught up with them, ask them, 'Why did you repay evil for good?'

5 Don't you have the cup that my master uses to drink from and also uses to practise divination? You're wrong to have done this.'"

6 So he went after them and made that accusation.

7 "Your Excellency," they replied, "Why do you speak like this? Far be it from your servants to act like this.

8 Look, we brought back to you from the land of Canaan the money that we found at the top of our sacks. How, then, could we have stolen silver or gold from your master's palace?

9 Go ahead and execute whichever one of your servants is discovered to have it, and we'll remain as your master's slaves."

10 "Agreed," he responded. "Just as you've said, the one who is found to have it in his possession will become my slave, and the rest of you will be innocent."

Matthew 13

44 "The kingdom from heaven is like treasure hidden in a field that a man found and hid. In his excitement he went and sold everything he had and bought that field."

45 "Again, the kingdom from heaven is like a merchant searching for fine pearls.

46 When he found a very valuable pearl, he went and sold everything he had and bought it."

47 "Again, the kingdom from heaven is like a large net thrown into the sea that gathered all kinds of fish.

48 When it was full, the fishermen hauled it ashore. Then they sat down, sorted the good fish into containers, and threw the bad ones away.

49 That is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will go out, cull out the evil people from among the righteous ones,

50 and will throw them into a blazing furnace. In that place there will be wailing and gnashing of teeth."

51 "Do you understand all these things?" They told him, "Yes."

52 Then he told them, "That is why every scribe who has been trained for the kingdom from heaven is like the master of a household who brings both new and old things out of his treasure chest."

53 When Jesus had finished these parables, he left that place.

54 He went to his hometown and began teaching the people in their synagogue in such a way that they were amazed and asked, "Where did this man get this wisdom and these miracles?

55 This is the builder's son, isn't it? His mother is named Mary, isn't she? His brothers are James, Joseph, Simon, and Judas, aren't they?

56 And his sisters are all with us, aren't they? So where did this man get all these things?"

57 And they were offended by him. But Jesus told them, "A prophet is without honour only in his hometown and in his own home."

58 He did not perform many miracles there because of their unbelief.

22nd January

Genesis 44

11 So they quickly dismounted, unloaded their sacks onto the ground, and each one of them opened his own sack.

12 The palace manager searched for the cup, beginning with the oldest brother's sack and ending with the youngest brother's sack, and there it was! — in Benjamin's sack.

13 At this, they all tore their clothes, reloaded their donkeys, and returned to the city.

14 Joseph was waiting for them back at his palace when his brothers returned. They fell to the ground in front of him,

15 and Joseph asked them, "Why did you do this? Don't you know that I'm an expert at divination?"

16 "What can we say, your Excellency," Judah replied. "How can we explain this or justify ourselves? God has discovered the sin of your servants, and now we've become slaves to you, your Excellency, both we and the one in whose possession the cup has been discovered."

17 "Far be it from me to do this," Joseph responded. "The man in whose possession the cup was discovered will be my slave, but the rest of you may leave in peace to be with your father."

18 But Judah approached him and begged him, "Your Excellency, please allow your servant to speak to you privately. Please don't be angry with your servant, since you are equal to Pharaoh.

19 Your Excellency asked his servants, 'Do you have a father or brother?'

20 and we answered your Excellency, 'We have an aged father and a younger child who was born when he was old. His brother is now dead, so he's the only surviving son of his mother. His father loves him.'

21 "But then you ordered your servants, 'Bring him here to me so I can see him for myself.'

22 "So we told your Excellency, 'The young man cannot leave his father, because if he were to do so, his father would die.'

23 But then you told your servants, 'Unless your youngest brother comes back with you, you won't see my face again.'

24 "Later on, after we had gone back to your servant, my father, we told him what your Excellency had said.

25 "'Go back,' our father ordered, 'and buy us a little food.'

26 "But we told him, 'We can't go back there. If our youngest brother accompanies us, we'll go back, but we cannot see the man's face again unless our youngest brother accompanies us.'

27 "Then your servant, our father, told us, 'You know my wife bore me two sons.

28 One of them left me, so I concluded "I'm certain that he has been torn to pieces," and I haven't seen him since then.

29 If you take this one from me, too, and then something harmful happens to him, then it will be death for me and my sad, grey hair!"

30 "So when I go back to your servant, my father, and the young man isn't with us, since he's constantly living life focused on his son,

31 when he notices that the young man hasn't come back with us, he'll die, and your servants really will have brought death to your servant, our father, along with his sad, grey hair!

32 Also, your servant pledged his own life as a guarantee of the young man's safety. I told my father, 'If I don't bring him back to you, you can blame me forever.'

33 "Therefore, please allow your servant to remain as a slave to your Excellency, instead of the young man, and let the young man go back home with his brothers.

34 After all, how can I go back to my father if the young man doesn't accompany me? I'm afraid of what might happen to my father."

Genesis 45

1 At this point, Joseph could not control his emotions any longer, so he cried out to everyone who was standing nearby, "Everybody! Leave me!" As a result, none of his staff was anywhere near him when he revealed himself to his brothers.

2 He cried so loudly that the Egyptians heard him, including Pharaoh's household.

3 Joseph blurted out, "I'm Joseph! Is my father really alive?" But his brothers could not answer him, because they had become terrified to be in his presence.

4 Joseph implored his brothers, "Please come close to me." So they did. "I'm your brother Joseph, whom you sold into slavery in Egypt!" he told them.

5 "But don't be distressed or angry at yourselves because you sold me here, because God sent me ahead of you all in order to deliver us.

6 That's because this famine has been going on for two years now in this region, and there are still five years left, during which there won't be any ploughing or harvesting.

7 "God sent me ahead of you to keep you alive on the earth, and to save you all in a magnificent way.

8 As a result, it wasn't you who sent me here, but God himself! He established me as a father-figure to Pharaoh himself! I'm in charge of his entire palace and ruler over the entire land of Egypt.

9 So hurry up, go back to my father, and tell him that your son Joseph tells him, 'God has made me master of all of Egypt. Hurry up! Come live with me!'

10 "You are to live in the land of Goshen, near where I am — you, your children, your grandchildren, your flocks, your herds, and everything that you own.

11 I'll provide for you there, since there are still five years of famine left to go, and you, your households, and everything you own would have otherwise become impoverished.

12 "Look, now! All of you can see me! And my own brother Benjamin can tell that it's really me speaking to you!

13 So go tell my father about all of my splendour in Egypt. Tell him about everything that you've seen. Be quick about it, and bring my father down here!"

14 Then he threw his arms around Benjamin and wept as they embraced.

15 He kissed all of his brothers and wept with them, too, and then his brothers were able to talk with him.

16 As soon as the news reached Pharaoh's palace that Joseph's brothers had arrived, Pharaoh and his servants were ecstatic.

17 Pharaoh told Joseph, "Be sure to tell your brothers, 'Do this: load up your livestock, go back to the land of Canaan,

18 get your father and your households, and come back to me. I'll give you the best of the land of Egypt and you can live off the abundance of the land.'

19 "In addition," Pharaoh ordered, "Do this: take some transport wagons from the land of Egypt for your little ones to ride in, along with your wives, and bring your father and come!

20 Don't worry about your household goods, because the best of all the land of Egypt is yours."

21 So Israel's sons did what they were asked to do, and Joseph provided wagons for them, as Pharaoh had commanded. He also gave them provisions for the journey.

22 He gave each of them some changes of clothes, but he also gave Benjamin 300 pieces of silver and five changes of clothes.

23 He sent his father ten male donkeys loaded with the best of Egyptian goods and ten female donkeys loaded with grain, bread, and provisions for his father during the journey.

24 Then Joseph sent his brothers away, and they left for home. As they were leaving, Joseph admonished them, "Don't quarrel on the way back!"

25 So Joseph's brothers left Egypt and returned to the land of Canaan and to their father Jacob,

26 where they informed their father, "Joseph is still alive! As a matter of fact, he's ruling the entire land of Egypt." But Jacob didn't believe them, because he had become cynical.

27 However, as soon as his sons had told him everything Joseph had said, and after he saw the wagons that Joseph had sent along to carry him, their father Jacob's spirit was encouraged.

28 "It's enough," Israel replied. "My son Joseph is still alive. I'm going to go see him before I die!"

Genesis 46

1 Later, Israel began his journey, taking along everything that he owned, and arrived at Beer-sheba, where he offered sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac.

2 God spoke to Israel through night visions, addressing him, "Jacob! Jacob!" "Here I am!" Jacob replied.

3 "I'm God, your father's God. Don't be afraid to move down to Egypt, because I'm going to turn you into a mighty nation there.

4 I'm going down with you to Egypt, and I'm certainly going to bring you back again. And Joseph himself will be with you when you die."

5 So Jacob got up and left Beer-sheba, and Israel's sons carried their father Jacob, their little ones, and their wives in the transport wagons that Pharaoh had sent to carry them.

6 They took their livestock and their household property that they had acquired in the land of Canaan and travelled to Egypt. Jacob and all of his descendants went with him —

7 including his sons, his grandsons, his daughters, and his granddaughters — every one of his descendants accompanied him to Egypt.

Matthew 14

- 1 At that time Herod the tetrarch, hearing about the fame of Jesus,
- 2 told his servants, "This is John the Baptist! He has been raised from the dead, and that's why these miracles are being done by him."
- 3 Herod had arrested John, bound him with chains, and put him in prison on account of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife.
- 4 John had been telling him, "It is not lawful for you to have her."
- 5 Although Herod wanted to kill him, he was afraid of the crowd, since they regarded John as a prophet.
- 6 But when Herod's birthday celebration was held, the daughter of Herodias danced before the guests. She pleased Herod
- 7 so much that he promised with an oath to give her whatever she asked for.
- 8 Prompted by her mother, she said, "Give me, right here on a platter, the head of John the Baptist."
- 9 Under pressure because of his promises and his assembled guests, the king ordered that it be done.
- 10 So he sent word and had John beheaded in prison.
- 11 His head was brought on a platter and given to the girl, and she took it to her mother.
- 12 When John's disciples came, they carried off the body and buried it. Then they went and told Jesus.
- 13 When Jesus heard this, he left that place and went by boat to a deserted place by himself. The crowds heard of it and followed him on foot from the neighbouring towns.
- 14 When he got out of the boat, he saw a large crowd. He had compassion for them and healed their sick.
- 15 When evening had come, the disciples went to him and said, "This is a deserted place, and it's already late. Send the crowds away so that they can go into the villages and buy food for themselves."
- 16 But Jesus told them, "They don't need to go away. You give them something to eat."
- 17 They told him, "We don't have anything here except five loaves of bread and two fish."
- 18 He said, "Bring them to me."
- 19 Then he ordered the crowds to sit down on the grass. Taking the five loaves and the two fish, he looked up to heaven and blessed them. Then he broke the loaves in pieces and gave them to his disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds.
- 20 All of them ate and were filled. Then the disciples picked up what was left of the broken pieces, twelve baskets full.
- 21 Now those who had eaten were about 5,000 men, besides women and children.

Genesis 46

8 Here's a list of the names of Israel's sons, that is, of Jacob and his sons who moved to Egypt: Reuben, Jacob's firstborn;

9 Reuben's sons Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi;

10 Simeon's sons Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul, who was the son of a Canaanite woman;

11 Levi's sons Gershon, Kohath, and Merari;

12 and Judah's sons Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah. (Technically, Er and Onan had died in the land of Canaan). Perez's sons were Hezron and Hamul.

13 Also included were Issachar's sons Tola, Puvvah, Job, and Shimron;

14 along with Zebulun's sons Sered, Elon, and Jahleel.

15 These were all sons from Leah, whom she bore for Jacob in Paddan-aram, along with his daughter Dinah. He had 33 sons and daughters.

16 Also included were Gad's sons Ziphion, Haggi, Shuni, Ezbon, Eri, Arodi, and Areli;

17 Asher's sons Imnah, Ishvah, Ishvi, Beriah, and their sister Serah. Beriah's sons Heber and Malchiel were also included.

18 These were all sons from Zilpah, whom Laban had given to his daughter Leah. She bore these sixteen children for Jacob.

19 Jacob's wife Rachel's sons were Joseph and Benjamin.

20 Joseph's sons born in the land of Egypt were Manasseh and Ephraim, whom Asenath, daughter of Potiphera, the priest of On, bore for him.

21 Benjamin's sons included Bela, Becher, Ashbel, Gera, Naaman, Ehi, Rosh, Muphim, Huphim, and Ard.

22 These were all the sons of Rachel, who were born for Jacob — fourteen in all.

23 Also included were Dan's son Hushim;

24 Naphtali's sons Jahzeel, Guni, Jezer, and Shillem.

25 There were sons of Bilhah, whom Laban had given to his daughter Rachel. She bore these children for Jacob — seven in all.

26 All of these people, who belonged to Jacob's family, travelled to Egypt. All of Jacob's direct descendants, not including his sons' wives, numbered 66 persons in all.

27 Joseph had two sons borne to him in Egypt, and all of Jacob's household who went to Egypt, numbered 70.

28 Jacob sent Judah ahead of them to meet with Joseph, who would be guiding them to Goshen, and so they arrived.

29 Joseph prepared his chariot and went to meet his father Israel in Goshen. As soon as Jacob appeared in his presence, he embraced him and wept for a long time as he held on to him.

30 "Now let me die," Israel told Joseph, "since I've seen your face and confirmed that you're still alive!"

31 But Joseph addressed his brothers and his father's household and told them, "I'll go up and tell Pharaoh that my brothers and my father's household have arrived from Canaan to be with me.

32 I'll mention that the men are shepherds. Because they've been taking care of livestock, they brought along their flocks, their herds, and everything else that they own.

33 When Pharaoh calls for you and asks you 'What's your occupation'

34 you are to tell him, 'Your servants have been taking care of livestock since we were youths. We and our ancestors have taken care of livestock.' That way, you'll be able to live in the Goshen territory, since shepherds are detestable to the Egyptians."

Genesis 47

1 After this, Joseph went to inform Pharaoh. "My father and brothers have come here from Canaan," he said, "and they've come with their flocks, herds, and everything else they have. I settled them in the Goshen territory!"

2 He brought along five of his brothers to present before Pharaoh.

3 Pharaoh asked his brothers, "What are your occupations?" "Your servants are shepherds," they replied, "both we and our ancestors.

4 We've come to live for a while in this region, since there is no pasture back in Canaan for your servants' flocks. May your servants please live in the Goshen territory?"

5 Then Pharaoh replied to Joseph, "Now that your father and your brothers have come to you,

6 Egypt is at your disposal, so settle your father and brother in the best part of the land! Let them live in the Goshen territory. If you learn that any of them are especially skilled, put them in charge of my livestock."

7 Later, Joseph brought his father Jacob to Pharaoh and introduced him. Jacob blessed Pharaoh.

8 "How old are you?" Pharaoh asked Jacob.

9 "I'm 130 years old," Jacob replied. "My years have turned out to be few and unpleasant, but I haven't yet reached the age my ancestors did during their travels on earth."

10 Then Jacob blessed Pharaoh and then left the throne room.

11 Joseph settled his father and brothers, assigning them their own land in the best part of Egypt, in the territory of Rameses, just as Pharaoh had ordered.

12 Joseph provided food for his father, his brothers, and all of his father's household, proportionate to the number of young children.

13 Meanwhile, there continued to be no food throughout the land, because the famine remained very severe. As a result, both Egypt and Canaan languished under the effects of the famine.

14 So Joseph kept on accumulating all the money that was to be found throughout Egypt and Canaan in exchange for the grain that was being purchased. He stored the money in Pharaoh's palace.

15 After all the money had been spent throughout Egypt and Canaan, all the Egyptians came to Joseph and demanded, "Give us food! Why should we die right in front of you? Our money is spent!

16 "You can surrender your livestock," Joseph replied. "I'll feed them in exchange, since your money is gone."

17 So they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph traded food in exchange for horses, various flocks and herds, and donkeys. He fed them with food in exchange for their livestock during that year.

18 The following year, they came to him and reminded him, "We won't hide from you, your Excellency, that we've spent all of our money, and that our livestock all belong to you. There's nothing left to trade with you, your Excellency, except our bodies and our territories.

19 So why should we and our land die right in front of you? Buy us and our land in exchange for food, and we and our land will be slaves to Pharaoh. Give us seed, so we can survive and not die, and so the land won't stay desolate."

20 So Joseph purchased all of the Egyptian territory for Pharaoh. Every Egyptian sold his field, because the famine's effect was so severe. That's how Pharaoh came to own the land.

21 Then Joseph transported the people to cities from one end of Egypt to the other.

22 However, he did not purchase land belonging to the priests, because the priests held an allotment, previously provided to them by Pharaoh, from which they lived. That's why they did not sell their land.

23 After this, Joseph addressed the people. "Pay attention," he said, I've bought you and your land for Pharaoh today, in exchange for seed for you. Now go sow the land.

24 When harvest season arrives, you are to provide a fifth of the harvest to Pharaoh. The remaining four fifths are to be for your use, for seed, and to feed you, your households, and your little ones."

25 "You've saved our lives," they replied. "If it pleases you, your Excellency, we'll be Pharaoh's slaves."

26 So Joseph crafted a statute concerning Egypt that remains valid to this day that Pharaoh should own a fifth of the produce, excluding the land belonging to the priests, which remained outside of Pharaoh's control.

27 Israel remained in Egypt's Goshen territory, acquired land there, became prosperous, and his descendants grew very numerous.

28 He lived for seventeen more years in Egypt, until he was 147 years old.

29 As the time approached for Israel to die, he called for his son Joseph and addressed him. "Please," he asked, "if you're happy with me, make a solemn promise that you'll treat me fairly and kindly by not burying me in Egypt.

30 Instead, when I've died, as my ancestors have, you are to carry me out of Egypt and bury me in their tomb." "I'll do what you've asked," Joseph replied.

31 "Promise me," Israel insisted. So Joseph promised. Then Israel collapsed on his bed.

Genesis 48

1 Some time later, somebody informed Joseph, "Your father is ill!" So he took his two sons Manasseh and Ephraim with him to visit Jacob.

2 As soon as Jacob was informed, "Look! Your son Joseph has come to visit you," Israel rallied his strength and sat up in bed.

3 Jacob reminded Joseph, "God Almighty revealed himself to me at Luz in Canaan and blessed me.

4 He told me, 'Pay attention! I'm going to make you fruitful and numerous. I'm going to build you into a vast nation of people and then I'll give this land to your descendants for an eternal possession.'

5 "You have two sons who were born to you in Egypt before I came to be with you, whom I now take as my own. Ephraim and Manasseh are mine, just as Reuben and Simeon are.

6 Your descendants are to be reckoned as yours, but are to be referred to among the names of their brothers in their respective inheritances.

Matthew 14

22 Jesus immediately had the disciples get into a boat and cross to the other side ahead of him, while he sent the crowds away.

23 After dismissing the crowds, he went up on a hillside by himself to pray. When evening came, he was there alone.

24 By this time the boat was in the middle of the sea and was being battered by the waves, because the wind was against them.

25 Shortly before dawn Jesus came to them, walking on the sea.

26 When the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were terrified and cried out, "It's a ghost!" And they screamed in terror.

27 "Have courage!" Jesus immediately told them. "It's me. Stop being afraid!"

28 Peter answered him, "Lord, if it's you, order me to come to you on the water."

29 Jesus said, "Come on!" So Peter got down out of the boat, started walking on the water, and came to Jesus.

30 But when he noticed the strong wind, he was frightened. As he began to sink, he shouted, "Lord, save me!"

31 At once Jesus reached out his hand, caught him, and asked him, "You who have so little faith, why did you doubt?"

32 As they got into the boat, the wind stopped blowing.

33 Then the men in the boat began to worship Jesus, saying, "You certainly are the Son of God!"

34 They crossed over and came ashore at Gennesaret.

35 When the men of that place recognized Jesus, they sent word throughout that region and brought him everyone who was sick.

36 They kept begging him to let them touch just the tassel of his garment, and everyone who touched it was completely healed.

Matthew 15

1 Then some Pharisees and scribes came from Jerusalem to Jesus and asked,

2 "Why do your disciples disregard the tradition of the elders? They don't wash their hands when they eat."

3 But he answered them, "Why do you also disregard the commandment of God because of your tradition?

4 Because God said, 'Honour your father and your mother,' and 'Whoever curses father or mother must certainly be put to death.'

5 But you say 'Whoever tells his father or his mother, "Whatever support you might have received from me has been given to God,"

6 does not have to honour his father.' Because of your tradition, then, you have disregarded the authority of God's word.

7 You hypocrites! How well did Isaiah prophesy of you when he said,

8 'These people honour me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me.

9 Their worship of me is empty, because they teach human rules as doctrines.'"

Genesis 48

7 "Now as for me, Rachel died after I arrived in Canaan from Paddan, much to my sorrow. While I was on my journey to Ephrathah (also known as Bethlehem), I buried her there."

8 Just then, Israel saw Joseph's sons and asked, "Who are these?"

9 "These are my sons," Joseph replied. "God gave them to me here in Egypt." "Please bring them close to me," Jacob said, "so I can bless them."

10 Now Israel's eyesight had become poor from age. Because he couldn't see well, Joseph brought them close to him, and Israel kissed them both and embraced them.

11 Then he told Joseph, "I never thought I'd see you again, and now God has allowed me to see your children as well!"

12 Joseph took them off his knees and then bowed low with his face to the ground.

14 But Israel stretched out his right hand, laying it on Ephraim's head (he was the younger son) and laying his left hand on Manasseh's head (even though Manasseh was the first born).

15 Then Israel blessed Joseph by saying: "May the God in whose presence my ancestors Abraham and Isaac walked, the God who has continued shepherding me my whole life even until today,

16 the angel who has been rescuing me from all sorts of evil, bless these young men. May my name continue to live on within them, including the names of my ancestors Abraham and Isaac, and may they grow into a vast multitude throughout the earth."

17 But Joseph observed that his father had laid his right hand on Ephraim's head. That displeased him, so he grabbed his father's hand and started to move it from Ephraim's head to Manasseh's head.

18 "No, father, this one is the first born. Place your right hand on his head."

19 But his father refused. "I know," he said. "I know. He's going to produce a large nation, and he's going to be very great. However, his younger brother will become even greater than he, and his descendants will become a multitude of nations."

20 That very day, Jacob blessed them with this blessing: "By you Israel will extend this blessing: 'May God make you like Ephraim and Manasseh!'" By doing this, he placed Ephraim before Manasseh.

21 Then Israel told Joseph, "Pay attention! I'm about to die, but God will be with you. He'll bring you back to the land that belongs to your ancestors.

22 I'm assigning you one portion more than your brothers from the land that I confiscated from the control of the Amorites in battle.

Genesis 49

1 After this, Jacob called his sons together and told them, "Assemble yourselves around me so I can tell you all what is going to happen to you in the last days.

2 "Gather together and listen, you children of Jacob. Listen to your father Israel."

3 "Reuben, you're my first born, my strength, and the first fruit of my vitality. You excel in rank and excel in power.

4 But you're as undisciplined as a roaring river, so eventually you won't succeed, because you got in your father's bed, defiled it, and then he approached my couch."

5 "Simeon and Levi are brothers; their violent weapon is their swords.

6 I'll never join their council; I'll never enter their assembly. In their anger they committed murder and lamed cattle just for fun.

7 Their anger is cursed, because it is so fierce, as is their vehemence, because it is so cruel. I will separate them throughout Jacob's territory and disperse them throughout Israel."

8 "Your brothers will praise you, Judah. Your hand will be at the throat of your enemies, and your father's children will bow down to you.

9 Judah is a lion cub. My son, you have gone up from the prey. Crouching like a lion, he lies down, like a lioness, who would dare rouse him?

10 The sceptre will never depart from Judah, nor a ruler's staff from between his feet, until the One comes, who owns them both, and to him will belong the allegiance of nations.

11 Binding his donkey to the vine and his mare's foal to its thick tendrils, he will wash his garments in wine and his robe in the juice of grapes.

12 His eyes are darker than wine and his teeth whiter than milk."

13 "Zebulun will settle down near the sea shore and become a safe haven for shipping, bordering Sidon."

14 "Issachar is a strong donkey, resting between sheepfolds.

15 He observed that his resting place was excellent, and that the land was pleasant, he bent down, picked up his burdens, and became a slave at forced labour."

16 "Dan will judge his people as one of Israel's tribes.

17 Dan will be a snake on the path, a viper on the road that snaps at the heels of horses, causing their riders to fall off.

18 "LORD, I'm waiting for your salvation."

19 "Bandits will raid Gad, but Gad will raid them back."

20 "Asher's food will be delicious; he will be a provider of delicacies fit for royalty."

21 "Naphtali is a free running deer who produces eloquent literature."

22 "Joseph is descended from a fruitful vine, a fruitful vine planted near springs of water. His branches climb over walls.

23 Even though enemies attacked him, shooting at him and pursuing him viciously,

24 nevertheless his bow remained steady and his arms kept in shape by the strength of Jacob's Mighty One, in the name of the Shepherd, Israel's Rock,

25 by your father's God, who will continually help you, by the Almighty, who will keep on blessing you with blessings from heaven above, with blessings from the deepest ocean, with blessing from the breast and womb.

26 Your father's blessings will prove to be stronger than blessings from the eternal mountains or bounties from the everlasting hills. May they come to rest on Joseph's head, May they be set upon the brow of the one who was separated from his own brothers."

27 "Benjamin is vicious like a wolf; what he kills in the morning he devours in the evening."

28 That's how Israel blessed these twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father told them when he pronounced his blessing for them, blessing each one with a blessing suitable for them.

29 In his last words, Jacob issued this set of instructions to them all: "I'm about to join our ancestors. Bury me alongside my ancestors in the cave in the field that used to belong to Ephron the Hittite.

30 It's the cave in the field near Mamre at Machpelah in the land of Canaan that Abraham bought to serve as a cemetery.

31 It's where Abraham and his wife Sarah were buried, where Isaac and his wife Rebekah were buried, and where I buried Leah.

32 Both the field and the cave that's in it were purchased from the Hittites."

33 After concluding this set of instructions to his sons, Jacob tucked his feet up into bed, quit breathing, and was gathered to his ancestors.

Genesis 50

- 1 Then Joseph embraced his father, cried over him, and kissed him.
- 2 After this, he issued orders to his physician servants to embalm his father. So they embalmed Israel.
- 3 It took 40 days to complete the process, the normal period required for embalming. Meanwhile, the Egyptians mourned for him for 70 days.
- 4 At the conclusion of the mourning period, Joseph addressed Pharaoh's household. "If you're satisfied with me, would you please take this message to Pharaoh for me? Tell him,
- 5 'My father told me, "Look! I'm about to die. Bury me in my grave that I dug for myself in the land of Canaan.'" So please let me travel to bury my father. I'll be right back."
- 6 "Please go," Pharaoh replied. "Bury your father, as he asked you to do."
- 7 So Joseph got up and went to bury his father, accompanied by all of Pharaoh's servants, all of the elders of Egypt,
- 8 all of Joseph's household, his brothers, and his father's household. They left behind in the territory of Goshen only their youngest children, their flocks, and their herds.
- 9 Chariots and horsemen also accompanied Joseph, so there were a lot of people.
- 10 When they arrived at Atad's threshing floor, which is located beyond the Jordan River, they held a great and mournful memorial service, during which Joseph spent seven days mourning for his father.
- 11 As soon as the Canaanites who lived in the land observed the mourning going on at Atad's threshing floor, they commented "This is a significant time of mourning for the Egyptians." That's why the place, which is located beyond the Jordan River, became known as Abel-mizraim.
- 12 And so Israel's sons did what he had instructed them to do:
- 13 they carried him to the territory of Canaan and buried him in the cave in Machpelah field near Mamre that Abraham had purchased as a cemetery from Ephron the Hittite.
- 14 After he had buried his father, Joseph and his brothers returned to Egypt, along with everyone who had gone with him to attend the burial.

Matthew 15

10 Then calling out to the crowd, he addressed them, "Listen and understand!

11 It is not what goes into the mouth that makes a person unclean. It is what comes out of the mouth that makes a person unclean."

12 Then the disciples came and asked him, "Do you realize that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this statement?"

13 He replied, "Every plant that my heavenly Father did not plant will be pulled up by the roots.

14 Leave them alone. They are blind guides of the blind. If one blind person leads another blind person, both will fall into a ditch."

15 Then Peter told him, "Explain to us this parable."

16 Jesus said, "Are you still so ignorant?

17 Don't you know that everything that goes into the mouth passes into the stomach and then is expelled as waste?

18 But the things that come out of the mouth come from the heart, and it is those things that make a person unclean.

19 It is out of the heart that evil thoughts come, as well as murder, adultery, sexual immorality, stealing, false testimony, and slander.

20 These are the things that make a person unclean. But eating with unwashed hands doesn't make a person unclean."

21 Then Jesus left that place and went to the region of Tyre and Sidon.

22 Suddenly a Canaanite woman from that territory came near and began to shout, "Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David! My daughter is severely demon-possessed!"

23 But he didn't answer her at all. Then his disciples came up and kept urging him, "Send her away, because she keeps on screaming as she follows us."

24 But he replied, "I was sent only to the lost sheep of the nation of Israel."

25 Then she came and fell down before him, saying, "Lord, help me!"

26 He replied, "It's not right to take the children's bread and throw it to the puppies."

27 She said, "Yes, Lord. But even the puppies eat the crumbs that fall from their masters' tables."

28 Then Jesus answered her, "Lady, your faith is great! What you want is granted." That very hour her daughter was healed.

29 Jesus left there and went along the Sea of Galilee. Then he went up on a hillside and sat down.

30 Large crowds came to him, bringing with them the lame, the blind, the crippled, those unable to talk, and many others. They placed them at his feet, and he healed them.

31 As a result, the crowd was amazed to see those who were unable to talk speaking, the crippled healed, the lame walking, and the blind seeing. So they praised the God of Israel.

Genesis 50

15 Later, after Joseph's brothers faced the reality of their father's death, they asked themselves, "What happens if Joseph decides to hold a grudge against us? What if he pays us back in full for all the wrong things we did to him?"

16 So they sent this message to Joseph:

17 "Before he died, your father left some instructions. He told us, 'Tell Joseph, "Please forgive your brothers' offences. I beg you, forgive their sins, because they wronged you."' So please forgive the transgression of the servants of your father's God." Joseph wept when they talked to him.

18 So Joseph's brothers went to visit him, fell prostrate in front of him, and declared, "Look! We're your servants."

19 "Don't be afraid," Joseph responded. "Am I sitting in God's place?"

20 As far as you're concerned, you were planning evil against me, but God intended it for good, planning to bring about the present result so that many people would be preserved alive.

21 So don't be afraid! I'll take care of you and your little ones." So Joseph kept on comforting them, speaking to the needs of their hearts.

22 Joseph continued to live in Egypt, along with his father's household, until he was 110 years old.

23 Joseph saw the third generation of Ephraim's children, as well as the children who had been born to Manasseh's son Machir, whom he adopted as his own.

24 Later, Joseph told his brothers, "I'm going to die soon, but God will certainly provide for you and bring you up from this land to the land that he promised with an oath to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

25 So Joseph made all of Israel's other children promise "Because God is certainly going to take care of you, you are to carry my bones up from here."

26 Some time later, Joseph died at the age of 110 years, and he was embalmed and placed in a coffin in Egypt.

Exodus 1

- 1 These are the names of the Israelis who entered Egypt with Jacob, each one having come with his family:
- 2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah,
- 3 Issacar, Zebulun, Benjamin,
- 4 Dan, Naphtali, Gad, and Asher.
- 5 All those who descended from Jacob totalled 75 persons. Now Joseph was already in Egypt.
- 6 Then Joseph, all his brothers, and that entire generation died.
- 7 But the Israelis were fruitful and increased abundantly. They multiplied in numbers and became very, very strong. As a result, the land was filled with them.
- 8 Eventually a new king who was unacquainted with Joseph came to power in Egypt.
- 9 He told his people, "Look, the Israeli people are more numerous and more powerful than we are.
- 10 Come on, let's be careful how we treat them, so that when they grow numerous, if a war breaks out they won't join our enemies, fight against us, and leave our land."
- 11 So the Egyptians placed supervisors over them, oppressing them with heavy burdens. The Israelis built the supply cities of Pithom and Rameses for Pharaoh.
- 12 But the more the Egyptians afflicted the Israelis, the more they multiplied and flourished, so that the Egyptians became terrified of the Israelis.
- 13 The Egyptians ruthlessly forced the Israelis to serve them,
- 14 making their lives bitter through hard labour with mortar, bricks, and all kinds of outdoor labour. They ruthlessly imposed all this work on them.
- 15 Later, the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives, one of whom was named Shiphrah and the other Puah.
- 16 "When you help the Hebrew women give birth," he said, "watch them as they deliver. If it's a son, kill him; but if it's a daughter, let her live."
- 17 But the midwives feared God and did not do what the king of Egypt told them. Instead, they let the boys live.
- 18 When the king of Egypt called for the midwives, he asked them, "Why have you done this and allowed the boys to live?"
- 19 "Hebrew women aren't like Egyptian women," the midwives replied to Pharaoh. "They're so healthy that they give birth before the midwives arrive to help them."
- 20 God was pleased with the midwives, and the people multiplied and became very strong.
- 21 Because the midwives feared God, he provided families for them.
- 22 Meanwhile, Pharaoh continued commanding all of his people, "You're to throw away every Hebrew son who is born, but you're to allow every Hebrew daughter to live."

Exodus 2

- 1 A man of the family of Levi married the daughter of a descendant of Levi.
- 2 Later, the woman became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She saw that he was a beautiful child, and hid him for three months.
- 3 But when she was no longer able to hide him, she took a papyrus container, coated it with asphalt and pitch, placed the child in it, and put it among the reeds along the bank of the Nile.
- 4 His sister positioned herself some distance away in order to find out what would happen to him.
- 5 Then Pharaoh's daughter came down to the Nile to bathe while her maids walked along the river bank. She saw the container among the reeds and sent a servant girl to get it.
- 6 When she opened it and saw the child, the little boy suddenly began crying. Filled with compassion for him, she exclaimed, "This is one of the Hebrew children!"

7 Then his sister asked Pharaoh's daughter, "Shall I go and call one of the nursing Hebrew women so she can nurse the child for you?"

8 Pharaoh's daughter told her, "Go," so the young girl went and called the child's mother.

9 Pharaoh's daughter instructed her, "Take this child and nurse him for me, and I'll pay you a salary." So the woman took the child and nursed him.

10 After the child had grown older, she brought him to Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. She named him Moses, because she said, "I drew him out of the water."

11 Years later, after Moses had grown up, he went out to his own people, and took notice of their heavy burdens. He saw an Egyptian beating up a Hebrew, one of his own people.

12 Looking around and seeing no one else, he killed the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

13 Going out the next day, Moses noticed two Hebrew men fighting right in front of him. He told the one who was at fault, "Why did you strike your companion?"

14 The man replied, "Who appointed you to be an official judge over us? Are you planning to kill me like you killed the Egyptian?" Then Moses became terrified and told himself, "Surely this event has become known!"

15 When Pharaoh heard about this matter, he tried to kill Moses. So Moses fled from Pharaoh, settled in the land of Midian, and sat down by a well.

16 Meanwhile, the seven daughters of a certain Midianite priest would come to draw water in order to fill water troughs for their father's sheep.

17 Some shepherds came to drive them away, but Moses got up, came to their rescue, and watered their sheep.

18 When they returned to their father Reuel, he asked, "Why have you returned so quickly today?"

19 "An Egyptian rescued us from the shepherds," they replied, "and he even drew water for us and watered the sheep!"

20 "Then where is he?" He asked his daughters. "Why did you leave the man behind? Go invite him to have something to eat."

21 Moses agreed to stay with the man, and he gave his daughter Zipporah to Moses in marriage.

22 Later she gave birth to a son, and Moses named him Gershom, because he used to say, "I became an alien in a foreign land."

23 The king of Egypt eventually died, and the Israelis groaned because of the bondage. They cried out, and their cry for deliverance from slavery ascended to God.

24 God heard their groaning and remembered his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

25 God watched the Israelis and took notice of them.

Matthew 15

32 Then Jesus called his disciples and said, "I have compassion for the crowd because they have already been with me for three days and have nothing to eat. I don't want to send them away without food, or they may faint on the road."

33 The disciples asked him, "Where in the wilderness are we to get enough bread to feed such a crowd?"

34 Jesus asked them, "How many loaves of bread do you have?" They said, "Seven, and a few small fish."

35 Ordering the crowd to sit down on the ground,

36 he took the seven loaves and the fish and gave thanks. Then he broke them in pieces and kept giving them to his disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds.

37 All of them ate until they were filled, then the disciples picked up what was left of the broken pieces — seven baskets full.

38 Now those who had eaten were four thousand men, besides women and children.

39 After he sent the crowds away, he got into a boat and went to the region of Magadan.

Matthew 16

1 When the Pharisees and Sadducees arrived, in order to test Jesus they asked him to show them a sign from heaven.

2 He replied to them, "You say, 'Red sky at night, what a delight!

3 Red sky in the morning, cloudy and storming.' You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, yet you can't interpret the signs of the times?"

4 An evil and adulterous generation craves a sign, but no sign will be given to it except the sign of Jonah." Then he left them and went away.

5 When his disciples reached the other side, they had forgotten to take any bread along.

6 Jesus told them, "Watch out! Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees!"

7 As they began to discuss this among themselves, they kept saying, "We didn't bring along any bread."

8 Knowing this, Jesus asked them, "You who have little faith, why are you discussing among yourselves the fact that you don't have any bread?"

9 Don't you understand yet? Don't you remember the five loaves for the 5,000 and how many baskets you collected,

10 or the seven loaves for the 4,000 and how many baskets you collected?"

11 How can you fail to understand that I wasn't talking to you about bread? Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees!"

12 Then they understood that he did not say to beware of the yeast used in bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 When Jesus had come to the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, "Who do people say the Son of Man is?"

14 They said, "Some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, and still others Jeremiah or one of the prophets."

15 He asked them, "But who do you say I am?"

16 Simon Peter answered, "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God!"

17 Then Jesus told him, "How blessed you are, Simon son of Jonah, since flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, though my Father in heaven has.

18 I tell you that you are Peter, and it is on this rock that I will build my congregation, and the powers of hell will not conquer it.

19 I will give you the keys to the kingdom from heaven. Whatever you prohibit on earth will have been prohibited in heaven, and whatever you permit on earth will have been permitted in heaven."

20 Then he strictly ordered the disciples not to tell anyone that he was the Messiah.

Exodus 3

1 Meanwhile, Moses continued tending the sheep that belonged to his father-in-law Jethro, the priest of Midian. He led the sheep to the western desert and came to Horeb, God's mountain, where

2 the angel of the LORD appeared to him in flaming fire from the centre of a bush. As Moses continued to watch, amazingly the bush kept on burning but was not consumed.

3 Then Moses told himself, "I'll go over and see this remarkable sight. Why isn't the bush burning up?"

4 When the LORD saw that he had gone over to look, God called to him from the centre of the bush, "Moses! Moses!" He said, "Here I am."

5 "Do not come any closer," God said. "Remove your sandals from your feet, because the place where you are standing is holy ground."

6 Then he said, "I am the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob." At this, Moses hid his face because he was afraid to look at God.

7 The LORD said, "I have certainly seen the affliction of my people who are in Egypt, and I have heard their cry caused by their slave masters. I really do understand their pain,

8 so I have come down to deliver them from their domination by the Egyptians and to bring them out of that land to a good and spacious land, a land flowing with milk and honey, to the territory of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites.

9 Now, listen carefully! The cry of the Israelis has come to my attention about how severely the Egyptians have been oppressing them.

10 So go! I am sending you to Pharaoh. Bring my people the Israelis out of Egypt."

11 But Moses told God, "Who am I? How can I go to Pharaoh and bring the Israelis out of Egypt?"

12 Then God said, "I certainly will be with you. And this will be the sign for you that it is I who sent you: When you have brought the people out of Egypt, all of you will serve God on this mountain."

13 Moses told God, "Look, when I go to the Israelis and tell them, 'The God of your ancestors sent me to you,' they'll say to me, 'What is his name?' What should I say to them?"

14 God replied to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM," and then said, "Tell the Israelis: 'I AM sent me to you.'"

15 God also told Moses, "Tell the Israelis, 'The LORD, the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob sent me to you.' This is my name forever, and this is how I am to be remembered from generation to generation.

16 Go and gather the elders of Israel. Tell them, 'The LORD, the God of your ancestors, appeared to me — the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob — and he said, "I have paid close attention to you and to what has been done to you in Egypt.

17 I have said that I will bring you out of the affliction of Egypt to the land of the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites — to a land flowing with milk and honey.'"

18 "The elders of Israel will listen to you, and then you and they are to go to the king of Egypt and say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us. Now, let us take a three day journey into the desert to sacrifice to the LORD our God.'

19 I know that the king of Egypt won't allow you to go unless compelled to do so by force,

20 so I will stretch out my hand and strike Egypt with all my wonders that I will do there. After that he will release you.

21 I will grant this people public favour with the Egyptians, and as a result, when you leave you won't go empty-handed.

22 Each woman is to ask her neighbour or any foreign woman in her house for articles of gold and for clothing, and use them to clothe your sons and daughters. You will plunder the Egyptians."

Exodus 4

1 Then Moses answered, "Look, they won't believe me and they won't listen to me. Instead, they'll say, 'The LORD didn't appear to you.'"

2 "What's that in your hand?" the LORD asked him. Moses answered, "A staff."

3 Then God said, "Throw it on the ground." He threw it on the ground and it became a snake. Moses ran away from it.

4 Then God told Moses, "Reach out and grab its tail." So he reached out, grabbed it, and it became a staff in his hand.

5 God said, "I've done this so that they may believe that the LORD, the God of their ancestors — the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob — has appeared to you."

6 Again the LORD told him, "Put your hand into your bosom." He put his hand into his bosom and as soon as he brought it out it was leprous, like snow.

7 Then God said, "Put your hand back into your bosom." He returned it to his bosom and as soon as he brought it out, it was restored like the rest of his skin.

8 "Then if they don't believe you and respond to the first sign, they may respond to the second sign.

9 But if they don't believe even these two signs, and won't listen to you, then take some water out of the Nile and pour it on the dry ground. The water you took from the Nile will turn into blood on the dry ground."

10 Then Moses told the LORD, "Please, LORD, I'm not eloquent. I never was in the past nor am I now since you spoke to your servant. In fact, I talk too slowly and I have a speech impediment."

11 Then God asked him, "Who gives a person a mouth? Who makes him unable to speak, or deaf, or able to see, or blind, or lame? Is it not I, the LORD?"

12 Now, go! I myself will help you with your speech, and I'll teach you what you are to say."

13 Moses said, "Please, LORD, send somebody else."

14 Then the LORD was angry with Moses and said, "There is your brother Aaron, the descendant of Levi, isn't there? I know that he certainly is eloquent. Right now he's coming to meet you and he will be pleased to see you.

15 You're to speak to him and tell him what to say. I'll help both you and him with your speech, and I'll teach both of you what you are to do.

16 He is to speak to the people for you as your spokesman and you are to act in the role of God for him.

17 Now pick up that staff with your hand. You'll use it to perform the signs."

18 Moses left and returned to his father-in-law Jethro. Moses told him, "Please let me go and return to my own people in Egypt so I can see whether they're still alive." Jethro told Moses, "Go in peace."

19 The LORD told Moses in Midian, "Go back to Egypt, because all the men who wanted to kill you are dead."

20 So Moses took his wife and son, put them on the donkey, and headed back to the land of Egypt. Moses took the staff of God in his hand.

21 Then the LORD told Moses, "When you set out to return to Egypt, keep in mind all the wonders that I've put in your power, so that you may do them before Pharaoh. But I'll harden his heart so that he won't let the people go.

22 You are to say to Pharaoh, 'This is what the LORD says: "Israel is my firstborn son.

23 And I say to you, 'Let my son go so he may serve me.' If you refuse to let him go, then I will kill your firstborn son.'""

24 But later on, at the lodging place along the way, the LORD met Moses and was about to kill him.

25 Zipporah took a flint knife, cut off her son's foreskin, and touched Moses' feet with it, saying while doing so, ". . . because you are a bridegroom of blood to me."

26 Then the LORD withdrew from him, and she said, ". . . a bridegroom of blood because of circumcision."

27 The LORD told Aaron, "Go meet Moses in the desert." So Aaron went, found him at the mountain of God, and kissed him.

28 Moses told Aaron all of the LORD's messages that he had sent with Moses, and all of the signs that he commanded him to do.

29 Later, Moses and Aaron brought together all the elders of the Israelis.

30 Aaron spoke everything that the LORD had spoken to Moses, and Moses performed the miracles before the very eyes of the people.

31 The people believed and understood that the LORD had paid attention to the Israelis and had seen their affliction. They bowed their heads and prostrated themselves in worship.

Exodus 5

1 After Moses and Aaron arrived, they told Pharaoh, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Let my people go so they may make a pilgrimage for me in the desert.'"

2 Pharaoh said, "Who is the LORD that I should listen to him and let Israel go? I don't know about the LORD, nor will I let Israel go!"

3 Then they said, "The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please let us go a three-day journey into the desert to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God so he does not strike us with pestilence or sword.

4 The king of Egypt replied to them, "Moses and Aaron, why are you keeping the people from their labour? Go back to your work!"

5 Then Pharaoh said, "Look, the people in the land are now numerous, and you are stopping them from working."

6 That day Pharaoh ordered the taskmasters of the people and their officials,

7 "You're no longer to give the people straw for making bricks, as in the past. They must gather straw for themselves.

8 But you're to impose the previous quota of bricks that they're making. You're not to reduce it! It is because they're lazy that they're crying out, 'Let's go offer sacrifices to our God.'

9 So increase the work load on the people, and let them do it so they don't pay attention to deceptive speeches."

Matthew 16

21 From that time on, Jesus began to show his disciples that he would have to go to Jerusalem and suffer a great deal because of the elders, the high priests, and the scribes. Then he would be killed, but on the third day he would be raised.

22 Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him, saying, "God be merciful to you, Lord! This must never happen to you!"

23 But Jesus turned and told Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are an offence to me, because you are not thinking God's thoughts but human thoughts!"

24 Then Jesus told his disciples, "If anyone wants to follow me, he must deny himself, pick up his cross, and follow me continually.

25 Whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will find it,

26 because what profit will a person have if he gains the whole world and forfeits his life? Or what can a person give in exchange for his life?

27 The Son of Man is going to come with his angels in his Father's glory, and then he will repay everyone according to what he has done.

28 I tell you with certainty, some people standing here will not experience death before they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom."

Matthew 17

1 Six days later, Jesus took Peter, James, and his brother John and led them up a high mountain by themselves.

2 His appearance was changed in front of them, his face shone like the sun, and his clothes became as white as light.

3 Suddenly, Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Jesus.

4 Then Peter told Jesus, "Lord, it's good that we're here! If you want, I'll set up three shelters — one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

5 He was still speaking when a bright cloud suddenly overshadowed them. A voice from the cloud said, "This is my Son, whom I love. I am pleased with him. Keep on listening to him!"

6 When the disciples heard this, they fell on their faces and were terrified.

7 But Jesus came up to them and touched them, saying, "Get up, and stop being afraid."

8 When they raised their eyes, they saw no one but Jesus all by himself.

9 On their way down the mountain, Jesus ordered them, "Don't tell anyone about this vision until the Son of Man has been raised from the dead."

10 So the disciples asked him, "Why, then, do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?"

11 He answered them, "Elijah is indeed coming and will restore all things.

12 But I tell you that Elijah has already come, yet people did not recognize him and treated him just as they pleased. In the same way, the Son of Man is going to suffer at their hands."

13 Then the disciples understood that he had been speaking to them about John the Baptist.

27th January

Exodus 5

10 Then the taskmasters of the people and their officials went out and told the people, "This is Pharaoh's response: 'I'll no longer give you any straw.
11 Go get straw for yourselves wherever you can find it, but your work quotas won't be reduced at all.'"
12 So the people scattered throughout the entire land of Egypt to collect stubble for straw.
13 The taskmasters pressured them by saying, "Finish your work — each day's quota — just as when you were given straw."
14 The Israeli supervisors whom Pharaoh's taskmasters had appointed over them were beaten and told, "Why didn't you, both yesterday and today, fulfil your quota for making bricks as before?"
15 The Israeli supervisors came and cried out to Pharaoh, "Why are you doing this to us?
16 No straw is being given to us, yet they're saying to us, 'Make bricks!' Look, we are being beaten. It's wrong how you are treating your people!"
17 Then Pharaoh said, "You are lazy, lazy! That's why you're saying, 'Let's go offer sacrifices to the LORD.'
18 Now, go! Work! And straw won't be given to you, but you will deliver the same number of bricks!"
19 The Israeli supervisors realized they were in trouble when he said, "You won't reduce each day's quota of bricks!"
20 As they left Pharaoh's presence, they met Moses and Aaron standing there.
21 The supervisors told them, "May the LORD look on you and judge you! You have made us repulsive to Pharaoh and his servants. You have put a sword in their hands to kill us."
22 So Moses returned to the LORD and asked him, "LORD, why have you caused trouble for this people? Why have you sent me here?
23 Ever since I came to Pharaoh to speak in your name, he has caused trouble for this people, and you have done nothing to deliver your people."

Exodus 6

1 The LORD told Moses, "Now you will see what I'll do to Pharaoh. Indeed, he'll send them out under compulsion and he'll drive them out of his land violently."
2 Later, God told Moses, "I am the LORD.
3 I appeared to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob as God Almighty, and did I not reveal to them my name 'LORD'?
4 I also established my covenant with them to give them the land of Canaan, the land where they lived as resident aliens for a time.
5 Also, I've heard the groaning of the Israelis whom the Egyptians have forced to labour for them, and I've remembered my covenant.
6 Therefore, say to the Israelis, 'I am the LORD. I'll bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I'll deliver you from their bondage. I'll redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great acts of judgement.
7 I'll take you for my own people, and I'll be your God. Then you will know that I am the LORD your God who brings you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians.
8 I'll bring you to the land that I swore to give to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. I'll give it to you as a possession. I am the LORD.'"
9 Then Moses reported this to the Israelis, but they did not listen to Moses due to their irritation and impatience because there was no deliverance and because of the cruel bondage.
10 Then the LORD told Moses,
11 "Go, speak to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, that he should let the Israelis go out of his land."

12 Then Moses said right in front of the LORD, "Look, the Israelis didn't listen to me, so how will Pharaoh? I'm not a persuasive speaker"

13 Then the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron, issuing orders to them regarding the Israelis for delivery to Pharaoh, king of Egypt; that is, to bring the Israelis out of the land of Egypt.

14 These are the heads of their ancestors' households: the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel: Hanoch and Pallu; Hezron and Carmi. These are the families of Reuben, including 15 Simeon's sons Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul, the Canaanite woman's son. These are the families of Simeon.

16 These are the names of Levi's sons according to their genealogies: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari. Levi lived 137 years.

17 Gershon's sons were Libni and Shimei, according to their families.

18 Kohath's descendants included Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel. Now Kohath lived for 133 years.

19 The sons of Merari: Mahli and Mushi. These are the families of the descendants of Levi according to their genealogies.

20 Amram married Jochebed, his father's sister, and she bore him Aaron and Moses. Amram lived for 137 years.

21 The sons of Izhar: Korah, Nepheg, and Zichri.

22 The sons of Uzziel: Mishael, Elzaphan, and Sithri.

23 Then Aaron married Elisheba daughter of Amminadab, sister of Nahshon. She bore him Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

24 The sons of Korah: Assir, Elkanah, and Abiasaph. These were the families of the descendants of Korah.

25 Aaron's son Eleazar married one of Putiel's daughters, and she bore him Phineas. These are the heads of the ancestors of the descendants of Levi, according to their families.

26 This is the same Aaron and Moses to whom the LORD said, "Bring the Israelis out of the land of Egypt by their tribal divisions."

27 They were the ones speaking to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to bring the Israelis out of Egypt; this is the same Moses and Aaron.

28 And it happened when the LORD spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt

29 that the LORD told Moses, "I am the LORD. Tell Pharaoh, king of Egypt, everything that I'm saying to you."

30 Moses said in the presence of the LORD, "Look, I'm not a persuasive speaker, so how will Pharaoh listen to me?"

Exodus 7

1 The LORD told Moses, "Listen! I've positioned you as God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet.

2 You are to speak all that I've commanded you, and then your brother Aaron will speak to Pharaoh, telling him to let the Israelis go out of his land.

3 I'll harden Pharaoh's heart and I'll add more and more of my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.

4 When Pharaoh won't listen to you, I'll let loose my power upon Egypt. I'll bring out my tribal divisions — my people the Israelis — from the land of Egypt with great acts of judgement.

5 The Egyptians will know that I am the LORD when I stretch out my hand over Egypt to bring the Israelis out from among them."

6 Moses and Aaron did what the LORD commanded them.

7 Moses was 80 years old and Aaron was 83 when they spoke to Pharaoh.

8 Then the LORD told Moses and to Aaron,

9 "When Pharaoh says to you, 'Perform a miraculous sign,' then you are to say to Aaron, 'Take your staff and throw it in front of Pharaoh.' It will become a serpent."

10 Then Moses and Aaron went in to Pharaoh and did what the LORD had commanded them. Aaron threw his staff in front of Pharaoh and his officials, and it became a serpent.

11 Then Pharaoh also called for the wise men and sorcerers, and they — along with the Egyptian magicians — did the same thing with their secret arts.

12 So each one threw down his staff and it became a serpent, but Aaron's staff swallowed up their staffs.

13 Yet Pharaoh's heart was stubborn and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had said would happen.

14 Then the LORD told Moses, "Pharaoh's heart is hard. He has refused to let the people go.

15 Go to Pharaoh in the morning as he's going down to the water. Stand on the bank of the Nile and meet him. Be sure to take with you the staff that was turned into a snake.

16 Then say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to you. He says, "Let my people go so they may serve me in the desert, but until now you haven't obeyed."

17 "'This is what the LORD says: "This is how you'll know that I am the LORD: Right now I'm going to strike the water of the Nile with the staff that's in my hand, and it will be turned to blood.

18 The fish in the Nile will die and the river will stink. The Egyptians will be unable to drink water from the Nile.'"

19 The LORD also told Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Take your staff and stretch out your hand over the waters of Egypt, over their rivers, over their Nile, over their ponds, and over their reservoirs, and they'll become blood. There will be blood throughout the land of Egypt, even in their wood and stone containers.'"

20 Moses and Aaron did just what the LORD had commanded. Aaron raised his staff and struck the water in the Nile in front of Pharaoh and his officials, and all the water in the Nile turned to blood.

21 The fish in the Nile died and the river stank. The Egyptians were not able to drink water from the Nile, and blood was throughout the land of Egypt.

22 But the Egyptian magicians did the same thing with their secret arts. Pharaoh's heart was stubborn, and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had said.

23 Then Pharaoh turned away, went to his palace, and paid no attention to any of this.

24 All the Egyptians dug around the Nile for water to drink because they could not drink from the water in the Nile.

Matthew 17

14 As they approached the crowd, a man came up to Jesus, knelt down in front of him,
15 and said, "Sir, have mercy on my son, because he is an epileptic and suffers terribly. Often he falls into fire and often into water.

16 I brought him to your disciples, but they couldn't heal him."

17 Jesus replied, "You unbelieving and perverted generation! How long must I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him here to me!"

18 Then Jesus rebuked the demon and it came out of him, and the boy was healed that very hour.

19 Then the disciples came to Jesus privately and asked, "Why couldn't we drive it out?"

20 He told them, "Because of your lack of faith. I tell you with certainty, if you have faith like a grain of mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you.

21 But this kind does not come out except by prayer and fasting."

22 While they were gathering together in Galilee, Jesus told them, "The Son of Man is going to be betrayed into human hands.

23 They will kill him, but he will be raised on the third day." Then they were filled with grief.

24 When they came to Capernaum, the collectors of the temple tax came up to Peter and asked, "Your teacher pays the temple tax, doesn't he?"

25 He answered, "Yes." When Peter went home, Jesus spoke to him first and asked him, "What do you think, Simon? From whom do kings on the earth collect tolls or tributes? From their own subjects, or from foreigners?"

26 "From foreigners," he replied. So Jesus told him, "In that case, the subjects are exempt.

27 However, so that we don't offend them, go to the sea and throw in a hook. Take the first fish that comes up, open its mouth, and you will find a coin. Take it and give it to them for me and you."

Matthew 18

1 At that time the disciples came to Jesus and asked, "Who, then, is the greatest in the kingdom from heaven?"

2 Calling a little child forward, he had him stand among them.

3 Then he said, "I tell you with certainty, unless you change and become like little children, you will never get into the kingdom from heaven.

4 Therefore, whoever humbles himself as this little child is the greatest in the kingdom from heaven,

5 and whoever receives a little child like this in my name receives me."

6 "If anyone causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a large millstone were hung around his neck and he were drowned at the bottom of the sea.

28th January

Exodus 7

25 Seven days after the LORD had struck the Nile,

Exodus 8

1 he told Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and tell him, 'This is what the LORD says: "Let my people go so they may serve me.

2 And if you refuse to let them go, then I'm going to strike all your territory with frogs.

3 The Nile will swarm with frogs. They'll come up and enter your house, your bedroom, your bed, and your servants' houses. They'll jump on your people, into your ovens, and into your kneading troughs.

4 The frogs will be all over you and your servants.'""

5 Then the LORD told Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, over the Nile, and over the ponds, and bring up frogs over the land of Egypt.'"

6 So Aaron stretched his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up and covered the land of Egypt.

7 But the magicians did the same thing with their secret arts, and they brought up frogs on the land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh called to Moses and Aaron and said, "Plead with the LORD so that he may remove the frogs from me and my people. I'll let the people go so they can offer sacrifices to the LORD."

9 Moses told Pharaoh, "You decide when I should plead for you, your servants, and your people to remove the frogs from you and your household. They'll remain only in the Nile."

10 Pharaoh said, "Tomorrow." Moses said, "It will be just as you say, so that you may know that there is no one like the LORD our God.

11 The frogs will leave you, your house, your officials, and your people. They'll remain only in the Nile."

12 Then Moses and Aaron left Pharaoh's presence, and Moses cried out to the LORD about the frogs which he had sent on Pharaoh.

13 The LORD did just as Moses asked, and the frogs died in the houses, in the courtyards, and in the fields.

14 They gathered them up into large piles and the land smelled terrible.

15 But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, he hardened his heart and did not listen to them, just as the LORD had said.

16 Then the LORD told Moses, "Tell Aaron, 'Stretch out your staff, strike the dust of the ground, and the dust will become gnats throughout the land of Egypt.'"

17 They did this. Aaron stretched his hand out with his staff, struck the dust of the land, and gnats came on people and animals — all the dust of the ground became gnats throughout the land of Egypt.

18 The magicians tried to do the same thing with their secret arts, but they were unable to bring out the gnats. The gnats were on the people and the animals.

19 The magicians told Pharaoh, "It is the finger of God!" But Pharaoh's heart was stubborn and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had said.

20 The LORD told Moses, "Get up early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh as he's going down to the water. You are to say to him, 'This is what the LORD says: "Let my people go so they can serve me.

21 But if you don't let my people go, I'll send swarms of insects upon you, your servants, your people, and your households. The houses of Egypt — and even the ground on which they stand — will be filled with swarms of insects.

22 On that day I'll treat the land of Goshen where my people live differently so that swarms of insects won't be there. As a result, you will know that I the LORD am in the midst of the land.

23 I'll make a distinction between my people and your people, and this sign will occur tomorrow.""

24 The LORD did this, and dense swarms of insects came into the house of Pharaoh and into the houses of his servants. The land was ruined throughout Egypt because of the swarms of insects.

25 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, "Go, offer sacrifices to your God in the land."

26 Moses said, "It wouldn't be right to sacrifice in this way because if we do, we will sacrifice to the LORD our God what is offensive to the Egyptians. If we offer sacrifices that are offensive to the Egyptians in front of them, they'll stone us, won't they?

27 We must go a three-day journey into the desert, and we'll offer sacrifices to the LORD our God just as he has told us."

28 Then Pharaoh said, "I'll let you go so you can offer sacrifices to the LORD your God in the desert. But you must not go very far away. Pray for me."

29 Moses said, "Right now I'm going to leave you, and I'll pray to the LORD that the swarms of insects may depart from Pharaoh, from his officials, and from his people tomorrow. But Pharaoh, don't continue lying by not letting the people go to offer sacrifices to the LORD."

30 Then Moses left Pharaoh's presence and prayed to the LORD.

31 The LORD did what Moses asked, and the swarms of insects departed from Pharaoh, his officials, and his people. Not one remained.

32 But this time also Pharaoh hardened his heart, and he did not let the people go.

Exodus 9

1 Then the LORD told Moses, "Go to Pharaoh and say to him, 'This is what the LORD God of the Hebrews says: "Let my people go so they may serve me.

2 But if you refuse to let them go and continue to hold them,

3 then the hand of the LORD will come with a very severe plague on your livestock in the fields, on horses, on donkeys, on camels, on cattle, and on sheep.

4 The LORD will distinguish between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of the Egyptians, so that nothing that belongs to the Israelis will die.""

5 The LORD set the time: "Tomorrow the LORD will do this thing in the land."

6 The LORD did this thing the next day, and all the livestock of the Egyptians died. But not one of the livestock died that belonged to the Israelis.

7 Then Pharaoh inquired and discovered that not a single one of the livestock of Israel had died, but Pharaoh's heart was stubborn and he would not let the people go.

8 Then the LORD told Moses and Aaron, "Take handfuls of soot from a kiln, and let Moses throw it into the air in front of Pharaoh.

9 The soot will become dust over the entire land of Egypt, and it will become boils erupting into sores on people and animals throughout the land of Egypt."

10 So they took soot from the kiln and stood before Pharaoh. Then Moses threw it into the air, and it became boils producing running sores on people and animals.

11 The magicians were not able to stand before Moses because of the boils, because the boils were on the magicians and on all the Egyptians.

12 The LORD made Pharaoh's heart stubborn so that he would not listen to them, just as the LORD had told Moses.

13 The LORD told Moses, "Get up early in the morning, present yourself to Pharaoh, and say to him, 'This is what the LORD God of the Hebrews says: "Let my people go so they may serve me.

14 Indeed, this time I'm sending all my plagues against you, your officials, and your people, so you may know that there is no one like me in all the earth.

15 Indeed, by now I could have sent forth my hand and struck you and your people with a plague, and you would have been destroyed from the earth.

16 However, I've kept you standing in order to show you my power and to declare my name in all the earth.

17 You are still acting arrogantly against my people by not letting them go.

18 Look! About this time tomorrow, I'll send a severe hail storm, such as has not happened in Egypt from the day it was founded until now.

19 So send for your livestock and everything that belongs to you that's out in the field, because every person and animal found in the field that has not been brought inside to shelters will die when the hail comes down on them.""

20 Whoever feared the message from the LORD among Pharaoh's officials made his servants and livestock flee into shelters.

21 But whoever did not pay attention to the message from the LORD left his servants and his livestock outside in the fields.

22 Then the LORD told Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward heaven, and there will be hail in all the land of Egypt, on people, animals, and all the vegetation of the field throughout the land of Egypt.

23 When Moses stretched out his staff toward heaven, the LORD sent thunder and hail, and lightning struck the earth. The LORD rained hail on the land of Egypt.

24 There was very heavy hail, and lightning was continually flashing in the midst of the hail. There had not been anything like it in the land of Egypt since it had become a nation.

25 The hail struck everything, including people and animals, outside in the fields throughout the land of Egypt. The hail struck all the vegetation of the fields and shattered all the trees in the orchards.

26 Only in the land of Goshen, where the Israelis were, was there no hail.

27 Pharaoh sent word and called for Moses and Aaron. "I've sinned this time," he told them. "The LORD is righteous, but I and my people are wicked.

28 Pray to the LORD! There has been enough of God's thunder and hail! I'll let you go, and you need not stay any longer."

29 Moses told him, "When I leave the city I'll spread out my hands to the LORD. The thunder will cease and the hail won't continue, so that you may know that the earth belongs to the LORD.

30 But as for you and your officials, I know that you don't yet fear the LORD God."

31 (Now the flax and the barley were ruined because the barley was in ear and the flax was in bud.

32 The wheat and the wild grain were not ruined because they were late crops).

33 Then Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh and spread out his hands to the LORD. The thunder and hail stopped, and the rain no longer poured out on the land.

34 When Pharaoh saw that the rain, hail, and thunder had stopped, he continued to sin. He, along with his officials, hardened his heart.

35 Pharaoh's heart was stubborn, and he did not let the Israelis go, just as the LORD had said through Moses.

Matthew 18

7 How terrible it will be for the world due to its temptations to sin! Temptations to sin are bound to happen, but how terrible it will be for that person who causes someone to sin!

8 "So if your hand or your foot causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life injured or crippled than to have two hands or two feet and be thrown into eternal fire.

9 And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out and throw it away. It is better for you to enter life with one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell fire.

10 "See to it that you do not despise one of these little ones, because I tell you, their angels in heaven always have access to my Father in heaven.

11 For the Son of Man came to save the lost."

12 "What do you think? If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them strays, he leaves the ninety-nine in the hills and goes to look for the one that has strayed, doesn't he?

13 If he finds it, I tell you with certainty that he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that haven't strayed.

14 In the same way, it is not the will of your Father in heaven that one of these little ones should be lost."

15 "If your brother sins against you, go and confront him while the two of you are alone. If he listens to you, you have won back your brother.

16 But if he doesn't listen, take one or two others with you so that 'every word may be confirmed by the testimony of two or three witnesses.'

17 If, however, he ignores them, tell it to the congregation. If he also ignores the congregation, regard him as a gentile and a tax collector.

18 "I tell you with certainty, whatever you prohibit on earth will have been prohibited in heaven, and whatever you permit on earth will have been permitted in heaven.

19 Furthermore, I tell you with certainty that if two of you agree on earth about anything you request, it will be done for you by my Father in heaven,

20 because where two or three have come together in my name, I am there among them."

21 Then Peter came up and asked him, "Lord, how many times may my brother sin against me and I have to forgive him? Seven times?"

22 Jesus told him, "I tell you, not just seven times, but 77 times!

23 "That is why the kingdom from heaven may be compared to a king who wanted to settle accounts with his servants.

24 When he had begun to settle the accounts, a person who owed him 10,000 talents was brought to him.

25 Because he couldn't pay, his master ordered him, his wife, his children, and everything that he owned to be sold so that payment could be made.

26 Then the servant fell down and bowed low before him, saying, 'Be patient with me, and I will repay you everything!'

27 The master of that servant had compassion and released him, cancelling his debt.

28 "But when that servant went away, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii. He grabbed him, seized him by the throat, and said, 'Pay what you owe!'

29 Then his fellow servant fell down and began begging him, 'Be patient with me and I will repay you!'

30 But he refused and went and had him thrown into prison until he could repay the debt.

31 "When his fellow servants saw what had happened, they were very disturbed and went and reported to their master everything that had occurred.

32 Then his master sent for him and told him, 'You evil servant! I cancelled that entire debt for you because you begged me.

33 Shouldn't you have had mercy on your fellow servant, just as I had mercy on you?'

34 In anger his master handed him over to the torturers until he could repay the entire debt.

35 This is how my heavenly Father will treat each one of you unless you forgive your brother from your hearts.”

Exodus 10

- 1 Then the LORD told Moses, "Go to Pharaoh, for I've hardened his heart and the hearts of his officials in order to perform these signs of mine among them,
- 2 so you may tell your children and your grandchildren how I toyed with the Egyptians and about my miraculous signs that I performed among them, so all of you may know that I am the LORD."
- 3 Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and told him, "This is what the LORD God of the Hebrews says: 'How long will you refuse to humble yourself before me? Let my people go, so they may serve me.
- 4 But if you refuse to let my people go, tomorrow I'm going to bring locusts into your territory.
- 5 They'll cover the surface of the land so a person cannot see the ground, and they'll eat what is left for you of the residue from the hail. They'll also eat all your trees that grow in the orchards.
- 6 Your houses will be filled along with the houses of all your officials and the houses of all the Egyptians — something that neither your fathers nor your ancestors ever saw from the time they were on earth until now.'" Then Moses turned and left Pharaoh's presence.
- 7 Then the officials of Pharaoh told him, "How long will this man be a snare to us? Let the people go so they may serve the LORD their God! Don't you realize yet that Egypt is about to be destroyed?"
- 8 Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh and he told them, "Go, serve the LORD your God. But exactly who will go?"
- 9 Moses said, "We will go with our young and with our old. We will go with our sons and our daughters, with our sheep and our cattle, because it's a festival to the LORD for us."
- 10 Then Pharaoh told them, "The LORD will certainly be with you if I let you and your little ones go. I know some evil plan is in your mind.
- 11 No! Let the men go and serve the LORD, for that is what you were seeking." Then they were driven out from the presence of Pharaoh.
- 12 The LORD told Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt to bring the locusts, and they'll come up over the land of Egypt and eat all the vegetation of the land, everything that the hail left."
- 13 Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD sent an east wind into the land all that day and throughout the night. When morning came, the east wind brought the locusts.
- 14 The locusts came up over all the land of Egypt and settled on all the territory of Egypt in great swarms. There had never been locusts like this before nor would there ever be again.
- 15 They covered the surface of the entire land so that it was dark. They ate all the vegetation of the land and the fruit from the trees that the hail left. Nothing green was left on the trees or on the vegetation in all the land of Egypt.
- 16 Pharaoh quickly called Moses and Aaron and said, "I've sinned against the LORD your God and against you.
- 17 Now, please forgive my sin only this time, and pray to the LORD your God that he would at least remove this from me."
- 18 Moses left Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD.
- 19 Then the LORD brought a very strong west wind that took the locusts and drove them into the Red Sea. Not one locust remained in all the territory of Egypt.
- 20 But the LORD made Pharaoh's heart stubborn and he would not let the Israelites go.
- 21 Then the LORD told Moses, "Stretch your hand toward the sky and there will be darkness over the land of Egypt, a darkness that one can feel."

22 So Moses stretched his hand toward the sky, and there was thick darkness in all the land of Egypt for three days.
23 No one could see anyone else, nor could anyone get up from his place for three days. But there was light for all the Israelis in their dwellings.
24 Pharaoh called Moses and said, "Go serve the LORD, but your flocks and your cattle are to remain. Even your little ones can go with you!"
25 Moses said, "You must let us have sacrifices and burnt offerings to offer to the LORD our God.
26 And even our livestock must go with us. Not a hoof will be left behind because we will use some of them to serve the LORD our God, and until we get there we won't know what we need to serve the LORD."
27 The LORD made Pharaoh's heart stubborn, and he did not want to let them go.
28 Then Pharaoh told him, "Get away from me! Watch out that you never see my face again, because on the day you see my face, you will die!"
29 Moses said, "Just as you have said, I won't see your face again!"

Exodus 11

1 Then the LORD told Moses, "I'll bring one more plague on Pharaoh and Egypt. After that he'll let you leave from here, and when he lets you go, he will certainly drive you out from here.
2 Tell the people that each man is to ask his neighbour and each woman her neighbour for articles of silver and gold."
3 The LORD made the Egyptians look on the people with favour. Also the man Moses was highly regarded in the land of Egypt, both in the opinion of Pharaoh's officials and in the opinion of the people.
4 So Moses announced to Pharaoh, "This is what the LORD says: 'About midnight I'm going throughout Egypt,
5 and all the firstborn in the land of Egypt will die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on his throne to the firstborn of the slave girl who operates the hand mill, along with the firstborn of the animals.
6 There will be a great cry throughout the land of Egypt, like there has never been and never will be again.
7 But among the Israelis, from people to animals, not even a dog will bark, so you may know that the LORD is distinguishing between the Egyptians and the Israelis.'
8 All these officials of yours will come down to me, prostrate themselves to me, and say, 'Get out, you and all the people following you!' After that I'll go out." Then Moses angrily left Pharaoh.
9 The LORD told Moses, "Pharaoh won't listen to you. As a result, my wonders will increase throughout the land of Egypt.
10 Then Moses and Aaron did all these wonders in front of Pharaoh, but the LORD made Pharaoh's heart stubborn, and he would not let the Israelis go out from his land.

Exodus 12

1 The LORD told Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt,
2 "This month will mark the beginning of months for you. It will be the first month of the year for you.
3 Tell the entire congregation of Israel, 'On the tenth of this month they're each to take a lamb for themselves, according to their ancestors' households, one lamb for each household.
4 If a household is too small for a lamb, then it and its closest neighbour are to obtain one based on the number of individuals — dividing the lamb based on what each person can eat.

5 Your lamb is to be a year old male without blemish. You may take it from the sheep or from the goats.

6 It is to remain under your care until the fourteenth day of this month, and then the entire assembly of the congregation of Israel is to slaughter it at twilight.

7 They're to take some of the blood and put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel of the houses where they eat the lamb.

8 That very night they're to eat the meat, roasted over the fire, with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

9 Don't eat any of it raw or boiled in water. Instead, roast it over the fire, with its head, legs, and internal organs.

10 Don't leave any of it until morning, and whatever does remain of it until morning you are to burn in the fire.

11 "This is how you are to eat it: with your cloak tucked into your belt, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand. You are to eat it hurriedly — it's the LORD's Passover.

12 I'll pass through the land of Egypt that night and strike every firstborn in the land of Egypt, both people and animals. I'll execute judgements on all the gods of Egypt. I am the LORD.

13 The blood will be a sign for you on the houses where you are. I'll see the blood and pass over you. There will be no plague to destroy you when I strike the land of Egypt.

14 "This day is to be a memorial for you, and you are to celebrate it as a festival to the LORD. You are to celebrate it as a perpetual ordinance from generation to generation.

15 You are to eat unleavened bread for seven days. On the first day be sure to remove all the leaven from your houses, because any person who eats anything leavened from the first day until the seventh will be cut off from Israel.

16 Also, on the first day you're to hold a holy assembly, and on the seventh day you're to hold a holy assembly. No work is to be done during those days, except for preparing what is to be eaten by each person.

17 "You are to observe the Festival of Unleavened Bread, since on this very day I brought your tribal divisions from the land of Egypt. You are to observe this day from generation to generation as a perpetual ordinance.

18 In the first month, from the evening of the fourteenth day of the month until the evening of the twenty-first day of the month, you are to eat unleavened bread.

19 For seven days leaven is not to be found in your houses. Indeed, any person who eats anything leavened, is to be cut off from the congregation of Israel, whether an alien or a native of the land.

20 You are not to eat what is leavened. You are to eat unleavened bread in all your settlements."

Matthew 19

1 When Jesus had finished saying these things, he left Galilee and went to the territory of Judea on the other side of the Jordan.

2 Large crowds followed him, and he healed them there.

3 Some Pharisees came to him in order to test him. They asked, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any reason?"

4 He answered them, "Haven't you read that the one who made them at the beginning 'made them male and female'

5 and said, 'That is why a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one flesh'?

6 So they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore, what God has joined together, man must never separate."

7 They asked him, "Why, then, did Moses order us 'to give a certificate of divorce and divorce her'?"

8 He told them, "It was because of your hardness of heart that Moses allowed you to divorce your wives. But from the beginning it was not this way.

9 I tell you that whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another woman commits adultery."

10 His disciples asked him, "If that is the relationship of a man with his wife, it's not worth getting married!"

11 "Not everyone can accept this saying," he replied, "except those to whom celibacy has been granted,

12 because some men are celibate from birth, while some are celibate because they have been made that way by others. Still others are celibate because they have made themselves that way for the sake of the kingdom from heaven. Let anyone accept this who can."

13 Then some little children were brought to him so that he might lay his hands on them and pray. But the disciples rebuked those who brought them.

14 Jesus, however, said, "Let the little children come to me, and stop keeping them away, because the kingdom from heaven belongs to people like these."

15 When he had laid his hands on them, he went on from there.

16 Just then a man came up to Jesus. "Teacher," he asked, "what good deed should I do to have eternal life?"

17 Jesus asked him, "Why ask me about what is good? There is only one who is good. If you want to get into that life, you must keep the commandments."

18 The young man asked him, "Which ones?" Jesus said, "'You must not murder, you must not commit adultery, you must not steal, you must not give false testimony, 19 honour your father and mother,' and 'you must love your neighbour as yourself.'"

20 The young man told him, "I have kept all of these. What do I still lack?"

21 Jesus told him, "If you want to be perfect, go and sell what you own and give the money to the destitute, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come back and follow me."

22 But when the young man heard this statement he went away sad, because he had many possessions.

30th January

Exodus 12

21 Then Moses summoned all the elders of Israel and told them, "Choose sheep for your families, and slaughter the Passover lamb.

22 Take a bundle of hyssop and dip it in the blood that is in the basin, and apply some of the blood in the basin to the lintel and the two doorposts. None of you is to go out of the doorway of his house until morning,

23 because the LORD will pass through to strike down the Egyptians, and when he sees the blood on the lintel and the two doorposts, the LORD will pass over the doorway, and won't allow the destroyer to enter your houses to strike you down.

24 You are to observe this event as a perpetual ordinance for you and your children forever.

25 When you enter the land that the LORD will give you, just as he promised, you are to observe this ritual.

26 And when your children say to you, 'What does this ritual mean?'

27 you are to say, 'It is the Passover sacrifice to the LORD, who passed over the houses of the Israelis in Egypt when he struck down the Egyptians but spared our houses.'" Then the people bowed down and worshipped.

28 The Israelis did this. Moses and Aaron did just what the LORD had commanded.

29 And so at midnight the LORD struck down every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sat on his throne to the firstborn of the prisoner who was in the dungeon, and all the firstborn of the livestock.

30 Pharaoh got up during the night, he, all his officials, and all the Egyptians, and there was loud wailing in Egypt, for there was not a house without someone dead in it.

31 Then he summoned Moses and Aaron during the night and told them: "Get up, go out from among my people, both you and the Israelis! Go, serve the LORD as you have said.

32 Take both your sheep and your cattle, just as you demanded and go! And bless me too!"

33 The Egyptian officials urged the people to send them out of the land quickly, because they were saying, "We'll all be dead!"

34 So the people took their dough before it was leavened, with their kneading bowls wrapped up in their cloaks on their shoulders.

35 Meanwhile, the Israelis had done as Moses said; they had asked the Egyptians for objects of silver and objects of gold, and for clothes.

36 The LORD had given the people favour in the eyes of the Egyptians, so that they gave them what they requested; and so they plundered the Egyptians.

37 About 600,000 Israeli men travelled from Rameses to Succoth on foot, not counting children.

38 A mixed multitude also went up with them, along with a very large number of livestock, including sheep and cattle.

39 They baked the dough that they brought out of Egypt into thin cakes of unleavened bread. It had not been leavened because they were driven out of Egypt and could not wait, nor had they prepared provisions for themselves.

40 Now the time that the Israelis lived in Egypt was 430 years.

41 At the end of 430 years, to the very day, all the tribal divisions of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt.

42 That was for the LORD a night of vigil to bring them out of the land of Egypt. This same night belongs to the LORD, and is to be a vigil for all the Israelis from generation to generation.

43 The LORD told Moses and Aaron, "These are the regulations for the Passover: No foreigner is to eat it, 44 though any slave purchased with money may eat it after you have circumcised him.

45 But no temporary resident or a hired servant is to eat it.
46 It is to be eaten in one house, and you are not to take any of the meat outside the house, nor are you to break any of its bones.
47 The whole congregation of Israel is to observe it.
48 If an alien who resides with you wants to observe the Passover to the LORD, every male in his household must be circumcised, and then he may come near to observe it. He is to be like a native of the land, but no uncircumcised person is to eat it.
49 A single law exists for the native and the alien who resides among you."
50 All the Israelis did this. They did exactly as the LORD commanded Moses and Aaron.
51 And on that very day, the LORD brought the Israelis out of the land of Egypt by their tribal divisions.

Exodus 13

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
2 "Consecrate to me every firstborn male. Whatever is the first to open the womb among the Israelis, both of humans and of animals, belongs to me."
3 Then Moses told the people, "Remember this day on which you came out of Egypt, from the house of bondage, because the LORD brought you out from this place with a strong show of force. Moreover, nothing leavened is to be eaten.
4 Today, in the month of Aviv, you are going out.
5 When the LORD brings you to the land of the Canaanite, the Hittite, the Amorite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite, which he swore to your ancestors to give you — a land flowing with milk and honey — you are to observe this ritual in this month.
6 You are to eat unleavened bread for seven days, and on the seventh day there is to be a festival to the LORD.
7 Unleavened bread is to be eaten for seven days, and nothing leavened is to be seen among you, nor is leaven to be seen among you throughout your territory.
8 And you are to tell your child on that day, 'This is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.'
9 It is to be a sign for you on your hand and a reminder on your forehead, so that you may speak about the instruction of the LORD; for the LORD brought you out of Egypt with a strong show of force.
10 You are to keep this ordinance at its appointed time from year to year."
11 "When the LORD brings you to the land of the Canaanite and gives it to you, just as he promised you and your ancestors,
12 you are to dedicate to the LORD everything that first opens the womb. All the firstborn males of your livestock belong to the LORD.
13 You are to redeem every firstborn donkey with a lamb, and if you don't redeem it, you are to break its neck. You are to redeem every firstborn among your sons.
14 "Then when your child asks you in the future, 'What is this?', you are to say to him, 'The LORD brought us out of Egypt, from the house of bondage with a strong show of force.
15 And when Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, the LORD killed every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of humans to the firstborn of animals. Therefore, I sacrifice to the LORD every male that first opens the womb, but I redeem every firstborn of my sons.'
16 It is to be a sign on your hand and an emblem on your forehead, because the LORD brought us out of Egypt with a strong show of force."
17 When Pharaoh let the people go, God did not lead them along the road through the land of the Philistines, even though it was nearer, because God had said, "If the people face war, they may change their minds and return to Egypt."

18 So God led the people the roundabout way of the desert toward the Reed Sea. The Israelis went up from the land of Egypt in military formation.

19 Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, because Joseph had made the Israelis take this solemn oath: "God will certainly take notice of you, and then you must carry my bones up with you from here."

21 The LORD went in front of them by day in a pillar of cloud to lead them along the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light, so they could travel both day and night.

22 Neither the pillar of cloud by day nor the pillar of fire by night left its place in front of the people.

Exodus 14

1 The LORD told Moses,

2 "Tell the Israelis that they are to turn back and camp in front of Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea. You are to camp in front of Baal-zephon, opposite it by the sea.

3 Pharaoh will say about the Israelis, 'They're wandering aimlessly in the land, and the desert has closed in on them.'

4 I've made Pharaoh's heart stubborn so he will pursue them. But I'll receive honour by means of Pharaoh and his army, so that the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD." So this is what the Israelis did.

5 When the king of Egypt was told that the people had fled, the minds of Pharaoh and his officials changed toward the people, and they said, "What have we done in releasing Israel from serving us?"

6 So Pharaoh had his chariot prepared and took his troops with him.

7 He took 600 of the best chariots, and all the other chariots of Egypt with officers in charge of each one.

8 The LORD made the heart of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, stubborn, and he defiantly pursued the Israelis as they were leaving.

9 The Egyptians pursued them — all the chariot-horses of Pharaoh, along with his horsemen and army — and they overtook them camped by the sea, near Pi-hahiroth, in front of Baal Zephon.

Matthew 19

23 Then Jesus told his disciples, "I tell you with certainty, it will be hard for a rich person to get into the kingdom from heaven.

24 Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to squeeze through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to get into the kingdom of God."

25 When the disciples heard this, they were completely astonished. "Who, then, can be saved?" they asked.

26 Jesus looked at them intently and said, "For humans this is impossible, but for God all things are possible."

27 "Look!" Peter replied. "We have left everything and followed you. So what will we get?"

28 Jesus told them, "I tell you with certainty, when the Son of Man sits on his glorious throne in the renewed creation, you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, governing the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 In fact, everyone who has left his homes, brothers, sisters, father, mother, children, or fields because of my name will receive a hundred times as much and will inherit eternal life.

30 But many who are first will be last, and the last will be first."

Matthew 20

1 "The kingdom from heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire workers for his vineyard.

2 After agreeing to pay the workers one denarius a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 When he went out about nine o'clock, he saw others standing in the marketplace without work.

4 He told them, 'You go into the vineyard, too, and I will pay you whatever is right.'

5 So off they went. He went out again about noon and about three o'clock and did the same thing.

6 About five o'clock he went out and found some others standing around. He asked them, 'Why are you standing here all day long without work?'

7 They told him, 'Because no one has hired us.' He told them, 'You go into the vineyard as well.'

8 "When evening came, the owner of the vineyard told his manager, 'Call the workers and give them their wages, beginning with the last and ending with the first.'

9 Those who were hired at five o'clock came, and each received a denarius.

10 "When the first came, they thought they would receive more, but each received a denarius as well.

11 When they received it, they began to complain to the landowner,

12 'These last fellows worked only one hour, but you paid them the same as us, and we've been working all day, enduring the scorching heat!'

13 "But he told one of them, 'Friend, I'm not treating you unfairly. You did agree with me for a denarius, didn't you?

14 Take what is yours and go. I want to give this last man as much as I gave you.

15 I am allowed to do what I want with my own money, am I not? Or are you envious because I'm generous?'

16 "In the same way, the last will be first, and the first will be last, because many are called, but few are chosen."

31st January

Exodus 14

10 As Pharaoh approached, the Israelis looked up, and there were the Egyptians bearing down on them! Extremely frightened, the Israelis cried out to the LORD.

11 They also told Moses, "Was it because there were no graves in Egypt that you took us out to die in the desert? What have you done to us, by bringing us out of Egypt?"

12 Is this not what we told you in Egypt, when we said, 'Leave us alone!' and 'Let us serve the Egyptians!?' Indeed, it would have been better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in the desert!"

13 Moses told the people, "Don't be afraid! Stand still and watch how the LORD will deliver you today, because you will never again see the Egyptians whom you're looking at today.

14 The LORD will fight for you while you keep still."

15 Then the LORD told Moses, "Why are you crying out to me? Tell the Israelis to move out!

16 You are to raise your staff, stretch out your hand over the sea, and divide it, so the Israelis may go into the middle of the sea on dry land.

17 Even now I'm hardening the heart of the Egyptians so they'll go after the Israelis. Then I'll receive honour by means of Pharaoh and all his army, his chariots, and his horsemen.

18 Then the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD when I receive honour by means of Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen."

19 Then the angel of God, who was going in front of the camp of Israel, moved behind them. The pillar of cloud also moved from in front of them and stood behind them,

20 coming between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel. The cloud remained there even in the darkness, illuminating the night, so that the one side did not come near the other all night.

21 Then Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the LORD caused the water to retreat by a strong east wind all night, turning the sea into dry land. As the waters were divided,

22 the Israelis went into the middle of the sea on dry land, and the waters formed a wall for them on their right and on their left.

23 The Egyptians pursued — all the horses of Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen — and they went into the middle of the sea after them.

24 In the morning watch, the LORD looked down on the Egyptian camp through the pillar of fire and cloud, and he threw the Egyptian camp into confusion.

25 He made the wheels of their chariots wobble so that they drove them with difficulty.

The Egyptians said, "Let's flee from Israel because the LORD is fighting for them and against us."

26 Then the LORD told Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the sea and the waters will come back over the Egyptians, over their chariots, and over their horsemen."

27 Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the water returned to its normal depth at daybreak. The Egyptians tried to retreat in front of the advancing water, but the LORD destroyed the Egyptians in the middle of the sea.

28 The waters returned, covering the chariots and the horsemen of Pharaoh's entire army that had pursued the Israelis into the sea. Not a single one of them remained.

29 But the Israelis walked through the middle of the sea on dry land, and the waters stood like a wall for them on their right and on their left.

30 On that day the LORD delivered Israel from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead along the seashore.

31 When Israel saw the great force by which the LORD had acted against the Egyptians, the people feared the LORD, and they believed the LORD and Moses his servant.

Exodus 15

- 1 Then Moses and the Israelis sang this song to the LORD: "I'll sing to the LORD, for he is highly exalted. The horse and its rider he has thrown into the sea.
- 2 The LORD is my strength and song, and he has become my salvation. This is my God and I'll praise him, the God of my father and I'll exalt him.
- 3 The LORD is a man of war, the LORD is his name!
- 4 "Pharaoh's chariots and his army he has hurled into the sea; his best officers sank in the Red Sea.
- 5 The deep covered them, they went down into the depths like a rock.
- 6 Your right hand, LORD, was majestic in strength, your right hand, LORD, shattered the enemy.
- 7 In the greatness of your majesty you broke down your enemies. You sent forth your anger, it consumed them like stubble.
- 8 By the breath of your nostrils the waters were piled up, the flowing waters stood up like a hill, the deep waters congealed in the heart of the sea.
- 9 "The enemy said, 'I'll pursue them, I'll overtake them, I'll divide the spoil. I'll satisfy my anger on them, I'll draw my sword, and my hand will bring them to ruin.'
- 10 "You blew with your breath, and the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the mighty waters.
- 11 "Who is like you among the gods, LORD? Who is like you, majestic in holiness, awesome in splendour, and working wonders?
- 12 You stretched out your right hand, and the earth swallowed them.
- 13 "You have led with your gracious love this people whom you redeemed. You have guided them with your strength to your holy dwelling.
- 14 "The people heard and they quaked, anguish has seized the inhabitants of Philistia.
- 15 Then the chiefs of Edom were terrified, the nobles of Moab trembled uncontrollably, and all the inhabitants of Canaan melted away.
- 16 Dread and fear have fallen on them, because of the strength of your arm. They have become silent as a stone, until your people pass by, LORD, until this people you acquired pass by.
- 17 "You will bring them in and plant them on the mountain of your inheritance. You have made a place where you will reside, LORD. Your own hands have established a sanctuary, LORD.
- 18 The LORD will reign forever and ever."
- 19 When the horses of Pharaoh, his chariots, and his horsemen went into the sea, the LORD caused the waters of the sea to come back over them, but the Israelis walked through the middle of the sea on dry land.
- 20 Then Miriam the prophetess, Aaron's sister, took a tambourine in her hand and went out with all the women behind her with tambourines and dancing.
- 21 Miriam sang to them, "Sing to the LORD, for he is highly exalted! The horse and its rider he has thrown into the sea."
- 22 Then Moses led Israel from the Reed Sea and they went to the desert of Shur. They travelled into the desert for three days and did not find water.
- 23 When they came to Marah, they could not drink the water at Marah because it was bitter. (That is why it's called Marah).
- 24 Then the people complained against Moses: "What are we to drink?"
- 25 Moses cried out to the LORD, and the LORD showed him a tree, which he threw into the water, and the water became sweet. There the LORD presented to them a statute and an ordinance, and there he tested them.

26 He said, "If you will carefully obey the LORD your God, do what is right in his eyes, listen to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, then I won't inflict on you all the diseases that I inflicted on the Egyptians, because I am the LORD your healer."

27 Then they came to Elim where there were twelve springs of water and 70 palm trees, and they camped there by the water.

Exodus 16

1 Later, they left Elim, and the whole congregation of the Israelis came to the desert of Sin, which lay between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departure from the land of Egypt.

2 The whole congregation of the Israelis complained against Moses and Aaron in the desert.

3 The Israelis told them, "If only we had died by the LORD's hand in the land of Egypt when we sat by the cooking pots, when we ate bread until we were filled — because you brought us to this desert to kill this entire congregation with hunger."

4 The LORD told Moses, "Listen very carefully! I'll cause food to rain down for you from heaven, and the people are to go out and gather each day's portion on that day. In this way I'll test them to demonstrate whether or not they'll live according to my instructions.

5 On the sixth day, when they prepare what they bring in, it will be double what they gather on other days."

6 So Moses and Aaron addressed the entire congregation of the Israelis, "This evening you will know that the LORD has brought you out of the land of Egypt,

7 and in the morning you will see the glory of the LORD, for he has heard your complaints against him. After all, who are we that you complain against us?"

8 Moses also said, "When the LORD gives you meat to eat in the evening, and bread in the morning to satisfy you, the LORD will hear your complaints directed against him. Who are we? Your complaints aren't against us, but rather against the LORD."

9 Then Moses instructed Aaron, "Say to the whole congregation of the Israelis, 'Come near into the LORD's presence, because he has heard your complaints.'"

10 While Aaron was speaking to all the congregation of the Israelis, they turned toward the desert, and there the glory of the LORD was seen in the cloud.

11 The LORD told Moses,

12 "I've heard the complaints of the Israelis. Tell them, 'At twilight you are to eat meat and in the morning you are to be filled with bread, so you may know that I am the LORD your God.'"

Matthew 20

17 When Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples aside and told them as they were walking along,

18 "See, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the high priests and scribes, and they will condemn him to death.

19 Then they will hand him over to the gentiles to be mocked, whipped, and crucified, but on the third day he will be raised."

20 Then Zebedee's wife came to Jesus with her sons. She bowed down in front of him to ask him for a favour.

21 He asked her, "What do you want?" She told him, "Promise that in your kingdom these two sons of mine will sit on your right and on your left."

22 Jesus replied, "You don't realize what you're asking. Can you drink from the cup that I'm going to drink from?" They told him, "We can."

23 He told them, "You will indeed drink from my cup. But it's not up to me to grant you a seat at my right hand or at my left. These positions have already been prepared for others by my Father."

24 When the ten heard this, they became furious with the two brothers.

25 But Jesus called the disciples and said, "You know that the rulers of the gentiles lord it over them and their superiors act like tyrants over them.

26 That's not the way it should be among you. Instead, whoever wants to be great among you must be your servant,

27 and whoever wants to be first among you must be your slave.

28 That's the way it is with the Son of Man. He did not come to be served, but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many people."

29 As they were leaving Jericho, a large crowd followed Jesus.

30 When two blind men who were sitting by the roadside heard that Jesus was passing by, they shouted, "Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David!"

31 When the crowd told them harshly to be silent, they shouted even louder, "Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David!"

32 Jesus stopped and called them, saying, "What do you want me to do for you?"

33 They told him, "Lord, we want to be able to see!"

34 Then Jesus, deeply moved with compassion, touched their eyes, and at once they could see again. So they followed him.

Exodus 16

13 Later that evening quail came up and covered the camp, and then in the morning there was a layer of dew around the camp.

14 When the layer of dew evaporated, on the surface of the desert a fine flaky substance, as fine as frost, appeared on the ground.

15 When the Israelis saw it, they asked one another, "What is it?", because they did not know what it was. Moses told them, "It's the food that the LORD has given you to eat.

16 This is what the LORD has commanded: 'You are to gather from it what each person is to eat, about two quarts per person according to the number of your people, and one person is to gather for everyone in his tent.'"

17 The Israelis did this, some gathering much, some little.

18 When they measured it with two quart vessels, the one who gathered much did not have an excess, while the one who gathered little did not lack. They gathered exactly what each needed to eat.

19 Then Moses told them, "No one is to leave any of it until morning."

20 But they did not listen to Moses — some people left part of it until morning, and it produced maggots and smelled bad, so Moses got angry at them.

21 Every morning they gathered it, according to what each needed to eat; and when the sun became hot, it melted.

22 On the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, about four quarts per person.

Then all the leaders of the congregation came and reported to Moses,

23 and he told them, "This is what the LORD said: 'Tomorrow is a Sabbath observance, a holy Sabbath to the LORD. Bake what you want to bake and boil what you want to boil, and put aside whatever remains to be kept for yourselves until morning.'"

24 They put it away until morning, as Moses commanded, and it did not smell bad, and there were no maggots in it.

25 Moses said, "Eat it today, since today is a Sabbath to the LORD, and today you won't find it in the field.

26 For six days you are to gather it, but on the seventh day, the Sabbath, there won't be any."

27 Nevertheless, that seventh day some of the people went out to gather, but they did not find any.

28 Then the LORD asked Moses, "How long will you people refuse to keep my commandments and my instructions?

29 You see that the LORD has given you the Sabbath, and so on the sixth day he gives you food for two days. Let each person stay where he is; let no one leave his place on the seventh day."

30 So the people rested on the seventh day.

31 The Israelis named it "manna". It was white like coriander seed, and tasted like a wafer made with honey.

32 Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded: 'Set aside about two quarts of it for future generations, so that they may see the food with which I fed you in the desert when I brought you out of the land of Egypt.'"

33 Then Moses told Aaron, "Take a jar, fill it with about two quarts of manna, and place it in the LORD's presence, to be preserved throughout future generations."

34 So Aaron placed it before the Testimony to be kept, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

35 The Israelis ate manna for 40 years until they came to a land where they could settle. They ate manna until they came to the border of the land of Canaan.

36 Now two quarts is a tenth of an ephah.

Exodus 17

1 The whole congregation of the Israelis set out from the desert of Sin, travelling from place to place according to the command of the LORD. They camped at Rephidim, but there was no water for the people to drink.

2 The people quarrelled with Moses: "Give us water to drink." Moses told them, "Why are you quarrelling with me? Why are you testing the LORD?"

3 But the people were thirsty there for water and they complained against Moses: "Why did you bring us up from Egypt to kill us, our children, and our livestock with thirst?"

4 So Moses cried out to the LORD: "What am I to do with these people? Just a little more and they'll stone me."

5 Then the LORD told Moses, "Go over in front of the people and take some of the elders of Israel with you. Take in your hand the staff with which you struck the Nile, and go.

6 I'll be standing there in front of you on the rock at Horeb. You are to strike the rock and water will come out of it, so the people can drink." Moses did this in front of the elders of Israel.

7 He named the place Massah and Meribah, because the Israelis quarrelled and tested the LORD by saying: "Is the LORD really among us or not?"

8 Then the Amalekites came and fought with the Israelis at Rephidim.

9 Moses told Joshua, "Choose some men for us and go out to fight against the Amalekites. Tomorrow I'll stand on top of the hill with the staff of God in my hand."

10 So Joshua did as Moses told him and fought against the Amalekites, while Moses, Aaron, and Hur went up to the top of the hill.

11 Whenever Moses raised his hand, the Israelis prevailed, but when his hand remained at his side, then the Amalekites prevailed.

12 When Moses' hands became heavy, they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat on it. Aaron and Hur supported his hands, one on one side and one on the other, and so his hands were steady until the sun went down.

13 Joshua defeated Amalek and his army with the sword.

14 Then the LORD told Moses, "Write this in a book as a memorial and recite it to Joshua: 'I'll certainly wipe out the memory of the Amalekites from under heaven.'"

15 Moses built an altar and named it "The LORD is My Banner."

16 He said, "Because a fist has been raised in defiance against the throne of the LORD, the LORD will wage war against Amalek from generation to generation."

Exodus 18

1 Jethro, the priest of Midian, Moses' father-in-law, heard all that God had done for Moses and for his people Israel, and how the LORD had brought Israel out of Egypt.

2 Now Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, had taken back Moses' wife Zipporah after she had been sent away,

3 along with her two sons. The name of the one was Gershom, for he said, "I was an alien in a foreign land,"

4 while the name of the other was Eliezer, for he said, "My father's God helped me and delivered me from Pharaoh's sword."

5 Moses' father-in-law Jethro, together with Moses' two sons and his wife, came to Moses in the desert where he was camped at the mountain of God.

6 He told Moses, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you along with your wife and her two sons."

7 When Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, he bowed low and kissed him, and they greeted one another. Then they went into the tent.

8 Moses told his father-in-law all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and to the Egyptians on Israel's behalf, all the hardships that they had encountered along the way, and how the LORD had delivered them.

9 Jethro rejoiced over all the good that the LORD had done for Israel in delivering them from the hand of the Egyptians.

10 Jethro said, "Blessed be the LORD, who delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians and from the hand of Pharaoh, and who delivered the people from the oppression of the Egyptians.

11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all other gods, because of what happened to the Egyptians when they acted arrogantly against Israel."

12 Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, brought a burnt offering and sacrifices for God, and Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to dine with Moses' father-in-law in the presence of God.

13 The next day Moses sat down to judge the people, and the people stood around Moses from morning until evening.

14 When Moses' father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people, he said, "What is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you alone sit as judge, with all the people standing around you from morning until evening?"

15 Moses told his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me to seek God's will.

16 When they have a dispute, it comes to me and I decide between a person and his neighbour, and make known the statutes of God and his instructions."

17 Moses' father-in-law told him, "What you are doing is not good.

18 You will surely wear yourself out, both you and these people who are with you, because the task is too heavy for you. You cannot do it by yourself.

19 Now listen to me. I'll advise you, and may God be with you. You are to represent the people before God and bring the disputes to God.

20 You are to teach them the statutes and instructions and make known to them the way they're to go and the things they're to do.

21 "You are to look for capable men among the people, men who fear God, men of integrity who hate dishonest gain. You are to set these men over them as officials over thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens.

22 They are to judge the people at all times. Let them bring every major matter to you, but let them judge every minor matter. It will lighten your burden, and they'll bear it with you.

23 If you do this, and God so commands you, you will be able to stand the strain, and all these people will also go to their homes in peace."

24 Moses listened to his father-in-law and did everything he said.

25 Moses chose capable men from all Israel and appointed them as heads over the people, as officials over thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens.

26 They judged the people at all times; the difficult matters they brought to Moses, but every minor matter they judged.

27 Moses sent his father-in-law on his way, and he went to his own land.

Matthew 21

1 When they came near Jerusalem and had reached Bethphage on the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two disciples on ahead and

2 told them, "Go into the village ahead of you. At once you will find a donkey tied up and a colt with it. Untie them, and bring them to me.

3 If anyone says anything to you, tell him, 'The Lord needs them,' and that person will send them at once."

4 Now this happened to fulfil what had been spoken through the prophet when he said,

5 "Tell the daughter of Zion, 'Look, your king is coming to you! He is humble and mounted on a donkey, even on a colt of a donkey.'"

6 So the disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them.

7 They brought the donkey and the colt and put their coats on them, and he sat upon them.

8 Many people in the crowd spread their own coats on the road, while others began cutting down branches from the trees and spreading them on the road.

9 Both the crowds that went ahead of him and those that followed him kept shouting, "Hosanna to the Son of David! How blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest heaven!"

10 When he came into Jerusalem, the whole city was trembling with excitement. The people were asking, "Who is this?"

11 The crowds kept saying, "This is the prophet Jesus, the man from Nazareth in Galilee."

12 Then Jesus went into the Temple, threw out everyone who was selling and buying in the Temple, and overturned the moneychangers' tables and the chairs of those who sold doves.

13 He told them, "It is written, 'My house is to be called a house of prayer,' but you are turning it into a hideout for bandits!"

14 Blind and lame people came to him in the Temple, and he healed them.

15 But when the high priests and the scribes saw the amazing things that he had done and the children shouting in the Temple, "Hosanna to the Son of David," they became furious

16 and asked him, "Do you hear what these people are saying?" Jesus told them, "Yes! Haven't you ever read, 'From the mouths of infants and nursing babies you have created praise'?"

17 Then he left them and went out of the city to Bethany and spent the night there.

18 In the morning, as Jesus was returning to the city, he became hungry.

19 Seeing a fig tree by the roadside, he went up to it but found nothing on it except leaves. He told it, "May fruit never come from you again!" And immediately the fig tree dried up.

20 When the disciples saw this, they were amazed. "How did the fig tree dry up so quickly?" they asked.

21 Jesus answered them, "I tell you with certainty, if you have faith and do not doubt, not only will you be able to do what has been done to the fig tree, but you will also say to this mountain, 'Be removed and thrown into the sea,' and it will happen.

22 You will receive whatever you ask for in prayer, if you believe."

2nd February

Exodus 19

- 1 On the third New Moon after the Israelis went out of the land of Egypt, on that very day, they came to the desert of Sinai.
- 2 They had set out from Rephidim and arrived at the desert of Sinai where they camped in the desert. Israel camped there in front of the mountain.
- 3 Then Moses went up to God, and the LORD called to him from the mountain: "This is what you are to say to the house of Jacob and declare to the sons of Israel,
- 4 'You saw what I did to the Egyptians, and how I carried you on eagles' wings and brought you to myself.
- 5 And now if you carefully obey me and keep my covenant, you are to be my special possession out of all the peoples. For the whole earth belongs to me,
- 6 but you are to be a kingdom of priests and a holy nation to me.' These are the words you are to declare to the Israelis."
- 7 When Moses came, he summoned the elders of the people and told them everything that the LORD had commanded him.
- 8 All the people answered together: "All that the LORD has said, we will do!" Then Moses reported all the words of the people back to the LORD.
- 9 The LORD told Moses, "Look, I'm coming to you in a thick cloud, so that the people may hear when I speak with you and believe you always." Moses reported the words of the people to the LORD.
- 10 The LORD told Moses, "Go to the people and consecrate them today and tomorrow. They must wash their clothes,
- 11 and be ready for the third day, for on the third day the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai in the sight of all the people.
- 12 You are to set boundaries for the people all around: 'Be very careful that you don't go up on the mountain or touch the side of it. Anyone who touches the mountain will surely be put to death.
- 13 No hand is to touch that person, but he is surely to be stoned or shot with arrows; whether animal or person, he is not to live.' They are to approach the mountain only when the ram's horn sounds a long blast."
- 14 When Moses went down from the mountain to the people, he consecrated the people, and they washed their clothes.
- 15 He told the people, "Be ready for the third day; don't go near a woman."
- 16 When morning came on the third day, there was thunder and lightning with a heavy cloud over the mountain and the very loud sound of a ram's horn. All the people in the camp trembled.
- 17 Moses brought the people from the camp to meet God, and they stood at the base of the mountain.
- 18 Mount Sinai was completely enveloped in smoke because the LORD had come down in fire on it. Smoke went up from it like smoke from a kiln, and the whole mountain shook violently.
- 19 As the sound of the ram's horn grew louder and louder, Moses would speak and God would answer with thunder.
- 20 When the LORD came down on Mount Sinai to the top of the mountain, he summoned Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.
- 21 The LORD told Moses, "Go down and warn the people so they don't break through to look at the LORD, and many of them perish.
- 22 Even the priests who approach the LORD must consecrate themselves. Otherwise, the LORD will attack them."

23 Moses told the LORD, "The people cannot come up to Mount Sinai because you warned us: 'Set boundaries around the mountain and consecrate it.'"

24 The LORD told him, "Go down, and come back up with Aaron, but the priests and the people must not break through to go up to the LORD. Otherwise, he will attack them."

25 So Moses went down to the people and spoke to them.

Exodus 20

1 Then God spoke all these words:

2 "I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

3 You are to have no other gods besides me.

4 "You are not to make for yourselves an idol, or any likeness of what is in heaven above, or on earth below, or in the water under the earth.

5 You are not to bow down to them in worship or serve them; because I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the iniquity of the parents, to the third and fourth generations of those who hate me,

6 but showing gracious love to the thousandth generation of those who love me and keep my commandments.

7 "You are not to misuse the name of the LORD your God, because the LORD will not leave the one who misuses his name unpunished.

8 "Remember to keep the Sabbath day holy.

9 Six days you are to labour and do all your work,

10 but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God. You are not to do any work, neither you, nor your son, nor your daughter, nor your male or female servant, nor your livestock, nor the alien who is within your gates,

11 because the LORD made the heavens and the earth and the sea, and all that is in them, in six days, then he rested on the seventh day. Therefore, the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and made it holy.

12 "Honour your father and your mother so that you may live long in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.

13 "You are not to murder.

14 "You are not to commit adultery.

15 "You are not to steal.

16 "You are not to testify falsely against your neighbour.

17 "You are not to covet your neighbour's house. You are not to covet your neighbour's wife, or his male or female servant, or his ox, or his donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbour."

18 All the people experienced the thunder and lightning, the sound of the ram's horn, and the smoking mountain. And as the people experienced it, they trembled and stood at a distance.

19 They told Moses, "You speak to us and we will listen, but don't let God speak with us, or we may die.

20 Moses told the people, "Don't be afraid, for God has come to test you, so that you may fear him in order that you don't sin."

21 Then the people stood at a distance, and Moses approached the thick cloud where God was.

22 The LORD told Moses, "This is what you are to say to the Israelis, 'You have seen for yourselves that I spoke to you from heaven.

23 You are not to make gods of silver alongside me, nor are you to make for yourselves gods of gold.

24 'You are to make an altar of earth for me, and you are to sacrifice on it your burnt offerings and peace offerings, your sheep, and your cattle. Everywhere I cause my name to be remembered, I'll come to you and bless you.

25 If you make an altar of stone for me, you must not build it of cut stones, because if you strike it with your chisel, you will profane it.

26 You are not to ascend to my altar on steps, so that your nakedness may not be exposed on it.'

Exodus 21

1 "These are the ordinances that you are to set before them.

2 "When you acquire a Hebrew servant he is to serve for six years, and in the seventh he is to go out a free man without paying anything.

3 If he came in by himself, he is to go out by himself. If he was married, his wife is to go out with him.

4 If his master gives him a wife and she bears him sons or daughters, the wife and children belong to her master, and he is to go out by himself.

5 "But if the servant, in fact, says, 'I love my master, my wife, and my children and I won't go out a free man,'

6 then his master is to bring him before the judges and he is to bring him to the door or the doorpost. His master is to pierce his ear with an awl, and he is to serve him permanently.

7 "When a man sells his daughter as a servant, she won't go out as the male servants do.

8 If she's displeasing to her master who selected her for himself, he must let her be redeemed. He does not have the right to sell her to foreign people because he has dealt unfairly with her.

9 If he has selected her for his son, he is to treat her according to the ordinance for daughters.

10 If he takes another woman for himself, he may not withhold from the first her food, her clothing, or her marital rights.

11 If he does not do these three things for her, she may go out without paying anything at all.

12 "Whoever strikes a man so that he dies is surely to be put to death.

13 If he didn't lie in wait, but God let him fall into his control, then I'll appoint for you a place to which he may flee.

Matthew 21

23 Then Jesus went into the Temple. While he was teaching, the high priests and the elders of the people came to him and asked, "By what authority are you doing these things, and who gave you this authority?"

24 Jesus answered them, "I, too, will ask you one question. If you answer it for me, I will also tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

25 Where did John's authority to baptize come from? From heaven or from humans?" They began discussing this among themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will say to us, 'Then why didn't you believe him?'

26 But if we say, 'From humans,' we are afraid of the crowd, because everyone regards John as a prophet."

27 So they told Jesus, "We don't know." He in turn told them, "Then I won't tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

28 "But what do you think? A man had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'Son, go and work in the vineyard today.'

29 His son replied, 'I don't want to,' but later he changed his mind and went.

30 Then the father went to the other son and told him the same thing. He replied, 'I will, sir,' but he didn't go.

31 Which of the two did the father's will?" They answered, "The first one." Jesus told them, "I tell you with certainty, tax collectors and prostitutes will get into God's kingdom ahead of you!

32 John came to you living a righteous life, and you didn't believe him, but the tax collectors and prostitutes did. But even when you saw that, you didn't change your minds at last and believe him."

33 "Listen to another parable. There was a landowner who planted a vineyard, put a wall around it, dug a wine press in it, and built a watchtower. Then he leased it to tenant farmers and went abroad.

34 When harvest time approached, he sent his servants to the tenant farmers to collect his produce.

35 But the farmers took his servants and beat one, killed another, and attacked another with stones.

36 Again, he sent other servants to them, a greater number than the first, but the tenant farmers treated them the same way.

37 Finally, he sent his son to them, thinking, 'They will respect my son.'

38 But when the tenant farmers saw his son, they told one another, 'This is the heir. Come on, let's kill him and get his inheritance!'

39 So they grabbed him, threw him out of the vineyard, and killed him.

40 Now when the owner of the vineyard returns, what will he do to those farmers?"

41 They told him, "He will put those horrible men to a horrible death. Then he will lease the vineyard to other farmers who will give him his produce at harvest time."

42 Jesus asked them, "Have you never read in the Scriptures, 'The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone. This was the Lord's doing, and it is amazing in our eyes.'?

43 That is why I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people who will produce fruit for it.

44 The person who falls over this stone will be broken to pieces, but it will crush anyone on whom it falls."

3rd February

Exodus 21

14 If a man acts deliberately against his neighbour to kill him by treachery, you are to take him to die even if he's at my altar.

15 "Whoever strikes his father or his mother is surely to be put to death.

16 "Whoever kidnaps a person, whether he has sold him or whether the victim is still in his possession, is surely to be put to death.

17 "Whoever curses his father or his mother is surely to be put to death.

18 "If people quarrel and one strikes the other with a rock or his fist, and he does not die but ends up in bed,

19 and the injured person then gets up and walks around outside with the help of his staff, the one who struck him is not liable, except that he is to compensate him for his loss of time and take care of his complete recovery.

20 "If a man strikes his male or female servant with a stick and he or she dies as a direct result, the master must be punished.

21 But if the servant survives a day or two, the master is not to be punished because the servant is his property.

22 "If two men are fighting and they strike a pregnant woman and her children are born prematurely but there is no harm, he is surely to be fined as the husband of the woman demands of him, and he will pay as the court decides.

23 If there is harm, then you are to require life for life,

24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,

25 burn for burn, wound for wound, and bruise for bruise.

26 "If a man strikes the eye of his male or female servant and destroys it, he is to release him as a free man in exchange for his eye.

27 If he knocks out the tooth of his male or female servant, he is to release him as a free man in exchange for his tooth.

28 "If an ox gores a man or woman so that they die, the ox is surely to be stoned and its flesh may not be eaten, but the owner of the ox is free from liability.

29 But if the ox has gored previously, and its owner has been warned about it but didn't restrain it, and it kills a man or woman, the ox is to be stoned and its owner also is to be put to death.

30 If a fine is imposed on him, he may pay all that was imposed on him as a ransom for his life.

31 This same ordinance applies if it gores a son or daughter.

32 "If the ox gores a male or female servant, the owner is to give 30 shekels of silver to the servant's master, and the ox is to be stoned.

33 If a man opens a pit or digs a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or donkey falls into it,

34 the owner of the pit is to make restitution. He is to pay money to its owner, and the dead animal will become his.

35 "If a man's ox strikes his neighbour's ox and it dies, they are to sell the live ox and divide the money. They also are to divide the dead animal.

36 But if it was known that the ox had gored previously, and its owner didn't restrain it, he shall surely repay ox for ox, and the dead ox will become his.

Exodus 22

1 "If a man steals an ox or sheep and slaughters it or sells it, he is to repay five oxen for the ox and four sheep for the sheep.

2 "If a thief is found while breaking into a house, and is struck down and dies, it is not a capital crime in that case,

3 but if the sun has risen on him, then it is a capital crime in that case. "A thief shall surely make restitution, but if he has nothing, he is to be sold for his theft.

4 If what was stolen is actually found alive in his possession, whether an ox, a donkey or a sheep, he is to repay double.

5 "When a man lets a field or vineyard be grazed over or releases his livestock so that they graze in another man's field, he is to make restitution from the best of his field or vineyard.

6 "When a fire breaks out and spreads into thorn bushes and consumes stacked grain or standing grain or the field, the one who started the fire surely is to make restitution.

7 "When a man gives his neighbour money or goods for safekeeping and it's stolen from the neighbour's house, the thief, if found, is to repay double.

8 If the thief is not found, the owner of the house is to appear before the judges to see whether or not the thief took his neighbour's property.

9 "In every ownership dispute involving an ox, donkey, sheep, garment, or anything that is lost where a person says, 'This is mine,' the case between the two of them is to come before the judges, and the one that the judges declare guilty is to repay double to his neighbour.

10 "When a man gives a donkey or ox or sheep or any animal to his neighbour for safe keeping, and it dies or is injured or is driven away when no one is looking,

11 the two of them are to take an oath in the LORD's presence that the accused has not taken his neighbour's property. Its owner is to accept this, and the neighbour is not to make restitution.

12 But if it was actually stolen from him, the neighbour is to make restitution to its owner.

13 If it was torn to pieces, let the neighbour bring the remains as evidence, and he is not to make restitution for what was torn apart.

14 "When a man borrows an animal from his neighbour, and it's injured or dies while its owner was not with it, he is surely to make restitution.

15 If its owner was with it, he is not to make restitution. If it was hired, its fee covers the loss."

16 "When a man seduces a virgin who is not engaged to be married and has sexual relations with her, he must pay her bride-price, and she is to become his wife.

17 If her father absolutely refuses to give her to him, he is to pay an amount equal to the bride-price for virgins.

18 "You are not to allow a sorceress to live.

19 "Whoever has sexual relations with an animal is surely to be put to death.

20 "Anyone who sacrifices to a god, except the LORD alone, is to be utterly destroyed.

21 "You are not to wrong or oppress an alien, because you were aliens in the land of Egypt.

22 You are not to mistreat any widow or orphan.

23 If you do mistreat them, they'll surely cry out to me, and I'll immediately hear their cry.

24 And I'll be angry and will kill you with the sword, and your wives will become widows and your children orphans.

25 "If you loan money to my people, to the poor among you, don't be like a creditor to them and don't impose interest on them.

26 If you take your neighbour's coat as collateral, you are to return it to him by sunset,

27 for it's his only covering; it's his outer garment, for what else can he sleep in? And when he cries out to me, I'll hear him, for I am gracious.

28 "You are not to blaspheme God or curse a ruler of your people.

29 "You are not to hold back the fullness of your harvest and the outflow of your wine presses. You are to give to me the firstborn of your sons.

30 You are to do the same with your oxen and your sheep. They shall be with their mother for seven days and then on the eighth day you are to give them to me.

31 "You are to be people set apart for me. You are not to eat flesh torn apart in the field; you are to throw it to the dogs."

Exodus 23

1 "You are not to spread a false report, nor are you to join forces with the wicked to be a malicious witness.

2 You are not to follow the majority in doing wrong, and you are not to testify in a lawsuit so as to follow the majority and pervert justice.

3 You are not to show partiality to a poor man in his lawsuit.

4 "If you come across your enemy's ox or donkey wandering off, you are to certainly return it to him.

5 If you see your enemy's donkey lying helpless under its load, you must not abandon it, rather, you are surely to return it to him.

6 "You are not to pervert justice for the poor among you in their lawsuits.

7 Stay far away from a false charge, and don't kill the innocent or the righteous, because I won't acquit the guilty.

8 You are not to take a bribe because a bribe blinds the clear-sighted and distorts the words of the righteous.

9 You are not to oppress the resident alien, because you were aliens in the land of Egypt.

Matthew 21

45 When the high priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they knew that he was talking about them.

46 Although they wanted to arrest him, they were afraid of the crowds, who considered Jesus to be a prophet.

Matthew 22

1 Again Jesus spoke to them in parables. He said,

2 "The kingdom from heaven may be compared to a king who gave a wedding banquet for his son.

3 He sent his servants to call those who had been invited to the wedding, but they refused to come.

4 So he sent other servants, saying, 'Tell those who have been invited, "Look, I've prepared my dinner. My oxen and fattened calves have been slaughtered. Everything is ready. Come to the wedding!"'

5 But they paid no attention to this and went away, one to his farm, another to his business.

6 The rest grabbed the king's servants, treated them brutally, and then killed them.

7 Then the king became outraged. He sent his troops, and they destroyed those murderers and burned their city.

8 "Then he told his servants, 'The wedding is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy.

9 So go into the roads leading out of town and invite as many people as you can find to the wedding.'

10 Those servants went out into the streets and brought in everyone they found, evil and good alike, and the wedding hall was packed with guests.

11 "When the king came in to see the guests, he noticed a man there who was not wearing wedding clothes.

12 He asked him, 'Friend, how did you get in here without wedding clothes?' But the man was speechless.

13 Then the king told his servants, 'Tie his hands and feet, and throw him into the darkness outside!' In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth,

14 because many are invited, but few are chosen."

Exodus 23

- 10 "You are to sow your land and gather its crops for six years,
11 but you are to let it rest the seventh year, leaving it unplanted. The poor of your people may eat from it, and the wild animals may eat what they leave. You are to do the same with your vineyards and olive groves.
12 You are to do your work for six days, but on the seventh day you are to refrain from work so that your ox and donkey may rest, and so the son of your maidservant and the alien may be refreshed.
13 "Be careful about everything I've told you, and don't mention the name of other gods. Don't let them be heard in your mouth!
14 "Three times a year you are to celebrate a festival for me.
15 You are to observe the Festival of Unleavened Bread. As I commanded you, you are to eat unleavened bread for seven days at the appointed time in the month Aviv, for in it you came out of Egypt. No one is to appear before me empty handed.
16 You are to observe the Festival of Harvest, celebrating the first fruits of your work in planting the field, and the Festival of Ingathering at the end of the year, when you gather the fruit of your work from the field.
17 Three times a year all your males shall appear in the presence of the Lord God."
18 "You are not to offer the blood of my sacrifice with anything leavened, and you are not to let the fat portion of my sacrifice remain overnight until morning.
19 "You are to bring the best of the first fruits of your soil to the house of the LORD your God. "You are not to boil a young goat in its mother's milk."
20 "Look, I'm sending an angel in front of you to guard you on the way and to bring you to the place I've prepared.
21 Be careful! Be sure to obey him. Don't rebel against him, for he won't forgive your transgression, since my Name is in him.
22 Indeed, if you carefully obey him and do everything that I say, then I'll be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries.
23 For my angel will go ahead of you and will bring you to the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Canaanites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, and I'll annihilate them.
24 You are not to bow down to their gods or serve them. You are not to follow their practices, but you are to completely overthrow them and smash their sacred stones to pieces.
25 You are to serve the LORD your God, and he will bless your food and water, and I'll remove sickness from you.
26 No woman will miscarry or be barren in your land, and I'll make every day of your life complete.
27 "I'll go ahead of you and terrorize all the people to whom you are coming. I'll confuse your enemies and make them turn their backs on you and run away.
28 I'll send hornets ahead of you and they'll drive out the Hivites, the Canaanites, and the Hittites before you.
29 I won't drive them out before you in a single year, so that the land does not become desolate and so that wild animals do not overrun you.
30 I'll drive them out ahead of you little by little until you increase in numbers and possess the land.
31 "I'll set your borders from the Red Sea to the Sea of the Philistines, and from the desert to the Euphrates River, for I'll bring the inhabitants of the land under your control, and you are to drive them out ahead of you.
32 You are not to make a covenant with them or with their gods.

33 They are not to live in your land. Otherwise they will cause you to sin against me. If you worship their gods, it will become a snare for you."

Exodus 24

1 The LORD told Moses, "Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel, and worship at a distance.

2 Only Moses is to approach the LORD, but the others are not to approach; the people are not to come up with him."

3 Then Moses came and reported all the words of the LORD and all the statutes to the people, and they all answered with one voice, "All the things that the LORD has spoken, we will do."

4 So Moses wrote down all the words of the LORD. He got up early in the morning and built an altar with twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel at the bottom of the mountain.

5 He sent young Israeli men to offer up burnt offerings and sacrifice bulls as peace offerings to the LORD.

6 Moses took half the blood and put it in bowls, while he sprinkled the other half on the altar.

7 He took the Book of the Covenant and read it to the people. They said, "All that the LORD has spoken we will do and obey."

8 Moses took the blood, sprinkled it on the people, and said, "This is the blood of the covenant which the LORD made with you based on all these words."

9 Then Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu and seventy of the elders of Israel went up and saw the God of Israel. Under his feet was something like a pavement made of sapphire, and as clear as the sky.

11 Because God did not punish the Israeli leaders, they looked at God, yet lived to eat and drink.

12 Then the LORD told Moses, "Go up to me on the mountain and stay there. I'll give you stone tablets with the instruction and law that I've written to teach the people."

13 Moses got up with Joshua his servant, and went up on the mountain of God.

14 He told the elders, "Wait here for us until we return to you. Look, Aaron and Hur are with you, and whoever has a dispute, let him come to them."

15 When Moses went up on the mountain, the cloud covered it.

16 The glory of the LORD settled on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days. Then on the seventh day he called to Moses from within the cloud.

17 To the Israelis the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a consuming fire on top of the mountain.

18 When Moses went up on the mountain, he went into the centre of the cloud and was on the mountain for 40 days and 40 nights.

Exodus 25

1 The LORD told Moses,

2 "Tell the Israelis to take an offering for me, and you are to accept my offering from every person whose heart moves him to give.

3 This is the offering that you are to accept from them: gold, silver, and bronze;

4 blue, purple, and scarlet material; fine linen and goat hair;

5 ram skins dyed red, dolphin skins, and acacia wood;

6 oil for lighting, spices for the anointing oil and for aromatic incense;

7 onyx stones, stones for setting on the ephod and the breast piece.

8 Let them make a sanctuary for me so I may dwell among them.

9 This is how you are to make it: according to all that I'm showing you, according to the pattern for the tent and the pattern for all its furnishings."

10 "They are to make an ark of acacia wood, 45 inches long, 27 inches wide, and 27 inches high.

11 You are to overlay it with pure gold — you are to overlay it inside and outside — and you are to make a gold moulding around it.

12 You are to cast four rings for it and put them on its four feet, two rings on one side of it and two rings on its other side.

13 You are to make poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

14 You are to put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark with which to carry it.

15 The poles are to remain in the rings of the ark and are not to be removed from it.

16 You are to put the Testimony that I will give you into the ark.

17 "You are to make a Mercy Seat of pure gold, 45 inches long and 27 inches wide.

18 You are to make two cherubim of gold; you are to make them of hammered work at the two ends of the Mercy Seat.

19 Place one cherub at one end and one cherub at the other end. You are to make the cherubim at the two ends of the Mercy Seat, and of one piece with it.

20 The cherubim shall spread their wings upward, covering the Mercy Seat with their wings and facing each other. The faces of the cherubim shall be turned toward the Mercy Seat.

21 You are to put the Mercy Seat on top of the ark, and put the Testimony that I'll give you into the ark.

22 I'll meet with you there, and I'll tell you all my commandments for the Israelis from above the Mercy Seat, from between the two cherubim that are on the Ark of the Testimony.

Matthew 22

15 Then the Pharisees went and planned how to trap Jesus in conversation.

16 They sent their disciples to him along with the Herodians. They said, "Teacher, we know that you are sincere and that you teach the way of God truthfully. You don't favour any individual, because you pay no attention to external appearance.

17 So tell us what you think. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not?"

18 Recognizing their wickedness, Jesus asked, "Why are you testing me, you hypocrites?

19 Show me the coin used for the tax." They brought him a denarius.

20 Then he asked them, "Whose face and name is this?"

21 They told him, "Caesar's." So he told them, "Then give back to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's."

22 When they heard this, they were amazed. Then they left him and went away.

23 That same day some Sadducees, who claim there is no resurrection, came to Jesus and asked him,

24 "Teacher, Moses said, 'If a man dies having no children, his brother must marry the widow and have children for his brother.'

25 Now there were seven brothers among us. The first one married and died, and since he had no children, he left his widow to his brother.

26 The same thing happened with the second brother, and then the third, and finally with the rest of the brothers.

27 Finally, the woman died, too.

28 Now in the resurrection, whose wife of the seven will she be, since all of them had married her?"

29 Jesus answered them, "You are mistaken because you don't know the Scriptures or God's power, 30 because in the resurrection, people neither marry nor are given in marriage but are like the angels in heaven.

31 As for the resurrection from the dead, haven't you read what was spoken to you by God when he said,

32 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'? He is not the God of the dead, but of the living."

33 When the crowds heard this, they were amazed at his teaching.

Exodus 25

- 23 "You are to make a table of acacia wood, three feet long, a foot and a half wide, and 27 inches high.
- 24 You are to overlay it with pure gold, and put a gold moulding around it.
- 25 You are to make a three-inch wide rim around it, and you are to make a gold moulding around the rim.

- 27 The rings shall be close to the rim as holders for the poles to carry the table.
- 28 You are to make the poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with gold so the table can be carried with them.
- 29 You are to make its plates, dishes, jars, and bowls from which libations will be poured, and you are to make them of pure gold.
- 30 You are to put the bread of the Presence on the table before me continually."
- 31 "You are to make a lamp stand of pure gold: the lamp stand and its base and stem shall be of hammered work, and its cups, calyxes, and flowers shall be of one piece with it.
- 32 Six branches shall extend from its sides, three branches of the lamp stand from one side of it and three branches of the lamp stand from its other side.
- 33 Three cups shaped like almond blossoms with calyxes and flowers shall be on one branch and three cups shaped like almond blossoms with calyxes and flowers shall be on the other branch, and so for the six branches extending from the lamp stand.
- 34 "On the lamp stand itself there shall be four cups shaped like almond blossoms with their calyxes and flowers.
- 35 A calyx is to be under the two branches that extend out of the stem; a calyx is to be under the next pair of branches that extend out of the stem; and a calyx is to be under the last pair of branches that extend out of the stem, and so for the six branches extending from the lamp stand.
- 36 Their calyxes and their branches shall be of one piece with it; all of it is to be made of one piece of hammered work of pure gold.
- 37 "You are to make seven lamps for it, and its lamps shall be mounted so as to give light in front of it.
- 38 Its tongs and trays shall be of pure gold.
- 39 The lamp stand and all its furnishings shall be made from a talent of pure gold.
- 40 Now see that you make them according to the pattern for them which you are being shown on the mountain."

Exodus 26

- 1 "You are to make the tent with ten curtains of fine woven linen and with blue, purple, and scarlet material. You are to make them with cherubim skilfully worked into them.
- 2 The length of each curtain is to be 42 feet, the width of each curtain six feet, and all the curtains shall have the same measurements.
- 3 "Five of the curtains shall be joined together, and the other five curtains shall be joined together.
- 4 You are to make loops of blue material along the edge of the outermost curtain in the first set, and likewise you are to make loops along the edge of the outermost curtain in the second set.
- 5 You are to make 50 loops in the one curtain, and you are to make 50 loops along the edge of the curtain that is in the second set, with the loops opposite each other.
- 6 Then you are to make 50 gold clasps, and join the curtains to each other with the clasps so that the tent will be one piece.

7 "You are to make curtains of goat hair for a tent over the tent. You are to make 11 curtains.

8 The length of each curtain is to be 45 feet, and the width of each curtain six feet; the measurements of each of the 11 curtains is to be the same.

9 You are to join five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and you are to double over the sixth curtain at the front of the tent.

10 You are to make 50 loops along the edge of the outermost curtain in the first set, and 50 loops along the edge of the curtain of the other set.

11 You are to make 50 bronze clasps, put the clasps into the loops, and join the tent together so that it will be one piece.

12 As for the excess that remains of the curtains of the tent — the half curtain that remains — is to hang over the back of the tent.

13 The nine inches that remain on either end of the length of the curtains of the tent is to hang over each side of the tent to cover it.

14 "You are to make a cover for the tent of ram skins dyed red and a covering of dolphin skins above that.

15 "You are to make upright boards of acacia wood for the tent.

16 Each board is to be fifteen feet long and 27 inches wide.

17 Each board is to have two pegs joined to one another, and you are to do this for all the boards of the tent.

18 You are to make the boards for the tent: twenty boards for the south side.

19 And you are to make 40 silver sockets under the twenty boards: two sockets under the one board for its two pegs and two sockets under the next board for its two pegs.

20 "For the second side of the tent to the north you are to make twenty boards

21 and 40 silver sockets for them, two sockets under one board and two sockets under the next board.

22 On the west you are to make six boards for the rear of the tent,

23 and you are to make two boards for the rear corners of the tent.

24 They shall be interlocked together at the bottom and connected on top by one ring. Do this for the two of them, and they are to be the two corners.

25 There shall be eight boards with their sixteen silver sockets, two sockets under one board and two sockets under the next board.

26 "You are to make bars of acacia wood, five for the boards on one side of the tent,

27 five bars for the boards on the second side of the tent, and five bars for the boards on the back side of the tent to the west.

28 The centre bar in the middle of the boards is to pass through from end to end.

29 You are to overlay the boards with gold, and you are to make gold rings for them as holders for the bars, and you are to overlay the bars with gold.

30 You are to erect the tent according to the plan for it that was shown you on the mountain.

31 "You are to make a curtain of blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen. You are to make it with cherubim skilfully worked into it.

32 You are to hang it on four pillars of acacia overlaid with gold, which have hooks of gold, and are set on four sockets of silver.

33 You are to hang the curtain from the clasps and bring the Ark of the Testimony there inside the curtain. The curtain is to separate for you the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place.

34 "You are to put the Mercy Seat on the Ark of the Testimony in the Most Holy Place.

35 You are to put the table outside the curtain. You are to put the table on the north side with the lamp stand opposite the table on the south side of the tent.

36 For the doorway of the tent you are to make a screen of blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen, the work of an embroiderer.

37 You are to make five pillars of acacia for the screens and overlay them with gold. Their hooks shall be of gold, and you are to cast five bronze sockets for them."

Exodus 27

1 "You are to make the altar of acacia wood. It is to be seven and a half feet long, seven and a half feet wide; the altar is to be a square, and it is to be four and a half feet high.

2 You are to make horns on its four corners. Its corners shall be of one piece with it, and you are to overlay it with bronze.

3 You are to make pans for removing its ashes, shovels, bowls, forks, and fire-pans for it, and you are to make all its utensils of bronze.

4 You are to make a lattice, a netting of bronze for it, and you are to make four bronze rings on the netting at its four corners.

5 You are to put it under the ledge of the altar, so that the netting extends halfway up the altar.

6 You are to make poles for the altar, poles of acacia wood, and you are to overlay them with bronze.

7 The poles for it shall be put through the rings, so the poles will be on the two sides of the altar when it's carried.

8 You are to make it hollow out of boards — just as it was shown you on the mountain, so they are to make it."

Matthew 22

34 When the Pharisees heard that Jesus had silenced the Sadducees, they met together in the same place.

35 One of them, an expert in the Law, tested him by asking,

36 "Teacher, which is the greatest commandment in the Law?"

37 Jesus told him, "'You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind.'

38 This is the greatest and most important commandment.

39 The second is exactly like it: 'You must love your neighbour as yourself.'

40 All the Law and the Prophets depend on these two commandments."

41 While the Pharisees were still gathered, Jesus asked them,

42 "What do you think about the Messiah? Whose son is he?" They told him, "David's."

43 He asked them, "Then how can David by the Spirit call him 'Lord' when he says,

44 'The Lord told my Lord, "Sit at my right hand, until I put your enemies under your feet.'?"

45 If David calls him 'Lord', how can he be his son?"

46 No one could answer him at all, and from that day on no one dared to ask him another question.

Matthew 23

1 Then Jesus told the crowds and to his disciples,

2 "The scribes and the Pharisees administer the authority of Moses,

3 So do whatever they tell you and follow it, but stop doing what they do, because they don't do what they say.

4 They tie up burdens that are heavy and unbearable and lay them on people's shoulders, but they refuse to lift a finger to remove them.

5 "They do everything to be seen by people. They increase the size of their phylacteries and lengthen the tassels of their garments.

6 They love to have the places of honour at feasts, the best seats in the synagogues,

7 to be greeted in the marketplaces, and to be called 'Rabbi' by people.

8 "But you are not to be called 'Rabbi,' because you have only one teacher, and all of you are brothers.

Exodus 27

9 "You are to make the court of the tent. On the south side there shall be hangings of fine woven linen for the court, 150 feet long on one side.

10 It is to have twenty pillars, with twenty bronze sockets, and the hooks of the pillars and their bands shall be of silver.

11 Likewise for the length of the north side there shall be hangings 150 feet long, and it is to have twenty pillars with twenty bronze sockets, and the hooks of the pillars and their bands shall be of silver.

12 "The width of the court on the west side is to have hangings 75 feet long with ten pillars and ten sockets.

13 The width of the court on the east side is to be 75 feet.

14 The hangings for the one section shall be twenty-two and a half feet, with their three pillars and three sockets.

15 "For the second section there shall be hangings of twenty-two and a half feet with their three pillars and three sockets.

16 There is to be a screen of 30 feet of blue, purple, and scarlet material and fine woven linen, the work of an embroiderer, for the gate of the court, and it is to have four pillars and four sockets.

17 All the pillars around the court shall be banded with silver. Their hooks shall be of silver and their sockets of bronze.

18 The length of the court is to be 150 feet, the width 75 feet, and the height seven and a half feet, with the hangings of fine woven linen, and the sockets of bronze.

19 All the utensils of the tent for its service, all its pegs, and all the pegs for the court shall be of bronze."

20 "And you are to command the Israelis to bring you pure olive oil, extracted by hand, for the light in order to keep the lamp burning continually.

21 In the Tent of Meeting, outside the curtain that is before the Testimony, Aaron and his sons shall maintain the lamp stand from evening until morning in the LORD's presence. It is to be a perpetual ordinance from generation to generation among the Israelis."

Exodus 28

1 "You are to bring your brother Aaron, along with his sons, from among the Israelis so they can serve as priests for me: Aaron and his sons, Nadab and Abihu, Eleazar and Ithamar.

2 You are to make holy garments for Aaron your brother, for dignity and beauty.

3 You are to speak to all who are skilled, whom I've endowed with talent, that they should make Aaron's garments for consecrating him to serve me as priest.

4 These are the garments that they are to make: a breast piece, an ephod, a robe, a chequered tunic, a turban, and a sash. They shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother and for his sons to serve me as priests.

5 They shall use gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material, as well as fine linen."

6 "They shall make the ephod of gold, along with blue, purple, and scarlet material and fine woven linen, all of it skilfully worked.

7 It is to have two shoulder-pieces attached to its two edges so it can be joined together.

8 The skilfully woven band that is on it is to be made like it, of one piece with it: of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen.

9 You are to take two onyx stones and engrave the names of the sons of Israel on them,

10 six of their names on one stone, and the six remaining names on the other stone.

Engrave them according to their order of birth.

11 With work like a jeweller engraves on a signet, you are to inscribe the two stones with the names of the sons of Israel, and you are to mount them in settings of gold filigree.

12 You are to put the two stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as stones of remembrance for the sons of Israel, and Aaron is to carry their names into the LORD's presence on his two shoulders for remembrance.

13 You are to make settings of gold filigree,

14 and you are to make two chains of pure gold twisted like cords, and then fasten the twisted chains to the filigree settings."

15 "You are to make a breast piece to be worn by the high priest when he makes legal decisions. It is to be skilfully worked, made like the work of the ephod from gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material, and from fine woven linen.

16 It is to be square when folded double, nine inches long and nine inches wide.

17 You are to mount on it a setting for four rows of stones. The first row is to contain carnelian, topaz, and emerald;

18 the second row ruby, sapphire, and crystal;

19 the third row jacinth, agate, and amethyst;

20 the fourth row beryl, onyx, and jasper, and they are to be set in gold filigree.

21 The stones shall correspond to the names of the sons of Israel, twelve stones corresponding to their names. They shall be engraved like a signet, each with the name of one of the twelve tribes.

22 "You are to make chains of pure gold, twisted like cords for the breast piece.

23 You are to make two gold rings for the breast piece, and put the two rings on the two edges of the breast piece.

24 You are to put the two gold cords on the two gold rings at the edges of the breast piece,

25 and you are to attach the other two ends of the two cords to the filigree settings and attach them to the shoulder pieces of the ephod in front.

26 "You are to make two gold rings and attach them to the two edges of the breast piece, on the side of it which is toward the inner side of the ephod.

27 You are to make two gold rings and attach them in front on the lower part of the two shoulder pieces of the ephod close to the place where it's joined, above the skilfully woven band of the ephod.

28 They shall fasten the rings on the breast piece to the rings on the ephod with a blue cord so it will rest on the skilfully woven band of the ephod and so the breast piece won't come loose from the ephod.

29 "Aaron is to carry the names of Israel's sons on his heart on the breast piece to be worn by the high priest when he makes legal decisions whenever he goes into the Holy Place in order to remember them in the LORD's presence continually.

30 You are to put the Urim and Thummim into the breast piece of judgement, and they are to be on Aaron's heart when he goes into the LORD's presence. He is to carry the breast piece of Israel's sons on his heart in the LORD's presence continually.

31 "You are to make the robe of the ephod entirely of blue.

32 There is to be an opening at its top, in the middle, with a woven binding around the opening like the opening of a coat of mail so that it cannot be torn.

33 On its hem you are to make blue and purple and scarlet pomegranates, all around the skirt, with gold bells between them all the way around.

34 You are to have a gold bell and a pomegranate, then a gold bell and a pomegranate, on the hem of the robe all the way around it.

35 Aaron is to wear the robe when he ministers so its sound may be heard when he enters and leaves the Holy Place in the LORD's presence, so that he won't die.

36 "You are to make a medallion of pure gold, and engrave on it 'Holy to the LORD,' like the engravings of a signet.

37 You are to put it on a blue cord and place it on the turban. It is to be on the front of the turban

38 and worn on Aaron's forehead in order to take away any guilt contained in the holy things which the Israelis consecrate as holy gifts. It is to remain on his forehead continually, so they may be accepted in the LORD's presence.

39 You are to weave the chequered tunic of fine linen, you are to make a turban of fine linen, and you are to make an embroidered sash.

40 "You are to make tunics for the sons of Aaron, you are to make sashes for them, and you are to make head coverings for them for dignity and beauty.

41 You are to put them on Aaron your brother, and on his sons with him, and shall anoint them and ordain them and consecrate them to serve as my priests.

42 You are to make linen undergarments for them to cover their naked flesh, and they are to reach from the loins to the thighs.

43 They shall be on Aaron and his sons when they enter the Tent of Meeting or when they approach the altar to minister in the Holy Place so they don't incur guilt and die. This is to be a perpetual ordinance for him and his descendants after him."

Exodus 29

1 "This is what you are to do to them to consecrate them to serve me as priests: Take a young bull, two rams without blemish,

2 unleavened bread, unleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers spread with oil, which you are to make from fine wheat flour.

3 You are to put them in one basket and bring them in the basket along with the bull and the two rams.

4 You are to bring Aaron and his sons to the doorway of the Tent of Meeting, and wash them with water.

5 Take the garments and clothe Aaron with the tunic, the robe of the ephod, the ephod, and the breast piece, and then gird him with the skilfully woven band of the ephod.

6 Then put the turban on his head, and place the holy crown on the turban.

7 You are to take the anointing oil, pour it on his head, and anoint him.

8 Then you are to bring his sons and clothe them with tunics.

9 You are to gird Aaron and his sons with sashes and tie headdresses on them. The priesthood is to belong to them by perpetual ordinance, and you are to ordain Aaron and his sons.

Matthew 23

9 And don't call anyone on earth 'Father,' because you have only one Father, the one in heaven.

10 Nor are you to be called 'Teachers,' because you have only one teacher, the Messiah!

11 The person who is greatest among you must be your servant.

12 Whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

13 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You shut the door to the kingdom from heaven in people's faces. You don't go in yourselves, and you don't allow those who are trying to enter to go in.

14 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You devour widows' houses and say long prayers to cover it up. Therefore, you will receive greater condemnation!

15 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to make a single convert, and when this happens you make him twice as fit for hell as you are.

16 "How terrible it will be for you, blind guides! You say, 'Whoever swears an oath by the sanctuary is excused, but whoever swears an oath by the gold of the sanctuary must keep his oath.'

17 You blind fools! What is more important, the gold or the sanctuary that made the gold holy?

18 Again you say, 'Whoever swears an oath by the altar is excused, but whoever swears by the gift that is on it must keep his oath.'

19 You blind men! Which is more important, the gift or the altar that makes the gift holy?

20 Therefore, the one who swears an oath by the altar swears by it and by everything on it.

21 The one who swears an oath by the sanctuary swears by it and by the one who lives there.

22 And the one who swears an oath by heaven swears by God's throne and by the one who sits on it.

23 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You give a tenth of your mint, dill, and cumin, but have neglected the more important matters of the Law: justice, mercy, and faithfulness. These are the things you should have practised, without neglecting the others.

24 You blind guides! You filter out a gnat, yet swallow a camel!

25 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You clean the outside of the cup and the plate, but on the inside they are full of greed and self-indulgence.

26 You blind Pharisee! First clean the inside of the cup, so that its outside may also be clean.

27 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You are like whitewashed tombs that look beautiful on the outside but inside are full of dead people's bones and every kind of impurity.

28 In the same way, on the outside you look righteous to people, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.

29 "How terrible it will be for you, scribes and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets and decorate the monuments of the righteous.

30 Then you say, 'If we had been living in the days of our ancestors, we would have had no part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.'

31 Therefore, you testify against yourselves that you are descendants of those who murdered the prophets.

32 Then finish what your ancestors started!

33 You snakes, you children of serpents! How can you escape being condemned to hell?

Exodus 29

10 "You are to bring the bull in front of the Tent of Meeting, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the bull.

11 Then you are to slaughter the bull in the LORD's presence at the doorway of the Tent of Meeting.

12 Take some of the blood of the bull, put it on the horns of the altar with your finger, and pour out the rest of the blood at the base of the altar.

13 You are to take all the fat that covers the entrails, the lobe of the liver, the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them and send them up in smoke on the altar.

14 You are to burn the flesh of the bull, its hide, and its refuse with fire outside the camp. It is a sin offering.

15 "You are to take one of the rams, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on its head.

16 Then you are to slaughter the ram, take its blood, and scatter it around the altar.

17 You are to cut the ram into pieces, wash its entrails and legs, put them on the altar along with the pieces and its head,

18 and send up the whole ram in smoke on the altar. It is a burnt offering to the LORD; it's a soothing aroma, an offering by fire to the LORD.

19 "You are to take the other ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

20 You are to slaughter the ram, take some of its blood, and put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear, the lobe of his sons' right ears, the thumbs of their right hands, and the big toes of their right feet. Then you are to scatter the rest of the blood around the altar.

21 You are to take some of the blood which is on the altar, along with some of the anointing oil, and sprinkle it on Aaron and his garments, and on his sons and their garments. He is to be consecrated with his garments, along with his sons and their garments

22 "You are to take the fat from the ram, the fat tail, the fat that covers the entrails, the lobe of the liver, the two kidneys and the fat that is on them, the right thigh (for it's a ram of ordination),

23 and one loaf of bread, one cake of bread mixed with oil, and one wafer out of the basket of unleavened bread that is in the LORD's presence.

24 You are to put all of these in the hands of Aaron and in the hands of his sons, and present them as a wave offering in the LORD's presence.

25 Then you are to take them from their hands and send them up in smoke on the altar on top of the burnt offering for a soothing aroma in the LORD's presence. It is an offering by fire to the LORD.

26 "You are to take the breast of the ram of Aaron's ordination, and present it as a wave offering in the LORD's presence, and it is to be your portion.

27 You are to consecrate the portion of the ram of ordination that belongs to Aaron and his sons: the breast of the wave offering that was waved and the thigh of the presented offering that was presented.

28 These offerings from the Israelis shall be a perpetual ordinance for Aaron and his sons. They are presented offerings, and they are to be presented offerings from the Israelis out of their peace offerings. They are presented offerings to the LORD.

29 "The holy garments of Aaron shall be for his sons after him so that they may be anointed in them and ordained in them.

30 Aaron's son who is priest in his place is to wear them for seven days when he comes into the Tent of Meeting to minister in the Holy Place.

31 "You are to take the ram of ordination and boil its flesh in a Holy Place.

32 Then Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram along with the bread that is in the basket at the doorway of the Tent of Meeting.

33 They shall eat these things by which atonement was made at their ordination to consecrate them, but an unqualified person is not to eat because these things are holy.

34 If any of the flesh of the ordination ram or any of the bread is left until morning, you are to burn what is left with fire. Because it's holy, what remains is not to be eaten.

35 You are to do this for Aaron and his sons, just as I've commanded you. You are to ordain them for seven days,

36 and every day you are to offer a bull as a sin offering for atonement. Offer the sin offering on the altar when you make atonement for it and anoint the altar to consecrate it.

37 You are to make atonement for the altar for seven days and consecrate it. It will be most holy, and whatever touches it will be holy."

38 "This is what you are to offer on the altar continually: two one year old lambs each day.

39 "You are to offer one lamb in the morning and the other at twilight,

40 and there is to be a tenth measure of choice flour mixed with one quart of oil extracted by hand, and one quart of wine as a drink offering for one lamb.

41 You are to offer the other lamb at twilight with the same grain offering and drink offering as in the morning. You are to offer it as a soothing aroma, an offering by fire to the LORD.

42 It is to be a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the doorway to the Tent of Meeting in the LORD's presence, where I'll meet with you to speak to you there.

43 "I'll meet there with the Israelis, and it is to be consecrated by my glory.

44 I'll consecrate the Tent of Meeting and the altar, and I'll consecrate Aaron and his sons to serve as my priests.

45 I'll dwell among the Israelis, and I'll be their God.

46 They shall know that I am the LORD their God who brought them out of Egypt so I might dwell among them. I am the LORD your God."

Exodus 30

1 "You are to make an altar for burning incense. You are to make it of acacia wood.

2 It is to be a square, one and a half feet long and one and a half feet wide, and it is to be three feet high, with its horns of one piece with it.

3 You are to overlay it with pure gold, its top, its sides all around, and its horns, and you are to make a moulding of gold all around it.

4 "You are to make two gold rings for it under its moulding; you are to make them on its two opposite sides, and they are to be holders for poles by which to carry it.

5 You are to make the poles of acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

6 You are to put the altar in front of the curtain that is over the Ark of the Testimony, in front of the Mercy Seat that is over the Testimony where I'll meet with you.

7 Aaron is to offer fragrant incense on it. Every morning when he trims the lamps he is to offer it,

8 and when Aaron sets up the lamps at twilight, he is to offer it as a continual incense offering in the LORD's presence throughout your generations.

9 You are not to offer strange incense, a burnt offering, or a grain offering on it, nor are you to pour out a libation on it.

10 Each year Aaron is to make atonement on its horns with the blood of the sin offering of atonement. He is to make atonement on it each year throughout your generations. It is most holy to the LORD.

11 The LORD told Moses,

12 "When you take a census of the Israelis to register them, each is to give a ransom for himself to the LORD when they're registered so there won't be a plague among them when they're registered.

13 This is what everyone who is registered is to give: half a shekel according to the shekel of the sanctuary (the shekel is twenty gerahs), half a shekel as a contribution to the LORD.

14 All who are registered, twenty years of age and older, shall give a contribution to the LORD.

15 The rich is not to give more nor shall the poor give less than the half shekel, when you give a contribution to the LORD to make atonement for yourselves.

16 You are to take the atonement money from the Israelis and give it for the service of the Tent of Meeting, and it is to be a memorial for the Israelis in the LORD's presence to make atonement for yourselves."

17 The LORD told Moses,

18 "You are to make a bronze basin with a bronze base for washing. You are to put it between the Tent of Meeting and the altar and put water in it,

19 and Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet from it.

20 When they enter the Tent of Meeting or when they approach the altar to minister to make an offering by fire to the LORD, they are to wash with water so they don't die.

21 They shall wash their hands and their feet so that they don't die, and it is to be for them a perpetual ordinance for Aaron and his seed from generation to generation."

Matthew 23

34 "That is why I am sending you prophets, wise men, and scribes. Some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will whip in your synagogues and persecute from town to town.

35 As a result, you will be held accountable for all the righteous blood shed on earth, from the blood of the righteous Abel to the blood of Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, whom you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar.

36 I tell you with certainty, all these things will happen to those living today."

37 "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, who kills the prophets and stones to death those who have been sent to her! How often I wanted to gather your children together as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were unwilling!

38 Look! Your house is left abandoned!

39 I tell you, you will not see me again until you say, 'How blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord!'"

Matthew 24

1 As Jesus left the Temple and was walking away, his disciples came up to him to point out to him the Temple buildings.

2 But he told them, "You see all these things, don't you? I tell you with certainty, there isn't a single stone here that will be left standing on top of another. They will all be torn down."

3 While Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to him privately and said, "Tell us, when will these things take place, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the age?"

4 Jesus answered them, "See to it that no one deceives you,

5 because many will come in my name and say, 'I am the Messiah,' and they will deceive many people.

6 You are going to hear of wars and rumours of wars. See to it that you are not alarmed. These things must take place, but the end hasn't come yet,

7 because nation will rise up in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places.

8 But all these things are only the beginning of the birth pains."

9 "Then they will hand you over to suffer and will kill you, and you will be hated by all the nations because of my name.

10 Then many people will fall away, will betray one another, and will hate one another.

11 Many false prophets will appear and deceive many people,

12 and because lawlessness will increase, the love of many people will grow cold.

13 But the person who endures to the end will be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom will be proclaimed throughout the world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come."

Exodus 30

22 The LORD told Moses,
23 "You are to take for yourself the finest spices: 500 shekels of liquid myrrh, half as much fragrant cinnamon (250 shekels), 250 shekels of fragrant reeds,
24 500 shekels of cassia — all according to the shekel of the sanctuary — and a gallon of olive oil.
25 You are to make them into a holy anointing oil, a perfume mixture made by a perfumer. It is to be a holy anointing oil.
26 "With it you are to anoint the Tent of Meeting, the Ark of the Testimony,
27 the table and all its utensils, the lamp stand and its utensils, the altar of incense,
28 the altar for burnt offerings and all its utensils, and the basin and its base.
29 You are to consecrate them and they are to be most holy. Whatever touches them shall be holy.
30 You are to anoint Aaron and his sons, and you are to consecrate them to serve as my priests.
31 You are to speak to the Israelis saying, 'This is to be holy anointing oil for me from generation to generation.
32 It is not to be poured out on a person's body, nor are you to make anything like it with similar formulations. It is holy, and it is to be holy to you.
33 Anyone who mixes anything like it or who puts any of it on an unqualified person is to be cut off from his people.'"
34 The LORD told Moses, "Take for yourself spices: stacte, onycha, galbanum, and spices with pure frankincense, all in equal amounts.
35 You are to make it into a fragrant incense, expertly blended, pure, and holy.
36 You are to grind some of it fine, and put some before the Testimony in the Tent of Meeting where I shall meet with you. It is to be most holy to you.
37 You are not to make the incense that you make in this formulation for your own use. It is to be holy to the LORD for you.
38 Anyone who makes anything like it to use it as perfume is to be cut off from his people."

Exodus 31

1 The LORD told Moses,
2 "Look, I've called Uri's son Bezalel, grandson of Hur from Judah's tribe
3 and I've filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, understanding, knowledge, and all kinds of craftsmanship
4 to create plans for work in gold, silver, and bronze,
5 and for cutting stones to set them, for carving wood, and for doing all kinds of craftsmanship.
6 "I'm now appointing with him Ahisamach's son Oholiab from the tribe of Dan, and I've given wisdom to all who are skilled so they can make everything that I've commanded you,
7 including the Tent of Meeting, the Ark of the Testimony, the Mercy Seat that is on it, all the furnishings of the tent —
8 the table and its furnishings, the lamp stand of pure gold, all its furnishings, the altar of incense,
9 the altar for burnt offerings, its furnishings, the basin, its base,
10 the woven garments, the holy garments of Aaron the priest, the garments of his sons as they serve as priests,
11 the anointing oil, and the fragrant incense for the Holy Place. They are to make them in accordance with everything that I commanded you."

12 The LORD told Moses,
13 "You are to speak to the Israelis: 'You are to surely observe my Sabbaths because it's a sign between me and you from generation to generation, so you may know that I am the LORD who sanctifies you.
14 You are to observe the Sabbath, because it's holy for you. Whoever profanes it shall surely die; indeed, whoever does work on it is to be cut off from among his people.
15 Work may be done for six days, but the seventh day is a Sabbath of complete rest, holy to the LORD. Whoever does work on the Sabbath shall surely die.
16 The Israelis shall keep the Sabbath to make the Sabbath observance a perpetual covenant from generation to generation.
17 It is a sign forever between me and the Israelis, for in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, but on the seventh day he rested and was refreshed."
18 When he finished speaking with Moses on Mount Sinai, he gave him the two Tablets of the Testimony, tablets of stone written by the finger of God.

Exodus 32

1 When the people saw that Moses took a long time to come down the mountain, they gathered around Aaron and told him, "Come here and make us a god who will go before us, because, as for this fellow Moses who led us out of the land of Egypt, we don't know what has become of him."
2 Aaron told them, "Tear off the gold rings which are in the ears of your wives, your sons, and your daughters and bring them to me."
3 All the people tore off the gold rings which were in their ears and brought them to him.
4 He took them from them and, using a tool, fashioned them into a molten calf. The people said, "This, Israel, is your god who brought you out of the land of Egypt."
5 When Aaron saw this, he built an altar in front of it, and then he proclaimed, "Tomorrow is to be a festival to the LORD."
6 They got up early the next day and offered burnt offerings and brought peace offerings. Then the people sat down to eat and drink, and then they got up to play.
7 The LORD told Moses, "Go down immediately, for your people whom you led out of Egypt have behaved corruptly.
8 They have been quick to turn aside from the way I commanded them, and they have made for themselves a molten calf. They have bowed down to it in worship, they have offered sacrifices to it, and they have said, 'This, Israel, is your god who brought you out of the land of Egypt.'"
9 Then the LORD told Moses, "I've seen these people and indeed they're obstinate.
10 Now let me alone so that my anger may burn against them and that I may consume them, but I'll make a great nation of you."
11 But Moses implored the LORD his God: "LORD, why are you angry with your people whom you brought out of the land of Egypt with great power and a show of force?
12 Why should the Egyptians say, 'He brought them out with an evil intention to kill them in the mountains and to destroy them from the face of the earth'? Turn from your anger and change your mind about the calamity against your people.
13 Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, your servants to whom you swore by yourself as you told them, 'I'll increase the number of your descendants like the stars of the heavens, I'll give your descendants all of this land about which I have spoken, and they are to possess it forever.'"
14 So the LORD changed his mind about the calamity he had said he would bring on his people.
15 Then Moses turned and went down the mountain with the two Tablets of the Testimony in his hand, tablets which were written on both sides. They were written on one side and the other.

16 The tablets were the work of God and the writing was God's writing, inscribed on the tablets.

17 When Joshua heard the sound of the people as they shouted, he told Moses, "The sound of war is coming from the camp."

18 Moses said, "It is not the sound of a victory shout, and it's not the sound of a shout of defeat, but it's the sound of singing that I hear."

19 As Moses approached the camp and saw the calf and the dancing, he became angry. He threw the tablets from his hands and shattered them at the base of the mountain.

20 He took the calf that they had made, burned it with fire, and ground it into powder. He scattered it on the water and made the Israelis drink it.

21 Then Moses told Aaron, "What did this people do to you that you brought such great sin upon them?"

22 Aaron said, "Sir, don't be angry. You know the people — that they're intent on evil.

23 They told me, 'Make a god for us who will go before us because, as for this fellow Moses who brought us out of the land of Egypt, we don't know what has become of him.'

24 So I told them, 'Whoever has gold ornaments, tear them off.' When they gave it to me, I threw it into the fire, and out came this calf."

Matthew 24

15 "So when you see the destructive desecration, mentioned by the prophet Daniel, standing in the Holy Place (let the reader take note),
16 then those who are in Judea must flee to the mountains.
17 Anyone who's on the housetop must not come down to get what is in his house,
18 and anyone who's in the field must not turn back to get his coat.
19 "How terrible it will be for women who are pregnant or who are nursing babies in those days!
20 Pray that it may not be in winter or on a Sabbath when you flee,
21 because at that time there will be great suffering, the kind that has not happened from the beginning of the world until now and certainly will never happen again.
22 If those days had not been limited, no one would survive. But for the sake of the elect, those days will be limited.
23 "At that time, if anyone says to you, 'Look! Here is the Messiah!' or 'There he is!', don't believe it,
24 because false messiahs and false prophets will appear and display great signs and wonders to deceive, if possible, even the elect.
25 Remember, I have told you this beforehand.
26 So if they say to you, 'Look! He's in the wilderness,' don't go out looking for him. And if they say, 'Look! He's in the storeroom,' don't believe it,
27 because just as the lightning comes from the east and flashes as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man.
28 Wherever there's a corpse, there the vultures will gather.
29 "Immediately after the troubles of those days, 'The sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light, the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of heaven will be shaken loose.'
30 Then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all 'the tribes of the land will mourn' when they see 'the Son of Man coming on the clouds of heaven' with power and great glory.
31 He will send out his angels with a loud trumpet blast, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to another."
32 "Now learn a lesson from the fig tree. When its branches become tender and it produces leaves, you know that summer is near.
33 In the same way, when you see all these things, you will know that the Son of Man is near, right at the door.
34 I tell you with certainty, this generation will not disappear until these things happen.
35 Heaven and earth will disappear, but my words will never disappear."
36 "No one knows when that day or hour will come — not the angels in heaven, nor the Son, but only the Father,
37 because just as it was in the days of Noah, so it will be when the Son of Man comes.
38 In those days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage right up to the day when Noah went into the ark.
39 They were unaware of what was happening until the flood came and swept all of them away. That's how it will be when the Son of Man comes.
40 At that time two people will be in the field. One will be taken, and one will be left behind.
41 Two women will be grinding grain at the mill. One will be taken, and one will be left behind.
42 "So keep on watching, because you don't know on what day your Lord is coming.

Exodus 32

25 When Moses saw that the people were out of control — for Aaron had let them get out of control, something that brought ridicule from their enemies —

26 he stood in the gate of the camp and called out: "Whoever is for the LORD come over to me," and all the sons of Levi gathered around him.

27 He told them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says, 'Every man put his sword on his thigh, and go back and forth from gate to gate in the camp, and each of you kill his brother and friend and neighbour.'"

28 The descendants of Levi did just as Moses told them, and about 3,000 people died that day.

29 Moses said, "You have been ordained to serve the LORD today, and you have brought a blessing on yourselves today because every man opposed his son or brother."

30 The next day Moses told the people, "You committed a great sin, and now I'll go up to the LORD, and perhaps I can make atonement for your sin."

31 Moses returned to the LORD and said, "Please, LORD, this people committed a great sin by making a god of gold for themselves.

32 Now, if you will, forgive their sin — but if not, blot me out of your book which you have written."

33 The LORD told Moses, "Whoever sins against me, I'll blot him out of my book.

34 Now, go, and lead the people where I told you, and now my angel will go before you, but on the day when I do punish, I'll punish them for their sin."

35 Then the LORD sent a plague on the people because they made the calf (the one Aaron made).

Exodus 33

1 The LORD told Moses, "Go up from here, you and the people whom you brought out of Egypt, to the land about which I swore to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob saying, 'I'll give it to your descendants.'"

2 I'll send an angel in front of you and I'll drive out the Canaanites, the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites.

3 Go up to a land flowing with milk and honey, but I won't go up among you, because you are an obstinate people, and otherwise I might consume you along the way."

4 When the people heard this troubling word, they mourned, and no one put on his ornaments.

5 The LORD had told Moses, "Say to the Israelis, 'You are an obstinate people, and if for one moment I went up among you, I would put an end to you. Now take off your ornaments so I may decide what to do with you.'"

6 So the Israelis did not wear their ornaments from Mount Horeb onward.

7 Moses used to take the tent and set it up outside the camp at a distance from the camp, and he called it the Tent of Meeting. When anyone sought the LORD, he would go out to the Tent of Meeting which was outside the camp.

8 When Moses would go out to the tent, all the people would get up, and each would stand in the doorway of his tent, watching Moses until he entered the tent.

9 When Moses entered the tent, the pillar of cloud would come down and stand at the doorway of the tent while God spoke with Moses.

10 When all the people saw the pillar of cloud standing at the doorway of the tent, all of them would get up and prostrate themselves in worship, each one at the doorway of his tent.

11 The LORD would speak to Moses face to face just as a man speaks with his friend. When Moses returned to the camp, Nun's son Joshua, his young servant, would not leave the tent.

12 Moses told the LORD, "Look, you have told me, 'Bring up this people,' but you haven't let me know whom you will send with me. Yet you have said, 'I know you by name,' and also, 'You have found favour in my sight.'

13 Now, if I've found favour in your sight, please show me your ways so I may know you in order to find favour in your sight. And remember, this nation is your people."

14 He said, "My presence will go with you, and I'll give you rest."

15 Then Moses told the LORD, "If your presence does not go with us, don't bring us up from here.

16 For how shall it be known that your people and I have received favour from you, unless you go with us and that we, your people and I, are distinguished from all the people on the face of the earth?"

17 The LORD told Moses, "I'll do the very thing that you have said, because you have found favour in my sight and I know you by name."

18 Then Moses said, "Please show me your glory."

19 God said, "I'll cause all my goodness to pass before you, and I'll proclaim the name 'the LORD' before you. I'll be gracious to whom I'll be gracious, and I'll show compassion on whom I'll show compassion.

20 But," he said, "You cannot see my face, because a man cannot see me and live.

21 The LORD said, "Look, there is a place near me where you can stand on the rock;

22 and as my glory passes by, I'll put you in a crevice in the rock, and cover you with my hand until I've passed by.

23 Then I'll remove my hand so you may see my back, but my face must not be seen."

Exodus 34

1 The LORD told Moses, "Cut out for yourself two stone tablets like the first ones, and I'll write on the tablets the words which were on the first tablets which you broke.

2 Be ready in the morning, and come up in the morning on Mount Sinai, where you are to present yourself to me there on the top of the mountain.

3 No one is to come up with you, nor shall anyone be seen anywhere on the mountain. Also, the sheep and cattle are not to graze in front of that mountain."

4 Moses cut out the two stone tablets like the first ones, got up early in the morning, and climbed Mount Sinai, just as the LORD had commanded him. He took with him the two stone tablets.

5 The LORD came down in a cloud and stood there with him and proclaimed the name of the LORD.

6 The LORD passed in front of him and proclaimed, "The LORD, the LORD God, compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and filled with gracious love and truth.

7 He graciously loves thousands, and forgives iniquity, transgression, and sin. But he does not leave the guilty unpunished, visiting the iniquity of the ancestors on their children, and on their children's children to the third and fourth generation."

8 Moses quickly bowed to the ground and prostrated himself in worship.

9 He said, "If I've found favour in your sight, LORD, please, LORD, walk among us. Certainly this is an obstinate people, but pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for your own inheritance."

10 Then the LORD said, "Now I'm going to make a covenant. Before all your people I'll do miraculous deeds that haven't been done in all the earth or in any nation. All the people among whom you live will see the work of the LORD, for it's an awesome thing that I'll do with you.

11 Obey what I am commanding you today. I'll drive out from before you the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites.

12 Be very careful not to make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land to which you are going, so they won't be a snare among you.

13 Rather, you are to tear down their altars, you are to smash their sacred pillars, and you are to cut down their sacred poles —

14 indeed, you are not to bow down in worship to any other god, because the LORD's name is Jealous — he's a jealous God —

15 Otherwise, you may make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land and when they prostitute themselves with their gods and offer sacrifices to their gods, someone may invite you and then you may eat some of their sacrifices.

16 You are not to take any of their daughters for your sons. Otherwise, when their daughters prostitute themselves with their gods, they may cause your sons to prostitute themselves with their gods."

17 "You are not to make molten gods for yourselves.

18 "You are to observe the Feast of Unleavened Bread. For seven days, at the appointed time in the month Aviv, you are to eat unleavened bread as I commanded you, for in the month Aviv you came out of Egypt.

19 "Everything firstborn belongs to me: all the males of your herds, the firstborn of both cattle and sheep.

20 You are to redeem the firstborn of a donkey with a sheep, and if you don't redeem it, you are to break its neck. You are to redeem every firstborn of your sons, and no one is to appear before me empty-handed.

21 "For six days you are to work, but on the seventh day you are to rest; even during ploughing time and harvest you are to rest.

22 "You are to observe the Festival of Weeks, the first fruits of the wheat harvest, and the Festival of Ingathering at the turn of the year.

23 Three times during the year all your males shall appear in the presence of the LORD God of Israel.

24 For I'll drive out nations before you, and enlarge your borders, and no one will covet your land when you go up to appear in the presence of the LORD your God three times a year.

25 "You are not to offer the blood of my sacrifice with anything leavened, nor are you to allow the sacrifice of the Festival of Passover to remain until morning.

26 "You are to bring the best of the first fruits of the ground to the house of the LORD your God. "You are not to boil a young goat in its mother's milk."

27 Then the LORD told Moses, "Write down these words, for I'm making a covenant with you and with Israel according to these words."

28 While Moses was there with the LORD for 40 days and 40 nights, he did not eat or drink. He wrote the Ten Commandments, the words of the covenant, on the tablets.

Matthew 24

43 But be sure of this: if the owner of the house had known when during the night the thief would be coming, he would have stayed awake and not allowed his house to be broken into.

44 So you, too, must be ready, because at an hour you are not expecting him the Son of Man will come."

45 "Who, then, is the faithful and wise servant whom his master has put in charge of his household to give the others their food at the right time?

46 How blessed is that servant whom his master finds doing this when he comes!

47 I tell you with certainty, he will put him in charge of all his property.

48 "But if that wicked servant says to himself, 'My master has been delayed,'

49 and begins to beat his fellow servants and eat and drink with the drunks,

50 the master of that servant will come on a day when he doesn't expect him and at an hour that he doesn't know.

51 Then his master will punish him severely and assign him a place with the hypocrites. In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Matthew 25

1 "At that time, the kingdom from heaven will be comparable to ten bridesmaids who took their oil lamps and went out to meet the groom.

2 Now five of them were foolish, and five were wise,

3 because when the foolish ones took their lamps, they didn't take any oil with them.

4 But the wise ones took flasks of oil with their lamps.

5 Since the groom was late, all of them became sleepy and lay down.

6 "But at midnight there came a shout: 'The groom is here! Come out to meet him!'

7 Then all the bridesmaids woke up and got their lamps ready.

8 But the foolish ones told the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, because our lamps are going out!'

9 But the wise ones replied, 'No! There will never be enough for us and for you. You'd better go to the dealers and buy some for yourselves.'

10 "While they were away buying it, the groom arrived. Those who were ready went with him into the wedding banquet, and the door was closed.

11 Later the other bridesmaids arrived and said, 'Lord, lord, open up for us!'

12 But he replied, 'I tell you with certainty, I don't know you!'

13 So keep on watching, because you don't know the day or the hour."

Exodus 34

29 When Moses came down from Mount Sinai, he had the two tablets in his hand, and he did not know that the skin of his face was ablaze with light because he had been speaking with God.

30 Aaron and all the Israelis saw Moses and immediately noticed that the skin of his face was shining, and they were afraid to come near him.

31 When Moses called to them, Aaron and the leaders of the congregation returned to him, and he spoke to them.

32 Afterwards all the Israelis came near and he gave them everything the LORD told him on Mount Sinai as commandments.

33 When Moses finished speaking with them he put a veil over his face,

34 and then whenever Moses would come in the LORD's presence to speak with him, he would remove the veil until he left the LORD's presence. When he went out, he would tell the Israelis what he had been commanded.

35 The Israelis would see the face of Moses and that the skin of his face shone; then Moses would put the veil back over his face until he went in to speak with God.

Exodus 35

1 Moses assembled the entire congregation of the Israelis and told them, "These are the things that the LORD has commanded you to do:

2 For six days work is to be done, but on the seventh day you are to have a holy day, a Sabbath of complete rest in dedication to the LORD. Anyone who does work on that day is to be executed.

3 You are not to light a fire in any of your dwellings on the Sabbath."

4 Then Moses told the entire congregation of the Israelis, "This is what the LORD has commanded,

5 'Take from among yourselves an offering for the LORD. Everyone whose heart is willing is to bring it as an offering for the LORD: gold, silver, and bronze;

6 blue, purple, and scarlet material; fine linen and goat hair;

7 ram skins dyed red, dolphin skins, acacia wood,

8 oil for lighting, spices for the anointing oil and for aromatic incense,

9 onyx stones, and stones for setting in the ephod and the breast piece.

10 "'Let everyone who is skilled among you come and make everything that the LORD has commanded:

11 the tent, its tent, its covering, its clasps, its boards, its bars, its pillars, and its sockets,

12 the ark, its poles, the Mercy Seat, the curtain,

13 the table, its poles, all its furnishings, and the bread of the presence,

14 the lamp stand for light, its furnishings, its lamps, and oil for the light,

15 the altar of incense, its poles, the anointing oil, the aromatic incense, and the screen for the doorway at the entrance to the tent,

16 the altar for burnt offerings, the bronze lattice for it, its poles, and all its furnishings, the basin and its base,

17 the hangings for the court, its pillars, its sockets, the screen for the gate of the court,

18 the pegs for the tent, the pegs for the court, and their cords,

19 the woven garments for ministering in the Holy Place, the holy garments of Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons for serving as priests."

20 Then the entire congregation of the Israelis withdrew from Moses' presence,

21 and every person whose heart moved him and all whose spirits prompted them, brought an offering to the LORD for constructing the Tent of Meeting, for all its service, and for the holy garments.

22 Both the men and women came, all whose hearts prompted them, and brought brooches, earrings, rings, pendants, and all kinds of gold jewellery. Every person presented a wave offering of gold to the LORD.

23 Everyone who had blue, purple, and scarlet material, fine linen, goat hair, ram skins dyed red, and dolphin skins brought them.

24 Everyone who could give an offering of silver and bronze brought it as a contribution for the LORD. Also all who had acacia wood for any use in the work brought it.

25 Every skilled woman spun with her hands, and brought what she spun: blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine linen.

26 All the women who were skilled artisans spun the goat hair.

27 The leaders brought onyx stones and stones to be set in the ephod and the breast piece, 28 spices and oil for the light and for the anointing oil and the aromatic incense.

29 Each Israeli man and woman whose heart was prompted brought something as a freewill offering to the LORD for all the work which the LORD had commanded them to do through Moses.

30 Moses told the Israelis, "Look, the LORD has called Uri's son Bezalel, grandson of Hur, from the tribe of Judah,

31 and he has filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, with understanding, and with knowledge of all kinds of work,

32 to make artistic designs, to work in gold, silver, and bronze,

33 to cut stones for setting, to carve wood, and to engage in all kinds of artistic work.

34 And he has given both him and Ahisamach's son Oholiab from the tribe of Dan the ability to teach.

35 He has equipped them to do all kinds of work done by an engraver, designer, embroiderer in blue, purple and scarlet material and in fine linen, or as a weaver. They were able to do all kinds of work and were skilled designers.

Exodus 36

1 Bezalel and Oholiab and all the skilled craftsmen to whom the LORD gave wisdom and understanding to know how to do all the work in constructing the sanctuary shall do everything that the LORD has commanded."

2 Then Moses summoned Bezalel, Oholiab, and all the skilled people to whom the LORD had given ability, including everyone whose hearts stirred them to come forward to do the work.

3 They received from Moses all the offerings that the Israelis had brought for doing the work of constructing the sanctuary, and the people continued to bring freewill offerings every morning.

4 All the craftsmen who were doing all the work on the sanctuary left the work they were doing

5 and told Moses, "The people are bringing much more than enough for the work that the LORD has commanded us to do."

6 Then Moses issued an order, and the message was taken throughout the camp, "Men and women, don't bring more offerings for the sanctuary." The people were restrained from bringing any more,

7 since the material was more than sufficient for doing all the work.

8 All the skilled craftsmen among the workers made the tent with ten curtains of fine woven linen, blue, purple, and scarlet material. He made them with cherubim skilfully worked into them.

9 The length of each curtain was 42 feet, and the width of each curtain six feet. All the curtains had the same measurements.

10 He joined five of the curtains together, and the other five curtains he joined together.

- 11 He made loops of blue material along the edge of the outermost curtain in the first set, and likewise, he made loops along the edge of the outermost curtain in the second set.
- 12 He made 50 loops in the one curtain, and he made 50 loops along the edge of the curtain that is in the second set, with the loops opposite each other.
- 13 Then he made 50 gold clasps, and joined the curtains to each other with the clasps so the tent was one piece.
- 14 He made curtains of goat hair for a tent over the tent; he made 11 curtains.
- 15 The length of each curtain was 45 feet, and the width of each curtain six feet; the measurements of each of the eleven curtains was the same.
- 16 He joined five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves.
- 17 He made 50 loops along the edge of the outermost curtain in the first set, and 50 loops along the edge of the curtain of the other set.
- 18 He made 50 bronze clasps to join the tent together so it would be one piece.
- 19 Then he made a cover for the tent of ram skins dyed red and a covering of dolphin skins above that.

Matthew 25

14 "Similarly, it is like a man going on a trip who called his servants and turned his money over to them.

15 To one man he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, based on their ability. Then he went on his trip.

16 "The one who received five talents went out at once and invested them and earned five more.

17 In the same way, the one who had two talents earned two more.

18 But the one who received one talent went off, dug a hole in the ground, and buried his master's money.

19 "After a long time the master of those servants returned and settled accounts with them.

20 The one who had received five talents came up and brought five more talents, saying, 'Master, you gave me five talents. See, I've earned five more talents.'

21 His master told him, 'Well done, good and trustworthy servant! Since you have been trustworthy with a small amount, I will put you in charge of a large amount. Come and share your master's joy!'

22 "The one with two talents also came forward and said, 'Master, you gave me two talents. See, I've earned two more talents.'

23 His master told him, 'Well done, good and trustworthy servant! Since you have been trustworthy with a small amount, I will put you in charge of a large amount. Come and share your master's joy!'

24 "Then the one who had received one talent came forward and said, 'Master, I knew that you were a hard man, harvesting where you haven't planted and gathering where you haven't scattered any seed.

25 Being afraid, I went off and hid your talent in the ground. Here, take what is yours!'

26 "His master answered him, 'You evil and lazy servant! So you knew that I harvested where I haven't planted and gathered where I haven't scattered any seed?

27 Then you should have invested my money with the bankers. When I returned, I would have received my money back with interest.'

28 Then the master said, 'Take the talent from him and give it to the man who has the ten talents,

29 because to everyone who has something, more will be given, and he will have more than enough. But from the person who has nothing, even what he has will be taken away from him.

30 Throw this useless servant into the darkness outside! In that place there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'"

11th February

Exodus 36

- 20 Then he made upright boards of acacia wood for the tent.
- 21 Each board was fifteen feet long, and 27 inches wide.
- 22 Each board had two pegs, joined to one another, and he did this for all the boards of the tent.
- 23 He made the boards for the tent: twenty boards for the south side.
- 24 He made 40 silver sockets under the twenty boards: two sockets under one board for its two pegs and two sockets under the next board for its two pegs.
- 25 For the second side of the tent to the north he made twenty boards,
- 26 and 40 silver sockets for them, two sockets under one board and two sockets under the next board.
- 27 For the rear of the tent on the west he made six boards,
- 28 and he made two boards for the rear corners of the tent.
- 29 They were joined together at the bottom and they were connected on top, by one ring. He did this for the two of them, and they were the two corners.
- 30 There were eight boards with their sixteen silver sockets, two sockets under each board.
- 31 Then he made bars of acacia wood, five for the boards on one side of the tent,
- 32 five bars for the boards on the second side of the tent, and five bars for the boards on the back side of the tent to the west.
- 33 He made the middle bar in the centre of the boards pass through from end to end.
- 34 He overlaid the boards with gold, and made gold rings for them as holders for the bars, and he overlaid the bars with gold.
- 35 He made a curtain of blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen. He made it with cherubim skilfully worked into it.
- 36 He made four pillars of acacia for it and overlaid them with gold, along with their gold hooks, and he cast four silver sockets for them.
- 37 For the doorway of the tent, he made a screen of blue, purple, and scarlet material and fine woven linen, the work of an embroiderer,
- 38 and five pillars of acacia along with their hooks. He overlaid their tops and their bands with gold. Their five sockets were of bronze.

Exodus 37

- 1 Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood 45 inches long, 27 inches wide, and 27 inches high.
- 2 He overlaid it with pure gold, inside and outside, and made a gold moulding around it.
- 3 He cast four rings for it on its four feet, two rings on one side of it and two rings on its other side.
- 4 He made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.
- 5 He put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark to carry the ark.
- 6 He made a Mercy Seat of pure gold 45 inches long and 27 inches wide.
- 7 He made two cherubim of gold; he made them of hammered work at the two ends of the Mercy Seat.
- 8 One cherub was at one end and one cherub at the other end. He made the cherubim at the two ends of the Mercy Seat and of one piece with it.
- 9 The cherubim had their wings spread upward, covering the Mercy Seat with their wings and facing each other. The faces of the cherubim were turned toward the Mercy Seat.
- 10 Then he made a table of acacia wood three feet long, one and a half feet wide, and 27 inches high.
- 11 He overlaid it with pure gold and put a gold moulding around it.
- 12 He made a three-inch wide rim around it, and made a gold moulding around the rim.

13 He cast four gold rings for it and put the rings on the four corners where its four feet were.

14 The rings were close to the rim as holders for the poles to carry the table.

15 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold to carry the table.

16 He made the utensils which were on the table, its plates, dishes, bowls, and jars out of which libations are poured. He made them of pure gold.

17 He made the lamp stand of pure gold. He made the lamp stand, its base, and stem of hammered work and its cups, calyxes, and flowers were of one piece with it.

18 Six branches extended from its sides, three branches of the lamp stand from one side of it, and three branches of the lamp stand from its other side.

19 Three cups shaped like almond blossoms with calyxes and flowers were on one branch and three cups shaped like almond blossoms with calyxes and flowers were on the other branch, and so on for the six branches extending from the lamp stand.

20 On the lamp stand itself there were four cups shaped like almond blossoms each with their calyxes and flowers.

21 A calyx was under the two branches that extended out of the stem; a calyx was under the next pair of branches that extended out of the stem; and a calyx was under the last pair of branches that extended out of the stem, and so on for the six branches extending from the lamp stand.

22 Their calyxes and their branches were of one piece with it, all of it was of one piece of hammered work of pure gold.

23 He made its seven lamps, its tongs and its trays of pure gold.

24 He made it and all of its furnishings from a talent of pure gold.

25 He made the altar for burning incense of acacia wood, a square, one and a half feet long, one and a half feet wide, and three feet high, with its horns of one piece with it.

26 He overlaid it with pure gold, its top, its sides all around, and its horns, and he made a gold moulding around it.

27 He made two gold rings for it under its moulding, on its two opposite sides as holders for poles by which to carry it.

28 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

29 And he made the holy anointing oil and the pure aromatic incense, the work of a perfumer.

Exodus 38

1 Then he made the altar for burnt offerings of acacia wood. It was a square, seven and a half feet long and seven and a half feet wide, and it was four and a half feet high.

2 He made horns on its four corners. Its horns were of one piece with it, and he overlaid it with bronze.

3 He made all the utensils for the altar, the pans, the shovels, the bowls, the forks, and the fire-pans, and he made all its utensils of bronze.

4 He made a lattice, a netting of bronze, for the altar. It was under its ledge, extending halfway up.

5 He cast four rings on the four ends of the bronze lattice as holders for the poles.

6 He made poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with bronze.

7 And he put the poles through rings on the sides of the altar to carry it. He made it hollow, out of boards.

8 He made the bronze basin and its bronze base from mirrors contributed by the women who served in the doorway of the Tent of Meeting.

9 Then he made the court. On the south side the hangings for the court were of fine woven linen, 150 feet long.

10 He made their twenty pillars and their twenty sockets of bronze, while the hooks of the pillars and their bands were of silver.

- 11 The north side was 150 feet long, and its 20 pillars and 20 sockets were of bronze, and the hooks of the pillars and their bands were of silver.
- 12 For the west side there were hangings 75 feet long with their ten pillars and ten sockets. The hooks of the pillars and their bands were of silver.
- 13 The east side was 75 feet long.
- 14 The hangings for one section were 22 and a half feet with their three pillars and three sockets,
- 15 and also for the second section. On either side of the gate of the court were hangings of 22 and a half feet with their three pillars and three sockets.
- 16 All the hangings around the court were of fine woven linen.
- 17 The sockets for the pillars were of bronze and the hooks of the pillars and their bands were of silver. Their tops were overlaid with silver, and all the pillars of the court were banded with silver.
- 18 The screen of the gate of the court was the work of an embroiderer of blue, purple and scarlet material, and fine woven linen. The length was 30 feet and it was seven and a half feet high along its width, corresponding to the hangings of the court.
- 19 Their four pillars and their four sockets were of bronze, and their hooks were of silver. Their tops were overlaid with silver and their bands were of silver.
- 20 All the pegs for the tent and for all around the court were of bronze.

Matthew 25

31 "When the Son of Man comes in his glory and all the angels are with him, he will sit on his glorious throne.

32 All the nations will be assembled in front of him, and he will cull them out, one from another, like a shepherd separates sheep from goats.

33 He will put the sheep on his right but the goats on his left.

34 "Then the king will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who have been blessed by my Father! Inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world,

35 because I was hungry, and you gave me something to eat. I was thirsty, and you gave me something to drink. I was a stranger, and you welcomed me.

36 I was naked, and you clothed me. I was sick, and you took care of me. I was in prison, and you visited me.'

37 "Then the righteous will say to him, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and give you something to eat, or thirsty and give you something to drink?

38 When did we see you as a stranger and welcome you, or see you naked and clothe you?

39 When did we see you sick or in prison and visit you?'

40 The king will answer them, 'I tell you with certainty, since you did it for one of the least important of these brothers of mine, you did it for me.'

41 "Then he will say to those on his left, 'Get away from me, you who are accursed, into the eternal fire that has been prepared for the devil and his angels!

42 Here's why: I was hungry, and you gave me nothing to eat. I was thirsty, and you gave me nothing to drink.

43 I was a stranger, and you didn't welcome me. I was naked, and you didn't clothe me. I was sick and in prison, and you didn't visit me.'

44 "Then they will reply, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or as a stranger or naked or sick or in prison and didn't help you?'

45 Then he will say to them, 'I tell you with certainty, since you didn't do it for one of the least important of these, you didn't do it for me.'

46 These people will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous will go into eternal life."

Matthew 26

1 When Jesus had finished saying all these things, he told his disciples,

2 "You know that the Passover will take place in two days, and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified."

3 Then the high priests and the elders of the people assembled in the courtyard of the high priest, who was named Caiaphas.

4 They conspired to arrest Jesus by treachery and to kill him.

5 But they kept saying, "This must not happen during the festival. Otherwise, there'll be a riot among the people."

Exodus 38

21 Here is a summary of materials for the Tent of Meeting that was compiled at Moses' direction, the work of the descendants of Levi under the direction of Aaron the priest's son Ithamar.

22 Now Uri's son Bezalel, grandson of Hur from the tribe of Judah, made everything that the LORD had ordered Moses to build.

23 With him was Ahisamach's son Oholiab from the tribe of Dan, an engraver, designer, and embroiderer in blue, purple, and scarlet material, and of fine linen.

24 All the gold that was used in the work, in all the work on the sanctuary, including the gold from the wave offering, totalled 29 talents, 730 shekels, according to the standard used in the sanctuary.

25 The silver from those of the congregation who were recorded totalled 100 talents and 1,775 shekels, according to the standard used in the sanctuary;

26 a beka a head (a beka is half a shekel, according to the standard used in the sanctuary) for everyone who went through the registration process from 20 years old and older. The total numbered 603,550 bekas.

27 One hundred talents of silver were used to cast the sockets for the sanctuary and the sockets for the curtain, 100 sockets for 100 talents, a talent per socket.

28 And with 1,775 talents he made hooks for the pillars, overlaid their tops, and made bands for them.

29 The bronze from the wave offering totalled 70 talents and 2,400 shekels.

30 With it he made the sockets for the doorway to the Tent of Meeting, the bronze altar, the bronze lattice for it, all the furnishings for the altar,

31 the sockets for all around the court, the sockets for the gate to the court, all the pegs for the sanctuary, and all the pegs for all around the court.

Exodus 39

1 From the blue, purple, and scarlet material they made finely woven garments for ministering in the Holy Place, and they made the holy garments for Aaron, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

2 He made the ephod out of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material and fine woven linen.

3 They hammered out gold sheets and cut off threads to work into the blue, purple, and scarlet material and into the fine linen, a work of skilful design.

4 They made connecting shoulder pieces for the ephod and attached them to its two edges.

5 The skilfully woven band that was on it was made like it, of one piece with it: of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

6 They prepared the onyx stones, engraved with the names of the sons of Israel like the engraving on a signet, and mounted them in settings of gold filigree.

7 He put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as stones of remembrance for the sons of Israel, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

8 He made a breast piece, skilfully worked, like the work of the ephod: of gold, blue, purple, and scarlet material, and fine woven linen.

9 They made the breast piece square when folded double: nine inches in length and nine inches in width when folded double.

10 They mounted on it four rows of stones. The first row was a row of carnelian, topaz, and emerald;

11 the second row ruby, sapphire, and crystal;

12 the third row jacinth, agate, and amethyst;

13 the fourth row beryl, onyx, and jasper. They were set in gold filigree when they were mounted.

14 The stones corresponded to the names of the sons of Israel, twelve stones corresponding to their names, with the engraving of a signet, each with the name of one of the twelve tribes.

15 They made chains of pure gold twisted like cords for the breast piece.

16 They made two settings of gold filigree and two gold rings, and they put the two rings on the two edges of the breast piece.

17 They put the two gold cords on the two gold rings at the edges of the breast piece,

18 and they attached the other two ends of the two cords to the filigree settings, and then attached them to the shoulder pieces of the ephod in front.

19 They made two gold rings and attached them to the two edges of the breast piece, on the side of it which is toward the inner side of the ephod.

20 They made two gold rings and attached them in front on the lower part of the two shoulder-pieces of the ephod close to the place where it's joined, above the skilfully woven band of the ephod.

21 They tied the breast piece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a blue cord so it would rest on the skilfully woven band of the ephod and so the breast piece would not come loose from the ephod.

22 He made the robe of the ephod of woven work, entirely of blue.

23 The opening of the robe was in the middle, like the opening of a coat of mail, with a binding around the opening so it would not be torn.

24 On the hem of the robe they made pomegranates of blue, purple, and scarlet material and woven linen.

25 They made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates on the hem of the robe; all around between the pomegranates.

26 There was a bell and a pomegranate, then a bell and a pomegranate, all around the hem of the robe for when the High Priest ministered, just as the LORD commanded Moses.

27 For Aaron and his sons, they made tunics, woven of fine linen,

28 the turban of fine linen, decorated head coverings of fine linen, linen undergarments of fine woven linen,

29 the sash of fine woven linen, woven of blue, purple, and scarlet material, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

30 They made the medallion for the holy crown of pure gold, and they wrote on it an inscription like the engraving on a seal: "Holy to the LORD."

31 They fastened a blue cord to it in order to fasten it on the turban above, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

32 All the work on the tent of the Tent of Meeting was completed, and the Israelis had crafted it according to everything that the LORD had commanded Moses, as they should have.

33 They brought to Moses the tent, all its furnishings, its clasps, its boards, its bars, its pillars, its sockets,

34 the covering of ram skins dyed red, the covering of dolphin skins, the curtain,

35 the Ark of the Testimony and its poles, the Mercy Seat,

36 the table and all its utensils, the bread of the presence,

37 the lamp stand of pure gold, its lamps (with the lamps in order), its furnishings, its oil for lighting,

38 the altar of gold, anointing oil, aromatic incense, the screen for the doorway to the tent,

39 the bronze altar and the bronze lattice for it, its poles, all its furnishings, the basin and its base,

40 the hangings for the court, its pillars, its sockets, the screen for the gate of the court, its cords, its pegs, all the furnishings for the service of the tent, for the Tent of Meeting, 41 the woven garments for Aaron the priest for ministering in the Holy Place, and the garments for his sons for serving as priests.

42 The Israelis had done all the work according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

43 Moses blessed them when he saw all the work, and that they had done it. They had done it just as the LORD had commanded.

Exodus 40

1 The LORD spoke to Moses:

2 "On the first day of the first month you are to set up the tent of the Tent of Meeting.

3 You are to put the Ark of the Testimony there, and screen off the ark with the curtain.

4 You are to bring in the table and properly arrange what goes on it. Then you are to bring in the lamp stand and set up its lamps.

5 "You are to put the golden altar for incense in front of the Ark of the Testimony and then set up the screen for the doorway to the tent.

6 You are to put the altar for burnt offerings in front of the doorway of the tent of the Tent of Meeting.

7 You are to put the basin between the Tent of Meeting and the altar and put water in it.

8 You are to set up the court all around, and hang up the screen for the gate of the court.

9 You are to take the anointing oil and anoint the tent and all that is in it. You are to consecrate it and all its furnishings and it will be holy.

10 "You are to anoint the altar for burnt offerings and all its utensils. You are to consecrate the altar and the altar will be most holy.

11 You are to anoint the basin and its base and consecrate it.

12 Then you are to bring Aaron and his sons to the doorway of the Tent of Meeting, and wash them with water.

13 You are to clothe Aaron with the holy garments, you are to anoint him, and consecrate him so he may serve me as priest.

14 You are to bring his sons and clothe them with tunics.

15 You are to anoint them just as you anointed their father so they may serve me as priests. Their anointing is to qualify them to belong to a perpetual priesthood from generation to generation."

Matthew 26

6 While Jesus was in Bethany at the home of Simon the leper,
7 a woman came to him with an alabaster jar of very expensive perfume and poured it on his head while he sat at the table.
8 But when the disciples saw this they became irritated and said, "Why this waste?
9 Surely this perfume could have been sold for a high price and the money given to the destitute."
10 But knowing this, Jesus asked them, "Why are you bothering the woman? She has done a beautiful thing for me.
11 You will always have the destitute with you, but you will not always have me.
12 When she poured this perfume on my body, she was preparing me for burial.
13 I tell you with certainty, wherever this gospel is proclaimed throughout the whole world, what she has done will also be told as a memorial to her."
14 Then one of the Twelve, who was called Judas Iscariot, went to the high priests
15 and inquired, "What are you willing to give me if I betray Jesus to you?" They offered him 30 pieces of silver,
16 and from then on he began to look for an opportunity to betray Jesus.
17 On the first day of the Festival of Unleavened Bread, the disciples approached Jesus and asked, "Where do you want us to make preparations for you to eat the Passover meal?"
18 He said, "Go to a certain man in the city and say to him, 'The Teacher says, "My time is near. I will celebrate the Passover with my disciples at your house.'"
19 So the disciples did as Jesus had directed them, and they prepared the Passover meal.
20 When evening came, Jesus was sitting at the table with the Twelve.
21 While they were eating, he said, "I tell you with certainty, one of you is going to betray me."
22 Feeling deeply distressed, each one began to ask him, "Surely I am not the one, Lord?"
23 He replied, "The man who has dipped his hand into the bowl with me will betray me.
24 The Son of Man is going away, just as it has been written about him. How terrible it will be for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for him if he had never been born."
25 Then Judas, who was going to betray him, asked, "Rabbi, I'm not the one, am I?" Jesus told him, "You have said so."
26 While they were eating, Jesus took a loaf of bread and blessed it. Then he broke it in pieces and handed it to the disciples, saying, "Take this and eat it. This is my body."
27 Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, "Drink from it, all of you,
28 because this is my blood of the new covenant that is being poured out for many people for the forgiveness of sins.
29 I tell you, I will never again drink the product of the vine until that day when I drink it with you once again in my Father's kingdom."
30 After singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Exodus 40

- 16 Moses did everything that the LORD had commanded him, so he did.
- 17 And so in the first month of the second year, on the first day of the month, the tent was set up.
- 18 Moses set up the tent. He installed its sockets and set its boards in place. He inserted its bars and set up its pillars.
- 19 He spread the tent over the tent and put the covering of the tent on top of it, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 20 Then he took the Testimony, put it into the ark, and placed the poles on the ark. He then put the Mercy Seat on top of the ark.
- 21 He brought the ark into the tent, set up the curtain, and screened off the Ark of the Testimony, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 22 He put the table in the Tent of Meeting, on the north side of the tent, outside the curtain,
- 23 and properly arranged the bread on it in the LORD's presence, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 24 Then he put the lamp stand in the Tent of Meeting, opposite the table on the south side of the tent,
- 25 and set up the lamps in the LORD's presence, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 26 He put the golden altar in the Tent of Meeting in front of the curtain
- 27 and burned aromatic incense on it, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 28 He set up the screen for the doorway of the tent.
- 29 He put the altar for burnt offerings at the doorway of the tent of the Tent of Meeting, and offered the burnt offering and the grain offering on it, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 30 He put the basin between the Tent of Meeting and the altar, and put water in it for washing.
- 31 Moses, Aaron, and his sons washed their hands and feet from it.
- 32 When they entered the Tent of Meeting and approached the altar, they washed, just as the LORD had commanded him.
- 33 He set up the court all around the tent and the altar, and hung up the screen for the gate of the court. And so Moses finished the work.
- 34 The cloud covered the Tent of Meeting, and the glory of the LORD filled the tent.
- 35 Moses was not able to enter the Tent of Meeting because the cloud had settled on it, and the glory of the LORD filled the tent.
- 36 Whenever the cloud was lifted up from the tent, the Israelis would set out on their journey,
- 37 but if the cloud was not lifted up, they would not set out until it was lifted up.
- 38 For the cloud of the LORD was over the tent by day, and the fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel in all their journeys.

Leviticus 1

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses from the midst of the Tent of Meeting:
- 2 "Speak to the Israelis and tell them, When any person brings an offering to the LORD from among you, whether he brings an offering of animals from either cattle or flock,
- 3 if his offering is a burnt offering from the herd, he is to bring a male without any defect. He is to present it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. At the appointed time it is to be presented in the presence of the LORD so that he may be accepted.
- 4 He is to lay his hand on the head of the burnt offering, and it will be accepted for him as an atonement on his behalf.
- 5 Then he is to slaughter the young bull in the LORD's presence."
- 6 He is to skin the burnt offering and cut it into pieces.
- 7 Aaron's sons, the priests, are to build a fire on the altar and arrange the wood over the fire.
- 8 They are to arrange the pieces of meat — including the head and the fat — on the wood over the fire that burns on the altar.
- 9 Then he is to wash its entrails and legs with water. After this, the priest is to offer all of it on the altar — a burnt offering by fire, an aroma that will be pleasing to the LORD."
- 10 "If his offering is a burnt offering from the flock, whether lamb or goat, he is to bring a male without any defect
- 11 and slaughter it at the north side of the altar in the LORD's presence. Then Aaron's sons, the priests, are to sprinkle its blood around the altar.
- 12 He is to cut up its head and fat into separate pieces. Then the priest is to arrange them in rows on the wood over the fire that burns on the altar.
- 13 Then he is to wash its entrails and legs with water. After this, the priest is to offer all of it on the altar — a burnt offering by fire, an aroma that will be pleasing to the LORD."
- 14 "If his offering is a burnt offering of birds to the LORD, he is to bring turtledoves or young doves.
- 15 The priest is to bring it to the altar to offer it up in smoke. He is to decapitate it, drain its blood on the side of the altar,
- 16 and then he is to eviscerate it, and throw the viscera and the feathers to the east side of the altar, where the fatty ashes are located.
- 17 He is then to tear it open by its wings, but not dividing it completely into two parts. The priest is then to offer all of it on the wood over the fire as a burnt offering by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD."

Leviticus 2

- 1 "When a person brings an offering — that is, a grain offering — to the LORD, his offering is to consist of fine flour. He is to pour olive oil mixed with frankincense over it.
- 2 Then he is to bring it to Aaron's sons, the priests. He is to take a handful of fine flour, the olive oil, and all of the frankincense. Then the priest is to offer a memorial offering by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.
- 3 The remnant from the grain offering is for Aaron and his sons — the holiest of the offerings made by fire to the LORD."
- 4 "When you bring an offering — that is, a grain offering baked in an oven — it is to consist of fine flour baked into unleavened bread mixed with olive oil or of wafers made of unleavened bread and smeared with olive oil.
- 5 "If your grain offering has been prepared on a griddle, then it is to consist of fine flour mixed with olive oil.
- 6 Crumble it into morsels of bread and then pour olive oil on it. It's a grain offering.
- 7 "When your grain offering has been prepared in a stew pan, it is to consist of fine flour mixed with olive oil.

- 8 Bring the grain offering that you prepared from these ingredients to the LORD. Present it to the priest, who will bring it to the altar.
- 9 Then the priest will dedicate some of the grain offering as a memorial offering and offer it in smoke on the altar, an offering by fire that will be a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
- 10 The remainder from the memorial offering is for Aaron and his sons — the holiest of the offerings made by fire to the LORD."
- 11 "Any grain offering that you bring to the LORD is not to be prepared with yeast, because anything with leaven and honey may not be offered in smoke as an offering by fire to the LORD.
- 12 You may bring them to the LORD as an offering of first fruits, but they are not to be offered on the altar for a pleasing aroma."
- 13 "Also, be sure to rub every offering from your grain offering with salt. You are not to ever remove the salt of the covenant of your God from your grain offering. Present all your offerings with salt."
- 14 "Whenever you bring a grain offering of first fruits to the LORD, bring fresh barley, roasted in fire, young kernels crushed into bits. Bring the grain offering with your first fruits
- 15 and then pour olive oil and frankincense over it as a grain offering.
- 16 The priest is to offer the memorial offering in smoke — its crushed bits, olive oil, and frankincense — as an offering by fire to the LORD."

Leviticus 3

- 1 "If someone's offering is a peace offering from the cattle, the presenter is to offer it without defects, whether the animal is male or female. They are to be brought to the LORD.
- 2 Then the presenter is to lay his hand on the head of the offering and slaughter it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. After this, Aaron's sons, the priests, are to sprinkle the blood on and around the altar.
- 3 "The presenter is then to bring a gift from the peace offering, an offering made by fire to the LORD. He is to remove the fat that covers the internal organs, all of the fat that is inside the internal organs,
- 4 the two kidneys with the fat on them by the loins, and the fatty mass that surrounds the liver and kidneys.
- 5 Then Aaron's sons are to burn them on the altar, over the burnt offering that has been placed on the wood, over the fire, as an offering made by fire, an aroma pleasing to the LORD.

Matthew 26

31 Then Jesus told them, "All of you will turn against me this very night, because it is written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.'

32 However, after I have been raised, I will go to Galilee ahead of you."

33 But Peter told him, "Even if everyone else turns against you, I certainly won't!"

34 Jesus told him, "I tell you with certainty, before a rooster crows this very night, you will deny me three times."

35 Peter told him, "Even if I have to die with you, I will never deny you!" And all the disciples said the same thing.

36 Then Jesus went with them to a place called Gethsemane. He told the disciples, "Sit down here while I go over there and pray."

37 Taking Peter and the two sons of Zebedee with him, he began to be grieved and troubled.

38 Then he told them, "I'm so deeply grieved that I feel I'm about to die. Wait here and stay awake with me."

39 Going on a little farther, he fell on his face and prayed, "O my Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from me. Yet not what I want but what you want."

40 When he went back to the disciples, he found them asleep. He told Peter, "So, you men couldn't stay awake with me for one hour, could you?"

41 All of you must stay awake and pray that you won't be tempted. The spirit is indeed willing, but the body is weak."

42 He went away a second time and prayed, "My Father, if this cup cannot go away unless I drink it, let your will be done."

43 Then he came back and found them asleep, because they could not keep their eyes open.

44 After leaving them again, he went away and prayed again for the third time, saying the same thing.

45 Then he came back to the disciples and told them, "You might as well keep on sleeping and resting. Look! The time is near for the Son of Man to be betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Get up! Let's go! See, the one who is betraying me is near!"

47 Just then, while Jesus was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, arrived. A large crowd armed with swords and clubs was with him. They were from the high priests and elders of the people.

48 Now the betrayer personally had given them a signal, saying, "The one I kiss is the man. Arrest him."

49 So Judas immediately went up to Jesus and said, "Hello, Rabbi!" and kissed him tenderly.

50 Jesus asked him, "Friend, why are you here?" Then the other men surged forward, took hold of Jesus, and arrested him.

51 Suddenly, one of the men with Jesus reached out his hand, drew his sword, and struck the high priest's servant, cutting off his ear.

52 Jesus told him, "Put your sword back in its place! Everyone who uses a sword will be killed by a sword.

53 Don't you think that I could call on my Father, and he would send me more than twelve legions of angels now?

54 How, then, would the Scriptures be fulfilled that say this must happen?"

Leviticus 3

6 "If his offering to the LORD is a peace offering from the flock, whether male or female, he is to bring them without defect.

7 If the offering that he is bringing is a lamb, then he is to bring it to the LORD.

8 He is to lay his hand on the head of his offering and slaughter it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. Then Aaron's sons are to sprinkle the blood on and around the altar.

9 "The presenter is then to bring a gift from the peace offering as an offering made by fire to the LORD. He is to remove the fat, the entire fat tail near the spine, the fat that covers the internal organs, all of the fat that is inside the internal organs,

10 the two kidneys with the fat on them by the loins, and the fatty mass that surrounds the liver and kidneys.

11 Then the priest is to burn them on the altar as a food offering made by fire to the LORD.

12 "If his offering is a goat, then he is to bring it to the LORD,

13 lay his hand over its head, then slaughter it at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. After this, Aaron's sons are to sprinkle the blood on and around the altar.

14 "The presenter is then to present the gift as an offering made by fire to the LORD, that is, the fat that covers the internal organs, all the fat that is inside the internal organs,

15 the two kidneys with the fat on them by the loins, and the fatty mass that surrounds the liver and kidneys.

16 The priest is to burn them on the altar, a food offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma. All the fat belongs to the LORD.

17 "This is to be a lasting statute for all your generations, wherever you live. You are not to eat any fat or blood. "

Leviticus 4

1 The LORD spoke to Moses:

2 "Speak to the Israelis and tell them, 'If a person inadvertently sins with respect to any of the LORD's commands that should not be violated, but nevertheless he disobeys one of them,

3 or if the anointed priest sins, thereby bringing guilt on the people, let him bring a young bull without defect as a sin offering to the LORD for his sin that he had committed.

4 "'He is to bring the bull to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, into the LORD's presence, where he is to lay his hand on the head of the bull and slaughter it in the LORD's presence.

5 The anointed priest is to take blood from the bull to the Tent of Meeting.

6 The priest is to dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle some of the blood seven times in the LORD's presence in front of the curtain of the sanctuary.

7 "'The priest is then to put some blood on the horn of the altar that is near the Tent of Meeting as an incense of pleasing aroma in the LORD's presence. He is to pour the rest of the bull's blood for a burnt offering at the base of the altar that is at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.

8 Then he is to remove all the fat from the bull for a sin offering — that is, the fat that covers the internal organs, all of the fat that is inside the internal organs,

9 the two kidneys with the fat on them by the loins, and the fatty mass surrounding the liver and kidneys,

10 just as they are taken from the bull for a peace offering. Then the priest is to burn them on the altar for burnt offerings.

11 "'Now as for the bull's hide, its flesh, its head, its legs, its internal organs, its dung,

12 along with the rest of the bull, he is to bring it outside the camp to a clean place, where fat ashes are to be poured over it and then it is to be thoroughly burned over wood with fire. It is to be burned where the fat ashes are poured out.'"

13 "If the whole congregation of Israel goes astray, and if the sin is hidden from the eyes of the assembly, and if they will have gone astray from one of the LORD's commands that should not be violated, then they will stand guilty.

14 When the sin that they have committed becomes known, the entire congregation is to bring a young bull as a sin offering to the Tent of Meeting,

15 where the elders of the community are to lay their hands on the head of the bull in the LORD's presence and slaughter it.

16 The anointed priest is to take blood from the bull and bring it to the Tent of Meeting.

17 Then the priest is to dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle some of the blood seven times in front of the curtain in the LORD's presence.

18 "Then the priest is to put blood on the horn of the altar near the Tent of Meeting in the LORD's presence. He is to pour the rest of the blood as a burnt offering at the base of the altar that is at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

19 Then he is to remove all the fat from the bull for a sin offering and burn it on the altar.

20 "He is to do to this bull what he did to the bull for the sin offering. He is to do it this way so that the priest will make atonement for them and they will be forgiven.

21 Then he is to bring the rest of the bull outside the camp and burn it just as he had burned the first bull. This is the sin offering for the congregation."

22 "When a ruler inadvertently sins, disobeying any one of the commands of the LORD his God that should not be violated, he will be guilty.

23 When the sin that he had committed is disclosed to him, he is to bring his offering: a male goat without defect.

24 He is then to lay his hand on the head of the goat and slaughter it at the place where the burnt offering is slaughtered — in the LORD's presence — as a sin offering.

25 Then the priest is to take blood from the sin offering with his finger and put it on the horn of the altar that is used for burnt offerings. He is to pour the rest of the blood at the base of the altar that is used for burnt offerings.

26 But he is to burn all the fat on the altar as is done for the fat for the sacrifice of a peace offering. This is how the priest will make atonement for him concerning his sin. It will be forgiven him."

27 "If any of the common people of the land inadvertently sins by disobeying one of the LORD's commands that should not be violated, he will be guilty.

28 When the sin that he committed is disclosed to him, he is to bring his offering for his sin that he had committed: a female goat without defect.

29 He is to lay his hand on the head of the sin offering and slaughter it at the place for burnt offering.

30 Then the priest is to take blood with his finger, put it on the horn of the altar that is used for burnt offerings, and then pour the rest of the blood at the base of the altar.

31 He is to remove all the fat, just as the fat was removed from the sacrifice for the peace offering. Then the priest is to burn it on the altar as a pleasing aroma to the LORD. This is how the priest will make atonement for him. It will be forgiven him.

32 "If he brings a lamb for his offering, he is to bring a female without defect.

33 He is to lay his hand on the head of the offering and slaughter it for a sin offering at the place where the burnt offering is slaughtered.

34 Then the priest is to take blood with his finger and put it on the horn of the altar for burnt offering. Then he is to pour the rest of the blood at the base of the altar.

35 Then the presenter is to remove all its fat, just as the fat was removed from the sacrifice of peace offering. The priest is to burn it on the altar over the offerings made by fire to the LORD. This is how the priest will make atonement for him concerning the sin that he had committed. It will be forgiven him."

Leviticus 5

1 "If someone sins because he has failed to testify after receiving notice to testify as a witness regarding what he has observed or learned, he is to be held responsible.

2 When a person has touched a ceremonially unclean thing inadvertently, such as the carcass of an unclean animal, or some unclean creeping thing, he will be unclean and guilty nevertheless.

3 "When he inadvertently touches the uncleanness of a human being, whatever his uncleanness that made him unclean may be, when he himself comes to know about it, he will be guilty.

4 When a person has sworn inadvertently by what he has said, whether for evil or good, whatever it was that the person spoke, when he comes to understand what he said, he will incur guilt by one of these things.

5 "When a person is guilty of one of these things, then he is to confess whatever sin it was
6 and bring compensation to the LORD for the guilt that he committed: a female from the flock — whether a lamb or goat — for a sin offering. Then the priest is to make atonement for him.

7 "If he can't afford a goat, then he is to bring for his sin offering two turtledoves or two young doves to the LORD: one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.

8 He is to bring them to the priest, who will offer a sin offering first. He is to wring off its head without separating it.

9 Then he is to sprinkle some of the blood from the sin offering on the sidewall of the altar. Now as to the remainder of the blood, he is to pour it out at the base of the altar for a sin offering.

10 "Now as to the second, he is to prepare it as a burnt offering according to the approved procedure. The priest is to make atonement for him on account of his sin that he had committed. Then it will be forgiven him.

11 "If he can't afford two turtledoves or two young doves, then he is to bring as his offering a tenth of an ephah of fine flour as a sin offering for what he has committed. He is to put no olive oil or frankincense on it, since it's a sin offering.

12 He is to bring it to the priest. The priest is to take a handful as a memorial and burn it on the altar as an offering made by fire to the LORD. It's a sin offering.

13 The priest will make atonement for him, on account of the sin that he had committed in any of these things and it will be forgiven him. As far as the priest is concerned, it will be a meal offering."

14 The LORD spoke to Moses:

15 "When a person commits a truly treacherous act and sins inadvertently concerning the sacred things of the LORD, then he is to bring a trespass offering from the flock to the LORD as compensation for his guilt. It is to be a ram without defect, estimated as to its value in silver shekels, according to the sanctuary shekel.

16 He is to compensate for whatever sin he had committed concerning the sacred things of the LORD, add a fifth part to it, and give it to the priest. The priest is to make atonement for him with the ram as a sin offering and he'll be forgiven.

17 "If a person sins and does what the LORD commanded is not to be done, and if he didn't know that he had sinned, then he will be guilty nevertheless.

18 He is to bring to the priest from the flock a ram without defect, estimated as to its value in silver shekels, as a guilt offering. Then the priest is to make atonement for him concerning his inadvertent act that he committed through ignorance, and it will be forgiven him.

19 It's a sin offering for his guilt in the LORD's presence."

Matthew 26

55 At this point, Jesus asked the crowds, "Have you come out with swords and clubs to arrest me as if I were a bandit? Day after day I sat teaching in the Temple, yet you didn't arrest me.

56 But all of this has happened so that the writings of the prophets might be fulfilled." Then all the disciples deserted Jesus and ran away.

57 Those who had arrested Jesus took him to Caiaphas, the high priest, where the scribes and the elders had assembled.

58 Peter, however, followed him at a distance as far as the high priest's courtyard. He went inside and sat down with the servants to see how this would end.

59 Meanwhile, the high priests and the whole Council were looking for false testimony against Jesus in order to have him put to death.

60 But they couldn't find any, even though many false witnesses had come forward. At last two men came forward

61 and stated, "This man said, 'I can destroy the sanctuary of God and rebuild it in three days.'"

62 At this, the high priest stood up and asked Jesus, "Don't you have any answer to what these men are testifying against you?"

63 But Jesus was silent. Then the high priest told him, "I command you by the living God to tell us if you are the Messiah, the Son of God!"

64 Jesus told him, "You have said so. Nevertheless I tell you, from now on you will see 'the Son of Man seated at the right hand of Power' and 'coming on the clouds of heaven.'"

65 Then the high priest tore his robes and said, "He has blasphemed! Why do we still need witnesses? Listen! You yourselves have just heard the blasphemy!

66 What is your verdict?" They replied, "He deserves to die!"

67 Then they spit in his face and hit him. Some slapped him,

68 saying, "Prophecy to us, you Messiah! Who hit you?"

69 Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard when a servant girl came up to him and said, "You, too, were with Jesus the Galilean."

70 But he denied it in front of them all, saying, "I don't know what you're talking about."

71 As he went out to the gateway, another woman saw him and told those who were there, "This man was with Jesus from Nazareth."

72 Again he denied it and swore with an oath, "I don't know the man!"

73 After a little while the people who were standing there came up and told Peter, "Obviously you're also one of them, because your accent gives you away."

74 Then he began to curse violently. "I don't know the man!" he swore solemnly. Just then a rooster crowed.

75 Peter remembered the words of Jesus when he said, "Before a rooster crows, you will deny me three times." Then he went outside and cried bitterly.

Leviticus 6

1 The LORD spoke to Moses:

2 "A person sins against the LORD by acting treacherously toward his neighbour regarding something entrusted to his care, security for a loan, robbery, or if he has oppressed his neighbour,

3 found something that had been lost and then lied about it, or if he makes a false oath about any of these things, thus committing a sin with respect to these things.

4 "If that person has sinned and has been found guilty, then he is to return the stolen thing that he took or obtained by oppression, or the security that had been entrusted to him, or the lost thing that he had found,

5 or the thing about which he had given a false oath. He is to restore it in full, add a fifth to it, then give to whom it belongs the very day he's found guilty.

6 "Now as to his guilt offering, he is to bring to the LORD a ram without defect from the flock, estimated as to its value, to the priest.

7 Then the priest is to make atonement for him in the LORD's presence, and it will be forgiven him regarding whatever he did.

8 The LORD spoke to Moses:

9 "Deliver these orders to Aaron and his sons concerning the regulations for burnt offerings. The burnt offering is to remain on the hearth of the altar throughout the entire night until morning, and the fire on the altar is to be kept burning along with it.

10 "The priest is to clothe himself with a linen robe and underclothes. Then he is to take the ashes of the burnt offering on the altar that had been consumed by the fire and set them beside the altar.

11 Then he is to change his clothes, dressing himself with a different set of clothes, and take the ashes to a clean place outside the camp.

12 "The fire on the altar is to be kept burning continuously without being extinguished. The priest is to burn wood on it every morning, arrange burnt offerings over it, and then burn the fat contained in the peace offerings over it.

13 The fire is to continue to burn on the altar and is never to be extinguished."

14 "This is the law concerning grain offerings. Aaron's sons are to offer it in the LORD's presence, in front of the altar.

15 He is to take a handful of fine flour for a grain offering, some olive oil, all of the frankincense on the grain offering, and make a sacrifice of smoke on the altar as a memorial portion, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

16 "Aaron and his sons are to eat what remains of the unleavened offering at this sacred place: the court of the Tent of Meeting.

17 It is not to be baked with leaven. I've given it as their portion out of my offerings made by fire. It's a most holy thing, like the sin and guilt offerings.

18 Every male of Aaron's sons is to eat it as a portion continuously allotted for your generations from the offerings made by fire to the Lord. Anyone who touches them is to be holy."

19 Then the LORD told Moses,

20 "This is the offering that Aaron and his sons are to offer to the LORD the day he is anointed: a tenth of an ephah of flour is to be offered throughout the day, half in the morning and half in the evening.

21 It is to be prepared with olive oil on a griddle. Once it has been mixed thoroughly, bake it, bring it in pieces, and offer it like a grain offering of broken pieces, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

22 The anointed priest who succeeds him from among his sons is to offer it. As a permanent statute, it is to be offered whole and made to smoke in the LORD's presence.

23 Every grain offering from a priest is to be burned whole. It is not to be eaten."
24 Then the LORD told Moses,
25 "Speak to Aaron and his sons. This is the regulation concerning sin offerings. Slaughter the sin offering in the same place where the whole burnt offering is slaughtered — in the LORD's presence. It's a most holy thing.
26 The priest who offers it as a sin offering is to eat it at a sacred place in the court of the Tent of Meeting.
27 Whoever touches its meat will be holy. "If some of its blood spatters on a garment, wash where it was spattered in a sacred place.
28 The earthen vessel in which it was boiled is to be broken, unless it was boiled in a bronze vessel, in which case it is to be polished very well and rinsed in water.
29 "Every male among the priests is to eat it. It's a most sacred thing.
30 Any sin offering from which its blood was brought to the Tent of Meeting to make atonement in the sacred place is not to be eaten. Instead, it is to be incinerated."

Leviticus 7

1 "This is the regulation concerning guilt offerings. It's most holy.
2 The guilt offering is to be offered in the same place where the burnt offering is slaughtered. The priest is to sprinkle some of its blood on the altar and around it.
3 As to all its fat, that is, the fat on the tail and the fat covering the internal organs, the one presenting the sacrifice is to offer it.
4 But the two kidneys, the fat over them by the loins, and the appendage on the liver is to be taken away, along with the kidneys.
5 Then the priest is to offer them on the altar, incinerating them with fire as a guilt offering to the LORD.
6 Any male among the priests may eat it, provided that it is eaten at a sacred place as a most holy thing.
7 The law for the sin offering is the same as the guilt offering. It belongs to the priest who made atonement with it.
8 "The hide from the burnt offering brought by the offeror is to belong to the priest.
9 Every grain offering that's baked in the oven and everything that's prepared in a stew pan or in the frying pan belongs to the priest who offered it.
10 Furthermore, every grain offering that's mixed with olive oil or that's dry will be for Aaron's sons, each one like the other.
11 "This is the law concerning the sacrifice for peace offerings that are to be brought to the LORD.
12 If someone brings it to demonstrate thanksgiving, then he is to present along with the thanksgiving offering unleavened cakes mixed with olive oil, unleavened wafers spread with olive oil, and cakes of mixed fine flour with olive oil.
13 Along with the cakes of unleavened bread, he is to bring his thanksgiving offering with his peace offerings.
14 He is to present one from each grain offering, a separate offering to the LORD. It will belong to the priest who sprinkles the blood of the peace offering.
15 As to the meat contained in his peace offerings, it is to be eaten on the day it is offered. Nothing of it is to remain until morning.
16 "If his sacrifice accompanies a fulfilled vow or is a voluntary offering, it is to be eaten on the day the offeror brings the sacrifice. Anything left over is to be eaten the next day,
17 but whatever remains uneaten from the meat of the sacrifice by the third day is to be incinerated.
18 "If any of the meat of his sacrifice of peace offerings is eaten on the third day, it won't be accepted for the one who brought it. It is to be considered as refuse, and whoever eats it will bear the punishment of his iniquity.

19 "Meat that comes in contact with a ceremonially unclean thing is not to be eaten. Incinerate it instead. As for ceremonially clean meat, anyone who is clean may eat it.

20 But the person who eats meat from the sacrifice that belongs to the LORD, while still affected by his uncleanness is to be eliminated from contact with his people.

21 Any person who touches a ceremonially unclean thing — whether the uncleanness pertains to human beings, animals, or to creeping things — and then eats from the meat of peace offerings that belongs to the LORD is to be eliminated from contact with his people."

22 The LORD spoke to Moses:

23 "Tell the Israelis: You are not to eat the fat of an ox, a lamb, or a goat.

24 "The carcass of an animal that died of its own and an animal torn by wild beasts may be used for any purpose except for eating.

25 "Anyone who eats the fat of an animal that has been offered by fire to the LORD is to be eliminated from contact with his people.

26 You are not to eat any form of blood in any of your dwellings, whether it's from birds or animals.

27 Any person who eats any form of blood is to be eliminated from contact with his people."

28 The LORD spoke to Moses:

29 Tell the Israelis: "Whoever brings a peace offering sacrifice to the LORD is to bring his offering to the LORD from the sacrifice of his peace offerings.

30 He is to bring the offering made by fire with his own hands to the LORD. He is to bring the fat with the breast, since the breast is to be waved as a raised offering to the LORD.

31 The priest will burn the fat on the altar, but the breast belongs to Aaron and his sons.

32 From the sacrifices of your peace offerings give the right thigh to the priest as a raised offering to the LORD.

33 "The descendant of Aaron's sons who brings the blood from the peace offering and the fat will have the right thigh for his own portion,

34 since I've taken the breast and the thigh as raised offerings from the sacrifices of peace offerings of the Israelis and have given them to Aaron the priest and his sons as their perpetual portion from the Israelis."

35 This is the consecrated portion for Aaron and his descendants from the offerings made by fire to the LORD, the day they were presented to be priests to the LORD.

36 This is what the LORD had commanded to give them the day he anointed them from among the Israelis — a perpetual portion for their generations.

37 This is the regulation concerning burnt, grain, sin, guilt, and installation offerings, along with the sacrifice for peace offerings.

38 This is what the LORD had commanded Moses on Mount Sinai on the day when he commanded the Israelis to bring their offerings to the LORD in the Sinai wilderness.

Matthew 27

- 1 When morning came, all the high priests and elders of the people conspired against Jesus to put him to death.
- 2 They bound him with chains, led him away, and handed him over to Pontius Pilate, the governor.
- 3 Then Judas, who had betrayed him, regretted what had happened when he saw that Jesus was condemned. He brought the 30 pieces of silver back to the high priests and elders,
- 4 saying, "I have sinned by betraying innocent blood." But they replied, "What do we care? Attend to that yourself."
- 5 Then he flung the pieces of silver into the sanctuary and went outside. Then he went away and hanged himself.
- 6 The high priests picked up the pieces of silver and said, "It is not lawful to put this into the Temple treasury, because it is blood money."
- 7 So they decided to use the money to buy the Potter's Field as a burial ground for foreigners.
- 8 That is why that field has been called the Field of Blood to this day.
- 9 Then what had been declared through the prophet Jeremiah was fulfilled when he said, "They took the 30 pieces of silver, the value of the man on whom a price had been set by the Israelis,
- 10 and they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."
- 11 Meanwhile, Jesus was made to stand in front of the governor. The governor asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" Jesus said, "You say so."
- 12 While Jesus was being accused by the high priests and elders, he made no reply.
- 13 Then Pilate asked him, "Don't you hear how many charges they're bringing against you?"
- 14 But Jesus did not reply at all, so that the governor was very surprised.
- 15 At every festival the governor had a custom of releasing to the crowd any prisoner whom they wanted.
- 16 At that time they were holding a notorious prisoner named Barabbas.
- 17 So when the people had gathered, Pilate asked them, "Which man do you want me to release for you — Barabbas, or Jesus who is called the Messiah?"
- 18 He did this because he knew that they had handed him over out of jealousy.
- 19 While he was sitting on the judge's seat, his wife sent him a message. It said, "Have nothing to do with that righteous man, because today I have suffered terribly due to a dream I had about him."

Leviticus 8

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses:
- 2 "Take Aaron, his sons with him, the clothing, the anointing oil, the bull for sin offering, two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread
- 3 and then assemble the entire congregation at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
- 4 So Moses did just as the LORD had commanded him. He assembled the congregation at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
- 5 Moses told the congregation, "This is what the LORD commanded to be done."
- 6 Moses brought Aaron and his sons and washed them with water.
- 7 Then he clothed Aaron with the tunic, girded him with the band for priests, clothed him with the robe, placed the ephod on him, girded him with the skilfully woven band of the ephod, and bound it on him.
- 8 He set the breastplate on him and placed the Urim and Thummim on top of the breastplate.
- 9 Then he set the turban on his head, and on the turban at the front he set the golden plate, the sacred crown that the LORD had commanded.
- 10 After this, Moses took the anointing oil and anointed the tent, consecrating everything that was in it.
- 11 He sprinkled some on the altar seven times, then anointed the altar, all its vessels, the laver, and its base to consecrate them.
- 12 He then poured the oil of anointing on Aaron's head to anoint and consecrate him.
- 13 Then Moses brought Aaron's sons, clothed them with the tunic, girded them with the bands, and bound turbans on them just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 14 Next, he brought the bull for sin offering. Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the bull's head for a sin offering.
- 15 So Moses slaughtered it, took the blood, and poured some of it at the horns of the altar and around it with his fingers, thus purifying the altar. Then he poured the blood at the base of the altar, thereby sanctifying it as a means to make atonement with it.
- 16 Moses burned on the altar all the fat on the internal organs, the appendage on the liver, the two kidneys, and the fat.
- 17 As to the bull and its fat, skin and offal, he incinerated them outside the camp, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 18 Next he brought the ram for whole burnt offering. Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.
- 19 Moses slaughtered it and poured its blood over the altar and around it.
- 20 As to the ram, he cut it into parts at the joints. Moses burned the head, internal organs, and the fat.
- 21 Moses washed the internal organs and the thigh with water and then burned the entire ram on the altar as a whole burnt offering, a pleasing aroma of an offering made by fire to the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 22 Moses brought the ram, that is, the second of the rams for consecration. Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram.
- 23 Moses then slaughtered it, took some of its blood, and put it on Aaron's right earlobe, right thumb, and on his right great toe.
- 24 Then Moses brought Aaron's sons, took some of its blood, and put it on their right earlobes, on their right thumbs, and on their right great toes. Moses poured the blood on the altar and all around it.
- 25 Then he took the fat from the tail, all the fat on the internal organs, the appendage of the liver, the two kidneys with the fat, and the right thigh.

26 From the basket of unleavened bread, which is in the LORD's presence, he took one piece of unleavened bread, one cake spread with olive oil, and one wafer, which he placed over the fat and the right thigh.

27 He put all of these things in the hands of Aaron and his sons, and they all waved them in a raised offering to the LORD.

28 After this, Moses took those things from their hands and burned them on the altar over the whole burnt offering for consecration. They served as a pleasing aroma, an offering made by fire to the LORD.

29 Moses took the breast and waved it as a raised offering in the LORD's presence as the portion that belonged to Moses from the ram of consecration, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

30 Moses took some anointing oil and blood that was on the altar and sprinkled it on Aaron, on his clothes, on his sons, and on their clothes, consecrating Aaron, his clothes, his sons, and their clothes.

31 Then he told Aaron and his sons, "Boil the meat at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. There you may eat it along with the bread that is in the basket for consecration, just as I've commanded when I told him, 'Aaron and his sons may eat of it,

32 but the leftover meat and bread is to be incinerated.'

33 "Furthermore, you are not to go out past the entrance to the Tent of Meeting until the days of your ordination have been completed, since it will take seven days to ordain you.

34 What has been done today has been commanded by the LORD to make atonement for you.

35 Stay seven days and nights at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting and attend to the service of the LORD, so that you won't die, because this is what I've commanded."

36 So Aaron and his sons did everything that the LORD had commanded through Moses.

Leviticus 9

1 Eight days later, Moses called Aaron, his sons, and the elders of Israel.

2 He told Aaron, "Take a young calf for a sin offering and a ram without defects for a whole burnt offering and bring them into the LORD's presence."

3 He also told the Israelis, "Bring a male goat for a sin offering, a calf, a year old lamb without defects for a whole burnt offering,

4 an ox, a ram for a peace offering to sacrifice in the LORD's presence, and a grain offering with olive oil, because on that day the LORD will appear to you."

5 So they brought what Moses had commanded to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. The entire congregation drew near and stood in the LORD's presence.

6 Then Moses said, "This is what the LORD commanded you to do so that the glory of the LORD may be revealed to you."

7 Moses then told Aaron, "Approach the altar and bring your sin and whole burnt offerings. Make atonement for yourself and the people. Then bring the people's offering and make atonement for them, as the LORD commanded."

8 So Aaron drew near to the altar and slaughtered the calf for a sin offering on behalf of himself.

9 Next, Aaron's sons brought the blood to him and he dipped his fingers in the blood and placed it on the horns of the altar. As to the rest of the blood, he poured it at the base of the altar.

10 He incinerated the fat, kidneys, and the appendage from the liver of the sin offering, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

11 He also incinerated the meat and skin outside the camp.

12 And so the burnt offering was slaughtered, and Aaron's sons secured for him the blood, which he poured on the altar and around it.

13 As for the burnt offering, they delivered it to Aaron piece by piece, but he burned the head on the altar.

14 He washed the internal organs and the thighs and incinerated them on the altar, along with the whole burnt offering.

15 He brought the people's offering, presenting a goat for a sin offering on behalf of the people. He slaughtered it and offered it as the first sin offering.

16 Then he brought the whole burnt offering and offered it according to procedure.

17 Next, he brought the grain offering, filled his hand with it, and burned it on the altar next to the burnt offering for that morning.

18 He slaughtered the ox and ram for the peace offering sacrifice on behalf of the people. Aaron's sons delivered the blood to him, which he poured on the altar and around it.

19 As to the fat from the ox and the ram — the tail, the fat covering the kidneys, and the appendage of the liver —

20 they placed the fat on the breast and then he burned the fat on the altar.

21 Aaron waved the breast and the right thigh as a raised offering in the LORD's presence, just as Moses had commanded.

22 Aaron raised his hand toward the people and blessed them. Then he came down from the altar after offering the sin, whole burnt, and peace offerings.

23 Moses and Aaron entered the Tent of Meeting. When they came out, they blessed the people and the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people.

24 A fire came down from the LORD's presence and consumed the burnt offering on the altar as well as the fat. When the people saw it, they shouted and fell on their faces.

Matthew 27

20 But the high priests and elders persuaded the crowds to ask for Barabbas and to demand that Jesus be put to death.

21 So the governor asked them, "Which of the two men do you want me to release for you?" "Barabbas!" they replied.

22 Pilate asked them, "Then what should I do with Jesus, who is called the Messiah?" They all said, "Let him be crucified!"

23 He asked, "What has he done wrong?" But they kept shouting louder and louder, "Let him be crucified!"

24 Pilate saw that he was getting nowhere, but that a riot was about to break out instead. So he took some water and washed his hands in front of the crowd, saying, "I am innocent of this man's blood. Attend to that yourselves."

25 All the people answered, "Let his blood be on us and our children!"

26 Then he released Barabbas for them, but he had Jesus whipped and handed over to be crucified.

27 Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus into the imperial headquarters and gathered the whole company of soldiers around him.

28 They stripped him and put a scarlet robe on him.

29 Twisting some thorns into a victor's crown, they placed it on his head and put a stick in his right hand. They knelt down in front of him and began making fun of him, saying, "Long live the king of the Jews!"

30 Then they spat on him and took the stick and hit him repeatedly on his head.

31 When they had finished making fun of him, they stripped him of the robe, put his own clothes back on him, and led him away to crucify him.

32 As they were leaving, they found a man from Cyrene named Simon, whom they forced to carry Jesus' cross.

33 When they came to a place called Golgotha (which means "Skull Place"),

34 they offered him a drink of wine mixed with gall. But when he tasted it, he refused to drink it.

35 After they had crucified him, they determined who would get his clothes by throwing dice for them.

36 Then they sat down there and continued guarding him.

37 Above his head they placed the charge against him. It read, "This is Jesus, the king of the Jews."

38 At that time two bandits were crucified with him, one on his right and the other on his left.

39 Those who passed by kept insulting him, shaking their heads,

40 and saying, "You who were going to destroy the sanctuary and rebuild it in three days — save yourself! If you are the Son of God, come down from the cross!"

41 In the same way the high priests, along with the scribes and elders, were also making fun of him. They kept saying,

42 "He saved others but can't save himself! He is the king of Israel. Let him come down from the cross now, and we will believe in him.

43 He trusts in God. Let God rescue him, if he wants to do so now. After all, he said 'I am the Son of God.'"

44 In a similar way, the bandits who were being crucified with him kept insulting him.

Leviticus 10

1 Aaron's sons Nadab and Abihu each took his own censer, placed fire in them, covered it with incense, and brought it into the LORD's presence as unauthorized fire that he had never prescribed for them.

2 So a fire came out from the LORD's presence, incinerated them, and they died while in the LORD's presence.

3 Moses spoke with Aaron about what the LORD had said: "Among those who are near me, I'll show myself holy so that I'll be glorified before all people." So Aaron remained silent.

4 Then Moses called on Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Uzziel, Aaron's uncle, and said: "Come here and carry your brothers away from the sanctuary, outside the camp."

5 So they approached to carry them in their tunic outside the camp, just as Moses had commanded.

6 Then Moses told Aaron and his sons Eleazar and Ithamar: "You are not to loosen the hair of your head and you are not to rend your clothes. That way, you won't die and wrath won't come on the entire congregation. Your brothers and the assembly of Israel will mourn because of the fire that the LORD kindled.

7 Also, you are not to leave the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. Otherwise, you'll die, since the LORD's anointing oil remains on you." So they followed Moses' instructions.

8 Then the LORD spoke to Aaron:

9 "You and your sons with you are not to drink wine — that is, any intoxicating drink — when you enter the Tent of Meeting. That way, you won't die. This is to be a perpetual statute throughout your generations.

10 "Differentiate between what's sacred and common and between what's unclean and clean.

11 Teach the Israelis all the statutes that the LORD had commanded you by the authority of Moses."

12 Then Moses spoke to Aaron and his sons Eleazar and Ithamar: "Take the leftovers from the grain offering and the offerings made by fire and eat the unleavened bread beside the altar, because it is most holy to the LORD.

13 Eat at a sacred place, because it's your and your son's prescribed portions. It's from the offering made by fire to the LORD, since I've commanded it.

14 As to the breast and thigh raised offerings, you and your sons and daughters with you may eat them at a clean place, because it belongs to you and is your sons' prescribed portions. They were taken from the sacrifices of peace offering of the Israelis.

15 They are to bring the thigh offering and the breast raised offering with the offerings made by fire from the fat to wave as a raised offering in the LORD's presence. It will be a perpetual portion for you and your sons with you, just as the LORD had commanded."

16 Now, Moses diligently sought for the goat that had been offered as a sin offering, but it had already been incinerated, so he was angry with Aaron's sons who remained. He asked Eleazar and Ithamar,

17 "Why didn't you eat the sin offering at the sacred place? It's most holy and he has given it to you so that you may bear the punishment for the iniquity of the entire congregation and make atonement for them in the LORD's presence.

18 Look! Its blood wasn't brought inside the sanctuary. You are to have eaten it in the sanctuary, just as I've commanded."

19 But Aaron replied to Moses, "Today they've offered their sin and whole burnt offerings in the LORD's presence. Yet things such as these have happened to me. Had I eaten the sin offering today, would that be pleasing in the LORD's opinion?"

20 When Moses heard that explanation, he was pleased.

Leviticus 11

1 The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron:

2 "Tell the Israelis, 'These are the living creatures that you may eat among the animals of the earth.

3 You may eat any animal that has divided hooves with cloven feet and that ruminates its cud,

4 except you are not to eat the following animals that have divided hooves or ruminate their cud: the camel (because it chews the cud but doesn't have divided hooves) is to be unclean for you;

5 the rock badger (because it chews its cud but its hooves aren't divided) is to be unclean for you;

6 the hare (because it chews its cud, but its hooves aren't divided) is to be unclean for you;

7 the pig (because it has divided hooves and is therefore cloven footed, but it doesn't ruminate its cud), is to be unclean for you.

8 You are not to eat its flesh or even touch their carcasses. They are to be unclean for you."

9 "You may eat anything that's in the waters; that is, you may eat anything that has fins and scales either from the seas or from the rivers.

10 But anything that doesn't have fins or scales — whether from the seas or the rivers — any of the swarming creatures and living creatures in the waters are detestable for you.

11 They are to be detestable for you. You are not to eat of their meat and you are to detest their carcasses.

12 Anything that doesn't have fins or scales in the waters is a detestable thing for you."

13 "These are detestable things for you among winged creatures that you are not to eat, because they are detestable for you: the eagle, vulture, osprey,

14 red kite, falcon of any kind,

15 every kind of raven,

16 ostrich, nighthawk, sea gull, hawk of every kind,

17 owl, cormorant, ibis,

18 water-hen, pelican, carrion,

19 stork, heron of every kind, hoopoe, bat,

20 and any winged insect that crawls on four legs is detestable for you.

21 "However, you may eat winged creatures that crawl on four legs that extend over its head and by which it hops on the ground.

22 These creatures that you may eat include the locust of any kind, the bald locust of any kind, the cricket of any kind, and the grasshopper of any kind.

23 But any other winged insect that has four legs is detestable for you

24 and are unclean. Anyone who touches their carcasses becomes unclean until evening.

25 And anyone who carries their carcasses is to wash his clothes, since he will remain unclean until evening."

26 "Any animal that has divided hooves and is cloven-footed but doesn't chew the cud is unclean for you. Anyone who touches them is unclean.

27 Among the animals, anything that walks on their paws and on four legs is unclean for you. Anyone who touches their carcasses becomes unclean until evening.

28 Whoever carries their carcass is to wash their clothes, because they've become unclean until evening. They're unclean for you.

29 "These are unclean for you among the swarming creatures that crawl over the land: the rat, mouse, lizards of every kind,

30 the gecko, crocodile, lizard, sand lizard, and chameleon.

31 These are unclean for you among the swarming creatures, so anyone who touches them when they're dead becomes unclean until evening.

32 "Furthermore, anything on which they fall upon when they're dead becomes unclean, whether on an article of wood, clothing, skin, or a sack. And any vessel used for any work is to be washed in water, because it has become unclean until evening.

33 Any earthen vessel in which any of these things fall becomes unclean, along with everything in it. You are to destroy it, along with all its contents."

34 "Any food that may be eaten, but which water has soaked in, becomes unclean. Any drink, which may be drunk in any of these vessels becomes unclean.

35 And anything in which their carcass falls on becomes unclean. An oven or stove is to be broken in pieces. They're unclean and therefore unclean for you.

36 "A spring or a cistern that holds water is clean, but whoever touches the carcass of an unclean animal will be unclean.

37 If their carcass falls on a seed, which is for sowing, what is to be sown is clean.

38 But if water is put on the seed and part of their carcass falls on it, then it has become unclean for you.

39 "If any of the animals that you may eat dies, the one who touches its carcass becomes unclean until evening.

40 The one who eats from its carcass is to wash his clothes, because he has become unclean until evening. Even the one who carries the carcass is to wash his clothes, because he has become unclean until evening."

41 "Every swarming thing that swarms the land is detestable for you. It is not to be eaten.

42 You are not to eat anything that crawls on its belly, anything that walks on four legs, anything that has many legs, and all the swarming creatures that swarm the land, because they're detestable.

43 "You are not to make yourselves detestable on account of any swarming creature that swarms the land. And you are not to defile yourselves and become unclean because of them, 44 because I, the LORD, am your God. "Set yourselves apart and be holy, because I am holy. You are not to defile yourselves with any of the swarming creatures that swarm the earth.

45 "I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. Be holy, because I am holy.

46 This is the law concerning animals, every living creature that moves on the waters or swarms on land.

47 You are to differentiate between the clean and unclean, between the living creature that can be eaten and the living creature that is not to be eaten.

Matthew 27

45 From noon on, darkness came over the whole land until three in the afternoon.
46 About three o'clock, Jesus cried out with a loud voice, "Eli, eli, lema sabachthani?", which means, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?"
47 When some of the people standing there heard this, they said, "He's calling for Elijah."
48 So one of the men ran off at once, took a sponge, and soaked it in some sour wine. Then he put it on a stick and offered Jesus a drink.
49 But the others kept saying, "Wait! Let's see if Elijah will come and save him."
50 Then Jesus cried out with a loud voice again and died.
51 Suddenly the curtain in the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom, the earth shook, rocks were split open,
52 tombs were opened, and many saints who had died were brought back to life.
53 After his resurrection, they came out of their tombs and went into the Holy City and appeared to many people.
54 When the centurion and those guarding Jesus with him saw the earthquake and the other things that were taking place, they were terrified and said, "This man certainly was the Son of God!"
55 Now many women were also there, watching from a distance. They had accompanied Jesus from Galilee and had ministered to him.
56 Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James and Joseph, and the mother of Zebedee's sons.
57 Later that evening, a rich man arrived from Arimathea. His name was Joseph, and he had become a disciple of Jesus.
58 He went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus, and Pilate ordered it to be done.
59 So Joseph took the body and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth.
60 Then he placed it in his own new tomb, which he had cut out of the rock. After rolling a large stone across the door of the tomb, he left,
61 but Mary Magdalene and the other Mary remained there, sitting in front of the tomb.
62 The following day (that is, after the Day of Preparation), the high priests and Pharisees gathered before Pilate
63 and said, "Sir, we remember how that impostor said while he was still alive, 'After three days I will be raised.'
64 Therefore, order the tomb to be secured until the third day, or his disciples may go and steal him and then tell the people, 'He has been raised from the dead.' Then the last deception would be worse than the first one."
65 Pilate told them, "You have a military guard. Go and make the tomb as secure as you know how."
66 So they went and secured the tomb by putting a seal on the stone in the presence of the guards.

Leviticus 12

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
- 2 "Tell the Israelis that a woman who conceives and bears a son is unclean for seven days. Just like the days of her menstruation, she is unclean.
- 3 On the eighth day, the flesh of the baby's foreskin is to be circumcised.
- 4 For 33 days, she is to remain in purification due to her blood loss. She is not to touch any sacred thing or enter the sanctuary until the days of her purification have been completed.
- 5 "If she gives birth to a female, then she is to remain unclean for two weeks, just like her menstruation. She is to remain in purification for 66 days due to her blood loss.
- 6 "When the days of her purification have been completed, whether for her son or daughter, she is to bring to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting a one year old lamb for a whole burnt offering or a young dove for a sin offering.
- 7 "He is to offer it in the LORD's presence and make atonement for her so that she becomes clean from her blood loss. This is the law concerning the bearing of a male or female child.
- 8 If she cannot afford a goat, then two turtledoves or two young doves, one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering, will serve for him to make atonement for her, so that she becomes clean."

Leviticus 13

- 1 The LORD said this to Moses and Aaron:
- 2 "When a person has a swelling or a scab in the skin on his body that turns white in appearance and appears to be more extensive than skin deep, he is to be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons among the priests.
- 3 The priest is to examine the skin rash on the body. If the hair on the skin rash has turned white and its appearance is deeper than the skin of his body, it's an infectious skin disease. When the priest has examined it, then he is to declare him unclean.
- 4 "If the light spot in the skin of his body is white but the appearance of the skin rash isn't deeper than the skin of his body and its hair has not become white, then the priest is to isolate the one who is infected for seven days.
- 5 On the seventh day, the priest is to examine him again. If in his opinion the skin rash remained the same and it had not spread, then he is to isolate him for another seven days.
- 6 "On the next seventh day, the priest is to examine him again. If the skin rash didn't become dull and it didn't spread in the skin, then the priest is to pronounce him clean: it's a scab. He is to wash his clothes and be clean.
- 7 But if the scab has spread in the skin after he presented himself to the priest for cleansing, then he is to show himself the second time to the priest.
- 8 When the priest examines him and determines that the scab has, in fact, spread in his skin, then the priest is to pronounce him unclean, since it's an infectious skin disease."
- 9 "When a person has a skin rash that's infectious, then he is to be brought to the priest.
- 10 The priest is to examine it. If it is, indeed, a white swelling in the skin that has turned the hair white, and yet sustains live flesh on the swelling,
- 11 it's a festering skin disease in his body. The priest is to declare him unclean. The man need not be confined, since he's already unclean.
- 12 If the infectious skin disease spreads in the skin so that it covers his entire body from head to foot, (as the priest examines it),
- 13 when the priest's examination reveals that the infectious skin disease has covered his entire body, then he is to declare him clean, even though he still has the skin infection. He has turned entirely white, so he's clean.
- 14 "But if, one day, infected flesh appears again in him, he is unclean.

15 The priest is to examine the infected flesh and declare him unclean. The raw flesh is unclean; it's an infectious skin disease.

16 If the raw flesh recurs and turns white, then he is to go to the priest.

17 When the priest examines him and finds that the skin rash has indeed turned white, then the priest is to declare the one with the skin rash clean, and he will be clean."

18 "When someone is infected with a boil, but after it's healed,

19 in place of the boil there remains a white swelling or a bright, white-reddish spot, he is to present himself to the priest.

20 When the priest undertakes his examination and finds that it appears more extensive than skin deep, and that its hair has turned white, then the priest is to declare him unclean, since an infectious skin disease has flourished in the boil.

21 "If the priest undertakes an examination but there's no white hair in it, and it's not more extensive than skin deep, but it's dull, then the priest is to isolate him for seven days.

22 But if the infection has spread in the skin, then the priest is to declare him unclean. It's a skin rash.

23 If the scab remains in place and doesn't spread, then it's the scab from the boil. The priest is to declare him clean."

24 "When a person has a burn scar in the skin that turns bright, white-reddish, or white,

25 if the priest examines it and indeed the hair has turned white with a white spot appearing more extensive than skin deep, it's an infectious skin disease with a burn scar that has spread. The priest is to declare him unclean. It's an infectious skin disease.

26 "But if the priest examines it and discovers that there's no bright area or white hair, or if he discovers that it's not more extensive than skin deep, and it's dull, then the priest is to isolate him for seven days.

27 When the priest examines it on the seventh day and finds that it has indeed spread on the skin, then the priest is to declare him unclean. It's an infectious skin disease.

28 "But if the bright spot remains in place, doesn't spread in the skin, and it's dull, it's the swelling of the burned area. The priest is to declare him clean, since it's the scar from a burn."

29 "Now when a man or a woman has a skin rash on the head or the beard,

30 and the priest examines the skin rash and indeed it appears more extensive than skin deep, and it's accompanied by fine, yellowish hair, the priest is to declare him unclean. The scales on the head or the beard are an infectious skin disease.

31 "But when the priest examines the scales of the skin rash and it doesn't appear more extensive than skin deep, and there's no black hair in it, then the priest is to isolate him for seven days.

32 When the priest examines the skin rash on the seventh day and finds that indeed the scab did not spread, there's no yellowish hair on it, and the scales don't appear more extensive than skin deep,

33 then he is to be shaven, but the scab is not to be shaved off. The priest is to isolate him a second time for seven days.

34 "The priest is to examine the scab on the seventh day. If, indeed, the scab hasn't spread on the skin, and it doesn't appear more extensive than skin deep, then the priest is to declare him clean. He is to wash his garments and be clean.

35 "But if the scales spread on the skin after his cleansing,

36 and the priest examines it and finds the scale to have spread on the skin, the priest need not look for yellowish hair, since he is clean.

37 If in his opinion, the scab remained the same and a black hair grew in it, then the scab has healed. He's clean. The priest is to declare him clean.

38 "If a man or a woman has a light or whitish spot in the skin of their body,

39 when the priest examines it and finds that there is a light or dull white patch of the skin on the body, it's a harmless skin eruption that has spread on the skin. The person is clean."

40 "When a man's head becomes bare, he's bald, but he's clean.

41 When his head becomes bare on the side corner of his face, he has a bald forehead, but he's clean.

42 But when in the baldness of his head or his forehead there develops a skin rash that's white or reddish, it's an infectious skin disease that has spread to his bald head or forehead.

43 "When the priest examines it and finds that the swelling of the skin rash is white or reddish on his bald head or forehead, similar in appearance to an infectious disease in the skin of the body,

44 he's a man with an infectious skin disease. He's unclean. The priest is to declare him unclean on account of the skin rash in his head.

45 The person with the infectious skin disease is to tear his garments and loosen his hair. He is to cover his moustache and shout out, 'Unclean! Unclean!'

46 The whole time that the skin rash infects him, he will be unclean. He is to live by himself in a home outside the encampment."

47 "When clothing becomes infected with a contagion — whether the clothing is wool or linen —

48 in woven or knitted material, in leather or with any article containing leather,

49 if the contagion is greenish or reddish in the clothing, leather, woven material, knitted material, or with any article containing leather, it's a fungal infection and is to be shown to the priest.

50 "The priest is to examine the contagion and isolate the clothing for seven days.

51 The priest is to examine the contagion on the seventh day. If the infection has spread on the clothing, in the woven material, the knitted material, or in the leather, no matter the purpose for which the leather material had been manufactured, the contagion is a chronic fungal infection. It's unclean.

52 "Incinerate the clothing, the woven material, the knitted material (whether wool or linen), or any of the leather articles on which the contagion is found, because it's a chronic fungal infection. It is to be incinerated.

53 "But if the priest examines it and the infection did not spread on the clothing, either in the woven or knitted material, or on anything made of leather,

54 then the priest is to command that they wash whatever has the contagion and then isolate it for seven days a second time.

55 Then the priest is to examine it after the contagion has been washed. If the contagion hasn't changed in appearance, even though the contagion hasn't spread, it's unclean. Incinerate it. It's a fungal infection, especially if the infection is on its exposed side.

56 "If the priest examines the item and determines that the contagion has become dull after it has been washed, tear it away from the garment, leather, woven material, or knitted material.

57 But if it recurs on the clothing, whether woven or knitted material, or on any article made of leather, it's a break out, so incinerate it with fire, wherever the contagion is found.

58 Then the clothing, whether it is woven or knitted material, or any article made of leather that you've washed, if the contagion has been removed from them, and it's washed the second time, then it's clean.

59 "This is the law concerning fungal contagions on clothing of wool or linen, whether woven or knitted material, or in any of the articles made of leather, for determining whether it is clean or unclean."

Matthew 28

- 1 After the Sabbaths, around dawn on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went to take a look at the burial site.
- 2 Suddenly there was a powerful earthquake, because an angel of the Lord had come down from heaven, approached the stone, rolled it away, and was sitting on top of it.
- 3 His appearance was bright as lightning, and his clothes were white as snow.
- 4 Trembling from fear, even the guards themselves became catatonic.
- 5 Responding to the women, the angel said, "Stop being frightened! I know you're looking for Jesus, who was crucified.
- 6 He is not here. He has been raised, just as he said. Come and see the place where he was lying.
- 7 Then go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead. He is going ahead of you into Galilee, and you will see him there. Remember, I have told you!"
- 8 So they quickly left the tomb, terrified but also ecstatic, and ran to tell Jesus' disciples.
- 9 Suddenly Jesus met them and said, "Greetings!" They went up to him, took hold of his feet, and worshipped him.
- 10 Then Jesus told them, "Stop being frightened! Go and tell my brothers to leave for Galilee, and they will see me there."
- 11 While the women were on their way, some of the guards went into the city and told the high priests everything that had happened.
- 12 So they met with the elders and agreed on a plan to give the soldiers a large amount of money.
- 13 They said, "Say that Jesus' disciples came at night and stole him while you were sleeping.
- 14 If this is reported to the governor, we'll personally persuade him to keep you out of trouble."
- 15 So the soldiers took the money, did as they were instructed, and this story has been spread among the Jews to this day.
- 16 The eleven disciples went into Galilee to the hillside to which Jesus had directed them.
- 17 When they saw him, they worshipped him, though some had doubts.
- 18 Then Jesus came up and told them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me.
- 19 Therefore, as you go, disciple people in all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Spirit,
- 20 teaching them to obey everything that I've commanded you. And remember, I am with you each and every day until the end of the age."

Leviticus 14

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
- 2 "This is the law concerning those who have infectious skin diseases, after they have been cleansed.
- 3 "The priest is to go outside the camp and examine the infectious skin disease to confirm that the person has been healed.
- 4 If he has been healed, then the priest is to command that two live and clean birds, some cedar wood, some crimson thread, and hyssop be brought for the one cleansed.
- 5 Then the priest is to command that one bird be slaughtered on an earthen vessel over flowing water.
- 6 He is then to take the live bird, the cedar wood, the crimson thread, and the hyssop, dip them together with the bird in the blood of the bird that had been slaughtered over the flowing water.
- 7 He is to sprinkle the blood seven times on the person with the infectious skin disease and then pronounce him clean. Then he is to release the live bird into the open fields.
- 8 "The person who is clean is to wash his clothes, shave all his hair, and bathe in water, after which he is to be declared clean. Then he can be brought back to the camp, but he is to remain outside his tent for seven days.
- 9 On the seventh day, he is to shave the hair on his head, chin, back, and eyebrows. After he has shaved all his hair, washed his clothes, bathed himself with water, then he will be clean."
- 10 "On the eighth day, he is to take two lambs without defect, a one year old ewe lamb without defect, one third of a measure of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a meal offering, and one half of a litre of oil.
- 11 The priest who will pronounce him clean is to present the person to be cleansed and these offerings in the LORD's presence at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
- 12 The priest is to take one of the lambs and present it as a guilt-offering, along with one third of a litre of olive oil, which he is to wave as a raised offering in the LORD's presence.
- 13 Then he is to slaughter the lamb in the place where he had slaughtered the sin and burnt offerings — that is, at a place in the sanctuary. Just as the sin offering is for the priest, so also is the guilt offering. It's a most holy thing.
- 14 "Then the priest is to take some of the blood from the guilt offering and place it on the right earlobe of the person to be cleansed, on his right thumb, and on his right great toe.
- 15 Then the priest is to take some of the half litre of olive oil and pour it into his own left hand.
- 16 The priest is to dip his right finger in the olive oil that is in his left palm and sprinkle some of the olive oil with his finger seven times in the LORD's presence.
- 17 "As to the remainder of the olive oil in his palm, he is to place some on the right earlobe of the person to be cleansed, on his right thumb, on his right great toe, and on the blood of the guilt offering.
- 18 Then he is to place the rest of the oil in his palm on the head of the person to be cleansed, thus making atonement for him in the LORD's presence.
- 19 This is how the priest is to present the sin offering to make atonement for the person being cleansed of his impurity. After this, he is to slaughter the whole burnt offering.
- 20 The priest is to offer both the whole burnt and the grain offerings on the altar. After the priest makes atonement for him, he will be clean."
- 21 "If the offeror is poor and cannot afford the regular offering, then he is to take one lamb for a guilt offering that will be presented in the form of a wave offering to atone for him, one tenth of a measure of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering, one half of a measure of olive oil,

22 and two turtledoves or two young pigeons, whichever he can afford. One is for a sin offering and the other is for a whole burnt offering.

23 "On the eighth day, he is to bring them for cleansing to the priest in the LORD's presence at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

24 The priest is to take the lamb for a guilt offering and the olive oil and wave them as a raised offering in the LORD's presence.

25 Then he is to take the lamb for the guilt offering, and place some blood from the guilt offering on the right earlobe of the person to be cleansed, on his right thumb, and on his right great toe.

26 Then the priest is to pour olive oil into his left palm

27 and use his right finger to sprinkle oil from his left palm seven times in the LORD's presence.

28 The priest is to place oil from his palm on the right earlobe of the person being cleansed, on his right thumb, on his right great toe, and where the blood for the guilt offering is poured.

29 "As to the remainder of the oil in his palm, the priest is to use it to anoint the head of the person to be cleansed, in order to make atonement for him in the LORD's presence.

30 He then is to offer one of the turtledoves or the young pigeons, whichever he can afford.

31 Based on what he can afford, one is for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering. Along with the grain offering, the priest is to make atonement for the person to be cleansed in the LORD's presence.

32 This is the regulation concerning one who has an infectious skin disease but who cannot afford his cleansing."

33 The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron:

34 "When you enter the land of Canaan that I'm about to give you as your own possession, and if I put a contagion in a house in the land that you possess,

35 then the owner of the house is to approach the priest and tell him, 'There appears to be a contagion in the house.'

36 The priest is to command that the house be cleared before he comes to examine the contagion so that not everything in the house becomes unclean. "After this, the priest is to enter the house and examine it.

37 He is to determine if the contagion is indeed on the walls of the house, with greenish or reddish streaks and to determine if it appears to be deeper than the surface of the wall.

38 The priest is to leave through the entrance to the house and seal the house for seven days.

39 He is to return after seven days to examine it. If the contagion has spread to the walls of the house, 40 then the priest is to command that they take out the contaminated stones and discard them in an unclean place outside the city.

41 "Now as for the house, they are to scrape off inside and outside the house and then discard the torn out plaster in an unclean place outside the city.

42 They are then to take other stones and bring them to replace those stones. Lastly, they are to replaster the house.

43 "If the contagion returns and spreads throughout the house after the stones have been removed, after the house has been scraped out, and after it had been re-coated,

44 and the priest comes, undertakes an examination, and determines that the contagion has spread in the house, it's a chronic fungal infection in the house. It's unclean.

45 "He is to pull down the house, its stones, its lumber, and all the plaster on the house, and discard them in an unclean place outside the city.

46 Moreover, whoever enters the house during the time it was isolated is to be considered unclean until the evening.

47 Whoever slept in the house is to wash his clothes, along with whoever has eaten in the house.

48 "But if the priest comes in to conduct an examination and determines that the contagion has not spread throughout the house after the house has been repaired, then the priest may declare the house clean, because the contagion has been cleansed.

49 In order to cleanse the house, he is to take two birds, some cedar wood, two crimson threads, and some hyssop.

50 Then he is to slaughter one bird on an earthen vessel over flowing water.

51 He is to take the cedar wood, the hyssop, the two crimson threads, and the live bird, and dip them in the blood of the slaughtered bird over flowing water. Then he is to sprinkle the house seven times.

52 "He is to clean the house with the blood of the bird over flowing water, including cleansing the live bird, the cedar wood, the hyssop, and the crimson thread.

53 Then he is to send the bird away, outside the city, facing the fields, to make atonement for the house. Then it is to be considered clean.

54 This is the law for every contagion of infectious skin disease and scabs,

55 for fungal infections on clothing or in a house,

56 for swelling of the skin, scabs, and bright spots,

57 to distinguish when it's unclean and clean. This is the law for infectious skin diseases."

Romans 1

1 From: Paul, a servant of Jesus the Messiah, called to be an apostle and set apart for God's gospel,

2 which he promised beforehand through his prophets in the Holy Scriptures

3 regarding his Son. He was a descendant of David with respect to his humanity

4 and was declared by the resurrection from the dead to be the powerful Son of God according to the spirit of holiness — Jesus the Messiah, our Lord.

5 Through him we received grace and a commission as an apostle to bring about faithful obedience among all the gentiles for the sake of his name.

6 You, too, are among those who have been called to belong to Jesus the Messiah.

7 To: Everyone in Rome, loved by God and called to be holy. May grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be yours!

8 First of all, I thank my God through Jesus the Messiah for all of you, because the news about your faith is being reported throughout the world.

9 For God, whom I serve with my spirit by preaching the gospel about his Son, is my witness how constantly I mention you

10 in my prayers at all times, asking that somehow by God's will I may at last succeed in coming to you.

11 For I am longing to see you so that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to make you strong,

12 that is, that we may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith, both yours and mine.

13 I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that I often planned to come to you (but have been prevented from doing so until now), so that I might reap a harvest among you, just as I have among the rest of the gentiles.

14 Both to Greeks and to barbarians, both to wise and to foolish people, I am a debtor.

15 That is why I am so eager to proclaim the gospel to you who live in Rome, too.

16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is God's power for the salvation of everyone who believes, of the Jew first and of the Greek as well.

17 For in the gospel God's righteousness is being revealed from faith to faith, as it is written, "The righteous will live by faith."

Leviticus 15

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron.
- 2 "Tell the Israelis that when a man has a discharge from his body, his discharge is unclean.
- 3 And this is the cause of his uncleanness — his discharge. Whether his body is releasing the discharge or his body has stopped the discharge, he's unclean.
- 4 Every bed on which he lies down with the discharge is to be considered unclean, and every object on which he sits becomes unclean.
- 5 "Any person who touches his bed is to wash his garments and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 6 "Whoever sits on any object on which the one with the discharge had sat is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 7 "Whoever touches the body of someone with a discharge is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 8 "Whoever has a discharge and spits on someone who is clean, then he is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 9 "Any saddle that anyone with a discharge rides on will become unclean.
- 10 Whoever touches anything that was under him will be unclean until evening. Whoever carries them is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 11 "Anyone whom the one with the discharge touches without rinsing his hands with water is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 12 The earthen vessel that the person with the discharge touches is to be broken in pieces, and every wooden vessel is to be rinsed with water."
- 13 "When the one with the discharge is cleansed from his discharge, then he is to set aside for himself seven days for his cleansing. He is to wash his clothes and bathe with flowing water. Then he will be clean.
- 14 "On the eighth day, he is to take for himself two turtledoves or two young doves and bring them to the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting and give it to the priest.
- 15 Then the priest is to offer them, one for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering. That's how the priest will make atonement for him in the LORD's presence regarding his discharge.
- 16 "If a man has a seminal emission, he is to bathe his entire body with water and remain unclean until evening.
- 17 Every garment, including leather, on which the semen is found is to be washed with water, and it will remain unclean until evening.
- 18 "When a man has sexual relations with a woman and the man releases semen, both are to bathe with water, and they will remain unclean until evening."
- 19 "When a woman has a discharge and the blood is her monthly menstrual discharge from her body, then for seven days she is to remain in her menstrual uncleanness. Whoever touches her will remain unclean until evening.
- 20 "Everything that she sleeps on during her uncleanness will be unclean. Moreover, everything that she sits on will become unclean.
- 21 "Anyone who touches her bed is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 22 "Anyone who touches any of the objects on which she has sat is to wash his clothes and bathe with water, and he will remain unclean until evening.
- 23 Any bed or other object on which she sat that he touches will make him unclean until evening.

24 "When a man has sexual relations with her and her menstrual uncleanness touches him, he will be unclean for seven days. Every bed where he sleeps will remain unclean.
25 "When a woman has a continuous discharge of blood many days beyond the time of her menstrual uncleanness, or if she has a discharge that lasts beyond the days of her menstrual uncleanness, her uncleanness is to be treated like the days of her menstruation: she's unclean.
26 "Every bed on which she sleeps the whole time she has the discharge will be her own unclean bed so that every object on which she sits becomes unclean like her menstrual uncleanness.
27 Whoever touches them will become unclean. He is to wash his clothes and bathe with water and he will remain unclean until evening.
28 "If she becomes clean with her discharge, then she is to count for herself seven days after which she becomes clean.
29 On the eighth day, she is to take for herself two turtledoves or two young pigeons and bring them to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
30 Then the priest is to offer one for a sin offering and the other for a whole burnt offering. This is how the priest will make atonement in the LORD's presence for her regarding her unclean discharge.
31 "So separate the Israelis from their uncleanness so that they won't die in their uncleanness if they defile my tent that is in their midst.
32 These are the regulations for one whose discharge of semen causes him to become unclean because of it,
33 and for her whose menstruation causes her to become ill, for anyone who has a discharge, whether male or female, and for the man who has sexual relations with one who is unclean."

Leviticus 16

1 The LORD spoke to Moses after the death of Aaron's two sons when they had approached the LORD and died.
2 The LORD told Moses. "Remind your brother Aaron that at no time is he to enter the sacred place from the room that contains the curtain into the presence of the Mercy Seat on top of the ark. Otherwise, he'll die, because I will appear in a cloud at the Mercy Seat.
3 "Aaron is to enter the sacred place with a young bull for a sin offering and a ram for a whole burnt offering.
4 He is to wear a sacred linen tunic and linen breeches that will cover his genitals. He is to clothe himself with a sash and wrap his head with a linen turban. Because they are sacred garments, he is to wash himself with water before putting them on."
5 "He is to take two male goats for a sin offering and one ram for a whole burnt offering from the assembly of the Israelis.
6 Then Aaron is to bring the bull as a sin offering for himself and make atonement for himself and his household.
7 "Then he is to take the two male goats and present them in the LORD's presence at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
8 Aaron is to cast lots over the two male goats — one lot for the LORD and the other one for the scapegoat.
9 "Aaron then is to bring the male goat on which the lot fell for the LORD and offer it as a sin offering.
10 The male goat on which the lot fell for the scapegoat is to be brought alive into the LORD's presence to make atonement for himself. Then he is to send it into the wilderness."
11 "Aaron is then to bring the bull for a sin offering for himself, thus making atonement for himself and his household. He is to slaughter the ox for himself.

12 Then he is to take a censer and fill it with coals from the fire on the altar in the LORD's presence. With his hands full of spiced and refined incense, he is to bring it beyond the curtain.

13 "Then he is to place the incense over the fire in the LORD's presence, ensuring that the smoke from the incense covers the Mercy Seat, according to regulation, so he won't die.

14 He is to take blood from the ox and sprinkle it with his forefinger toward the surface of the Mercy Seat. Then he is to sprinkle the blood on the surface of the Mercy Seat with his forefinger seven times.

15 "He is to slaughter the male goat as a sin offering for the people and bring its blood beyond the curtain and do with its blood as he did with the blood of the bull: He is to sprinkle it on the Mercy Seat over the surface of the Mercy Seat.

16 Then he is to make atonement on the sacred place on account of the uncleanness of the Israelis, their transgressions, and all their sins. This is how he is to act in the Tent of Meeting, which will remain with them in the middle of their uncleanness.

17 "No person is to be there when he enters the Tent of Meeting to make atonement in the sacred place until he comes out and has made atonement on account of himself, his household, and the entire assembly of Israel.

18 When he goes to the altar in the LORD's presence to make atonement for himself, then he is to take some of the blood from the bull and the male goat, place it around the horns of the altar,

19 sprinkling it with the blood on his forefinger seven times, cleansing and sanctifying it from Israel's sins."

20 "When he has completed making atonement at the sacred place, the Tent of Meeting, and the altar, then he is to present the live male goat.

21 Aaron is to lay his two hands upon the head of the male goat and confess over it the sins of Israel, all their transgressions, and all their sins, thus placing them on the head of the male goat that he'll then send out to the wilderness by the hand of a man capable of carrying out this task.

22 The male goat will bear on itself all their sins to a solitary land, as Aaron sends the goat out to the wilderness.

23 "Then Aaron is to enter the Tent of Meeting, taking off his white linen clothes that he had put on when he entered the sacred place and leaving them there.

24 He is to wash his body with water at the sacred place and put on his clothes. Then he is to go out, offer a whole burnt offering for himself and a whole burnt offering for the people, thereby making atonement on account of himself and on account of the people.

25 "As to the fat from the burnt offering, he is to incinerate it on the altar.

26 The one who sent away the male goat as a scapegoat is to wash his clothes and bathe his body with water. After doing so, he may enter the camp.

27 "The bull for the sin offering and the male goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to the sacred place, are to be taken outside the camp. Their skin, meat, and offal are to be incinerated.

28 The one who burns them is to wash his clothes and bathe his body with water. After doing so, he may enter the camp."

Romans 1

18 For God's wrath is being revealed from heaven against all the ungodliness and wickedness of those who in their wickedness suppress the truth.

19 For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God himself has made it plain to them.

20 For since the creation of the world God's invisible attributes — his eternal power and divine nature — have been understood and observed by what he made, so that people are without excuse.

21 For although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him. Instead, their thoughts turned to worthless things, and their senseless hearts were darkened.

22 Though claiming to be wise, they became fools

23 and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images that looked like mortal human beings, birds, four-footed animals, and reptiles.

24 For this reason, God delivered them to sexual impurity as they followed the lusts of their hearts and dishonoured their bodies with one another.

25 They exchanged God's truth for a lie and worshipped and served the creation rather than the Creator, who is blessed forever. Amen.

26 For this reason, God delivered them to degrading passions as their females exchanged their natural sexual function for one that is unnatural.

27 In the same way, their males also abandoned their natural sexual function toward females and burned with lust toward one another. Males committed indecent acts with males, and received within themselves the appropriate penalty for their perversion.

28 Furthermore, because they did not think it worthwhile to keep knowing God fully, God delivered them to degraded minds to perform acts that should not be done.

29 They have become filled with every kind of wickedness, evil, greed, and depravity.

They are full of envy, murder, quarrelling, deceit, and viciousness. They are gossips,
30 slanderers, God-haters, haughty, arrogant, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to their parents,

31 foolish, faithless, heartless, and ruthless.

32 Although they know God's just requirement — that those who practise such things deserve to die — they not only do these things but even applaud others who practise them.

Romans 2

1 Therefore, you have no excuse — every one of you who judges. For when you pass judgement on another person, you condemn yourself, since you, the judge, practise the very same things.

2 Now we know that God's judgement against those who act like this is based on truth.

3 So when you, a mere man, pass judgement on those who practise these things and then do them yourself, do you think you will escape God's judgement?

4 Or are you unaware of his rich kindness, forbearance, and patience, that it is God's kindness that is leading you to repent?

5 But because of your stubborn and unrepentant heart you are reserving wrath for yourself on the day of wrath, when God's righteous judgement will be revealed.

6 For he will repay everyone according to what that person has done:

7 eternal life to those who strive for glory, honour, and immortality by patiently doing good;

8 but wrath and fury for those who in their selfish pride refuse to believe the truth and practise wickedness instead.

9 There will be suffering and anguish for every human being who practises doing evil, for Jews first and for Greeks as well.

10 But there will be glory, honour, and peace for everyone who practises doing good,
initially for Jews but also for Greeks as well,
11 because God does not show partiality.

21st February

Leviticus 16

29 "This is to be a perpetual statute for you. On the tenth day of the seventh month, you (including both the native born and the resident alien) are to humble yourselves by not doing any work,

30 because on that day, atonement will be made for you to cleanse you from all your sins. You are to be clean in the LORD's presence.

31 It's the Sabbath of all Sabbaths for you, so humble yourselves. This is to be a perpetual statute.

32 "The priest who has been anointed and consecrated to be priest after his father is to make the atonement. He is to put on the sacred linen clothing

33 and make atonement for the sacred sanctuary, the Tent of Meeting, and the altar where atonement is carried out. He is also to make atonement for the priests and the people of the entire assembly.

34 This will be a perpetual statute for you as you make atonement once a year for the Israelis on account of all their sins." So Moses did just as the LORD had commanded him.

Leviticus 17

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,

2 "Speak to Aaron, his sons, and all the Israelis and tell them that this is what the LORD has commanded.

3 When a person from the house of Israel slaughters an ox, a lamb, or a goat, whether in the camp or outside the camp,

4 but fails to bring it to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting as an offering in the presence of the tent of the LORD, that person will incur blood guiltiness. Because he has shed blood, that person is to be eliminated from contact with his people."

5 "This statute is required so that the Israelis may bring their sacrifices that they are sacrificing in the open field to the LORD, to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, where they are to slaughter their peace offering to the LORD.

6 The priest is to sprinkle the blood on the LORD's altar at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting and incinerate the fat, making a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

7 They are no longer to slaughter their sacrifices to the goat demons, with whom they have committed prostitution. This will be a perpetual statute for you throughout your generations."

8 "Tell them that if a person from the house of Israel or a resident alien who lives among you brings a whole burnt offering or a sacrifice

9 to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, but fails to bring it to offer it to the LORD, that person is to be eliminated from contact with his people."

10 "If anyone from the house of Israel or a resident alien who lives among them eats any form of blood, I'll oppose that person who ate the blood and eliminate him from his people, 11 because the life of the flesh is in the blood itself, and I myself have given it to you all so that atonement may be made for your souls on the altar, since the blood itself makes atonement through the life that is in it.

12 This is why I've told the Israelis that no person among you is to eat blood. Even the resident alien who lives among you is not to eat blood.

13 "If a person from the house of Israel or a resident alien who lives among you has hunted live game or a bird that may be eaten, he is to extract its blood and cover it with soil,

14 because the life of any flesh is the blood itself. Therefore I'm saying to the Israelis that the blood of any flesh is not to be eaten, because the life of any flesh is in its blood.

Anyone who eats of it is to be eliminated from contact with his people.

15 "Any person who eats a carcass or an animal that was torn by beasts, whether that person is native born or a resident alien, is to wash his clothes and bathe himself with water, and he will remain unclean until evening, and then he'll become clean.
16 But if he doesn't wash or bathe his body, then he is to bear the punishment of his iniquity."

Leviticus 18

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
2 Tell the Israelis that I am the LORD your God.
3 You are not to do what you used to do in the land Egypt where you lived. You are not to do what Canaan does, where I'm about to bring you, so that you live according to their statutes.
4 Obey my ordinances and keep my statutes by living by them. I am the LORD your God.
5 "Keep my statutes and my ordinances, which a person is to obey in order to live in them. I am the LORD.
6 "A person is not to approach a near blood relative for sexual relations. I am the LORD.
7 "Neither your father's nakedness nor your mother's nakedness is to be exposed. She's your mother, you are not to have sexual relations with her.
8 "You are not to have sexual relations with your father's wife. It's your own father's nakedness.
9 "You are not to have sexual relations with your sister, whether she's your father's daughter or your mother's daughter, whether she's born in your home or outside your home. You are not to have sexual relations with them.
10 "You are not to have sexual relations with your son's daughter or your daughter's daughter. You are not to have sexual relations with them, because their nakedness is your own nakedness.
11 "You are not to have sexual relations with the daughter of your father's wife. Born of your father, she's your sister, so you are not to have sexual relations with her.
12 "You are not to have sexual relations with your father's sister. She's your father's near blood relative.
13 "You are not to have sexual relations with your mother's sister. She's your mother's near blood relative.
14 "You are not to expose the nakedness of your father's brother by having sexual relations with his wife. She's your aunt.
15 "You are not to expose the nakedness of your daughter-in-law. She's the wife of your son. You are not to have sexual relations with her.
16 "You are not to have sexual relations with your brother's wife. She's the nakedness of your brother.
17 "You are not to have sexual relations with a woman and her daughter. "You are not to have sexual relations with her son's daughter or her daughter's daughter. They're near blood relatives. It's wickedness.
18 "You are not to marry a woman and then have sexual relations with her sister as a rival when your wife is still alive.
19 "You are not to approach a menstruating woman to have sexual relations with her.
20 "You are not to have sexual relations with your neighbour's wife and thereby become ceremonially unclean with her."
21 "You are not to present any of your children to Molech as a sacrifice. That way, you won't defile the name of your God."
22 You are not to have sexual relations with a male as you would with a woman. It's detestable."

23 "You are not to present yourself to an animal in order to have sexual relations with it and by doing so to defile yourself. Even a woman is not to present herself to an animal to have sexual relations with it. It's detestable.

24 "You are not to defile yourselves by doing any of these things, since all of these nations that I'm casting out before you have defiled themselves this way.

25 The land has been defiled, so I brought the punishment of its iniquity to it. As a result, the land is vomiting out its inhabitants.

26 "Therefore, keep my statutes and ordinances. You are not to do any of these detestable things — this applies to the native born and the resident alien who lives among you —

27 because the inhabitants of the land did all of these detestable things and by doing so defiled the land before you.

28 So you are not to let the land vomit you up because of your uncleanness as it is vomiting the nations that were here before you.

29 Anyone who does any of these detestable things — whoever the person may be — is to be eliminated from contact with his people.

30 Therefore keep my injunctions so that you won't practise these detestable things that have been done before you, and so that you won't be defiled in them. I am the LORD."

Leviticus 19

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,

2 "Tell the entire assembly of Israel that they are to be holy, since I, the LORD your God, am holy.

3 "Each of you is to fear his mother and father. "Observe my Sabbaths. I am the LORD your God.

4 "You are not to turn to their idols or cast gods out of melted metal for yourselves. I am the LORD your God.

5 "When you offer peace offerings to the LORD, offer it for your acceptance.

6 Your sacrifice is to be eaten on that day and the next day. Any that remains to the third day is to be incinerated.

7 Since it's eaten on the third day, it's unclean. It won't be accepted.

8 Any one who eats it will bear the punishment of his sin, since he will have defiled himself regarding the LORD's holy things. That person is to be eliminated from contact with his people."

9 "When you reap the harvest of your land, you are not to completely finish harvesting the corners of the field, that is, you are not to pick what remains after you have reaped your harvest.

10 You are not to gather your vineyard or pick up the fallen grapes of your vineyard. Leave something for the poor and the resident alien who lives among you. I am the LORD your God."

11 "You are not to steal or lie or deal falsely with your neighbour.

12 "You are not to use my name to deceive, thereby defiling the name of your God. I am the LORD.

13 "You are not to oppress your neighbour or rob him. "The wages of a hired labourer are not to remain in your possession until morning.

14 "You are not to curse a deaf person or put a stumbling block before the blind. "You are to fear God. I am the LORD."

15 "You are not to be unjust in deciding a case. You are not to show partiality to the poor or honour the great. Instead, decide the case of your neighbour with righteousness."

16 "You are not to go around slandering your people. "You are not to stand idle when your neighbour's life is at stake. I am the LORD.

Romans 2

12 For all who have sinned apart from the Law will also perish apart from the Law, and all who have sinned under the Law will be judged by the Law.

13 For it is not merely those who hear the Law who are righteous in God's sight. No, it is those who follow the Law, who will be justified.

14 For whenever gentiles, who do not possess the Law, do instinctively what the Law requires, they are a law to themselves, even though they do not have the Law.

15 They show that what the Law requires is written in their hearts, a fact to which their own consciences testify, and their thoughts will either accuse or excuse them

16 on that day when God, through Jesus the Messiah, will judge people's secrets according to my gospel.

17 Now if you call yourself a Jew, and rely on the Law, and boast about God,

18 and know his will, and approve of what is best because you have been instructed in the Law;

19 and if you are convinced that you are a guide for the blind, a light to those in darkness,

20 an instructor of ignorant people, and a teacher of infants because you have the full content of knowledge and truth in the Law —

21 as you teach others, do you fail to teach yourself? As you preach against stealing, do you steal?

22 As you forbid adultery, do you commit adultery? As you abhor idols, do you rob temples?

23 As you boast about the Law, do you dishonour God by breaking the Law?

24 As it is written, "God's name is being blasphemed among the gentiles because of you."

25 For circumcision is valuable if you observe the Law, but if you break the Law, your having been circumcised has no more value than if you were uncircumcised.

26 So if a man who is uncircumcised keeps the requirements of the Law, his uncircumcision will be regarded as circumcision, won't it?

27 The man who is uncircumcised physically but who keeps the Law will condemn you who break the Law, even though you have the written Law and circumcision.

28 For a person is not a Jew because of his appearance, nor is circumcision something just external and physical.

29 No, a person is a Jew inwardly, and circumcision is a matter of the heart, brought about by the Spirit, not by a written law. That person's praise will come from God, not from people.

Leviticus 19

17 "You are not to hate your relative in your heart. Rebuke your neighbour if you must, but you are not to incur guilt on account of him.

18 "You are not to seek vengeance or hold a grudge against the descendants of your people. Instead, love your neighbour as yourself. I am the LORD."

19 "Observe my statutes. "You are not to let your cattle breed with a different species. "You are not to sow your fields with two different kinds of seeds. "You are not to wear clothing made from two different kinds of material.

20 "When a person has sexual relations with a woman servant who is engaged to another man, but she had not been completely redeemed nor had her freedom been granted to her, there is to be an inquiry, but they won't be put to death, since she had not been freed.

21 "The perpetrator is to bring his guilt offering to the LORD at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, along with a ram as guilt offering.

22 Then the priest is to make atonement for him with the ram as guilt offering in the LORD's presence on account of his sin which he had committed but which has been forgiven him."

23 "When you have entered the land and planted all sorts of trees for food, regard its fruit as uncircumcised for the first three years for you. It is not to be eaten.

24 During the fourth year, all its fruit is to be offered as a holy token of praise to the LORD.

25 But on the fifth year, you may eat its fruits to increase its produce for you."

26 "You are not to eat anything containing blood, engage in occult practices, or practise fortune telling.

27 "You are not to cut your hair in ritualistic patterns on your heads or deface the edges of your beard.

28 "You are not to make incisions in your flesh on account of the dead nor submit to cuts or tattoos. I am the LORD.

29 "You are not to defile your daughter by engaging her in prostitution so the land won't become filled with wickedness.

30 "Observe my Sabbath and stand in awe of my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

31 "You are to consult neither mediums nor familiar spirits. You are never to seek them — you'll just be defiled by them. I am the LORD your God.

32 "Rise in the presence of the aged and honour the elderly face-to-face. "Fear your God. I am the LORD.

33 "If a resident alien lives with you in your land, you are not to mistreat him.

34 You are to treat the resident alien the same way you treat the native born among you — love him like yourself, since you were foreigners in the land of Egypt.

35 "You are not to act unjustly in deciding a case or when measuring weight and quantity.

36 You are to maintain just balances and reliable standards for weights, dry volumes, and liquid volumes. I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

37 Observe all my statutes and all my ordinances in order to practise them. I am the LORD."

Leviticus 20

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,

2 "Tell the Israelis that when an Israeli or a resident alien who lives in Israel offers his child to Molech, he is certainly to be put to death. The people who live in the land are to stone him with stones.

3 "As for me, I'll oppose that man. I'll eliminate him from contact with his people for sacrificing his children to Molech, thereby defiling my sanctuary and profaning my holy name.

4 If the people avoid dealing with that man when he offers his child to Molech — that is, if they fail to execute him —

5 then I'll oppose that man and his family and eliminate him from contact with his people, along with all the prostitutes who accompany him and who have committed prostitution with Molech."

6 "I'll oppose and eliminate from contact with his people whoever consults mediums or familiar spirits, thereby committing spiritual prostitution with them.

7 Therefore separate yourselves and be holy, because I am the LORD your God.

8 Keep my statutes and observe them. I am the LORD, who has set you apart."

9 "Anyone who curses his father or mother is certainly to be put to death. He has cursed his father or mother, so his guilt will remain his responsibility."

10 "If anyone commits adultery with another man's wife, including when someone commits adultery with his neighbour's wife, both the adulterer and the adulteress are to die.

11 "If a man has sexual relations with his father's wife, he has exposed his father's nakedness, so both of them are to be put to death. Their guilt will remain their responsibility.

12 "If a man has sexual relations with his daughter-in-law, the two are to be put to death. They've committed a repulsive act. Their guilt will remain their responsibility.

13 "If a man has sexual relations with another male, as he would with a woman, both have committed a repulsive act. They are certainly to be put to death.

14 "If a man takes a wife along with her mother, that's wickedness. They are to be burned with fire, him and them, so that there'll be no wickedness in your midst.

15 "If a man has sexual relations with an animal, he is to be put to death, and you are also to kill the animal.

16 "If a woman approaches any animal to have sexual relations with her, the woman and the animal are to be put to death. Their guilt will remain their responsibility.

17 "If a man takes his sister, his father's daughter or his mother's daughter so that he exposes her nakedness and she exposes his nakedness, it's a shameful thing. They are to be eliminated from contact with their people in front of their people's children. He has exposed his sister's nakedness. He'll continue to bear responsibility for his iniquity.

18 "If a man has sexual relations with a menstruating woman, he has exposed her nakedness, laying bare her fountain. He has exposed the source of her blood. Both are to be eliminated from contact with their people.

19 "You are not to have sexual relations with your mother's sister or your father's sister, because that is laying bare the nakedness of his close relative. They'll continue to bear responsibility for their iniquity.

20 "If a man has sexual relations with his uncle's wife, he will have exposed his uncle's nakedness. They are to bear responsibility for punishment of their sin. They'll die childless.

21 "If a man takes his brother's wife, it's immoral. He has exposed his brother's nakedness. They'll be childless."

22 "Be sure to keep all my statutes and observe all my ordinances so that the land where I'm about to bring you to live won't vomit you out.

23 You are not to live by the customs of the nations, whom I've cast away right in front of you. Because they did all of these things, I detested them.

24 "But I've promised you that you'll inherit the land that I'm about to give you as your permanent possession — a land flowing with milk and honey. "I am your God. I've separated you from the people.

25 You are to differentiate between the clean animal and the unclean, and between the unclean bird and the clean. You are not to make yourselves detestable on account of any animal, or bird, or any creeping creature of the ground that I've separated for you as unclean.

26 "You are to be holy toward me, because I the LORD am holy. I've separated you from among the people to be mine.

27 "Moreover, a man or a woman who has a ritual spirit or a familiar spirit is certainly to die. They are to be stoned to death with boulders. They will continue to bear responsibility for their guilt."

Leviticus 21

1 The LORD told Moses, "Speak to the priests, Aaron's sons, and tell them that no priest is to defile himself on account of the dead among his people,

2 except his close relatives — his mother or father, his son or daughter, or his brother or 3 his virgin sister who is near him who doesn't have a husband, he may defile himself for her.

4 "Because he is a husband among his people, he is not to defile himself, thereby polluting himself.

5 "They are not to cut their hair in ritualistic patterns on their heads or deface the edges of their beards, or make incisions in their flesh.

6 They are to be holy to their God. They are not to defile the name of their God, because they're the ones who bring the offerings of the LORD made by fire — the food of their God — so they are to be holy.

7 "They are not to marry a prostitute, a woman who has been dishonoured, or who was divorced from her husband, because the priest is holy to his God.

8 Consecrate him, because he's the one who offers the food of your God. He is to be holy for you, because I the LORD — the one who sanctifies you — am holy.

9 "Now if the daughter of any priest defiles herself by being a prostitute, she defiles her father. She is to be incinerated.

10 "The high priest among his relatives, whose head has been anointed with oil and who has been consecrated to put on the priestly clothing, is not to let his hair hang loose or to tear his clothes.

11 He is not to come near any dead body, whether the deceased is his father or his mother, so as not to defile himself.

12 He is not to go out of the sanctuary or defile the sanctuary of his God, because his God's consecrating oil of anointing rests on him. I am the LORD.

13 "Furthermore, he is to marry a true virgin.

14 He is not to marry a widow, one who has been divorced, has been defiled, or who has been a prostitute. Instead, he is to take a virgin from among his people as his wife.

15 "He is not to defile his children among his people, because I am the LORD, who sets him apart."

Romans 3

- 1 What advantage, then, does the Jew have, or what value is there in circumcision?
- 2 There are all kinds of advantages! First of all, the Jews have been entrusted with the utterances of God.
- 3 What if some of the Jews were unfaithful? Their unfaithfulness cannot cancel God's faithfulness, can it?
- 4 Of course not! God is true, even if everyone else is a liar. As it is written, "You are right when you speak, and win your case when you go into court."
- 5 But if our unrighteousness serves to confirm God's righteousness, what can we say? God is not unrighteous when he vents his wrath on us, is he? (I am talking in human terms).
- 6 Of course not! Otherwise, how could God judge the world?
- 7 For if through my falsehood God's truthfulness glorifies him even more, why am I still being condemned as a sinner?
- 8 Or can we say — as some people slander us by claiming that we say — "Let's do evil that good may result"? They deserve to be condemned!
- 9 What, then, does this mean? Are we Jews any better off? Not at all! For we have already accused everyone, both Jews and Greeks, of being under the power of sin.
- 10 As it is written, "Not even one person is righteous.
- 11 No one understands. No one searches for God.
- 12 All have turned away. They have become completely worthless. No one shows kindness, not even one person!
- 13 Their throats are open graves. With their tongues they deceive. The venom of poisonous snakes is under their lips.
- 14 Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness.
- 15 They run swiftly to shed blood.
- 16 Ruin and misery characterize their lives.
- 17 They have not learned the path to peace.
- 18 They don't fear God.
- 19 Now we know that whatever the Law says applies to those who are under the Law, so that every mouth may be silenced and the whole world held accountable to God.
- 20 Therefore, God will not justify any human being by means of the actions prescribed by the Law, for through the Law comes the full knowledge of sin.
- 21 But now, apart from the Law, God's righteousness is revealed and is attested by the Law and the Prophets —
- 22 God's righteousness through the faithfulness of Jesus the Messiah — for all who believe. For there is no distinction among people,
- 23 since all have sinned and continue to fall short of God's glory.
- 24 By his grace they are justified freely through the redemption that is in the Messiah Jesus,
- 25 whom God offered as a place where atonement by the Messiah's blood would occur through faith. He did this to demonstrate his righteousness, because he had waited patiently to deal with sins committed in the past.
- 26 He wanted to demonstrate at the present time that he himself is righteous and that he justifies anyone who has the faithfulness of Jesus.

Leviticus 21

16 The LORD told Moses,
17 "Tell Aaron that whoever of your descendants throughout their generations has a bodily defect is not to approach to offer the food of his God.
18 Indeed, any person who has a defect is not to approach the Tent of Meeting: the blind, the lame, one who is mutilated in the face, or who has a very long limb,
19 a person who has a fractured foot or hand,
20 has scoliosis, is a dwarf, or who has an eye defect, an itching disease, scabs, or a crushed testicle.
21 "None of the descendants of Aaron the priest who has a defect is to approach to bring offerings of the LORD made by fire, since he has a defect. He is not to approach to offer the food of his God.
22 "However, he may eat the food of his God, including the most holy and the holy offerings.
23 but he is not to enter through the curtain nor approach the altar, since he has a defect. That way, he won't defile my sanctuary, since I am the LORD who sets you apart."
24 Moses told all of this to Aaron, to his sons, and to all the Israelis.

Leviticus 22

1 Later on, the LORD spoke to Moses,
2 "Tell Aaron and his sons that they are to separate themselves for the sacred things of the Israelis and that they are not to defile my holy name. I am the LORD.
3 "Tell them that whoever among your descendants throughout your generations approaches the sacred things that the Israelis had consecrated to the LORD while still remaining unclean is to be eliminated from my presence. I am the LORD.
4 "If one of Aaron's descendants has an infectious skin disease or a discharge, he is not to eat anything sacred until he has been cleansed. Anyone who touches an unclean thing on account of the dead, or who has a seminal discharge,
5 or who becomes unclean by touching a creeping creature or another human being whatever the uncleanness may be —
6 such a person who comes in contact with anything like this will become unclean until evening. As a result, he is not to eat the sacred things unless he has bathed himself with water.
7 When the sun has gone down and he has been cleansed, he may eat of the sacred things, since that's his food.
8 "He is not to eat the carcass of an animal that was torn by animals, thereby defiling himself with it. I am the LORD.
9 "They are to keep my charge. By doing so, they won't bear the punishment of sin because of it and therefore die if they've been defiled by it. I am the LORD who sets them apart."
10 "No resident alien is to eat anything sacred. Neither the visitor of the priest nor a hired labourer is to eat anything sacred.
11 If a priest acquires a slave as property with his own money, he may eat with him. Those who were born in his house may eat his food.
12 "If a priest's daughter marries a resident alien, she is not to eat the sacred raised offerings.
13 If the priest's daughter is a widow, or is divorced and childless, so that she has to return to her father's house as in her younger days, she may eat her father's food, but no resident alien may eat it.

14 "If a person eats anything sacred inadvertently, he is to add a fifth part to it and then give the sacred thing to the priest.
15 "They are not to defile the sacred things of the Israelis that they have offered to the LORD,
16 thereby causing them to bear the punishment of their iniquity for wrong doing, when they eat their sacred things, because I am the LORD who sets them apart."
17 The LORD spoke to Moses,
18 "Tell Aaron, his sons, and all the Israelis that when a person from the house of Israel or from the resident aliens living in Israel brings his offering to the LORD as a whole burnt offering (whether votive or free will offerings),
19 so that you'll be sure to be accepted, he is to offer a male without defect from the bulls, the lamb, and the goats.
20 "However, whatever has a defect is not to be offered, because it won't be acceptable for you.
21 "If a person brings a peace offering sacrifice to the LORD to fulfil a vow or a free will offering from the herd or the flock, it is to be sound in order to be accepted, without any defect in it.
22 "You are not to bring an offering that is blind, fractured, mutilated, or infected with ulcers, scurvy, or scales to the LORD. You are not to present as an offering made by fire any of them on the altar for the LORD.
23 "You may offer a bull or lamb that has one limb longer than the other or that is stunted as a free will offering, but it's not acceptable as a votive offering.
24 You are not to bring an animal that has been emasculated, crushed, torn, or cut apart to the LORD. You are not to practise this in your land.
25 A resident alien is not to offer as food to your God any of these items, because they are afflicted with ritual corruption due to their defects. They're not acceptable for you."
26 The LORD told Moses,
27 "Whenever a bull, a sheep, or a goat is born, it is to remain for seven days under the care of its mother. But on the eighth day onwards, it may be accepted as an offering made by fire to the LORD.
28 However, you are not to slaughter a bull or a ewe along with its offspring on the same day.
29 When you offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving to the LORD, bring it so that it's acceptable for you.
30 It is to be eaten that same day. You are not to leave any of it until morning. I am the LORD.
31 "Keep my commands and observe them. I am the LORD.
32 "You are not to defile my sacred name, because I've been set apart in the midst of the Israelis. Furthermore, I am the LORD who sets you apart, 33 who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. I am the LORD."

Leviticus 23

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
2 Tell the Israelis, "These are my feast times appointed by the LORD that you are to declare as sacred assemblies.
3 Six days you may work, but the seventh day is a Sabbath of rest, a sacred assembly. You are not to do any work. It's a Sabbath to the LORD wherever you live.
4 These are the LORD's appointed feasts, sacred assemblies that you are to declare at their appointed time.
5 "The LORD's Passover is to begin on the fourteenth day of the first month at twilight.
6 "On the fifteenth day of that month is the Feast of Unleavened Bread to the LORD. For seven days you are to eat unleavened bread.

7 On the first day that you hold the sacred assembly you are to do no servile work.
8 Instead, you are to bring an offering made by fire to the LORD daily for seven days. On the seventh day you are also to hold a sacred assembly during which you are to do no servile work.”
9 The LORD spoke to Moses,
10 "Tell the Israelis that when you enter the land that I'm about to give you and gather its produce, you are to bring a sheaf from the first portion of your harvest to the priest,
11 who will offer the sheaf in the LORD's presence for your acceptance. The priest is to wave it on the day after the Sabbath.
12 "On the day you wave the sheaf, you are to offer a one year old male lamb without defect for a burnt offering in the LORD's presence.
13 Also present a meal offering of two tenths of a measure of fine flour mixed with olive oil as an offering made by fire to the LORD, a pleasing aroma. "Now as to a drink offering, you are to present a fourth of a hin of wine.
14 You are not to eat bread, parched grain, or fresh grain until that day when you've brought the offering of your God. This is to be an eternal ordinance throughout your generations, wherever you live.”
15 "Starting the day after the Sabbath, count for yourselves seven weeks from the day you brought the sheaf of wave offering. They are to be complete.
16 Count fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath, then bring a new meal offering to the LORD.
17 "Bring two loaves of bread from home as wave offerings made from two tenths of an ephah of fine flour, baked with leaven, as first fruits to the LORD.
18 "Along with the loaves of bread, bring seven lambs, a year old without defect, one young bull as an offering, and two rams as offering to the LORD, along with your gift and drink offerings, and present them as an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
19 "Prepare one male goat for a sin offering and two one year old rams for peace offerings.
20 Then the priest is to wave them — the two lambs with the bread of first fruits — as raised offering in the LORD's presence. They'll be sacred to the LORD on account of the priest.
21 "On the same day proclaim a sacred assembly for yourselves. You are not to do any servile work — and this is to be an eternal ordinance wherever you live throughout your generations.

Romans 3

27 What, then, is there to boast about? That has been eliminated. On what principle? On that of actions? No, but on the principle of faith.

28 For we maintain that a person is justified by faith apart from the actions prescribed by the Law.

29 Is God the God of the Jews only? Is he not the God of the gentiles, too? Yes, of the gentiles, too, 30 since there is only one God who will justify the circumcised on the basis of faith and the uncircumcised by that same faith.

31 Do we, then, abolish the Law by this faith? Of course not! Instead, we uphold the Law.

Romans 4

1 What, then, are we to say about Abraham, our human ancestor?

2 For if Abraham was justified by actions, he would have had something to boast about — though not before God.

3 For what does the Scripture say? "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."

4 Now to someone who works, wages are not considered a gift but an obligation.

5 However, to someone who does not work, but simply believes in the one who justifies the ungodly, his faith is credited as righteousness.

6 Likewise, David also speaks of the blessedness of the person whom God regards as righteous apart from actions:

7 "How blessed are those whose iniquities are forgiven and whose sins are covered!

8 How blessed is the person whose sins the Lord will never charge against him!"

9 Now does this blessedness come to the circumcised alone, or also to the uncircumcised? For we say, "Abraham's faith was credited to him as righteousness."

10 Under what circumstances was it credited? Was he circumcised or uncircumcised? He had not yet been circumcised, but was uncircumcised.

11 Afterward he received the mark of circumcision as a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. Therefore, he is the ancestor of all who believe while uncircumcised, in order that righteousness may be credited to them.

12 He is also the ancestor of the circumcised — those who are not only circumcised, but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised.

13 For the promise that he would inherit the world did not come to Abraham or to his descendants through the Law, but through the righteousness produced by faith.

14 For if those who were given the Law are the heirs, then faith is useless and the promise is worthless,

15 for the Law produces wrath. Now where there is no Law, neither can there be any violation of it.

16 Therefore, the promise is based on faith, so that it may be a matter of grace and may be guaranteed for all of Abraham's descendants — not only for those who were given the Law, but also for those who share the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all.

17 As it is written, "I have made you the father of many nations." Abraham acted in faith when he stood in the presence of God, who gives life to the dead and calls into existence things that don't yet exist.

18 Hoping in spite of hopeless circumstances, he believed that he would become "the father of many nations," just as he had been told: "This is how many descendants you will have."

24th February

Leviticus 23

22 Furthermore, when you harvest the produce of your land, you are not to harvest all the way to the corners of your field or gather the gleanings of your harvest. Leave them for the poor and resident alien. I am the LORD your God.

23 The LORD spoke to Moses,

24 Tell the Israelis that on the first day of the seventh month you are to have a Sabbath of rest for you, a memorial announced by a loud blast of trumpets. It is to be a sacred assembly.

25 You are not to do any servile work. Instead bring an offering made by fire to the LORD.

26 The LORD spoke to Moses,

27 "However, on the tenth day of this seventh month is the Day of Atonement. It's a sacred assembly for you. Humble yourselves and bring an offering made by fire to the LORD.

28 "You are not to do any work that same day. It's the Day of Atonement, because your atonement is made in the presence of the LORD your God.

29 Anyone who doesn't humble himself that same day is to be eliminated from contact with his people.

30 I'll eliminate anyone who does work that day from among his people.

31 You are not to do any work. This is to be an eternal ordinance throughout your generations wherever you live.

32 It's a Sabbath of rest for you, on which you are to humble yourselves starting the evening of the ninth day of the month. You are to observe your Sabbath from evening to evening."

33 The LORD spoke to Moses,

34 Tell the Israelis that starting the fifteenth day of this seventh month is the week-long Feast of Tents to the LORD.

35 On the first day you are to hold a sacred assembly when you are not to do any servile work.

36 For seven days, bring offerings made by fire to the LORD. "The eighth day is also to be a sacred assembly for you. Bring offerings made by fire to the LORD. It's a sacred assembly. You are not to do any servile work.

37 "These are the LORD's appointed feasts that you are to proclaim as sacred assemblies. Bring offerings made by fire to the LORD — a whole burnt offering, a meal offering, a sacrifice, and drink offerings. Do this every day on its assigned date

38 in addition to the LORD's Sabbath, regarding your gifts, and your offerings in fulfilment of vows, and your freely given offerings that you will bring to the LORD.

39 "On the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you've harvested the produce of the land, you are to observe the feast of the LORD for seven days. The first day is to be a Sabbath rest, and the eighth day also is to be a Sabbath rest.

40 "On the first day, take branches from impressive fruit trees, branches from palm trees, boughs from thick trees, and poplars from the brooks. Then you are to rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God for seven days.

41 Observe it as a pilgrimage feast in the presence of the LORD for seven days in the year. This is to be an eternal ordinance throughout your generations. Observe the feast during the seventh month.

42 You are to live in booths for seven days. Every native born of Israel is to live in booths

43 in order for your future generations to know that the Israelis lived in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God."

44 This is what Moses spoke about to the Israelis regarding the LORD's appointed feasts.

Leviticus 24

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses,
- 2 "Tell the Israelis that they are to bring to you pure oil made from beaten olives in order to keep the lamp burning continuously.
- 3 Outside the Canopy of the Testimony in the Tent of Meeting, Aaron is to arrange it continuously in the LORD's presence from evening until morning as an eternal ordinance throughout your generations.
- 4 He is to arrange the lamps so that they burn continuously on a ceremonially pure lamp stand in the LORD's presence.
- 5 "Take fine flour and bake twelve cakes using two tenths of a measure for each cake.
- 6 Arrange them in two rows, six on each row on a ceremonially pure table in the LORD's presence.
- 7 Put pure frankincense on each row for a memorial offering. It will serve as an offering made by fire to the LORD.
- 8 Every Sabbath day they are to be arranged in the LORD's presence, as a gift from the Israelis, an eternal covenant.
- 9 This gift will belong to Aaron and his sons, and they are to eat it in a sacred place, because it's the most holy thing for him of all the offerings made by fire to the LORD. This is to be an eternal ordinance."
- 10 Now a son of an Israeli woman and an Egyptian man went out among the Israelis. The Israeli woman's son got into a fight with an Israeli man in the camp.
- 11 Then the Israeli woman's son blasphemed the Name and cursed, so they brought him to Moses. His mother's name was Shelomith, the daughter of Dibri, from the clan of Dan.
- 12 They placed him in custody until a decision would be made to them according to the word of the LORD.
- 13 The LORD then spoke to Moses,
- 14 " Take the one who cursed outside the camp. Everyone who had heard him is to lay their hands on his head. Then the entire congregation is to stone him to death.
- 15 Moreover, tell the Israelis that anyone who curses his God will bear the consequences of his own sin, because the one who blasphemes the name of the LORD is certainly to be put to death. The entire congregation is to stone him to death.
- 16 As it is for the resident alien so it is to be with the native born: when he blasphemes the Name, he is to be put to death.
- 17 "If a man beats a human being to death, he is certainly to be executed,
- 18 but whoever beats an animal to death is to replace it, life for life.
- 19 "If a man disfigures his fellow, whatever he did is to be done to him also.
- 20 Fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth — just as he had caused a disfigurement against another man, so it is to be done against him.
- 21 "Whoever beats an animal to death is to replace it, but whoever beats a human being to death is to be put to death.
- 22 You are to have for yourselves consistent procedures in deciding a case. As it is for the resident alien, so it is for the native born. I am the LORD your God."
- 23 So Moses spoke to the Israelis and they brought the one who cursed outside the camp and stoned him to death with boulders. The Israelis did just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Leviticus 25

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai.
- 2 "Tell the Israelis that when you enter the land that I'm about to give you, you are to let the land observe a Sabbath to the LORD.
- 3 For six years you may plant your fields, and for six years you may prune your vineyard and gather its produce.

4 "But the seventh year is to be a Sabbath of rest for the land — a Sabbath for the LORD. You are not to plant your field or prune your vineyard.

5 You are not to gather what grows from the spilled kernels of your crops. You are not to pick the grapes of your untrimmed vines. Let it be a year of Sabbath for the land.

6 You may take the Sabbath produce of the land for your food — you, your male and maid servants, your hired labourers, and the resident alien with you.

7 The cattle and the wild animals in your land — everything it produces — are for your food.

8 "Count for yourselves seven years of Sabbaths, seven times seven years. This set of seven weeks of years total forty nine years for you.

9 Sound a horn on the tenth day of the seventh month of this fiftieth year. Likewise on the Day of Atonement sound the horn throughout your land.

10 "Set aside and consecrate the fiftieth year to declare liberty throughout the land for all of its inhabitants. It is to be a jubilee for you. Every person is to return to his own land that he has inherited. "Likewise, every person is to return to his clan.

11 The fiftieth year is to be a year of jubilee for you. You are not to sow or harvest the spilled kernels that grow of itself or pick grapes from the untrimmed vines

12 because it's jubilee. It's sacred for you. But you may eat its produce from the field.

13 "During this year of jubilee, each person is to return to his own land that he has inherited.

14 So if you had sold property to a neighbour or had acquired land from your neighbour, you are not to cheat one another.

15 According to the number of years after the jubilee, you may buy from your neighbour. And according to the number of years with crops, he may sell to you.

16 If the number of years are more, increase the selling price. If the years be few, decrease its selling price, because he's selling to you according to the volume of produce.

17 No one is to cheat his neighbour. Instead, you are to fear your God, because I am the LORD your God.

Romans 4

19 His faith did not weaken when he thought about his own body (which was already as good as dead now that he was about a hundred years old) or about Sarah's inability to have children,

20 nor did he doubt God's promise out of a lack of faith. Instead, his faith became stronger and he gave glory to God,

21 being absolutely convinced that God would do what he had promised.

22 This is why "it was credited to him as righteousness."

23 Now the words "it was credited to him" were written not only for him

24 but also for us. Our faith will be regarded in the same way, if we believe in the one who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead.

25 He was sentenced to death because of our sins and raised to life to justify us.

Romans 5

1 Therefore, since we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus the Messiah.

2 Through him we have also obtained access by faith into this grace by which we have been established, and we boast because of our hope in God's glory.

3 Not only that, but we also boast in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance,

4 endurance produces character, and character produces hope.

5 Now this hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured out into our hearts by the Holy Spirit, who has been given to us.

6 For at just the right time, while we were still powerless, the Messiah died for the ungodly.

7 For it is rare for anyone to die for a righteous person, though somebody might be brave enough to die for a good person.

8 But God demonstrates his love for us by the fact that the Messiah died for us while we were still sinners.

9 Now that we have been justified by his blood, how much more will we be saved from wrath through him!

10 For if, while we were enemies, we were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, how much more, having been reconciled, will we be saved by his life!

11 Not only that, but we also continue to boast about God through our Lord Jesus the Messiah, through whom we have now been reconciled.

12 Just as sin entered the world through one man, and death resulted from sin, therefore everyone dies, because everyone has sinned.

13 Certainly sin was in the world before the Law was given, but no record of sin is kept when there is no Law.

14 Nevertheless, death ruled from the time of Adam to Moses, even over those who did not sin in the same way Adam did when he disobeyed. He is a foreshadowing of the one who would come.

15 But God's free gift is not like Adam's offence. For if many people died as the result of one man's offence, how much more have God's grace and the free gift given through the kindness of one man, Jesus the Messiah, been showered on many people!

Leviticus 25

18 "Observe my statutes and keep my ordinances. Do them so that you may live securely in the land.

19 Then the land will yield its fruit and you'll eat to your satisfaction and live securely.

20 "Now if you ask, 'What will we eat during the seventh year? After all, we may not plant or even gather our produce!'

21 I'll command my blessing on you during the sixth year so that it will yield produce for three years!

22 That way, you are to sow in the eighth year, eating the produce from the old harvest. Until the ninth year when its produce comes in, you'll eat from the old harvest."

23 "The land is not to be sold with any finality, because the land belongs to me. You're sojourners and travellers with me.

24 So throughout all of your land inheritance, grant the right of redemption for the land.

25 "If your brother becomes so poor that he has to sell a portion of his inheritance, then his nearest kinsman redeemer is to come and redeem what his brother has sold.

26 If a person doesn't have a kinsman redeemer but has become rich and found sufficient means for his redemption,

27 then let him account for the years for which it was sold, return the excess to the person to whom it was sold, and then return to his property.

28 If he's not able to redeem it back for himself, then what he sold is to remain in the hand of the buyer until the year of jubilee. In the jubilee, it is to be returned so he may return to his property.

29 "If a person sells a residential house in a walled city, then he is to redeem it within the year in which it was sold. He may have right to its redemption for a full year.

30 But if it's not redeemed by the end of a full year, then the house next to which is a wall is to belong to the one who bought it, in perpetuity throughout his generations. It is not to be returned in the jubilee.

31 "However, the houses in the villages that don't have walls around them are to be categorized along with the fields of the land. It may be redeemed, so it is to be returned in the jubilee.

32 "Nevertheless, the cities that belong to the descendants of Levi — that is, the houses in the cities that belong to them — are to belong to the descendants of Levi perpetually as part of their right of redemption.

33 If someone from the descendants of Levi redeems the houses in the cities that they own, they are to be returned in the jubilee, because the houses of the cities of the descendants of Levi are to remain their property among the Israelis.

34 Also, the open land of their cities is not to be sold, because it is to remain their perpetual inheritance."

35 If your relative becomes poor so that he is indebted to you, then you are to support him. You are to let him live with you just like the resident alien and the traveller.

36 You are not to take interest or profit from him. Instead, you are to fear your God and let your relative live with you.

37 "You are not to loan him money with interest or sell him your food at a profit.

38 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

39 "If your brother with you becomes poor, so that he sells himself to you, you are not to make him serve like a bond slave.

40 Instead, he is to serve with you like a hired servant or traveller who lives with you until the year of jubilee.

41 Then he and his children with him may leave to return to his family and his ancestor's inheritance.

42 Since they're my servants whom I've brought out from the land of Egypt, they are not to be sold as slaves.

43 You are not to rule over them with harshness. You are to fear your God."

44 "As for your male and maid slaves who will be with you, you may buy male and female slaves from among the nations.

45 You may also buy from resident aliens who live among you and their families who are with you, whom they fathered in your land. They may become your property.

46 "You may give them as inherited property to your children after you, to own as properties in perpetuity. You may make bond slaves of them, but no one is to rule over his fellow Israeli with harshness.

47 "If a resident alien or traveller becomes rich, but your relative who lives next to him is so poor that he sells himself to that resident alien or traveller among you or to a member of the resident alien's family,

48 he has the right to be redeemed after he sells himself. One of his brothers may redeem him.

49 His uncle or his uncle's son may redeem him or any blood relative from his clan may redeem him. If he becomes rich, then he may redeem himself.

50 "He is to bring an accounting to the one who bought him, starting from the year he had sold himself until the year of jubilee. The price of his sale is to correspond to the number of years comparable to the time a hired servant stays with him.

51 "If there are still many years left, he is to refund the cost of his redemption.

52 But if only a few years are left until the year of jubilee, he is to bring an accounting of the years that he is to refund for his redemption.

53 Like a hired servant, he is to remain with him year after year, but he is not to rule over him with what you see as severity.

54 "If he isn't redeemed by these, then he is to be set free in the year of jubilee — he and his children with him —

55 because the Israelis are my servants. They're my servants, since I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the LORD your God."

Leviticus 26

1 "You are not to make worthless idols, images, or pillars for yourselves, nor set up for yourselves carved images to bow down to them in the land, because I am the LORD your God.

2 "You are to keep my Sabbath and fear my sanctuary. I am the LORD.

3 "If you live by my statutes, obey my commands, and observe them,

4 then I'll send your rain in its season so that the land will yield its produce and the trees of the field will yield their fruit.

5 Threshing will extend to the time of vintage and the vintage will extend to the time of sowing so that you'll eat your bread to your satisfaction and live securely in your land.

6 "I'll give peace in the land so that you'll lie down without fear. I'll remove wild beasts from the land, not even war will come to your land.

7 Instead you'll pursue your enemies and they'll die by the sword before you.

8 Five of you will chase a hundred, a hundred of you will chase ten thousand, and your enemies will fall by the sword before you.

9 "I'll look after you, ensuring that you'll be fruitful. I'll increase your number and keep my covenant with you.

10 When you have consumed what was stored of the old, then you'll take out the old and replace it with what's new.

11 "I'll set up my tent in your midst and I won't loathe you.

12 I'll walk among you. I will be your God, and you'll be my people.
13 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt so that you will no longer be their slaves, since I've broken their oppressive yoke upon you to make you walk upright."
14 "But if you won't listen to me and obey all these commands,
15 and if you refuse my statutes, loathe my ordinances, fail to do all my commands, thereby breaching my covenant,
16 then I will certainly do this to you: I'll appoint sudden terror to infect you like tuberculosis and fever. Your eyes will fail and your life will waste away. You'll plant in vain, because your enemies will consume what you plant.
17 "I'll set my face against you so that you'll be defeated before your enemies. Those who hate you will have dominion over you and you'll keep fleeing even when no one is pursuing you.
18 "If despite all of this you still don't listen to me, then I'll punish you seven times more on account of your sins.
19 I'll break your mighty pride. I'll make the heavens to be like iron and the ground like bronze.
20 Your strength will be spent in vain, because your land won't yield its produce and the trees of the land won't yield its fruit.
21 "If you live life contrary to me and remain unwilling to listen to me, then I'll add to your wounds seven times more on account of your sins.
22 I'll send the wild beasts against you from the open country to deprive you of your children, destroy your cattle, and decrease your number so that your roads become desolate.
23 If despite these things you still won't return to me, but live life contrary to me,
24 then I'll certainly oppose you. I'll take vengeance against you seven fold on account of your sins.
25 I'll bring the sword against you to execute the vengeance of my covenant. When you gather in your cities, I'll send a pestilence. As a result, you'll be delivered into the control of your enemies.
26 "When I destroy the source of your bread, ten women will bake bread in one oven. Then they'll return back your bread by weight. You'll eat but won't be satisfied.

Romans 5

16 Nor can the free gift be compared to what came through the man who sinned. For the sentence that followed one man's offence resulted in condemnation, but the free gift brought justification, even after many offences.

17 For if, through one man, death ruled because of that man's offence, how much more will those who receive such overflowing grace and the gift of righteousness rule in life because of one man, Jesus the Messiah!

18 Consequently, just as one offence resulted in condemnation for everyone, so one act of righteousness results in justification and life for everyone.

19 For just as through one man's disobedience many people were made sinners, so also through one man's obedience many people will be made righteous.

20 Now the Law crept in so that the offence would increase. But where sin increased, grace increased even more,

21 so that, just as sin ruled by bringing death, so also grace might rule by bringing justification that results in eternal life through Jesus the Messiah, our Lord.

Romans 6

1 What should we say, then? Should we go on sinning so that grace may increase?

2 Of course not! How can we who died as far as sin is concerned go on living in it?

3 Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized into union with the Messiah Jesus were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore, through baptism we were buried with him into his death so that, just as the Messiah was raised from the dead by the Father's glory, we too may live an entirely new life.

5 For if we have become united with him in a death like his, we will certainly also be united with him in a resurrection like his.

6 We know that our old natures were crucified with him so that our sin-laden bodies might be rendered powerless and we might no longer be slaves to sin.

7 For the person who has died has been freed from sin.

8 Now if we have died with the Messiah, we believe that we will also live with him,

9 for we know that the Messiah, who was raised from the dead, will never die again; death no longer has mastery over him.

10 For when he died, he died once and for all as far as sin is concerned. But now that he is alive, he lives for God.

11 In the same way, you too must continually consider yourselves dead as far as sin is concerned, but living for God through the Messiah Jesus.

12 Therefore, do not let sin rule your mortal bodies so that you obey their desires.

13 Stop offering the parts of your body to sin as instruments of unrighteousness. Instead, offer yourselves to God as people who have been brought from death to life and the parts of your body as instruments of righteousness to God.

14 For sin will not have mastery over you, because you are not under Law but under grace.

Leviticus 26

27 "If after all of this time you don't listen to me, but instead live life contrary to me,
28 I'll oppose you with vicious rage. Indeed, I myself will punish you seven fold on account of your sins.

29 At that time you'll eat the flesh of your sons and you'll eat the flesh of your daughters.

30 "I'll destroy your high places and cut down your sun-pillars. Then I'll cast your dead bodies on top of the bodies of your idols. "I'll loathe you.

31 I'll lay your cities to waste and destroy your sanctuaries so I don't have to smell the scent of your soothing odours.

32 "I'll make the land so desolate that your enemies who live in it will be astonished."

33 "I'll scatter you among the nations and draw the sword after you so that your land becomes desolate and your towns become ruins.

34 "Then the land will finally be pleased with its Sabbaths as long as it lies desolate while you are in the land of your enemies. At that time the land will rest and take its Sabbaths.

35 As long as it lies desolate, it will have rest that it will not have had during your Sabbaths when you were living in it.

36 "As for the remnants among you, I'll bring despair in their hearts in the land of their enemies so that even the sound of a blown leaf will chase them and they flee as though pursued by the sword and fall when no one is pursuing.

37 They'll stumble over each other as though fleeing before the sword, even though no one is pursuing. "You won't have power to resist your enemies.

38 You'll perish among the nations and the land of your enemies will consume you.

39 The remnants among you will waste away on account of their iniquity in the land of your enemies. Indeed, they'll also waste away on account of the iniquities of their ancestors with them.

40 "Nevertheless, when they confess their iniquity, the iniquity of their ancestors, and their unfaithfulness by which they acted unfaithfully against me by living life contrary to me,

41 causing me to oppose them and take them to the land of their enemies so that the uncircumcised foreskin of their hearts can be humbled and so that they accept the punishment of their iniquity,

42 then I'll remember my covenant with Jacob, my covenant with Isaac, and my covenant with Abraham. I'll also remember the land.

43 "They will leave the land so it can rest while it lies desolate without them. That's when they'll receive the punishment of their iniquity because indeed they will have rejected my ordinances and despised my statutes.

44 "Yet despite all of these things, when they're in the land of their enemies, I won't reject or despise them so as to completely destroy them and by doing so violate my covenant with them, because I am the LORD their God.

45 Instead, on account of them, I'll remember my covenant with their ancestors when I brought them out from the land of Egypt right before the eyes of the nations, so that I could be their God. I am the LORD."

46 These are the statutes, ordinances, and laws that the LORD made between himself and the Israelis on Mount Sinai, as recorded by the hand of Moses.

Leviticus 27

1 The LORD spoke to Moses,

2 "Tell the Israelis that when a person makes a special vow based on the appropriate value of people who belong to the LORD,

3 if your valuation of the vow is for a male from 20 to 60 years old, the valuation is to be 50 shekels of silver, according to the shekel of the sanctuary.

4 "If she is a female from 20 to 60 years old, then your valuation is to be 30 shekels according to the shekel of the sanctuary.

5 "If a person is from five to 20 twenty years, then your valuation for a male is to be 20 shekels and for a female ten shekels.

6 "If a person is from one month to five years old, then your valuation for a male is to be five shekels of silver, and for a female your valuation is to be three shekels of silver.

7 "If a person is 60 or more years old, then your valuation for a male is to be fifteen shekels and for a female ten shekels.

8 "But if he be too poor to be evaluated, then cause him to stand before the priest and let the priest set a value on him according to the ability of the one making the vow.

9 "If it's an animal from which they make an offering to the LORD, everything that he gives to the LORD from it will be holy.

10 He is not to substitute it or exchange it — the good with the bad or the bad with the good. "If he ever makes an exchange of an animal for an animal, then it and what's being exchanged is holy.

11 "If any animal is unclean, which cannot be brought to the LORD as an offering, make the animal stand in the presence of the priest,

12 then the priest will evaluate it as to whether it is good or bad. According to your — that is, the priest's — valuation, so it is to be.

13 If a kinsman redeemer decides to redeem it, then he is to add a fifth to your valuation."

14 "If a person consecrates his house to be holy to the LORD, then the priest is to set a value for it as to its worth, whether good or bad. As the priest sets value on it, so it will stand.

15 "And if he that consecrated it wishes to redeem his house, he is to add one fifth to your valuation, after which it is to belong to him.

16 "If a person consecrates a portion of the field from his inheritance to the LORD, then your valuation is to be based on its capacity for yielding a harvest. Each homer of barley is to be valued at 50 shekels of silver.

17 "If he consecrates his field in the year of jubilee, it is to be based on your valuation.

18 "If he consecrates his field after the jubilee, then the priest is to account to him the silver according to the years that remain until the year of jubilee, with a deduction corresponding to your valuation.

19 "If the one who consecrated the field intends to redeem it, then he is to add one fifth of your valuation to it in silver, then it is to be established as his.

20 "But if he won't redeem the field, but instead sells it to another person, then it is not to be redeemed anymore.

21 When the field is released in the jubilee, it will be holy to the LORD. As a field that's devoted, it is to belong to the priest as his inheritance.

22 "If he consecrates a field that he had bought and that isn't part of his inheritance,

23 then the priest is to account to him the evaluated worth until the year of jubilee. Then he is to give the amount of valuation on that day as a holy gift to the LORD.

24 "During the year of jubilee, the field is to be returned by the one who originally sold it, that is, to the owner of the land.

25 Every valuation is to be according to the shekel of the sanctuary, evaluated at 20 gerahs to the shekel.

26 "No person is to consecrate the first born, because the first born of the animals already belongs to the LORD. Whether ox or goat, it belongs to the LORD.

27 If it's an unclean animal, then he is to ransom it according to your valuation, adding a fifth to it. If it's not redeemed then it is to be sold according to your valuation.

28 "However, any devoted thing, that a person consecrates to the LORD from what he owns, whether man, animals, or inherited fields, is not to be sold or redeemed. Any devoted thing is most sacred. It belongs to the LORD.

29 But anyone who is completely devoted from among human beings is not to be ransomed. He is certainly to be put to death.

30 "Any tithes of the land from grain grown on the land or from fruit grown on the trees belong to the LORD. It's sacred to the LORD.

31 But if a person wishes to redeem his tithe, he is to add a fifth to it.

32 "All the tithes from cattle and flocks that pass under the measuring rod are sacred to the LORD.

33 He is not to examine it to see if it's good or bad or even exchange it. If he does exchange it, what has been exchanged as well as its substitute is sacred. It is not to be redeemed."

34 These are the commands, that the LORD commanded Moses to deliver to the Israelis on Mount Sinai.

Romans 6

15 What, then, does this mean? Should we go on sinning because we are not under Law but under grace? Of course not!

16 Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one you obey — either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness?

17 But thank God that, though you were once slaves of sin, you became obedient from your hearts to that form of teaching with which you were entrusted!

18 And since you have been freed from sin, you have become slaves of righteousness.

19 I am speaking in simple terms because of the frailty of your human nature. Just as you once offered the parts of your body as slaves to impurity and to greater and greater disobedience, so now, in the same way, you must offer the parts of your body as slaves to righteousness that leads to sanctification.

20 For when you were slaves of sin, you were "free" as far as righteousness was concerned.

21 What benefit did you get from doing those things you are now ashamed of? For those things resulted in death.

22 But now that you have been freed from sin and have become God's slaves, the benefit you reap is sanctification, and the result is eternal life.

23 For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in union with the Messiah Jesus our Lord.

Romans 7

1 Don't you realize, brothers — for I am speaking to people who know the Law — that the Law can press its claims over a person only as long as he is alive?

2 For a married woman is bound by the Law to her husband while he is living, but if her husband dies, she is released from the Law concerning her husband.

3 So while her husband is living, she will be called an adulteress if she lives with another man. But if her husband dies, she is free from this Law, so that she is not an adulteress if she marries another man.

4 In the same way, my brothers, through the Messiah's body you also died as far as the Law is concerned, so that you may belong to another person, the one who was raised from the dead, and may bear fruit for God.

5 For while we were living according to our human nature, sinful passions were at work in our bodies by means of the Law, to bear fruit resulting in death.

6 But now we have been released from the Law by dying to what enslaved us, so that we may serve in the new life of the Spirit, not under the old writings.

7 What should we say, then? Is the Law sinful? Of course not! In fact, I wouldn't have become aware of sin if it had not been for the Law. I wouldn't have known what it means to covet if the Law had not said, "You must not covet."

8 But sin seized the opportunity provided by this commandment and produced in me all kinds of sinful desires, since apart from the Law, sin is dead.

9 At one time I was alive without any connection to the Law. But when the rule was revealed, sin sprang to life,

10 and I died. I found that the very rule that was intended to bring life actually brought death.

11 For sin, seizing the opportunity provided by the rule, deceived me and used it to kill me.

12 So then, the Law itself is holy, and the rule is holy, just, and good.

Numbers 1

- 1 In the Sinai desert, the LORD spoke to Moses inside the Tent of Meeting on the first day of the second month of the second year after they had left the land of Egypt. He said,
- 2 "Take a census of the entire Israeli community, numbering them by their tribes and by ancestral houses. List the names of every male one-by-one,
- 3 from 20 years and upward. You and Aaron are to register everyone in Israel who is able to go to war, company by company.
- 4 One man from each tribe is to accompany you, each man being the leader of his ancestral house.
- 5 "Here is a list of names of the men who are to assist you: "From Reuben: Shedeur's son Elizur.
- 6 From Simeon: Zurishaddai's son Shelumiel.
- 7 From Judah: Amminadab's son Nahshon.
- 8 From Issachar: Zuar's son Nethanel.
- 9 From Zebulun: Helon's son Eliab.
- 10 "From Joseph's descendants through Ephraim: Ammihud's son Elishama. From Manasseh: Pedahzur's son Gamaliel.
- 11 From Benjamin: Gideoni's son Abidan.
- 12 From Dan: Ammishaddai's son Ahiezer.
- 13 From Asher: Ochran's son Pagiel.
- 14 From Gad: Deuel's son Eliasaph.
- 15 From Naphtali: Enan's son Ahira."
- 16 These men were appointed from within their communities, since they were leaders of their ancestral houses and heads of the tribes of Israel.
- 17 Moses and Aaron gathered these men who had been mentioned by name.
- 18 They assembled the entire community together during the second month. Then they recorded their ancestries according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as well as the names of the men 20 years old and above individually,
- 19 just as the LORD had commanded Moses. He numbered them in the Sinai desert.
- 20 The genealogies of the descendants of Reuben, the first born of Israel, were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.
- 21 Those registered with the tribe of Reuben numbered 46,500.
- 22 The genealogies of Simeon's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.
- 23 Those registered with the tribe of Simeon numbered 59,300.
- 24 The genealogies of Gad's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.
- 25 Those registered with the tribe of Gad numbered 45,650.
- 26 The genealogies of Judah's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.
- 27 Those registered with the tribe of Judah numbered 74,600.
- 28 The genealogies of Issachar's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.
- 29 Those registered with the tribe of Issachar numbered 54,400.

30 The genealogies of Zebulun's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

31 Those registered with the tribe of Zebulun numbered 57,400.

32 The genealogies of Joseph's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

33 Those registered with the tribe of Joseph numbered 40,500.

34 The genealogies of Manasseh's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

35 Those registered with the tribe of Manasseh numbered 32,200.

36 The genealogies of Benjamin's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

37 Those registered with the tribe of Benjamin numbered 35,400.

38 The genealogies of Dan's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

39 Those registered with the tribe of Dan numbered 62,700.

40 The genealogies of Asher's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

41 Those registered with the tribe of Asher numbered 41,500.

42 The genealogies of Naphtali's descendants were recorded individually according to their tribes and ancestral houses, as were the names of all the men 20 years and above who could serve in the army.

43 Those registered with the family of Naphtali numbered 53,400.

44 These individuals were the ones whom Moses and Aaron registered from the twelve leaders of Israel, each person from his ancestral house.

45 Everyone was numbered from the descendants of Israel, from their ancestral houses, from all the men who were 20 years and above and who could serve in the army.

46 The total of all those who were numbered was 603,550.

47 The descendants of Levi were not counted according to their ancestral houses

48 because the LORD had ordered Moses:

49 "Be sure not to number or count the tribe of Levi with the rest of the Israelis.

50 Instead, appoint the descendants of Levi over the Tent of Meeting, all the vessels, and everything in it. They are to carry the tent and all the vessels in it. They are to attend to it and camp around it.

51 Whenever the tent is ready for travel, the descendants of Levi are to take it down.

"When it's time to encamp, the descendants of Levi are to set it up. Any unauthorized person who approaches it is to be executed.

52 Then the Israelis are to encamp around the tent, arranged according to their company and the standard of their army.

53 But the descendants of Levi are to encamp on all sides of the Tent of Meeting so that divine wrath won't fall on the congregation of Israel. The descendants of Levi are to take care of the Tent of Meeting."

54 The Israelis observed everything that the LORD had commanded Moses, doing exactly what they were told.

Numbers 2

1 Later, the LORD told Moses and Aaron,

2 "Every single Israeli is to encamp beneath his standard with the emblem of his ancestral house. The Israelis are to encamp from a distance, but surrounding the Tent of Meeting."

3 "The encampment of Judah is to settle east toward the sunrise under their standard. The leader of Judah is to be Amminadab's son Nahshon.

4 Those in his division number 74,600.

5 "The tribe of Issachar is to encamp beside Judah. The leader of Issachar is to be Zuar's son Nethanel.

6 Those in his division number 54,400.

7 "Next is to be the tribe of Zebulun. The leader of Zebulun is to be Helon's son Eliab.

8 Those in his division number 57,400.

9 All those numbered by division in the camp of Judah total 186,400. They are to be the first to travel."

Romans 7

13 Now, did something good bring me death? Of course not! But in order that sin might be recognized as being sin, it used something good to cause my death, so that through the rule, sin might become more exposed as being sinful than ever before.

14 For we know that the Law is spiritual, but I am merely human, sold as a slave to sin.

15 I don't understand what I am doing. For I don't practise what I want to do, but instead do what I hate.

16 Now if I practise what I don't want to do, I am admitting that the Law is good.

17 As it is, I am no longer the one who is doing it, but it is the sin that is living in me.

18 For I know that nothing good lives in me, that is, in my flesh. For I have the desire to do what is right, but I cannot carry it out.

19 For I don't do the good I want to do, but instead do the evil that I don't want to do.

20 But if I do what I don't want to do, I am no longer the one who is doing it, but it is the sin that is living in me.

21 So I find this to be a principle: when I want to do what is good, evil is right there with me.

22 For I delight in the Law of God in my inner being,

23 but I see in my body a different principle waging war with the Law in my mind and making me a prisoner of the law of sin that exists in my body.

24 What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body that is infected by death?

25 Thank God through Jesus the Messiah, our Lord, because with my mind I myself can serve the Law of God, even while with my human nature I serve the law of sin.

Romans 8

1 Therefore, there is now no condemnation for those who are in union with the Messiah Jesus.

2 For the Spirit's law of life in the Messiah Jesus has set me free from the Law of sin and death.

3 For what the Law was powerless to do in that it was weakened by the flesh, God did. By sending his own Son in the form of humanity, he condemned sin by being incarnate,

4 so that the righteous requirement of the Law might be fulfilled in us, who do not live according to human nature but according to the Spirit.

5 For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit.

6 To focus our minds on the human nature leads to death, but to focus our minds on the Spirit leads to life and peace.

7 That is why the mind that focuses on human nature is hostile toward God. It refuses to submit to the authority of God's Law because it is powerless to do so.

8 Indeed, those who are under the control of human nature cannot please God.

Numbers 2

- 10 "Toward the south is to be the division of the camp of Reuben under their standard. The leader of Reuben is to be Shedeur's son Elizur.
- 11 Those in his division number 46,500.
- 12 "The tribe of Simeon is to camp beside Reuben. The leader of Simeon is to be Zurishaddai's son Shelumiel.
- 13 Those in his division number 59,300.
- 14 "Next is to be the tribe of Gad. The leader of Gad is to be Deuel's son Eliasaph.
- 15 Those in his division number 45,650.
- 16 All those numbered by division in the camp of Reuben total 151,450. They are to be the second to travel."
- 17 "Then the Tent of Meeting is to travel with the camp of the descendants of Levi in the middle of the camps. They are to travel just as they have camped, each as designated under his standard."
- 18 "Toward the west is to be the division of the camp of Ephraim under their standard. The leader of Ephraim is to be Ammihud's son Elishama.
- 19 Those in his division number 40,500.
- 20 "The tribe of Manasseh is to encamp beside them. The leader of Manasseh is to be Pedahzur's son Gamaliel.
- 21 Those in his division number 32,200.
- 22 "Next is to be the tribe of Benjamin. The leader of Benjamin is to be Gideoni's son Abidan.
- 23 Those in his division number 35,400.
- 24 All those numbered by division in the camp of Ephraim total 108,100. They are to be the third to travel."
- 25 "Toward the north is to be the division of the camp of Dan under their standard. The leader of Dan is to be Ammishaddai's son Ahiezer.
- 26 Those in his division number 62,700.
- 27 "The tribe of Asher is to encamp beside them. The leader of Asher is to be Ochrán's son Pagiel.
- 28 Those in his division number 41,500.
- 29 "Next is to be the tribe of Naphtali. The leader of Naphtali is to be Enan's son Ahira.
- 30 Those in his division number 53,400.
- 31 All those numbered by division in the camp of Dan total 157,600. They are to be the last to travel under their standards."
- 32 Here is a summary of the census of the Israelis according to the tribes of their ancestral houses: All the divisions in the camps numbered 603,550,
- 33 but the descendants of Levi were not numbered along with the other Israelis, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 34 So the Israelis did everything just as the LORD had commanded Moses; that is, they encamped under their standard as each person travelled with his own tribe and ancestral house.

Numbers 3

- 1 This is a record of the genealogies of Aaron and Moses current as of the day on which the LORD addressed Moses on Mount Sinai.
- 2 The sons of Aaron were Nadab the first-born, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar
- 3 who were anointed priests and whom he consecrated as priests.

4 Nadab and Abihu died in the LORD's presence when they offered unauthorized fire before him in the Sinai wilderness. Since they didn't have their own children, Eleazar and Ithamar ministered as priest under the authority of Aaron their father.

5 The LORD told Moses,

6 "Bring the tribe of Levi near and present them to Aaron the priest so they may serve him.

7 They are to take care of his needs and the needs of the whole congregation at the Tent of Meeting by performing duties at the tent.

8 They are to take charge of the utensils at the Tent of Meeting and meet the needs of the Israelis by performing duties on behalf of the tent.

9 Assign the descendants of Levi to Aaron and his sons from among the Israelis.

10 Appoint Aaron and his sons so that they are to take responsibility for their priesthood. Any unauthorized person who approaches it is to be put to death."

11 Later, the LORD told Moses,

12 "I'm taking the descendants of Levi for myself from among the Israelis in place of every first-born who opens the womb. The descendants of Levi belong to me

13 because all the first-born belong to me. When I destroyed all the first born in the land of Egypt, I consecrated all the first-born in Israel for myself — from human beings to livestock. They belong to me, since I am the LORD."

14 The LORD also told Moses in the Sinai wilderness,

15 "Number the descendants of Levi according to their ancestral houses and tribes, numbering every male from a month old and above."

16 So Moses numbered them according to the instruction of the LORD, as he had been commanded.

17 These are Levi's descendants by name: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

18 These are names of Gershon's descendants according to their families: Libni and Shimei.

19 These are the names of Kohath's descendants according to their families: Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

20 Merari's descendants according to their families were Mahli and Mushi. These are the families of the descendants of Levi according to their ancestral house.

21 The families of Libni and Shimei were descendants of Gershon. As families of the descendants of Gershon, 22 all the males a month old and above numbered 7,500.

23 The families of the descendants of Gershon encamped behind the tent toward the west.

24 The leader of the tribe and family of Gershon was Lael's son Eliasaph.

25 The duties of the descendants of Gershon at the Tent of Meeting pertained to the tent, the tent covering, the curtain to the entrance of the Tent of Meeting,

26 the hangings of the courtyard, the curtain to the entrance of the courtyard that surrounded the tent, the altar, and all of the tent cords in use.

27 The families of Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel were descendants of Kohath. As families of the descendants of Kohath, 28 all the males a month old and above numbered 8,600. They were tasked to the care of the sanctuary.

29 The descendants of Kohath encamped beside the tent toward the south.

30 The leader of the tribe and family of Kohath was Uzziel's son Elizaphan.

31 Their duties pertained to the ark, the table, the lamp stand, the altars, the utensils of the sanctuary with which they ministered, and all the curtains in use.

32 The chief of all the leaders of the descendants of Levi was Aaron the priest's son Eleazar. He was assigned to oversee those who were in charge of the services of the sanctuary.

33 The families of Mahli and Mushi were descendants of Merari. As families of Merari,

34 all the males a month old and above numbered 6,200.

35 The leader of the tribe and family of Merari was Abihail's son Zuriel. The descendants of Merari encamped beside the tent toward the north.

36 The duties of the caretakers from the descendants of Merari included the boards of the tent, its bars, crossbars, sockets, all its utensils for their services, 37 the pillars around the courtyard, their sockets, pegs, and tent cords.

38 In front of the tent and east of the Tent of Meeting, Moses, Aaron, and Aaron's sons encamped facing the east. They were tasked to perform the duties of the sanctuary and care for the needs of the Israelis. Any unauthorized person who approached was to be executed.

39 As the LORD had instructed, everyone counted by Moses and Aaron from the descendants of Levi, according to their tribe, all males from a month old and above numbered 22,000.

40 Later the LORD instructed Moses: "Number all the first-born males of Israel from a month old and above and list their names.

41 Separate the descendants of Levi for me — since I am the LORD — in place of all the first-born sons of Israel. Also separate the livestock of the descendants of Levi in place of all the first born of the livestock of Israel."

42 So Moses numbered all the first born from the sons of Israel just as the LORD commanded him.

43 All the first-born males according to the list of their names from a month old and above numbered 22,273.

Romans 8

9 You, however, are not under the control of the human nature but under the control of the Spirit, since God's Spirit lives in you. And if anyone does not have the Spirit of the Messiah, he does not belong to him.

10 But if the Messiah is in you, your bodies are dead due to sin, but the spirit is alive due to righteousness.

11 And if the Spirit of the one who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, then the one who raised the Messiah from the dead will also make your mortal bodies alive by his Spirit who lives in you.

12 Consequently, brothers, we are not — with respect to human nature, that is — under an obligation to live according to human nature.

13 For if you live according to human nature, you are going to die, but if by the Spirit you continually put to death the activities of the body, you will live.

14 For all who are led by God's Spirit are God's children.

15 For you have not received a spirit of slavery that leads you into fear again. Instead, you have received the Spirit of adoption by whom we cry out, "Abba! Father!"

16 The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are God's children.

17 Now if we are children, we are heirs — heirs of God and co-heirs with the Messiah — if, in fact, we share in his sufferings in order that we may also share in his glory.

18 For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed to us.

19 For the creation is eagerly awaiting the revelation of God's children,

20 because the creation has become subject to futility, though not by anything it did. The one who subjected it did so in the certainty

21 that the creation itself would also be set free from corrupting bondage in order to share the glorious freedom of God's children.

22 For we know that all the rest of creation has been groaning with the pains of childbirth up to the present time.

23 However, not only the creation, but we who have the first fruits of the Spirit also groan inwardly as we eagerly await our adoption, the redemption of our bodies.

24 For we were saved with this hope in mind. Now a hope that can be observed is not really hope, for who hopes for what can be seen?

25 But if we hope for what we do not yet observe, we eagerly wait for it with patience.

26 In the same way, the Spirit also helps us in our weakness, since we do not know how to pray as we should. But the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groans too deep for words,

27 and the one who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, for the Spirit intercedes for the saints according to God's will.

28 And we know that for those who love God, that is, for those who are called according to his purpose, all things are working together for good.

1st March

Numbers 3

44 Then the LORD told Moses,
45 "Separate the descendants of Levi in place of all the first born sons of Israel and the livestock of the descendants of Levi in place of their livestock. The descendants of Levi belong to me, since I am the LORD.
46 You are to pay a ransom of the 273 first-born sons of Israel who exceed the census number of the descendants of Levi,
47 so collect five shekels for each individual, denominated in shekels of the sanctuary, that is, the shekel that weighs 20 gerahs.
48 Then give the money meant for ransom of their excess to Aaron and his sons."
49 So Moses took the ransom money to account for the difference in the total number of those redeemed by the descendants of Levi.
50 From the first born of the Israelis, Moses took money amounting to 1,365 shekels according to the shekel of the sanctuary.
51 Moses gave the ransom money to Aaron and his sons according to the LORD's instructions, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Numbers 4

1 The LORD told Moses and Aaron,
2 "Take a census of the descendants of Kohath from among the descendants of Levi according to their tribes and ancestral houses
3 from 30 years and older through the age of 50 years, from everyone who can enter the service to perform work at the Tent of Meeting.
4 "Here's what the descendants of Kohath are to do regarding the Tent of Meeting and what's inside the Most Holy Place:
5 When the camp is about to travel, Aaron and his sons are to come and take down the veil of the curtain and cover the Ark of the Testimony with it.
6 They are to set a leather-dyed skin covering over it, cover it with a pure blue cloth, and then insert its poles.
7 "They are to spread a blue cloth over the table of the bread of the Presence and on top of it the dishes, pans, bowls, pitchers for drink offerings, and the bread of presence are to be on it continuously.
8 They are to spread over them a scarlet cloth and a leather-dyed skin covering and then insert its poles.
9 "They are to take a blue cloth and cover the lamp stand for the light with its lamp, lamp-snuffers, censer, and all the utensils for its oil with which they minister.
10 Then they are to put them with all the other utensils on the leather-dyed skin covering and set them on the beams for transport.
11 "On the golden altar, they are to spread a blue cloth and cover it with a leather-dyed skin covering and then insert its poles.
12 Then they are to take all the utensils for service with which they minister at the sanctuary; set them on the blue cloth; cover them with the leather-dyed skin covering and then set them on the beams for transport.
13 They are also to remove the ashes on the altar and spread over it a purple cloth.
14 Then they are to put all the instruments with which they minister there — trays, forks, shovels, bowls, and all the utensils of the altar. They are to spread over it a leather-dyed skin covering and then insert its poles.
15 "When Aaron and his sons have finished covering the sanctuary and all the utensils of the sanctuary, and the camp is about to travel, then the descendants of Kohath are to come and carry them, but they are not to touch the most sacred objects, so they won't die. These are the duties of the descendants of Kohath at the Tent of Meeting."

16 "Now the duty of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest is to maintain the oil for the light, the spiced incense, the daily offerings, the oil for anointing, and to carry out all the duties of the tent and the sanctuary, and to maintain its utensils."

17 Then the LORD told Moses and Aaron,

18 "You are not to eliminate the tribe of the families of the descendants of Kohath from the descendants of Levi.

19 But do this for them so that they may live and not die when they approach the Most Holy Place: Aaron and his sons are to go in and set specific responsibilities for each of them to carry out.

20 But they are not to go in to see the sanctuary as it is being covered so they won't die."

21 Then the LORD told Moses,

22 Take a census of the descendants of Gershon according to their ancestral house and tribes.

23 Count their number from between 30 to 50 years old, including everyone who can enter the service to perform work at the Tent of Meeting.

24 "These are the responsibilities that the descendants of Gershon are to have:

25 They are to carry the curtain of the tent, the covering of the Tent of Meeting, the dyed leather covering that goes over it, the curtain for the entrance to the Tent of Meeting,

26 the hangings for the courtyard, the curtain for the entrance to the gate of the courtyard that surrounds the tent, the altar, the ropes, all the service utensils, and everything made for them. This is to be their service area.

27 "The descendants of Gershon are to carry out the instructions of Aaron and his sons. You are to assign them their responsibilities to carry out.

28 This is the work of the tribes of Gershon at the Tent of Meeting — their duties under the supervision of Ithamar, the son of Aaron the priest.

29 "For the descendants of Merari, number them according to their tribes and ancestral houses

30 from 30 to 50 years old as you count them, including everyone who can enter service and perform work at the Tent of Meeting.

31 This is to be their area of responsibility to carry out with respect to their service at the Tent of Meeting: the board of the tent, its bars, its crossbars, its sockets,

32 the pillars around the courtyard, their sockets, their pegs, their ropes, and all the utensils for all their services. "Assign the utensils by name to each person whose responsibility it will be to carry them.

33 This is the work of the tribes of the descendants of Merari with reference to their service at the Tent of Meeting under the supervision of the priest's son Ithamar."

34 Moses and Aaron and the congregational leaders numbered the descendants of Kohath according to their tribes and ancestral houses

35 from 30 to 50 fifty years old; that is, everyone who entered the service to perform work at the Tent of Meeting.

36 The total according to their tribe numbered 2,750

37 from the tribe of the descendants of Kohath, everyone who would be serving at the Tent of Meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to what the LORD had said, under the supervision of Moses.

38 The tribes and the ancestral houses of the descendants of Gershon were numbered 39 from 30 to 50 years old; that is, everyone who entered the service to perform work at the Tent of Meeting.

40 The total according to their tribes and ancestral house numbered 2,630

41 from the tribes of the descendants of Gershon, everyone who would be serving at the Tent of Meeting, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to what the LORD had said.

42 The tribes and ancestral house of Merari were numbered 43 from 30 to 50 years old; that is, everyone who entered the service to perform work at the Tent of Meeting.
44 The total according to their tribes numbered 3,200
45 from the tribes of the descendants of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to what the LORD had said, under the supervision of Moses.
46 The total of those who were numbered from the descendants of Levi by Moses and Aaron; that is, from the leaders of Israel counted according to their tribes and ancestral houses
47 from 30 to 50 years old, who entered the service for work at the Tent of Meeting
48 was 8,580.
49 They were numbered under the supervision of Moses according to what the LORD had said. Each person was assigned a responsibility to carry out, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Numbers 5

1 The LORD told Moses,
2 "Command the Israelis to send outside the encampment every leper, everyone who has a discharge, and whoever is ritually defiled by contact with a corpse.
3 Whether male or female, send them outside the camp so that they won't defile their camp, because I live among them."
4 So the Israelis sent them outside the camp. The Israelis did just what the LORD had told Moses.
5 The LORD told Moses,
6 "Instruct the Israelis that whenever a man or woman does something contained in the list of the sins of man, thereby acting treacherously against the LORD, then that person stands guilty.
7 He is to confess the sin that he had committed, pay its full compensation, add one fifth to it, and give the compensation to whomever he offended.
8 But if the person has no related redeemer to whom compensation may be made, the payment is to be brought to the LORD and given to the priest, in addition to a ram for atonement with which he is to be atoned.
9 Every offering from all the most sacred things of the Israelis that they bring to the priest is to belong to him.
10 Furthermore, everyone's sacred things belong to him, and as well as whatever a person gives to the priest.

Romans 8

29 For those whom he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, in order that the Son might be the firstborn among many brothers.
30 And those whom he predestined, he also called; and those whom he called, he also justified; and those whom he justified he also glorified.
31 What, then, can we say about all of this? If God is for us, who can be against us?
32 The one who did not spare his own Son, but offered him as a sacrifice for all of us, surely will give us all things, along with his Son, won't he?
33 Who will accuse God's elect? It is God who justifies!
34 Who is the one to condemn? It is the Messiah Jesus who is interceding on our behalf. He died, and more importantly, has been raised and is seated at the right hand of God.
35 Who will separate us from the Messiah's love? Can trouble, distress, persecution, hunger, nakedness, danger, or a violent death do this?
36 As it is written, "For your sake we are being put to death all day long. We are thought of as sheep headed for slaughter."
37 In all these things we are triumphantly victorious due to the one who loved us.
38 For I am convinced that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor rulers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers,
39 nor anything above, nor anything below, nor anything else in all creation can separate us from the love of God that is ours in union with the Messiah Jesus, our Lord.

Romans 9

1 I am telling the truth because I belong to the Messiah — I am not lying, and my conscience confirms it by means of the Holy Spirit.
2 I have deep sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart,
3 for I could wish that I myself were condemned and cut off from the Messiah for the sake of my brothers, my own people,
4 who are Israelis. To them belong the adoption, the glory, the covenants, the giving of the Law, the worship, and the promises.
5 To the Israelis belong the patriarchs, and from them, the Messiah descended, who is God over all, the one who is forever blessed. Amen.
6 Now it is not as though the word of God has failed. For not all Israelis truly belong to Israel,
7 and not all of Abraham's descendants are his true descendants. On the contrary, "It is through Isaac that descendants will be named for you."
8 That is, it is not merely the children born through natural descent who were regarded as God's children, but it is the children born through the promise who were regarded as descendants.
9 For this is the language of the promise: "At this time I will return, and Sarah will have a son."
10 Not only that, but Rebecca became pregnant by our ancestor Isaac.
11 Yet before their children had been born or had done anything good or bad (so that God's plan of election might continue to operate 12 according to his calling and not by actions), Rebecca was told, "The older child will serve the younger one."
13 So it is written, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."

2nd March

Numbers 5

- 11 Then the LORD told Moses,
12 "Instruct the Israelis what to do if a man's wife turns astray so that she unfaithfully acts against him,
13 a man has sexual relations with her and she conceals it from her husband, keeping it secret although she has defiled herself with there being no witnesses against her, but she was caught anyway.
14 If an attitude of jealousy overcomes him so that he becomes jealous at his wife when she is defiled, or if an attitude of jealousy overcomes him and he becomes jealous of his wife even though she isn't defiled,
15 then that man is to bring his wife to the priest along with an offering for her consisting of a tenth of an ephah of barley flour. "He is not to pour oil or set frankincense over it, because it's to be a jealousy offering, a memorial offering that will serve as a reminder of iniquity.
16 Then the priest is to bring it and make her stand in the LORD's presence.
17 The priest is to put some holy water into an earthen vessel, take some dust from the floor of the tent, and put it into the water.
18 "The priest is to have the woman stand in the LORD's presence, uncover her head, and put the grain offering as a memorial, a reminder of jealousy, into her hands. The priest is also to have in his hand the contaminated water that carries a curse.
19 "The priest is to administer this oath to the woman: 'If indeed another man didn't have sexual relations with you and you didn't become unfaithful to your husband, then may you be free from these waters that bring a curse.
20 But if you have become unfaithful to your husband and have become defiled because a man who isn't your husband has had sexual relations with you. . .'
21 then the priest is to have the woman commit to an oath by saying to the woman, 'May the LORD make you a curse and a curse among your people. When the LORD makes your thigh waste away and your abdomen swell
22 and this water that brings a curse enters your abdomen, making it swell and your thigh waste away.' "Then the woman is to say 'Amen.'
23 "Then the priest is to write all of these words in a document and wipe it off with the contaminated water.
24 The woman is to drink the bitter water that brings a curse and the water that brings a curse is to be considered contaminated.
25 The priest is to take the offering of jealousy from the woman's hand, wave the offering in the LORD's presence, and have her approach the altar.
26 "The priest is to take a handful of grain from the memorial and offer a sacrifice on the altar, after which he is to have the woman drink the water.
27 When he has had her drink the water, if she was defiled and had acted unfaithfully toward her husband, then the contaminated water that brings a curse will enter her and infect her, causing her abdomen to swell and her thigh to waste away.
28 Then she is to be a cursed woman among her people. "But if the woman isn't defiled, then she is to be freed and will be able to bear children.
29 This is the law in cases of jealousy when a woman defiles herself while under her husband's authority.
30 When a man becomes under the control of an attitude of jealousy regarding his wife, he is to present her to the Lord, and the priest is to apply this entire statute to her.
31 The husband will be free from guilt, but the wife is to bear the punishment of her iniquity."

Numbers 6

- 1 Then the LORD told Moses,
- 2 "Tell the Israelis that a man or woman who commits to the vow of the Nazirite, is to be separated to the LORD,
- 3 then is to remain separate from wine and strong drink. He is not to drink vinegar or strong drink made from wine. He is not to drink grape juice or eat grapes, whether fresh or dried.
- 4 "During the entire time of his dedication, he is not to eat any product from the grapevine, from seed to the skin.
- 5 "During the entire time of his dedication, he is not to allow a razor to pass over his head until the days of his holy consecration to the LORD have been fulfilled. He is to let the locks on his head grow long.
- 6 "During the entire time of his dedication, he is not to come near a dead body.
- 7 He is not to defile himself on account of his father, mother, brother, and sister when they die, because the crown of his consecration to God is on his head.
- 8 "During the entire time of his dedication, he is set apart to God.
- 9 When someone suddenly dies beside him, so that his consecrated head is defiled, then he is to shave his head on the day of his purification. Seven days later he is to shave it again.
- 10 On the eighth day, he is to bring two turtledoves or two pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.
- 11 "Then the priest is to offer one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering to make atonement for him because of the guilt he incurred on account of his contact with the dead body. Then he is to consecrate his head on that day.
- 12 He is to dedicate to the LORD the days of his consecration by bringing a year old male lamb as his offering. The previous time will have failed because his consecration became defiled.
- 13 "This is the law of the Nazirite: When the days of his consecration are completed, he is to come to the entrance at the Tent of Meeting.
- 14 He is to bring an offering to the LORD, a year old male lamb, and a year old ewe female lamb, both without blemish, for a sin offering and a ram without blemish for a peace offering,
- 15 a basket of unleavened bread made from choice flour, cakes mixed with oil, a wafer of unleavened bread smeared with oil, along with grain and drink offerings.
- 16 "The priest is to come into the LORD's presence and present his sin and burnt offerings.
- 17 He is to offer the ram, a sacrifice of peace offering to the LORD, along with the basket of unleavened bread. Then the priest is to present his grain and drink offerings.
- 18 "The Nazirite is then to shave his head of consecration at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting. He is to take the lock of his head of consecration and set it over the fire where the peace offering for sacrifice is.
- 19 Then the priest is to take the boiled shoulder of the ram, one cake of unleavened bread from the basket, and one wafer of unleavened bread. He is to place them in the hands of the Nazirite, after he himself has shaved his symbol of consecration.
- 20 The priest is to wave the offerings, that is, the breast and the thigh offering in the LORD's presence. Then the Nazirite may drink wine afterward.
- 21 "This is to be the law of the Nazirite when he commits his offering to the LORD on account of his consecration, over and beyond what he owns alone plus whatever he can provide, based on the vow from his own mouth that he vows to fulfil on account of the law of his consecration."
- 22 Later, the LORD told Moses,
- 23 "Teach Aaron and his sons to bless the Israelis:

- 24 May the LORD bless you and guard you.
25 May the LORD's face enlighten you and bestow favour on you.
26 May the LORD turn to face you, lavishing peace on you!
27 They are to pour out my name to the Israelis while I continue to bless them."

Numbers 7

- 1 The same day that Moses finished setting up, anointing, and consecrating the tent and its utensils, he also anointed and consecrated the altar and its utensils.
2 Then the presiding leaders of Israel, as heads of the ancestral houses, brought an offering. They were the leaders of the tribes who supervised the census.
3 They brought their offering into the LORD's presence, consisting of six covered carts and twelve oxen — one cart each from two leaders and an ox from each one. After they presented them in front of the tent,
4 the LORD told Moses,
5 "Take these gifts from them and use them in service at the Tent of Meeting. Present them to the descendants of Levi, distributing them to each person according to his work."
6 So Moses took the carts and the oxen and presented them to the descendants of Levi.
7 Two carts and four oxen were given to the descendants of Gershon for their work.
8 Four carts and eight oxen were given to the descendants of Merari for their work.
9 But he gave none of them to the descendants of Kohath, because their responsibility was to carry the holy things on their shoulders.

Romans 9

14 What can we say, then? God is not unrighteous, is he? Of course not!

15 For he says to Moses, "I will be merciful to the person I want to be merciful to, and I will be kind to the person I want to be kind to."

16 Therefore, God's choice does not depend on a person's will or effort, but on God himself, who shows mercy.

17 For the Scripture says about Pharaoh, "I have raised you up for this very purpose, to demonstrate my power through you and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth."

18 Therefore, God has mercy on whomever he chooses, and he hardens the heart of whomever he chooses.

19 You may ask me, "Then why does God still find fault with anybody? For who can resist his will?"

20 On the contrary, who are you — mere man that you are — to talk back to God? Can an object that was moulded say to the one who moulded it, "Why did you make me like this?"

21 A potter has the right to do what he wants to with his clay, doesn't he? He can make something for a special occasion or something for ordinary use from the same lump of clay.

22 Now if God wants to demonstrate his wrath and reveal his power, can't he be extremely patient with the objects of his wrath that are made for destruction?

23 Can't he also reveal his glorious riches to the objects of his mercy that he has prepared ahead of time for glory —

24 including us, whom he also called, not only from the Jews but from the gentiles as well?

25 As the Scripture says in Hosea, "Those who are not my people I will call my people, and the one who was not loved I will call my loved one.

26 In the very place where it was told them, 'You are not my people,' they will be called children of the living God."

27 Isaiah also calls out concerning Israel, "Although the descendants of Israel are as numerous as the grains of sand on the seashore, only a few will be saved.

28 For the Lord will carry out his plan decisively, bringing it to completion on the earth."

29 It is just as Isaiah predicted: "If the Lord of the Heavenly Armies had not left us some descendants, we would have become like Sodom and would have been compared to Gomorrah."

30 What can we say, then? Gentiles, who were not pursuing righteousness, have attained righteousness, a righteousness that comes through faith.

31 But Israel, who pursued righteousness based on the Law, did not achieve the Law.

32 Why not? Because they did not pursue it on the basis of faith, but as if it were based on achievements. They stumbled over the stone that causes people to stumble.

33 As it is written, "Look! I am placing a stone in Zion over which people will stumble — a large rock that will make them fall — and the one who believes in him will never be ashamed."

Romans 10

1 Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to God about the Jews is that they would be saved.

2 For I can testify on their behalf that they have a zeal for God, but it is not in keeping with full knowledge.

3 For they are ignorant of the righteousness that comes from God while they try to establish their own, and they have not submitted to God's means to attain righteousness.

4 For the Messiah is the culmination of the Law as far as righteousness is concerned for everyone who believes.

5 For Moses writes about the righteousness that comes from the Law as follows: "The person who obeys these things will find life by them."

6 But the righteousness that comes from faith says, "Do not say in your heart, 'Who will go up to heaven?' (that is, to bring the Messiah down),

7 or 'Who will go down into the depths?' (that is, to bring the Messiah back from the dead)."

8 But what does it say? "The message is near you. It is in your mouth and in your heart." This is the message about faith that we are proclaiming:

9 If you declare with your mouth that Jesus is Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved.

10 For one believes with his heart and is justified, and declares with his mouth and is saved.

11 The Scripture says, "Everyone who believes in him will never be ashamed."

12 There is no difference between Jew and Greek, because they all have the same Lord, who gives richly to all who call on him.

13 "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."

14 How, then, can people call on someone they have not believed? And how can they believe in someone they have not heard about? And how can they hear without someone preaching?

15 And how can people preach unless they are sent? As it is written, "How beautiful are those who bring the good news!"

16 But not everyone has obeyed the gospel, for Isaiah asks, "Lord, who has believed our message?"

17 Consequently, faith results from listening, and listening results through the word of the Messiah.

18 But I ask, "Didn't they hear?" Certainly they did! In fact, "Their voice has gone out into the whole world, and their words to the ends of the earth."

19 Again I ask, "Did Israel not understand?" Moses was the first to say, "I will make you jealous by those who are not a nation; I will make you angry by a nation that doesn't understand."

20 And Isaiah boldly says, "I was found by those who were not looking for me; I was revealed to those who were not asking for me."

21 But about Israel he says, "All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and rebellious people."

4th March

Numbers 7

78 On the twelfth day, Enan's son Ahira, leader of the descendants of Naphtali, presented
79 as his offering a silver dish weighing 130 shekels and a silver bowl weighing 70 shekels (calculated according to the shekel of the sanctuary), both filled with choice flour mixed with oil for a grain offering;

80 one gold pan weighing ten shekels, full of incense;

81 one young bull, one ram, a one year old male lamb for a burnt offering;

82 and one male goat for a sin offering.

83 Their sacrifice for a peace offering consisted of two bulls, five rams, five male goats, and five one year old lambs. These were the offerings presented by Enan's son Ahira.

84 This was what was presented at the dedication of the altar from the leaders of Israel on the same day that it was anointed: twelve silver bowls, twelve silver basins, twelve gold ladles.

85 Each bowl weighed 130 silver shekels and each basin weighed 70 shekels. All the silver vessels weighed a total of 2,400 shekels, calculated according to the shekel of the sanctuary.

86 Also, twelve gold ladles filled with incense were presented, each ladle weighing ten shekels (calculated according to the shekel of the sanctuary). All of the gold of the ladles weighed 120 shekels.

87 All the livestock for burnt offerings totalled twelve bulls, twelve rams, twelve sheep in their first year with corresponding meal offerings, and twelve male goats for sin offerings.

88 All the livestock for peace offerings totalled 24 bulls, 60 rams, 60 male goats, and 60 one year old lambs — all this was for the altar's dedication after it was anointed.

89 When Moses entered the Tent of Meeting to speak with the LORD, he heard a voice speaking to him above the Mercy Seat over the Ark of the Testimony. He spoke to him from between the two cherubim.

Numbers 8

1 The LORD told Moses,

2 "Tell Aaron, 'When you set up the lamps, the seven lamps will illuminate the area in front of the lamp stand.'"

3 So Aaron did so, setting up the lamps to illuminate the area in front of the lamp stand, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

4 This was how the lamp stand was crafted from hammered gold: From its base to its flowers, it was made of hammered gold. Moses crafted the lamp stand just as the LORD had showed him.

5 Then the LORD told Moses,

6 "Take the descendants of Levi from the Israelis and purify them.

7 This is what you are to do for them in order to purify them: Sprinkle purifying water over them, have them shave their skin, and then have them wash their garments, and they will be purified.

8 They are to take a young bull along with its meal offering made of flour mixed with oil.
"Then you are to take a second young bull as sin offering.

9 Assemble the descendants of Levi in front of the appointed place of meeting, and assemble the whole congregation of Israel, too.

10 Bring the descendants of Levi into the LORD's presence and have the Israelis lay their hands on the descendants of Levi.

11 "Then Aaron is to present the descendants of Levi as a wave offering before the LORD from the Israelis, because they are to work in the service of the LORD.

12 The descendants of Levi are then to lay their hands on the head of the bulls, offering one for a sin offering and the other one for a burnt offering to the LORD to atone for the descendants of Levi.

13 "You are to make the descendants of Levi stand in the presence of Aaron and his sons. Then you are to wave them as wave-offerings to the LORD.

14 This is how you are to separate the descendants of Levi from among the Israelis. The descendants of Levi belong to me.

15 "After this, the descendants of Levi are to come to serve at the appointed place of meeting, after you have purified them and presented them as wave offerings,

16 since they've been set apart for me from among the Israelis. "I've taken them for myself instead of the first to open the womb — every first born of the Israelis,

17 Since every firstborn of Israel belongs to me, from human beings to livestock. "On the same day that I destroyed all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, I consecrated them to myself, 18 taking the descendants of Levi instead of every firstborn of the Israelis.

19 I've set the descendants of Levi apart from the Israelis so that Aaron and his sons would work in service at the appointed place of meeting, making atonement on behalf of the Israelis so that there won't be a plague among the Israelis whenever they approach the sanctuary."

20 So Moses and Aaron and the Israelis did this on behalf of the descendants of Levi. The Israelis did everything that the LORD commanded concerning the descendants of Levi.

21 The descendants of Levi therefore purified themselves, washed their clothes, and then Aaron presented them as wave offerings to the LORD. Aaron provided atonement for them to purify them.

22 After this, the descendants of Levi entered into their work of service at the appointed place, in the presence of Aaron and his sons. They did everything that the LORD commanded Moses concerning the descendants of Levi.

23 Later, the LORD told Moses,

24 "Now regarding a descendant of Levi who is 25 years and above, he is to enter work in the service at the appointed place of meeting,

25 But starting at 50 years of age, he is to retire from service and is no longer to work.

26 He may minister to his brothers at the Tent of Meeting by keeping watch, but he is not to engage in service. This is how you are to act with respect to the obligations of the descendants of Levi.

Numbers 9

1 The LORD spoke to Moses in the Wilderness of Sinai during the first month of the second year that they had left Egypt,

2 "The Israelis are to observe the Passover at its appointed time

3 on the fourteenth day of this month. You are to observe it at this appointed time between the evenings. You are to observe it according to all its decrees and laws."

4 So Moses instructed the Israelis to observe the Passover.

5 They observed the Passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at twilight, in the Wilderness of Sinai. The Israelis did everything that the LORD had commanded through Moses.

6 But there were men who couldn't observe the Passover that day because they had come in contact with a corpse. That very day, they approached Moses and Aaron

7 and asked, "Why can't we bring an offering to the LORD at the appointed time among the Israelis, even though we are unclean because we came in contact with a corpse?"

8 "Wait while I hear what the LORD has to say about you," Moses replied.

9 Then the LORD told Moses,

10 "Instruct the Israelis that when any of you or your descendants becomes unclean due to contact with a corpse, or if he is on a long journey, he nevertheless is to observe the LORD's Passover.

11 On the fourteenth day of the second month at twilight, they are to eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

12 They are not to leave any of it to remain until morning nor are they to break any of its bones. They are to observe it according to all the statutes of the Passover.

13 "Now as to the person who is clean and isn't travelling, but fails to observe the Passover, that person is to be eliminated from his people, because he didn't bring an offering to the LORD at its appointed time. That person is to bear his sin.

14 "If a resident alien lives with you and wants to observe the LORD's Passover, let him observe it according to the statutes and laws of the Passover. You are to maintain the same statute for the resident alien as you do for the native of the land."

15 On the same morning that the tent was set up, a cloud covered the tent, that is, the Tent of Testimony, and in the evening fire appeared over the tent until morning.

16 It was so continuously — there was a cloud covering by day, and a fire cloud appeared at night.

17 Whenever the cloud above the tent ascended, the Israelis would travel and encamp in the place where the cloud settled.

18 According to whatever the LORD said, the Israelis would travel. According to whatever the LORD said, they would camp as long as the cloud remained over the Tent of Meeting.

19 When the cloud over the tent remained for a longer time, the Israelis did what the LORD had instructed and didn't travel.

20 There were times when the cloud remained over the tent for a number of days. They camped in accordance with the LORD's instructions and they travelled in accordance with LORD's instructions.

21 There were times when the cloud remained from evening until morning, but when the cloud ascended in the morning, they would journey. Whether by day or by night, they would travel whenever the cloud ascended.

22 Whether for two days, a month, or for longer periods, whenever the cloud would remain above the tent, the Israelis would remain in camp, not travelling. But whenever it ascended, then they would travel.

23 According to what the LORD said, they would remain in camp, and according to what the LORD said, they would travel. They kept the commands that the LORD had given through Moses.

Romans 11

- 1 So I ask, "God has not rejected his people, has he?" Of course not! I am an Israeli myself, a descendant of Abraham from the tribe of Benjamin.
- 2 God has not rejected his people whom he chose long ago. Do you not know what the Scripture says in the story about Elijah, when he pleads with God against Israel?
- 3 "Lord, they have killed your prophets and demolished your altars. I am the only one left, and they are trying to take my life."
- 4 But what was the divine reply to him? "I have reserved for myself 7,000 people who have not knelt to worship Baal."
- 5 So it is at the present time: there is a remnant, chosen by grace.
- 6 But if this is by grace, then it is no longer on the basis of actions. Otherwise, grace would no longer be grace.
- 7 What, then, does this mean? It means that Israel failed to obtain what it was seeking, but the selected group obtained it while the rest were hardened.
- 8 As it is written, "To this day God has put them into deep sleep. Their eyes do not see, and their ears do not hear."
- 9 And David says, "Let their table become a snare and a trap, a stumbling block and a punishment for them.
- 10 Let their eyes be darkened so that they cannot see, and keep their backs forever bent."
- 11 And so I ask, "They have not stumbled so as to fall, have they?" Of course not! On the contrary, because of their stumbling, salvation has come to the gentiles to make the Jews jealous.
- 12 Now if their stumbling means riches for the world, and if their fall means riches for the gentiles, how much more will their full participation mean!
- 13 I am speaking to you gentiles. Because I am an apostle to the gentiles, I magnify my ministry
- 14 in the hope that I can make my people jealous and save some of them.
- 15 For if their rejection results in reconciliation of the world, what will their acceptance bring but life from the dead?
- 16 If the first part of the dough is holy, so is the whole batch. If the root is holy, so are the branches.
- 17 Now if some of the branches have been broken off, and you, a wild olive branch, have been grafted in their place to share the rich root of the olive tree,
- 18 do not boast about being better than the other branches. If you boast, remember that you do not support the root, but the root supports you.
- 19 Then you will say, "Branches were cut off so that I could be grafted in."
- 20 That's right! They were broken off because of their unbelief, but you remain only because of faith. Do not be arrogant, but be afraid!
- 21 For if God did not spare the natural branches, he certainly will not spare you, either.

5th March

Numbers 10

- 1 The LORD also told Moses,
- 2 "Make two trumpets, crafting them from beaten silver, for use in calling the congregation together and for notifying the camps to set out for travel.
- 3 Sound them when the whole assembly is to gather together at the entrance of the appointed place of meeting.
- 4 "When one trumpet is blown, the elders and the heads of the thousands of the Israelis are to gather to you.
- 5 When you sound an alarm, the ones encamped on the east side are to begin to travel.
- 6 "When you sound the alarm the second time, those encamped on the south are to begin to travel. Alarms are to be sounded for their travels.
- 7 "But when you blow the trumpet to assemble the whole congregation, don't use the same sound as you do for sounding an alarm.
- 8 "The descendants of Aaron the priest are to blow the trumpets. Have them do this for you permanently throughout your generations to come."
- 9 When you wage war in your land against an enemy who is hostile to you, you are to sound an alarm with the trumpets. Then you will be remembered before the face of the LORD your God and you will be delivered from your enemies.
- 10 At the beginning of the month, during your time of rejoicing at the appointed place, sound the trumpet over your burnt offering, then sacrifice your peace offering, since they are to be your memorial before the LORD your God. I am the LORD your God.
- 11 On the twentieth day of the second month in the second year, the cloud was lifted up from the Tent of Meeting,
- 12 so the Israelis set out from the Sinai Wilderness until the cloud settled in the Paran Wilderness,
- 13 doing what the LORD had said through Moses.
- 14 The standard of the camp of Judah was the first to travel, accompanied by its army with Amminadab's son Nahshon in charge.
- 15 Zuar's son Nethanel was in charge of the camp of Issachar.
- 16 Helon's son Eliab was in charge of the camp of Zebulun.
- 17 The tent was taken down, and the descendants of Gershon and Merari carried the tent.
- 18 Then the standard of the camp of Reuben set out, accompanied by its army, with Shedeur's son Elizur in charge.
- 19 Zurishaddai's son Shelumiel was in charge of the tribe of Simeon.
- 20 Deuel's son Eliasaph was in charge of the tribe of Gad.
- 21 Then the descendants of Kohath, carrying the sanctuary, set out, since the tent was to be set up before they arrive.
- 22 After this, the standard of the camp of Ephraim set out, accompanied by its army with Ammihud's son Elishama in charge.
- 23 Pedazzur's son Gamaliel was in charge of the tribe of Manasseh.
- 24 Gideoni's son Abidan was in charge of the army of the tribe of Benjamin.
- 25 Then the standard of the camp of Dan set out, functioning as the rear guard for all the encampments, accompanied by its army with Ammishaddai's son Ahiezer.
- 26 Ochran's son Pagiel was in charge of the tribe of Asher.
- 27 Enan's son Ahira was in charge of the tribe of Naphtali.
- 28 This was the travel order for the Israelis, whenever their companies travelled.
- 29 Then Moses told Reuel's son Hobab, Moses' relative by marriage from Midian, "We are travelling to the place about which the LORD said 'I will give it to you.' So come with us and we'll be good to you, because the LORD has spoken good things about Israel."

30 But he said, "I won't go with you because I'm returning to my land and to my own family."

31 Then Moses responded, "Please don't leave us now, since you know where we can camp in the wilderness. You could be our guide."

32 And when you come with us, the good things that the LORD will grant us, we'll give you as well."

33 So they travelled from the mountain of the LORD, a three-day trip, with the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD travelling in front of them — a three day trip to explore a place for them to rest.

34 Moreover, the cloud of the LORD protected them during the day when they left their camp.

35 Whenever the ark was ready to travel, Moses would say: "Arise, LORD, to scatter your enemies, so that whoever hates you will flee from your presence."

36 Whenever the ark was being readied to rest, he would say: "Return, LORD, to the countless thousands of Israel."

Numbers 11

1 Eventually, the people began complaining about their distress, and the LORD heard them. When the LORD heard, his anger flared up and the LORD's fire incinerated some of them within the outskirts of the camp.

2 When the people cried out to Moses, he prayed to the LORD and the fire stopped.

3 He then named that place Taberah, because the LORD's fire had incinerated some of them.

4 Meanwhile, certain riff-raff among the people had an insatiable appetite for food. As a result, they wept and turned back, and the Israelis cried out, "If only somebody would feed us some meat!

5 How we remember the fish that we used to eat in Egypt for free! And the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions, and garlic!

6 But now we can't stand it anymore, because there's nothing in front of us except this manna."

7 Now manna was reminiscent of coriander seed, with an appearance similar to amber.

8 People would go out to gather it, then they would grind it in mills or pound it in mortars, and then they would boil it in pots or make cakes out of it that tasted like butter cakes.

9 When the dew fell in the camp, the manna came with it.

10 Moses heard the people weeping throughout their entire families. Everyone gathered at the entrance of their tents so that the LORD was very angry. Moses thought the situation was bad, 11 so he asked the LORD, "Why did you bring all this trouble to your servant? Why haven't I found favour in your eyes? After all, you're putting the burden of this entire people on me!

12 "Did I conceive this people or give birth to them, so that you would tell me to carry them near my heart like a wet nurse carries a suckling baby to the land that you promised to their forefathers?

13 Where am I going to get meat to give this people? After all, they're crying in front of me, 'Give us meat to eat!'

14 I cannot carry this whole nation! The burden is too heavy for me!

15 If this is how you treat me, please kill me right now, if I've found favour in your eyes, because I don't want to keep staring at all of this misery!"

16 Then the LORD told Moses, "Gather together for me 70 men who are elders of Israel, men whom you know to be elders of the people and officers over them. Then bring them to the Tent of Meeting and let them stand there with you."

17 Then I'll come down and speak with you. I'll take some of the spirit that rests on you and apportion it among them, so that they may help you bear the burden of the people. That way, you won't bear it by yourself.

18 "But give this command to the people: 'You are to consecrate yourselves, because tomorrow you're going to eat meat, since you've complained where the LORD can hear it, "Who can give us meat to eat? After all, life was better with us in Egypt.'" Therefore, the LORD is going to give you meat and you'll eat —

19 not only for a day, or for two days, or for five days, or for ten days, or for 20 days,
20 but for a whole month — until it comes out your nostrils and makes you vomit. This is because you've despised the LORD, who is among you, and you cried out in his presence, complaining, 'Why did we ever leave Egypt?'"

21 Moses responded, "I'm with 600,000 people on foot and you're saying I am to give them enough meat to eat for a whole month?

22 What if we were to slaughter our entire inventory of flocks and herds for them? Would that be enough? What if we could gather all the fish in the sea in nets for them? Would that be enough, either?"

23 But the LORD responded to Moses, "Is the LORD short on power? You're now going to witness whether what I say will come to pass or not."

24 So Moses went out and told the people what the LORD had said. He gathered 70 men from the elders of the people and stationed them around the tent.

25 The LORD came down in a cloud, spoke to Moses, and made an apportionment from the spirit who rested on him to the 70 elders. When the spirit rested on them, they prophesied, but that was it.

26 Now two men had remained in camp. One was named Eldad and the other was named Medad. When the spirit rested on them, since they were among those who were listed but had not gone out to the tent, they stayed behind and prophesied in the camp.

27 A young man ran and reported to Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp!"

28 In response, Nun's son Joshua, Moses' attendant and one of his choice men, exclaimed, "My master Moses! Stop them!"

29 "Are you jealous on account of me?" Moses asked in reply. "I wish all of the LORD's people were prophets and that the LORD would put his spirit upon them!"

30 Then Moses — that is, he and the elders of Israel — returned to the camp.

Romans 11

22 Consider, then, the kindness and severity of God: his severity toward those who fell, but God's kindness toward you — if you continue receiving his kindness. Otherwise, you too will be cut off.

23 If the Jews do not persist in their unbelief, they will be grafted in again, because God is able to graft them in.

24 After all, if you were cut off from what is naturally a wild olive tree, and contrary to nature were grafted into a cultivated olive tree, how much easier it will be for these natural branches to be grafted back into their own olive tree!

25 For I want to let you know about this secret, brothers, so that you will not claim to be wiser than you are: Stubbornness has come to part of Israel until the full number of the gentiles comes to faith.

26 In this way, all Israel will be saved, as it is written, "The Deliverer will come from Zion; he will remove ungodliness from Jacob.

27 This is my covenant with them when I take away their sins."

28 As far as the gospel is concerned, they are enemies for your sake, but as far as election is concerned, they are loved for the sake of their ancestors.

29 For God's gifts and calling never change.

30 For just as you disobeyed God in the past but now have received his mercy because of their disobedience,

31 so they, too, have now disobeyed. As a result, they may receive mercy because of the mercy shown to you.

32 For God has locked all people in the prison of their own disobedience so that he may have mercy on them all.

33 O how deep are God's riches, and wisdom, and knowledge! How unfathomable are his decisions and unexplainable are his ways!

34 Who has known the mind of the Lord? Or who has become his adviser?

35 Or who has given him something only to have him pay it back?"

36 For all things are from him, by him, and for him. Glory belongs to him forever! Amen.

Romans 12

1 I therefore urge you, brothers, in view of God's mercies, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices that are holy and pleasing to God, for this is the reasonable way for you to worship.

2 Do not be conformed to this world, but continually be transformed by the renewing of your minds so that you may be able to determine what God's will is — what is proper, pleasing, and perfect.

3 For by the grace given to me I ask every one of you not to think of yourself more highly than you should think, rather to think of yourself with sober judgement on the measure of faith that God has assigned each of you.

4 For we have many parts in one body, but these parts do not all have the same function.

5 In the same way, even though we are many people, we are one body in the Messiah and individual parts connected to each other.

6 We have different gifts based on the grace that was given to us. So if your gift is prophecy, use your gift in proportion to your faith.

7 If your gift is serving, devote yourself to serving others. If it is teaching, devote yourself to teaching others.

8 If it is encouraging, devote yourself to encouraging others. If it is sharing, share generously. If it is leading, lead enthusiastically. If it is helping, help cheerfully.

Numbers 11

31 Just then, a wind burst forth from the LORD, who brought quails from the sea and spread them all around the camp, about a day's journey in each direction, completely encircling the camp about three feet deep on top of the ground!

32 The people stayed up all that day, all that night, and all through the next day, gathering quails. The one who gathered least gathered enough to fill ten 80-gallon drums, as they spread out all around the camp.

33 But even as they were chewing the meat and before they had swallowed it, the LORD became very angry with the people and struck them with a disastrous plague.

34 That's why the place was named Kibroth-hattaavah, because they buried the people there who had an insatiable appetite for meat.

35 Later, the people left Kibroth-hattaavah for Hazeroth and camped there.

Numbers 12

1 Miriam and Aaron rebelled against Moses on account of the Cushite woman that he had married.

2 They asked, "Has the LORD spoken only through Moses? Hasn't he also spoken through us?" But the LORD heard it.

3 Now the man Moses was very humble — more than any person on earth.

4 All of a sudden, the LORD told Moses, Aaron, and Miriam: "The three of you are to come out to the Tent of Meeting." So the three of them went out.

5 Then the LORD came down in a pillar of cloud, stood at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting, and summoned Aaron and Miriam. So both of them went forward.

6 Then he told the two of them: "Pay attention to what I have to say! When there is a prophet among you, won't I, the LORD, reveal myself to him in a vision? Won't I speak with him in a dream?

7 "But that's not how it is with my servant Moses, since he has been entrusted with my entire household!

8 I speak to him audibly and in visions, not in mysteries. If he can gaze at the image of the LORD, why aren't you afraid to speak against my servant Moses?"

9 Because the LORD was very angry with them, he left,

10 but when the cloud ascended from the tent, Miriam had become leprous, as white as snow! Aaron turned toward Miriam, and she had leprosy!

11 Aaron begged Moses, "I pray my lord, please don't hold this sin against us, since we've acted foolishly and sinned in doing so.

12 Please don't let her be like one of the living dead, who is born with a congenital skin disease."

13 So Moses prayed to the LORD: "O LORD, please heal her."

14 But the LORD told Moses, "If her father had merely spit in her face, wouldn't she be humiliated? She is to be placed in isolation for seven days. After that, she may be brought in."

15 So Miriam was isolated outside the camp for seven days and the people didn't travel until Miriam was brought in.

16 After that, the people travelled from Hazeroth and encamped in the Wilderness of Paran.

Numbers 13

1 Later, the LORD told Moses,

2 Send men to explore the land of Canaan that I'm about to give to the Israelites. Send one man to represent each of his ancestor's tribes, every one of them a distinguished leader among them."

3 So that's just what Moses did, sending them from the Wilderness of Paran according to the LORD's instructions. All of the men were Israeli leaders.

4 These were their names: From Reuben's tribe, Zaccur's son Shammua;

5 From Simeon's tribe, Hori's son Shaphat;

6 From Judah's tribe, Jephunneh's son Caleb;

7 from Issachar's tribe, Joseph's son Igal;

8 From Ephraim's tribe, Nun's son Hoshea;

9 From Benjamin's tribe, Raphu's son Palti;

10 from Zebulun's tribe, Sodi's son Gaddiel;

11 from Joseph's tribe of Manasseh, Susi's son Gaddi;

12 From Dan's tribe, Gemalli's son Ammiel;

13 from Asher's tribe, Michael's son Sethur;

14 from Naphtali's tribe, Vophsi's son Nahbi;

15 and from Gad's tribe, Machi's son Geuel.

16 These are the names of the men sent by Moses to explore the land.

17 Then he sent them out to explore the land of Canaan. He instructed them, "Go up from here through the Negev, then ascend to the hill country.

18 See what the land is like. Observe whether the people who live there are strong or weak, or whether they're few or numerous.

19 Look to see whether the land where they live is good or bad, and whether the cities in which they live are merely tents or if they're fortified.

20 Examine the farmland, whether it's fertile or barren, and see if there are fruit-bearing trees in it or not. Be very courageous, and bring back some samples of the fruit of the land." As it was, that time of year was the season for the first fruits of the grape harvest.

21 So they went to explore the land from the Wilderness of Zin to Rehob, and as far as the outskirts of Hamath.

22 They went through the Negev and reached Hebron, where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai, the descendants of Anak lived. (Hebron had been constructed seven years before Zoan in Egypt had been built).

23 Soon they arrived in the valley of Eshcol, where they cut a single branch of grapes and carried it on a pole between two men, along with some pomegranates and figs.

24 The entire place was called the Eshcol Valley on account of the cluster of grapes that the men of Israel had taken from there.

25 At the end of 40 days they all returned from exploring the land,

26 came in to Moses and Aaron, and delivered their report to the entire congregation of Israel in the Wilderness of Paran at Kadesh. They brought back their report to the entire congregation and showed them the fruit of the land.

27 "We arrived at the place where you've sent us," they reported, "and it certainly does flow with milk and honey. Furthermore, this is its fruit,

28 except that the people who have settled in the land are strong, and their cities are greatly fortified. We also saw the descendants of Anak.

29 Amalek lives throughout the Negev, while the Hittites, Jebusites, and Amorites live in the hill country. The Canaanites live by the sea and on the bank of the Jordan."

30 Caleb silenced the people on Moses' behalf and responded, "Let's go up and take control, because we can definitely conquer it."

31 "We can't attack those people," the men who were with him said, "because they're too strong compared to us."

32 So they put out this false report to the Israelis about the land that they had explored: "The land that we've explored is one that devours its inhabitants. All the people whom we observed were giants.

33 We also saw the Nephilim, the descendants of Anak. Compared to the Nephilim, as we see things, we're like grasshoppers, and that's their opinion of us!"

Numbers 14

- 1 At this, the entire assembly complained, started to shout, and cried through the rest of that night.
- 2 All the Israelis complained against Moses and Aaron. Then the entire assembly responded, "We wish that we had died in Egypt or in this wilderness.
- 3 What's the point in the LORD bringing us to this land? To die by the sword so our wives and children would become war victims? Wouldn't it be better for us to return to Egypt?"
- 4 Then they told each other, "Let's assign a leader and go back to Egypt."
- 5 Moses and Aaron fell on their faces in front of the entire assembly of the congregation of Israel.
- 6 Nun's son Joshua and Jephunneh's son Caleb, who had accompanied the others who also had explored the land, tore their clothes
- 7 and attempted to reason with the entire congregation of Israel. They told them, "The land that we went through and explored is very, very good.
- 8 If the LORD is pleased with us, he'll bring us into this land and give it to us. It flows with milk and honey.
- 9 However, don't rebel against the LORD or be afraid of the people who live in the land, because we'll gobble them right up. Their defences will collapse, because the LORD is with us. You are not to be afraid of them."
- 10 But the entire congregation was talking about stoning them to death.

Romans 12

- 9 Your love must be without hypocrisy. Abhor what is evil; cling to what is good.
- 10 Be devoted to each other with mutual affection. Excel at showing respect for each other.
- 11 Never be lazy in showing such devotion. Be on fire with the Spirit. Serve the Lord.
- 12 Be joyful in hope, patient in trouble, and persistent in prayer.
- 13 Supply the needs of the saints. Extend hospitality to strangers.
- 14 Bless those who persecute you. Keep on blessing them, and never curse them.
- 15 Rejoice with those who are rejoicing. Cry with those who are crying.
- 16 Live in harmony with each other. Do not be arrogant, but associate with humble people. Do not think that you are wiser than you really are.
- 17 Do not pay anyone back evil for evil, but focus your thoughts on what is right in the sight of all people.
- 18 If possible, so far as it depends on you, live in peace with all people.
- 19 Do not take revenge, dear friends, but leave room for God's wrath. For it is written, "Vengeance belongs to me. I will pay them back, declares the Lord."
- 20 But "if your enemy is hungry, feed him. For if he is thirsty, give him a drink. If you do this, you will pile burning coals on his head."
- 21 Do not be conquered by evil, but conquer evil with good.

Romans 13

- 1 Every person must be subject to the governing authorities, for no authority exists except by God's permission. The existing authorities have been established by God,
- 2 so that whoever resists the authorities opposes what God has established, and those who resist will bring judgement on themselves.
- 3 For the authorities are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you like to live without being afraid of the authorities? Then do what is right, and you will receive their approval.
- 4 For they are God's servants, working for your good. But if you do what is wrong, you should be afraid, for it is not without reason that they bear the sword. Indeed, they are God's servants to administer punishment to anyone who does wrong.
- 5 Therefore, it is necessary for you to be acquiescent to the authorities, not only for the sake of God's punishment, but also for the sake of your own conscience.
- 6 This is also why you pay taxes. For rulers are God's servants faithfully devoting themselves to their work.
- 7 Pay everyone whatever you owe them — taxes to whom taxes are due, tolls to whom tolls are due, fear to whom fear is due, honour to whom honour is due.
- 8 Do not owe anyone anything — except to love one another. For the one who loves another has fulfilled the Law.
- 9 For the commandments, "You must not commit adultery; you must not murder; you must not steal; you must not covet," and every other commandment are summed up in this statement: "You must love your neighbour as yourself."
- 10 Love never does anything that is harmful to its neighbour. Therefore, love is the fulfilment of the Law.
- 11 This is necessary because you know the times — it's already time for you to wake up from sleep, because our salvation is nearer now than when we became believers.
- 12 The night is almost over, and the day is near. Let's therefore put aside the actions of darkness and put on the armour of light.
- 13 Let's behave decently, as people who live in the light of day. No wild parties, drunkenness, sexual immorality, promiscuity, quarrelling, or jealousy!
- 14 Instead, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, and do not obey your flesh and its desires.

7th March

Numbers 14

11 "How long will this people keep on spurning me and refusing to trust me, despite all the miracles that I've done among them?" the LORD asked Moses.

12 "That's why I'm going to attack them with pestilence and disinherit them. Instead, I'll make you a great nation — even mightier than they are!"

13 But Moses responded to the LORD, "When Egypt hears that you've brought this people out from among them with a mighty demonstration of power, 14 they'll also proclaim to the inhabitants of this land that they've heard you're among this people, LORD, whom they've seen face to face, since your cloud stands guard over them. You've guided them with a pillar of cloud by day and with a pillar of fire by night.

15 "But if you slaughter this people all at the same time, then the nations who heard about your fame will say,

16 'The LORD slaughtered this people in the wilderness because he wasn't able to bring them to the land that he promised them.'

17 "Now, let the power of the LORD be magnified, just as you promised when you said,

18 'The LORD is slow to anger and abundant in faithful love, forgiving iniquity and transgression, but he won't acquit the guilty. He recalls the iniquity of fathers to the third and fourth generation.'

19 "Forgive, please, the iniquity of this people, according to your great, faithful love, in the same way that you've carried this people from Egypt to this place."

20 The LORD responded, "I've forgiven them based on what you've said.

21 But just as I live, and just as the whole earth will be filled with the LORD's glory,

22 none of those men who saw my glory and watched my miracles that I did in Egypt and in the wilderness — even though they've tested me these ten times and never listened to my voice —

23 will ever see the land that I promised to their ancestors. Those who spurned me won't see it.

24 "Now as to my servant Caleb, because a different spirit is within him and he has remained true to me, I'm going to bring him into the land that he explored, and his descendants are to inherit it.

25 Now the Amalekite and the Canaanite live in the valley. Tomorrow, turn then travel to the wilderness in the direction of the Red Sea."

26 Then the LORD told Moses and Aaron,

27 "How long will this wicked assembly keep complaining about me? I've heard the complaints of the Israelis that they've been murmuring against me.

28 So tell them that as long as I live — consider this to be an oracle from the LORD — as certainly as you've spoken right into my ears, that's how I'm going to treat you.

29 Your corpses will fall in this wilderness — every single one of you who has been counted among you, according to your number from 20 years and above, who complained against me.

30 "You will certainly never enter the land about which I made an oath with my uplifted hand to settle you in it, except for Jephunneh's son Caleb and Nun's son Joshua.

31 However, I'll bring your little ones — the ones whom you claimed would become war victims — into the land so that they'll know by experience the land that you've rejected.

32 "Now as for you, your corpses will fall in this wilderness

33 and your children will wander throughout the wilderness for 40 years. They'll bear the consequences of your idolatries until your bodies are entirely consumed in the wilderness.

34 Just as you explored the land for 40 days, you'll bear the consequences of your iniquities for 40 years — one year for each day — as you experience my hostility.

35 I, the LORD have spoken. "I will indeed do this to this evil congregation, who gathered together against me. They'll be eliminated in this wilderness and will surely die."
36 After this, the men whom Moses sent out to explore the land, who returned and made the whole congregation complain against him by bringing an evil report concerning the land,
37 and who produced an evil report about the land, died of pestilence in the LORD's presence.
38 However, Nun's son Joshua and Jephunneh's son Caleb, who had explored the land, remained alive.
39 After Moses had told all of this to the Israelis, the people deeply mourned.
40 So they got up early the next morning and travelled to the top of the mountain, telling themselves, "Look, we're here and we're going to go up to the place that the LORD had spoken about, even though we've sinned."
41 But Moses asked them, "Why do you continue to sin against what the LORD said? Don't you know that you can never succeed?
42 Don't go up, since you know that the LORD is no longer with you. You'll be attacked right in front of your own enemies.
43 The Amalekites and Canaanites are there waiting for you. You'll die violently, since you've turned your back and have stopped following the LORD. The LORD won't be with you."
44 But they presumed to go up to the top of the mountain, even though the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD and Moses didn't leave the camp.
45 The Amalekites came down, accompanied by some Canaanites who lived in the mountains. They attacked and defeated them even while the Israelis were retreating to Hormah.

Numbers 15

1 Later, the LORD instructed Moses,
2 "Tell the Israelis that
3 when you enter the land where you'll be living that I'm about to give you, you are to make an offering by fire to the LORD, either a burnt offering, a sacrificial offering to fulfil a vow, or a voluntary offering at the appointed time, to make a pleasing aroma to the LORD either from your cattle or from your flocks.
4 "The offeror is to bring the oblation to the LORD, containing one tenth of an ephah of fine flour as a grain offering, mixed with one fourth of a hin of olive oil.
5 "Also prepare one fourth of a hin of wine for a drink offering or for the sacrifice of each lamb.
6 "For a ram, prepare a grain offering consisting of two tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with one third of a hin of olive oil.
7 "Now as for your drink offering, offer one third of a hin of wine as a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
8 "When you prepare a bull as a burnt offering, or as a sacrifice to fulfil a vow, or for peace offerings to the LORD,
9 then the bullock is to be presented accompanied by a meal offering of three tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil.
10 "As for drink offerings, offer half a hin of wine, for an offering made by fire is a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
11 Do this for each bullock, ram, male lamb, or goat.
12 Depending on the number of offerings that you prepare, do for each one according to their number.
13 "Every native born person is to do these things, bringing an offering made by fire as a pleasing aroma to the LORD."

14 "Now, if a resident alien lives with you, or whoever else is with you throughout your generations, let him make an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD. Just as you do, so is he to do.

15 There is to be a single standard for your community, one statute for you and the resident alien who lives with you, a long lasting statute throughout your generations. Just as you do, so is the resident alien to do in the presence of the LORD.

16 There is to be one law and one ordinance for you and for the resident alien who lives with you."

17 Then the LORD instructed Moses:

18 "Tell the Israelis that when they enter the land that I'm about to bring you to,

19 when you have eaten some of the bread that the land produces, you are to offer a raised offering to the LORD.

20 You are to offer a cake made from the first of your bread dough as a raised offering to the LORD. Offer it as a raised offering right off your threshing floor.

21 From then on, throughout your generations give the first of your bread dough to the LORD.

22 "Here's what you are to do when you all go astray and fail to observe all these commands that the LORD had spoken to Moses,

23 including anything that the LORD commanded you by the authority of Moses, starting from the day the LORD commanded Moses and continuing through your generations.

24 When anything is done without the knowledge of the congregation, the entire community is to offer one young bull for a burnt offering, a pleasing aroma to the LORD, along with its meal and drink offerings offered according to procedure, and one male goat for a sin offering.

25 Then the priest is to make atonement for the entire community of the Israelis, and they will be forgiven for inadvertent sins. They are to bring their offering, an offering made by fire to the LORD, as well as their sin offering, into the LORD's presence on account of their error.

26 Then the entire community of Israel, will be forgiven, along with the resident alien who lives among them, since all the people will have sinned inadvertently."

27 "Now when one person sins inadvertently, then he is to bring a one year old female goat for a sin offering.

28 Then, in the LORD's presence, the priest is to make atonement for the person who sinned inadvertently, that is, to make atonement on his behalf so he may be forgiven.

29 You are to have a single law for the one who does things inadvertently, whether for the native-born Israeli or for the resident alien who lives among you.

Romans 14

- 1 Accept anyone who is weak in faith, but not for the purpose of arguing over differences of opinion.
- 2 One person believes that he may eat anything, while the weak person eats only vegetables.
- 3 The person who eats any kind of food must not ridicule the person who does not eat them, and the person who does not eat certain foods must not criticize the person who eats them, for God has accepted him.
- 4 Who are you to criticize someone else's servant? He stands or falls before his own Lord — and stand he will, because the Lord makes him stand.
- 5 One person decides in favour of one day over another, while another person decides that all days are the same. Let each one be fully convinced in his own mind:
- 6 The one who observes a special day, observes it to honour the Lord. The one who eats, eats to honour the Lord, since he gives thanks to God. And the one who does not eat, refrains from eating to honour the Lord; yet he, too, gives thanks to God.
- 7 For none of us lives for himself, and no one dies for himself.
- 8 If we live, we live to honour the Lord; and if we die, we die to honour the Lord. So whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.
- 9 For this reason the Messiah died and returned to life, so that he might become the Lord of both the dead and the living.
- 10 Why, then, do you criticize your brother? Or why do you despise your brother? For all of us will stand before the judgement seat of God.
- 11 For it is written, "As certainly as I live, declares the Lord, every knee will bow to me, and every tongue will praise God."
- 12 Consequently, each of us will give an account of himself to God.
- 13 Therefore, let's no longer criticize each other. Instead, make up your mind not to put a stumbling block or hindrance in the way of a brother.
- 14 I know — and have been persuaded by the Lord Jesus — that nothing is unclean in and of itself, but it is unclean to a person who thinks it is unclean.
- 15 For if your brother is being hurt by what you eat, you are no longer acting in love. Do not destroy the person for whom the Messiah died by what you eat.
- 16 Do not allow what seems good to you to be spoken of as evil.
- 17 For God's kingdom does not consist of food and drink, but of righteousness, peace, and joy produced by the Holy Spirit.
- 18 For the person who serves the Messiah in this way is pleasing to God and approved by people.
- 19 Therefore, let's keep on pursuing those things that bring peace and that lead to building up one another.
- 20 Do not destroy God's action for the sake of food. Everything is clean, but it is wrong to make another person stumble because of what you eat.

8th March

Numbers 15

30 "But if some person acts with a high hand, whether native-born or a resident alien, he blasphemes God, and that person is to be eliminated from among his people.
31 Because he has despised the law of the LORD and has broken his commands, that person is certainly to be eliminated. His iniquity will remain on him."
32 As it was when the Israelis were in the wilderness, they found a man who was gathering wood on the Sabbath day.
33 The ones who found him gathering wood brought him to Moses, Aaron, and all the people.
34 Then they confined him until it could be declared what should be done to him.
35 Then the LORD told Moses, "The man is certainly to die. The entire community is to stone him to death outside the camp."
36 So the whole community brought him outside the camp and stoned him with stones so that he died, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
37 Later, the LORD instructed Moses,
38 "Tell the Israelis that they are to make tassels at the edges of their garments throughout their generations and that they are to put a violet cord on the tassels at the edges of their garments.
39 That way, when you see the tassel, you'll remember all the commands of the LORD and you'll observe them. Then you won't seek your own interests and desires that lead you to be unfaithful.
40 Therefore remember to observe all my commands and to be holy in the presence of your God.
41 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. I am the LORD your God.

Numbers 16

1 Now Izhar's son Korah, the grandson of Kohath, a descendant of Levi, along with Eliab's sons Dathan and Abiram, and Peleth's son On, a descendant of Reuben, took charge
2 of a rebellion against Moses, along with 250 community leaders, Israelis who were famous men and representatives from the assembly.
3 They gathered together against Moses and Aaron and told them, "You have appropriated too much for yourselves from the entire congregation, since all of them are holy, and the LORD is among them, too. Why do you exalt yourselves over the LORD's assembly?"
4 When Moses heard this, he fell on his face.
5 Then he addressed Korah and his entire company, "In the morning, may the LORD reveal who belongs to him and who is holy. May he cause that person to approach him. May he cause to approach him the one whom he has chosen.
6 Korah, you and your entire company, are to bring censers
7 and put fire and incense in them in the LORD's presence tomorrow. It will be that the man whom the LORD chooses will be holy. You're taking too much for yourselves, you descendants of Levi."
8 Moses also told Korah, "Listen now, you descendants of Levi!
9 Is it such an insignificant thing to you that the God of Israel has separated you from the Israelis to draw you to himself, appointing you to do the work of the tent of the LORD and to stand before the community to minister to them?
10 He brought you near, along with all of your relatives, the descendants of Levi. Are you also seeking the priesthood?
11 Therefore you and your group have conspired against the LORD and Aaron. What is it that causes you to complain against him?"

12 So Moses sent for Eliab's sons Dathan and Abiram, but they responded, "We're not coming.

13 Is it such an insignificant thing that you brought us out of a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness? Now you're trying to make yourself be a prince and rule over us, aren't you?

14 You still haven't brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, nor have you given us an inheritance of fields and vineyards. Do you really think that you can make these men look the other way? We won't go up."

15 Moses was very angry, so he told the LORD, "Please don't accept their offering. I haven't taken even one donkey from them nor have I hurt even one of them."

16 Then Moses told Korah, "You and your entire company are to present yourselves in the LORD's presence tomorrow — you, they, and Aaron.

17 Each man is to take a censer, put incense on it, and bring it into the LORD's presence, each man with his censer, for a total of 250 censers. You and Aaron are each to bring his own censer."

18 So each man took his censer, put fire coals inside of it, placed incense in it, and then stood at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, accompanied by Moses and Aaron.

19 When Korah had assembled the entire community in opposition to Moses and Aaron at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, the glory of the LORD appeared to the entire community.

20 Then the LORD told Moses and Aaron,

21 "Separate yourselves from among this community, and I'll destroy them in a moment."

22 Then they fell on their faces and said, "God, the God of the spirits of all flesh, will you be angry at the entire congregation on account of one man's sin?"

23 Then the LORD instructed Moses,

24 "Tell the community to move away from where Korah, Dathan, and Abiram are living."

25 So Moses got up and went to Dathan and Abiram, and the elders of Israel followed him.

26 Then he told the community, "Move away from the camps of these wicked men and don't touch anything that belongs to them. That way you won't be destroyed along with all their sins."

27 So they all moved away from the entire area where Korah, Dathan, and Abiram were living. Now Korah, Dathan, and Abiram stood at the entrance of their tents with their wives, sons, and little children.

28 Then Moses said, "This is how you'll know that the LORD has sent me to do all these awesome works — they're not coming merely from me.

29 If these people die a death similar to all other human beings, or if they are punished with a punishment common to other men, then the LORD didn't send me.

30 But if the LORD creates something new, so that the ground opens its mouth and swallows them and everything that belongs to them and they all descend directly to Sheol while still alive, then you'll know that these men have spurned the LORD."

31 Just as he finished saying all these things, the ground under them split open.

32 The earth opened its mouth and swallowed them, all their households, everyone who was affiliated with Korah, and all of their property.

33 So they and all that belonged to them descended alive to Sheol. Then the earth closed over them. That's how they were annihilated from the assembly.

34 Then all of the Israelis who were around them ran away when they heard them crying, ". . . so the ground won't swallow us up, too."

35 After this, fire came from the LORD and incinerated the 250 men who offered the incense.

36 Then the LORD instructed Moses,

37 "Tell Aaron's son Eleazar the priest to take the censers out of the flames and scatter the coals far away, since they are holy.

38 As for the censers of those rebels who died, fashion them into beaten plates to line the altar. Since they brought them into the LORD's presence, they're holy. They are to become a reminder to the Israelis."

39 So Eleazar the priest took the bronze censers that had been burned and beat them into metal plates for the altar,

40 to serve as a memorial to the Israelis, a reminder that no unauthorized person, who isn't a descendant of Aaron is to attempt to burn incense in the LORD's presence, so that he may not become like Korah and his group, just as the LORD had spoken by the authority of Moses.

41 Nevertheless, the very next day, the whole congregation of Israel complained against Moses and Aaron, "You've killed the LORD's people!"

42 When the community gathered together against Moses and Aaron, they turned toward the Tent of Meeting. All of a sudden, a cloud covered it and the glory of the LORD appeared.

43 Then Moses and Aaron entered the Tent of Meeting.

44 The LORD told Moses,

45 "Leave this community, so I can annihilate them in a moment." But they fell upon their faces.

46 Then Moses told Aaron, "Take the censer, put fire on it from the altar, and burn some incense. Then walk quickly to the congregation and atone for them, because wrath has already come out from the LORD — the plague has begun."

47 So Aaron took the censer, just as Moses had spoken, and ran out to the centre of the assembly, where a plague had begun among the people. He set the incense on fire and atoned for the people.

48 He stood between the dead and the living and restrained the plague.

49 Those who died due to the plague numbered 14,700, not counting those who died due to the matter with Korah.

50 Then Aaron returned to Moses at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting after the slaughter had been restrained.

Romans 14

21 The right thing to do is to avoid eating meat, drinking wine, or doing anything else that makes your brother stumble, upset, or weak.

22 As for the faith you do have, have it as your own conviction before God. How blessed is the person who has no reason to condemn himself because of what he approves!

23 But the person who has doubts is condemned if he eats, because he does not act in faith; and anything that is not done in faith is sin.

Romans 15

1 Now we who are strong ought to be patient with the weaknesses of those who are not strong and must stop pleasing ourselves.

2 Each of us must please our neighbour for the good purpose of building him up.

3 For even the Messiah did not please himself. Instead, as it is written, "The insults of those who insult you have fallen on me."

4 For everything that was written long ago was written to instruct us, so that we might have hope through the endurance and encouragement that the Scriptures give us.

5 Now may God, the source of endurance and encouragement, allow you to live in harmony with each other as you follow the Messiah Jesus,

6 so that with one mind and one voice you might glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah.

7 Therefore, accept one another, just as the Messiah accepted you, for the glory of God.

8 For I tell you that the Messiah became a servant of the circumcised on behalf of God's truth in order to confirm the promises given to our ancestors,

9 so that the gentiles may glorify God for his mercy. As it is written, "That is why I will praise you among the gentiles; I will sing praises to your name."

10 Again he says, "Rejoice, you gentiles, with his people!"

11 And again, "Praise the Lord, all you gentiles! Let all the nations praise him."

12 And again, Isaiah says, "There will be a Root from Jesse. He will rise up to rule the gentiles, and the gentiles will hope in him."

13 Now may God, the source of hope, fill you with all joy and peace as you believe, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit.

14 I myself am convinced, my brothers, that you yourselves are filled with goodness and full of all the knowledge you need to be able to instruct each other.

15 However, on some points I have written to you rather boldly, both as a reminder to you and because of the grace given me by God

16 to be a minister of the Messiah Jesus to the gentiles in the priestly service of the gospel of God, so that the offering brought by gentiles may be acceptable, sanctified by the Holy Spirit.

17 Therefore, in the Messiah Jesus I have the right to boast about my work for God.

18 For I am bold enough to tell you only about what the Messiah has accomplished through me in bringing gentiles to obedience. By my words and actions,

19 by the power of signs and wonders, and by the power of God's Spirit, I have fully proclaimed the gospel of the Messiah from Jerusalem as far as Illyricum.

Numbers 17

- 1 The LORD instructed Moses,
- 2 "Tell the Israelis to take a rod — one from each ancestral house, that is, one from every leader, for a total of twelve rods. Write each tribal name on his rod.
- 3 You are also to write Aaron's name on the tribe of Levi, since there is to be one rod for every leader of their ancestral tribes.
- 4 "Then lay them there in the Tent of Meeting in front of the Ark of the Covenant where I'll meet with you.
- 5 The rod that belongs to the man whom I'll choose will burst into bloom. That's how I'll put a stop to the complaints of the Israelis, who are complaining against you."
- 6 So Moses spoke to the Israelis, and each of the tribe's leaders gave him a rod, one for each leader, according to their ancestral tribes, for a total of twelve rods. Aaron's rod was one of them.
- 7 Then Moses laid out the rods in the LORD's presence, inside the Tent of Testimony.
- 8 The next morning, Moses went to the Tent of Testimony and the rod of Aaron of the tribe of Levi had burst into bloom! It sprouted buds, bloomed blossoms, and produced fully ripe almonds!
- 9 Then Moses took out all the rods from the LORD's presence to show all the Israelis. Everybody looked, and then each man took his rod.
- 10 Then the Lord instructed Moses, "Return Aaron's rod before the testimony to be kept for a reminder against the rebels so that you may put an end to their complaints against me and so that they won't die."
- 11 So Moses did exactly what the LORD had commanded him to do.
- 12 Then the Israelis told Moses, "We're sure to die! We're all going to perish — all of us!
- 13 Anyone who comes near or approaches the LORD's tent is to die. Are all of us going to die?"

Numbers 18

- 1 Later, the LORD told Aaron, "You, your sons, and your father's tribe with you are to bear the iniquity of the sanctuary. Also, you and your sons with you are to bear the iniquity of your priesthood.
- 2 "Moreover, bring your brothers from your father's tribe of Levi with you, so they may join you and minister to you while you and your sons with you stand in the presence of the Tent of Testimony.
- 3 They are to take care of your concerns and all the responsibilities involved with the tent. "But they're not to approach the holy vessels or the altar. That way, neither you nor they will die.
- 4 They are to join you to maintain services related to the Tent of Meeting, for all the responsibilities involved with the tent. But no unauthorized person is to approach you.
- 5 "Take care of the sanctuary and the services of the altar so that there won't be any more wrath on the Israelis.
- 6 Notice that I've taken your brothers, the descendants of Levi, from among the Israelis, giving them to you as a gift from the LORD to perform the service of the Tent of Meeting.
- 7 Now you and your sons with you are to maintain your priestly duties and all matters that concern the altar and what is housed within the veil. You are to perform these services. I'm giving you the priesthood as a gift of service, but any unauthorized person who approaches is to be put to death."
- 8 Then the LORD told Aaron, "Look! I am indeed placing you in charge of my raised offerings and the holy things concerning the Israelis. Because of your anointing, I'm giving you and your sons a prescribed portion forever.

9 "This is what is to belong to you from consecrated offerings spared from the fire: all of their offerings, grain offerings, sin offerings, and trespass offerings that they render to me. They're to be considered most sacred to you and your sons.

10 You may eat them as consecrated gifts. Every male may eat them. They're sacred for you.

11 "The raised offering and wave offerings presented by the Israelis are yours, too. I've given them to you, to your sons, and to your daughters as a prescribed apportionment forever. Everyone who is clean in your household may eat it.

12 All the best oil, wine, grain, and first fruits that they give to the LORD are to belong to you. Everyone who is clean in your household may eat it.

13 "The first ripe fruits of everything that the land produces and that they bring to the LORD are yours, too. Everyone who is clean in your household may eat it.

14 "Every devoted thing in Israel is yours, too.

15 Everything that opens the womb, any living thing that they bring to the LORD — whether from human beings or animals — are for you. Just be sure that you redeem the first born of people and the first born of unclean animals.

16 "Those that can be redeemed, you are to redeem at the age of one month, based on your estimate — for five shekels of silver, according to the shekel of the sanctuary, that is, for 20 gerahs.

17 But you are not to redeem the first born of a cow, sheep, or a female goat. They are holy. You are to sprinkle their blood on the altar and burn their fat for an offering made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

18 "Their meat is to belong to you, just as the breast wave offering and the right thigh is yours.

19 I'm giving you, your sons, and your daughters as a prescribed portion forever all the raised offerings of the consecrated things that the Israelis offer to the LORD. It's a salt covenant forever before the LORD with you and your descendants with you."

20 "Then the LORD instructed Aaron, "You are not to have any inheritance in the land, nor are you to have any portion among the people. I am your portion and your inheritance among the Israelis.

21 As to the descendants of Levi, certainly I've given all the tithes in Israel as their inheritance in return for their services that they perform at the Tent of Meeting.

22 Therefore the Israelis need no longer come to the Tent of Meeting, so they won't suffer the consequences of their sin and die.

23 The descendants of Levi are to perform the service of the Tent of Meeting and they are to bear their iniquity. This is to be a statute forever, throughout your generations, that they are not to receive an inheritance among the Israelis,

24 because I've given to the descendants of Levi the tithes that the Israelis bring to the LORD as a raised offering. Therefore I told them that, unlike the Israelis, they won't receive an inheritance."

25 Then the LORD instructed Moses,

26 Tell the descendants of Levi that when they receive tithes from the Israelis the tithes that I've given you from them as an inheritance, you are to offer a tenth of it as a raised offering for the LORD.

27 Your raised offerings are to be accounted for you as though it were grain from threshing floors and full produce from wine vats.

28 "You are to offer a raised offering to the LORD from all your tithes that you receive from the Israelis. Give Aaron the priest the raised offering of the LORD

29 out of all the most consecrated offerings that you receive, that is, all the raised offerings of the LORD, with all its best and the most holy parts of it.

30 Tell them that when they bring the best from it, as far as the descendants of Levi are concerned it is to be considered like produce from the threshing floors and wine vats.

31 You and your household may eat it anywhere, because it's a reward to you in return for your services at the Tent of Meeting.

32 You won't sin by offering the best of it, and you are not to profane the sacred things of the Israelis, so that you won't die."

Numbers 19

1 The LORD told Moses and Aaron,

2 "This is the ordinance of the law that the LORD commanded that the Israelis be told: They are to bring you a spotless red heifer, without physical defect, that has never been fitted with a yoke.

3 They are to deliver it to Eleazar the priest, and it is to be brought outside the camp and slaughtered in his presence.

4 "Then Eleazar the priest is to take blood from it with his finger and sprinkle the blood in front of the Tent of Meeting.

5 The entire heifer is to be incinerated in his presence, including its skin, its flesh, its blood, and its dung.

6 Then the priest is to take some cedar wood, hyssop, and scarlet material and throw it into the middle of the burning heifer.

7 The priest is to wash his clothes and bathe himself with water, after which he may enter the camp, but he is to remain unclean until evening.

8 "Whoever takes part in the burning is to wash his clothes and bathe himself in water and is to remain unclean until the evening.

9 "Then someone who is unclean is to gather the ashes of the heifer and lay them outside the camp in a clean place. This is to be done for the community of Israel to use for water of purification from sin.

10 "Whoever gathers the ashes of the heifer is to wash his clothes and is to remain unclean until the evening. "This ordinance is to remain for the benefit of both the Israelis and the resident aliens who live among them."

11 "Whoever comes in contact with the body of a dead person is to remain unclean for seven days.

12 He is to purify himself on the third day and he will be clean on the seventh day. But if he can't purify himself on the third day then he can't be clean on the seventh day.

13 "Anyone who comes in contact with a dead person, that is, with the corpse of a human being who has died, but who does not purify himself, defiles the LORD's tent. That person is to be eliminated from Israel, because the water of impurity wasn't sprinkled on him. He remains unclean and his uncleanness will remain with him.

14 This is the procedure to follow when a man dies in his tent. Everyone who enters the tent and everyone in it is to remain unclean for seven days.

15 Every open vessel that has no covering fastened around it is to be considered unclean.

16 "Whoever is out in an open field and touches the body of someone who was killed by a sword, or a dead body, or someone's bones, or a grave, he is to be considered unclean for seven days.

17 Now as for the unclean, they are to take ashes from the burning sin offering, and pour running water on it inside a vessel.

18 A clean person is to take some hyssop, dip it in water, and then sprinkle it on the tent, on every vessel, and on whoever was there; that is, on whoever touched the bones, the killed person, or the dead body, including whoever dug the grave.

19 "And the clean person is to sprinkle the unclean person on the third day and seventh day and then he is to purify himself on the seventh day, wash his clothes, and bathe with water. He is to be considered clean at evening.

20 "The person who is unclean but who doesn't purify himself is to be eliminated from contact with the assembly, since he has defiled the LORD's sanctuary and the water of impurity wasn't sprinkled on him. He is to be considered unclean 21 as a continuing reminder to them. "Whoever sprinkles the water of impurity is to wash his clothes, and whoever comes in contact with the water of impurity is to remain unclean until evening.

22 Furthermore, anything that the unclean person touches is to be considered unclean and the person who touches him is to be considered unclean until the evening.

Romans 15

20 My one ambition is to proclaim the gospel where the name of the Messiah is not known, so I don't build on someone else's foundation.

21 Rather, as it is written, "Those who were never told about him will see, and those who have never heard will understand."

22 This is why I have so often been hindered from coming to you.

23 But now, having no further opportunities in these regions, I want to come to you, as I've desired to do for many years.

24 Now that I am on my way to Spain, I hope to see you when I come your way and, after I have enjoyed your company for a while, to be sent on by you.

25 Right now, however, I'm going to Jerusalem to minister to the saints,

26 because the believers in Macedonia and Achaia have been eager to share their resources with the poor among the saints in Jerusalem.

27 Yes, they were eager to do this, and in fact they are obligated to help them, for if the gentiles have shared in their spiritual blessings, they are obligated to be of service to them in material things.

28 So when I have completed this task and have put my seal on this contribution of theirs, I will visit you on my way to Spain.

29 And I know that when I come to you I will come with the full blessing of the Messiah.

30 Now I urge you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, and by the love that the Spirit produces, to join me in my struggle, earnestly praying to God for me

31 that I may be rescued from the unbelievers in Judea, that my ministry to Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints,

32 and that if it's God's will, I may come to you with joy and be refreshed together with you.

33 Now may the God who grants peace be with all of you! Amen.

Romans 16

1 Now I commend to you our sister Phoebe, a deaconess in the church at Cenchrea.

2 Welcome her in the Lord as is appropriate for saints, and provide her with anything she may need from you, for she has assisted many people, including me.

3 Greet Prisca and Aquila, who work with me for the Messiah Jesus,

4 and who risked their necks for my life. I am thankful to them, and so are all the churches among the gentiles.

5 Greet also the church in their house. Greet my dear friend Epaphroditus, who was the first convert to the Messiah in Asia.

6 Greet Mary, who has worked very hard for you.

7 Greet Andronicus and Junia, my fellow Jews who are in prison with me and are prominent among the apostles. They belonged to the Messiah before I did.

Numbers 20

- 1 The entire community of the Israelis entered the Zin wilderness during the first month. The people stayed in Kadesh. Miriam died and was buried there.
- 2 But there was no water for the community, so they gathered together against Moses and Aaron.
- 3 As the people argued with Moses, they told him, "We wish that we had died when our relatives died in the LORD's presence!
- 4 Why did you bring the assembly of the LORD into this wilderness? So we and our cattle could die here?
- 5 Why did you take us out of Egypt and bring us to this terrible place? There's no place to plant seeds, fig trees, vines, or pomegranates! And there's no water to drink!"
- 6 Then Moses and Aaron went into the presence of the community at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting and fell on their faces. Then the glory of the LORD appeared to them.
- 7 The LORD told Moses,
- 8 "Take the rod, gather the community together, and then you and your brother Aaron are to speak to the rock right before their eyes. It will release water. As you bring water to them from the rock, the community and the cattle will be able to drink.
- 9 So Moses took the rod in the LORD's presence, just as he had commanded.
- 10 Then Moses and Aaron gathered the community together in front of the rock. "Pay attention, you rebels!" Moses told them, "Are we to bring you water from this rock?"
- 11 Then Moses raised his hand and struck the rock twice with his rod. Lots of water gushed out, and both the community and their cattle were able to drink.
- 12 But the LORD rebuked Moses and Aaron, telling Moses: "Because you both didn't believe me, because you didn't consecrate me as holy in the presence of the Israelis, you won't be the ones to bring this congregation into the land that I'm about to give them."
- 13 Because the Israelis argued with the LORD and he was set apart among them, this place was called the Meribah Springs.
- 14 Later, Moses sent messengers from Kadesh to the king of Edom with this message: "This is what your relative Israel says: 'You know all the hardships we've encountered.
- 15 Our ancestors went down to Egypt, where we lived for many years. But the Egyptians treated us and our ancestors viciously.
- 16 Then we cried to the LORD and he heard our voice, sending us a messenger who brought us out of Egypt.'" 'Now look! We've arrived in Kadesh, a city at the extreme end of your territory.
- 17 Permit us now to pass through your land. We won't pass through your fields or vineyards, and we won't drink waters from your wells. We'll keep to the King's Highway without turning either right or left until we have passed through your territory."
- 18 But Edom replied, "You are not to pass through my land. If you do, I'll come out and start a war with you."
- 19 Then the Israelis replied, "Permit us to travel on the highway. If we and our cattle drink your water, we'll pay the price you ask. Only please let us walk through, and nothing more."
- 20 But still he replied, "No. You're not to pass through." Then Edom went out to meet Moses with a vast army and a lot of military might.
- 21 That's how Edom refused Israel passage through their territory. So Israel turned away from there.
- 22 They travelled from Kadesh, and then the entire community of the Israelis arrived at Mount Hor.
- 23 Then the LORD told Moses and Aaron at Mount Hor, near the territory of Edom, 24 "Aaron is to be gathered to his people, since he is not to enter the land that I'm about to give the Israelis. After all, you both rebelled against my command at the Meribah Springs.

25 So take Aaron and his son Eleazar and ascend Mount Hor.

26 Remove Aaron's vestments and place them on his son Eleazar, because Aaron is to be gathered to his people and die there."

27 So Moses did just what the LORD had commanded. They ascended Mount Hor right in front of the entire community.

28 As Moses was stripping Aaron's garments from him and clothing Aaron's son Eleazar with them, Aaron died there on top of the mountain. Afterwards, Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain.

29 When the entire community saw that Aaron had died, they mourned in memory of Aaron for 30 days.

Numbers 21

1 When the Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negev, heard that Israel was coming along the Atharim caravan route, he fought against Israel and took some of them captive.

2 Then Israel made this vow in the LORD's presence: "If you give these people into our control, we intend to devote their cities to total destruction."

3 When the LORD heard what Israel had decided to do, he delivered the Canaanites to them, and Israel exterminated them and their cities. They named the place Hormah.

4 After this, they travelled from Mount Hor along the caravan route by way of the Sea of Reeds and went around the land of Edom. But when the people got impatient because it was a long route,

5 the people complained against the LORD and Moses. "Why did you bring us out of Egypt to die in the wilderness?" they asked. "There's no food and water, and we're tired of this worthless bread."

6 In response, the LORD sent poisonous serpents among the people to bite them. As a result, many people of Israel died.

7 Then the people approached Moses and admitted, "We've sinned by speaking against the LORD and you. Pray to the LORD, that he'll remove the serpents from us." So Moses prayed on behalf of the people.

8 Then the LORD instructed Moses, "Make a poisonous serpent out of brass and fasten it to a pole. Anyone who has been bitten and who looks at it will live."

9 So Moses made a bronze serpent and fastened it to a pole. If a person who had been bitten by a poisonous serpent looked to the serpent, he lived.

10 After this, the Israelis travelled and encamped at Oboth.

11 Then they travelled from Oboth and encamped at Iye-abarim, in the wilderness which is in the vicinity of Moab's eastern border.

12 From there, they travelled and encamped in the valley of Zered.

13 Then from there they travelled to the other side of Arnon and camped in the wilderness that borders the territory of the Amorites. (Arnon borders Moab between Moab and the Amorites,

14 which is why the book of the Wars of the LORD reads, "Waheb and Suphah and the wadis of the Arnon,

15 and the slope of the valleys, that extends to the dwelling places of Ar and the borders of Moab."

16 From there they travelled to the Well of Beer, where the LORD had instructed Moses, "Gather the people together and I'll give you water.

17 That's also where Israel sang this song:

Rise up, well!
Sing to it!

18 It's the well that the leaders dug,
the one carved out by the nobles of the people with their sceptres and staffs.

Then they moved on in the wilderness from there to Mattanah,
19 then from Mattanah to Nahaliel, from Nahaliel to Bamoth,
20 and from Bamoth to the valley of Moab where their fields are, and from there to the top of Mount Pisgah, that looks down toward the open desert.

21 Later, Israel sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, who conveyed this request:

22 "Permit us to pass through your land. We won't trespass in your fields or vineyards.
We won't drink water from any well, and we'll only travel along the King's Highway until we've passed through your territory."

23 Instead of letting Israel pass through his territory, Sihon mustered his entire army and marched out to meet them in the wilderness. He arrived at Jahaz and attacked Israel.

24 But Israel defeated him in battle and took possession of all his lands from Arnon to Jabbok, including the Ammonites, even though the border of the Ammonites was strong.

25 So Israel captured all of those cities, occupied all the Amorite cities in Heshbon, and all its towns.

26 Heshbon was the capital city of Sihon, king of the Amorites, who fought against the previous king of Moab and captured all his land from his capital city to Arnon.

27 Therefore the ones who speak in proverbs say:

Come to Heshbon
and let it be built!
Let the city of Sihon be established!

28 A fire has gone out from Heshbon, and a flame from the city of Sihon.
It consumed Ar of Moab
and the lords of the high places who lived in Arnon.

29 Woe to you, Moab!
You are destroyed, you people of Chemosh!
He has given up his sons as fugitives and his daughters have gone into captivity to Sihon, king of the Amorites.

30 We've fired at them.
Heshbon has perished as far as Dibon.
We've destroyed them as far as Nophah
even as far as Medeba.

31 So Israel lived in Amorite territory.

32 Then Moses sent out explorers to scout Jazer. They captured its towns and drove out the Amorites who were there.

33 Then they turned toward Bashan. However, Og, the king of Bashan mustered his army and went out to attack them at Edrei.

34 The LORD told Moses, "You are not to fear him, because I'm going to deliver him, his entire army, and his land into your control. Do to him just what you've done to Sihon, king of the Amorites, who used to live in Heshbon."

35 So they attacked him, his sons, and his entire army, until there wasn't even a single survivor left. Then they took possession of his land.

Romans 16

- 8 Greet Ampliatus, my dear friend in the Lord.
- 9 Greet Urbanus, our co-worker in the Messiah, and my dear friend Stachys.
- 10 Greet Apelles, who has been approved by the Messiah. Greet those who belong to the family of Aristobulus.
- 11 Greet Herodion, my fellow Jew. Greet those in the family of Narcissus, who belong to the Lord.
- 12 Greet Tryphaena and Tryphosa, who have worked hard for the Lord. Greet my dear friend Persis, who has toiled diligently for the Lord.
- 13 Greet Rufus, the one chosen by the Lord, and his mother, who has been a mother to me, too.
- 14 Greet Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermes, Patrobas, Hermas, and the brothers who are with them.
- 15 Greet Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas and all the saints who are with them.
- 16 Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the churches of the Messiah greet you.
- 17 Now I urge you, brothers, to watch out for those who create divisions and sinful enticements that oppose the teaching you have learned. Stay away from them,
- 18 because such people are not serving the Messiah our Lord, but their own desires. By their smooth talk and flattering words they deceive the hearts of the unsuspecting.
- 19 For your obedience has become known to everyone, and I am full of joy for you. But I want you to be wise about what is good, and innocent about what is evil.
- 20 The God of peace will soon crush Satan under your feet. May the grace of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be with all of you!
- 21 Timothy, my fellow worker, greets you, as do Lucius, Jason, and Sosipater, my fellow Jews.
- 22 I, Tertius, who penned this letter, greet you in the Lord.
- 23 Gaius, who is host to me and the whole church, greets you. Erastus, the city treasurer, and our brother Quartus greet you.
- 24 May the grace of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be with all of you!
- 25 Now to the one who is able to strengthen you with my gospel and the message that I preach about Jesus, the Messiah, by revealing the secret that was kept hidden from long ago
- 26 but now has been made known through the prophets to all the gentiles, in keeping with the decree of the eternal God to bring them to the obedience that springs from faith —
- 27 to the only wise God, through Jesus the Messiah, be glory forever! Amen.

Numbers 22

- 1 The Israelis continued their travels, eventually encamping on the plains of Moab beside the Jordan River opposite Jericho.
- 2 Zippor's son Balak saw everything that Israel had done to the Amorites.
- 3 As a result, Moab greatly feared the people, because they were so numerous. Because a sense of impending doom was afflicting the Moabites as they faced the Israelis,
- 4 the Moabites told the elders of Midian, "This horde of people is about to lick up everything around us, like an ox licks up the green ground." At that time, Zippor's son Balak was the king of Moab.
- 5 He sent messengers to Beor's son Balaam in Pethor, near the Euphrates River, the land where the descendants of his people originated, to summon his aid. He said, "Look! A group of people have escaped from Egypt. They cover the surface of the whole earth, and are sitting here right in front of me.
- 6 So come right now and curse this people for me, because there are too many of them for me to handle. Perhaps I'll be able to strike them down and drive them out of the land, since I know that whomever you bless is blessed and whomever you curse is cursed."
- 7 So the elders of Moab and Midian left to visit Balaam, bringing an honorarium with them, and communicated Balak's concerns to him.
- 8 In answer, Balaam told them, "Stay here for the night and I'll bring back a message to you, depending on what the LORD says to me." So the officers of Moab stayed with Balaam overnight.
- 9 God visited Balaam and asked him, "Who are these men with you?"
- 10 Then Balaam told God, "Zippor's son Balak, king of Moab, sent them to me and said,
- 11 'Look! A group of people have escaped from Egypt. They cover the surface of the whole earth! So come right now and curse them for me. Perhaps I'll be able to fight against them and drive them out.'"
- 12 But God told Balaam, "Don't go with them. Don't curse the people, because they're blessed."
- 13 So Balaam got up the next morning and told Balak's officials, "Go back to your homeland, because the LORD has refused me permission to go with you."
- 14 So Balak's officials got up, returned to Balak and reported, "Balaam refused to come with us."
- 15 In response, Balak sent more officers — higher ranking ones, at that! —
- 16 who approached Balaam with this message: "This is what Zippor's son Balak says: 'Don't let anything get in the way of your coming to me.
- 17 I'm determined to reward you generously, and I'll do everything you tell me to do. So come right away and curse this people for me.'"
- 18 Balaam responded to Balak's entourage by saying, "Even if Balak were to give me his house full of silver and gold, I won't double-cross the command of the LORD my God in even the slightest way.
- 19 Meanwhile, stay here overnight so I may learn what the LORD might say to me."
- 20 God came to visit Balaam that same night and told him, "If the men come to call on you, get up and go with them, but be sure to do only what I tell you to do."
- 21 The next morning, Balaam got up, saddled his donkey, and started to leave, accompanied by the Moabite officials.
- 22 At this, the anger of the LORD flared up against Balaam, because he was leaving. So the angel of the LORD stood in the way to oppose him. As Balaam was riding his donkey, accompanied by two of his servants,

23 all of a sudden the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, with an unsheathed sword in his hand! The donkey turned off the road and went into an open field. Balaam started beating the donkey in order to turn her back to the road,
24 but the angel of the LORD stood on a narrow path that crossed the vineyards. It had walls on both sides of the path.
25 When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she squeezed herself so close to the wall that Balaam's foot was pressed to the wall. So he beat her again!
26 Then the angel of the LORD went along a little further and stood in a much narrower space, where it was impossible to turn either right or left.
27 When the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, she crouched down under Balaam. As a result, Balaam got so angry that he started to whip the donkey with his staff.
28 That's when the LORD enabled the donkey to speak. She asked Balaam, "What did I do to you that you would beat me in the space of only three footsteps?"
29 "Because you're playing a dirty trick on me," Balaam answered the donkey. "If only I had a sword in my hand! I'd kill you right now!"
30 But in response, the donkey asked Balaam, "I'm your donkey that you've ridden on in the past without incident, am I not, and I'm the same donkey you're riding on right now, am I not? Am I in the habit of treating you like this?" "No," he admitted.
31 Then the LORD enabled Balaam to see, so he observed the angel of the LORD standing in the way, with an unsheathed sword in his hand. So he bowed down and prostrated himself on his face.
32 Then the angel of the LORD asked him, "Why did you beat your donkey in the space of only three footsteps? I've come to oppose you, because I say that what you're doing is perverted.
33 The donkey saw me and turned in front of me in the space of those three footsteps.
34 If she hadn't turn away from me, I would have killed you by now and left her alive!" At this, Balaam replied to the angel of the LORD, "I've sinned! I didn't know that you were standing to meet me on the road. So now, since it displeases you, let me go back."
35 But the angel of the LORD told Balaam, "Go with the men, but deliver only the message that I'm going to give you." So Balaam went with Balak's officials.
36 When Balak heard that Balaam had arrived, he went out to meet him in the city of Moab on the border of Arnon at the extreme end of his territory.
37 Balak asked Balaam, "Didn't I repeatedly send for you to summon you? Why didn't you come to me? I can pay you well, can't I?"
38 Balaam answered Balak, "Well, I'm here now. I've come to you, but I can't just say anything, can I? I'll speak only what God puts in my mouth to say."
39 So accompanied by Balaam and Balak's officials, Balak travelled to Kiriath-huzoth,
40 where he sacrificed oxen and sheep.
41 The next day, Balak brought Balaam up to Bamoth-baal, where he could see part of the community of Israel.

Numbers 23

1 Balaam told Balak, "Build for me here seven altars and prepare here for me seven bulls and seven rams.
2 So Balak did just as Balaam instructed. Balak and Balaam offered a bull and a ram on each altar.
3 Then Balaam instructed Balak, "Stand by your offering and leave me alone by myself. Perhaps the LORD will come to meet me. I'll tell you whatever he reveals to me." And so he went to a high place,
4 where the LORD met with Balaam, who told him, "I've prepared seven altars and offered bulls and rams on an altar."
5 Then the LORD gave Balaam this message. "Return to Balak and speak to him."

6 So Balaam returned to where Balak had been standing, that is, next to his offerings, accompanied by all the Moabite officials.

7 Then Balaam uttered this prophetic statement: "King Balak of Moab brought me from Aram, from the eastern mountains, and told me, 'Come and curse Jacob for me. Come and curse Israel.'

8 But how can I curse those whom God hasn't cursed? How can I denounce those whom the LORD has not denounced?

9 I saw them from the top of the rocks. I watched them from the hills Truly this is a people that lives by itself and doesn't matter among the nations.

10 Who can count the dust of Jacob? Who can number the dust of Israel? Let me die the death of the righteous, and may I end up like him."

11 "What are you doing to me?" Balak asked Balaam. "I brought you to curse my enemies, not pronounce a blessing!"

12 But in response, Balaam asked, "Shouldn't I be careful to communicate only what the LORD puts in my mouth?"

13 "Come with me to another place where you can see them," Balak replied. "You'll only see a portion of them, because you won't be able to see them completely. Come and curse them from there for me."

14 So Balak took him to the field of Zophim, and from there to the top of Mount Pisgah, where he built seven altars and then offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

15 Then he told Balak, "Stand by your offering while I go alone to meet the LORD."

16 Then the LORD met with Balaam and gave a message to him. "Now go back to Balak and speak to him."

1 Corinthians 1

1 From: Paul, called to be an apostle of the Messiah Jesus by the will of God, and from our brother Sosthenes.

2 To: God's church in Corinth, to those who have been sanctified by the Messiah Jesus and called to be holy, together with all those everywhere who call on the name of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah — their Lord and ours.

3 May grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be yours!

4 I always thank my God for you because of the grace of God given you by the Messiah Jesus.

5 For by him you have become rich in every way — in speech and knowledge of every kind —

6 while our testimony about the Messiah has been confirmed among you.

7 Therefore, you don't lack any spiritual gift as you eagerly wait for our Lord Jesus the Messiah to be revealed.

8 He will keep you strong until the end, so that you will be blameless on the Day of our Lord Jesus the Messiah.

9 Faithful is the God by whom you were called into fellowship with his Son Jesus the Messiah, our Lord.

10 Brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus the Messiah, I urge all of you to be in agreement and not to have divisions among you, so that you may be perfectly united in your understanding and opinions.

11 My brothers, some members of Chloe's family have made it clear to me that there are quarrels among you.

12 This is what I mean: Each of you is saying, "I belong to Paul," or "I belong to Apollos," or "I belong to Cephas," or "I belong to the Messiah."

13 Is the Messiah divided? Paul wasn't crucified for you, was he? You weren't baptized in Paul's name, were you?

14 I thank God that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius, 15 so that no one can say that you were baptized in my name.

16 (Oh yes, I also baptized the family of Stephanas. Beyond that, I'm not sure whether I baptized anyone else).

17 For the Messiah did not send me to baptize but to preach the gospel, not with eloquent wisdom, so the cross of the Messiah won't be emptied of its power.

18 For the message about the cross is nonsense to those who are being destroyed, but it is God's power to us who are being saved.

19 For it is written, "I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the intelligence of the intelligent I will reject."

20 Where is the wise person? Where is the scholar? Where is the philosopher of this age? God has turned the wisdom of the world into nonsense, hasn't he?

21 For since, in the wisdom of God, the world through its wisdom did not know God, God was pleased to save those who believe through the nonsense of our preaching.

22 Jews ask for signs, and Greeks look for wisdom,

23 but we preach the Messiah crucified. He is a stumbling block to Jews and nonsense to gentiles,

24 but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, the Messiah is God's power and God's wisdom.

25 For God's nonsense is wiser than human wisdom, and God's weakness is stronger than human strength.

Numbers 23

17 So Balaam returned to where Balak had been standing, that is, next to his offerings, accompanied by the Moabite officials. "What did the LORD say?" Balak asked him.

18 In response, Balaam uttered this prophetic statement: "Stand up, Balak, and pay attention! Listen to me, you son of Zippor!

19 God is not a human male — he doesn't lie, nor is he a human being — he never vacillates. Once he speaks up, He's going to act, isn't he? Once he makes a promise, He'll fulfil it, won't he?

20 Look! I've received a blessing, and so I will bless. I won't withdraw it.

21 He has not responded to iniquity in Jacob or gazed at mischief in Israel. The LORD his God is with them, And the triumphant cry of a king is among them.

22 From Egypt God brought them — his strength was like a wild ox!

23 No Satanic plan against Jacob nor divination against Israel can ever prevail. When the time is right, it is to be asked about Jacob and Israel, 'What has God accomplished?'

24 Look! The people are like lions. Like the lion, he rises up! He does not lie down again until he has consumed his prey and drunk the blood of the slain."

25 Then Balak told Balaam, "Don't curse them or bless them!"

26 Didn't I tell you," Balaam responded to Balak, "that I'll say whatever the LORD tells me to say?"

27 So Balak exhorted Balaam, "Let's go right now! I'll take you to another place. Maybe God will agree to have you curse them for me from there."

28 So Balak took Balaam to the top of Mount Peor, which overlooks the open wilderness.

29 Balaam told Balak, "Build seven altars for me right here. Then prepare seven bulls and seven rams."

30 Balak did just what Balaam had instructed — he offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

Numbers 24

1 When Balaam noticed that the LORD was pleased that Balaam was blessing Israel, he didn't behave as he had time after time before, that is, to practise divination. Instead, he turned with his face to the wilderness,

2 looked up, and saw Israel encamped in their respective tribal order. Just then, the spirit of God came upon him.

3 Balaam uttered this prophetic statement: "A declaration by Beor's son Balaam, a declaration by the strong, blind man.

4 A declaration from one who hears what God has to say, who saw the vision that the Almighty revealed, who keeps stumbling, with open eyes.

5 Jacob, your tents are so fine, as well as your dwelling places, Israel!

6 They're spread out like valleys, like gardens along river banks, like aloe planted by the LORD, or like cedars beside water.

7 He will pour water from his buckets; and his descendants will stream forth like abundant water. His king will be more exalted than Agag when he exalts his own kingdom.

8 God is bringing them out of Egypt, with the strength of an ox. He'll devour enemy nations, break their bones, and impale them with arrows.

9 He crouches, lying low like a lion. Who would awaken him? Those who bless you are blessed, and those who curse you are cursed.

10 Balak flew into a rage and he started hitting his fists together. "I called you to curse my enemies," he yelled at Balaam. "But look here! You've blessed them three times!

11 Now get out of here! I had promised you that I would definitely honour you, but now the LORD has kept me from doing that!"

12 But Balaam asked Balak, "I told your messengers,

13 'Even if Balak gives me his palace full of silver and gold, I won't double-cross the command of the LORD and do anything — whether good or evil — on my own initiative, because I'm going to say whatever the LORD says.'

14 Meanwhile, since I have to return to my people, come and listen while I tell you what this people will be doing to your people in the last days."

15 Then Balaam uttered this prophetic statement: "The declaration by Beor's son Balaam, a declaration by the strong, blind man.

16 A declaration from one who hears what God has to say, who knows what the Most High knows, who saw the vision that the Almighty revealed, who keeps stumbling with open eyes.

17 I can see him, but not right now. I observe him, but from a distance. A star streams forth from Jacob; a sceptre arises from Israel. He will crush Moab's forehead, along with all of Seth's descendants.

18 Edom will be a conquered nation and Seir will be Israel's defeated foe, while Israel performs valiantly.

19 He will rule over Jacob, annihilating those who survive in the city."

20 Next, Balaam looked directly at Amalek and then uttered this prophetic statement: "Even though Amalek is an international leader, his future is permanent destruction."

21 Balaam also uttered this prophetic statement about the Kenites: "Your dwelling places are stable, because your nest is carved in solid rock.

22 Nevertheless, Kain will be incinerated. How long will it take until Asshur takes you hostage?"

23 Finally, he uttered this prophetic statement: "Ah, who can live, unless God makes it happen?"

24 Ships under control of Kittim will devastate Asshur and Eber, until they are permanently destroyed."

25 Then Balaam got up, returned to his country, and Balak went on his way.

Numbers 25

1 While Israel remained encamped in Shittim, the people began to commit sexual immorality with Moabite women,

2 who also invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods. So the people ate what they had sacrificed and then worshipped their gods.

3 The people joined the Baal-peor cult. As a result, the anger of the LORD flared up against Israel,

4 so the LORD told Moses, "Take all the leaders of the people and execute them in broad daylight for the LORD, so the LORD's burning anger may be withdrawn from Israel."

5 Then Moses ordered the judges of Israel, "Each one of you is to execute the men in his own tribe who joined the Baal-peor cult."

6 That very moment, one of the Israelis arrived, bringing to his brothers one of the Midianite women, right in front of Moses and the entire community of Israel, while they were weeping at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting!

7 When Eleazar's son Phinehas, grandson of Aaron the priest saw this, he jumped up from the middle of the community, grabbed a javelin in his hand,

8 followed the Israeli man inside his tent, and impaled the two of them — the Israeli man and the woman — right through both of them and into her abdomen. Then the plague infecting the Israelis was brought to a halt.

9 Nevertheless, 24,000 people died because of the plague.

10 The LORD told Moses,

11 "Eleazar's son Phinehas, grandson of Aaron the priest, has turned my wrath away from Israel. Because his zeal reflected my own zeal for them, I didn't consume Israel in my jealousy.

12 Therefore, I'm certainly going to be giving him my covenant of peace, 13 for him and for his descendants after him, too, a covenant of perpetual priesthood, because he was zealous for his God and made atonement for the Israelis."
14 Now the name of the Israeli man who was slain, along with the Midianite woman, was Salu's son Zimri, a leader from the tribe of Simeon.
15 The name of the woman who was slain, that is, the Midianite woman, was named
Cozbi. She was the daughter of Zur, a leader of one of the ancestral houses of Midian.
16 Later, the LORD ordered Moses,
17 "Attack the Midianites and execute them,
18 because they've acted deceitfully, bringing trouble to you in this incident at Peor with Cozbi, daughter of a Midian prince, who was killed during the plague that came about because of the incident at Peor."

Numbers 26

1 After the plague was over, the LORD told Moses and Aaron the priest's son Eleazar,
2 "Take a census of the entire community of Israel from the age of 20 years and above, according to each ancestral tribe, counting everyone who is able to go out to war in Israel."
3 Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke to them in the plains of Moab, by the Jordan River in Jericho.
4 They counted every male Israeli who had come out of Egypt and who was 20 years old and above, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

1 Corinthians 1

26 Brothers, think about your own calling. Not many of you were wise by human standards, not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth.

27 But God chose what is nonsense in the world to make the wise feel ashamed. God chose what is weak in the world to make the strong feel ashamed.

28 And God chose what is insignificant in the world, what is despised, what is nothing, in order to destroy what is something,

29 so that no one may boast in God's presence.

30 It is because of God that you are in union with the Messiah Jesus, who for us has become wisdom from God, as well as our righteousness, sanctification, and redemption.

31 Therefore, as it is written, "The person who boasts must boast in the Lord."

1 Corinthians 2

1 When I came to you, brothers, I didn't come and tell you about God's secret with rhetorical language or wisdom.

2 For while I was with you I resolved to know nothing except Jesus the Messiah, and him crucified.

3 It was in weakness, fear, and great trembling that I came to you.

4 My message and my preaching were not accompanied by clever, wise words, but by a display of the Spirit's power,

5 so that your faith would not be based on human wisdom but on God's power.

6 However, when we are among mature people, we do speak a message of wisdom, but not the wisdom of this world or of the rulers of this world, who are passing off the scene.

7 Instead, we speak about God's wisdom in a hidden secret, which God destined before the world began for our glory.

8 None of the rulers of this world understood it, because if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, "No eye has seen, no ear has heard, and no mind has imagined the things that God has prepared for those who love him."

10 But God has revealed those things to us by his Spirit. For the Spirit searches everything, even the deep things of God.

11 Is there anyone who can understand his own thoughts except his own inner spirit? In the same way, no one can know the thoughts of God except God's Spirit.

12 Now, we have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who comes from God, so that we can understand the things that were freely given to us by God.

13 We don't speak about these things with words taught us by human wisdom, but with words taught by the Spirit, as we explain spiritual things to spiritual people.

14 A person who isn't spiritual doesn't accept the things of God's Spirit, for they are nonsense to him. He can't understand them because they are spiritually evaluated.

15 The spiritual person evaluates everything but is subject to no one else's evaluation.

16 For "Who has known the mind of the Lord so that he can advise him?" However, we have the mind of the Messiah.

50 These families of Naphtali numbered 45,400.

51 The total of those numbered among the Israelis was 601,730.

52 Then the LORD told Moses.

53 "The land is to be divided for an inheritance according to the total number of these names.

54 The more there are in number, you are to increase their inheritance, and the less there are in number, you are to decrease their inheritance. You are to provide an inheritance to each based on the size of their family, 55 but the land is to be divided by lot, inheriting according to the names of their ancestor's tribe.

56 Depending on the lot, the portion of their inheritance is to be divided between those with more members and those with lesser members."

57 Those who were numbered from the descendants of Levi, listed according to their families, included: From Gershon, the family of the descendants of Gershon; from Kohath, the family of the descendants of Kohath; and from Merari, the family of the descendants of Merari.

58 These were the families of Levi: The family of the descendants of Libni, the family of the descendants of Hebron, the family of the descendants of Mahli, the family of the descendants of Musha, and the family of the descendants of Korah. Now Kohath had a son Amram.

59 Amram's wife was Levi's daughter Jochebed, who was born to Levi in Egypt. She gave birth to Aaron, Moses, and their sister Miriam.

60 To Aaron were born Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

61 But Nadab and Abihu died when they offered unauthorized fire in the LORD's presence.

62 All of those individuals numbered 23,000. No male from the age of a month and above was numbered among the Israelis because no inheritance was to be assigned to them among the Israelis.

63 So this has been a list of those who were registered by Moses and Eleazar the priest when they numbered the Israelis in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho.

64 But none of these men among these numbered by Moses and by Aaron the priest (that is, when they numbered the Israelis in the wilderness of Sinai) survived to enter the land,

65 because the LORD had said about them, "They'll certainly die in the wilderness. No man will survive from them except Jephunneh's son Caleb and Nun's son Joshua."

Numbers 27

1 Now the daughters of Hepher's son Zelophehad, Gilead's grandson, who had been fathered by Machir, who had been fathered by Manasseh, from the tribe of Manasseh, the direct son of Joseph, were named Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. They approached

2 Moses, Eleazar the priest, the elders, and the entire community at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting, stood before them, and said,

3 "Our father died in the wilderness, but he wasn't with the company of those who gathered against the LORD along with the company of Korah. He died in his own sin, and he had no sons.

4 Why are you going to eliminate the name of our father from his family, just because he had no son? Give us a possession from among our father's relatives."

5 So Moses brought the family into the LORD's presence,

1 Corinthians 3

1 Brothers, I couldn't talk to you as spiritual people but as worldly people, as mere infants in the Messiah.

2 I gave you milk to drink, not solid food, because you weren't ready for it. And you're still not ready!

3 That's because you are still worldly. As long as there is jealousy and quarrelling among you, you are worldly and living by human standards, aren't you?

4 For when one person says, "I follow Paul," and another person says, "I follow Apollos," you're following your own human nature, aren't you?

5 Who is Apollos, anyhow? Or who is Paul? They're merely servants through whom you came to believe, as the Lord gave to each of us his task.

6 I planted, Apollos watered, but God kept everything growing.

7 So neither the one who plants nor the one who waters is significant, but God, who keeps everything growing, is the one who matters.

8 The one who plants and the one who waters have the same goal, and each will receive a reward for his own action.

9 For we are God's co-workers. You are God's farmland and God's building.

10 As an expert builder using the grace that God gave me, I laid the foundation, and someone else is building on it. But each person must be careful how he builds on it.

11 After all, no one can lay any other foundation than the one that is already laid, and that is Jesus the Messiah.

12 Whether a person builds on this foundation with gold, silver, expensive stones, wood, hay, or straw,

13 the workmanship of each person will become evident, for the day of judgement will show what it is, because it will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each person's action.

14 If what a person has built on the foundation survives, he will receive a reward.

15 If his work is burned up, he will suffer loss. However, he himself will be saved, but it will be like going through fire.

16 You know that you are God's sanctuary and that God's Spirit lives in you, don't you?

17 If anyone destroys God's sanctuary, God will destroy him, for God's sanctuary is holy. And you are that sanctuary!

18 Let no one deceive himself. If any of you thinks he is wise in the ways of this world, he must become a fool to become really wise.

19 For the wisdom of this world is nonsense in God's sight. For it is written, "He catches the wise with their own trickery,"

20 and again, "The Lord knows that the thoughts of the wise are worthless."

21 So let no one boast about human beings, since everything belongs to you,

22 whether Paul, Apollos, Cephas, the world, life, death, the present, or the future — everything belongs to you,

23 but you belong to the Messiah, and the Messiah belongs to God.

Numbers 27

6 and the LORD told Moses,
7 "The daughters of Zelophehad are telling the truth. You are certainly to give to them a possession for an inheritance among their father's relatives. You are to pass on the inheritance of their father to them.
8 Tell the Israelis that when a man dies without a son, you are to pass his inheritance to his daughter.
9 If he doesn't have a daughter, give his inheritance to his brothers.
10 If he doesn't have brothers, give his inheritance to his father's brothers.
11 If his father doesn't have brothers, then give his inheritance to a relative who is nearest to him from the family and he'll take possession of it. This is to be a permanent ordinance for the Israelis, just as the LORD commanded Moses."
12 Then the LORD told Moses, "You are to climb these Abarim mountains and look over the land that I'm going to give the Israelis.
13 After you've seen it, you'll be taken to be with your people just as your brother Aaron was gathered to them,
14 because in the wilderness of Zin, when the community rebelled, you rebelled against my command to treat me as holy before their eyes in regards to the Meribah Springs in Kadesh in the wilderness of Zin."
15 Moses responded to the LORD.
16 "May the LORD God of the spirits of all living creatures appoint a man over the community
17 who will go in and out before them, and who will lead them out and bring them in so that the LORD's community won't be like a flock without a shepherd."
18 "Select Nun's son Joshua. The Spirit is in that man," the LORD answered Moses. "You are to lay your hand on him
19 and make him stand in front of Eleazar the priest and the entire community. Then you are to set him in charge right before their eyes,
20 turning over your authority to him so that the entire community of Israel knows to obey him.
21 "You are to make him stand in the presence of Eleazar the priest, who is to inquire on his behalf using the Urim in the presence of the LORD regarding a decision of judgement, because by his command he and all the Israelis with him will go out or come in."
22 So Moses did what the LORD had commanded him. He took Joshua, made him stand in the presence of Eleazar the priest and the entire community,
23 laid his hands on him, and charged him, just as the LORD had commanded, using Moses' authority.

Numbers 28

1 The LORD told Moses,
2 "You are to command the Israelis about my offerings that they are to be sure to bring edible offerings to me, presented by fire and a pleasing aroma to me, at their appointed time.
3 "Tell them that this is the offering, presented by fire that you are to offer to the LORD: two one year old lambs, offered daily every day.
4 Offer the first lamb in the morning and the second toward the evening,
5 accompanied by one tenth of an ephah of fine flour for grain offering, mixed with one fourth of a hin of pure olive oil.
6 This burnt offering, which was prescribed at Mount Sinai, is to be offered every day as a pleasing aroma made by fire to the LORD.

7 "The drink offering is to be one fourth of a hin for each lamb. You are to pour out a drink offering of strong wine to the LORD in the Holy Place.

8 You are also to offer the second lamb toward the evening. Just like the morning sacrifice, you are to present the grain offering, accompanied by its corresponding drink offering, as a presentation made by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD."

9 "Every Sabbath day, you are to offer two one year old lambs without any defects with two tenths of an ephah of fine flour for grain offering, mixed with olive oil, along with their corresponding drink offering.

10 This burnt offering is to be presented every Sabbath, apart from the continuous burnt offering, along with its corresponding drink offering."

11 "On the first day of each month, you are to offer a burnt offering to the LORD consisting of two young bulls, one ram, and seven one year old lambs, all of them without any defects,

12 along with three tenths of an ephah of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with olive oil, for each bull, two tenths of an ephah of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with olive oil, for the one ram,

13 one tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with olive oil as a grain offering for each lamb. This burnt offering will be a pleasing aroma, incinerated as an offering to the LORD.

14 Their drink offerings are to be half a hin of wine for each bull, one third of a hin for the ram, and one fourth of a hin for each lamb. This burnt offering is to be presented each and every month throughout the year.

15 One goat is to be offered at regular intervals as a sin offering to the LORD, accompanied by its corresponding drink offering."

16 "The LORD'S Passover is to take place on the fourteenth day of the first month.

17 You are to hold a festival on the fifteenth day of this month for seven days, during which time unleavened bread is to be eaten."

18 "On the first day, you are to hold a sacred assembly. No servile work is to be done.

19 Bring an offering that is to be incinerated in the LORD'S presence, consisting of two young bulls, a ram, and seven one year old lambs, all without any defects,

20 along with their grain offering of fine flour mixed with olive oil. Offer three tenths of an ephah for each bull, two-tenths of an ephah for the ram,

21 and one tenth of an ephah for each of the seven lambs.

22 Then present one goat for a sin offering to make atonement for you,

23 apart from the burnt offering in the morning, which you are to continue offering.

24 "Do this every day for seven days, as an edible sacrifice to the LORD made by fire, a pleasing aroma. It is to be offered apart from the continuous burnt offering and its corresponding drink offering.

25 On the seventh day you are to hold another sacred assembly for your benefit, on which no servile work is to be done."

26 "On the first day of your harvest season, you are to hold a sacred assembly when you present your first fruits during the Feast of Weeks. No servile work is to be done.

27 You are to offer this burnt offering as a pleasing aroma to the LORD: two young bulls, one ram, and seven one year old lambs,

28 along with their corresponding grain offerings of fine flour mixed with olive oil; specifically, three tenths of an ephah for each bull, two tenths of an ephah for the one ram,

29 one tenth of an ephah for each of the seven lambs,

30 and one goat to make atonement for you.

31 Offer them in addition to the regular burnt offering, accompanied by its grain offering and its corresponding drink offerings."

Numbers 29

1 "You are to hold a sacred assembly on the first day of the seventh month of each year. No servile work is to be done. It's a day of blowing trumpets for you.

2 "You are to bring these burnt offerings as a pleasing aroma to the LORD: a one year old young bull, one ram, and seven one year old lambs, all without any defects,

3 along with their corresponding grain offering of fine flour, mixed with olive oil — three tenths of an ephah for the young bull, two tenths of an ephah for the ram,

4 one tenth of an ephah for each lamb of the seven lambs,

5 accompanied by one goat for a sin offering to make atonement for you.

6 This is to be separate and apart from the burnt offering for the New Moon, with its corresponding grain offering, the continuous burnt offering with its corresponding grain offering, and their drink offerings, according to their respective ordinances, as a pleasing aroma, an incinerated offering made to the LORD.

7 "You are to hold a sacred assembly on the tenth day of this same seventh month. You are to humble yourselves, and no servile work is to be done.

8 You are to bring these burnt offerings to the LORD for a pleasing aroma: one young bull, one ram, seven one year old lambs, all without any defects, for you,

9 along with these corresponding grain offerings of fine flour mixed with olive oil: three tenths for the bull, two tenths for the one ram,

10 one tenth for each of the seven lambs,

11 then one male goat for a sin offering, in addition to the sin offering, to make atonement, along with the regular burnt offering, its corresponding grain and drink offerings."

12 "You are to hold a sacred assembly on the fifteenth day of the same seventh month. No servile work is to be done. You are to celebrate a feast to the LORD for seven days by

13 bringing these burnt offerings made by fire as a pleasing aroma to the LORD: Thirteen young bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without any defects,

14 along with their grain offering of fine flour mixed with olive oil, three tenths for each of the thirteen bulls, two tenths for each of the two rams,

15 one tenth for each of the fourteen lambs,

16 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."

1 Corinthians 4

1 Think of us as servants of the Messiah and as servant managers entrusted with God's secrets.

2 Now it is required of servant managers that each one should prove to be trustworthy.

3 It is a very small thing to me that I should be examined by you or by any human court. In fact, I don't even evaluate myself.

4 For my conscience is clear, but that does not vindicate me. It is the Lord who examines me.

5 Therefore, stop judging prematurely, before the Lord comes, for he will bring to light what is now hidden in darkness and reveal the motives of our hearts. Then each person will receive his praise from God.

6 Brothers, I have applied all this to Apollos and myself for your benefit, so that you may learn from us not to go beyond what the Scriptures say. Then you will stop boasting about one person at the expense of another.

7 For who makes you superior? What do you have that you did not receive? And if you did receive it, why do you boast as though you did not receive it?

8 You already have all you want! You have already become rich! You have become kings without us! I wish you really were kings so that we could be kings with you!

9 For it seems to me that God has put us apostles on display in last place, like men condemned to death. We have become a spectacle for the world, for angels, and for people to stare at.

10 We are fools for the Messiah's sake, but you are wise in the Messiah. We are weak, but you are strong. You are honoured, but we are dishonoured.

11 We are hungry, thirsty, dressed in rags, brutally treated, and homeless, right up to the present.

12 We wear ourselves out from working with our own hands. When insulted, we bless. When persecuted, we endure.

13 When slandered, we answer with kind words. Even now we have become the filth of the world, the scum of the universe.

14 I'm not writing this to make you feel ashamed, but to warn you as my dear children.

15 You may have 10,000 mentors who work for the Messiah, but not many fathers. For in the Messiah Jesus I became your father through the gospel.

16 So I urge you to imitate me.

17 That's why I sent Timothy to you. He is my dear and dependable son in the Lord and will help you remember how I live for the Messiah Jesus as I teach everywhere in every church.

18 Some of you have become arrogant, as though I were not coming to evaluate you.

19 But I will come to you soon if it's the Lord's will. Then I'll discover not only what these arrogant people are saying but also what power they have,

20 for the kingdom of God isn't just talk, but also power.

21 Which do you prefer? Should I come to you with a stick, or with love and a gentle spirit?

15th March

Numbers 29

17 "On the second day, you are to present twelve young bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
18 along with their corresponding grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number, based on the ordinances,
19 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
20 "On the third day, you are to present eleven bulls, two rams, fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
21 along with their corresponding grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number, based on the ordinance,
22 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
23 "On the fourth day, you are to present ten bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
24 along with their corresponding grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number based on their ordinance,
25 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
26 "On the fifth day, you are to present nine bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
27 with their corresponding grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number, based on the ordinance,
28 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
29 "On the sixth day, you are to present eight bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
30 along with their grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number, based on the ordinance,
31 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
32 "On the seventh day, you are to present seven bulls, two rams, and fourteen one year old lambs, all without defects,
33 along with their grain and drink offerings for the bulls, rams, and lambs, according to their number, based on the ordinance,
34 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings."
35 "On the eighth day, you are to call a sacred assembly. No servile work is to be done.
36 You are to offer these burnt offerings by fire, a pleasing aroma to the LORD: one bull, one ram, and seven one year old lambs, all without defects,
37 along with their corresponding grain and drink offerings for the bull, ram, and lambs, according to their number, based on their ordinance,
38 and accompanied by one goat for a sin offering, in addition to the regular burnt offering, with its corresponding grain and drink offerings.
39 "Present these to the LORD at your appointed festival, in addition to your offerings in fulfilment of vows, free will offerings, burnt offerings, grain offerings, drink offerings, and peace offerings."
40 Moses instructed the Israelis regarding everything that the LORD had commanded Moses.

Numbers 30

- 1 Later, Moses told the elders of the Israeli tribes, "This is what the LORD has commanded.
- 2 When a man makes a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath — an obligation that is binding to himself — he is not to break his word. Instead, he is to fulfil whatever promise came out of his mouth."
- 3 "When a young woman makes a vow to the LORD or pledges herself to an obligation while she still lives in her father's house,
- 4 and her father hears her vow and the obligations that she had pledged herself to fulfil, yet her father keeps silent about it, then all her vows and every obligation she pledged herself to are to stand.
- 5 "But if her father disallows her on the same day that he hears what she has said, then all her vows and every obligation she had pledged herself to fulfil are not to stand. The LORD will forgive her, because her father has forbidden her."
- 6 "If she has a husband and she makes a vow that is binding on herself, or if she makes a hasty vow with her mouth that she pledges herself to fulfil,
- 7 and her husband hears her vow, yet remains silent on the day that he hears it, then her vows are to stand and the obligation to which she had pledged herself is to stand.
- 8 But if, on the same day her husband hears, and he disallows her, then he has revoked her vows that she made for herself, along with any hasty vows that she spoke and to which she pledged herself to fulfil. The LORD will forgive her."
- 9 "Everything that a widow or a divorced woman pledges herself to fulfil are to be binding on her.
- 10 But if, while she had been living in her late or former husband's house, she makes a vow or a promise that binds her with an oath,
- 11 and her husband hears it but remains silent, not disallowing it, then all her vows are to stand, along with every obligation that she has pledged herself to fulfil.
- 12 "But if her husband disallowed them the very day that he heard her, everything that she spoke relating to her vows and her obligation to herself are not to stand, because her husband had revoked them. The LORD will forgive her.
- 13 "Her husband may confirm or revoke every vow and binding obligation that afflicts her.
- 14 But if her husband remains silent about her from day to day, then he has affirmed all her vows or obligations that she has obligated herself to fulfil. He has affirmed them because he remained silent from the day he heard her vows.
- 15 But if he had nullified them after he had heard, then he will be responsible for any resulting iniquity."
- 16 These are the statutes that the LORD commanded Moses concerning a man and his wife and concerning a father and his young daughter while she still lives in her father's house.

Numbers 31

- 1 Later, the LORD told Moses,
- 2 "Be sure to exact vengeance on behalf of the Israelis from the Midianites, after which you'll be taken home to your people."
- 3 So Moses instructed the people, "Mustering your men of war to attack the Midianites and deliver the LORD's vengeance against Midian.
- 4 Send 1,000 men to war from every tribe throughout all of Israel."
- 5 So 1,000 men from every tribe — 12,000 from the thousands of Israel — were mustered and equipped for war.
- 6 Moses sent 1,000 men from every tribe to fight against them, along with Eleazar's son Phinehas, in whose hands were the articles of the sanctuary and trumpets to sound battle alarms.
- 7 They fought against the Midianites just as the LORD had commanded Moses, killing every man.

8 They executed the five kings of Midian, including Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba. They also executed Beor's son Balaam with a sword.

9 After this, the Israelis took captive the Midianite women and children and confiscated as spoils of war all their cattle, livestock, and their goods.

10 They burned every town where they had lived and incinerated all of their encampments.

11 They took all the booty and plunder, including both humans and animals.

12 Then they brought the captives, booty, and plunder to Moses, to Eleazar the priest, and to the entire community of Israel at the camp on the plains of Moab, by the Jordan River in Jericho.

13 Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the leaders of the community went out to meet them outside the camp.

14 But Moses became livid with anger at the officers of the army, the captains of thousands, and the captains of hundreds who had returned from serving in the battle.

15 "Did you keep all the women alive?" Moses asked them.

16 "Look! These women were the same ones who were counselled by Balaam to cause the Israelis to commit a grievous sin against the LORD at Peor. As a result, that plague infected the LORD's community.

17 You are to kill every male child and every woman who has had sexual relations with a man.

18 You are to allow the young women who haven't yet had sexual relations with a man to live for yourselves."

19 "Now you are to stay outside the camp for seven days, after which anyone who has killed a person or touched someone who was killed may purify yourselves on the third day and you and your captives will be pure on the seventh day.

20 Furthermore, you are to purify every garment, that is, everything made of leather, goat's hair, or containing wood."

1 Corinthians 5

- 1 It is actually reported that sexual immorality exists among you, and of a kind that is not found even among the gentiles. A man is actually living with his father's wife!
- 2 And you are being arrogant instead of being filled with grief and seeing to it that the man who did this is removed from among you.
- 3 Even though I am away from you physically, I am with you in spirit. I have already passed judgement on the man who did this, as though I were present with you.
- 4 In the name of our Lord Jesus, when you are gathered together (and I am there in spirit), and the power of our Lord Jesus is there, too,
- 5 turn this man over to Satan for the destruction of his body, so that his spirit may be saved on the Day of the Lord.
- 6 Your boasting is not good. You know that a little yeast leavens the whole batch of dough, don't you?
- 7 Get rid of the old yeast so that you may be a new batch of dough, since you are to be free from yeast. For the Messiah, our Passover, has been sacrificed.
- 8 So let's keep celebrating the festival, neither with old yeast nor with yeast that is evil and wicked, but with yeast-free bread that is both sincere and true.
- 9 I wrote to you in my letter to stop associating with people who are sexually immoral —
- 10 not at all meaning the people of this world who are immoral, greedy, robbers, or idolaters. In that case you would have to leave this world.
- 11 But now I am writing to you to stop associating with any so-called brother if he is sexually immoral, greedy, an idolater, a slanderer, a drunk, or a robber. You must even stop eating with someone like that.
- 12 After all, is it my business to judge outsiders? You are to judge those who are in the community, aren't you?
- 13 God will judge outsiders. "Expel that wicked man."

1 Corinthians 6

- 1 When one of you has a complaint against another, does he dare to take the matter before those who are unrighteous and not before the saints?
- 2 You know that the saints will rule the world, don't you? And if the world is going to be ruled by you, can't you handle insignificant cases?
- 3 You know that we will rule angels, not to mention things in this life, don't you?
- 4 So if you have cases dealing with this life, why do you appoint as judges people who have no standing in the church?
- 5 I say this to make you feel ashamed. Has it come to this, that there is not one person among you who is wise enough to settle disagreements between brothers?
- 6 Instead, one brother goes to court against another brother, and before unbelieving judges, at that!
- 7 The very fact that you have lawsuits among yourselves is already a defeat for you. Why not rather just accept the wrong? Why not rather be cheated?
- 8 Instead, you yourselves practise doing wrong and cheating others, and brothers at that!

16th March

Numbers 31

21 Eleazar the priest told soldiers who had gone to battle, "This is the ordinance of the law that the LORD commanded Moses
22 concerning anything containing gold, silver, brass, iron, tin, and lead,
23 or anything that can survive a refiner's fire: You are to pass it through fire, after which it will be clean. Then it is to be purified with the water of impurity. Everything that cannot survive a refiner's fire is to be washed in water.
24 Wash your clothes on the seventh day, after which you will be clean. Then you may enter the camp."
25 Then the LORD told Moses,
26 "Take an inventory of the booty that was taken in the battle, both of humans and of animals. You, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of the fathers of the community,
27 are then to divide the booty between the warriors who went to war and the rest of the community.
28 "After this, you are to exact a tribute for the LORD from the soldiers who went to war, consisting of the tribute earned by one person out of every 500, whether from people, cattle, donkeys, or flocks.
29 "You are to take half their share and give it to Eleazar the priest as a raised offering to the LORD.
30 "Then take half the share of the Israelis, one drawn out of every fifty people, cattle, donkeys, flocks, and from every animal, then give it to the descendants of Levi who maintain the service of the LORD's tent."
31 So Moses and Eleazar the priest did what the LORD had commanded Moses.
32 The goods confiscated in excess of the war implements that the warriors had gathered included 675,000 sheep,
33 72,000 cattle,
34 61,000 donkeys, and
35 32,000 women who had not had sexual relations with a man.
36 Now half of the share of those who went to war numbered 337,500 sheep,
37 so the LORD's tribute from the sheep totalled 675.
38 The cattle numbered 36,000 so the LORD's tribute totalled 72.
39 The donkeys numbered 30,500 so the LORD's tribute totalled 61.
40 The people numbered 16,000, so the LORD's tribute totalled 32 people.
41 Then Moses gave the tribute, a raised offering to the LORD, to Eleazar the priest, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
42 From half of the share of the Israelis that Moses had set aside from the soldiers
43 there were 337,500 sheep for the community,
44 36,000 cattle,
45 30,500 donkeys,
46 and 16,000 people.
47 Moses took a portion drawn from every 50 Israelis, including from both humans and animals, and gave them to the descendants of Levi who maintained the LORD's tent, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.
48 Then the officers in charge of thousands of soldiers, the captains of thousands, and the captains of hundreds approached Moses
49 and told him, "Your servants took a count of the soldiers who were under our authority. We didn't miss a single man.
50 We've brought offerings to the LORD from whatever each man found — jewel-encrusted gold, anklets, bracelets, signet rings, earrings, and necklaces to make atonement for ourselves in the LORD's presence."

51 Then Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them and everything that was fashioned into jewels.
52 The gold for the raised offering that they brought to the LORD totalled 16,750 shekels,
53 because every soldier had confiscated war booty for his own use.
54 Moses and Eleazar took the gold from the captains of thousands and hundreds and brought it to the Tent of Meeting, to serve as a memorial to the Israelis in the LORD's presence.

Numbers 32

1 Now, the descendants of Reuben and descendants of Gad happened to be joint owners of a very large herd of cattle. When they observed that Jazer and Gilead were good grazing lands for cattle,
2 the descendants of Gad and descendants of Reuben approached Moses, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of the community and said,
3 "Ataroth, Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Sebam, Nebo, and Beon —
4 the land that the LORD defeated in the sight of the community of Israel — is perfect for cattle and your servants have cattle.
5 If we've found favour in your sight, let this land be given to your servants as our possession instead of us crossing the Jordan River.
6 "Will your relatives have to go to war while you remain here?" Moses asked the descendants of Gad and descendants of Reuben in response.
7 "Why would you discourage the Israelis from crossing over to the land that the LORD has given them?
8 That's what your ancestors did when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to explore the land.
9 When they arrived in the Eshcol Valley and saw the land, they discouraged the Israelis from entering the land that the LORD had given them.
10 "That's why the LORD's anger flared up that day and he promised by an oath that 11 'Not one of the men who went up from Egypt from 20 years old and above will see the land that I promised to give to their ancestors, that is, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, because none of them followed me whole heartedly,
12 except Jephunneh's son Caleb, the Kenizzite, and Nun's son Joshua. They've wholeheartedly followed the LORD.'
13 "The LORD's anger had flared up against Israel so that he made them wander in the wilderness for 40 years until that whole generation, who committed evil in the eyes of the LORD, had died.
14 And now, look! You're acting just like your ancestors, like a brood of sinful men, who are provoking the fierce anger of the LORD against the Israelis one step at a time.
15 If you stop following him, he will once again abandon them in the wilderness. You'll end up destroying this entire people."
16 Then they approached him and said, "Here's where we're going to build corrals for our cattle and cities for our families,
17 but we will keep ourselves armed and stay ready to go with the Israelis until we've brought them to their own places. Our families intend to live in fortified cities in the presence of the inhabitants of the land,
18 but we won't return to our homes until every Israeli has taken possession of each of their inheritances,
19 since our inheritance will not be with them across the Jordan River and beyond. Instead, our inheritance is on this side of the Jordan River, facing eastward."
20 "If you do this," Moses replied to them, "that is, if you equip yourselves for war in the LORD's presence

21 and every one of your armed soldiers crosses over the Jordan River in the presence of the LORD until he has dispossessed his enemies ahead of him

22 and subjugated the land before him, then afterwards when you return, you'll be able to stand blameless before the LORD and before Israel. This land will then be your possession before the LORD.

23 "But if you won't do so, look out! You will be sinning against the LORD. Be certain of this, that your sin will catch up to you!

24 So after you've built cities for your families and corrals for your cattle, be sure to keep your promises."

25 Then the descendants of Gad and descendants of Reuben spoke, "Your servants will do exactly what our master has commanded.

26 Our children, wives, flocks, and all our cattle will be settled in the cities of Gilead,

27 but every soldier that we've equipped for battle will cross the Jordan River in the presence of the LORD, as our master has spoken."

28 So Moses instructed Eleazar the priest and Nun's son Joshua, and the officers of the ancestral tribes of the Israelis,

29 telling them, "If the descendants of Gad and descendants of Reuben cross over the Jordan River with you, that is, all of their soldiers who've been equipped for battle in the LORD's presence, so that the land is subjugated right before your eyes, then you are to give them the land of Gilead as their possession.

30 But if the armed men don't cross over with you, then they won't have any possession in the land of Canaan."

31 "We'll do just what the LORD told your servants," the descendants of Gad and the descendants of Reuben responded.

32 "We are to cross over in battle array in the LORD's presence into the land of Canaan, and afterwards the possession of our inheritance will be in this side of the Jordan River."

1 Corinthians 6

- 9 You know that wicked people will not inherit the kingdom of God, don't you? Stop deceiving yourselves! Sexually immoral people, idolaters, adulterers, male prostitutes, homosexuals,
- 10 thieves, greedy people, drunks, slanderers, and robbers will not inherit the kingdom of God.
- 11 That is what some of you were! But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of our Lord Jesus the Messiah and by the Spirit of our God.
- 12 Everything is permissible for me, but not everything is helpful. Everything is permissible for me, but I will not allow anything to control me.
- 13 Food is for the stomach, and the stomach is for food, but God will make them both unnecessary. The body is not meant for sexual immorality but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.
- 14 God raised the Lord, and by his power he will also raise us.
- 15 You know that your bodies belong to the Messiah, don't you? Should I take what belongs to the Messiah and unite them with a prostitute? Certainly not!
- 16 You know that the person who unites himself with a prostitute becomes one body with her, don't you? For it is said, "The two will become one flesh."
- 17 But the person who unites himself with the Lord becomes one spirit with him.
- 18 Keep on running away from sexual immorality. Any other sin that a person commits is outside his body, but the person who sins sexually sins against his own body.
- 19 You know that your body is a sanctuary of the Holy Spirit who is in you, whom you have received from God, don't you? You do not belong to yourselves,
- 20 because you were bought for a price. Therefore, glorify God with your bodies.

1 Corinthians 7

- 1 Now about what you asked: "Is it advisable for a man not to marry?"
- 2 Because sexual immorality is so rampant, every man should have his own wife, and every woman should have her own husband.
- 3 A husband should fulfil his obligation to his wife, and a wife should do the same for her husband.
- 4 A wife does not have authority over her own body, but her husband does. In the same way, a husband doesn't have authority over his own body, but his wife does.
- 5 Do not withhold yourselves from each other unless you agree to do so just for a set time, in order to devote yourselves to prayer. Then you should come together again so that Satan does not tempt you through your lack of self-control.
- 6 But I say this as a concession, not as a command.
- 7 I would like everyone to be unmarried, like I am. However, each person has a special gift from God, one this and another that.
- 8 I say to those who are unmarried, especially to widows: It is good for them to remain like me.
- 9 However, if they cannot control themselves, they should get married, for it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

Numbers 32

33 So Moses gave to the descendants of Gad, to the descendants of Reuben, and to the half-tribe of Joseph's son Manasseh the kingdom of Sihon, the king of the Amorites and the kingdom of Og, the king of Bashan, the whole land with its cities, and even the territories surrounding it.

34 The descendants of Gad rebuilt Dibon, Ataroth, Aroer,

35 Atrothshophan, Jazer, Jogbehah,

36 Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran as fortified cities with corrals for sheep.

37 The descendants of Reuben rebuilt Heshbon, Elealeh, Kiriathaim,

38 Nebo, Baal-meon, (after having changed their names) and Sibmah. The cities that they rebuilt were renamed.

39 The descendants of Manasseh's son Machir attacked Gilead and then captured and dispossessed the Amorites who were there.

40 That's why Moses gave Gilead to Manasseh's son Machir, who lived there at the time.

41 Manasseh's son Jair captured their towns and renamed them Havvoth-jair.

42 Nobah captured Kenath and its towns and renamed it Nobah after himself.

Numbers 33

1 Here's the travel itinerary for the Israelis after they left the land of Egypt in groups under the authority of Moses and Aaron.

2 Moses recorded their departures in their travels after being commanded to do so by the LORD. Here's a list of their travels based on their departures:

3 They departed from Rameses on the first month, the fifteenth day of the first month. The day after the Passover, the Israelis came out confidently, and all the Egyptians watched them leave,

4 while they were burying their first born, whom the LORD had killed among them. The LORD also executed justice against their gods.

5 Then the Israelis travelled from Rameses and rested in Succoth.

6 They travelled from Succoth then rested in Etham, which is at the outskirts of the wilderness.

7 They travelled from Etham but turned back to Pi-hahiroth, which is outside of Baal-zephon. They rested outside of Migdol.

8 They travelled from Hahiroth and passed through the midst of the sea to the wilderness. They were on the road three days in the wilderness of Etham then rested in Marah.

9 They travelled from Marah and arrived at Elim. In Elim there were twelve wells of water and 70 palm trees, so they rested there.

10 They travelled from Elim, then rested by the Reed Sea.

11 They travelled from the Reed Sea, then rested in the Wilderness of Sin.

12 They travelled from the Wilderness of Sin, then rested in Dophkah.

13 They travelled from Dophkah, then rested in Alush.

14 They travelled from Alush, then rested in Rephidim, but there was no water there for the people to drink.

15 They travelled from Rephidim, then rested in the Wilderness of Sinai.

16 They travelled from the Wilderness of Sinai, then rested in Kibroth-hattaavah.

17 They travelled from Kibroth-hattaavah, then rested in Hazeroth.

18 They travelled from Hazeroth, then rested in Rithmah.

19 They travelled from Rithmah, then rested in Rimmon-perez.

20 They travelled from Rimmon-perez, then rested in Libnah.

21 They travelled from Libnah, then rested in Rissah.

22 They travelled from Rissah, then rested in Kehelathah.

23 They travelled from Kehelathah, then rested at Mount Shepher.
24 They travelled from Mount Shepher, then rested in Haradah.
25 They travelled from Haradah, then rested in Makheloth.
26 They travelled from Makheloth, then rested in Tahath.
27 They travelled from Tahath, then rested in Terah.
28 They travelled from Terah, then rested in Mithkah.
29 They travelled from Mithkah, then rested in Hashmonah.
30 They travelled from Hashmonah, then rested in Moseroth.
31 They travelled from Moseroth, then rested in Bene-jaakan.
32 They travelled from Bene-jaakan, then rested in Hor-haggidgad.
33 They travelled from Hor-haggidgad, then rested in Jotbathah.
34 They travelled from Jotbathah, then rested in Abronah.
35 They travelled from Abronah, then rested in Ezion-geber.
36 They travelled from Ezion-geber, then rested in the Wilderness of Zin, which is also known as Kadesh.
37 They travelled from Kadesh, then rested in Mount Hor at the outskirts of the land of Edom.
38 Then Aaron the priest ascended Mount Hor in obedience to the LORD's command and died there, in the fortieth year after the Israelis had come out of the land of Egypt, on the first day of the fifth month.
39 Aaron was 123 years old when he died on Mount Hor.
40 Meanwhile, the Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negev in the land of Canaan, heard of the approach of the Israelis,
41 who had travelled from Mount Hor and then rested in Zalmonah.
42 They travelled from Zalmonah, then rested in Punon.
43 They travelled from Punon, then rested in Oboth.
44 They travelled from Oboth, then rested in Iye-abarim at the outskirts of Moab.
45 They travelled from Iyim, then rested in Dibon-gad.
46 They travelled from Dibon-gad, then rested in Almon-diblathaim.
47 They travelled from Almon-diblathaim, then rested in the mountains of Abarim, facing Nebo.
48 They travelled from the mountains of Abarim, then rested in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River, across from Jericho.
49 They rested by the Jordan River in the area from Beth-jeshimoth to Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab.
50 Then the LORD told Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho,
51 "Tell the Israelis that when they have crossed the Jordan River to the land of Canaan,
52 they are to drive out all the inhabitants of the land and destroy all their idols and their molten images. You are to demolish all their high places,
53 take possession of the land, and live in it, because I've given you the land to inherit.
54 "You are to divide the land among yourselves by lot according to your families. The larger the families are in number, the larger their inheritance is to be. The lesser the families are in number, the lesser their inheritance is to be. To whomever the lot falls, that inheritance goes to him. Divide it according to your ancestral tribes.
55 "But if you fail to drive out the inhabitants of the land before you, their survivors will become irritants in your eyes and thorns in your sides, to prick your sides and afflict you in the very land in which you'll be living.
56 Then, what I had planned to do to them, I'll start to do to you."

1 Corinthians 7

10 To married people I give this command (not really I, but the Lord): A wife must not leave her husband.

11 But if she does leave him, she must remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband. Likewise, a husband must not abandon his wife.

12 I (not the Lord) say to the rest of you: If a brother has a wife who is an unbeliever and she is willing to live with him, he must not abandon her.

13 And if a woman has a husband who is an unbeliever and he is willing to live with her, she must not abandon him.

14 For the unbelieving husband has been sanctified because of his wife, and the unbelieving wife has been sanctified because of her husband. Otherwise, your children would be unclean, but now they are holy.

15 But if the unbelieving partner leaves, let him go. In such cases the brother or sister is not under obligation. God has called you to live in peace.

16 Wife, you might be able to save your husband. Husband, you might be able to save your wife.

17 Nevertheless, everyone should live the life that the Lord gave him and to which God called him. This is my rule in all the churches.

18 Was anyone circumcised when he was called? He should not try to change that. Was anyone uncircumcised when he was called? He should not get circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but obeying God's commandments is everything.

20 Everyone should stay in the same condition in which he was called.

21 Were you a slave when you were called? Do not let that bother you. Of course, if you have a chance to become free, take advantage of the opportunity.

22 For the slave who has been called to belong to the Lord is the Lord's free person. In the same way, the free person who has been called is the Messiah's slave.

23 You were bought for a price. Stop becoming slaves of people.

24 Brothers, everyone should stay in the same condition in which he was called by God.

25 Now concerning virgins, although I do not have any command from the Lord, I will give you my opinion as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy.

26 In view of the present crisis, I think it is prudent for a man to stay as he is.

27 Have you become committed to a wife? Stop trying to get released from your commitment. Have you been freed from your commitment to a wife? Stop looking for one.

28 But if you do get married, you have not sinned. And if a virgin gets married, she has not sinned. However, these people will experience trouble in this life, and I want to spare you from that.

29 This is what I mean, brothers: The time is short. From now on, those who have wives should live as though they had none,

30 and those who mourn as though they did not mourn, and those who rejoice as though they were not rejoicing, and those who buy as though they did not own a thing,

31 and those who use the things in the world as though they were not dependent on them. For the world in its present form is passing away.

32 I want you to be free from concerns. An unmarried man is concerned about the things of the Lord, that is, about how he can please the Lord.

33 But a married man is concerned about things of this world, that is, about how he can please his wife,

Numbers 34

- 1 The LORD told Moses,
- 2 "Issue these orders to the Israelis: 'You're about to enter the land of Canaan. This territory has been apportioned to you as your inheritance: the entire land of Canaan, all the way to its borders.'"
- 3 "'To your south is the Wilderness of Zin, bordering Edom. Your southern border is to extend east toward the far end of the Dead Sea,
- 4 then it is to turn southward to the ascent of Akrabbim, cross Zin, and then run south of Kadesh-barnea and proceed from there to Hazar-addar and across to Azmon.
- 5 Then the border is to turn from Azmon toward the wadi of Egypt and from there to the Mediterranean Sea.'"
- 6 "The western border is to be the Mediterranean Sea. This is to be the western border."
- 7 "Your northern border is to extend from the Mediterranean Sea to Mount Hor.
- 8 From Mount Hor, you are to mark out the entrance to Hammath, with the border running through Zedad,
- 9 then through Ziphron, and then to Hazar-enan. This is to be the northern border."
- 10 "You are to mark the border on the east from Hazar-enan to Shepham.
- 11 The border is then to extend from Shepham to Riblah, on the east side of Ain, then to the Sea of Chinnereth on the east.
- 12 The border is to continue along the Jordan River all the way to the Dead Sea. This is to be your land, as measured by its boundaries."
- 13 Moses commanded the Israelis, "You are to inherit this land by lot, just as the LORD commanded to give it to the remaining nine and a half tribes.
- 14 The tribes of Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, as defined by their ancestral houses, have received their inheritance.
- 15 These two and a half tribes received their inheritance this side of the Jordan River, east of Jericho, facing the rising sun."
- 16 Then the LORD told Moses,
- 17 "These are the names of the men who are to divide the land for your inheritance: Eleazar the priest and Nun's son Joshua.
- 18 You are to appoint a leader from each tribe to divide the land for inheritance.
- 19 "These are the names of the men: Appoint Jephunneh's son Caleb from the tribe of Judah,
- 20 Ammihud's son Shemuel from the tribe of Simeon;
- 21 Chislon's son Elidad from the tribe of Benjamin;
- 22 and Jogli's son Bukki is to be leader of the tribe of Dan.
- 23 "From the tribe of Joseph, you are to appoint Ephod's son Hanniel to be leader of the half tribe of Manasseh;
- 24 Shiphtan's son Kemuel to be leader of the half tribe of Ephraim.
- 25 Parnach's son Elizaphan to be leader of the tribe of Zebulun;
- 26 Azzan's son Paltiel to be leader of the tribe of Issachar;
- 27 Shelomi's son Ahihud to be leader of the tribe of Asher;
- 28 and Ammihud's son Pedahel to be leader of the tribe of Naphtali."
- 29 These are the ones whom the LORD commanded to divide the inheritance of the Israelis in the land of Canaan.

Numbers 35

- 1 The LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Moab, beside the Jordan River near Jericho. He told him,

2 "Instruct the Israelis to set aside a portion of their inheritance for the descendants of Levi to live in, along with grazing land surrounding their towns.

3 The towns are to be reserved for their dwelling places and the grazing lands are to be reserved for their cattle, livestock, and all their animals.

4 "The grazing lands that you are to reserve for use by descendants of Levi are to extend 1,500 feet from the walls of the town.

5 You are to measure from outside the wall of the town on the east side 3,000 feet, on the south side 3,000 feet, on the west side 3,000 feet, and on the north side 3,000 feet, with the town placed at the centre. This reserved area is to serve as grazing land for their towns.

6 You are to set aside six towns of refuge from the towns that you will be giving to the descendants of Levi, where someone who kills a human being may run for shelter. In addition, give them 42 other towns.

7 "The total number of towns that you are to give to the descendants of Levi is to be 48 towns, including grazing lands surrounding these town.

8 You are to apportion the towns that you will be giving the Israelis according to the relative size of the tribe. Take a larger portion from those larger in numbers and a lesser portion from those lesser in number. Each is to set aside towns for the descendants of Levi proportional to the size of their inheritance that they receive."

9 Then the LORD told Moses,

10 "Tell the Israelis that when they have crossed the Jordan River into the land of Canaan,

11 they are to designate some towns of refuge so that anyone who kills someone inadvertently may flee there.

12 They are to serve as cities of refuge from a blood avenger in order to keep the inadvertent killer from dying until he has stood trial in the presence of the community.

13 You are to set aside six towns of refuge.

14 Appoint three towns this side of the Jordan River and three towns in the land of Canaan to serve as the towns of refuge,

15 that is, places of refuge for the Israelis, the resident alien, and any travellers among them. Anyone who kills a person inadvertently may flee there."

16 "Whoever uses an iron implement to kill someone is to be adjudged a murderer, and that murderer is certainly to be put to death.

17 "Furthermore, whoever uses a stone implement to kill someone is to be adjudged a murderer, and that murderer is certainly to be put to death.

18 "Also, whoever uses a wooden implement to kill someone with it is to be adjudged a murderer, and that murderer is certainly to be put to death.

19 "The blood avenger himself is to execute the murderer. When he meets him, the blood avenger is to put him to death.

20 If the killer shoved his victim out of hatred, or hurled something at him while waiting in ambush so that he died,

21 or if he struck him with his hand out of hatred so that he dies, then the killer is certainly to be put to death for murder. The avenger of blood is to put him to death when he meets him."

22 "But if he pushed him suddenly without hatred, or had he hurled something in his direction without waiting in ambush,

23 or if he hit him with a stone carelessly so that he was fatally injured, though he isn't his enemy and he wasn't seeking to commit evil against him,

24 then the community is to judge between the inadvertent killer and the blood avenger, following these ordinances.

25 The community is to release the inadvertent killer from the blood avenger and return him to the town of refuge where he had fled. He is to live there until the High Priest dies, who will have anointed him with holy oil.

26 "But if the inadvertent killer leaves the town of refuge where he had fled 27 and the blood avenger finds him outside the town of refuge where he had fled and kills him, the blood avenger is not to be found guilty of murder.
28 The inadvertent killer is to live in the town of refuge until the High Priest dies. After the death of the High Priest, the inadvertent killer is to return to the land of his inheritance.
29 These are to be the statutes and ordinance for you throughout all your generations, regardless of where you live."
30 "Every murderer of a human being is to be executed only according to testimony given by multiple witnesses. A single witness is not to result in a death sentence.
31 "You are to receive no ransom for the life of a killer who is guilty of murder; instead, he is to die.
32 You are not to receive payment of a ransom for someone who had fled to a town of refuge but then left to live in his homeland before the death of the high priest.
33 "You are not to pollute the land where you live, because blood defiles the land, and the land cannot atone for blood that has been spilled on it, except through the blood of the one who spilled it.
34 You are not to defile the land where you will be living, because I'm living among you. I am the LORD, who lives in Israel."

1 Corinthians 7

34 and so his attention is divided. An unmarried woman or virgin is concerned about the affairs of the Lord, so that she may be holy in body and spirit. But a married woman is concerned about the affairs of this world, that is, about how she can please her husband.

35 I'm saying this for your benefit, not to put a noose around your necks, but to promote good order and unhindered devotion to the Lord.

36 If a man thinks he is not behaving properly toward his virgin, and if his passion is so strong that he feels he ought to marry her, let him do what he wants; he isn't sinning. Let them get married.

37 However, if a man stands firm in his resolve, feels no necessity, and has made up his mind to keep her a virgin, he will be acting appropriately.

38 So then the man who marries the virgin acts appropriately, but the man who refrains from marriage does even better.

39 A wife is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to marry anyone she wishes, only in the Lord.

40 However, in my opinion she will be happier if she stays as she is. And in saying this, I think that I, too, have God's Spirit.

1 Corinthians 8

1 Now concerning food offered to idols: We know that we all possess knowledge. Knowledge puffs up, but love builds up.

2 If anyone thinks he really knows something, he has not yet learned it as he ought to know it.

3 But anyone who loves God is known by him.

4 Now concerning eating food offered to idols: We know that no idol is real in this world and that there is only one God.

5 For even if there are "gods" in heaven and on earth (as indeed there are many so-called "gods" and "lords"),

6 yet for us there is only one God, the Father, from whom everything came into being and for whom we live. And there is only one Lord, Jesus the Messiah, through whom everything came into being and through whom we live.

7 But not everyone has this knowledge. Some people are so accustomed to idolatry that when they eat food that has been offered to an idol, their conscience becomes contaminated because it is weak.

8 However, food will not bring us closer to God. We are no worse off if we do not eat food that has been offered to an idol, and no better off if we do.

9 But you must see to it that this right of yours does not become a stumbling block for those who are weak.

10 For if anyone with a weak conscience sees you, who know better, eating in an idol's temple, he will be encouraged to eat what has been offered to idols, won't he?

11 In that case, the weak brother for whom the Messiah died is ruined by your knowledge.

12 When you sin against your brothers in this way and wound their weak consciences, you are sinning against the Messiah.

13 Therefore, if food that I eat causes my brother to stumble, I will never eat meat again, in order to keep my brother from stumbling.

Numbers 36

1 The leaders of the ancestral families of the descendants of Gilead, who were descendants of Machir, and descendants of Manasseh, from Joseph's tribe, approached and spoke to Moses and the leaders of the ancestral houses of the Israelis.

2 "The LORD commanded my master to apportion the land as an inheritance by lot to the Israelis," they said. "Now my master was ordered by the LORD to give the inheritance of our brother Zelophehad to his daughters.

3 "But when they get married to one of the descendants of the tribes of Israel, their inheritances are to be withdrawn from our father's inheritance and added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they are to belong. Consequently, it is to be withdrawn from the portion of our inheritance.

4 "But when the Jubilee Year of the Israelis comes, their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they have come to belong. Their inheritance will thus be taken away from the inheritance of our father's tribe!"

5 So Moses issued the Israelis these orders based on what the LORD said: "The tribe of the descendants of Joseph has spoken.

6 This is what the LORD is commanding the daughters of Zelophehad. If they decide it's a good idea in their opinion to get married only within the family of their father's tribe, then let them get married

7 so that the inheritance of the Israelis won't be turned over from one tribe to another. "Each one has an inheritance from his own father's tribe that the Israelis are to maintain.

8 Every daughter who is in possession of an inheritance from the Israelis is to marry someone from the families within her father's tribe so the Israelis can retain possession of their ancestral inheritance.

9 That way, their inheritance won't be turned over from one tribe to another, because the Israelis are each to maintain their ancestral inheritances."

10 Zelophehad's daughters did just what the LORD had commanded Moses

11 for Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Noah: Zelophehad's daughters married their uncle's sons.

12 They married into families of the descendants of Manasseh, that is, Joseph's descendants, so that their inheritance remained within the tribe of their ancestor's family.

13 These were the commands and the ordinances that the LORD issued to the Israelis through Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River in Jericho.

Deuteronomy 1

1 These are the words that Moses spoke to the assembly of Israel east of the Jordan River, in the Arabah desert, opposite Suph between Paran, Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Di-zahab.

2 It takes 11 days to travel from Horeb to Kadesh-barnea via Mount Seir.

3 On the first day of the eleventh month, in the fortieth year, Moses spoke to the Israelis about everything that the LORD had commanded him concerning them.

4 This took place after he defeated Sihon, king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon and Og, king of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth at Edrei.

5 East of the Jordan River, in the land of Moab, Moses began to expound this Law:

6 "The LORD our God spoke to us in Horeb. He said, 'You have been at this mountain long enough.

7 Break camp, get going, and proceed to the hill country of the Amorites and all the nearby places in the Arabah desert, the highlands, the foothills, the Negev, the coastal plains, all of the land of the Canaanites, and Lebanon as far as the great river, the Euphrates.

8 Look! I've given you the land that lies ahead. Go in and possess the land that I, the LORD, promised to give to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as well as to their descendants."

9 "I also told you at that time that I won't be able to sustain you on my own.

10 The LORD your God greatly multiplied your numbers, and today you are like the stars in the sky.

11 May the LORD, the God of your ancestors, increase your numbers a thousand times more, and may he bless you, as he promised you.

12 How can I bear the burden of you and your bickering all by myself?

13 Choose for yourselves wise and discerning men, known to your tribes, and appoint them as your leaders.

14 "You answered by saying that this plan is a good thing.

15 So I chose leaders from your tribes, wise and respected men, and I appointed them over you — commanders of thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens.

16 "I charged your judges at that time, 'When you hold a hearing between brothers, judge fairly between a man and his brother or between foreigners.

17 When you hold a hearing, don't be partial in judgement toward the least important or toward the great. Never fear men, because judgement belongs to God. If the matter is difficult for you, bring it to me for a hearing.

18 I charged you at that time that you must do all of these things."

19 "Then we set out from Horeb and walked through that vast and dreadful desert, where you observed the road to the Amorite hill country. Just as the LORD our God ordained for us, we finally arrived at Kadesh-barnea.

20 I told you at that time, 'You have reached the hill country of the Amorites, which the LORD our God is about to give us.

21 Look! The LORD your God has given the land that lies before you. Go and possess it, just as the LORD God of your ancestors commanded you. Don't be afraid or discouraged.'

22 "Then all of you approached me and said: 'Let's send out men in advance of us so they can survey the land and bring back a report to us on how we'll go up to their cities.'

23 Because this suggestion seemed good to me, I chose twelve men from among you, one from each tribe.

24 "Then these men set out, went up to the hill county, reached the Eshcol Valley, and surveyed it.

25 They hand-picked some of the fruit of the land, brought it down to us, and gave a report that said, 'The land which the LORD is about to give us is good.'"

26 "However, your ancestors didn't go up. Instead, they rebelled against the command of the LORD your God.

27 You murmured in your tents, 'The LORD hates us. He brought us out of the land of Egypt in order to deliver us to the Amorites so he could destroy us.

28 Where can we go? Our brothers discouraged us when they said that the people are bigger and taller than we are. Their cities are tall and fortified to the sky, and we also saw the Anakim there.'

29 "Then I told you, 'Don't be terrified or afraid of them.

30 The LORD your God is the One who will be going ahead of you. He'll fight for you just as he did in Egypt before your eyes.

31 In the desert you saw that the LORD carried you like a man carries his son, on every road you travelled until you reached this place.'

32 But despite this, you didn't trust in the LORD your God,

33 who walked ahead of you along the way to scout a place for you to pitch camp — by fire at night and cloud by day — to lead you on the way you should go."

34 "When the LORD heard your complaints, he became angry and declared,

35 'I swear that not one man of this evil generation will see the good land that I promised to give to your ancestors,

36 except Jephunneh's son Caleb. He will see it and I will give to him and to his descendants the land on which he has walked because he wholeheartedly followed the LORD.'

37 "The LORD was also furious with me because of you. He said: 'You will not enter the land.

38 However, Nun's son Joshua, your assistant, will go there. Encourage him, for he will cause Israel to take possession of it.

39 Your little ones — whom you said would be taken captive — and your children who do not yet know right from wrong, will enter the land. I will give it to them and they themselves will possess it.

40 But as for you, prepare to set out for the desert on the way to the Reed Sea.'

41 "You responded to me and said, 'We have sinned against the LORD. We will now go up and fight according to what the LORD our God commanded.' So each man put on his weapon for battle and recklessly started out for the hill country."

42 "Then the LORD told me: 'Tell them not to go up and fight because I will not be in their midst, or else you will be defeated before your enemies.'

43 "I spoke to you but you didn't listen. Instead you rebelled against the command of the LORD and went up to the hill country.

44 The Amorites who lived in the hill country came out to engage you in battle. They pursued you like bees do and crushed you from Seir to Hormah.

45 You returned and cried out in the LORD's presence, but the LORD didn't hear your voice or listen to you.

46 You remained in Kadesh for many days. It was a long time, indeed."

1 Corinthians 9

- 1 I am free, am I not? I am an apostle, am I not? I have seen Jesus our Lord, haven't I? You are the result of my work in the Lord, aren't you?
- 2 If I am not an apostle to other people, surely I am one to you, for you are the evidence of my apostolic authority from the Lord.
- 3 This is my defence to those who would examine me:
- 4 We have the right to earn our food, don't we?
- 5 We have the right to take a believing wife with us like the other apostles, the Lord's brothers, and Cephas, don't we?
- 6 Or is it only Barnabas and I who have to keep on working for a living?
- 7 Who ever goes to war at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat any of its grapes? Or who takes care of a flock and does not drink any of its milk?
- 8 I am not saying this on human authority, am I? The Law says the same thing, doesn't it?
- 9 For in the Law of Moses it is written, "You must not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain." God is not only concerned about oxen, is he?
- 10 Isn't he really speaking for our benefit? Yes, this was written for our benefit, because the one who ploughs should plough in hope, and the one who threshes should thresh in hope of sharing in the crop.
- 11 If we have sown spiritual seed among you, is it too much if we reap material benefits from you?
- 12 If others enjoy this right over you, don't we have a stronger claim? But we did not use this right. On the contrary, we tolerate everything in order not to put an obstacle in the way of the gospel of the Messiah.
- 13 You know that those who work in the Temple get their food from the Temple and that those who serve at the altar get their share of its offerings, don't you?
- 14 In the same way, the Lord has ordered that those who proclaim the gospel should make their living from the gospel.
- 15 But I have not used any of these rights, and I'm not writing this so that they may be applied in my case. I would rather die than let anyone deprive me of my reason for boasting.
- 16 For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to boast about, for this obligation has been entrusted to me. How terrible it would be for me if I didn't preach the gospel!
- 17 For if I preach voluntarily, I get a reward, but if I am unwilling to do it, I am still entrusted with that obligation.
- 18 What, then, is my reward? It is to be able to preach the gospel free of charge, and so I never resort to demanding my rights when I'm preaching the gospel.
- 19 Although I am free from everyone's expectations, I have made myself a servant to all of them to win more people.
- 20 To the Jews I became like a Jew in order to win Jews. To those under the Law I became like a man under the Law, in order to win those under the Law (although I myself am not under the Law).
- 21 To those who do not have the Law, I became like a man who does not have the Law in order to win those who do not have the Law. However, I am not free from God's Law, but I'm subject to the Messiah's law.
- 22 To the weak I became weak in order to win the weak. I have become all things to all people so that by all possible means I might save some of them.
- 23 I do all this for the sake of the gospel in order to have a share in its blessings.

20th March

Deuteronomy 2

- 1 "We turned and set out for the desert on the road to the Reed Sea just as the LORD had directed me. We travelled around Mount Seir for many days.
- 2 "Then the LORD told me,
- 3 'You went around this mountain long enough. Turn northward
- 4 and command this people, "You are about to pass through the territory of your relatives, the descendants of Esau who live around Seir. They will be afraid of you so be very careful.
- 5 Don't fight them, because I won't give you any part of their land, not even the size of a footprint. I have given Mount Seir to Esau as their property.
- 6 You may buy food to eat and water to drink from them, paying with cash.'"
- 7 Indeed, the LORD your God blessed all the works of your hands. He knows about your travels through this vast desert. The LORD your God was with you this past 40 years, so that you didn't lack anything.
- 8 So we bypassed our relatives, the descendants of Esau who live in Seir. We turned through the Arabah desert from Elath, and from Ezion-geber we travelled the desert road to Moab."
- 9 "Then the LORD told me, 'Don't harass Moab or provoke them to war, because I won't give you any part of their land. I have given Ar to the descendants of Lot as their property.
- 10 (The Emites, a people as powerful, numerous, and tall as the Anakim, lived there before.
- 11 Like the Anakim, they were thought of as Rephaim, but the Moabites called them Emites.
- 12 The Horites used to live in Seir before the descendants of Esau dispossessed them, exterminated them, and settled there instead, just as Israel will do in the land of its possession, which the LORD gave them).
- 13 Now get going and cross the Wadi Zered.' And so we crossed the Wadi Zered.
- 14 "Now from the time we left Kadesh-barnea until we crossed the Wadi Zered was 38 years. All of that generation, the soldiers in the camp, were destroyed just as the LORD swore they would be.
- 15 Indeed, the hand of the LORD was against them to root them out from the camp until they were utterly destroyed."
- 16 "And so all the soldiers among the people died.
- 17 Then the LORD spoke to me,
- 18 'Today, you are about to cross the border of Moab at Ar.
- 19 When you come to the Ammonites, don't harass or provoke them to war, for I won't give any part of Ammonite land to you, since I have given it to the descendants of Lot as their property.'
- 20 ""(Indeed, it was considered Rephaim territory, since the Rephaim used to lived there. The Ammonites called them Zamzummities,
- 21 a great people, numerous, and tall as the Anakim. But the LORD destroyed the Rephaim, so that the Ammonites dispossessed them and settled there instead.
- 22 This is what he did for the descendants of Esau who live in Seir, when he destroyed the Horites before them. So they dispossessed them and settled there in their place, where they live to this day.
- 23 It was the same for the Avvites who lived in villages as far as Gaza. The Caphtorites, who came from Crete, destroyed them and settled there in their place).

24 "Get ready and set out for the Wadi Arnon. Look! I've given into your control Sihon king of Heshbon, the Amorite, along with his land. Prepare to take possession by provoking him to war.

25 Starting today I will begin to instil fear and terror of you on the part of every nation under heaven who hears reports about you. They'll tremble in anguish before you."

26 "I sent messengers from the desert of Kedemoth to Sihon king of Heshbon, with this message of peace:

27 'Let me pass through your territory. I'll stay on the main road. I won't turn to the right or left.

28 Sell me food for cash so I can eat and give me water for cash, so I can drink. Just let me pass through on foot

29 as the descendants of Esau who live in Seir did for me, as did the Moabites who live in Ar. I'll pass through, until I will have crossed the Jordan into the land that the LORD our God is about to give us.'

30 But Sihon king of Heshbon did not allow us to pass through, because the LORD your God had hardened his spirit and made him arrogant, in order to deliver him into your control today.

31 "Then the LORD told me, 'See, I've begun to deliver Sihon and his territory over to you. Prepare to take possession of his land.'

32 "Sihon came out to meet us, including his entire army, at the battle of Jahaz.

33 The LORD our God delivered him to us, so we attacked him, his son, and his whole army.

34 We captured all his towns at that time. We utterly destroyed every town — the men, the women, and the children, leaving no survivors.

35 We only appropriated the livestock for our use, along with plunder from the cities that we captured.

36 From Aroer on the edge of Arnon Valley and from the town all the way to Gilead, there was no city that was too strong for us — the LORD our God delivered them all to us.

37 You did not encroach onto Ammonite land, the banks of the Wadi Jabbok, the towns in the hill country, and all the other places that were forbidden by the LORD our God."

Deuteronomy 3

1 "We set out and went up along the road to Bashan. Then Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us — he and his whole army — for a battle at Edrei.

2 "Then the LORD told me, 'Don't fear him, because I've delivered him, his army, and his territory into your control. Do to him just as you have done to Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon.'

3 "So the LORD our God also delivered into our control Og king of Bashan, along with his whole army. We attacked him until there were no survivors.

4 Then we captured all his cities at that time. There was not a city left that we didn't capture from them — sixty cities in all from the region of Argob, which is part of the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

5 All of these cities were fortified with high walls, gates, and bars. Furthermore, there were very many unwallled regions.

6 We utterly destroyed them, just as we did Sihon king of Heshbon, attacking them in every city — the men, women, and children.

7 But we kept for ourselves all of the livestock and plunder from the towns.

8 "So at that time we took from the two Amorite kings control of the territory east of the Jordan from Wadi Arnon to Mount Hermon.

9 (The Sidonians called Hermon Sirion, but the Amorites called it Senir).

10 We took control of all the cities of the plain, all of Gilead and Bashan as far as Salecah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

11 Only Og the king of Bashan remained from the remnants of the Rephaim. In fact, his bed was made of iron. It's in Rabbah of the Ammonites, isn't it? It's about thirteen and a half feet long and six feet wide."

12 "Of the land that we captured at that time, I've given its towns to the descendants of Reuben and the descendants of Gad from Aroer near the Wadi Arnon to half of the hill country of Gilead.

13 The remainder of Gilead and Bashan of the kingdom of Og, I've given to the half-tribe of Manasseh. (The whole region of Argob — that is, all of Bashan — is called the land of the Rephaim).

14 Manasseh's son Jair captured all the Argob region as far as the territory of the descendants of Geshur and the descendants of Maacath. Bashan was named after him; that's why it is called Havvoth-jair to this day.

15 Furthermore, I've given Gilead to Machir.

16 And I've given Gilead to the descendants of Reuben and the descendants of Gad as far as the Arnon Valley, designating the middle of the valley as its boundary, including up to the Jabbok River as a boundary with the Ammonites.

17 The Arabah and the Jordan River are also a boundary from Chinnereth to the Sea of the Arabah (that is, the Salt Sea), below the slopes of Pisgah on the east."

18 "Then I commanded you at that time, 'The Lord your God gave you this land as a possession. Those equipped for battle — every man a warrior — will cross before your fellow Israelis.

19 However, your women, children, and livestock — and I know you have many — may reside in your towns that I gave you

20 until the LORD grants rest to your fellow Israelis like you. When they take possession of the territory that the LORD your God is about to give them on the east side of the Jordan River, then each of you may return to the territory that I've allotted for you.'

21 "I also charged Joshua at that time, 'You witnessed everything that the LORD your God did to the two kings. Indeed, the LORD will do this to all the kingdoms which you are about to enter.

22 You are not to fear them, because the LORD your God will fight for you.'"

23 "I pleaded with the LORD at that time,

24 'LORD God, you've begun to show your greatness and your strong power to your servant. For what god in heaven or on earth can equal your works and mighty deeds?

25 Let me cross over that I may see the good land on the other side of the Jordan River, the good hill country, as well as Lebanon.'

26 "However, the LORD was furious with me because of you. He did not listen to me. Instead, the LORD said, 'You are not to speak to me about this matter again!

27 Go up to the top of Pisgah and lift your eyes toward the west, north, south, and east. Look with your own eyes, since you won't be able to cross this Jordan River.

28 Therefore charge Joshua to be doubly strong, for he will lead this people and cause them to inherit the land that you'll see.'

29 We then encamped in the valley opposite Beth-peor."

1 Corinthians 9

24 You know that in a race all the runners run but only one wins the prize, don't you? You must run in such a way that you may be victorious.

25 Everyone who enters an athletic contest practises self-control in everything. They do it to win a wreath that withers away, but we run to win a prize that never fades.

26 That is the way I run, with a clear goal in mind. That is the way I fight, not like someone shadow boxing.

27 No, I keep on disciplining my body, making it serve me so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not somehow be disqualified.

1 Corinthians 10

1 Now I do not want you to be ignorant, brothers, of the fact that all of our ancestors who left Egypt were under the cloud. They all went through the sea,

2 and they all were immersed into Moses in the cloud and in the sea.

3 They all ate the same spiritual food

4 and drank the same spiritual drink, for they drank from the spiritual rock that went with them. That rock was the Messiah.

5 But God wasn't pleased with most of those people, and so they were struck down in the wilderness.

6 Now their experiences serve as examples for us so that we won't set our hearts on evil as they did.

7 Let's stop being idolaters, as some of them were. As it is written, "The people sat down to eat and drink and got up to play."

8 Let's stop sinning sexually, as some of them were doing, and on a single day 23,000 fell dead.

9 Let's stop putting the Lord to the test, as some of them were doing, and were destroyed by snakes.

10 You must stop complaining, as some of them were doing, and were annihilated by the destroyer.

11 These things happened to them to serve as an example, and they were written down as a warning for us in whom the culmination of the ages has been attained.

12 Therefore, whoever thinks he is standing securely should watch out so he doesn't fall.

13 No temptation has overtaken you that is unusual for human beings. But God is faithful, and he will not allow you to be tempted beyond your strength. Instead, along with the temptation he will also provide a way out, so that you may be able to endure it.

14 And so, my dear friends, keep on running away from idolatry.

15 I am talking to sensible people. Apply what I am saying to yourselves.

16 The cup of blessing that we bless is a sign of our sharing in the blood of the Messiah, isn't it? The bread that we break is a sign of our sharing in the body of the Messiah, isn't it?

17 Because there is one loaf, we who are many are one body, because all of us eat from the same loaf.

Deuteronomy 4

- 1 "Now, Israel, listen to the statutes and the ordinances that I'm teaching you to observe so you may live and go in to take possession of the land that the LORD, the God of your ancestors, is about to give you.
- 2 Do not add or subtract a thing to what I'm commanding you. Observe the commands of the LORD your God.
- 3 "You saw with your own eyes what he did in Baal Peor. The LORD your God exterminated from among you every man who followed Baal of Peor.
- 4 But all of you who are clinging to the LORD your God are alive today.
- 5 See! I taught you the statutes and the ordinances, just as the LORD God commanded. Therefore, observe them when you enter the land you are about to possess.
- 6 Observe them carefully, for this will show your wisdom and discernment in the eyes of people who'll listen to all these decrees. Then they'll say: 'Surely this great nation is a wise and discerning people.'
- 7 For what great nation has a god so near like the LORD our God whenever we call on him?
- 8 And what great nation has all the decrees and righteous ordinances like all this teaching that I'm giving you today?
- 9 Only guard yourselves carefully so you won't forget the things that you saw and let them slip from your mind for the rest of your life. Tell them to your children and to your grandchildren.
- 10 The day you stood in the presence of the LORD your God in Horeb, the Lord told me, 'Gather the people before me so they may hear my words, learn to revere me the whole time that they live in the land, and teach them to their children.'
- 11 "When you approached and stood at the foot of the mountain — a mountain that was blazing with fire at its core while the sky was covered with thick, dark clouds —
- 12 the LORD your God spoke from the midst of the fire. You heard the sound of words, but you saw no form; there was only a voice.
- 13 He declared to you his covenant, which he commanded you to observe — the Ten Commandments that he wrote on two stone tablets.
- 14 The LORD commanded me at that time to teach you to observe the statutes and ordinances in the land after you cross over to take possession of it.
- 15 "Therefore, for your own sake, be very careful, since you did not see any form on the day that the LORD your God spoke to you in Horeb from the midst of the fire.
- 16 Be careful! Otherwise, you will be destroyed when you make carved images for yourself — all sorts of images in the form of man, woman,
- 17 any animal on earth, any winged bird that flies in the sky,
- 18 any creeping thing on the ground, or any fish in the sea.
- 19 Do not gaze toward the heavens and observe the sun, the moon, the stars — the entire array of the sky — with the intent to worship and serve what the LORD your God gave every nation.
- 20 For the LORD took you and brought you out of the iron-smelting furnace — out of Egypt — to be the people of his inheritance, as you are today.
- 21 "But the LORD was angry with me because of you. So he swore that I'll never cross the Jordan River to enter the good land that the LORD your God is about to give you as an inheritance.
- 22 For I'm going to die in this land and I won't cross the Jordan River, but you're about to cross over to possess that good land.
- 23 Be careful! Otherwise, you will forget the covenant of the LORD your God, who established that covenant with you. Don't make carved images of any likeness in violation of everything that you were commanded by the LORD your God.

24 Indeed, the LORD your God is a consuming fire. He is a jealous God."

25 "After you've borne children and grandchildren, have been there for a long time in the land, have become so corrupted that you make images of any form, and have done evil in the eyes of the LORD your God, you will provoke him to anger.

26 Heaven and earth will testify against what has occurred today: you'll surely and swiftly be destroyed from the land that you are about to possess by crossing the Jordan River. You won't live long in it, because you'll certainly be exterminated.

27 Moreover, the LORD will scatter you among the peoples, and you'll be fewer in number in the nations where the LORD your God will drive you.

28 There you'll serve gods made by human hands, serving trees and stones that cannot see, hear, eat, nor smell.

29 "If from there you will seek the LORD your God, then you will find him if you seek him with all your heart and soul.

30 "In your distress, when all these things happen to you in days to come and you return to the LORD your God, then you will hear his voice.

31 For God is compassionate. The LORD your God won't fail you. He won't destroy you or forget the covenant that he confirmed with your ancestors."

32 "Indeed, ask from one end of the heavens to the other about days of old, before your time when God created mankind on the earth. Did we ever have anything as great as this, or ever hear of anything like it?

33 Has any people heard the voice of God speaking from the middle of a fire just as you did, and survived it?

34 Or has any god ever taken for himself one nation out from another nation with testings, signs, wonders, wars, awesome power, and magnificent, terrifying deeds as the LORD your God did in Egypt before your eyes?

35 "You have been shown this in order to know that 'the LORD is God' and there is no one like him.

36 You have been made to hear his voice from heaven so you may be instructed. And he showed you his great fire here on earth, and you heard his voice from the middle of that fire.

37 Moreover, he loved your ancestors, chose their descendants after them, and brought you out of Egypt, accompanied by his presence and great power, 38 in order to drive out nations that are stronger and more powerful than you, to bring you into this land, and to give you their land as an inheritance, as it is today.

39 "May you acknowledge and take to heart this day that the LORD is God in the heavens above and over the earth below — there is no other God.

40 May you observe his statutes and keep his commands that I'm giving you today, so that life may go well for you and for your descendants after you. That way, you'll live a long life in the land that the LORD your God is about to give you permanently."

41 Then Moses designated three cities on the east side of the Jordan,

42 where a person who accidentally killed someone could flee, if he killed his neighbour without having enmity toward him in the past. He may flee to one of these cities and live:

43 Bezer in the desert plain for the descendants of Reuben, Ramoth in Gilead for the descendants of Gad, and Golan in Bashan for the descendants of Manasseh.

44 This is the Law that Moses reviewed in the presence of the Israelis.

45 These are the instructions, decrees, and ordinances that Moses declared to the Israelis when they came out of Egypt.

46 He did this east of the Jordan, in the valley opposite Beth Peor, in the land of Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and whom Moses and the Israelis defeated after leaving Egypt.

47 So they took possession of his land, as well as the land of Og king of Bashan. Both Amorite kings lived east of the Jordan —

48 from Aroer on the edge of the Wadi Arnon as far as Mount Sirion, which is also called Hermon,
49 and all the Arabah east of the Jordan as far as the Dead Sea below the slopes of Pisgah.

Deuteronomy 5

1 Moses called all of Israel together and told them: "Listen, Israel! Today I'm going to announce God's laws and regulations so that you will learn them and take care to obey them.

2 When the LORD our God made a covenant with us in Horeb,

3 it was not with our ancestors that the LORD made this covenant, but with us — we who are here today — all of us who are now living.

4 The LORD spoke to you face to face on the mountain from the fire.

5 I stood at that time as mediator between the LORD and you to declare his message to you, because you were afraid of the fire and would not go up the mountain. He said:

6 "I am the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt — from the house of slavery.

7 You are to have no other gods besides me.

8 "You are not to make for yourselves a carved image resembling any form in the heavens above, on earth below, or in the waters under the earth.

9 You are not to bow down to them in worship or serve them; because I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, punishing the children for the iniquity of their parents, to the third and fourth generations of those who hate me,

10 but showing gracious love to the thousandth generation of those who love me and keep my commandments.

11 "You are not to misuse the name of the LORD your God, because the LORD will not leave the one who misuses his name unpunished.

1 Corinthians 10

18 Look at the Israelis from a human point of view. Those who eat the sacrifices share in what is on the altar, don't they?

19 Am I suggesting that an offering made to idols means anything, or that an idol itself means anything?

20 Hardly! What they offer, they offer to demons and not to God, and I do not want you to become partners with demons.

21 You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons. You cannot dine with the Lord and dine with demons, 22 or you'll provoke the Lord to jealousy, won't you? Are we stronger than he is?

23 Everything is permissible, but not everything is helpful. Everything is permissible, but not everything builds up.

24 No one should seek his own welfare, but rather his neighbour's.

25 Eat anything that is sold in the meat market without raising any question about it on the grounds of conscience,

26 for "the earth and everything in it belong to the Lord."

27 If an unbeliever invites you to his house and you wish to go, eat whatever is set before you, raising no question on the grounds of conscience.

28 However, if someone says to you, "This was offered as a sacrifice," don't eat it, both out of consideration for the one who told you and also for the sake of conscience.

29 I mean, of course, his conscience, not yours. For why should my freedom be determined by someone else's conscience?

30 If I eat with thankfulness, why should I be denounced because of what I am thankful for?

31 Therefore, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do everything for the glory of God.

32 Don't become a stumbling block to Jews or Greeks or to the church of God,

33 just as I myself try to please everybody in every way. I don't look out for my own benefit, but rather for the benefit of many people, so that they might be saved.

1 Corinthians 11

1 Imitate me, as I do the Messiah.

2 I praise you for remembering everything I told you and for holding to the traditions that I passed on to you.

22nd March

Deuteronomy 5

- 12 "Keep the Sabbath day holy, just as the LORD your God commanded.
- 13 Six days you are to labour and do all your work,
- 14 but the seventh day is a Sabbath for the LORD your God. You are not to do any work: neither you, your children, your male and female servants, your oxen and donkeys, all your livestock, as well as the foreigners who live among you, so that your male and female servants may rest as you do.
- 15 Remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, but the LORD your God brought you out from there with great power and a show of force. Therefore the LORD your God has commanded you to observe the Sabbath day.
- 16 "Honour your father and your mother, just as the LORD your God commanded you, so that your life will be long and things will go well for you in the land that the LORD your God is giving you.
- 17 "You are not to murder.
- 18 "You are not to commit adultery.
- 19 "You are not to steal.
- 20 "You are not to testify falsely against your neighbour.
- 21 "You are not to desire your neighbour's wife, or covet your neighbour's house, fields, his male and female servants, his ox, his donkey, or anything that concerns your neighbour."
- 22 "These commands the LORD declared in a loud voice to your entire assembly on the mountain from out of the fire and dark clouds, and nothing more was added. He inscribed them on two tablets of stones and gave them to me.
- 23 "When you heard the voice from the darkness while the mountain was blazing, all the leaders and elders of your tribes came to me and said:
- 24 'The LORD our God truly has displayed his glory and power, for we heard him from out of the fire today. We have witnessed how God spoke to human beings, yet they lived.
- 25 Now therefore, why should we die? This great fire will consume us. If we continue to listen to the voice of the LORD our God any longer, we'll die.
- 26 For what mortal man has heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the fire like we did, and lived?
- 27 As for you, go near and listen to everything that the LORD our God will say to you. Then repeat it to us, then we will listen and obey.'
- 28 "The LORD heard what you said. He told me: 'I've heard what this people said. Everything they said was good.
- 29 If only they would commit to fear me and keep all my commands, then it will go well with them and their children forever.
- 30 "'Go and tell them to return to their tents,
- 31 but you stand here with me and I'll speak to you all the commands, decrees, and laws that you must teach them to observe in the land that I'm giving you to possess.
- 32 You must be careful to do what the LORD your God commanded you, turning neither to the left nor to the right.
- 33 Walk in every way that the LORD your God commanded you, so that life may go well for you, and so that you will prolong your days in the land that you will possess.'"

Deuteronomy 6

1 "Now these are the commands, decrees, and ordinances that the LORD commanded me to teach you. Obey them in the land you are entering to possess,
2 so that you, your children, and your grandchildren may fear the LORD your God. Keep all his decrees and commandments that I'm giving you every day of your life, so you may live a long time.
3 "Listen, Israel! Be careful to obey, so that life may go well for you and that you may increase greatly. Just as the LORD God of your ancestors told you, you'll have a land flowing with milk and honey.
4 "Listen, Israel! The LORD is our God, the LORD alone.
5 You are to love the LORD your God with all your heart, all your soul, and all your strength.
6 "Let these words that I'm commanding you today be always on your heart.
7 Teach them repeatedly to your children. Talk about them while sitting in your house or walking on the road, and as you lie down or get up.
8 Tie them as reminders on your forearm, bind them on your forehead,
9 and write them on the door frames of your house and on your gates."
10 "When the LORD your God brings you to the land that he promised to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, he will give you large and beautiful cities that you didn't build,
11 houses filled with every good thing that you didn't supply, wells that you didn't dig, and vineyards and olive groves that you didn't plant. When you eat and are satisfied,
12 be careful not to forget the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt and slavery.
13 Fear the LORD your God, serve him, and make your oaths in his name.
14 Do not follow other gods, from the gods of the peoples around you.
15 For the LORD your God who is among you is a jealous God. He will turn his anger against you and destroy you from the surface of the land."
16 "Don't test the LORD your God like you tried to do in Massah.
17 Be sure to observe the commands of the LORD your God, his testimonies and his decrees that he gave you.
18 Do what is good and right in the LORD's sight so it may go well with you. Then you'll enter and possess the good land that the LORD your God promised to your ancestors,
19 expelling all your enemies before you, as the LORD said."
20 "When your son asks you in the future, 'What is the meaning of the instructions, decrees, and ordinances that the LORD our God commanded you?'
21 tell him, 'We were slaves to Pharaoh in Egypt, but the LORD brought us out of Egypt with great power.
22 Before our very eyes, the LORD did great and terrible signs and wonders in Egypt, to Pharaoh, and to his entire household.
23 But as for us, he brought us out from there to bring us into the land and give it to us, as he promised our ancestors.
24 Then the LORD commanded us to observe all these decrees and to fear the LORD our God for our own good, so that he may keep us alive as we are today.
25 It will be credited as righteousness for us, if we're careful to obey the entire Law in the presence of the LORD our God, as he commanded.'"

Deuteronomy 7

1 "When the LORD your God brings you into the land that you are entering to possess, he will drive out many nations before you: the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites, seven nations who are more numerous and stronger than you.

2 So when the LORD your God delivers them to you and you have defeated them, then utterly destroy them. You are not to make any covenant with them nor be gracious to them.

3 You are not to intermarry with them. You are not to give your daughters to their sons nor take their daughters for your sons,

4 because they will turn your children from me to serve other gods so that the LORD's anger blazes against you and swiftly destroys you by fire.

5 This is what you will do to them: tear down their altars, break their pillars, cut down their ritual pillars, and burn their carved idols in fire,

6 because you are a holy people to the LORD your God. The LORD your God chose you to be his people, his treasured possession from all the peoples on the face of the earth."

7 "It was not because you were more numerous than other people of the earth that the LORD committed himself to you and chose you. In fact, you were the least numerous of all the peoples.

8 But the LORD loved you and kept his oath that he made to your ancestors. The LORD brought you out with great power from slavery, from the control of Pharaoh, king of Egypt.

9 "Know that the LORD your God is God, the trusted God who faithfully keeps his covenant to the thousandth generation of those who love him and obey his commands.

10 But for the one who hates him, he will repay him by destroying him. He will not delay dealing with someone who hates him.

11 Therefore keep the commands, decrees, and the ordinances that I am instructing you to obey today."

12 "If you pay attention to these laws and obey them, then the LORD your God will continue with you his covenant of gracious love that he promised with an oath to your ancestors.

13 He will love you and increase your numbers. He will bless the fruit of your womb, the fruit of your land (the grain, new wine, and oil), the offspring of your herds, and the lambs of your flock, in the land that the LORD promised your ancestors he would give you.

14 You will be blessed among all the nations. There will be no infertility among you, not even among your herds.

15 The LORD will turn aside every disease from you. He will not inflict on you the terrible diseases you knew in Egypt, but will inflict them instead on all who hate you.

16 You are to utterly destroy everyone whom the LORD your God will deliver to you. Do not have pity on them nor serve their gods. Otherwise, they will become a snare for you."

1 Corinthians 11

3 Now I want you to realize that the Messiah is the head of every man, and man is the head of the woman, and God is the head of the Messiah.

4 Every man who prays or prophesies with something on his head dishonours his head,
5 and every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonours her head, which is the same as having her head shaved.

6 So if a woman does not cover her head, she should cut off her hair. If it is a disgrace for a woman to cut off her hair or shave her head, let her cover her own head.

7 A man should not cover his head, because he exists as God's image and glory. But the woman is man's glory.

8 For man did not come from woman, but woman from man;

9 and man was not created for woman, but woman for man.

10 This is why a woman should have authority over her own head: because of the angels.

11 In the Lord, however, woman is not independent of man, nor is man of woman.

12 For as woman came from man, so man comes through woman. But everything comes from God.

13 Decide for yourselves: Is it proper for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered?

14 Nature itself teaches you neither that it is disgraceful for a man to have long hair

15 nor that hair is a woman's glory, since hair is given as a substitute for coverings.

16 But if anyone wants to argue about this, we do not have any custom like this, nor do any of God's churches.

17 Now I am not praising you in giving you the following instructions. When you gather, it is not for the better but for the worse.

18 For in the first place, I hear that when you gather as a church there are divisions among you, and I partly believe it.

19 Of course, there must be factions among you to show which of you are genuine!

20 When you gather in the same place, it is not to eat the Lord's Supper.

21 For as you eat, each of you rushes to eat his own supper, and one person goes hungry while another gets drunk.

22 You have homes in which to eat and drink, don't you? Or do you despise God's church and humiliate those who have nothing? What should I say to you? Should I praise you? I will not praise you for this!

Deuteronomy 7

17 "You may say to yourselves, 'These nations are more numerous than we are. How can we dispossess them?'

18 But you must not fear them. Be sure to remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and all of Egypt.

19 Your eyes saw the great trials, the signs and wonders, the awesome power with which the LORD your God brought you out. "The LORD your God will do the same to all the people whom you fear.

20 He'll send plagues against them until the survivors who hide from you have perished.

21 Do not tremble before them, for the LORD your God, who is among you, is a great and awesome God.

22 He slowly will dislodge these nations before you, but he will not destroy them quickly, so the wild animals won't multiply around you.

23 But the LORD your God will deliver them over to you, throwing them into great confusion until they are destroyed.

24 He will deliver kings into your control, and you will wipe out the memory of them from under heaven. No one will be able to stand before you. You are to utterly destroy them.

25 Burn the images of their gods in the fire. Desire neither the silver nor the gold that adorns them, nor take them for yourselves, so you won't be ensnared by them, because the gold and silver is detestable to the LORD your God.

26 Do not bring any detestable thing to your house, because you yourself will be utterly destroyed along with these detestable things. You must absolutely abhor and detest all of it, because it has been devoted to destruction."

Deuteronomy 8

1 "Be careful to observe every command that I'm instructing you today, in order that you may live, increase, and enter and take possession of the land that the LORD promised by an oath to your ancestors.

2 "Remember how the LORD your God led you all the way these 40 years in the desert, to humble and test you in order to make known what was in your heart, whether or not you would keep his commands.

3 He humbled you, causing you to be hungry, yet he fed you with manna that neither you nor your ancestors had known, in order to teach you that human beings are not to live by food alone — instead human beings are to live by every word that proceeds from the mouth of the LORD.

4 "The clothes you wore did not wear out, nor did your feet blister during these 40 years.

5 Be convinced in your heart that as a father disciplines his son, so the LORD your God disciplines you.

6 Observe the commands of the LORD your God by walking in his ways and by fearing him, 7 because the LORD your God is bringing you to a good land — a land with rivers and deep springs flowing to the valleys and hills.

8 It's a land filled with wheat, barley, vines, fig trees, and pomegranates. It's a land filled with olive oil and honey —

9 a land without scarcity. You'll eat food in it and lack nothing. It's a land where its rocks are iron and you can dig copper from its mountains."

10 "When you have eaten and are satisfied, bless the LORD your God for the good land that he has given you.

11 Be careful! Otherwise, you will forget the LORD your God by failing to keep his commands, ordinances, and statutes that I'm commanding you this day.

12 Otherwise, when you eat and are satisfied, when you have built beautiful houses and lived in them,
13 when your cattle and oxen multiply, when your silver and gold increase,
14 then you will become arrogant. You'll neglect the LORD your God,
15 who brought you out of the land of Egypt, from the house of slavery, and who led you through the vast and dangerous desert, that parched land without water, with its poisonous snakes and scorpions. He brought water out of solid rock for you,
16 and fed you in the desert with manna that neither you nor your ancestors had known, to humble and test you so that things go well with you later.
17 "You may say to yourselves, 'I have become wealthy by my own strength and by my own ability.'
18 But remember the LORD your God, because he is the one who gives you the ability to produce wealth, in order to confirm his covenant that he promised by an oath to your ancestors, as is the case today.
19 If you neglect the LORD your God, follow other gods, and serve and worship them, I testify to you today that you will certainly be destroyed.
20 Just like the nations whom the LORD destroyed before you, so will you be destroyed, because you did not listen to the voice of the LORD your God."

Deuteronomy 9

1 "Listen, Israel! Today you are about to cross the Jordan to enter and dispossess greater and mightier nations than you, who live in large cities that are fortified to the sky.
2 The Anakim are strong and tall, and you know them. You've heard it said, 'Who can stand up against the Anakim?'
3 But know today that the LORD your God is going ahead of you as a consuming fire. He will destroy and subdue them before you. He will dispossess and destroy them quickly, just as the LORD told you.
4 After the LORD has expelled them before you, you are not to say to yourselves, 'The LORD caused me to enter and possess this land because of my righteousness.'
5 On the contrary, it is because of the wickedness of these nations that the LORD is dispossessing them before you to confirm what the LORD promised by an oath to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
6 Know that it is not because of your righteousness that the LORD your God is giving to you this good land to inherit, for you are a stubborn people."
7 "Remember — and don't ever forget — how you provoked the LORD your God in the desert. From the day that you came out of the land of Egypt until you came to this place you have been rebelling against the LORD.
8 At Horeb you continuously rebelled against the LORD, so that he was angry enough to destroy you.
9 "Then I went up to the mountain to receive the two stone Tablets of the Covenant that the LORD had established with you. I stayed on the mountain for 40 days and nights without eating food or drinking water.
10 Then the LORD gave me the two stone tablets on which God inscribed with his own finger all the words that the LORD spoke to you on the mountain from the middle of the fire that day when you were all assembled together.
11 At the end of 40 days and nights, the LORD gave to me the two stone Tablets of the Covenant.
12 "Then the LORD told me, 'Get going! Go down from here at once! Your people whom you brought out of Egypt have become corrupt. They have turned quickly from the way that I commanded them, and have cast an idol for their use.'
13 "Then the LORD told me, 'I have examined this people, and they are stubborn indeed.

14 Let me alone! I will destroy them and blot out their name under heaven. Then I'll make you into a nation that will be mighty and more numerous than they are.'

15 "So I turned and went down from the mountain while the mountain was on fire. The two Tablets of the Covenant were in both of my hands.

16 Then I saw how you had really sinned against the LORD your God! You had made for yourselves a calf, a cast idol. You had turned aside quickly from the way that the LORD your God had commanded.

17 So I grabbed the two tablets and then threw them out of my hands, breaking them before your eyes.

18 I fell down in the LORD's presence, just as I had the first 40 days and nights. I did not eat food or drink water because of your sin. You had sinned by committing this evil in the sight of the LORD, thereby provoking him to anger.

19 I feared the anger and wrath of the LORD against you, because he was irate enough to destroy you. But the LORD also listened to me at that time.

20 It was as had been the case with Aaron, the LORD was very angry and about to destroy him, but I prayed for Aaron at that time.

21 Now, when you made the calf that made you sin, I grabbed it, burned it with fire, crushed it, and ground it thoroughly until it was pulverized to powder. Then I threw the powder into the river that was flowing from the mountain."

22 "You provoked the LORD again at Taberah, Massah, and Kibroth-hattaavah.

23 When the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea and told you, 'Go possess the land that I gave you,' instead you disobeyed what the LORD your God said. You didn't trust him or listen to his voice.

24 You have been rebelling against the LORD since the day I knew you.

25 I fell down in the LORD's presence for 40 days and nights, because the LORD said he was ready to destroy you.

26 So I prayed to the LORD and said, 'Oh LORD my God, don't destroy your people and your inheritance whom you redeemed by your power. You brought them out from Egypt in a powerful way.

27 Remember your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Don't pay attention to the stubbornness, wickedness, and sinfulness of this people.

28 Otherwise, the people of the land from which you brought us will say, "The LORD wasn't able to bring them into the land that he had promised them. So he brought them out to kill them in the desert because he hated them."

29 But they are your people and inheritance, whom you brought out by your mighty strength and awesome power."

Deuteronomy 10

1 "At that time, the LORD told me, 'Chisel two tablets of stone for yourself just like the first ones, and then come up to me on the mountain. Also make for yourself a wooden chest.

2 I'll write on the tablets what was on the first tablets that you broke. Then place them in the wooden chest.'

3 So I made a chest out of acacia wood and chiselled two tablets of stones just like the first ones. Then I went up the mountain with the two tablets in my hands.

4 Then the LORD inscribed on the tablets what he wrote before, that is, the Ten Commandments that the LORD declared to you on the mountain from the middle of the fire during the day of the assembly. And the LORD gave them to me.

5 Then I turned and went down the mountain and placed the tablets in the chest that I had made. They are there now, just as the LORD commanded me."

1 Corinthians 11

23 For I received from the Lord what I also passed on to you — how the Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took a loaf of bread,

24 gave thanks for it, and broke it in pieces, saying, "This is my body that is for you. Keep doing this in memory of me."

25 He did the same with the cup after the supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. As often as you drink from it, keep doing this in memory of me."

26 For as often as you eat this bread and drink from this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

27 Therefore, whoever eats the bread or drinks from the cup in an unworthy manner will be held responsible for the Lord's body and blood.

28 A person must examine himself and then eat the bread and drink from the cup, 29 because whoever eats and drinks without recognizing the body, eats and drinks judgement on himself.

30 That's why so many of you are weak and sick and a considerable number are dying.

31 But if we judged ourselves correctly, we would not be judged.

32 Now, while we are being judged by the Lord, we are being disciplined so we won't be condemned along with the world.

33 Therefore, my brothers, when you gather to eat, wait for each other.

34 If anyone is hungry, he should eat at home, so that when you gather it may not bring judgement on you. And when I come I will give instructions concerning the other matters.

1 Corinthians 12

1 Now concerning spiritual gifts, brothers, I don't want you to be ignorant.

2 You know that when you were unbelievers, you were enticed and led astray to worship idols that couldn't even speak.

3 For this reason I want you to be aware that no one who is speaking by God's Spirit can say, "Jesus is cursed," and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit.

4 Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit,

5 and there are varieties of ministries, but the same Lord.

6 There are varieties of results, but it is the same God who produces all the results in everyone.

7 To each person has been given the ability to manifest the Spirit for the common good.

8 To one has been given a message of wisdom by the Spirit; to another the ability to speak with knowledge according to the same Spirit;

9 to another faith by the same Spirit; to another gifts of healing by that one Spirit;

10 to another miraculous results; to another prophecy; to another the ability to distinguish between spirits; to another various kinds of languages; and to another the interpretation of languages.

11 But one and the same Spirit produces all these results and gives what he wants to each person.

Deuteronomy 10

6 "The Israelis travelled from the wells of the descendants of Jaakan to Moserah. Aaron died, and he was buried there. His son Eleazar succeeded him as priest.
7 From there they moved on to Gudgodah and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah, a land with flowing streams.
8 At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD, to stand in the LORD's presence, to serve, and to bless his name until this day.
9 That is why the descendants of Levi do not have a portion and an inheritance among their relatives. As for the LORD, he is their inheritance, just as the LORD your God told them.
10 When I stood on the mountain for 40 days and 40 nights as I did the first time, the LORD listened to me once again. The LORD was not willing to destroy you.
11 So the LORD told me, 'Get up and proceed to lead the people, so they may enter and take possession of the land that I promised to give their ancestors by an oath.'
12 "Now Israel, what does the LORD your God desire from you? Only this: fear him, walk in all his ways, love him, serve him with all your heart and in all your life,
13 and observe his commands and statutes that I'm commanding you today for your own good.
14 You see, heaven — even the highest heavens — belongs to the LORD, along with the earth and all that is in it,
15 yet the LORD committed himself to love your ancestors — and did so! He chose you — their descendants after them — from all the nations, as it is today.
16 Therefore, circumcise your heart and stop being stubborn.
17 For the LORD your God is the God of all gods, the LORD of all lords, the great God, mighty and awesome, who does not show favouritism or take bribes.
18 He executes justice for the orphan and the widows, loves the foreigner, and gives them food and clothing."
19 "You are to love the foreigner, because you were foreigners in the land of Egypt.
20 You are to fear the LORD your God and serve him. Cling to him and swear by his name.
21 He is the one you are to praise, because he is your God who carried out those great and awesome things for you that you witnessed.
22 Your ancestors went down to Egypt with seventy people, but the LORD your God has now made you as numerous as the stars in the sky."

Deuteronomy 11

1 "Therefore love the LORD your God and be very careful to keep his injunctions, statutes, ordinances, and commands all the time.
2 Keep in mind today that I am not speaking to your children, who neither were aware of nor did they witness the discipline of the LORD your God, that is, his great and far-reaching power,
3 including: the signs and works that he did within Egypt to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, and to all his land;
4 what he did to the Egyptian army, its horses and chariots, when he caused the waters of the Reed Sea to engulf them as they pursued you; how the LORD destroyed them, even to this day;
5 what he did for you in the desert until you came to this place;
6 and what he did to Eliab's sons Dathan and Abiram, descendants of Reuben, when the ground opened up and swallowed them, their households, their tents, and every living thing belonging to them in the full sight of Israel.
7 Your very own eyes saw all the great things that the LORD did."

8 "Keep all the commands that I'm giving you today, so you can be strong enough to enter and possess the land that you are crossing over to inherit
9 and so you'll live long in the land that the LORD your God promised by an oath to give your ancestors and their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey.
10 For the land that you are about to enter to inherit isn't like the land of Egypt that you just left, where you plant a seed and irrigate it with your feet like a vegetable garden.
11 Instead, the land that you are crossing over to inherit is a land of hills and valleys that drinks water supplied by rain from heaven,
12 a land about which the LORD your God is continually concerned, because the eyes of the LORD rest continually on it throughout the entire year.
13 "If you carefully observe the commands that I'm giving you today, to love the LORD your God and serve him with all your heart and soul,
14 then he will send rain on the land in its season — the early and latter rains — then you'll gather grain, new wine, and oil.
15 He will provide grass on the fields for your livestock, and you'll eat and be satisfied.
16 Be careful! Otherwise, your hearts will deceive you and you will turn away to serve other gods and worship them.
17 The wrath of God will burn against you so that he will restrain the heavens and it won't rain. The ground won't yield its produce and you'll be swiftly destroyed from the good land that the LORD is about to give you.
18 "Take these commands to heart and keep them in mind, tying them as reminders on your arm and as bands on your forehead.
19 Teach them to your children, talking about them while sitting in your house, walking on the road, or when you are about to lie down or get up.
20 Also write them upon the doorposts of your house and gates
21 so that you and your children may live long on the land that the LORD promised to give your ancestors — as long as the sky remains above the earth."
22 "If you carefully observe all of these commands that I'm giving you to do — to love the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cling to him,
23 then the LORD will dispossess all these nations before you and you'll dispossess nations that are even greater and stronger than you.
24 Every place upon which the soles of your feet tread will be yours as boundaries — from the desert to Lebanon and from the River (that is, the Euphrates) to the Mediterranean Sea.
25 No one will be able to stand against you. The LORD your God will instil terror and fear of you throughout the entire land wherever you go, just as he promised you.
26 Look! I'm about to grant you a blessing and a curse —
27 a blessing if you obey the commands of the LORD your God that I'm giving you today,
28 or a curse if you don't obey the commands of the LORD your God, by turning from the way that I'm commanding you today and following other gods whom you have not known."
29 "When the LORD brings you to the land that you are about to enter to inherit, repeat the blessings on Mount Gerizim and the curses on Mount Ebal.
30 They're across the Jordan River to the west, aren't they, in the land of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah opposite Gilgal near the Oak of Moreh?
31 For you are about to cross the Jordan River to go in and possess the land that the LORD your God is about to give you to inherit and live in.
32 Be careful to obey all the statutes and ordinances that I'm placing before you today."

Deuteronomy 12

1 "These are the statutes and ordinances that you must carefully observe in the land that the LORD God of your ancestors has given you to possess every day that you live on the earth.

2 Be sure you destroy there all the places where the nations that you're going to dispossess serve their gods — upon the high mountains and hills and under every leafy tree.

3 Tear down their altars, cut down their sacred poles, and burn them. Cut down the carved images of their gods to erase their memory from that place."

4 "You must not act like this with respect to the LORD your God.

5 Instead, you must seek to enter only the place that the LORD your God will choose among your tribes. There he will establish his name and live.

6 Bring your burnt offerings there, along with your sacrifices, your tithes, your hand-carried gifts, your offerings in fulfilment of promises, your freely given offerings, and the first born of your herds and flocks.

7 Then you and your household will eat in the presence of the LORD your God and rejoice with all the works of your hand with which he blessed you.

8 "You must not act as we have been doing here today, where everyone acts as they see fit,

9 for you haven't arrived yet to your allotted place that the LORD your God is about to give you.

10 But after you have crossed the Jordan River and settled in the land that the Lord your God is giving you to inherit, and after you have received relief from the enemies around you and are living securely,

11 then bring to the place that the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling place — where he will establish his name — everything that I'm commanding you: your burnt offerings, your sacrifices, your tithes, your hand-carried gifts, all your best offerings in fulfilment of promises that you pledged to the LORD.

12 "Rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God — you, your sons and daughters, your male and female servants, and the descendant of Levi who is in your city — for there is no territorial allotment for him as you have.

13 Be careful not to offer burnt offerings at any location you happen to see

14 instead of at the place the LORD will choose in one of the tribal areas. There you may offer burnt offerings, and there you may do everything that I'm commanding you."

1 Corinthians 12

12 For just as the body is one and yet has many parts, and all the parts of the body, though many, form a single body, so it is with the Messiah.

13 For by one Spirit all of us — Jews and Greeks, slaves and free — were baptized into one body and were all privileged to drink from one Spirit.

14 For the body does not consist of only one part, but of many.

15 If the foot says, "Since I'm not a hand, I'm not part of the body," that does not make it any less a part of the body, does it?

16 And if the ear says, "Since I'm not an eye, I'm not part of the body," that does not make it any less a part of the body, does it?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the sense of smell be?

18 But now God has arranged the parts, every one of them, in the body according to his plan.

19 Now if all of it were one part, there wouldn't be a body, would there?

20 So there are many parts, but one body.

21 The eye cannot say to the hand, "I don't need you," or the head to the feet, "I don't need you."

22 On the contrary, those parts of the body that seem to be weaker are in fact indispensable,

23 and the parts of the body that we think are less honourable are treated with special honour, and we make our less attractive parts more attractive.

24 However, our attractive parts don't need this. But God has put the body together and has given special honour to the parts that lack it,

25 so that there might be no disharmony in the body, but that its parts should have the same concern for each other.

26 If one part suffers, every part suffers with it. If one part is praised, every part rejoices with it.

27 Now you are the Messiah's body and individual parts of it.

28 God has appointed in the church first of all apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then those who perform miracles, those who have gifts of healing, those who help others, administrators, and those who speak various kinds of languages.

29 Not all are apostles, are they? Not all are prophets, are they? Not all are teachers, are they? Not all perform miracles, do they?

30 Not all have the gift of healing, do they? Not all speak in other languages, do they? Not all interpret, do they?

31 Keep on desiring the better gifts. And now I will show you the best way of all.

Deuteronomy 12

15 "You may slaughter and eat as much meat as you desire, according to the blessing of the LORD your God, when he provides for you in all your cities. Both ritually unqualified and qualified people may eat it as they would gazelle and deer.

16 Only, you must not consume the blood; instead, pour it out on the ground as you would water.

17 "You won't be allowed to eat your tithe of grain, new wine, oil, the first born of your herd and flock, your votive offerings that you pledged, your free-will offerings, and the works of your hands in your own cities.

18 You'll eat only in the presence of the LORD your God at the place that he will choose — you, your sons and your daughters, your male and female servants, and the descendant of Levi who is in your cities. Rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God in everything you undertake.

19 Be careful not to forget the descendant of Levi while you live in the land.

20 When the LORD your God enlarges your territory — just as he told you — and you say 'I want to eat meat' since you desire to eat it, you may do so as much as you please.

21 "If the place where the LORD your God chooses to establish his name is distant from you, then you may slaughter from your herd and your flock what the LORD has provided for you, as he instructed you. You may consume them in your cities as much as you please.

22 You may eat them, just as you would gazelle and deer. Ritually unqualified and qualified people may eat them.

23 Only be sure to refrain from eating blood, because blood is the source of life and you must not consume blood with the meat.

24 You must not consume it; instead, pour it on the ground as you would water.

25 You must not eat it, so that life will go well for you and for your children after you. Then you'll do what is right in the eyes of the LORD.

26 "You may carry and bring only your consecrated gifts and offerings in fulfilment of promises to the place that the LORD will choose.

27 You must offer your burnt offerings, both the meat and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God. You must offer the blood by pouring it on the altar of the LORD your God while you consume the meat.

28 Be sure to observe all these words that I'm commanding you, in order that life may go well for you and your children after you forever, for this is good and right in the eyes of the LORD your God."

29 "When the LORD your God eliminates the nations that you are about to dispossess so you can live in their land,

30 after they have been destroyed in your sight, be careful not to be ensnared as they were. Otherwise, you will seek their gods and ask yourselves, 'How do these nations serve their gods? I will do likewise.'

31 You must not do the same to the LORD your God, because they practised in the presence of their gods every sort of abomination that the LORD hates. Moreover, they sacrificed their sons and daughters to their gods.

32 Now as to everything I'm commanding you, you must be careful to observe it. Don't add to or subtract from it."

Deuteronomy 13

1 "A prophet or a diviner of dreams may arise among you, give you an omen or a miracle
2 that takes place, and then he may tell you, 'Let's follow other gods (whom you have not known) and let's serve them.' Even though the sign or portent comes to pass,

3 you must not listen to the words of that prophet or that diviner of dreams. For the LORD your God is testing you, to make known whether or not you'll continue to love the LORD your God with all your heart and soul.

4 You must follow the LORD your God, fear him, observe his commandments, listen to his voice, serve him, and cling to him.

5 That prophet or diviner of dreams must be executed, because he advocated rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you from the land of Egypt and redeemed you from the house of slavery, and because he lured you from the way in which the LORD your God instructed you to live. Purge the evil from among you."

6 "Your own blood brother, your son, your daughter, your beloved wife, or your friend who is like your soul mate quietly may entice you. He may tell you, 'Let's go and serve other gods,' (whom neither you nor your ancestors have known

7 from the gods of the people that surround you — whether near or far from you — from one end of the earth to the other).

8 You must not yield to him, listen to him, look with pity on him, show compassion to him, or even cover up for him.

9 But you must surely execute him. You must be the first to put him to death with your own hand, and then the hands of the whole community.

10 Stone him to death, because he sought to lure you from the LORD your God who brought you from the land of Egypt, from the land of slavery.

11 Then all Israel will hear about it, be afraid, and won't do this evil thing again among you.

12 "You may hear in one of your towns that the LORD your God is giving you to inhabit

13 that worthless men have come from among you to entice those who live in the towns. They may say, 'Let's go and serve other gods that you haven't known.'

14 You must thoroughly investigate and inquire if it is true that this detestable thing exists among you. If it is so,

15 then put the inhabitants of the town to death by the sword. Devote everything in it to divine destruction — even its livestock — by the sword.

16 Gather whatever you've taken as spoils at the public square of the town, then burn the town, along with whatever you've taken, as an offering to the LORD your God. It will remain a permanent mound of ruins, never to be rebuilt again.

17 Moreover, you must never take any item from those condemned things, so the LORD may yet relent from his burning anger and extend compassion, have mercy, and cause you to increase in number — as he promised by an oath to your ancestors —

18 if you obey the voice of the LORD your God by observing all his commands that I'm commanding you today. Do what is right in the sight of the LORD your God."

Deuteronomy 14

1 "You are children of the LORD your God. You must not lacerate yourselves or shave your foreheads on account of the dead,

2 because you are a holy people to the LORD your God, and the LORD chose to make you his precious possession from among all the peoples of the earth.

3 "You must not eat any detestable food.

4 These are the animals that you may eat: ox, sheep, goat,

5 deer, gazelle, roebuck, wild goat, ibex, antelope, and mountain sheep.

6 You may eat every animal with a divided hoof — those with split cloven hooves — that chews the cud.

7 However, you must not eat these animals that chew the cud or have a divided hoof: the camel, hare, and rock badger. Even though they chew the cud, their hooves are not divided. Therefore they are unclean for you.

8 And also the pig, because even though its hoof is divided, it does not chew the cud. It is therefore unclean for you. You must not eat their meat or even touch their carcasses.

9 "You may choose to eat from these creatures in the water: you may eat anything with fin and scale,

10 but you may not eat anything without fin and scale, since it is unclean to you.

11 "You may eat all clean birds.

12 But you must not eat from any of these: the eagle, vulture, osprey,

13 buzzard, any kind of kite,

14 any kind of raven,

15 the ostrich, night hawk, seagull, any kind of falcon,

16 the little owl, the great owl, the horned owl,

17 the pelican, the carrion vulture, the cormorant,

18 the stork, any kind of heron, the hoopoe, and the bat.

19 Any winged, swarming insect is unclean to you. They must not be eaten.

20 You may eat every bird that is clean.

21 "You must not eat any carcass. But you may give it to the alien in your cities so he may eat it or sell it to a foreigner, for you are a holy people to the LORD your God.

"You must not cook a young goat in its mother's milk."

22 "Be sure to tithe annually from everything you plant that yields a harvest in the field.

23 Then in the presence of the LORD your God, in the place where he'll choose to establish his name, you may consume the tithe of your grain, your new wine, your oil, and the first born of your livestock and flock, so that you'll learn to revere the LORD your God all your life.

24 Now the way may be distant from you, so that you are unable to transport your tithe because you have been blessed by the LORD your God and the place where the LORD your God chooses to establish his name may be distant from you.

25 In that case, convert it into cash, secure the money, and then bring it to the place where the LORD will choose.

26 You may spend the money to your heart's content to buy livestock, flocks, wine, strong drink, and whatever you desire. You and your household may eat there and rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God."

27 "But you must not forget the descendant of Levi in your town because there is no tribal allotment for him as there is for you.

28 Every third year, bring all the tithes of your produce of that year and store it in your cities

29 so the descendants of Levi — who have no tribal allotment as you do — foreigners, orphans, and widows who live in your cities may come, eat, and be satisfied. That way, the LORD your God shall bless you in everything you do."

1 Corinthians 13

- 1 If I speak in the languages of humans and angels but have no love, I have become a reverberating gong or a clashing cymbal.
- 2 If I have the gift of prophecy and can understand all secrets and every form of knowledge, and if I have absolute faith so as to move mountains but have no love, I am nothing.
- 3 Even if I give away everything that I have and sacrifice myself, but have no love, I gain nothing.
- 4 Love is always patient; love is always kind; love is never envious or arrogant with pride. Nor is she conceited,
- 5 and she is never rude; she never thinks just of herself or ever gets annoyed. She never is resentful;
- 6 is never glad with sin; she's always glad to side with truth, and pleased that truth will win.
- 7 She bears up under everything; believes the best in all; there is no limit to her hope, and never will she fall.
- 8 Love never fails. Now if there are prophecies, they will be done away with. If there are languages, they will cease. If there is knowledge, it will be done away with.
- 9 For what we know is incomplete and what we prophesy is incomplete.
- 10 But when what is complete comes, then what is incomplete will be done away with.
- 11 When I was a child, I spoke like a child, thought like a child, and reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I gave up my childish ways.
- 12 Now we see only an indistinct image in a mirror, but then we will be face to face. Now what I know is incomplete, but then I will know fully, even as I have been fully known.
- 13 Right now three things remain: faith, hope, and love. But the greatest of these is love.

1 Corinthians 14

- 1 Keep on pursuing love, and keep on desiring spiritual gifts, especially the ability to prophesy.
- 2 For the person who speaks in another language is not actually speaking to people but to God. Indeed, no one understands him, because he is talking about secrets by the Spirit.
- 3 But the person who prophesies speaks to people for their upbuilding, encouragement, and comfort.
- 4 The person who speaks in another language builds himself up, but the person who prophesies builds up the church.
- 5 Now I wish that all of you could speak in other languages, but especially that you could prophesy. The person who prophesies is more important than the person who speaks in another language, unless he interprets it so that the church may be built up.
- 6 Indeed, brothers, if I come to you speaking in other languages, what good will I be to you unless I speak to you in some revelation, knowledge, prophecy, or teaching?
- 7 In the same way, lifeless instruments like the flute or harp produce sounds. But if there's no difference in the notes, how can a person tell what tune is being played?
- 8 For example, if a bugle doesn't sound a clear call, who will get ready for battle?
- 9 In the same way, unless you speak an intelligible message with your language, how will anyone know what is being said? You'll be talking into the air!
- 10 There are, I suppose, many different languages in the world, yet none of them is without meaning.
- 11 If I don't know the meaning of the language, I will be a foreigner to the speaker and the speaker will be a foreigner to me.

Deuteronomy 15

- 1 "You must cancel your debts at the end of every seventh year.
- 2 This is the way to conduct remission: every creditor must cancel the loan that his friend borrowed, and he must not pressure his friend or brother to repay it, because remission to the LORD will be proclaimed.
- 3 You may exact payment from a foreigner, but cancel whatever your brother owes you.
- 4 "Moreover, there will be no poor person among you, for the LORD will surely bless you in the land that he is about to give you to possess.
- 5 Only be certain to obey the voice of the LORD your God. Carefully observe all of these commands that I'm commanding to you today.
- 6 For the LORD your God will bless you just as he promised. You are to lend to many nations but not borrow. Also, you will rule over many nations, but they will not rule over you."
- 7 "If there should be a poor man among your relatives in one of the cities of the land that the LORD your God is about to give you, don't be hard-hearted or tight-fisted toward your poor relative.
- 8 Instead, be sure to open your hand to him and lend him enough to lessen his need.
- 9 "Be careful not to think this wicked thought to yourselves: 'The seventh year, the year of remission, is drawing near,' and you show ill will toward your poor relative and not give to him. He may then call to the LORD on account of you, and you will be guilty of sin.
- 10 You must certainly give to him and not feel regret for doing so. Because of this, the LORD your God will bless all your works and everything you do.
- 11 Since poor people won't cease to exist in the land, therefore I'm commanding you: Be sure to be generous to your poor and needy relatives in your land."
- 12 "When a fellow Hebrew male or female slave is sold to you and serves you for six years, then in the seventh year you are to set them free.
- 13 But when you set them free, don't send them away empty-handed.
- 14 Provide for them liberally from your flock, threshing floor, and wine vat. As the LORD your God has blessed you, so give to them.
- 15 Don't ever forget that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, yet the LORD your God redeemed you. Therefore, I'm giving you these commands today.
- 16 "Should that slave say to you, 'I won't leave you,' because he loves you and your household, and it was good for him to be with you,
- 17 then take an awl and pierce through his earlobe into the door. Then he will be your slave forever. You may do the same for your female slaves.
- 18 Don't view this as a hardship for yourself when you set him free, for he will have served you for six years — twice the time of a paid worker. Then the LORD will bless you in all that you do."
- 19 "Set apart for the LORD your God every firstborn male among your herd and flock. You must not put the firstborn of your ox to work or shear the firstborn of your flock.
- 20 Then in the presence of the LORD your God, you and your household must eat them every year at the place the LORD will choose.
- 21 If it has a blemish — lameness, blindness, or any kind of defect — you must not sacrifice it to the LORD your God.
- 22 In your cities both the unclean and the clean together are to eat it together, as the gazelle and the deer.
- 23 Only you must not eat its blood. Pour it on the ground like water."

Deuteronomy 16

1 "Observe the month of Aviv, keeping the Passover to the LORD your God, because the LORD your God brought you out of Egypt during the night in the month of Aviv.

2 Then sacrifice sheep and cattle for the Passover to the LORD your God at the place where the LORD your God will choose to establish his name.

3 You must not eat any yeast with it. Instead, for seven days eat bread without yeast — the bread of affliction — because you left the land of Egypt in haste. Remember the day you went out of the land of Egypt for the rest of your lives.

4 Yeast is not to be seen in any of your territories for seven days. The meat is not to remain from the evening of the first day until morning.

5 "You must not sacrifice the Passover in just any of your cities that the LORD your God is about to give you.

6 But at the place where your God will choose to establish his name, you are to sacrifice the Passover in the evening at dusk, at the time of day you left Egypt.

7 Boil and eat the Passover meal at the place that the LORD your God will choose. In the morning you may go back to your tents.

8 Eat bread without yeast for six days. Then on the seventh day, hold an assembly to the LORD your God. Don't do any work."

9 "Count off seven weeks from when the sickle is first put to standing grain.

10 Then observe the Feast of Weeks in the presence of the LORD your God by giving your tribute and the freewill offering of your hands in proportion to the manner in which the LORD your God blessed you.

11 Rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God with your son, daughter, male and female slaves, the descendant of Levi who is in your city, the stranger, the orphan, and the widow among you, at the place where the LORD your God will choose to establish his name.

12 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt, so keep and observe these statutes."

13 "Celebrate the Feast of Tents for seven days after you harvest from your threshing floor and your wine press.

14 Rejoice in your festival — you, your son, your daughter, your male and female slaves, the descendants of Levi, foreigners, orphans, and widows who live in your cities.

15 For seven days you are to celebrate in the presence of the LORD your God at the place where the LORD will choose; for the LORD your God will bless you in all your harvest and in everything you do, and your joy will be complete.

16 "Every male must appear in the presence of the LORD your God three times a year at the place where he will choose: for the Feast of Unleavened Bread, the Feast of Seven Weeks, and the Feast of Tents. He must not appear in the LORD's presence empty-handed,

17 but each one must appear with his own gift, proportional to the blessing that the LORD your God has given you."

18 "Appoint judges and civil servants according to your tribes in all your cities that the LORD your God is about to give you, so they may judge the people impartially.

19 You must not twist justice, show favouritism, or take bribes, because a bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and subverts the speech of the righteous.

20 You are to pursue justice — and only justice — so you may live and possess the land that the LORD your God is about to give you.

21 "You are not to set up a sacred pole beside the altar of the LORD your God that you will build.

22 Furthermore, you are not to erect for yourselves a sacred stone pillar, because the LORD your God detests these things.

Deuteronomy 17

1 You are not to sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep that has a defect or any flaw it, because that is detestable to the LORD your God."

2 "You may discover that a man or woman living in one of your cities that the LORD your God is about to give you has done evil in the eyes of the LORD your God by transgressing his covenant.

3 He may be following and serving other gods by bowing down to them — that is, to the sun, the moon, or to any of the heavenly host (something I did not command).

4 When it is reported to you or you hear of it, then investigate it thoroughly. When the truth has been established that this detestable thing has been done in Israel,

5 summon the man or the woman who did this evil thing to your city gates. Then stone the man or the woman to death.

6 Based on the testimony of two or three witnesses, they must surely die. But they are not to die based on the testimony of one person.

7 Let the witnesses be the first to begin executing them, then the rest of the people shall follow. By doing this you will purge evil from among you."

8 "If a case is too difficult for you to decide with respect to bloodshed, civil claims, assault and battery, or other matters of dispute within your courts, bring it to the place that the LORD your God will choose.

9 Present the case to the Levitical priest or the judge at that time. When you have inquired and they have announced the verdict,

10 carry out the verdict that was declared to you at the place that the LORD will choose. Carefully observe all of their instructions to you

11 in accordance with what the Law says, and in accordance with the verdict that will be handed to you. You must not deviate from the verdict that they declare to you either to the right or to the left.

12 "If a man presumptuously disregards the priest who is serving the LORD your God there or the judge, that person must die so you will purge evil from Israel.

13 Then all the people who hear will be afraid and will not act presumptuously again."

14 "When you have come to the land that the LORD your God is about to give you, and you have taken possession of it, and have settled in it, then you will say, 'I will appoint a king over me like all the nations around me.'

15 You will certainly set a king over you, whom the LORD your God will choose from among your relatives, but you must not place a foreign king over you who is not from your relatives.

16 Only he must not amass horses for himself or cause the people to return to Egypt to obtain more horses. For the LORD said you must never return that way again.

17 Also, he must not accumulate wives for himself (otherwise, his affection will become diverted), nor accumulate for himself excessive quantities of silver and gold.

1 Corinthians 14

12 In the same way, since you're so desirous of spiritual gifts, you must keep on desiring them for the upbuilding of the church.

13 Therefore, the person who speaks in another language should pray for the ability to interpret it.

14 For if I pray in another language, my spirit prays but my mind is not productive.

15 What does this mean? I will pray with my spirit, but I will also pray with my mind. I will sing psalms with my spirit, but I will also sing psalms with my mind.

16 Otherwise, if you say a blessing with your spirit, how can an otherwise uneducated person say "Amen" to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you're saying?

17 It's good for you to give thanks, but it does not build up the other person.

18 I thank God that I speak in other languages more than all of you.

19 But in church I would rather speak five words with my mind to instruct others than 10,000 words in another language.

20 Brothers, stop being childish in your thinking. Be like infants with respect to evil, but think like adults.

21 In the Law it is written, "By means of other languages and through the mouths of foreigners I will speak to this people, but even then they will not listen to me," declares the Lord.

22 Other languages, then, are meant to be a sign, not for believers, but for unbelievers, while prophecy is meant, not for unbelievers, but for believers.

23 Now if the whole church gathers in the same place and everyone is speaking in other languages, when uneducated people or unbelievers come in, they will say that you are out of your mind, won't they?

24 But if everyone is prophesying, when an unbeliever or an uneducated person comes in he will be convicted and examined by everything that's happening.

25 His secret, inner heart will become known, and so he will bow down to the ground and worship God, declaring, "God is truly among you!"

26 What, then, does this mean, brothers? When you gather, everyone has a psalm, teaching, revelation, other language, or interpretation. Everything must be done for upbuilding.

27 If anyone speaks in another language, only two or three at the most should do so, one at a time, and somebody must interpret.

28 If an interpreter is not present, the speaker should remain silent in the church and speak to himself and God.

29 Two or three prophets should speak, and others should weigh carefully what is said.

30 If a revelation is made to another person who is seated, the first person should be silent.

31 For everyone can prophesy in turn, so that everyone can be instructed and everyone can be encouraged.

32 The spirits of prophets are subject to the prophets,

33 for God is not a God of disorder but of peace. As in all the churches of the saints,

34 the women must keep silent in the churches. They are not allowed to speak out, but must place themselves in submission, as the oral law also says.

35 If they want to learn anything, they should ask their own husbands at home, for it is inappropriate for a woman to speak out in church.

36 Did God's word originate with you? Are you the only people it has reached?

37 If anyone thinks he is a prophet or a spiritual person, he must acknowledge that what I am writing to you is the Lord's command.

38 But if anyone ignores this, he should be ignored.

- 39 Therefore, my brothers, desire the ability to prophesy, and do not prevent others from speaking in other languages.
- 40 But everything must be done in a proper and orderly way.

Deuteronomy 17

18 When he occupies his royal throne, he must make a copy of this Law for himself from a scroll used by the Levitical priests.

19 It is to remain with him the rest of his life so he may learn to fear the LORD his God and observe all the words of this Law and these statutes, in order to fulfil them.

20 He is not to exalt himself over his relatives, nor turn aside from the commandment — neither to the right nor to the left — so that he and his sons may reign long in Israel."

Deuteronomy 18

1 "The Levitical priests, the whole tribe of Levi, will not have a portion or an inheritance within Israel. Instead, they will eat the burnt offerings of the LORD, because that is their inheritance.

2 But they will not have an inheritance among their relatives, because the LORD alone is their inheritance — as he promised them."

3 "A portion of what the people offer in sacrifice, whether cattle or sheep, is to be due the priests. They must set aside the shoulder, jowls, and stomach for the priest.

4 Give them the first gatherings of your grain, wine, oil, and wool from the shearing of your flock.

5 For the LORD your God has chosen them and their descendants from among your tribes to stand and serve in the name of the LORD all their lives."

6 "Any descendant of Levi who wishes to do so may come from any city or part of Israel where he resides to the place that the LORD will choose.

7 There he may serve in the name of the LORD his God. Like his fellow descendants of Levi who stand there in the LORD's presence,

8 he may eat the same share as they do regardless of what he receives from his ancestral estate."

9 "When you enter the land that the LORD your God is about to give you, don't learn the detestable practices of those nations there.

10 There must never be found among you anyone who sacrifices his son or daughter in fire, practises divination, interprets omens, practises sorcery,

11 casts spells, or who is a medium, an occultist, or a necromancer.

12 Whoever practises these things is detestable to the LORD, and the LORD your God will expel them before you because of these things.

13 You must be completely faithful to the LORD your God,

14 because those nations that you are about to dispossess listen to those who practise witchcraft and divination. But the LORD does not allow you to act this way."

15 "The LORD your God will raise up a prophet like me for you from among your relatives. You must listen to him.

16 For this is what you asked from the LORD your God at Horeb when you were assembled together: 'Don't let us hear the voice of the LORD our God again, or even see this great fire — otherwise, we will die.'

17 "Then the LORD told me: 'What they have suggested is good.

18 I will raise up a prophet like you from among their relatives, and I will place my words in his mouth so that he may expound everything that I have commanded to them.

19 But if someone will not listen to those words that the prophet speaks in my name, I will hold him accountable.

20 Even then, if the prophet speaks presumptuously in my name, which I didn't authorize him to speak, or if he speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet must die.'

21 Now you may ask yourselves, 'How will we be able to discern that the LORD has not spoken?'

22 Whenever a prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, and the oracle does not come about or the word is not fulfilled, then the LORD has not spoken it. The prophet will have spoken presumptuously, so you need not fear him."

Deuteronomy 19

1 "When the LORD your God destroys those nations whose lands he is about to give you, you must dispossess them and live in their cities and houses.

2 You must reserve three cities within the land that the LORD your God is about to give you to possess.

3 Build roads throughout the land that the LORD your God is providing as an inheritance, and then divide it into three districts so that any killer may flee there.

4 "Now this is the situation for any killer who flees there to live: suppose he strikes his friend unwittingly, not having hated him previously.

5 For instance, he may have accompanied his friend to go to a forest to cut trees. Then he swung his axe to cut some wood, but the axe head flew off the handle and hit his friend, so that he died. The killer may flee to one of these cities to live.

6 While the distance may be great and the angry avenger pursues the killer, he may overtake him and kill him, in which case there will be no justice in his death, because he did not hate his friend previously.

7 Therefore I am commanding you to reserve three cities."

8 "Now if the LORD enlarges your territories just as he promised your ancestors and gives you all the land that he promised,

9 and if you are careful to observe all these commands that I am commanding you today — to love the LORD your God and to walk daily in his ways — then add three more cities in addition to these three cities.

10 You must not shed innocent blood on your land that the LORD your God is about to give you as an inheritance. Otherwise, you'll be guilty of murder."

11 "However, if a person hates his neighbour, lies in wait for him, rises up against him, and attacks him so that he dies, and then he flees to one of those cities,

12 then the elders of his own city shall send for him, remove him from there, and deliver him to the related avenger for execution.

13 Have no pity on him, but totally purge the shedding of innocent blood from Israel so that life may go well with you.

14 "When you inherit the land that the LORD your God is about to give you, don't move your neighbour's boundary marker from where it was placed long ago."

15 "The testimony of one person alone is not to suffice to convict anyone of any iniquity, sin, or guilt. But the matter will stand on the testimony of two or three witnesses.

16 When a malicious witness takes the stand against a man and accuses him,

17 then both must stand with their dispute in the LORD's presence, the priests, and the judges at that time.

18 The judges will investigate thoroughly. If the false witness lies in testifying against his relative,

19 do to him just as he intended to do to his relative. By doing this you will purge evil from your midst.

20 When others hear of this, they will be afraid and will not do such an evil deed again in your midst.

21 Your eyes must not show pity — life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, and foot for foot."

Deuteronomy 20

- 1 "When you go to war against your enemies and observe more horses, chariots, and soldiers than you have, don't be afraid of them, for the LORD your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt is with you.
- 2 "As you draw near for battle, let the priest approach and speak to the army.
- 3 He will say to them, 'Listen, Israel! You're about to go into battle today against your enemies. Don't be faint-hearted. Don't be afraid, don't panic, and don't be terrified to face them.
- 4 For the LORD your God will be with you, fighting on your behalf against your enemies in order to grant you victory.'
- 5 "Furthermore, let the officials ask the army, 'Is there a man here who has built a new house but has not yet dedicated it? Let him go back home. Otherwise, he may die in battle and another man dedicate it.
- 6 "'And is there a man here who has planted a vineyard and not yet benefited from it? Let him go home. Otherwise, he may die in battle and another man use it.
- 7 "'And is there a man here who is engaged to a woman and has not yet married her? Let him go back home. Otherwise, he may die in battle and another man marry her.'
- 8 "Let the officials also speak to the army, 'Is there a man here who is afraid and faint-hearted? Let him go back home. Otherwise, he may demoralize his fellow soldier.'
- 9 "When the officials have finished speaking to the army, they must appoint officers to lead the troops."
- 10 "When you approach a city to wage war against it, extend terms of peace.
- 11 If it agrees to peace and welcomes you, then all the people found in it will serve you as forced labourers.
- 12 But if they refuse to make peace with you and instead choose war, then attack it.
- 13 The LORD your God will deliver it into your control, and you must execute every male.
- 14 The women, children, all the livestock in the city, and all of the spoil and plunder will belong to you. Appropriate the spoil of your enemies, which the LORD your God will give you.
- 15 Do this to all the cities that are distant from you — that is, to those cities that are not in neighbouring nations."
- 16 "You are not to leave even one person alive in the cities of these nations that the LORD your God is about to give you as an inheritance.
- 17 You must completely destroy the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, just as the LORD your God commanded you,
- 18 so they won't teach you to do all the detestable things that they do for their gods. If you do what they teach you, you will sin against the LORD your God."
- 19 "When you attack a city and have to fight against it for many days, don't destroy its trees by cutting them down with an axe. You may eat from them, but you must not cut them down. Are the trees of the field human beings, that you would come and attack them?
- 20 However, you may cut down the trees whose fruit you know isn't edible, in order to build siege works against the city that waged war with you, until it falls."

1 Corinthians 15

1 Now I'm making known to you, brothers, the gospel that I proclaimed to you, which you accepted, on which you have taken your stand,
2 and by which you are also being saved if you hold firmly to the message I proclaimed to you — unless, of course, your faith was worthless.
3 For I passed on to you the most important points that I received: The Messiah died for our sins according to the Scriptures,
4 he was buried, he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures — and is still alive! —
5 and he was seen by Cephas, and then by the Twelve.
6 After that, he was seen by more than 500 brothers at one time, most of whom are still alive, though some have died.
7 Next he was seen by James, then by all the apostles,
8 and finally he was seen by me, as though I were born abnormally late.
9 For I am the least of the apostles and not even fit to be called an apostle because I persecuted God's church.
10 But by God's grace I am what I am, and his grace shown to me was not wasted. Instead, I worked harder than all the others — not I, of course, but God's grace that was with me.
11 So, whether it was I or the others, this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.
12 Now if we preach that the Messiah has been raised from the dead, how can some of you keep claiming there is no resurrection of the dead?
13 If there is no resurrection of the dead, then the Messiah has not been raised,
14 and if the Messiah has not been raised, then our message means nothing and your faith means nothing.
15 In addition, we are found to be false witnesses about God because we testified on God's behalf that he raised the Messiah — whom he did not raise if in fact it is true that the dead are not raised.
16 For if the dead are not raised, then the Messiah has not been raised,
17 and if the Messiah has not been raised, your faith is worthless and you are still imprisoned by your sins.
18 Yes, even those who have died believing in the Messiah are lost.
19 If we have set our hopes on the Messiah in this life only, we deserve more pity than any other people.
20 But at this moment the Messiah stands risen from the dead, the first one offered in the harvest of those who have died.

Deuteronomy 21

1 "If a murder victim is found fallen in the open country of the land that the LORD your God is about to give you to possess, and it is not known who killed him,
2 then let your elders and judges go out and measure the distance from the dead body to the neighbouring cities.
3 Then the elders of the city nearest the body are to take a heifer that hasn't been put to work or hasn't pulled a yoke
4 and shall lead the heifer to a flowing stream in a valley that has never been tilled or planted. They shall break the heifer's neck there.
5 "Then the priests of the sons of Levi will step forward, because the LORD your God chose them to serve and pronounce blessings in his name. Every case of dispute and assault is to be subject to their ruling.
6 All the elders of the city nearest the dead body shall wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley,
7 and they are to make this declaration: 'Our hands didn't shed this blood, nor were we witnesses to the crime.
8 Make atonement for your people Israel, whom you have redeemed, LORD, and don't charge the blood of an innocent man against them.' Then the blood shed will be atoned for.
9 This is how you will remove the guilt of innocent blood from among you, for you must do what is right in the sight of the LORD."
10 "If you go to battle against your enemies, and the LORD your God delivers them into your control, you may take some prisoners captive.
11 If you see among the prisoners a beautiful woman and you desire her, then you may take her as your wife.
12 Bring her to your house, but shave her head and trim her nails.
13 Remove her prisoner's clothing and let her remain for a month in your house, mourning her parents. After that, you may become her husband and she is to become your wife.
14 If you aren't pleased with her and you send her away, you must not sell her for money or mistreat her, since you have dishonoured her."
15 "If a man has two wives where one is loved but the other is unloved, and both of them bear him sons, but the firstborn is the son of the unloved wife,
16 then when he bequeaths his possessions to his sons, he must not give preference to the firstborn of the beloved wife over the firstborn of the unloved wife.
17 Instead, he must acknowledge the firstborn of the unloved wife by giving him double of everything he owns, because he is really the first fruit of his father's strength. The right of the firstborn belongs to him."
18 "If a man has a stubborn son who does not obey his parents, and although they try to discipline him, he still refuses to pay attention to them,
19 then his parents shall seize him and bring him before the elders at the gate of his city.
20 Then they are to declare to the elders of their city: 'Our son is stubborn and rebellious. He does not obey us. He lives wildly and is a drunkard.'
21 Then all the men of his city shall stone him with stones so that he dies. This is how you will remove this evil from among you. Then all Israel will hear of it and will be afraid."
22 "If a man is guilty of a capital offence, is executed, and then is impaled on a tree,
23 his body must not remain overnight on the tree. You must bury him that same day, because cursed of God is the one who has been hanged on a tree. Don't defile your land that the LORD is about to give you as your inheritance."

Deuteronomy 22

1 "When you see the ox or sheep of your fellow countryman straying, don't go away and leave them. Instead, be sure to return them to him.

2 If your fellow countryman doesn't live near you or you don't know who he is, bring the animal to your house and let it remain with you until he claims it. Then return it to him.

3 Do the same for his donkey, his garment, and for anything lost that belongs to your fellow countryman. When you find it, you must not ignore it.

4 When you see the donkey or the ox of your fellow countryman fallen on the road, don't ignore them. Instead be sure to help them get up."

5 "A woman must not wear what is appropriate to a man, nor shall a man put on a woman's garment, because anyone who does this is detestable to the LORD your God.

6 "When you encounter a bird's nest along the road, whether in a tree or on the ground, and the mother bird is sitting on its chicks or eggs, don't take the mother along with its young.

7 You may take the young but be sure to release the mother, so that life will go well for you and that you may have a long life.

8 "When you build a new house, install a parapet along your roof so that if someone falls from the roof, you won't bring guilt of bloodshed on your house."

9 "Don't plant two kinds of seeds in your vineyard. Otherwise, the entire crop will have to be forfeited, both the seed that you have sown and the produce from it.

10 "Don't plough with an ox and a donkey yoked together.

11 "Don't wear material made from wool and linen mixed together.

12 "Sew tassels for yourselves on the four corners of the garment with which you cover yourself."

13 "Suppose a man marries a wife but after having sexual relations with her, he despises her,

14 invents charges against her, and defames her by saying, 'I have married this woman, but when I had sexual relations with her I found that she wasn't a virgin.'

15 "Then the father of the young lady, along with her mother, is to bring evidence of the young lady's virginity to the elders at the gate.

16 The father of the young lady is to then say to the elders: 'I have given my daughter to this man as a wife, but he despises her.

17 Now look, he has invented charges against her by saying, "I haven't found your daughter to be a virgin." But here is the proof of my daughter's virginity.' Then they are to spread the cloth before the elders of the city.

18 "The elders of that city will then take the man, punish him,

19 fine him 100 shekels of silver, and then give them to the young lady's father, because he had defamed a virgin of Israel. She is to remain his wife and he can't divorce her as long as he lives.

20 But if this charge is true, and the evidence of the young lady's virginity wasn't found,

21 they are to bring her to the door of her father's house. Then the men of the city shall stone her with boulders until she dies for doing a detestable thing in Israel — acting like a prostitute while in her father's house. By doing this, you will remove this evil from among you.

22 "If a man is caught having sexual relations with a married woman, then both of them must die — the man who had sex with the woman and the woman herself — so that this evil will be removed from Israel.

23 "If a man meets a young virgin lady engaged to be married in the city and has sexual relations with her,

24 then the two must be brought to the city gate and there they must be stoned to death — the girl because she was in a city but did not cry out for help, and the man who abused

a woman who was engaged to another man. By doing this you are to remove this evil from among you.

25 "If a man meets a girl in the country who is engaged to be married and then rapes her, the man alone — the one who had sexual relations with her — must die.

26 As for the young lady, don't do anything to her. The young lady did nothing worthy of death. This case is similar to when a man attacks his countryman and kills him.

27 Since he found her in the country, the engaged girl may have cried out, but there was no one to rescue her.

28 "However, if a man meets a girl who isn't engaged to be married, and he seizes her, rapes her, and is later found out, 29 then the man who raped her must give 50 shekels of silver to the girl's father.

Furthermore, he must marry her. Because he had violated her, he is not to divorce her as long as he lives.

30 "A man must not marry his father's wife, so that he will not dishonour his father's memory."

Deuteronomy 23

1 "No man whose testicles have been crushed or whose penis has been cut off may participate in the assembly of the LORD.

2 Furthermore, no one born due to an illicit sexual relationship may participate in the assembly of the LORD, including his descendants to the tenth generation.

3 "No Ammonite or Moabite may participate in the assembly of the LORD, and none of their descendants shall be admitted to the assembly of the LORD, to the tenth generation,

4 because they didn't come to meet you with food and water along the way as you were coming out of Egypt. Instead, they hired Beor's son Balaam from Pethor in Aram-naharaim to curse you.

5 However, the LORD your God didn't listen to Balaam. The LORD your God turned Balaam's curse into a blessing, because the LORD your God loves you.

6 Don't seek a peace treaty with them as long as you live.

1 Corinthians 15

21 For since death came through a man, the resurrection of the dead also came through a man.

22 For as in Adam all die, so also in the Messiah will all be made alive.

23 However, this will happen to each person in the proper order: first the Messiah, then those who belong to the Messiah when he comes.

24 Then the end will come, when after he has done away with every ruler and every authority and power, the Messiah hands over the kingdom to God the Father.

25 For he must rule until God puts all the Messiah's enemies under his feet.

26 The last enemy to be done away with is death,

27 for "God has put everything under his feet." Now when he says, "Everything has been put under him," this clearly excludes the one who put everything under him.

28 But when everything has been put under him, then the Son himself will also become subject to the one who put everything under him, so that God may be all in all.

29 Otherwise, what will those people do who are being baptized because of those who have died? If the dead are not raised at all, why are they being baptized because of them?

30 And why in fact are we being endangered every hour?

31 I face death every day! That is as certain, brothers, as it is that I am proud of you in the Messiah, Jesus our Lord.

32 If I have fought with wild animals in Ephesus from merely human motives, what do I get out of it? If the dead are not raised, "Let's eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."

33 Stop being deceived: "Wicked friends lead to evil ends."

34 Come back to your senses as you should, and stop sinning! For some of you — I say this to your shame — don't fully know God.

35 But someone will ask, "How are the dead raised? What kind of body will they have when they come back?"

36 You fool! The seed you plant does not come to life unless it dies,

37 and what you plant is not the form that it will be, but a bare kernel, whether it is wheat or something else.

38 But God gives the plant the form he wants it to have, and to each kind of seed its own form.

39 Not all flesh is the same. Humans have one kind of flesh, animals in general have another, birds have another, and fish have still another.

40 There are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies, but the splendour of those in heaven is of one kind, and that of those on earth is of another.

41 One kind of splendour belongs to the sun, another to the moon, and still another to the stars. In fact, one star differs from another star in splendour.

42 This is how it will be at the resurrection of the dead. What is planted is decaying, what is raised cannot decay.

43 The body is planted in a state of dishonour but is raised in a state of splendour. It is planted in weakness but is raised in power.

44 It is planted a physical body but is raised a spiritual body. If there is a physical body, there is also a spiritual body.

Deuteronomy 23

- 7 "Don't detest Edomites, since they are related to you. Don't detest Egyptians, either, because you were strangers in their land.
- 8 Their grandchildren may participate in the assembly of the LORD."
- 9 "When you are encamped for battle against your enemies, be on guard against every form of impropriety.
- 10 If someone among you becomes unclean due to nocturnal emissions, he must leave the camp and stay outside.
- 11 As evening approaches he must wash himself with water. Then at sunset, he may return to the camp.
- 12 "Choose a place outside the camp for a latrine.
- 13 Include a spade among your equipment so that when you squat to relieve yourself, you can dig a hole and then cover your excrement.
- 14 For the LORD your God is on the move within your camp to deliver you and to hand your enemies over to you. Therefore your camp must be holy so that he will not see anything indecent among you and turn away from you."
- 15 "Don't hand over a slave who escaped from his master when he runs to you.
- 16 Let him live among you wherever he chooses in any of your cities that he likes. Don't mistreat him."
- 17 "There are to be no cultic prostitutes from among the daughters or the sons of Israel.
- 18 Don't bring the earnings of a female prostitute nor the income of a male prostitute into the house of the LORD your God as payment for any vow. Both of these are detestable to the LORD your God."
- 19 "Don't charge interest to your relatives, whether for money, food, or for anything that has been loaned at interest.
- 20 You may charge interest to a foreigner, but don't charge interest to your relatives, so the LORD your God may bless you in everything you undertake in the land that you are about to enter and possess.
- 21 "When you make a vow to the LORD your God, don't delay paying it, because the LORD your God will certainly demand payment from you, and then you will be guilty of sin.
- 22 But if you refrain from making a vow, then you won't be guilty.
- 23 Be sure you do whatever you promise, because you have given your word voluntarily to the LORD your God.
- 24 "When you enter your countrymen's vineyard, you may eat the grapes to your satisfaction, but don't take any in a basket.
- 25 When you enter your countrymen's grain fields, you may pluck the grain with your hand, but don't put a sickle to his standing grain."

Deuteronomy 24

- 1 "If a man chooses to enter into marriage with a woman, but she finds herself displeasing to him because he has found something objectionable about her, he must draw up divorce papers, hand them to her, and then send her out of his house.
- 2 If she goes out from his house, becomes the wife of another man,
- 3 and this second husband dislikes her, he, also, must draw up divorce papers, hand them to her, and then send her away from his house. Should the second husband die,
- 4 her first husband who married her and divorced her earlier must not remarry her, because she was defiled, since this is detestable to the LORD. Don't defile the land that the LORD your God is about to give you as a possession.

5 "When a man is newly married, he must not be sent out to war or have a related duty placed on him. Let him stay home for one year and be happy with his wife whom he has married.

6 "Don't take a pair of millstones, especially the upper millstone, as collateral for a loan, because this means taking a man's livelihood.

7 "If a man is found kidnapping his relative, a fellow Israeli, and mistreats or sells him, that kidnapper must die. By doing this, you will remove this evil from among you.

8 "In cases of leprosy, be very careful to observe exactly what the Levitical priests instructed you. Carefully follow what I have commanded them.

9 Remember what the LORD your God did to Miriam along the way as you were coming out of Egypt."

10 "When you loan something to your neighbour, don't enter his house to seize what he offered as collateral.

11 Stay outside and let the man to whom you made the loan bring it out to you.

12 If he is a poor man, don't go to sleep with his collateral in your possession.

13 Be sure to return his garment to him at sunset so that he may sleep with it, and he will bless you. It will be a righteous deed in the presence of the LORD your God.

14 "Don't take advantage of a hired person who is poor and needy, whether he's your fellow citizen or a foreigner who lives in your city.

15 Pay his wages that same day before the sun sets, because he is poor and his livelihood depends on it. Otherwise, he may cry out to the LORD against you, and you will incur guilt."

16 "Fathers must not be put to death on account of their children's sin; nor shall children die on account of their fathers' sin. Each person is to be put to death for his own sin.

17 "Don't deny justice to a foreigner or to an orphan, nor take a widow's garment as collateral for a loan.

18 Remember to observe this because you were slaves in Egypt, and the LORD your God redeemed you from there. That is why I am commanding you to do this.

19 "When you are reaping in the field, and you overlook a sheaf, don't return to get it. Let it remain for the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow, in order that the LORD your God may bless everything you undertake.

20 "When you harvest the olives from your trees, don't go back to the branches a second time. What remains is for the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow.

21 "When you harvest the grapes in your vineyard, don't go back a second time. What remains are for the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow.

22 Remember to do this because you were slaves in the land of Egypt. That is why I'm commanding you to do this."

Deuteronomy 25

1 "When there is a conflict between individuals, let them come to court to judge the case, decide who is innocent, and condemn the guilty person.

2 If the guilty person deserves a beating, the judge will make him lie down and be beaten in his presence with the number of lashes fit for his crime.

3 But he must not be beaten more than 40 lashes, because if he receives more than 40 lashes, your brother will be humiliated in your eyes.

4 "Don't muzzle an ox while it is threshing grain."

5 "When two brothers are living together and one of them dies without leaving a son, his widow must not be married outside the family to a foreigner. Instead, the brother-in-law must go to her, take her as his wife, and by doing so perform the duty of a brother-in-law.

6 The firstborn whom she will bear will continue the name of the dead brother, so his name will not be erased from Israel.

7 But if the man does not want to marry his brother's widow, then she must go to the elders at the city gate and declare, 'My husband's brother refuses to perform the duty of a brother-in-law in order to preserve the name of his brother in Israel. He is not willing to perform the duty of a brother-in-law.'

8 Then the elders of the city are to summon him and speak with him. If he insists on saying, 'I don't want to marry her,'

9 then she is to approach her brother-in-law in the presence of the elders, remove his sandal, spit in his face, and say in response, 'May this be done to the man who does not preserve the lineage of his brother.'

10 Then his family name in Israel will be known as 'the family of the one whose sandal was removed.'"

11 "If two men are fighting together, and the wife of one comes to rescue her husband from the grasp of his assailant, and she reaches out and seizes his genitals,

12 cut off her hand. Don't show any pity."

13 "Don't have different weights in your bag — one heavy and one light.

14 Don't have different measuring devices in your house — one large and one small.

15 You must have honest weights and measuring devices, so you may live long in the land that the LORD your God is about to give you,

16 for anyone who does these things — anyone who deals dishonestly — is detestable to the LORD your God."

17 "Remember what the Amalekites did to you along the road while you were coming out of Egypt,

18 how when you were very tired and weary, they lay in wait for you on the road and eliminated everyone who was lagging behind. They had no fear of God.

19 Therefore, when the LORD your God has given you rest from all your enemies who surround you in the land that he is about to give you to possess as an inheritance, you must completely erase the memory of the Amalekites from under heaven. Don't forget!"

1 Corinthians 15

45 This, indeed, is what is written: "The first man, Adam, became a living being." The last Adam became a life-giving spirit.

46 The spiritual does not come first, but the physical does, and then comes the spiritual.

47 The first man came from the dust of the earth; the second man came from heaven.

48 Those who are made of the dust are like the man from the dust; those who are heavenly are like the man who is from heaven.

49 Just as we have borne the likeness of the man who was made from dust, we will also bear the likeness of the man from heaven.

50 Brothers, this is what I mean: Mortal bodies cannot inherit the kingdom of God, and what decays cannot inherit what does not decay.

51 Let me tell you a secret. Not all of us will die, but all of us will be changed —

52 in a moment, faster than an eye can blink, at the sound of the last trumpet. Indeed, that trumpet will sound, and then the dead will be raised never to decay, and we will be changed.

53 For what is decaying must be clothed with what cannot decay, and what is dying must be clothed with what cannot die.

54 Now, when what is decaying is clothed with what cannot decay, and what is dying is clothed with what cannot die, then the written word will be fulfilled: "Death has been swallowed up by victory!"

55 "Where, O death, is your victory? Where, O death, is your sting?"

56 Now death's stinger is sin, and sin's power is the Law.

57 But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus the Messiah!

58 Therefore, my dear brothers, be steadfast, unmovable, always excelling in the work of the Lord, because you know that the work that you do for the Lord isn't wasted.

30th March

Deuteronomy 26

1 "When you arrive in the land that the LORD your God is about to give you as an inheritance, take possession of it and settle in it.

2 Gather all the first produce of the ground that you harvest from your land that the LORD your God is about to give you, place it in a basket, and bring it to the place where the LORD your God will choose to establish his name.

3 Approach the priest who is in charge at that time and say to him, 'I acknowledge today to the LORD your God that I've arrived in the land that the LORD promised our ancestors to give us.' "Then the priest will take the basket from you and place it in front of the altar of the LORD your God.

5 Then you are to affirm and declare in the presence of the LORD your God:

'A wandering Aramean was my ancestor, who went down to Egypt and travelled there with very few family members, yet there he became a great, powerful, and populous nation.

6 But the Egyptians oppressed us, afflicted us, and assigned us to hard labour.

7 So we cried out to the LORD God of our ancestors, and he heard our cries and observed our affliction, trouble, and oppression.

8 The LORD brought us out of Egypt with his awesome power, with great terror, signs, and wonders.

9 And then we arrived at this place, and he gave this land to us, flowing with milk and honey.

10 Now, look — I brought the first produce of the land that you, LORD, have given me.'

Then set it in the presence of the LORD your God and worship him.

11 Rejoice with the descendants of Levi and the foreigner among you at all the good things that the LORD your God has given you and your family."

12 "When you have finished your harvest, reserve the tithe in the third year (the year of the tithe), and give the entire tithe to the descendants of Levi, to the foreigners, to the orphans, and to the widows, so they may eat and be satisfied in your cities.

13 Then declare in the presence of the LORD your God:

'I've removed the holy offering from my house and given it to the descendants of Levi, to the foreigners, to the orphans, and to the widows, just as you have commanded me. I haven't violated or forgotten your commands.

14 I haven't eaten any part of it while mourning, nor removed any part of it while unclean, nor offered any of it to the dead. I've obeyed the voice of the LORD my God and did all that he commanded me.

15 Look down from your holy habitation in heaven and bless your people Israel and the land that you have given us, just as you promised our ancestors — a land flowing with milk and honey."

16 "The LORD your God is commanding you this very day to observe these statutes and judgements. Be careful to obey them with all your heart and soul.

17 You have declared this very day that the LORD will be your God. You are to walk in his ways, keep his statutes, commands, and judgements, and obey his voice.

18 The LORD affirmed this day that you are his prized possession. Therefore observe his commands,

19 so he may elevate you far above all the nations that he has made. Then you will live to the praise, fame, and glory of God, and so be a nation that is holy to the LORD your God, as he has promised."

Deuteronomy 27

- 1 Moses and the elders of Israel gave these orders to the people: "Observe all of the commandments that I'm giving you today.
- 2 On the day you cross over the Jordan River to the land that the LORD your God is about to give you, set up large stones and coat them with plaster.
- 3 Then inscribe on them all the words of this law when you've crossed over into the land that the LORD your God is about to give you — a land flowing with milk and honey — just as the LORD God of your ancestors promised you.
- 4 "When you have crossed the Jordan River, set up these stones about which I'm commanding you today on Mount Ebal, and coat them with plaster.
- 5 Then build an altar there to the LORD your God, an altar of stones that haven't been worked with iron tools.
- 6 Build the altar to the LORD your God with uncut stones, then offer a burnt offering to him.
- 7 Offer a burnt offering there, then eat and rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God.
- 8 Inscribe on the stones plainly and distinctly all the words of this Law."
- 9 Then Moses and the Levitical priests spoke to Israel. They said, "Be quiet and listen, Israel! Today you have become the people of the LORD your God.
- 10 Listen to his voice and carry out his commands and statutes that I'm giving you today."
- 11 Moses commanded the people that day saying,
- 12 "When you cross the Jordan River, these tribes are to stand on Mount Gerizim to bless the people — Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.
- 13 The tribes of Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali are to stand on Mount Ebal to pronounce the curse.
- 14 "The descendants of Levi are to declare in a loud voice to every Israeli:
- 15 "Cursed is the one who makes a sculptured or cast image — a detestable thing to the LORD, the work of a craftsman — and sets it up secretly.' "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 16 "Cursed is the one who treats his father and mother with dishonour.' "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 17 "Cursed is the one who moves his neighbour's boundary stone.' "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 18 "Cursed is the one who misleads a blind person on the road. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 19 "Cursed is the one who perverts justice due the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow.' "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 20 "Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his father's wife, because he has disgraced his father. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 21 "Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with any animal. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 22 "Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his sister, the daughter of his father or mother. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 23 "Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his mother-in-law. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 24 "Cursed is the one who strikes his neighbour secretly. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 25 "Cursed is the one who accepts a bribe to kill an innocent person. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'
- 26 "Cursed is the one who doesn't uphold the words of this Law and observe them. "Then all the people are to respond by saying, 'Amen!'"

Deuteronomy 28

1 "Indeed, if you diligently obey the LORD your God to carry out all his commands that I'm giving you today, then the LORD your God will set you high above all the nations of the earth.

2 Moreover, all these blessings will come upon you in abundance, if you obey the LORD your God:

3 "Blessed will you be in the city and blessed will you be in the country.

4 "Blessed will your children be, as well as the produce of your land, the offspring of your beasts and cattle, and the offspring of your flock.

5 "Blessed will be your grain basket and your kneading bowl.

6 "Blessed will you be in your comings and goings."

7 "The LORD will make your enemies, who rise against you and attack from one direction, to flee from you in seven directions.

8 "The LORD will send blessings for you with regard to your barns and everything you undertake. Indeed, he will bless you in the land that the LORD your God is about to give you.

9 "The LORD will assign you to be a holy people for himself, just as he promised you, as long as you keep his commands and walk in his ways.

10 "Then all the people of the earth will observe that the name of the LORD is proclaimed among you, and they will fear you.

11 "The LORD will show his abundant goodness with respect to your children, the offspring of your animals, and the produce of your farmland that he promised your ancestors he would give you.

12 "The LORD will open his rich treasury, the heavens, to release rain upon your land in season and bless everything you undertake so that you'll lend to many nations but won't borrow.

13 "The LORD your God will make you the head and not the tail — placing you above and not beneath — if you obey the commands of the LORD your God that I'm giving you today to keep and observe.

14 Do not deviate from any of his commands that I'm giving you today — neither to the right nor the left — to follow and serve other gods."

15 "But if you don't obey the LORD your God and faithfully carry out all his commands and statutes that I'm giving you today, then all these curses will come upon you and overwhelm you.

16 "Cursed will you be in the city and cursed will you be in the country.

17 "Cursed will be your grain basket and your kneading bowl.

18 "Cursed will your children be, as well as the produce of your land, the offspring of your beasts and cattle, and the offspring of your flock.

19 "Cursed will you be in your comings and goings."

1 Corinthians 16

1 Now concerning the collection for the saints, you should follow the directions I gave to the churches in Galatia.

2 After the Sabbath ends, each of you should set aside and save something from your surplus in proportion to what you have, so that no collections will have to be made when I arrive.

3 When I arrive, I will send letters along with the men you approve to take your gift to Jerusalem.

4 If it is worthwhile for me to go, too, they can go with me.

5 I will visit you when I go through Macedonia — for I intend to go through Macedonia —

6 and will probably stay with you for a while or even spend the winter with you. Then you can send me on my way, wherever I decide to go.

7 I do not want to visit with you now just in passing, because I hope to spend a longer time with you if the Lord permits.

8 However, I'll stay on in Ephesus until Pentecost,

9 because a door has opened wide for me to do effective work, although many people are opposing me.

10 If Timothy comes, see to it that he does not have anything to be afraid of while he is with you, for he is doing the Lord's work as I am.

11 Therefore, no one should treat him with contempt. Send him on his way in peace so that he may come to me, because I am expecting him along with the brothers.

12 Now concerning our brother Apollos, I strongly urged him to visit you with the other brothers, but he was not inclined to do so just now. However, he will visit you when the time is right.

13 Remain alert. Keep standing firm in your faith. Keep on being courageous and strong.

14 Everything you do should be done lovingly.

15 Now I urge you, brothers — for you know that the members of the family of Stephanas were the first converts in Achaia, and that they have devoted themselves to serving the saints —

16 to submit yourselves to people like these and to anyone else who shares their labour and hard work.

17 I am glad that Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus came here, because what was lacking they have supplied through you.

18 They refreshed my spirit — and yours, too. Therefore, appreciate men like that.

19 The churches in Asia greet you. Aquila and Prisca and the church in their house greet you warmly in union with the Lord.

20 All the brothers greet you. Greet one another with a holy kiss.

21 I, Paul, am writing this greeting with my own hand.

22 If anyone doesn't love the Lord, let him be condemned! May our Lord come!

23 May the grace of the Lord Jesus be with you!

24 May my love remain with all of you in union with the Messiah Jesus.

Deuteronomy 28

20 "The LORD will send the curse among you, will confuse you, and will rebuke you in everything you undertake until you are destroyed and perish quickly because of your evil deeds, since you will have forsaken him.

21 The LORD will cause you to be ill with long-lasting diseases until you are wiped out from the land that you are entering to possess.

22 The LORD will afflict you with tuberculosis, fever, inflammation, high fever, drought, blight, and mildew. These will attack you until you are completely destroyed.

23 The sky above your head will become bronze while the ground beneath you will become iron.

24 The LORD will change the rain on your land to powder and dust. It will come down from the sky until you are exterminated."

25 "The LORD will cause you to be defeated by your enemies. You'll go out against them in one direction, but you'll flee from them in seven directions. Consequently, you'll be in a state of great terror throughout all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 Your dead bodies will be food for the birds of the sky and the wild animals of the earth, with no one to chase them away.

27 "The LORD will afflict you with the boils of Egypt, with tumours, skin disease, and festering rashes, and none of them will be curable.

28 The LORD will afflict you with insanity, blindness, and mental confusion.

29 As a result, you'll wander aimlessly in broad daylight just as a blind person wanders in darkness. You won't prosper in life. Instead you'll be oppressed and plundered all day long, with no deliverer.

30 You'll be engaged to a woman, but another man will rape her. You'll build a house but you won't live in it. You'll plant a vineyard but you won't harvest it.

31 Your ox will be slaughtered in front of you, and you won't be able to eat it. Your donkey will be stolen from you while you watch and won't be returned to you. Your flock of sheep will be handed to your enemies and there will be no deliverer.

32 Your sons and daughters will be given to another people while you watch, and you won't be able to approach them at all, and you'll be powerless to help.

33 A people whom you don't know will devour what your land and labour produces. You'll be only oppressed and discouraged continually 34 until you are driven insane from what your eyes will see.

35 "The LORD will inflict you with incurable boils on your knees and legs, and from the sole of your foot to the top of your head.

36 "The LORD will banish you and your king whom you will appoint over you to go to a nation that neither you nor your ancestors have known, and there you'll serve other gods of wood and stone.

37 You'll become a desolation and a proverb, and you'll be mocked among the people where the LORD will drive you."

38 "You'll plant many seeds in a field, but your harvest will be small because the locust will consume it.

39 You'll plant a vineyard, but you won't drink wine or harvest any grapes, because worms will consume it.

40 You'll have olive trees throughout your territory, but you won't be able to anoint yourself with oil, because the olives will drop off the trees.

41 You'll bear sons and daughters, but they won't belong to you, because they'll go into captivity.

42 Whirling locusts will consume every tree and the produce of your land.

43 The foreigner in your midst will be elevated higher and higher over you, while you are brought low little by little.

44 He will lend to you, but you won't lend to him. He'll be the head, but you'll be the tail.

45 All these curses will come upon you and will overwhelm you until you are exterminated, because you didn't obey the LORD your God to keep his commands and statutes, which he had commanded you.

46 These curses will serve as a sign and wonder for you and your descendants as long as you live."

47 "Because you didn't serve the LORD your God joyfully and wholeheartedly, despite the abundance of everything you have,

48 you'll serve your enemies whom the LORD your God will send against you. You will serve in famine and in drought, in nakedness, and in lack of everything. They'll set a yoke of iron upon your neck until they have exterminated you.

49 "The LORD will raise a distant nation against you from the other side of the earth. Swooping down like a vulture, 50 it will be a nation whose language you don't understand, whose stern appearance neither shows regard nor extends grace to anyone whether old or young.

51 Its army will consume the offspring of your animals and the produce of your soil until you are exterminated. They will leave you without your grain, wine, oil, the increase of your cattle, and the lamb of your flock, until you are completely destroyed.

52 They'll besiege all your cities until your high and fortified walls in which you have trusted collapse throughout the land. Indeed, they will besiege all your cities, which the LORD your God gave you.

53 "You'll eat your own children — the flesh of your sons and daughters, whom the Lord your God gave you — on account of the siege and the distress with which your enemy will oppress you.

54 Even the compassionate man among you — the very sensitive one — will look with evil in his eyes toward his brother, his beloved wife, and his surviving sons, whom he spared.

55 He will withhold from each of them the flesh of his sons that he is eating — since there will be nothing left — on account of the siege and distress with which your enemy will oppress you in all your cities.

56 The most tender and sensitive lady among you, who doesn't venture to touch the soles of her feet to the ground on account of her daintiness, will look with hostility in her eyes against her beloved husband, her sons, and her daughters.

57 She will eat her afterbirth and her new-born children secretly — since there will be nothing left — on account of the siege and distress with which your enemy will oppress you in your cities."

58 "If you aren't careful to observe all the words of this Law that have been written in this book, instructing you to fear this glorious and awesome name of the LORD your God 59 then he will inflict extraordinary plagues on you and your children, great and lasting plagues, and severe and lasting illnesses.

60 He will inflict on you all the diseases of Egypt that you dreaded, and they won't be curable.

61 Moreover, the LORD will inflict you with illnesses and plagues that were not written in this Book of the Law, until you are exterminated.

62 Because you will not have obeyed the LORD your God, very few of you will be left — instead of you being as numerous as the stars in the heavens.

63 Just as the LORD delighted to prosper and increase you, so now the LORD will delight to destroy, exterminate, and banish you from the land that you are about to enter to possess."

64 "He'll scatter you among the peoples from one end of the earth to the other, and there you'll serve other gods made of wood and stones, which neither you nor your ancestors have known.

65 Among those nations you'll have no rest. There'll be no resting place for the soles of your feet. Instead, the LORD will give you an anxious heart, failing eyesight, and a despairing spirit.

66 You'll cling to life, being fearful by both night and day, with no assurance of survival.

67 In the morning you'll say, 'I wish it were evening.' Yet in the evening you'll say, "I wish it were morning," on account of what you'll dread and what you'll see.

68 Finally, the LORD will bring you back to Egypt by ship, a place that I said you'll never see again. There you'll try to sell yourselves to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you."

Deuteronomy 29

1 These are the terms of the covenant, which the LORD commanded Moses to make with the Israelis in the land of Moab in addition to the covenant that he made with them in Horeb.

2 Moses called all Israel together and addressed them: "You saw everything that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, to all his servants, and to his whole country.

3 Those great feats that you saw with your own eyes are signs and great wonders.

4 Yet to this day, the LORD hasn't given you a heart that understands, eyes that perceive, and ears that discern.

5 "Though I've led you for 40 years in the desert, neither your clothes nor your shoes have worn out.

6 You didn't have bread to eat or wine or anything intoxicating to drink, so that you would learn that I am the LORD your God.

7 Then you reached this place, where King Sihon of Heshbon and King Og of Bashan had come out to meet and fight with us, but we defeated them.

8 We captured their land and handed it as an inheritance to the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh.

9 Therefore, keep the terms of this covenant, carrying them out so that you'll be wise in everything you do."

10 "All of you are standing today in the presence of the LORD your God — the heads of your tribes, your elders, your magistrates, all the men of Israel,

11 along with your children, your wives, even the foreigner in your camp, including the woodchopper and the water drawer —

12 to enter into a covenant with the LORD your God and into the oath that he is about to make with you today,

13 so that he will elevate you to be a people for him. And he will be God to you, just as he promised you and swore to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Mark 1

- 1 This is the beginning of the gospel of Jesus the Messiah, the Son of God.
- 2 As it is written in the prophet Isaiah, "See! I am sending my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way.
- 3 He is a voice calling out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way for the Lord! Make his paths straight!'"
- 4 John was baptizing in the wilderness, proclaiming a baptism about repentance for the forgiveness of sins.
- 5 People from the whole Judean countryside and all the people of Jerusalem were flocking to him, being baptized by him while they confessed their sins.
- 6 Now John was dressed in camel's hair with a leather belt around his waist. He ate locusts and wild honey.
- 7 He kept proclaiming, "The one who is coming after me is stronger than I am, and I am not worthy to bend down and untie his sandal straps.
- 8 I baptized you with water, but it is he who will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."
- 9 In those days Jesus came from Nazareth in Galilee and was baptized by John in the Jordan.
- 10 Just as he was coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens split open and the Spirit descending on him like a dove.
- 11 Then a voice came from heaven: "You are my Son, whom I love. I am pleased with you!"
- 12 At once the Spirit drove him into the wilderness.
- 13 He was in the wilderness for 40 days being tempted by Satan. He was among wild animals, and angels were ministering to him.
- 14 Now after John had been arrested, Jesus went to Galilee and proclaimed the gospel about the kingdom of God.
- 15 He said, "The time is now! The kingdom of God is near! Repent, and keep believing the gospel!"
- 16 While Jesus was walking beside the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and his brother Andrew. They were throwing a net into the sea because they were fishermen.
- 17 Jesus told them, "Follow me, and I will make you fishermen of people!"
- 18 So immediately they left their nets and followed him.
- 19 Going on a little farther he saw James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John. They were in a boat repairing their nets.
- 20 He immediately called them, and they left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired men and followed him.
- 21 Then they went to Capernaum. As soon as it was the Sabbath, Jesus went into the synagogue and began to teach.
- 22 The people were utterly amazed at his teaching, because he was teaching them like one with authority and not like their scribes.

Deuteronomy 29

14 Now, I'm not making this covenant and oath with you alone,
15 but with whoever is here with us standing in the presence of the LORD our God today, as well as with those who aren't here with us today."
16 "Now, you know how we lived in the land of Egypt and how we travelled through the territory of other nations.
17 You have seen their detestable practices, their idols of wood, stone, silver, and gold that they had with them.
18 Be alert so there is no man, woman, family, or a tribe whose heart is turning away from the LORD your God to go and serve the gods of those nations. "Be alert so there will be no root among you that produces poisonous and bitter fruit,
19 because when such a person hears the words of this oath, he will bless himself and say: 'I will have a peaceful life, even though I'm determined to be stubborn.' By doing this he will be sweeping away both watered and parched ground alike.'
20 The LORD won't forgive such a person. Instead, the zealous anger of the LORD will blaze against him. All the curses that were written in this book will fall on him. Then the LORD will wipe out his memory from under heaven.
21 The LORD will set him apart from all the tribes of Israel for destruction, according to the curses of the covenant that were written in this Book of the Law."
22 "Then the generation to come — your descendants after you and the foreigners who come from afar — will see plagues and illnesses infecting the land that the LORD will inflict on it.
23 The whole land will be covered with salt pits and burning sulphur, with nothing planted, nothing sprouting, and producing no vegetation — overthrown like Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboiim, when the LORD had overthrown them in his raging fury.
24 All the nations will ask, 'Why did the LORD do this to this land? What is the meaning of this fierce and great anger?'
25 Then they will answer themselves, 'Because they've abandoned the covenant of their LORD, the God of their ancestors that he had made with them when he brought them out of Egypt.
26 They followed and worshipped other gods whom they had not known and whom he did not assign to them.
27 For this reason, the anger of the LORD raged against this land, to bring upon it all the curses that were written in this book.
28 The LORD uprooted them from the land in his anger, wrath, and great fury, deporting them to another land, and that's the way things are today.'
29 The secret things belong to the LORD our God, but what has been revealed belongs to us and to our children forever, so that we might observe the words of this Law."

Deuteronomy 30

1 "When all these things happen to you — both the blessings and the curses that I've presented to you — and you take them seriously in all the nations where the LORD your God will deport you,
2 and when you — you and your descendants, that is — will have returned to him and obeyed all the commands that I'm giving you today with all your heart and soul,
3 then the LORD your God will restore your fortunes and will show compassion to you. He will gather you from among the peoples where he had scattered you.
4 Even if the LORD had banished you to the ends of the heavens, the LORD your God will gather you from there

5 and he'll bring you to the land that your ancestors inherited. You'll possess it, you'll prosper, and you'll greatly multiply more than your ancestors did.

6 Then the LORD your God will circumcise both your hearts and those of your descendants so that you can love him with your heart and with your soul and therefore live.

7 Then the LORD your God will inflict all these curses on your enemies and on those who hate and persecute you."

8 "So now, return and obey the LORD your God and observe all his commands that I'm giving you today,

9 and the LORD your God will prosper you abundantly in all that you do, along with your children, your livestock, and the produce of your fields. For the LORD your God will again be delighted with you for good, just as he was delighted with your ancestors,

10 if you obey him and keep his commands and statutes that are written in this Book of the Law, and if you return to him with all your heart and soul.

11 "Indeed, these commands that I'm giving you today are neither confusing nor unattainable for you.

12 They aren't in the heavens, so you have to ask, 'Who'll go up to the heavens for us and get it for us so we can hear it and act on it?'

13 And they aren't beyond the seas either, so you have to ask, 'Who'll cross the sea and get it for us so we can hear it and act on it?'

14 No, the word is very near you — it's within your mouth and heart for you to attain."

15 "Look, today I have set before you life and what is good, along with death and what is evil.

16 That's why I'm commanding you today to love the LORD your God by walking in his ways and by observing his commands, statutes, and ordinances, so that you may live long, increase, and so that the LORD your God may bless you in the land that you are about to enter to possess.

17 "But if you turn your heart away, and do not obey, but instead if you stray away to worship and serve other gods,

18 I'm declaring to you today that you will surely be destroyed. You won't live long in the land that you are crossing the Jordan River to enter and possess.

19 "I call heaven and earth to testify against you today! I've set life and death before you today: both blessings and curses. Choose life, that it may be well with you — you and your children.

20 Love the LORD your God, obey his voice, and cling to him, because he is your life — even your long life — so that you may live in the land that the LORD promised to give Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob."

Deuteronomy 31

1 Moses went and explained these things to everyone in Israel.

2 Then he concluded, "I'm now 120 years old. I'm not able to get around anymore,

3 and the LORD told me, 'You won't be crossing the Jordan River.' But the LORD your God is crossing over before you. He will destroy these nations in front of you and you will dispossess them. "As for Joshua, he will cross over before you, just as the LORD promised.

4 The LORD will do to them just as he did to Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and to their land when he destroyed them.

5 The LORD will hand them over to you, so you can do to them what I've instructed you to do.

6 Be strong and courageous. Don't fear or tremble before them, because the LORD your God will be the One who keeps on walking with you — he won't leave you or abandon you."

7 Then Moses called on Joshua and told him in the presence of everyone in Israel, "Be strong and courageous, because you'll bring this people to the land that the LORD your God had promised to give your ancestors. You will be the one who causes them to possess it.

8 Indeed, the LORD is the One who will keep on walking in front of you. He'll be with you and won't leave you or abandon you, so never be afraid and never be dismayed."

9 Then Moses wrote down this Law and gave it to the Levitical priests who carry the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD and to all of Israel's leaders.

10 Then he gave these orders: "At the end of seven years, the year designated for release, during the Feast of Tents,

11 when all of Israel comes to appear in the presence of the LORD your God at the place that he'll choose, read this Law aloud to them.

12 Gather the people — the men, women, children, and the foreigners that live in your cities — so they may hear and fear the LORD your God, and so they may be careful to obey the words contained in this Law.

13 Their children who don't know will hear and learn to fear the LORD your God as long as you live in the land that you are crossing the Jordan River to possess."

14 Then the LORD told Moses: "Look! Because your time to die is approaching, call Joshua, present yourselves at the Tent of Meeting, and then I will commission him." Moses and Joshua complied and presented themselves at the Tent of Meeting.

15 So the LORD appeared at the tent in a pillar of cloud that stood above the entrance.

16 Then the LORD told Moses: "Look! You are about to join your ancestors. Afterwards, this people will rebel and commit prostitution with the foreign gods of the land that they are about to enter to possess. They will abandon me and break my covenant that I made with them.

17 When that happens, my anger will burn against them, because they will have abandoned me. I'll hide my face from them, they will be consumed, and many evils and distresses will find them. When this happens, they will say, 'These troubles have happened to us because God isn't among us.'

18 I'll surely hide my face in that day on account of the evil that they will have done, because they will have turned to other gods."

19 "Now write this song and teach it to the Israelis. Put this song in their very mouths, so that it will be a witness for me against the Israelis,

20 because after I've brought them to the land flowing with milk and honey that I promised to their ancestors by an oath, they'll eat, grow fat, and then they'll turn to other gods and serve them, while despising me and breaking my covenant.

21 Then, when many evils and troubles will have come upon them, this song will serve as a witness against them, since their descendants won't fail to sing it. I know the plan that they are devising even before I bring them into the land that I promised them by an oath."

22 So Moses wrote the song that very day and taught it to the Israelis.

23 Then the LORD charged Nun's son Joshua, "Be strong and courageous, because you'll bring the Israelis to the land that I promised to them by an oath. I'll be with you."

24 When Moses had finished writing the words of this Law in a book,

25 he gave this charge to the descendants of Levi who carried the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD:

26 "Take the book of this Law and set it beside the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD your God. Let it remain there with you as witness against you,

27 because indeed I know your rebellion and stubbornness. Note that even while I'm still alive, you've been rebelling against the LORD — how much more so after my death!

28 Gather together the leaders of your tribes and your foremen so I can speak these words in their hearing and call heaven and the earth as witnesses against them,

29 because I know that after my death, you'll surely act wickedly and turn from the road that I've instructed you. As a result, evil will fall on you in days to come, because you'll act wickedly in the sight of the LORD, causing him to become angry due to your behaviour."

30 So Moses spoke the words of this song — to the very end — in front of the entire assembly of Israel.

Mark 1

23 Suddenly there was a man in their synagogue who had an unclean spirit. He screamed,

24 "What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are — the Holy One of God!"

25 But Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be quiet, and come out of him!"

26 At this, the unclean spirit shook the man, cried out with a loud voice, and came out of him.

27 All the people were so stunned that they kept saying to each other, "What is this? A new teaching with authority! He tells even the unclean spirits what to do, and they obey him!"

28 At once his fame began to spread throughout the surrounding region of Galilee.

29 After they left the synagogue, they went directly to the house of Simon and Andrew, along with James and John.

30 Now Simon's mother-in-law was lying in bed, sick with a fever, so they promptly told Jesus about her.

31 He went up to her, took her by the hand, and helped her up. The fever left her, and she began serving them.

32 When evening came, after the sun had set, people started bringing to him everyone who was sick or possessed by demons.

33 In fact, the whole city gathered at the door.

34 He healed many who were sick with various diseases and drove out many demons. However, he wouldn't allow the demons to speak because they knew who he was.

35 In the morning, while it was still very dark, Jesus got up and went to a deserted place and prayed there.

36 Simon and his companions searched frantically for him.

37 When they found him, they told him, "Everyone's looking for you."

38 "Let's go to the neighbouring town," he replied, "so I can preach there, too, because that's why I came."

39 So he went throughout Galilee, preaching in their synagogues and driving out demons.

40 Then a leper came to Jesus and began pleading with him. He fell on his knees and told him, "If you want to, you can make me clean."

41 Moved with compassion, Jesus reached out his hand, touched him, and told him, "I do want to. Be made clean!"

42 Instantly the leprosy left him, and he was clean.

43 Then Jesus sternly warned him and encouraged him to go at once,

44 saying to him, "Be sure that you don't tell anyone. Instead, go and show yourself to the priest, and then offer for your cleansing what Moses commanded as proof to the authorities."

45 But when the man left, he began to proclaim it freely. He spread the news so widely that Jesus could no longer enter a town openly, but had to stay out in deserted places. Still, people kept coming to him from everywhere.

Deuteronomy 32

- 1 Hear, heavens, and I will speak! Listen, earth, to the words of my mouth!
- 2 May my instructions descend like rain and may my words flow like dew, as light rain upon the grass, and as showers upon new plants.
- 3 For I'll proclaim the name of our LORD. Ascribe greatness to our God!
- 4 Flawless is the work of the Rock, because all his ways are just. A faithful God — never unjust — righteous and upright is he.
- 5 But those who are not his children acted corruptly against him; they are a defective and perverted generation.
- 6 This is not the way to repay the LORD, is it, you foolish and witless people? Is he not your father, who bought you, formed you, and established you?
- 7 Remember the days of old, reflect on the years of previous generations. Ask your father, and he'll tell you; your elders will inform you.
- 8 When the Most High gave nations as their inheritance, when he separated the human race, he set boundaries for the people according to the number of the children of God.
- 9 For the LORD's portion is his people; Jacob is his allotted portion.
- 10 The LORD found him in a desert land, in a barren, eerie wilderness. He surrounded, cared for, and guarded him as the pupil of his eye.
- 11 Like an eagle stirs its nest, hovering near its young, spreading out his wings to take him and carry him on his pinions,
- 12 the LORD alone guided him. There was no foreign god with him.
- 13 He mounted him on a high place above the earth, feeding him from the produce of the field. He nourished him with honey from the rock and with oil from the flint rock,
- 14 with curds from cattle and with milk from sheep, with the fat of lambs, with rams from Bashan, with the fat of goats, with the finest of wheat — and from the juice of grapes you drank wine.
- 15 Jacob dined until satisfied; Jeshurun grew fat and kicked. He grew fat, coarse, and gross, so that he abandoned the God who made him and spurned the Rock that was his salvation.
- 16 They provoked him to jealousy over foreigners and to anger over detestable things.
- 17 They sacrificed to demons — not to the real God — gods whom they didn't know, new neighbours who had recently appeared, whom your ancestors never feared.
- 18 You neglected the Rock that fathered you; you abandoned God, who was awaiting your birth.
- 19 The LORD saw it and became jealous, provoked by his sons and daughters.
- 20 So he said: "Let me hide my face from them. I will observe what their end will be, because they are a perverted generation, children within whom there is no loyalty.
- 21 They provoked me to jealousy over non-gods, and to be angry over their vanity. Now I'll provoke them to jealousy over a non-people; and over a foolish nation I'll provoke them to anger.
- 22 For a fire breaks out in my anger — burning to the deepest part of Sheol, consuming the earth and its produce and igniting the foundations of the mountains.
- 23 I'll bury them in misfortunes and bring them to an end with my arrows.
- 24 Emaciated from famine, feverish from plague, and destroyed by bitterness, I'll send fanged beasts against them, along with poisonous snakes that glide through the dust.
- 25 Outside, the sword will cause bereavement; within, there will be terror for the young man and virgin alike, also for the nursing infant and the aged man."
- 26 I said: "I will scatter them, erasing their memory from the human race, 27 if it weren't for dreading the taunting of their enemies — otherwise, their adversary might misinterpret and say, 'Our power is great. It isn't the LORD who made all of this happen.'"

28 They are a nation devoid of purpose and without insight.

29 O, that they were wise to understand this and consider their future!

30 How can one person chase a thousand of them and two put a myriad to flight, unless their Rock delivers them and the LORD gives them up?

31 For their rock isn't like our Rock, as even our enemies admit.

32 Instead, their vine is from the vines of Sodom and the vineyards of Gomorrah. Their grapes are poisonous; their clusters bitter.

33 Their wine is the venom of serpents, a poisonous cobra.

34 "Is this not kept in reserve, sealed up with me in my treasury?

35 To me belong vengeance and recompense. In due time their feet will slip, because their time of calamity is near and the things prepared for them draw near.

36 For the LORD will vindicate his people and bring comfort to his servants, because he will observe that their power has waned, when neither prisoner nor free person remain.

37 "He will say, 'Where are their gods, the rock in which they took refuge?

38 Who ate the fat of their offerings and drank the wine that was their drink offering? Let them rise and help you and be your hiding place!'

39 "Look now! I AM, and there is no other god besides me. I myself cause death and I sustain life; I wound severely and I also heal; from my power no one can deliver.

40 "I solemnly swear to heaven — I say 'As certainly as I'm alive and living forever,

41 I'll whet my shining sword, with my hands in firm grasp of judgement. I'll show vengeance on my adversary and repay those who keep on hating me.

42 I'll make my arrows drunk with blood. My sword will devour flesh, along with the blood of the slain, and I'll take their enemy leaders captive.'

43 "Sing for joy, nations! Sing for joy, people who belong to him! For he'll avenge the blood of his servants, turn on his adversary, and cleanse both his land and his people."

44 So Moses and Nun's son Joshua came and recited all the words of this song while the people were assembled.

45 When Moses had finished addressing all of these words to all Israel,

46 he told them, "Take to heart my entire testimony against you today. Command your children to observe carefully every word of this Law,

47 because they're not just empty words for you — they are your very life. Through these instructions you will live long in the land that you are about to cross over the Jordan River to possess."

48 Later that day, the LORD told Moses,

49 "Ascend this Abarim mountain range toward Mount Nebo in the land of Moab across from Jericho, and look out over the land of Canaan that I'm about to give to the Israelis as a possession.

50 You will die on the mountain that you are about to ascend and be taken to be with your ancestors, just as your brother Aaron died on Mount Hor and was taken to be with his ancestors.

51 Both of you acted unfaithfully against me among the Israelis at Meribah-kadesh in the desert of Sin, when you failed to uphold my holiness among the Israelis.

52 You'll see the land from a distance, but you won't be able to enter the land that I am about to give to the Israelis."

Deuteronomy 33

1 This is the blessing with which Moses, the man of God, blessed the Israelis before his death.

2 He said: "The LORD came from Sinai. Rising from Seir upon us, he shone forth from Mount Paran, accompanied by a myriad of his holy ones, with flaming fire from his right hand for them.

3 Indeed, lover of people, all of his holy ones are in your control. They gather at your feet to do as you have instructed.

4 Moses commanded with the Law, an inheritance for the community of Jacob.

5 The LORD was king of Jeshurun when the leaders of the people — all the tribes of Israel — gathered together."

6 "May Reuben live and not die, though his numbers are few."

7 He declared this about Judah: "Hear, LORD, the voice of Judah and return him to his people. With his own strength he fights for himself, and you will be of assistance against his enemies."

8 About Levi he said: "Let your Thummim and Urim be with the man to whom you showed gracious love, whom you tested at Massah and with whom you struggled at the waters of Meribah,

9 the one who told his mother and father, 'I don't know them,' and who would neither acknowledge his brothers nor know his own children. For they kept your word and guarded your covenant.

10 They will teach your ordinances to Jacob, and your Law to Israel. They will offer incense as a pleasant aroma to you and a whole burnt offering upon your altar.

11 LORD, bless his substance and approve the work that he undertakes. Shatter the legs of those who oppose against him; may those who hate him stand no more."

Mark 2

1 Several days later, Jesus returned to Capernaum and it was reported that he was at home.

2 Such a large crowd gathered that there wasn't room for them, even in front of the door. Jesus was speaking his message to them

3 when some people came and brought him a paralyzed man being carried by four men.

4 Since they couldn't bring him to Jesus because of the crowd, they made an opening in the roof over the place where he was. They dug through it and let down the mat on which the paralyzed man was lying.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he told the paralyzed man, "Son, your sins are forgiven."

6 Now some scribes were sitting there, arguing among themselves,

7 "Why does this man talk this way? He is blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

8 At once, Jesus knew in his spirit what they were saying to themselves. "Why are you arguing about such things among yourselves?" he asked them.

9 "Which is easier: to say to the paralyzed man, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up, pick up your mat, and walk'?

10 But I want you to know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins. Then he told the paralyzed man,

11 "I say to you, get up, pick up your mat, and go home!"

12 So the man got up, immediately picked up his mat, and went out in front of all of them. As a result, all of the people were amazed and began to glorify God, saying, "We have never seen anything like this!"

13 Jesus went out again beside the sea. The whole crowd kept coming to him, and he kept teaching them.

14 As he was walking along, he saw Levi, the son of Alphaeus, sitting at the tax collector's desk. Jesus told him, "Follow me!" So Levi got up and followed him.

15 Later he was having dinner at Levi's house. Many tax collectors and sinners were also eating with Jesus and his disciples, because there were many who were following him.

16 When the scribes and the Pharisees saw him eating with sinners and tax collectors, they asked his disciples, "Why does he eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?"

17 When Jesus heard that, he told them, "Healthy people don't need a physician, but sick ones do. I did not come to call righteous people, but sinners."

18 Now John's disciples and the Pharisees would fast regularly. Some people came and asked Jesus, "Why do John's disciples and the Pharisees' disciples fast, but your disciples don't fast?"

19 Jesus replied, "The wedding guests can't fast while the groom is with them, can they? As long as they have the groom with them, they can't fast.

20 But the time will come when the groom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast on that day."

21 "No one patches an old garment with a piece of unshrunk cloth. If he does, the patch pulls away from it — the new from the old — and a worse tear is made.

22 And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. If he does, the wine will make the skins burst, and both the wine and the skins will be ruined. Instead, new wine is poured into fresh wineskins."

3rd April

Deuteronomy 33

12 About Benjamin he said: "The beloved of the LORD will live confidently, the Most High protecting him all day long, and resting in his bosom."

13 About Joseph he said: "May the blessing of the LORD be on his land: dew from the choicest of the heavens, and from the depths beneath;

14 from the choicest products of the sun, the rich fruit of the harvest moon,

15 the choicest portion of the eternal mountains, and the best of the everlasting hills;

16 from the choicest of the earth and its fullness, and the favour of the One who lived in the burning bush. May blessing rest on Joseph's head, and on the crown of the head of the one set apart from his brothers.

17 May the firstborn of his bull be honourable to him, and may his horns be those of a wild ox. With them may he push people all together, to the ends of the earth. These are the myriads of Ephraim and the thousands of Manasseh."

18 About Zebulun he said: "Zebulun, rejoice as you go out and Issachar, in being inside your tents.

19 They will call the peoples to the mountain, and there they will offer righteous sacrifices, for they'll draw from the abundance of the sea and from the hidden treasures of the sand."

20 About Gad he said: "Blessed be the One who enlarges Gad! Like a roaring lion, he crouches, tearing arm and scalp.

21 He chose the best part for himself, when the leader's portion was assigned. He came at the head of the people, carrying out the LORD's justice and his ordinances concerning Israel."

22 About Dan he said: "Dan is a lion's cub, leaping forth from Bashan."

23 About Naphtali he said: "Naphtali, full of favour and the LORD's blessing, take possession of the west and south."

24 About Asher he said: "May Asher be blessed, along with his descendants, may his brothers be pleased with him, may he dip his feet in oil,

25 may your bolts be made of iron and bronze, and may your strength be sufficient for each day you live."

26 "There is no one like the God of Jeshurun, who rides through the heavens with its lofty clouds to help you.

27 The God of old is a dwelling place, with everlasting arms underneath. He drove out your enemies before you and said: 'Destroy them!'

28 So Israel lives in confidence, isolated as the fountain of Jacob in a land of grain and new wine, where the heavens rain down dew.

29 How blessed are you, Israel! Who can be like you, a people delivered by the LORD, your shield of help and your finely crafted sword. May your enemies cower before you. You will tread down their high places.

Deuteronomy 34

1 Moses ascended from the desert plain of Moab toward Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, across from Jericho. There the LORD showed him the entire land, from Gilgal as far as Dan,
2 all of Naphtali, the territories of Ephraim and Manasseh, and the entire territory of Judah all the way to out over the sea,

3 including the Negev, the Arabah, the valley of Jericho, and the city of the palm trees as far as Zoar.

4 Then the LORD told him: "This is the land that I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob by an oath when I said, 'I'll give it to your descendants.' I'll let you see it with your eyes, but you won't cross over there."

- 5 So Moses, the servant of the LORD, died there in the land of Moab, just as the LORD had said.
- 6 He was buried in the valley opposite Beth Peor, in the land of Moab, but no one knows to this day where his burial place is.
- 7 Moses was 120 years old when he died. His eyesight wasn't impaired and he was still vigorous and strong.
- 8 The Israelis mourned for Moses at the desert plain of Moab for 30 days, after which the period of mourning for Moses was completed.
- 9 Now Nun's son Joshua was full of the spirit of wisdom, because Moses had placed his hands on him, so the Israelis listened to him and did what the LORD had commanded Moses.
- 10 No prophet ever rose again in Israel like Moses, whom the LORD knew with such great intimacy.
- 11 What signs and wonders the LORD sent him to do throughout the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh, and to all of his servants who lived in the whole land!
- 12 What great power and great terror Moses displayed on behalf of all Israel!

Joshua 1

- 1 After Moses, the servant of the LORD, had died, the LORD spoke to Nun's son Joshua, announcing to him,
- 2 "My servant Moses is dead. Now get ready to cross the Jordan River — you and all the people — to the land that I'm giving the Israelis.
- 3 I'm giving you every place where the sole of your foot falls, just as I promised Moses.
- 4 Your territorial border will extend from the wilderness to the Lebanon Mountains, from the great River Euphrates — all the land of the Hittites — as far as the Mediterranean Sea where the sun sets.
- 5 No one will be victorious against you for the rest of your life. I'll be with you just like I was with Moses — I'll neither fail you nor abandon you.
- 6 "Be strong and courageous, because you'll be leading this people to inherit the land that I promised to give their ancestors.
- 7 Only be strong and very courageous to ensure that you obey all the instructions that my servant Moses gave you — turn neither to the right nor to the left from it — so that you may succeed wherever you go.
- 8 This set of instructions is not to cease being a part of your conversations. Meditate on it day and night, so that you may be careful to carry out everything that's written in it, for then you'll prosper and succeed.
- 9 "I've commanded you, haven't I? Be strong and courageous. Don't be fearful or discouraged, because the LORD your God is with you wherever you go."
- 10 Then Joshua gave orders to the officials of the people.
- 11 "Go through the camp," he said, "and command the people, 'Prepare provisions for yourselves, because within three days you'll be crossing the Jordan River to take possession of the land that the LORD your God is giving you — so go get it!'"
- 12 Joshua told the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh,
- 13 "Remember what Moses commanded you when he said, 'The LORD your God will provide you rest, as well as this land.'
- 14 Your wives, your young children, and your livestock will remain in the land that Moses gave you on this side of the Jordan River, but you and all your warriors will cross, ready for battle, in full view of your relatives, and you will help them
- 15 until the LORD gives relief to your relatives, as he did to you. Then they'll take the land that the LORD your God is giving them as their inheritance. You'll return to the land of your heritage and receive the inheritance that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you on the east side of the Jordan River, in the direction of the sunrise."
- 16 "We'll do everything that you commanded," they replied. "We'll go wherever you send us.
- 17 We'll listen and obey you in everything, just like we did with Moses. Only may the LORD your God be with you, just as he was with Moses.
- 18 Anyone who rebels against what you say and doesn't listen to your words regarding everything that you command will be executed. Only be strong and courageous."

Joshua 2

- 1 After this, Nun's son Joshua sent two men from the Acacia groves as undercover scouts. He told them, "Go and look over the land. Pay special attention to Jericho." So they went out, came to the house of a prostitute named Rahab, and lodged there.
- 2 Then the king of Jericho was told, "Look! Israeli men arrived tonight to scout out the land."
- 3 So the king of Jericho sent for Rahab and ordered her, "Bring out the men who came to visit you and lodged in your house, because they've come to scout out the entire land."

4 Now the woman had taken the two men and hid them. So she replied, "The men really did come to me, but I didn't know from where they came.

5 At dusk, when it was time to close the city gates, the men left. I don't know where the men went. Go after them quickly, and you might overtake them."

6 But she had taken them up to the roof and had hidden them among stalks of flax that she had laid out in order on the roof.

7 So the men pursued them along the road that leads to the fords of the Jordan River. As soon as the search party had left, they shut the city gate after them.

8 Before the scouts had lain down, she went up to them on the roof

9 "I'm really convinced that the LORD has given you the land," she said, "because we're overwhelmed with fear of you. All the other inhabitants of the land are demoralized at your presence,

10 because we heard how the LORD dried up the water of the Reed Sea right in front of you as you were coming out of Egypt, and what you did to the two kings of the Amorites who were on the other side of the Jordan River — to Sihon and Og — whom you completely destroyed.

11 When we heard these reports, we all became terrified and discouraged because of you, for the LORD your God is God in heaven above and on the earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, since I've treated you so kindly, please swear in the name of the LORD that you'll also be kind to my father's household by giving me this sure sign:

13 Spare my father, my mother, and my brothers and sisters, along with everyone who belongs with them so we won't be killed."

14 So the men told her, "Our life for yours — even to death — if you don't betray this mission of ours. Then when the LORD gives us this land, we'll treat you graciously and faithfully."

15 So she let them down by a rope through the window, since her house was built into the town wall where she lived.

16 She told them, "Go out to the hill country, so the search party won't find you, and hide for three days. After that, you may go on your own way."

17 The men replied, "We'll be free from our commitment to you to which you've obligated us

18 when we invade the land, if you don't tie this rope made with red cords in the window through which you let us down, and if you don't gather your father, your mother, your brothers, and all of the rest of your father's household into your house.

19 Everyone who leaves through the doors of your house into the street will be responsible for his own death, but we'll be responsible for anyone who remains with you in the house if even so much as a hand is laid on him.

20 But if you report this incident, we'll be free from the oath to which you've made us swear."

21 "Since you put it that way," she replied, "I agree." After she sent them on their way and they had left, she tied the red cord in the window.

Mark 2

23 Jesus happened to be going through the grain fields on a Sabbath. As they made their way, his disciples began picking the heads of grain.

24 The Pharisees asked him, "Look! Why are they doing what is not lawful on Sabbath days?"

25 He asked them, "Haven't you read what David did when he and his companions were hungry and in need?"

26 How was it that he went into the House of God during the lifetime of Abiathar the high priest and ate the Bread of the Presence, which was not lawful for anyone but the priests to eat, and gave some of it to his companions?"

27 Then he told them, "The Sabbath was made for people, not people for the Sabbath.

28 Therefore, the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath."

Mark 3

1 Jesus went into the synagogue again, and a man with a paralyzed hand was there.

2 The people watched Jesus closely to see whether he would heal him on the Sabbath, intending to accuse him of doing something wrong.

3 He told the man with the paralyzed hand, "Come forward."

4 Then he asked them, "Is it lawful to do good or to do evil on Sabbath days, to save a life or to destroy it?" But they remained silent.

5 Jesus looked around at them in anger, deeply hurt because of their hard hearts. Then he told the man, "Hold out your hand." The man held it out, and his hand was restored to health.

6 Immediately the Pharisees and Herodians went out and began to plot how to kill him.

7 So Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the sea. A large crowd from Galilee, Judea,

8 Jerusalem, Idumea, from across the Jordan, and from the region around Tyre and Sidon followed him. They came to him because they kept hearing about everything he was doing.

9 Jesus told his disciples to have a boat ready for him so that the crowd wouldn't crush him,

10 because he had healed so many people that everyone who had diseases kept crowding up against him in order to touch him.

11 Whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they would fall down in front of him and scream, "You are the Son of God!"

12 But he sternly ordered them again and again not to tell people who he was.

13 Then Jesus went up on a hillside and called to himself those whom he had decided on, and they approached him.

14 He appointed the Twelve, whom he called apostles, to accompany him, to be sent out to preach,

15 and to have the authority to drive out demons.

16 He appointed the Twelve: Simon (whom he named Peter),

17 Zebedee's sons James and his brother John (whom he named Boanerges, that is, Sons of Thunder),

18 Andrew, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Thaddeus, Simon the Cananaean, 19 and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

4th April

Joshua 2

22 The scouts left for the hill country and remained there for three days until the search party returned. The search party searched the entire road, but was unable to find them.

23 Later, the two men returned from the hill country, crossed over the Jordan River, approached Nun's son Joshua, and told him everything that had happened to them.

24 They reported to Joshua, "The LORD really has given the entire land into our control. The inhabitants of the land have melted away right in front of us!"

Joshua 3

1 Joshua got up early the next morning. Accompanied by all the Israelis, he set out from the Acacia groves and arrived at the Jordan River, where they encamped before crossing it.

2 Three days later, the officers went throughout the camp,

3 giving orders to the people. They said, "When you see the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD your God being carried by the Levitical priests, then get up, leave where you are, and follow it.

4 Be sure to keep a distance of about 1,000 yards between you and it. Don't come near it, so you can be certain where you're going, since you haven't passed this way before."

5 Then Joshua addressed the people: "Consecrate yourselves, because tomorrow the LORD will do marvellous things among you."

6 After this, Joshua instructed the priests, "Take up the Ark of the Covenant and cross over ahead of the people." So they took up the Ark of the Covenant and went on ahead of the people.

7 At this point, the LORD told Joshua, "Today I'm going to exalt you in the sight of all Israel, so they'll be sure that I'm going to be with you just as I was with Moses.

8 Give this command to the priests who are carrying the Ark of the Covenant: 'When you arrive at the water of the Jordan River, stand still in the Jordan.'"

9 So Joshua told the Israelis, "Come here and listen to what the LORD your God has to say."

10 Joshua continued, "This is how you'll know that the living God really is among you: he's going to remove the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Hivites, the Perizzites, the Girgashites, the Amorites, and the Jebusites right in front of you.

11 Look! The Ark of the Covenant of the Lord of all the earth is crossing ahead of you into the Jordan River.

12 So take for yourselves twelve men from the tribes of Israel, one man from each tribe.

13 When the soles of the feet of the priests who carry the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, touch the water in the Jordan River, the water that feeds the Jordan will be cut off from above and they'll stand still in a single location."

14 So the people set out from their tents to cross the Jordan River, with the priests carrying the Ark of the Covenant in full view of the people.

15 When the priests who carried the ark entered the Jordan River, as their feet touched the water's edge (the Jordan River overflows all of its banks daily during the harvest season),

16 the water flowing downstream from above stood still in a single location, a great distance away at Adam, a city near Zarethan. The water that flowed south toward the sea in the Arabah (that is, the Dead Sea) was completely cut off. So the people crossed opposite Jericho.

17 The priests who were carrying the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD stood firm on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan River, while all Israel crossed on dry ground until the entire nation had finished crossing the Jordan River.

Joshua 4

1 As soon as the entire nation had completed its crossing of the Jordan, the LORD spoke to Joshua. He said,

2 "Gather together twelve men from the people — one man from each tribe —

3 and tell them, 'Pick up twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan where the priests' feet were standing, bring them along with you, and put them down where you camp tonight.'"

4 So Joshua called the twelve men whom he had chosen from the people of Israel, one man from each tribe.

5 Joshua told them, "Cross over again in front of the ark of the LORD your God into the middle of the Jordan River. Then each of you pick up a stone on his shoulder with which to build a memorial, one for each of the tribes of Israel.

6 Let this serve as a sign among you, so that when your children ask in times to come, 'What do these stones mean to you,'

7 then you'll say to them, 'Because the waters of the Jordan River were cut off in front of the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD. When it crossed the Jordan River, the waters of the Jordan were cut off.' So these stones will become a memorial to the Israelis forever."

8 The Israelis did just as Joshua commanded. They took up twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan River — just as the LORD had spoken to Joshua — according to the number of the tribes of the Israelis, and they carried them over to where they would be pitching camp, and they put them down there.

9 Then Joshua set up twelve stones in the middle of the Jordan River at the location where the feet of the priests who carried the Ark of the Covenant had been standing, and they remain there to this day.

10 The priests who were carrying the ark stood in the middle of the Jordan River until everything had been done in accordance with what the LORD had commanded Joshua to speak to the people and with everything that Moses had commanded Joshua. So the people hurried and crossed over.

11 When all of the people had completed their crossing, the ark of the LORD and the priests crossed over in full view of the people.

12 Just as Moses had directed, the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh crossed over, dressed in battle regalia, in full view of the other Israelis.

13 About 40,000 soldiers equipped to do battle in the LORD's presence crossed over to the desert plains of Jericho.

14 That day, the LORD exalted Joshua in the presence of all Israel so that they revered him just as they had revered Moses throughout his life.

15 Now the LORD had told Joshua,

16 "Command the priests who carry the Ark of the Testimony to come up from the Jordan River."

17 So Joshua ordered the priests, "Come up from the Jordan River."

18 As soon as the priests who were carrying the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD had come up from the middle of the Jordan River, and the soles of the priests' feet came up to dry ground, the water of the Jordan River returned to normal, covering its banks as it had done so before.

19 The people came up from the Jordan River on the tenth day of the first month and camped at Gilgal on the eastern outskirts of Jericho.

20 Joshua set up the twelve stones that they had removed from the Jordan River at Gilgal.

21 Then he told the Israelis, "When your descendants ask their parents in years to come, 'What is the meaning of these stones?'

22 you are to tell your descendants: 'Israel crossed this Jordan River on dry ground

23 because the LORD your God dried up the water of the Jordan River right in front of you, until you had crossed over, just as the LORD your God had done to the Reed Sea — which he had dried up in front of us until we had crossed it also.’
24 Do this so that all of the people of the earth may know how strong the power of the LORD is, and so that you may fear the LORD your God every day.”

Joshua 5

1 All the Amorite kings who lived across the Jordan River to the west and all the Canaanite kings by the Mediterranean Sea became discouraged as soon as they heard that the LORD had dried up the water of the Jordan River for the people of Israel until they had crossed it. They no longer had a will to fight because of the people of Israel.
2 At that time the LORD told Joshua, "Make for yourselves some flint knives and circumcise the Israelis who haven't been circumcised yet."
3 So Joshua made some flint knives and circumcised the Israelis at Gibeath-haaraloth.
4 Joshua circumcised them because all of the males among the people who came out of Egypt — that is, all the warriors — had died during their journey through the wilderness following their departure from Egypt.
5 Although everyone who had left Egypt had been circumcised, nevertheless all the people born during the journey after their departure from Egypt had not been circumcised.
6 The Israelis travelled 40 years in the wilderness until the entire nation — that is, the warriors who had departed from Egypt — had perished because they hadn't listened to the voice of the LORD. The LORD had promised them that he would not let them see the land that he had sworn to give us, a land that flows with milk and honey.
7 As a result, it was their descendants, whom he raised up to take their place, that Joshua circumcised. They had remained uncircumcised, because they had not been circumcised during their journey.
8 When the circumcision of the entire nation was complete, they remained in their places within the camp until they were healed.
9 Then the LORD told Joshua, "Today I have rolled the disgrace of Egypt away from you." That's why that place is called "Gilgal" to this day.
10 While the Israelis remained encamped at Gilgal on the plains of Jericho, they observed the Passover during the evening of the fourteenth day of the month.
11 On the day following Passover — on that exact day — they ate the produce of the land, unleavened cakes and parched grain.
12 The manna ceased on the day they ate the produce of the land. Since the Israelis no longer received manna, they ate crops from the land of Canaan that year.
13 Now it happened that while Joshua was near Jericho, he looked up and much to his amazement, he saw a man standing in front of him, holding a drawn sword in his hand! Joshua approached him and asked him, "Are you one of us, or are you with our enemies?"
14 "Neither," he answered. "I have come as commander of the LORD's Army." Joshua immediately fell on his face to the earth and worshipped, saying to him, "Lord, what do you have for your servant by way of command?"
15 The commander of the LORD's Army replied to Joshua, "Remove your sandals from your feet, because the place where you're standing is holy." So Joshua did so.

Joshua 6

1 Meanwhile, Jericho was fortified inside and out because of the Israelis. Nobody could leave or enter.
2 The LORD told Joshua, "Look! I have given Jericho over to your control, along with its kings and valiant soldiers.
3 March around the city, all the soldiers circling the city once. Do this for six days,

4 with seven priests carrying in front of the ark seven trumpets made from rams' horns. On the seventh day march around the city seven times while the priests blow their trumpets.

5 When they sound a long blast with the ram's horn, as soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then the entire army is to cry out loud, the city wall will collapse, and then all of the soldiers are to charge straight ahead."

Mark 3

20 Then he went home. Such a large crowd gathered again that Jesus and his disciples couldn't even eat.

21 When his family heard about it, they went to restrain him, because they kept saying, "He's out of his mind!"

22 The scribes who had come down from Jerusalem kept repeating, "He has Beelzebul," and "He drives out demons by the ruler of demons."

23 So Jesus called them together and began to speak to them in parables. "How can Satan drive out Satan?"

24 If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a household is divided against itself, that household will not stand.

26 So if Satan rebels against himself and is divided, he cannot stand. Indeed, his end has come.

27 No one can go into a strong man's house and carry off his possessions without first tying up the strong man. Then he can ransack his house.

28 I tell you with certainty, people will be forgiven their sins and whatever blasphemies they utter.

29 But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit can never be forgiven, but is guilty of eternal sin."

30 For they had been saying, "He has an unclean spirit."

31 Then his mother and his brothers arrived. Milling around outside, they sent for him, continually summoning him.

32 A crowd was sitting around him. They told him, "Look! Your mother and your brothers are outside asking for you."

33 He answered them, "Who are my mother and my brothers?"

34 Then looking at the people sitting around him, he said, "Here are my mother and my brothers!"

35 Whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother."

Mark 4

1 Then Jesus began to teach again beside the sea. Such a large crowd gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat in it, while the entire crowd remained beside the sea on the shore.

2 He began teaching them many things in parables. While he was teaching them he said,

3 "Listen! A farmer went out to sow.

4 As he was sowing, some seeds fell along the path, and birds came and ate them up.

5 Others fell on stony ground, where they did not have a lot of soil. They sprouted at once because the soil wasn't deep.

6 But when the sun came up, they were scorched. Since they did not have any roots, they dried up.

7 Others fell among thorn bushes, and the thorn bushes came up and choked them out, and they did not produce anything.

8 But others fell on good soil and produced a crop. They grew up, increased in size, and produced 30, 60, or 100 times what was sown."

9 He added, "Let the person who has ears to hear, listen!"

5th April

Joshua 6

6 So Nun's son Joshua called for the priests. "Pick up the Ark of the Covenant," he told them, "and have seven priests carry seven trumpets made from rams' horns in front of the ark of the LORD."

7 He told the army, "Go out and encircle the city. Have the armed men march out in front of the ark of the LORD."

8 And so, just as Joshua had commanded, seven of the priests went forward, carrying the seven trumpets made of rams' horns in the LORD's presence, blowing the trumpets while the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD followed them.

9 Armed men preceded the priests who were blowing the trumpets, and a rear guard followed the ark, while the trumpets continued to blow.

10 Joshua issued orders to the army: "You are not to shout or even let your voice be heard. Don't utter a word until I tell you to shout. Then shout!"

11 So the ark of the LORD was taken once around the city, then they went back to camp and spent the night there.

12 Joshua got up early the next morning, and the priests picked up the ark of the LORD.

13 The seven priests who carried the seven trumpets made from rams' horns preceded the ark of the LORD, blowing their trumpets constantly. The armed men preceded them, and the rear guard followed the ark of the LORD, while the trumpets continued to blow.

14 On the second day they marched around the city once and then went back to camp. They did this for six days.

15 They rose early at dawn on the seventh day and marched around the city seven times, just as they had before, except that on that day only they marched around the city seven times.

16 As they completed the seventh time, after the priests had blown the trumpets, Joshua told the army, "Shout, because the LORD has given you the city!"

17 The city — along with everything in it — is to be turned over to the LORD for destruction. Only Rahab the prostitute and everyone who is with her in her house may live, because she hid the scouts we sent.

18 Now as for you, everything has been turned over for destruction. Don't covet or take any of these things. Otherwise, you'll make the camp of Israel itself an object worthy of destruction, and bring trouble on it.

19 But everything made of silver and gold, and vessels made of bronze and iron are set apart to the LORD. They are to go into the treasury of the LORD."

20 So the army shouted and the trumpets were blown again. As soon as the army heard the sound of the trumpets, they shouted loudly and the wall collapsed. The army charged straight ahead into the city and captured it.

21 They turned over everyone in the city for destruction and executed them, including both men and women, young and old, and oxen, sheep, and donkeys.

22 Joshua told the two men who had scouted the land, "Go into the prostitute's home and bring her out of it, along with everyone who is with her, just as you promised her."

23 So the young men who had been scouts went in and brought Rahab out, along with her father, her mother, her brothers, and everyone else who was with her. They brought her entire family out and set them outside the camp of Israel.

24 Then the army set fire to the city and to everything in it, except that they reserved the silver, gold, and vessels of bronze and iron for the treasury of the LORD.

25 But Joshua spared Rahab the prostitute, along with her family and everyone who was with her. Her family has lived in Israel ever since, because she hid the scouts whom Joshua sent to observe Jericho.

26 Then Joshua made everyone take the following oath at that time. He said: "Cursed in the presence of the LORD is the man who restores and rebuilds this city of Jericho! He will lay its foundation at the cost of his firstborn, and at the cost of his youngest he will set up its gates."

27 So the LORD was with Joshua, and as a result, Joshua's reputation spread throughout the land.

Joshua 7

1 Later, the Israelis broke their promise regarding the things that had been turned over to destruction. Carmi's son Achan, grandson of Zabdi and great-grandson of Zerah from the tribe of Judah, appropriated some of the things that had been turned over to destruction. As a result, the LORD became angry with the Israelis.

2 Meanwhile, Joshua had sent some soldiers from Jericho to Ai, which was near Beth-aven, east of Bethel. He ordered them, "Go up and scout the land." So the soldiers went up and scouted Ai and

3 returned to Joshua. "Not all of the people need to go up," they reported. "Only about two or three thousand men should attack Ai. Since they are so few, don't make all of the army work hard up there."

4 So about three thousand went up there, but they ran away from the men of Ai.

5 The men of Ai killed about 36 of them, pursuing them outside the city gates as far as Shebarim, killing them as they descended. As a result, the army became terrified and lost their confidence.

6 At this, Joshua tore his clothes, fell down to the ground on his face before the ark of the LORD until evening — he and the leaders of Israel — and they covered their heads with dust.

7 "Lord God," Joshua asked, "Why have you brought this people across the Jordan River? To hand us over to the Amorites so we'll be destroyed? Wouldn't it have been better for us to be content to settle on the other side of the Jordan?"

8 Lord, what am I to say, now that Israel has run away from its enemies?

9 The Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of this, will surround us, and eliminate us from the earth! Then what will you do about your great reputation?"

10 "Get up!" the LORD replied to Joshua. "Why have you fallen on your face?"

11 Israel has sinned. They broke my covenant that I commanded them by taking some of the things that had been turned over to destruction. They have stolen, have been deceitful, and have stored what they stole among their own belongings.

12 The Israelis have been unable to stand before their enemies. They're turning their backs and running from their enemies because they themselves have been turned over to destruction. I will not be with you anymore unless you destroy these things that have been turned over to destruction.

13 So get up and sanctify the people. Tell them, 'Sanctify yourselves in preparation for tomorrow, because this is what the LORD God of Israel, says: "There are things turned over to destruction among you, Israel. You won't be able to defeat your enemies until you remove what has been turned over to destruction.'"

14 "Tomorrow morning you are to come forward tribe by tribe. The tribe that the LORD selects is to come forward by clans, the clan that the LORD selects is to come forward by households, and the household that the LORD selects is to come forward one by one.

15 The one selected as having taken what has been turned over to destruction is to be cremated, along with everything that pertains to him, because he has transgressed against the covenant of the LORD and committed an outrageous thing in Israel."

16 So Joshua got up early that morning, brought Israel near tribe by tribe, and the tribe of Judah was selected.

17 He brought near the clans of Judah, and the Zerahite clan was selected. Then he brought near the Zerahite clan family by family, and the household of Zabdi was selected.
18 Next, he brought near his household one by one, and Carmi's son Achan, grandson of Zabdi and great-grandson of Zerah, was selected from the tribe of Judah.
19 Joshua then spoke to Achan, "My son, give glory and praise to the LORD God of Israel. Tell me right now what you did. Don't hide anything."
20 Achan answered Joshua, "It's true. I'm the one who sinned against the LORD God of Israel.
21 I noticed among the war spoils a beautiful mantle from Shinar, 200 shekels of silver, and a bar of gold weighing 50 shekels. Because I wanted them, I took them, and they're buried in the ground inside my tent. The silver is underneath."
22 So Joshua sent some messengers, who ran to the tent. And there it was, hidden in the tent with the silver underneath.
23 They took the things from the tent that had been turned over to destruction, brought them to Joshua and all of the Israelis, and laid them out in the presence of the LORD.
24 Then Joshua, with all Israel accompanying him, took Zerah's son Achan, along with the silver, the mantle, the gold, his sons, his daughters, his oxen, his donkeys, his sheep, his tent, and everything that belonged to him to the Valley of Achor.
25 Joshua announced, "Why did you bring trouble to us? Today the LORD is bringing trouble to you!" So all Israel stoned him to death, cremated them, and buried them with stones,
26 piling up a large mound of boulders that remains to this day. After this, the LORD turned his burning anger away, and that is why that place is called "the Valley of Achor" to this day.

Joshua 8

1 The LORD then told Joshua, "Don't be afraid or lose heart! Take all the fighting men with you, and go up right now to Ai. Take note that I have handed over the king of Ai into your control, along with his people, his city, and his land.
2 Do to Ai and its king as you did to Jericho and its king, but take its spoil and its livestock as war booty for yourselves. Set an ambush around the city."
3 So Joshua and all of the fighting men prepared to go out against Ai. Joshua selected 30,000 valiant warriors and sent them out by night,
4 telling them, "Pay attention now! You are to set up an ambush around the city. Don't go very far from the city, and all of you remain on alert.
5 I and all of the army with me will advance upon the city. When they come out after us like they did before, we'll run away from them.
6 They'll come after us until we've drawn them away from the city, because they'll say, 'They're running away from us just like they did before.' While we're running away from them,
7 you get up from the ambush and seize the city, because the LORD your God will give it into your control.
8 When you've taken the city, set it on fire, just as the LORD ordered. Look! These are your orders!"
9 So Joshua sent them out, and they set up an ambush between Bethel and Ai, to the west of Ai. Joshua spent that night in the camp among the army.
10 In the morning, Joshua got up early, mustered his army, and set off for Ai, accompanied by the elders of Israel in full view of the army.
11 The entire fighting force with him attacked, approaching the city, and camped on the north side of Ai, with a ravine between them and Ai.
12 Taking about 5,000 men, he set them in ambush between Bethel and Ai to the west of the city,

13 stationing their forces with its main encampment north of the city and its rear guard to the west. Joshua spent that night in the valley.

14 When the king of Ai saw what had happened, he and his army quickly got up early and went out to meet Israel in battle; he and all his people met at the place adjacent to the desert plain. But he didn't know about the ambush that had been set for him on the other side of the city.

15 Because Joshua and the entire fighting force of Israel pretended to lose the battle by running away in front of them toward the wilderness,

16 everyone in the city followed after them. As they pursued Joshua, they were drawn away from the town.

17 There wasn't a single man left in Ai or Bethel who didn't run out after Israel. They left the city open and pursued Israel.

Mark 4

10 When he was alone with the Twelve and those around him, they began to ask him about the parables.

11 He told them, "The secret about the kingdom of God has been given to you. But to those on the outside, everything comes in parables

12 so that 'they may see clearly but not perceive, and they may hear clearly but not understand, otherwise they might turn around and be forgiven.'"

13 Then he told them, "You don't understand this parable, so how can you understand any of the parables?

14 The farmer sows the word.

15 Some people are like the seeds along the path, where the word is sown. When they hear it, Satan immediately comes and takes away the word that was sown in them.

16 Others are like the seeds sown on the stony ground. When they hear the word, at once they joyfully accept it,

17 but since they don't have any roots, they last for only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes along because of the word, they immediately fall away.

18 Still others are like the seeds sown among the thorn bushes. These are the people who hear the word, 19 but the worries of life, the deceitful pleasures of wealth, and the desires for other things come in and choke the word so that it can't produce a crop.

20 Others are like the seeds sown on good soil. They hear the word, accept it, and produce crops — 30, 60, or 100 times what was sown."

21 Then Jesus told them, "A lamp isn't brought indoors to be put under a basket or under a bed, is it? It's to be put on a lamp stand, isn't it?

22 Nothing is hidden except for the purpose of having it revealed, and nothing is secret except for the purpose of having it come to light.

23 If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen!

24 He went on to say to them, "Pay attention to what you're hearing! You will be evaluated by the same standard with which you do your evaluating, and still more will be given to you,

25 because whoever has something, will have more given to him. But whoever has nothing, even what he has will be taken away."

6th April

Joshua 8

18 Then the LORD told Joshua, "Stretch out the battle lance that's in your hand toward Ai, because I will give it into your control." So Joshua stretched out the battle lance that was in his hand toward the city.

19 As soon as he stretched out his hand, the troops in ambush quickly got up from their place of hiding and attacked. They entered the city, seized it, and immediately set it on fire.

20 Then the men of Ai looked back behind them. Look! Smoke from the city was rising into the sky. They were unable to run in any direction, because the Israelis who had fled toward the wilderness had turned around to attack their pursuers.

21 When Joshua and the entire fighting force of Israel observed that the men who had been in ambush had seized the city and that the smoke from the city was rising, they turned around and attacked the men of Ai.

22 Then the others came out from the city against them, so the men of Ai were surrounded by the Israelis, some on one side and some on the other. Israel attacked them until no one was left to survive or escape.

23 But the king of Ai was taken alive and brought to Joshua.

24 When Israel had completed executing all of the residents of Ai in the open wilderness where they had chased them, and after all of them — to the very last of them — had been killed by swords, the entire fighting force of Israel returned to Ai and attacked it with swords.

25 The total of all who fell that day, including men and women, was 12,000 — the entire population of Ai.

26 Joshua did not cease his attack until he had completely destroyed every inhabitant of Ai.

27 Israel took only the livestock and the spoil of that city as their war booty, in accordance with what the LORD had commanded to Joshua.

28 Joshua burned Ai, turning it into a permanent mound of ruins, and it remains so to this day.

29 He hanged the king of Ai on a tree until dusk, and at sunset Joshua ordered his body brought down from the tree and laid at the entrance to the gate of the town. There he raised over it a large mound of stones, which stands there to this day.

30 Then Joshua built an altar to the LORD, the God of Israel, on Mount Ebal,

31 just the way Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded the Israelis in the Book of the Law of Moses: "... an altar of uncut stones that hasn't been worked with iron tools ..." and they offered burnt offerings to the LORD on it, along with peace offerings.

32 There Joshua inscribed on stones a copy of the Law of Moses that Moses had presented to the Israelis.

33 All Israel, both foreigners and citizens, together with their elders, officers, and judges, stood on opposite sides of the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD. Half stood in front of Mount Gerizim and half stood in front of Mount Ebal, just as Moses, the LORD's servant had commanded at the first, so that they could bless the people of Israel.

34 Afterwards, Joshua read all the words of the Law — both the blessings and the curses — according to everything written in the Book of the Law.

35 There wasn't one word of everything Moses had commanded that Joshua did not read in front of the entire assembly of Israel, including the women, their little ones, and the foreigners who lived among them.

Joshua 9

1 Eventually all the kings who reigned in the hill country across the Jordan River and in the low-lying coastlands of the Mediterranean Sea facing Lebanon heard about this. So the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites
2 united together as one to fight against both Joshua and Israel.
3 But when the inhabitants of Gibeon heard what Joshua had done to Jericho and Ai,
4 they took the initiative by preparing their provisions shrewdly: they took tattered sacks for their donkeys, worn-out, torn, and mended wineskins,
5 worn-out, patched sandals for their feet, and worn-out clothes. All of their food was dried out and covered in mould.
6 Then they approached Joshua in the camp at Gilgal and addressed him and the Israelis, "We've arrived from a distant country, so please make a treaty with us right now."
7 But the Israelis responded to the Hivites, "Perhaps you live in our midst. If this is so, how can we make a treaty with you?"
8 So they responded to Joshua, "We are your servants." Joshua asked them, "Who are you? And where did you come from?"
9 They answered, "Your servants have arrived from a very distant land, because of the reputation of the LORD your God, because we've heard a report about all that he did in Egypt,
10 along with all of what he did to the two Amorite kings who were beyond the Jordan River — that is, to King Sihon of Heshbon and to King Og of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth.
11 So our leaders and all of the inhabitants of our country told us, 'Take provisions along with you for your journey, go to meet them, and tell them, "We are your servants. Come now and make a treaty with us."'"
12 Look at our bread: it was still warm when we took it from our houses as our food for our journey on the very day we set out to come to you. But now, look how it's dry and mouldy.
13 And these wineskins were new when we filled them, but look — now they're cracked. And our clothes and sandals are worn out from our very long journey."
14 So the leaders of Israel sampled their provisions, but did not ask the LORD about it.
15 They made a treaty with them, guaranteeing their lives with a covenant, and the leaders of the congregation confirmed it with an oath to them.
16 But three days after they had made the treaty with them, they learned that they were their neighbours and were living in their midst.
17 So the Israelis set out for their cities and three days later they reached their cities of Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath-jearim.
18 The Israelis did not attack them, because the leaders of the congregation had made an oath with them in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel. Nevertheless, the entire congregation grumbled against their leaders.
19 Then all of the leaders spoke to the entire congregation, "We have sworn to them in the name of the LORD, the God of Israel, and we cannot touch them.
20 So this is what we'll do to them: we'll let them live, so that wrath won't come upon us because of the oath that we swore to them."
21 The leaders told them, "Let them live." So they became wood cutters and water carriers for the entire congregation, which is what the leaders had decided concerning them.
22 Joshua summoned the Gibeonites and asked them, "Why did you deceive us by saying 'We live far away from you,' even though you were, in fact, living in our midst?
23 Now therefore you are under a curse. Some of you will always be slaves, wood cutters, and water carriers for the house of my God."

24 They replied to Joshua, "Because your servants had been informed that the LORD your God had certainly commanded his servant Moses to give you the entire land and to destroy all of the inhabitants of the land before you. So we were terrified for our lives because of you. That's why we did this.

25 Now we're under your control: do to us as it seems good and right in your opinion."

26 So this is what Joshua did for them: he saved them from the Israelis, and they did not kill them.

27 However, on that very day Joshua made them become wood cutters and water carriers for the congregation and for the LORD's altar in the place that he should choose, and this tradition continues to this day.

Joshua 10

1 King Adoni-zedek of Jerusalem eventually heard how Joshua had conquered Ai, utterly destroying it, doing to Ai and its king the same thing that he had done to Jericho and its king, and how the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel and were now living among them.

2 So they were terrified, since Gibeon was a large city, comparable to one of the royal cities, was larger than Ai, and all of its men had been warriors.

3 So King Adoni-zedek of Jerusalem sent word to King Hoham of Hebron, King Piram of Jarmuth, King Japhia of Lachish, and King Debir of Eglon. He told them,

4 "Come over and help me, and let's attack Gibeon, because it made a peace treaty with Joshua and the Israelis."

5 So the five kings of the Amorites — the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon — gathered their armies together and advanced with all of their armies toward Gibeon, camped there, and laid siege to it.

6 The Gibeonites sent word to Joshua at his camp in Gilgal: "Don't abandon your servants. Come quickly, save us, and help us, because all of the kings of the Amorites who live in the hill country have attacked us."

7 So Joshua went up from Gilgal, along with his entire fighting force of mighty warriors with him.

8 The LORD told Joshua, "Don't fear them, because I have handed them over to you. Not one of them will withstand you."

9 So after an all-night march from Gilgal, Joshua attacked them by surprise.

10 The LORD threw the Amorites into a panic right in front of the army of Israel, which then slaughtered many of them at Gibeon. The Israeli army chased them along the road that goes up to Beth-horon, striking them down as far as Azekah and Makkedah.

11 While they were fleeing in front of Israel and descending the slope of Beth-horon, the LORD rained down huge hailstones on them as far as Azekah, and they died. More died because of the hailstones than were killed by the Israelis in battle.

12 Later that day, Joshua spoke to the LORD while the LORD was delivering the Amorites to the Israelis. This is what he said in the presence of Israel: "Sun, be still over Gibeon! Moon, stand in place in the Aijalon Valley!"

13 So the sun remained still and the moon stood in place until the nation settled their score with their enemies. This is recorded, is it not, in the book of Jashar? The sun stood in place in the middle of the sky and seemed not to be in a hurry to set for nearly an entire day.

14 There has never been a day like it before or since, when the LORD listened to the voice of a man, because the LORD was fighting on behalf of Israel.

15 After this, Joshua returned to the camp at Gilgal with the entire fighting force of Israel.

16 Meanwhile, the five kings had fled and hidden themselves inside a cave at Makkedah.

17 Joshua was informed, "The five kings have been discovered hiding in the cave at Makkedah."

18 So Joshua gave an order, "Roll large stones up against the mouth of the cave and assign men to stand guard there,

19 but don't stay there yourselves. Instead, pursue your enemies and attack them from behind. Don't allow them to enter their cities, because the LORD your God has delivered them into your control."

20 Now it came about that after Joshua and the Israelis had finished the battle, destroying and scattering their survivors, who retreated into their fortified cities,

21 the entire army returned safely to Joshua's encampment at Makkedah. No one could speak so much as a single word against any of the Israelis.

Mark 4

26 He was also saying, "The kingdom of God is like a man who scatters seeds on the ground.

27 He sleeps and gets up night and day while the seeds sprout and grow, although he doesn't know how.

28 The ground produces grain by itself, first the stalk, then the head, then the full grain in the head.

29 But when the grain is ripe, he immediately starts cutting with his sickle because the harvest time has come."

30 He was also saying, "How can we show what the kingdom of God is like, or what parable can we use to describe it?

31 It is like a mustard seed planted in the ground. Although it is the smallest of all the seeds on earth,

32 when it is planted it comes up and becomes larger than all the garden plants. It grows such large branches that the birds in the sky can nest in its shade."

33 With many other parables like these, Jesus kept speaking his message to them according to their ability to understand.

34 He did not tell them anything without using a parable, though he explained everything to his disciples in private.

35 That day, when evening had come, he told them, "Let's cross to the other side."

36 So they left the crowd and took him away in a boat without making any special preparations. Other boats were with him.

37 A violent windstorm came up, and the waves began breaking into the boat, so that the boat was rapidly becoming swamped.

38 But Jesus was in the back of the boat, asleep on a cushion. So they woke him up and asked him, "Teacher, don't you care that we're going to die?"

39 Then he got up, rebuked the wind, and told the sea, "Calm down! Be still!" Then the wind stopped blowing, and there was a great calm.

40 He asked them, "Why are you such cowards? Don't you have any faith yet?"

41 Overcome with fear, they kept saying to one another, "Who is this man? Even the wind and the sea obey him!"

Joshua 10

22 Then Joshua gave this order: "Unseal the mouth of the cave and bring out these five kings to me from the cave."

23 So they did. They brought out these five kings to him from within the cave: the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon.

24 When they had brought these kings out to Joshua, Joshua called for all the men of Israel and spoke to the leaders of the men who had gone out to war along with him, "Come close and put your feet on the necks of these kings." So they came near and put their feet on their necks.

25 Joshua told the army, "Don't fear or be dismayed! Be strong and courageous, because this is how the LORD will treat all of your enemies whom you fight."

26 After this, Joshua struck those kings down, executing them, and hanged them on five gallows until sunset.

27 When evening had come, Joshua gave a command to remove the bodies from the gallows and bury them in the cave where they had hidden. The army sealed the mouth of the cave with large stones that remain there to this very day.

28 Joshua captured Makkedah that very day, and attacked both it and its king with swords, utterly destroying it along with every person in it, leaving no survivors. He dealt with the king of Makkedah the same way he had dealt with the king of Jericho.

29 Afterward, Joshua and all of Israel passed on from Makkedah to Libnah, where they fought against Libnah.

30 The LORD gave both it and its king into the control of Israel, and Joshua executed both its king and every person in it with swords, leaving no survivors. He dealt with the king the same way he had dealt with the king of Jericho.

31 Then Joshua and all of Israel passed from Libnah to Lachish, camped near it, and attacked it.

32 The LORD gave Lachish into the control of Israel, and Joshua captured it the next day. He declared war on the city and executed everyone in it, the same way he had treated Libnah.

33 Then Horam king of Gezer appeared to help Lachish. So Joshua attacked him and his army, until he left no one remaining.

34 After this, Joshua, accompanied by all of Israel, proceeded from Lachish to Eglon, laid siege to it, and attacked it.

35 They captured it on that day, attacking it in battle. Then Joshua completely destroyed it that day, the same way he had dealt with Lachish.

36 Then Joshua, accompanied by all of Israel, left Eglon for Hebron, where they attacked it, 37 captured it, and executed its inhabitants — its king, all of its cities, and every person in it, leaving no one remaining, the same way he had dealt with Eglon. He completely destroyed it, along with everyone in it.

38 Then Joshua returned, accompanied by the entire fighting force of Israel, to Debir, where they attacked it, 39 captured it, its king, and all of its villages. They executed them, totally destroying it and everyone in it, leaving no one remaining. He dealt with Debir and its king just as he had dealt with Hebron, treating them the same way he had dealt with Libnah and its king.

40 So Joshua conquered the entire land, the hill country, the Negev, the Shephelah, and the wilderness highlands, along with all of their kings. He left none of them remaining, but completely destroyed every living person, just as the LORD God of Israel had commanded.

41 Joshua conquered them from Kadesh-barnea to Gaza, including the entire territory of Goshen as far as Gibeon.
42 Joshua conquered all of these kings and their territories in one campaign, because the LORD God of Israel fought for Israel.
43 Then Joshua returned to the camp at Gilgal, along with the entire fighting force of Israel.

Joshua 11

1 When King Jabin of Hazor heard all of this, he sent word to Jobab king of Madon, to the king of Shimron, to the king of Achshaph,
2 and to the kings in the north, in the hill country, in the plain south of Chinnereth, in the Shephelah, and in the hills of Dor toward the west,
3 to the eastern and western Canaanites — the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Jebusites in the hill country, and the Hivites below Hermon in the territory of Mizpah.
4 So they went out, they and all of their armies with them — a multitude as numerous as the sand on the seashore — accompanied by many horses and chariots.
5 After all these kings had gathered together, they went out and camped together at the waters of Merom to fight Israel.
6 But the LORD told Joshua, "Don't be afraid of them, because tomorrow about this time I am giving them all to you — dead — in the presence of Israel. hamstring their horses and incinerate their chariots."
7 So Joshua and his entire fighting force approached them suddenly by the waters of Merom and attacked them.
8 The LORD handed them over to the control of Israel, who defeated them and chased them as far as Greater Sidon and east as far as the Mizpah Valley. They attacked them until none remained.
9 Joshua dealt with them just as the LORD had told him: he hamstrung their horses and incinerated their chariots.
10 Joshua then turned back and captured Hazor, executing its king, because Hazor used to be the head of all of those kingdoms.
11 They executed all of the people who lived in it, completely destroying and leaving no one alive. Then he burned Hazor in fire.
12 So Joshua captured and annihilated all of these cities, along with their kings, completely destroying them, just as Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded.
13 However, Israel did not burn any of the cities that had been built on mounds of ruins, except for Hazor only, which Joshua burned.
14 The Israelis took the spoils of war from these cities, along with their livestock, but they executed every human being until they had completely destroyed them, leaving no one alive.
15 Joshua did just what the LORD had commanded his servant Moses and just what Moses had commanded him, leaving nothing unfinished.
16 So Joshua conquered all of these territories: the hill country, all of the Negev, the entire land of Goshen with its foothills, the plains of Jordan, and the mountains of Israel with its foothills
17 from Mount Halak and the ascent toward Seir, including as far as Baal-gad in the Lebanon Valley that lies at the foot of Mount Hermon. Joshua captured all of their kings, struck them down, and put them to death.
18 Joshua fought an extended campaign against all those kings.
19 There wasn't a single city that made a peace accord with the Israelis, except the Hivites who lived in Gibeon. The Israelis captured all the rest in battle, 20 because the LORD had hardened their hearts so they would fight Israel in war, be completely destroyed without mercy, and be completely wiped out, as the LORD had commanded Moses.

21 At that time Joshua came and annihilated the Anakim from the hill country, that is, from Hebron, Debir, and Anab, as well as from all the hill country of Judah and Israel. Joshua completely destroyed them along with their cities.

22 None of the Anakim remained in the land belonging to the Israelis — they remained only in Gaza, in Gath, and in Ashdod.

23 Joshua conquered the entire land, in accordance with everything that the LORD had told Moses. Joshua presented it as an inheritance to Israel, dividing it according to tribal allotments. Then the land enjoyed rest from war.

Joshua 12

1 This is a list of the kings who ruled the land that the Israelis conquered, and whose territories they took on the other side of the Jordan River toward the east, from the Arnon River to Mount Hermon, along with the entire eastern Jordan plain.

2 Sihon king of the Amorites lived in Heshbon and ruled from Aroer, which is located on the edge of the Arnon River from the middle of the valley, including half of Gilead as far as Wadi Jabbok, the border of the Ammonites,

3 and toward the Arabah as far as the Sea of Galilee to the east, as far as the Arabah Sea (that is, the Dead Sea) to the east as one travels in the direction of Beth-jeshimoth, and to the south as far as the foothills of Pisgah.

4 The territory of Og king of Bashan was conquered. He was one of the last of the Rephaim, and lived at Ashtaroth and Edrei,

5 ruling over Mount Hermon, Salecah, and all of Bashan as far as the border of the descendants of Geshur, the descendants of Maacath, and half of Gilead to the border of Sihon king of Heshbon.

6 Moses, the servant of the LORD, and the Israelis defeated them. Then Moses, the servant of the LORD, gave it to the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh as their inheritance.

7 This is a list of the kings of the land whom Joshua and the Israelis defeated beyond the Jordan River toward the west, from Baal-gad in the Lebanon valley as far as Mount Halak, which rises in the direction of Seir. Joshua gave it to Israel, distributing it according to their tribal divisions as their inheritance,

8 in the mountain regions, in the Arabah, on the foothills, in the wilderness, in the Negev; that is, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites:

Mark 5

- 1 They arrived at the other side of the sea in the territory of the Gerasenes.
- 2 Just as Jesus stepped out of the boat, a man with an unclean spirit came out of the tombs and met him.
- 3 He lived among the tombs, and no one could restrain him any longer, not even with a chain.
- 4 He had often been restrained with shackles and chains but had snapped the chains apart and broken the shackles in pieces. No one could tame him.
- 5 Night and day he kept screaming among the tombs and on the mountainsides and kept cutting himself with stones.
- 6 When he saw Jesus from a distance, he ran and fell down in front of him,
- 7 screaming in a loud voice, "What do you want with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg you in the name of God never to torment me!"
- 8 Jesus had been saying to him, "Come out of the man, you unclean spirit!"
- 9 Then Jesus asked him, "What's your name?" He told him, "My name is Legion, because there are many of us."
- 10 He kept pleading with Jesus not to send them out of that region.
- 11 Now a large herd of pigs was grazing on a hillside nearby.
- 12 So the demons begged him, "Send us among the pigs, so that we can go into them!"
- 13 So he let them do this. The unclean spirits came out of the man and went into the pigs, and the herd of about 2,000 rushed down the cliff into the sea and drowned there.
- 14 Now when those who had been taking care of the pigs ran away, they reported what had happened in the city and countryside. So the people went to see what had happened.
- 15 When they came to Jesus and saw the man who had been possessed by the legion of demons, sitting there dressed and in his right mind, they were frightened.
- 16 The people who had seen it told them what had happened to the demon-possessed man and the pigs.
- 17 So they began to beg Jesus to leave their territory.
- 18 As Jesus was getting into the boat, the man who had been demon-possessed kept begging him to let him go with him.
- 19 But Jesus wouldn't let him. Instead, he told him, "Go home to your family, and tell them how much the Lord has done for you and how merciful he has been to you."
- 20 So the man left and began proclaiming in the Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him. And everyone was utterly amazed.
- 21 When Jesus again had crossed to the other side in a boat, a large crowd gathered around him by the seashore.

Joshua 13

1 When Joshua had grown old, having lived many years, the LORD told him, "You are old and have lived many years, but much of the land still remains to be possessed.
2 This territory remains: all of the Philistine regions, including all Geshurite holdings
3 from the Shihor east of Egypt as far as the border of Ekron on the north (which is considered part of Canaan). This includes the five rulers of the Philistines: the Gazites, the Ashdodites, the Ashkelonites, the Gittites, the Ekronites, and the Avvites.
4 "To the south, there remains to be conquered all the territory held by the Canaanites, Mearah that belongs to the Sidonians, as far as Aphek, to the border of the Amorites,
5 including the territory of the Gebalites and all of Lebanon facing the east from Baal-gad at the foot of Mount Hermon as far as Lebo-hamath,
6 and all the inhabitants of the hill country from Lebanon to Misrephoth-maim, including all the Sidonians. I myself will drive them out in the presence of the Israelis.
7 You only have to allocate the land as an inheritance, just as I commanded you."
8 The descendants of Reuben and descendants of Gad, along with the other half-tribe of Manasseh, received their inherited portion that Moses the servant of the LORD had given them to the east beyond the Jordan River.
9 Specifically included was from Aroer on the banks of the Wadi Arnon, and the town that lies in the middle of the valley, including all the plains from Medeba to Dibon,
10 all the cities pertaining to King Sihon of the Amorites, who reigned in Heshbon, as far as the boundary of the Ammonite territory,
11 Gilead and the region belonging to the descendants of Geshur and Maacath, including all of Mount Hermon, and all of Bashan as far as Salecah.
12 Also included was the entire kingdom of Og in Bashan, who reigned in Ashtaroth and Edrei. (He was the sole survivor left of the Rephaim). Although Moses had defeated these people and driven them out,
13 the Israelis did not drive out the descendants of Geshur or the descendants of Maacath — Geshur and Maacath live within the territory of Israel to this day.
14 Moses allotted no inheritance solely to the tribe of Levi. As he had mentioned to them, the offerings by fire to the LORD God of Israel are their inheritance.
15 Moses allocated territory to the tribe of the descendants of Reuben according to their clans.
16 Their allocation was from the border of Aroer on the edge of the Arnon valley (including the city that is located in the valley, as well as the entire plain next to Medeba),
17 Heshbon and all of its cities that are on the plain, including Dibon, Bamoth-baal, Beth-baal-meon,
18 Jahaz, Kedemoth, Mephaath,
19 Kiriathaim, Sibmah, and Zereth-shahar on the hill in the valley,
20 Beth-peor, the slopes of Pisgah, Beth-jeshimoth,
21 all of the cities of the plain, the entire kingdom of King Sihon of the Amorites, who used to reign in Heshbon and whom Moses attacked, along with the chiefs of Midian, Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba, nobles of Sihon who lived in the land.
22 The Israelis also killed Beor's son Balaam, the occult practitioner, executing him by the sword as one of those killed.
23 The border of the descendants of Reuben was the Jordan River and its banks. This was the inheritance belonging to the descendants of Reuben, divided according to their families, cities, and villages.
24 Moses also allocated territory to the tribe of Gad, that is, to the descendants of Gad, according to their families.

25 Their territory included Jazer, all the cities of Gilead, half the land of the Ammonites as far as Aroer which is located near Rabbah,
26 from Heshbon as far as Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, from Mahanaim as far as the border of Debir,
27 the valley containing Beth-haram, Beth-nimrah, Succoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of King Sihon of Heshbon, with the Jordan River as its border as far as the southern end of the Sea of Galilee beyond the Jordan River to the east.
28 This was the inheritance belonging to the descendants of Gad according to their clans, cities, and villages.
29 Moses also allocated territory to the half-tribe of Manasseh, that is, for the half-tribe of the descendants of Manasseh according to their clans.
30 Their territory extended from Mahanaim to include all of Bashan, all of the kingdom of King Og of Bashan, all of the 60 towns of Jair there in Bashan,
31 half of Gilead, including Ashtaroth and Edrei. The cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan went to half of the descendants of Manasseh's son Machir, according to their clans.
32 These were the allotments that Moses apportioned for an inheritance in the plains of Moab beyond the Jordan River east of Jericho.
33 Moses allotted no inheritance to the tribe of Levi. The LORD God of Israel is their inheritance, as he promised them.

Joshua 14

1 This is what the Israelis inherited in the land of Canaan, which Eleazar the priest, Nun's son Joshua, and the heads of the families of the Israelis allotted to them as an inheritance
2 by lot, just as the LORD commanded through Moses for the nine tribes and the half-tribe,
3 since Moses had given the inheritance of the two tribes and the half-tribe across the Jordan River. However, he did not give an inheritance to the descendants of Levi who lived among them,
4 since the descendants of Joseph constituted two tribes — Manasseh and Ephraim. They did not allot a portion to the descendants of Levi in the land, since they were given cities to live in, along with pastures for their livestock and property.
5 So the Israelis did just as the LORD had commanded Moses — they divided the land.
6 After this, the descendants of Judah approached Joshua in Gilgal. Jephunneh the Kenizzite's son Caleb told him, "You know the promise that the LORD gave Moses the man of God concerning the two of us in Kadesh-barnea.
7 I was 40 years old when Moses the servant of the LORD sent me from Kadesh-barnea to scout the land. I brought back an honest report to him.
8 As it happened, my fellow Israelis who went up with me terrified the people, but I fully followed the LORD my God.
9 Moses made a promise to me on that day when he said, 'The land that you covered on foot will certainly be your inheritance. It will belong to your descendants forever, because you have fully followed the LORD my God.'
10 "Look how the LORD has let me survive, as you can see, these 45 years since the time when the LORD said this through Moses, while Israel was wandering through the wilderness. And look! I'm here today — my eighty-fifth birthday!
11 I'm still as strong today as I was the day Moses commissioned me. I'm as strong today as I was then, and I can go out to battle and come back successful.
12 Now then, give me that hill country about which the LORD spoke back on that day, because you yourself heard back then that the Anakim were there, with great reinforced cities. Perhaps the LORD will be with me and I will expel them, just as the LORD said."
13 So Joshua blessed him and gave Hebron to Jephunneh's son Caleb for his inheritance.
14 Therefore Hebron became the inheritance of Jephunneh the Kenizzite's son Caleb, and it remains so today, because he fully followed the LORD God of Israel.

15 Hebron used to be known as Kiriath-arba, after the greatest man among the Anakim. After all of this, the land enjoyed rest from war.

Joshua 15

1 Joshua said, "Now the allotment for the tribe of the descendants of Judah, allocated according to their families, will extend to the border of Edom, southward to the wilderness of Zin until land's end,

2 then from the southern end of the Dead Sea, that is, from the bay that orients toward the Negev,

3 proceeding south to the ascent of Akrabbim, then continuing to Zin, and from there up along the south of Kadesh-barnea to Hezron, and from there up to Addar and then to Karka,

4 passing along to Azmon toward the Wadi of Egypt and ending at the sea. This will be your southern border."

5 The eastern border was the Dead Sea as far as the mouth of the Jordan River. The border of the north side extended from the bay of the sea at the mouth of the Jordan River toward Beth-hoglah, and continuing on the north of Beth-arabah. The border ascended up to the boundary marker set up by Reuben's son Bohan.

7 The boundary then went up to Debir from the Achor valley and turned north toward Gilgal opposite the ascent of Adummim in the southern part of the valley. Then the border continued to the waters of En-shemesh and terminated at En-rogel.

8 Then the border proceeded up the valley of Ben-hinnom to the southern ascent of the Jebusites (that is, to Jerusalem), and from there to the top of the mountain that faces the valley of Hinnom to the west at the end of the valley of Rephaim toward the north.

9 The border proceeded from the top of the mountain to the spring of the waters of Nephtoah, then to the cities of Mount Ephron, and then the border curved toward Baalah (also known as Kiriath-jearim).

10 The border turned west from Baalah to Mount Seir, continuing to the top of Mount Jearim on the north (also known as Chesalon), and then proceeded to Beth-shemesh, continuing through Timnah.

11 The border proceeded north to the edge of Ekron, then curved to Shikkeron and on to Mount Baalah, proceeding then to Jabneel, where the boundary ended at the sea.

12 The western border was at the Mediterranean Sea coastline. This is the border that surrounded the territory of the descendants of Judah, according to their families.

13 Now Joshua gave an allotment among the descendants of Judah to Jephunneh's son Caleb, just as God told Joshua, Kiriath-arba, which was named after the ancestor of Anak (that is, Hebron).

14 From there Caleb drove the three descendants of Anak, Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmai, the Anakim.

15 Then he went up from there to attack the inhabitants of Debir. (Debir was formerly known as Kiriath-sepher).

Mark 5

22 Then a synagogue leader named Jairus arrived. When he saw Jesus, he fell at his feet
23 and begged him urgently, saying, "My little daughter is dying. Come and lay your hands on her so that she may get well and live."

24 So Jesus went with him. A huge crowd kept following him and jostling him.

25 Now there was a woman who had been suffering from chronic bleeding for twelve years.

26 Although she had endured a great deal under the care of many doctors and had spent all of her money, she had not been helped at all but rather grew worse.

27 Since she had heard about Jesus, she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his robe,

28 because she had been saying, "If I can just touch his robe, I will get well."

29 Her bleeding stopped at once, and she felt in her body that she was healed from her illness.

30 Immediately Jesus became aware that power had gone out of him. So he turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"

31 His disciples asked him, "You see the crowd jostling you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'"

32 But he kept looking around to see the woman who had done this.

33 So the woman, knowing what had happened to her, came forward fearfully, fell down trembling in front of him, and told him the whole truth.

34 He told her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace and be healed from your illness."

35 While he was still speaking, some people came from the synagogue leader's home and said, "Your daughter is dead. Why bother the Teacher anymore?"

36 But when Jesus heard what they said, he told the synagogue leader, "Stop being afraid! Just keep on believing."

37 Jesus allowed no one to go further with him except Peter, James, and John, the brother of James.

38 When they came to the home of the synagogue leader, Jesus saw mass confusion. People were crying and sobbing loudly.

39 He entered the house and asked them, "Why all this confusion and crying? The child isn't dead. She's sleeping."

40 They laughed and laughed at him. But when he had driven all of them outside, he took the child's father and mother, along with the men who were with him, and went into the room where the child was.

41 He took her by the hand and told her, "Talitha koum," which means, "Young lady, I tell you, get up!"

42 The young lady got up at once and started to walk. She was twelve years old. Instantly they were overcome with astonishment.

43 But Jesus strictly ordered them not to let anyone know about this. He also told them to give her something to eat.

Joshua 15

16 Then Caleb announced, "I will give my daughter Achsah in marriage to the one who attacks Kiriath-sepher and captures it."

17 Othniel, the son of Caleb's brother Kenaz, captured it, so Caleb gave him his daughter Achsah as his wife.

18 Sometime later, she came to Othniel and persuaded him to ask her father for a field. As she dismounted from her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What do you want?"

19 She replied, "Give me a blessing. Since you have given me the land of the Negev, give me also some springs of water." So he gave her the upper and lower springs.

20 Here's a list of cities allotted for the tribe of the descendants of Judah according to their families:

44 Keilah, Achzib, and Mareshah, for a total of nine cities and villages.

45 Also included were Ekron, with its towns and villages,

46 from Ekron to the Mediterranean Sea, including everything by the edge of Ashdod, along with their villages,

47 Ashdod and its towns and villages, Gaza and its towns and villages as far as the River of Egypt, and the coastline of the Mediterranean Sea.

48 The hill country included Shamir, Jattir, Socoh,

49 Dannah, Kiriath-sannah (also known as Debir),

50 Anab, Eshtemoh, Anim,

51 Goshen, Holon, Giloh, for a total of eleven cities and villages.

52 Also included were Arab, Dumah, Eshan,

53 Janum, Beth-tappuach, Aphekah,

54 Humtah, Kiriath-arba (also known as Hebron), and Zior, for a total of nine cities and villages.
55 Also included were Maon, Carmel, Ziph, Juttah,
56 Jezreel, Jokdeam, Zanoah,
57 Kain, Gibeah, and Timnah, for a total of ten cities and villages.
58 Also included were Halhul, Beth-zur, Gedor,
59 Maarath, Beth-anoth, and Eltekon, for a total of six cities and villages.
60 Also included were Kiriath-baal (also known as Kiriath-jearim) and Rabbah, for a total of two cities and villages.
61 The wilderness included Beth-arabah, Middin, Secacah,
62 Nibshan, Salt City, and En-gedi, for a total of six cities and villages.
63 Now as for the Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem, the descendants of Judah could not expel them, so Jebusites live with the descendants of Judah in Jerusalem to this day.

Joshua 16

1 The territorial allotment for the descendants of Joseph proceeded from the Jordan River by Jericho eastward of the waters of Jericho, into the wilderness, proceeding from Jericho through the hill country of Bethel
2 and from Bethel to Luz, continuing to the border of the Archites at Ataroth.
3 It proceeded westward to the territory of the Japhletites as far as the territory of lower Beth-horon, then toward Gezer, ending at the Mediterranean Sea.
4 Manasseh and Ephraim, the descendants of Joseph, received their inheritance.
5 This was the territory allocated to the descendants of Ephraim according to their families: the border of their inheritance on the east was Ataroth-addar as far as upper Beth-horon.
6 Then the border proceeded west from Michmethath on the north, then turned east toward Taanath-shiloh, continuing to the east of Janoah.
7 It proceeded from Janoah to Ataroth, then to Naarah, then proceeded to Jericho and ended at the Jordan River.
8 From Tappuach, the border proceeded west to the Kanah brook, ending at the Mediterranean Sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the descendants of Ephraim according to their families,
9 along with the cities that had been set aside for the descendants of Ephraim within the allotment of the descendants of Manasseh, including all of the cities and villages.
10 However, they did not drive out the Canaanites who lived in Gezer, so the Canaanites live within the territory of Ephraim to this day, but they serve as forced labourers.

Joshua 17

1 The territorial allotment for the tribe of Manasseh, the first born of Joseph, was allocated first to Machir the first born of Manasseh and father of Gilead. Since he had been a man of war, Gilead and Bashan were allocated to him.
2 Now allotments were made with respect to the remaining descendants of Manasseh according to their families: for the descendants of Abiezer, the descendants of Helek, the descendants of Asriel, the descendants of Shechem, the descendants of Hephher, and the descendants of Shemida — the male descendants of Joseph's son Manasseh, according to their families.
3 Hephher's son Zelophehad, grandson of Gilead and great-grandson of Manasseh's son Machir had no sons, only daughters. These are the names of his daughters: Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.
4 They appeared before Eleazar the priest and Nun's son Joshua and declared, "The LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our relatives." So in keeping what the LORD had commanded, he gave them an inheritance among their ancestor's relatives.

- 5 That is why ten allotments fell to Manasseh, besides the land of Gilead and Bashan beyond the Jordan River,
- 6 since the granddaughters of Manasseh received an inheritance along with his sons. (The land of Gilead belonged to the rest of the descendants of Manasseh).
- 7 The border of Manasseh proceeded from Asher to Michmethath east of Shechem, then turned south to include the inhabitants of En-tappuach.
- 8 (The territory of Tappuach belonged to Manasseh, but Tappuach itself, on the border of Manasseh, was allocated to the descendants of Ephraim).
- 9 The border proceeded to the Kanah brook and proceeded south. These cities belonged to Ephraim among the cities of Manasseh, with the border of Manasseh on the north of the brook, terminating at the Mediterranean Sea.
- 10 The southern area was allocated to Ephraim and the northern area to Manasseh. The Mediterranean Sea was the border, extending to Asher on the North and to Issachar on the east.
- 11 In Issachar and Asher, Manasseh held Beth-shean and its towns, Ibleam and its towns, the inhabitants of En-dor and its towns, the inhabitants of Taanach and its towns, and the inhabitants of Megiddo and its towns, and the three coastal districts.
- 12 The descendants of Manasseh did not take possession of these cities, because the Canaanites predominated in that territory.
- 13 Later on, when the Israelis had become strong, they forced the Canaanites to work for them, but they never did expel them completely.

Mark 6

- 1 Jesus left that place and went back to his hometown, and his disciples followed him.
- 2 When the Sabbath came, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard him were utterly amazed. "Where did this man get all these things?" they asked. "What is this wisdom that has been given to him? What great miracles are being done by his hands!
- 3 This is the builder, the son of Mary, and the brother of James, Joseph, Judas, and Simon, isn't it? His sisters are here with us, aren't they?" And they were offended by him.
- 4 Jesus was telling them, "A prophet is without honour only in his hometown, among his relatives, and in his own home."
- 5 He couldn't perform a miracle there except to lay his hands on a few sick people and heal them.
- 6 He was amazed at their unbelief. Then he went around to the villages and continued teaching.
- 7 He called the Twelve and began to send them out two by two, giving them authority over unclean spirits.
- 8 He instructed them to take nothing along on the trip except a walking stick — no bread, no travelling bag, nothing in their moneybag.
- 9 They could wear sandals but not take along an extra shirt.
- 10 He told them repeatedly, "Whenever you go into a home, stay there until you leave that place.
- 11 If any place will not welcome you and the people refuse to listen to you, when you leave, shake its dust off your feet as a testimony against them."
- 12 So they went and preached that people should repent.
- 13 They also kept driving out many demons and anointing with oil many who were sick, and healing them.
- 14 King Herod heard about this, because Jesus' name had become well-known. He was saying, "John the Baptist has been raised from the dead! That's why he is able to do these miracles."
- 15 Others were saying, "He is Elijah." Still others were saying, "He is a prophet like one of the other prophets."
- 16 But when Herod heard about it, he said, "John, whom I beheaded, has been raised,"
- 17 because Herod himself had sent men who arrested John, bound him with chains, and put him in prison on account of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, whom Herod had married.
- 18 John had been telling Herod, "It's not lawful for you to have your brother's wife."
- 19 So Herodias bore a grudge against John and wanted to kill him. But she couldn't do it
- 20 because Herod was afraid of John. He knew that John was a righteous and holy man, and so he protected him. Whenever he listened to John, he did much of what he said. In fact, he liked listening to him.
- 21 An opportunity came during Herod's birthday celebration, when he gave a banquet for his top officials, military officers, and the most important people of Galilee.
- 22 When the daughter of Herodias came in and danced, she pleased Herod and his guests. So the king told the girl, "Ask me for anything you want, and I'll give it to you."
- 23 He swore with an oath to her, "I'll give you anything you ask for, up to half of my kingdom."
- 24 So she went out and asked her mother, "What should I ask for?" Her mother replied, "The head of John the Baptist."
- 25 Immediately the girl hurried back to the king with her request, "I want you to give me right now the head of John the Baptist on a platter."
- 26 The king was deeply saddened, yet because of his oaths and his guests he was reluctant to refuse her.

27 So without delay the king sent a soldier and ordered him to bring John's head. The soldier went and beheaded him in prison.

28 Then he brought John's head on a platter and gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother.

29 When John's disciples heard about this, they came and carried off his body and laid it in a tomb.

Joshua 17

14 At that time, the descendants of Joseph asked Joshua, "Why did you give us only one allotment and portion for an inheritance, since we're numerous and the LORD has blessed us all along?"

15 So Joshua replied to them, "Since you're so numerous, go up to the forest and clear ground there for yourselves in the territory where the Perizzites and Rephaim are, because the hill country of Ephraim is too narrow for you."

16 The descendants of Joseph replied, "The hill country isn't sufficient for us, but all the Canaanites who live on the plain have iron chariots, both those in Beth-shean and its villages as well as the inhabitants of the Jezreel Valley."

17 So Joshua told the tribes of Joseph, which were Ephraim and Manasseh, "You're truly a numerous group, and you have great power. You are not to have only one allotment, 18 but the hill country will also belong to you. Even though it's a forest, you will clear it and possess it to its farthest borders. You'll drive out the Canaanites, even though they have iron chariots and even though they're strong."

Joshua 18

1 After this, the entire assembly of the Israelis gathered together at Shiloh and set up a Tent of Meeting there, where the land lay conquered before them.

2 Seven tribes remained among the Israelis for whom their inheritances had not yet been allocated.

3 So Joshua told the Israelis, "How long will you delay invading and taking possession of the land that the LORD God of your ancestors has given you?"

4 Appoint three men from each tribe and I'll send them. They'll begin to go through the land and record a description of it, categorized according to their inheritance, and then they'll report back to me.

5 They'll divide it seven ways. Judah will stay in its territory on the south and the house of Joseph will remain in its territory on the north.

6 Lay out the land in seven divisions, then bring your report here to me. I will then cast lots in the presence of the LORD our God.

7 The descendants of Levi have no allotment among you, since the priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance. Gad, Reuben, and the half-tribe of Manasseh received their inheritance to the east, beyond the Jordan River given to them by Moses the servant of the LORD."

8 So the men started out, following Joshua's command to those who went to scout the land, "Go through the land and record a description of it, and then return to me. I will then cast lots in the presence of the LORD your God in Shiloh."

9 Then the men left camp and went throughout the land, describing its cities in a book with seven divisions. Then they returned to Joshua at the camp at Shiloh.

10 Joshua threw lots in Shiloh in the LORD's presence and divided the land accordingly among the Israelis according to their divisions.

11 The allotment of the tribe of the descendants of Benjamin came up according to their families, and their territorial allotment fell between the descendants of Judah and the descendants of Joseph.

12 Their border started on the north side at the Jordan River, proceeded to the slope of Jericho on the north, then westward through the hill country, and terminated at the wilderness of Beth-aven.

13 From there the boundary proceeded south in the direction of Luz to the slope of Luz (also known as Bethel), then proceeded to Ataroth-addar, on the mountain that lies south of Lower Beth-horon.

14 From there the boundary changes direction, turning southward on the western side opposite Beth-horon, terminating at Kiriath-baal (also known as Kiriath-jearim), which belongs to Judah. This forms the western boundary.

15 The southern boundary begins at the edge of Kiriath-jearim, proceeding from there to Ephron and then to the spring at the Nephtoah Waters.

16 From there the boundary proceeds to the border of the mountain that overlooks the Ben-hinnom Valley at the northern end of the Rephaim Valley, where it proceeds down the Hinnom Valley south of the slope of the Jebusites toward En-rogel.

17 Then it turns north toward En-shemesh and proceeds from there to Geliloth opposite the ascent of Adummim, where it turns toward the Stone of Bohan, Reuben's son,

18 and proceeds north of the slope of Beth-arabah down to the Arabah.

19 From there the boundary proceeds to north of the slope of Beth-hoglah and terminates at the northern bay of the Salt Sea where the Jordan River ends in the south. This is the southern border.

20 The Jordan River forms its boundary on the east. This is the inheritance for the tribe of Benjamin according to its families, boundary by boundary around the entire territory.

21 The towns belonging to the tribe of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, Beth-hoglah, Emek-keziz,

22 Beth-arabah, Zemaraim, Bethel,

23 Avvim, Parah, Ophrah,

24 Chephar-ammoni, Ophni, and Geba, for a total of twelve towns and villages.

25 Also included were Gibeon, Ramah, Beeroth,

26 Mizpeh, Chephirah, Mozah,

27 Rekem, Irpeel, Taralah,

28 Zela, Haeleph, Jebus (also known as Jerusalem), Gibeah, and Kiriath-jearim, for a total of fourteen towns and villages. This is the inheritance of the tribe of Benjamin according to their families.

Joshua 19

1 The second lottery went to the tribe of Simeon according to its families. Its inheritance was enclosed within the inheritance of the tribe of Judah.

2 Its inheritance included Beer-sheba (also known as Shebah), Moladah,

3 Hazar-shual, Balah, Ezem,

4 Eltolad, Bethul, Hormah,

5 Ziklag, Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susah,

6 Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhin, for a total of thirteen towns and villages.

7 Also included were Ain, Rimmon, Ether, and Ashan, for a total of four towns and villages.

8 Also included were all the surrounding villages as far as Baalath-beer, in Ramah of the Negev. This was the inheritance of the tribe of Simeon, according to its families.

9 The inheritance of the tribe of Simeon was contained in part of the territory of Judah; that is, because the portion allotted to the tribe of Judah was large enough for both tribes, the tribe of Simeon obtained an inheritance within that of Judah.

10 The third lottery went to the tribe of Zebulun according to its families. The boundary of its inheritance extended to Sarid, 11 then turned westward toward Maralah, proceeding to Dabbesheth, and then to the valley that is east of Jokneam.

12 From Sarid it proceeded back eastward, creating a sunrise boundary at Chisloth-tabor, and proceeded from there to Daberath, then to Japhia,

13 from which it proceeded toward the east to Gath-hepher, then to Eth-kazin, then going to Rimmon, where it turned toward Neah.

14 On the north of Neah, the boundary turned toward Hannathon, terminating at Iphtah-el Valley

15 and Kattath, Nahalal, Shimron, Idalah, and Bethlehem, for a total of twelve towns and villages.

16 These towns and villages are the inheritance of the tribe of Zebulun according to its families.

17 The fourth lottery went to the tribe of Issachar according to its families.

18 The territorial allotment included Jezreel, Chesulloth, Shunem,

19 Hapharaim, Shion, Anaharath,

20 Rabbith, Kishion, Ebez,

21 Remeth, En-gannim, En-haddah, Beth-pazzez,

22 with the boundary including Tabor, Shahazumah, and Beth-shemesh. The boundary terminated at the Jordan River, for a total of sixteen towns and villages.

23 These towns and villages comprise the inheritance of the tribe of Issachar, according to its families.

24 The fifth lottery went to the tribe of Asher according to its families.

25 The territorial boundary included Helkath, Hali, Beten, Achshaph,

26 Allammelech, Amad, and Mishal, and on the west Carmel and Shihor-libnath,

27 then proceeded east to Beth-dagon. It proceeded to Zebulun and the Iphtah-el Valley, turned north to Beth-emek and Neiel, then proceeded north to Cabul, 28 Ebron, Rehob, Hammon, and Kanah as far as Great Sidon.

29 There the boundary turned toward Ramah, reaching to the fortress city of Tyre and turned to Hosah, where it terminated at the Mediterranean Sea. Also included were Mahalab, Achzib, 30 Ummah, Aphek, and Rehob, for a total of 22 towns and villages.

31 These towns and villages are the inheritance of the tribe of Asher according to its families.

Mark 6

30 The apostles gathered around Jesus and told him everything they had done and taught.
31 He told them, "Come away to a deserted place all by yourselves and rest for a while," because so many people were coming and going that they didn't even have time to eat.
32 So they went away in a boat to a deserted place by themselves.
33 But when many people saw them leave and recognized them, they hurried on foot from all the towns and arrived ahead of them.
34 When he got out of the boat, he saw a large crowd. He had compassion for them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd, and he began to teach them many things.
35 When it was quite late, his disciples came to him and said, "This is a deserted place, and it's already late.
36 Send the crowds away so that they can go to the neighbouring farms and villages and buy themselves something to eat."
37 But he answered them, "You give them something to eat." They asked him, "Should we go and buy 200 denarii worth of bread and give it to them to eat?"
38 He asked them, "How many loaves of bread do you have? Go and see." They found out and told him, "Five loaves and two fish."
39 Then he ordered them to have all the people sit down in groups on the green grass.
40 So they sat down in groups of hundreds and fifties.
41 Taking the five loaves and the two fish, he looked up to heaven and blessed them. Then he broke the loaves in pieces and kept giving them to his disciples to set before the people. He also divided the two fish among them all.
42 All of them ate and were filled.
43 Then the disciples picked up twelve baskets full of leftover bread and fish.
44 There were 5,000 men who had eaten the loaves.
45 Jesus immediately had his disciples get into a boat and cross to Bethsaida ahead of him, while he sent the crowd away.
46 After saying goodbye to them, he went up on a hillside to pray.
47 When evening had come, the boat was in the middle of the sea, while he was alone on the land.
48 He saw that his disciples were straining at the oars, because the wind was against them. Shortly before dawn he came to them, walking on the sea. He intended to go up right beside them,
49 but when they saw him walking on the sea, they thought it was a ghost and began to scream.
50 All of them saw him and were terrified. Immediately he told them, "Have courage! It is I. Stop being afraid!"
51 Then he got into the boat with them, and the wind stopped blowing. The disciples were utterly astounded,
52 because they didn't understand the significance of the loaves. Instead, their hearts were hardened.
53 When they had crossed over, they came ashore at Gennesaret and anchored the boat.
54 As soon as they got out of the boat, the people recognized Jesus.
55 They ran all over the countryside and began carrying the sick on their mats to any place where they heard he was.
56 Wherever he went, whether into villages, towns, or farms, people would place their sick in the marketplaces and beg him to let them touch even the tassel of his garment, and everyone who touched it was healed.

Joshua 19

32 The sixth lottery went to the tribe of Naphtali according to its families.

33 The territorial boundary proceeded from Heleph, the oak in Zaanannim, and Adami-nekeb, and Jabneel as far as Lakkum, terminating at the Jordan River.

34 There the boundary proceeded west to Aznoth-tabor and then to Hukkok, reaching Zebulun at the south, Asher on the west, and Judah on the east at the Jordan River.

35 Also included were the fortress towns of Ziddim, Zer, Hammath, Rakkath, Chinnereth,

36 Adamah, Ramah, Hazor,

37 Kedesh, Edrei, En-hazor,

38 Iron, Migdal-el, Horem, Beth-anath, and Beth-shemesh, for a total of nineteen towns and their villages.

39 These towns and villages comprised the inheritance of the tribe of Naphtali according to its families.

40 The seventh lottery went to the tribe of Dan according to its families.

41 The territorial allotment included Zorah, Eshtaol, Ir-shemesh,

42 Shaalabbin, Aijalon, Ithlah,

43 Elon, Timnah, Ekron,

44 Eltekeh, Gibbethon, Baalath,

45 Jehud, Bene-berak, Gath-rimmon,

46 Me-jarkon, and Rakkon at the border near Joppa.

47 Later, when the descendants of Dan lost their territory, they went up and attacked Leshem. After they captured it and executed its inhabitants, they took possession of it and settled there, renaming the city of Leshem to Dan in memory of their ancestor Dan.

48 These towns and villages comprised the inheritance of the tribe of Dan according to their families.

49 When the Israelis had completed distribution of the various territories of the land as inheritances, they provided an inheritance to Nun's son Joshua.

50 By a command from the LORD, they allocated the town that he requested, Timnath-serah in the hill country of Ephraim. He rebuilt the town and settled there.

51 These are the inheritances that Eleazar the priest, Nun's son Joshua, and the heads of the families of the Israeli tribes distributed by lot in the LORD's presence at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting. So they finished dividing the land.

Joshua 20

1 Then the LORD told Joshua,

2 "Tell the people of Israel, 'Set apart cities of refuge about which I spoke to you through Moses,

3 so that anyone who kills a person unintentionally and without premeditation may run there and be protected from closely related avengers.

4 He may run to one of those cities, stand at the entrance of the city gate, and tell his side of the story to the elders of the city. They are to bring him inside the city with them and provide him a place to live among them.

5 "'Now if the closely related avenger pursues him, then they are not to hand the killer over to him, because he killed his neighbour without premeditation and without hating him beforehand.

6 He is to live in that city until he stands trial before the community, until the death of the one who is high priest at that time. Then the killer may return to his own city and to his own home, that is, to the city from which he fled."

7 So they set apart Kedesh in Galilee in the hill country of Naphtali, Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim, and Kiriath-arba (also known as Hebron) in the hill country of Judah.

8 East of Jericho beyond the Jordan River, they reserved Bezer in the wilderness on the plain from the tribe of Reuben, Ramoth in Gilead from the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Bashan from the tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were appointed to be cities for all the Israelis and for the foreigner who lives among them, so that whoever kills anyone unintentionally may run there and not die at the hands of a closely related avenger until he stands for trial before the community.

Joshua 21

1 Then the family leaders of the descendants of Levi approached Eleazar the priest and Nun's son Joshua, along with the family leaders of the people of Israel.

2 It was at Shiloh in the land of Canaan that they told them, "The LORD ordered through Moses that we be given cities in which to live, along with their pasture lands for our livestock."

3 So, just as the Lord had said, the Israelis set aside cities for the descendants of Levi from a portion of their own inheritances, along with their grazing lands.

4 The lottery went to the families of the descendants of Kohath. So the descendants of Aaron the priest, who were descendants of Levi, received thirteen cities by random lot from the tribes of Judah, Simeon, and Benjamin.

5 The rest of the descendants of Kohath received ten cities by random lot from the families of the tribes of Ephraim, Dan, and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

6 The descendants of Gershon received thirteen cities by random lot from the families of the tribes of Issachar, Asher, Naphtali, and from the half-tribe of Manasseh located in Bashan.

7 The descendants of Merari, allocated according to their families, received twelve cities from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Zebulun.

8 The Israelis apportioned these cities, along with their pasture lands, to the descendants of Levi by random lot, just as the LORD had commanded through Moses.

9 From the tribes of the descendants of Judah and Simeon, they gave these cities, delineated by name:

10 for the descendants of Aaron, one of the families of the descendants of Kohath, of the descendants of Levi, since the lot fell in their favour first.

11 They gave them Kiriath-arba, also known as Hebron, (Arba was named after the ancestor of Anak), in the hill country of Judah, along with its surrounding pasture lands.

12 But the fields adjoining the city and its surrounding villages were given to Jephunneh's son Caleb.

13 So they gave Hebron to the descendants of Aaron the priest to serve as a city of refuge for unintentional killers, along with its pasture lands, Libnah with its pasture lands,

14 Jattir with its pasture lands, Eshtemoa with its pasture lands,

15 Holon with its pasture lands, Debir with its pasture lands,

16 Ain with its pasture lands, Juttah with its pasture lands, and Beth-shemesh with its pasture lands, for a total of nine cities from these two tribes.

17 From the tribe of Benjamin, Gibeon with its pasture lands, Geba with its pasture lands, 18 Anathoth with its pasture lands, and Almon with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.

19 All of the cities allocated to the priests, who were descendants of Aaron, numbered thirteen, along with their pasture lands.

20 Cities from the tribe of Ephraim were also allotted to the families of the descendants of Kohath, that is, to the rest of the descendants of Kohath, who were descendants of Levi.

21 Shechem was allocated to them as a city of refuge for unintentional killers, along with its pasture lands, in the mountainous region of Ephraim, Gezer with its pasture lands,

22 Kibzaim with its pasture lands, and Beth-horon with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.

23 From the tribe of Dan were allocated Elteke with its pasture lands, Gibbethon with its pasture lands,
24 Aijalon with its pasture lands, and Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.
25 From the half-tribe of Manasseh were allocated Taanach with its pasture lands and Gath-rimmon with its pasture lands, for a total of two cities.
26 All the cities with their pasture lands for the families of the rest of the descendants of Kohath numbered ten.
27 To the descendants of Gershon (one of the Levitical families) from the half-tribe of Manasseh were allocated Golan in Bashan as a city of refuge for unintentional killers, along with its pasture lands, and Beeshterah with its pasture lands, for a total of two cities.
28 From the tribe of Issachar were allocated Kishion with its pasture lands, Daberath with its pasture lands,
29 Jarmuth with its pasture lands, and En-gannim with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.
30 From the tribe of Asher were allocated Mishal with its pasture lands, Abdon with its pasture lands,
31 Helkath with its pasture lands, and Rehob with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.
32 From the tribe of Naphtali, Kedesh in Galilee with its pasture lands were allocated as a city of refuge for the unintentional killer, Hammoth-dor with its pasture lands, and Kartan with its pasture lands, for a total of three cities.
33 All the cities of the descendants of Gershon according to their families totalled thirteen, including their pasture lands.

Mark 7

- 1 The Pharisees and some of the scribes who had come from Jerusalem gathered around Jesus.
- 2 They noticed that some of his disciples were eating with unclean hands, that is, without washing them.
- 3 (The Pharisees — and indeed all the Jewish people — don't eat unless they wash their hands properly, following the tradition of their elders.
- 4 They don't eat anything from the marketplace unless they dip it in water. They also observe many other traditions, such as the proper washing of washing cups, jars, brass pots, and dinner tables).
- 5 So the Pharisees and the scribes asked Jesus, "Why don't your disciples live according to the tradition of the elders? Instead, they eat with unclean hands."
- 6 He told them, "Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you hypocrites. As it is written, 'These people honour me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me. Their worship of me is worthless, because they teach human rules as doctrines.'
- 7 You abandon the commandment of God and hold to human tradition."
- 8 Then he told them, "You have such a fine way of rejecting the commandment of God in order to keep your own tradition!
- 9 Because Moses said, 'Honour your father and your mother,' and 'Whoever curses his father or mother must certainly be put to death.'
- 10 But you say, 'If anyone tells his father or mother, "Whatever support you might have received from me is Corban," (that is, an offering to God)
- 11 'you no longer let him do anything for his father or mother.'
- 12 You are destroying the word of God through your tradition that you have handed down. And you do many other things like that."
- 13 Then he called to the crowd again and told them, "Listen to me, all of you, and understand!
- 14 Nothing that goes into a person from the outside can make him unclean. It's what comes out of a person that makes a person unclean.
- 15 If anyone has ears to hear, let him listen!"
- 16 When he had left the crowd and gone home, his disciples began asking him about the parable.
- 17 He asked them, "Are you so ignorant? Don't you know that nothing that goes into a person from the outside can make him unclean?
- 18 Because it doesn't go into his heart but into his stomach, and is expelled as waste." (By this he declared all foods clean).
- 19 He continued, "It's what comes out of a person that makes a person unclean,
- 20 because it's from within, from the human heart, that evil thoughts come, as well as sexual immorality, stealing, murder,
- 21 adultery, greed, wickedness, cheating, shameless lust, envy, slander, arrogance, and foolishness.

Joshua 21

34 From the tribe of Zebulun were allocated to the descendants of Merari (that is, the rest of the descendants of Levi) Jokneam with its pasture lands, Kartah with its pasture lands,
35 Dimnah with its pasture lands, and Nahalal with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.

36 From the tribe of Reuben were allocated Bezer with its pasture lands, Jahaz with its pasture lands, 37 Kedemoth with its pasture lands, and Mephaath with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities.

38 From the tribe of Gad were allocated Ramoth in Gilead with its pasture lands, to serve as a city of refuge for the unintentional killer, Mahanaim with its pasture lands, 39 Heshbon with its pasture lands, and Jazer with its pasture lands, for a total of four cities in all.

40 So the entire allocation to the descendants of Merari (that is, the rest of the families of the descendants of Levi) according to their families totalled twelve cities.

41 All of the cities of the descendants of Levi that had been set apart among the territorial possession of the Israelis totalled 48, along with their pasture lands.

42 These cities were each surrounded by pasture lands, as was the case with all of these cities.

43 So the LORD gave all of the land to Israel that he had promised to give their ancestors, and they took possession and settled there in it.

44 The LORD gave them peace all around them, just as he had promised their ancestors. Not one of their enemies was able to oppose them — the LORD placed all of their enemies under their control.

45 Not one of the good promises that the LORD had made to the house of Israel failed — all of them came about.

Joshua 22

1 Later, Joshua called together the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh

2 and told them, "You have done everything that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, and you have listened to me in everything that I commanded you.

3 You haven't abandoned your relatives these past days to the present, and you have met the obligation contained in the commands of the LORD your God.

4 Now the LORD has given peace to your relatives, just as he told them. Therefore, proceed to your tents — to the land that is yours to possess — that Moses the servant of the LORD gave you east of the Jordan River.

5 Only be very careful to keep the commands and the Law that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you — that is, to love the LORD your God, to follow in all of his ways, to keep his commands, to stay close to him, and to serve him with all your heart and soul."

6 That's how Joshua blessed them. Then he sent them on their way and they returned to their tents.

7 Now Moses had made an allotment in Bashan to one half-tribe of Manasseh, but Joshua made an allotment west of the Jordan River to the other half-tribe of their relatives. So when Joshua sent them on their way back to their tents, he also blessed them by saying

8 "Return to your tents with great wealth, plenty of livestock, silver, gold, bronze, iron, and lots of clothing. Divide the spoil from your enemies among your relatives."

9 The descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh went back to the land of Gilead, leaving the Israelis at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, for their territorial possession that they had inherited in accordance with the command of the LORD given through Moses.

10 After they arrived at an area of the Jordan River that is in the land of Canaan, the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh constructed an altar there by the Jordan River, and it was very large.

11 When the Israelis heard about it, they announced, "Look here, the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh have constructed an altar in Canaan's frontier district of the Jordan River, on the side apportioned to the Israelis."

12 When the Israelis heard that announcement, the entire community of the Israelis gathered together at Shiloh in preparation for war.

13 Then the Israelis sent a delegation to the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead. They sent Eleazar's son Phinehas the priest,

14 and ten officials with him (one for each of the tribal families of Israel, each one of them a family leader among the clans of Israel).

15 They approached the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in the land of Gilead and told them:

16 "This is what the entire community of the LORD has to say: 'What is this treacherous act by which you have acted deceitfully against the God of Israel by turning away from following the LORD today, and by building yourselves an altar today, so you can rebel against the LORD?'

17 Isn't the evil that happened at Peor enough for us, from which we have yet to be completely cleansed even to this point, and because of which a plague came upon the community of the LORD?'

18 Now then, are you turning away from following the LORD today? If you rebel against the LORD today, by tomorrow he will be angry with the entire community of Israel.

19 If the land of your inheritance remains unclean, then cross back over into the land that the LORD possesses, and receive an inheritance among us. Don't rebel against the LORD and against us by constructing an altar for yourselves besides the altar of the LORD our God.

20 Didn't Zerah's son Achan act treacherously with respect to the things banned by God, and as a result God became angry at the entire community of Israel? And that man was not the only one to die because of his iniquity.'"

21 The descendants of Reuben, descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh answered the officials of the clans of Israel,

22 "The God of gods, the LORD, the God of gods, the LORD is the One who knows! And may Israel itself be aware that if this was an act of rebellion or an act of treachery against the LORD, may he not deliver us today!

23 If we have built an altar for ourselves intended to turn us away from following the LORD, or to offer burnt offerings, grain offerings, or peace offerings on it, may the LORD himself demand an accounting from us!

24 But we did this because we were concerned for a reason, since we thought, 'Some time in the future your descendants may say to our descendants, "What do you have in common with the LORD, the God of Israel?'

25 The LORD has established the Jordan River to be a territorial border between us and you. Descendants of Reuben and descendants of Gad have no allotment from the LORD.'" So your descendants may cause our descendants to stop fearing the LORD.'

26 "That's why we said, 'Let's build an altar for ourselves, not for burnt offerings or sacrifice,

27 but instead it will serve as a reminder between us and you and between our generations after us, that we are to serve the LORD with our burnt offerings, sacrifices, and peace offerings. That way your descendants will not say to our descendants in the future, "You have no allotment from the LORD.'"

28 "That's also why we said, 'It may be if they say these things to us and to our descendants in the future, so we will respond, "Look at this replica of the altar of the LORD that our ancestors made, not for burnt offerings or sacrifice, but rather as a reminder between us and you.

29 May we never rebel against the LORD today by building an altar for burnt offerings, for grain offerings, or for sacrifice to replace the altar of the LORD our God which stands before his Tent.'""

30 When Phinehas the priest, the leaders of the community, and the heads of the families of Israel who were with him heard what the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the descendants of Manasseh said, they were pleased.

31 So Eleazar's son Phinehas the priest replied to the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the descendants of Manasseh, "Today we've demonstrated that the LORD is among us, because you have not acted treacherously against the LORD. Now you have delivered the Israelis from the anger of the LORD."

32 So Eleazar's son Phinehas the priest and the leaders returned from the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and from the land of Gilead to the land of Canaan and to the people of Israel, bringing back word to them.

33 What they said pleased the people of Israel, so they blessed God and said no more about going up to attack them in war and to destroy the land where the descendants of Reuben and the descendants of Gad were living.

34 The descendants of Reuben and the descendants of Gad named the altar "Witness," because they claimed, "It stands as a witness between us that the LORD is God."

Joshua 23

1 Many years later, after the LORD had given peace between Israel and all its surrounding enemies, and after Joshua had become very old,

2 Joshua called together all Israel, including their leaders, officials, judges, and tribal officers. He told them, "I am old now after having lived many years.

3 You have seen everything that the LORD your God has done to all of these nations on your behalf, because it has been the LORD your God who has been fighting on your behalf.

4 Now look, I have allocated these nations that remain as an inheritance for your tribes, including all of the nations that I have eliminated, from the Jordan River to the Mediterranean Sea to the west.

5 The LORD your God will expel them in front of you, driving them out of your sight. You will take possession of this land, just as the LORD your God promised you.

6 "Stand very strong, then, so you can obey and carry out everything written in the Book of the Law of Moses, turning neither to the right nor to the left of it.

7 That way, you will not mingle with those nations that remain among you, nor mention the name of their gods, nor make oaths by them, nor serve them, nor worship them.

8 Instead, you are to hold fast to the LORD your God, as you have done today,

9 because the LORD has expelled great and strong nations ahead of you. Now as for you, not a single man has been able to oppose you right to this day.

10 A single man makes a thousand flee, because the LORD your God is the One who is fighting for you, just as he promised you.

11 "So be very diligent to love the LORD your God,

12 because if you ever turn back and cling to those who remain of these nations by intermarrying with them and associating one with another,

13 know for certain that the LORD your God will not continue to drive out these nations ahead of you. Instead, they will be a snare and a trap for you, a whip to your backs, and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from this good land that the LORD your God has given you.

14 "Look here: today I'm going down the path that everyone on earth takes, and you know with all your hearts and souls that not a single word of all of the good things that the LORD your God spoke about you has failed to happen. Everything has been fulfilled about you — not one of them has failed.

15 However, just as all of the good things have come about that the LORD your God promised, so also the LORD will bring upon you all of the threats until he has destroyed you from possessing this good land that he has given you.

16 When you break the covenant of the LORD your God that he commanded you to obey by going to serve other gods and worship them, then the anger of the LORD will blaze against you, and you will perish quickly from this good land that he gave you."

Mark 7

24 Jesus left that place and went to the territory of Tyre and Sidon. He went into a house, not wanting anyone to know he was there. However, it couldn't be kept a secret.

25 In fact, a woman whose little daughter had an unclean spirit immediately heard about him and came and fell down at his feet.

26 Now the woman happened to be a Greek, born in Phoenicia in Syria. She kept asking him to drive the demon out of her daughter.

27 But he kept telling her, "First let the children be filled. It is not right to take the children's bread and throw it to the puppies."

28 But she answered him, "Yes, Lord. Yet even the puppies under the table eat some of the children's crumbs."

29 Then he told her, "Because you have said this, go! The demon has left your daughter."

30 So she went home and found her child lying in bed, and the demon was gone.

31 Then Jesus left the territory of Tyre and passed through Sidon towards the Sea of Galilee, in the territory of the Decapolis.

32 Some people brought him a deaf man who also had a speech impediment. They begged him to lay his hand on him.

33 Jesus took him away from the crowd to be alone with him. Putting his fingers into the man's ears, he touched the man's tongue with saliva.

34 Then he looked up to heaven, sighed, and told him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened!"

35 The man's hearing and speech were restored at once, and he began to talk normally.

36 Jesus ordered the people not to tell anyone, but the more he kept ordering them, the more they kept spreading the news.

37 Amazed beyond measure, they kept on saying, "He does everything well! He even makes deaf people hear and mute people talk!"

Mark 8

1 At that time, after a large crowd again had gathered together with nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples and told them,

2 "I have compassion for the crowd because they have already been with me for three days and have nothing to eat.

3 If I send them away to their homes hungry, they will faint on the road. Some of them have come a long distance."

4 His disciples answered him, "Where could anyone get enough bread to feed these people out here in the wilderness?"

5 He asked them, "How many loaves of bread do you have?" "Seven," they said.

6 So he ordered the crowd to sit down on the ground. Then he took the seven loaves and gave thanks. He broke them in pieces and kept giving them to his disciples to distribute. So they served them to the crowd.

7 They also had a few small fish. He blessed them and said that the fish should also be distributed.

8 The people ate and were filled. Then the disciples picked up the leftover pieces — seven large baskets full.

9 Now about 4,000 men were there. Then he sent them on their way.

10 Immediately he got into a boat with his disciples and went to the region of Dalmanutha.

Joshua 24

1 Then Joshua assembled together all of the tribes of Israel at Shechem. He called for the leaders, officials, judges, and tribal officers of Israel. They assembled in formation before God,

2 and Joshua told all of the people, "This is what the LORD God of Israel has to say: 'Long ago your ancestors lived beyond the Euphrates River, including Terah, father of both Abraham and Nahor, where they served other gods.

3 Then I took your ancestor Abraham from the other side of the Euphrates River and led him through the entire land of Canaan. I multiplied his descendants, and gave him his son Isaac.

4 'I gave Jacob and Esau to Isaac. And I gave Mount Seir to Esau as his possession, but Jacob and his children went down to Egypt.

5 'Later I commissioned Moses and Aaron, and I inflicted plagues on Egypt by what I did among them. Afterwards, I brought all of you out.

6 'Then I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, and you came to the Sea, and the Egyptians followed your ancestors with chariots and horsemen to the Reed Sea.

7 But when they cried out to the LORD, he placed darkness between you and the Egyptians, brought the sea upon the Egyptians, and swallowed them up. Your own eyes saw what I did in Egypt. Then you lived in the desert for a long time.

8 'I brought you into the territory of the Amorites, who lived on the other side of the Jordan River. They fought you, but I gave them into your control, and you took possession of their land. I destroyed them from your presence.

9 'Then Zippor's son, King Balak of Moab, showed up and fought against Israel. He sent word to Balaam, summoning Beor's son to put a curse on you.

10 But I wasn't willing to listen to Balaam. So he had to bless you, and I delivered you from his control.

11 'Next, you crossed the Jordan River and arrived at Jericho. But the citizens of Jericho fought you, as did the Amorites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hittites, Girgashites, Hivites, and the Jebusites, so I gave them into your control.

12 'Then I sent hornets ahead of you to drive out two kings of the Amorites before you without your using either sword or bow.

13 I gave you a land for which you never worked and cities that you didn't build but that you have lived in. You're eating from vineyards and olive groves that you didn't plant.'

14 "Now you must fear the LORD and serve him in faithfulness and truth. Throw away the gods that your ancestors served beyond the Euphrates River and in Egypt. Instead, serve the LORD.

15 If you think it's the wrong thing for you to serve the LORD, then choose for yourselves today whom you will serve — the gods whom your ancestors served on the other side of the Euphrates River, or the gods of the Amorites in whose territories you are living. But as for me and my household, we will serve the LORD.

16 In response, the people said, "Far be it from us that we should abandon the LORD to serve other gods,

17 since the LORD our God is the One who brought us and our ancestors up from the land of Egypt, from a life of slavery. He did those great things right in front of us, preserving us along the way that we travelled and among all the peoples through whose territory we passed.

18 The LORD expelled all the people before us, including the Amorites who lived in the land. Therefore, we also will serve the LORD, for he is our God."

19 So Joshua told the people, "You will not be able to serve the LORD, because he is a God of Holiness. He is a jealous God, and he will forgive neither your transgressions nor your sins.

20 If you abandon the LORD and serve foreign deities, then he will turn and do you harm, consuming you after all the good he has done for you."

21 "No," the people replied to Joshua. "We will serve the LORD."

22 Joshua responded, "You are giving testimony against yourselves, that you have chosen to serve the LORD." They replied, "We are witnesses!"

23 Joshua said, "Therefore abandon the foreign gods that are among you, and turn your hearts to the LORD, the God of Israel."

24 The people replied, "We will serve the LORD our God and obey his voice."

25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day, making statutes and ordinances in Shechem.

26 He wrote these words in the Book of the Law of God, took a large stone, moved it under the shade of the oak tree that was near the sanctuary of the LORD,

27 and then told all of the people, "Look! This stone will testify for us, because it has heard everything that the LORD has spoken to us. So it will stand as a witness against you in the event that you deny your God."

28 Then Joshua dismissed the people, and each man returned to his territorial inheritance.

29 Some time later, Joshua servant of the LORD died at the age of 110 years, and 30 they buried him in his territorial inheritance at Timnath-serah in the mountainous region of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

31 Israel served the LORD for the entire lifetimes of Joshua and of the officials who outlived Joshua, that is, the ones who had personally known everything that the LORD had done for Israel.

32 They also buried the bones of Joseph, which the Israelis brought up from Egypt, in the parcel of ground at Shechem that Jacob had purchased from the descendants of Shechem's father Hamor, for 100 pieces of silver. It became part of the inheritance of the descendants of Joseph.

33 Later, Aaron's son Eleazar also died, and they buried him at Gibeah, which belonged to his son Phinehas, and which had been given to him in the mountainous region of Ephraim.

Judges 1

1 Sometime after Joshua had died, the Israelis asked the LORD, "Who is to lead us against the Canaanites in our opening attack against them?"

2 The LORD replied, "The tribe of Judah is to lead you. Look! I've given the land into their control."

3 But the tribe of Judah told the tribe of Simeon, the descendants of Judah's brother, "Come with us into our territory, and we'll both fight the Canaanites. In return, we'll go with you when you fight in your territory." So the army of the tribe of Simeon accompanied the army of the tribe of Judah.

4 When the army of the tribe of Judah went into battle, the LORD gave the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their control, and they defeated 10,000 men at Bezek.

5 They located Adoni-bezek in Bezek, fought him, and defeated the Canaanites and the Perizzites.

6 Adoni-bezek ran off, but they pursued him, caught him, and amputated his thumbs and big toes.

7 Adoni-bezek used to brag, "Seventy kings without thumbs and big toes used to eat what was left under my table. God has repaid me for what I've done." They brought him to Jerusalem, and he later died there.

8 Then the army of Judah attacked Jerusalem, captured it, executed its inhabitants, and set fire to the city.

9 Later, the army of Judah left Jerusalem to attack the Canaanites who lived in the hill country, the Negev, and the Shephelah.

10 They attacked the Canaanites who inhabited Hebron (formerly known as Kiriath-arba) and fought Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmi.

11 The army of Judah then proceeded to attack the inhabitants of Debir, which used to be known as Kiriath-sepher.

12 Caleb announced, "I'll give my daughter Achsah in marriage to whomever leads the attack against Kiriath-sepher and captures it."

13 Othniel, Caleb's nephew through his younger brother Kenaz, captured the city, so Caleb awarded him his daughter Achsah in marriage.

14 Later on, after she had arrived, she urged Othniel to ask her father for a field. As she got off her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What do you want for yourself?"

15 "I want this blessing from you," she replied. "Since you've given me land in the Negev, give me water springs, too." So Caleb gave her both the upper and lower springs.

16 The descendants of the Kenites, the tribe from which Moses' father-in-law came, accompanied the descendants of Judah from the city of the palms to the Judean wilderness, which is in the desert area south of Arad, and lived with the people there.

17 The army of Judah accompanied the army of Simeon, Judah's brother, as they attacked the Canaanites who were living in Zephath, and they completely destroyed it. Then they renamed the city Hormah.

18 The army of Judah captured Gaza and its territory, Ashkelon and its territory, and Ekron and its territory.

19 The LORD was with the army of Judah, and they captured the hill country, but did not expel the inhabitants of the valley because they were equipped with iron chariots.

20 They gave Hebron to Caleb, just as Moses had promised, and he drove out the three sons of Anak from there.

21 However, the descendants of Benjamin did not expel the Jebusites who lived in Jerusalem, so the Jebusites have lived with the descendants of Benjamin in Jerusalem to this day.

22 Then the army of the tribe of Joseph attacked Bethel, and the LORD was with them.

23 The army of the tribe of Joseph scouted out Bethel, which had been formerly named Luz.

24 The scouts observed a man coming out of the city and they promised him, "Please show us the entrance to the city and we'll deal kindly with you."

25 So he showed them the entrance to the city, and they attacked the city with swords, but they let the man and his entire family escape.

26 So the man travelled to the land of the Hittites and built a city that he named "Luz," and it is called by that name to this day.

Mark 8

11 The Pharisees arrived and began arguing with Jesus. They tested him by demanding from him a sign from heaven.

12 He sighed deeply in his spirit and remarked, "Why do those living today demand a sign? I tell you with certainty, no sign will be given to this generation."

13 Leaving them, he got into a boat again and crossed to the other side.

14 Now the disciples had forgotten to take any bread along, but they had one loaf with them in the boat.

15 Jesus had been warning them, "Watch out! Beware of the yeast of the Pharisees and the yeast of Herod!"

16 So they were discussing with one another the fact that they didn't have any bread.

17 Knowing this, Jesus asked them, "Why are you discussing the fact that you don't have any bread? Don't you understand or perceive yet? Are your hearts hardened?"

18 Do you have eyes but fail to see? Do you have ears but fail to hear? Don't you remember?

19 When I broke the five loaves for the 5,000, how many baskets did you fill with leftover pieces?" They told him, "Twelve."

20 "When I broke the seven loaves for the 4,000, how many large baskets did you fill with the leftover pieces?" They told him, "Seven."

21 Then he asked them, "Don't you understand yet?"

22 As they came to Bethsaida, some people brought a blind man to Jesus and begged him to touch him.

23 Jesus took the blind man by the hand and led him out of the village. He spit into his eyes, placed his hands on him, and asked him, "Do you see anything?"

24 The man looked up and said, "I see people, but they look like trees walking around."

25 Then Jesus placed his hands on the man's eyes again, and he saw clearly. His sight was restored, and he saw everything perfectly even from a distance.

26 Then Jesus sent him home, saying, "Don't go into the village or tell anyone in the village."

27 Then Jesus and his disciples set out for the villages around Caesarea Philippi. On the way he was asking his disciples, "Who do people say I am?"

28 They answered him, "Some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, and still others one of the prophets."

29 Then he began to ask them, "But who do you say I am?" Peter answered him, "You are the Messiah!"

30 Jesus sternly ordered them not to tell anyone about him.

Judges 1

27 The army of the tribe of Manasseh did not conquer Beth-shean and its villages, Taanach and its villages, the inhabitants of Dor and its villages, the inhabitants of Ibleam and its villages, and the inhabitants of Megiddo and its villages. Instead, the Canaanites continued to live in that land.

28 When Israel had grown strong, they subjected the Canaanites to conscripted labour and never did expel them completely.

29 The army of the tribe of Ephraim did not expel the Canaanites who were living in Gezer, so the Canaanites lived in Gezer among them.

30 The army of the tribe of Zebulun did not expel the inhabitants of Kitron or the inhabitants of Nahalol, so the Canaanites lived among them, but were subjected to conscripted labour.

31 The army of the tribe of Asher did not expel the inhabitants of Acco nor the inhabitants of Sidon, Ahlab, Achzib, Helbah, Aphik, or Rehob.

32 So the descendants of Asher lived among the Canaanites who continued to inhabit the land, because they did not expel them.

33 The army of the tribe of Naphtali did not expel the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and the inhabitants of Beth-anath. Instead, they lived among the Canaanites who inhabited the land. However, the inhabitants of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath were subjected to conscripted labour.

34 Later on, the Amorites forced the descendants of Dan into the hill country and did not permit them to come into the valleys of the hills.

35 Furthermore, the Amorites continued to inhabit Mount Heres in Aijalon and Shaalbim. Eventually, however, after the tribe of Joseph had become strong, the Amorites were subjected to conscripted labour.

36 The Amorite border extended upward from the Akrabbim Ascent, that is, from Sela.

Judges 2

1 Some time later, the angel of the LORD came up from Gilgal to Bochim and announced to Israel, "I brought you up from Egypt and led you into the land that I promised to your ancestors. I had told them, 'I'll never breach my covenant with you.

2 As for you, you must not make any treaties with the inhabitants of this land. Instead, tear down their altars.' But you haven't obeyed me. What have you done?

3 Therefore I'm now saying, 'I won't expel them before you. Instead, they'll remain at your side, and their gods will ensnare you.'"

4 Because the angel of the LORD said these things to all of the Israelis, the people wept out loud,

5 which is why they named the place Bochim. And there they sacrificed to the LORD.

6 After Joshua had dismissed the people, the Israelis returned to their respective inheritances to take possession of the land.

7 The people served the LORD during the entire lifetime of Joshua as well as the lifetimes of all the elders who outlived Joshua and who had observed all the great deeds that the LORD had done for Israel.

8 But then Nun's son Joshua, the servant of the LORD, died at the age of 110 years.

9 They buried him in Timnath-heres, within the boundaries of his inheritance in the mountainous region of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

10 After that whole generation had died, another generation grew up after them that was not acquainted with the LORD or with what he had done for Israel.

11 So the Israelis practised what the LORD considered to be evil by worshipping Canaanite deities.

12 They abandoned the LORD God of their ancestors, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt. They followed other gods from among the gods of the peoples who surrounded them. They bowed down in worship of them, and by doing so angered the LORD.

13 As a result, they abandoned the LORD by serving both Baal and Ashtaroth.

14 So in his burning anger against Israel, the LORD gave them into the domination of marauders who plundered them. The enemies who surrounded the Israelis controlled them, and they were no longer able to withstand their adversaries.

15 Wherever they went, the LORD worked against them to bring misfortune, just as the LORD had warned, and just as the LORD had promised them. As a result, they suffered greatly.

16 Then the LORD raised up leaders, who delivered Israel from domination by their marauders.

17 But they didn't listen to their leaders, because they were committing spiritual immorality by following other gods and worshipping them. They quickly turned away from the road on which their ancestors had walked in obedience to the commands of the LORD. They didn't follow their example.

18 As a result, whenever the LORD raised up leaders for them, the LORD remained present with their leader, delivering Israel from the control of their enemies during the lifetime of that leader. The LORD was moved with compassion by their groaning that had been caused by those who were oppressing and persecuting them.

19 However, after the leader had died, they would relapse to a condition more corrupt than their ancestors, following other gods, serving them, and worshipping them. They would not abandon their activities or their obstinate lifestyles.

20 In his burning anger against Israel, the LORD said, "Because the people have transgressed my covenant that I commanded their ancestors to keep, and because they haven't obeyed me,

21 I'm also going to stop expelling any of the nations that remained after Joshua died.

22 That way, I'll use them to demonstrate whether or not Israel will keep the LORD's lifestyle by walking on that road like their ancestors did."

23 So the LORD caused those nations to remain and did not expel them quickly. He did not give them into Joshua's control.

Judges 3

1 Here's a list of nations that the LORD caused to remain in order to test Israel (that is, everyone who had not gained any battle experience in Canaan)

2 only so that successive Israeli generations, who had not known war previously, might come to know it by experience.

3 These nations included the five lords of the Philistines, all of the Canaanites, the Sidonians, and the Hivites who lived in Mount Baal-hermon as far as Lebo-hamath.

4 They remained there to test Israel, to reveal if they would obey the commands of the LORD that he issued to their ancestors through Moses.

5 The Israelis continued to live among the Canaanites, the Hittites, the Amorites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites,

6 taking their daughters as wives for themselves, giving their own daughters to their sons, and serving their gods.

7 The Israelis kept on practising evil in full view of the LORD. They forgot the LORD their God and served Canaanite male and female deities.

8 Then in his burning anger against Israel, the LORD delivered them to domination by King Cushan-rishathaim of Aram-naharaim. So the Israelis served Cushan-rishathaim for eight years.

9 When the Israelis cried out to the LORD, the LORD raised up Othniel son of Caleb's younger brother Kenaz, to deliver them, and he did.

10 The Spirit of the LORD was on him, and he governed Israel. When Othniel went out to battle, the LORD handed king Cushan-rishathaim of Aram-naharaim into his control, and Othniel's domination of Cushan-rishathaim was strong.

11 As a result, the land was quiet for 40 years. Then Kenaz' son Othniel died.

12 The Israelis again practised evil in full view of the LORD. So the LORD strengthened Eglon king of Moab in his control over Israel, because they had practised evil in full view of the LORD.

13 Eglon assembled together the Ammonites and the Amalekites, proceeded to attack Israel, and captured the cities of palms.

14 So the Israelis served king Eglon of Moab for eighteen years.

15 But when the Israelis cried out to the LORD, the LORD raised up Gera's son Ehud, a left-handed descendant of Benjamin, as a deliverer for them. The Israelis paid tribute through him to king Eglon of Moab.

16 Ehud forged a double-edged sword that was one and a half feet long, tied it to his right thigh under his cloak,

17 and went to present the tribute to King Eglon of Moab. Now Eglon happened to be a very obese man.

18 As he finished presenting the tribute, Ehud sent away the people who had been carrying it.

19 He had turned away from the idols that were at Gilgal. So he told Eglon, "I have a secret message for you, king." King Eglon responded "Silence!" and all of his attendants left him.

20 Ehud approached him while he was sitting by himself in the cool roof chamber of his palace. He said, "I have a message from God for you!" So when Eglon got up from his seat, 21 Ehud used his left hand to take the sword from his right thigh and then plunged it into Eglon's abdomen.

22 The hilt also penetrated along with the sword blade, and Eglon's fat closed in over the blade. Because he did not withdraw the sword from Eglon's abdomen, the sword point exited from Eglon's entrails.

23 Then Ehud left the cool chamber in the direction of the vestibule, shutting and locking the doors behind him.

24 After he left, Eglon's attendants came to look, but the doors to the cool chamber were locked! So they said, "He must be relieving himself in the inner part of the cool chamber."

25 They waited until they were embarrassed, since he never opened the doors to the chamber. Eventually they took a key, opened the doors, and found their master dead on the ground.

26 Meanwhile, Ehud escaped while they were delayed, passed by the idols, and escaped in the direction of Seirah.

27 When he arrived there, he sounded a trumpet in the mountainous region of Ephraim. While the Israeli army accompanied Ehud from the mountainous regions,

28 he told them, "Attack them, because the LORD has given your enemies — the Moabites — into your control." So the Israeli army followed after him, seized the fords of the Jordan River opposite Moab, and did not allow anyone to cross.

29 At that time they attacked about 10,000 Moabites, all of whom were strong and valiant men. Not one man escaped.

30 As a result, Moab was subdued under the control of Israel, and the land remained quiet for 80 years.

31 After Ehud, Anath's son Shamgar attacked 600 Philistines with a cattle prod. He also delivered Israel.

Mark 8

31 Then he began to teach them that the Son of Man would have to suffer a great deal and be rejected by the elders, the high priests, and the scribes. Then he would be killed, but after three days he would rise again.

32 He was speaking about this matter quite openly. Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him.

33 But turning and looking at his disciples, Jesus rebuked Peter, saying, "Get behind me, Satan, because you're not thinking God's thoughts but human thoughts!"

34 Then Jesus called the crowd to himself along with his disciples and told them, "If anyone wants to follow me, he must deny himself, pick up his cross, and follow me continually,

35 because whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and for the gospel will save it.

36 What profit will a person have if he gains the whole world and forfeits his life?

37 Indeed, what can a person give in exchange for his life?

38 If anyone is ashamed of me and my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when he comes with the holy angels in his Father's glory."

Mark 9

1 Then he told them, "I tell you with certainty, some people standing here will not experience death until they see the kingdom of God arrive with power."

2 Six days later, Jesus took Peter, James, and John and led them up a high mountain to be alone with him. His appearance was changed in front of them,

3 and his clothes became dazzling white, whiter than anyone on earth could bleach them.

4 Then Elijah appeared to them, accompanied by Moses, and they were talking with Jesus.

5 Then Peter told Jesus, "Rabbi, it's good that we're here! Let's set up three shelters — one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah."

6 (Peter didn't know how to respond, because they were terrified).

7 Then a cloud appeared and overshadowed them. A voice came out of the cloud and said, "This is my Son, whom I love. Keep on listening to him!"

8 Suddenly, as they looked around, they saw no one with them but Jesus alone.

9 On their way down the mountain, Jesus ordered them not to tell anyone what they had seen until the Son of Man had risen from the dead.

10 They kept the matter to themselves but argued about what "rising from the dead" meant.

Judges 4

- 1 After Ehud had died, while the LORD was watching, the Israelis made the evil they had been practising even worse,
- 2 so the LORD turned them over to domination by Jabin king of Canaan, who reigned in Hazor. Sisera, the commanding officer of his army, lived in Harosheth-haggoyim.
- 3 The Israelis cried out to the LORD, because of his 900 iron chariots. Jabin oppressed the Israelis forcefully for twenty years.
- 4 Deborah, a woman, prophet, and wife of Lappidoth, was herself judging Israel during that time.
- 5 She regularly took her seat under the Palm Tree of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the mountainous region of Ephraim, where the Israelis would approach her for decisions.
- 6 She sent word to Abinoam's son Barak from Kedesh-naphtali, summoning him. She asked him, "The LORD God of Israel has commanded you, hasn't he? He told you, 'Go out, march to Mount Tabor, and take 10,000 men with you from the tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun.
- 7 I will draw out Sisera, the commanding officer of Jabin's army, along with his chariots and troops, to the Kishon River, where I will drop him right into your hands.'"
- 8 "If you'll go with me, I'll go," Barak replied. "But if you won't go with me, then I'm not going."
- 9 She responded, "I will surely go with you, but the road that you're about to take will not lead to honour for you. The LORD will sell Sisera into the hands of a woman." Then Deborah got up and went with Barak toward Kedesh.
- 10 Barak called out the army of the tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali to march on Kedesh, and 10,000 men went out to war with him, along with Deborah.
- 11 Meanwhile, Heber the Kenite had been separated from the Kenites, the descendants of Moses' father-in-law Hobab. He had pitched his tents far away, near the Elon-bezaananim.
- 12 Furthermore, Sisera had been informed that Abinoam's son Barak had marched on Mount Tabor.
- 13 So Sisera gathered his iron chariots together from Harosheth-haggoyim — all 900 of them, along with all the people who were assigned to them — and they assembled at the Kishon River.
- 14 "Get going!" Deborah told Barak. "Because today's the day when the LORD has dropped Sisera into your hands! Look! The LORD has already gone out ahead of you!" So Barak left Mount Tabor, followed by 10,000 men,
- 15 and the LORD threw Sisera, all the chariots, and his entire army into a panic right in front of Barak. Then Sisera abandoned his chariot and escaped on foot
- 16 while Barak chased the chariots and army as far as Harosheth-haggoyim. Sisera's entire army died in the battle — not even one soldier remained.
- 17 Meanwhile, Sisera had escaped on foot to a tent belonging to Jael, wife of Heber the Kenite, since there was peace between Jabin king of Hazor and the household of Heber the Kenite.
- 18 Jael went out to greet Sisera. "Turn aside, sir!" she told him. "Turn aside to me! Don't be afraid." So he turned aside to her and entered her tent, where she concealed him behind a curtain.
- 19 He asked her, "Please give me some water to drink, because I'm thirsty." Instead, she opened a leather container of milk, gave him a drink, and then covered him up.
- 20 He told her, "Stand in the doorway of the tent, and if anyone comes and asks 'Is anybody here?' say 'No'."

21 But Heber's wife Jael grabbed a tent peg in one hand and a hammer in the other, crept up to him quietly, and drove the tent peg right through his temple into the ground below after he had fallen sound asleep from exhaustion. That's how he died.
22 Meanwhile, as Barak continued chasing Sisera, Jael went out to meet him. "Come with me," she told him, "and I'll show you the man you're looking for!" So he went with her, and there was Sisera, lying dead with the tent peg still embedded in his temple!
23 That's how God subdued Jabin, king of Canaan right in front of the Israelis that day.
24 And the Israelis gained greater control over King Jabin of Canaan until they had eliminated him.

Judges 5

1 Later that day, Deborah and Abinoam's son Barak celebrated by singing this song:
2 "When hair grows long in Israel, when the people give themselves willingly, bless the LORD!
3 Listen, you kings! Turn your ears to me, you rulers! As for me, to the LORD I will sing! I will sing praise to the LORD God of Israel.
4 LORD, when you left Seir, when you marched out from the grain field of Edom, the earth quaked and the heavens poured out rain; indeed, the clouds poured out water.
5 Mountains tremble at the presence of the LORD — even Sinai! — at the presence of the LORD God of Israel.
6 During the lifetime of Anath's son Shamgar and during the lifetime of Jael highways remained deserted, while travellers kept to back roads.
7 Rural populations plummeted in Israel; until I, Deborah, arose; until I — an Israeli mother — arose.
8 New gods were chosen, then war came to the city gates, but there wasn't a shield or spear to be seen among 40,000 soldiers of Israel.
9 My heart is for the commanders of Israel, to those who work willingly among the people. Bless the LORD!
10 "Speak up, you who ride white donkeys, sitting on cloth saddles while you travel on your way!
11 From the sound of those who divide their workloads at the watering troughs, there they will retell the righteous deeds of the LORD, the righteous victories for his rural people in Israel." Then the people of the LORD went down to the gates.
12 "Wake up! Wake up, Deborah! Wake up! Wake up, Deborah! Get up, Barak, and dispose of your captives, you son of Abinoam!
13 Then the survivors approached the nobles; the people of the LORD approached me in battle array.
14 Some came from Ephraim who had been harassed by Amalek, followed by Benjamin with your people. Some commanders came from Machir, along with some from Zebulun who carry a badge of office.
15 The officials of Issachar were with Deborah, as was the tribe of Issachar and Barak. They rushed out into the valley at his heels along with divisions from Reuben's army. Great was their resolve of heart!
16 Why did you sit down among the sheepfolds? To hear the bleating of the flocks? Among the divisions of the army of Reuben there was great searching of heart.
17 The tribe of Gilead remained on the other side of the Jordan River. As for the tribe of Dan, why did they stay on board their ships? The tribe of Asher sat by the seashore and remained near its harbours.
18 The tribe of Zebulun did not worry about their lives at the price of death; neither did the tribe of Naphtali also on high places of the field.
19 "Kings came to fight, then battled the kings of Canaan at Taanach near the waters of Megiddo. They took no silver as the spoils of war.

20 The stars fought from heaven; they fought against Sisera from their orbits.
21 The current of the Kishon River swept them downstream, that ancient current, the Kishon's current! March on strongly, my soul!
22 Then loud was the beat of the horses' hooves — from the galloping, galloping war steeds!
23 "'Meroz is cursed!' declared the angel of the LORD. 'Utterly and totally cursed are its inhabitants, because they never came to the aid of the LORD, to the aid of the LORD against the valiant warriors!'"
24 "Blessed above all women is Jael, wife of Heber the Kenite; most blessed is she among women who live in tents!
25 Sisera asked for water — she gave him milk. In a magnificent bowl she brought him yogurt!
26 She reached out one hand for the tent peg, and her other for the workman's mallet. Then she struck Sisera, smashing his head, shattering and piercing his temple.
27 He crumpled to the ground between her feet, where he fell down and collapsed. Between her feet he crumpled, Fallen dead!
28 "Back at home, out the window Sisera's mother peered, lamenting through the lattice. 'Why is his chariot delayed in returning? 'Why do the hoof beats of his chariots wait?'
29 Her wise attendants find an answer for her; in fact, she tells the same words to herself:
30 'They're busy finding and dividing the war booty, aren't they? A girl or two for each valiant warrior, and some dyed materials for Sisera — perhaps dyed, embroidered war booty — or some detailed embroidery for my neck as the booty of war!
31 "May all of your enemies perish like this, LORD! But may those who love him be like the ascending sun in its strength!" Then the land enjoyed quiet for 40 years.

Judges 6

1 Later on, the Israelis practised what the LORD considered to be evil, so the LORD handed them over to the domination of Midian for seven years.
2 Midian's control predominated throughout Israel, and because of Midian the Israelis went out to find temporary hiding places for themselves in the mountains, caves, and fortified places.
3 Whenever the Israelis sowed their crops, the Midianites, the Amalekites, and certain groups from the east would come up and invade them.
4 They set up their military encampments to fight them, destroyed the harvest of the land as far as Gaza, and left nothing in Israel, whether harvested grain, sheep, oxen, or donkeys.
5 They would invade with their livestock and tents, swooping in as numerous as locusts. It was impossible to count them or their camels — and they came into the land to destroy it.
6 Because Israel was deeply impoverished due to the Midianites, they cried out to the LORD.

Mark 9

11 So they asked him, "Don't the scribes say that Elijah must come first?"

12 He told them, "Elijah is indeed coming first and will restore all things. Why, then, is it written that the Son of Man must suffer a great deal and be treated shamefully?

13 But I tell you that Elijah has come, yet people treated him just as they pleased, as it is written about him."

14 As they approached the other disciples, they saw a large crowd around them and some scribes arguing with them.

15 The whole crowd was very surprised to see Jesus and ran to welcome him.

16 He asked the scribes, "What are you arguing about with them?"

17 A man in the crowd answered him, "Teacher, I brought my son to you. He has a spirit that won't let him talk.

18 Whenever it brings on a seizure, it throws him to the ground. Then he foams at the mouth, grinds his teeth, and becomes stiff. So I asked your disciples to drive the spirit out, but they didn't have the power."

19 Jesus told them, "You unbelieving generation! How long must I be with you? How long must I put up with you? Bring him to me!"

20 So they brought the boy to him. When the spirit saw Jesus, it immediately threw the boy into convulsions. He fell on the ground and kept rolling around and foaming at the mouth.

21 Then Jesus asked his father, "How long has this been happening to him?" He said, "Since he was a child.

22 The spirit has often thrown him into fire and into water to destroy him. But if you are able to do anything, have pity on us and help us!"

23 Jesus told him, "'If you are able?' Everything is possible for the person who believes!"

24 With tears flowing, the child's father at once cried out, "I do believe! Help my unbelief!"

25 When Jesus saw that a crowd was running to the scene, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "You spirit that won't let him talk or hear — I command you to come out of him and never enter him again!"

26 The spirit screamed, shook the child violently, and came out. The boy was like a corpse, and many said that he was dead.

27 But Jesus took his hand and helped him up, and he stood up.

28 When Jesus came home, his disciples asked him privately, "Why couldn't we drive the spirit out?"

29 He told them, "This kind can come out only by prayer and fasting."

30 Then they left that place and passed through Galilee. Jesus didn't want anyone to find out about it,

31 because he was teaching his disciples, "The Son of Man will be betrayed into human hands. They will kill him, but after being dead for three days he will be raised."

32 They didn't understand what this statement meant, and they were afraid to ask him.

Judges 6

7 When the Israelis cried out to him about Midian,
8 the LORD sent a man who was a prophet to the Israelis and told them, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'I was the one who brought you up from the land of Egypt, delivering you from the house of servitude.
9 I delivered you from the domination of Egypt and from the domination of all of your oppressors, expelling them right in front of you and giving their land to you.
10 I told you, "I am the LORD your God. You are not to fear the gods of the Amorites in whose land you'll be living.'" But you haven't obeyed what I said."
11 After this, the angel of the LORD arrived and sat down in the shade of the oak tree in Ophrah that belonged to Joash, a descendant of Abiezer, while his son Gideon was threshing wheat in a wine press in order to safeguard it from the Midianites.
12 The angel of the LORD appeared to him and told him, "The LORD is with you, you valiant warrior!"
13 But Gideon replied, "Right. . . Sir, if the LORD is with us, then why has all of this happened to us? And where are all of his miraculous works that our ancestors recounted to us when they said, 'The LORD brought us up from Egypt, didn't he?' But now the LORD has abandoned us and given us over to Midian!"
14 The LORD looked straight at him and replied, "Go with this determination of yours and deliver Israel from Midian's domination. I've directed you, haven't I?"
15 "Right. . . ," Gideon responded. "Sir, how will I deliver Israel? Look — my family is the weakest in Manasseh, and I'm the youngest in my father's household."
16 The LORD told him, "Because I'll be with you, and you'll defeat Midian — every single one of them!"
17 So Gideon asked him, "Please, if I have received favour from you, then do a miracle for me that shows that you're making this promise to me.
18 And please don't leave here until I've come back to you, brought my offering, and set it down in front of you." The LORD replied, "I'll stay until you return."
19 Then Gideon went and prepared a young goat and unleavened bread from an ephah of flour. He put the meat in a basket and poured the broth into a pot, and brought them to the angel right under the oak tree. Then he made his offering.
20 The angel, who was God, replied, "Take the meat and the unleavened bread and lay them on this boulder. Then pour out the broth." So he did that.
21 The angel of the LORD extended the tip of the staff that was in his hand and touched the meat and unleavened bread. Fire broke out from inside the boulder, consuming the meat and unleavened bread. Then the angel of the LORD vanished in front of him.
22 When Gideon realized that he had seen the angel of the LORD himself, he cried out, "Oh no! Lord GOD! I've been looking right at the angel of the LORD — and face-to-face at that!"
23 "Calm down! Don't be afraid." the LORD replied. "You're not going to die!"
24 So Gideon built an altar right there to the LORD and called it "The LORD is peace." (To this very day it still stands in Ophrah, which belongs to the descendants of Abiezer).
25 Later that very night, the LORD told Gideon, "Take the bull that belongs to your father, along with a second bull that's seven years old. Then tear down the altar to Baal that your father owns, cut down the Asherah that's beside it,
26 and build an altar to the LORD your God on top of this stronghold in an orderly manner. Then take the second bull and offer it as a burnt offering using the wood from the Asherah that you'll be cutting down."
27 So Gideon went with ten men who were his servants and did just what the LORD had told him to do, though he did it at night because he was too afraid of his father's family and the leading men of the city to do it during the day.

28 When the leading men of the city got up early the next morning, the altar to Baal had been torn down, along with the Asherah that had stood beside it, and the second bull had been offered on the altar that had been erected.

29 They asked each other, "Who did this thing?" When they looked into it and asked around, they concluded, "Joash's son Gideon did it."

30 So the leading men of the city ordered Joash, "Bring us that son of yours. He's going to die, because he tore down the altar to Baal and cut down the Asherah that stood beside it!"

31 But Joash responded to everyone who was opposing him, "Do you really intend to fight on Baal's behalf? Do you really intend to rescue him by ordering that whoever fights him will be executed by morning? If Baal is a god, let him fight for himself. After all, it was his altar that was torn down."

32 So that very day he named Gideon Jerubbaal, that is, "Let Baal fight," since he had torn down his altar.

33 Then all the Midianites, Amalekites, and certain groups from the east gathered together, crossed the Jordan River, and set up camp in the Jezreel Valley.

34 So the Spirit of the LORD took control of Gideon, who blew a trumpet, mustering the descendants of Abiezer to follow him into battle.

35 He sent messengers to the entire tribe of Manasseh, calling them to follow him, and he also sent word to the tribes of Asher, Zebulun, and Naphtali, calling them to meet him.

36 Then Gideon told God, "If you intend to deliver Israel by my efforts as you've said, 37 then take a look at this wool fleece that I'm placing on the threshing floor. If dew appears only on the fleece — and it's dry on the ground all around it — then I'll know that you'll deliver Israel by my efforts like you've said."

38 And that is what happened: When he got up early the next morning, he wrung out the fleece to drain the dew from it and extracted a bowl full of water.

39 Then Gideon told God, "Don't let yourself be angry with me! I want to ask you once again: please let me make a test with the fleece just once more. Cause it to be dry only on the fleece, but let there be dew all around on the ground."

40 And God did it just like that later that night. It was dry only on the fleece, but dew was all around on the ground.

Judges 7

1 Then Jerubbaal, also known as Gideon, got up early along with all of his soldiers. They encamped near the Harod Spring. The Midian encampment lay in the valley to their north, near the hill of Moreh.

2 The LORD told Gideon, "You have too many soldiers with you for me to drop Midian into their hands, because Israel would become arrogant and say, 'It was my own abilities that delivered me.'"

3 That's why you're to ask in full view of the soldiers, "Whoever is afraid or is trembling may go back from Mount Gilead and return home." So 22,000 soldiers left and 10,000 remained.

4 "There are still too many soldiers," the LORD told Gideon. "Bring them down to the water and I'll refine them for you there. Therefore when I say to you, 'This one will be going with you,' he'll go with you, but no one may go about whom I tell you, 'This one won't be going with you.'"

5 So he brought his soldiers down to the water, and the LORD told Gideon, "You are to cull out everyone who laps up water with his tongue like a dog from everyone who kneels to drink."

6 The contingent of soldiers who lapped water with their hands to their mouths numbered 300 men, but everyone else kneeled to drink water.

7 Then the LORD told Gideon, "I'm going to deliver you with the 300 soldiers who lapped by giving the Midianites into your control. Send everyone else back to their own homes."

8 So the soldiers took provisions with them, along with their trumpets, and Gideon sent all the rest of the soldiers of Israel back to their own tents, but he retained the 300 men. And the Midian encampment was below him in the valley.

9 Later that same night, the LORD directed Gideon, "Get up and go down to the Midianite encampment, because I've given it into your control.

10 But if you're afraid to go down there, you may take your servant Purah with you to their encampment,

11 where you will hear what they're talking about. That way, you'll be encouraged to attack the encampment." So he and his servant Purah went down to the perimeter outposts of the encamped army.

12 The Midianites, the Amalekites, and certain groups from the east lay encamped in the valley, as thick as locusts. The number of their camels couldn't be calculated — they seemed as numerous as the sand on the seashore.

13 Gideon arrived just as a soldier was talking to a friend about a dream. "Look!" he was saying. "I had a dream that went like this: A loaf of barley bread rolled into the Midianite encampment, came to a tent, and collided with it. The loaf of bread fell down, turned upside down, and the tent collapsed!"

14 Then his friend replied, "Can this be anything else than the sword of Joash's son Gideon, that man from Israel? God must have given Midian and the entire encampment into his control!"

15 When Gideon heard the tale of the dream and its interpretation, he bowed down in worship and then returned to the Israeli encampment.

16 Then he separated the 300 men into three companies, gave them each trumpets to carry, along with jars into which he placed lit torches.

17 He instructed them, "Watch me, and do what I do. When we come to the outer perimeter of the encampment, do what I do.

18 When I sound my trumpet, accompanied by everyone who is with me, you must blow your trumpets all around the entire encampment. Then shout out, 'For the LORD and for Gideon!'"

19 So Gideon and the 100 men with him arrived at the outer perimeter of the encampment at the beginning of the middle watch, just after they had posted sentries. They blew their trumpets and smashed the jars that they were carrying in their hands.

20 When the three companies sounded their trumpets and broke the jars, they held the torches in their left hands and sounded their trumpets with their right hands. Then they cried out, "A sword for the LORD and for Gideon!"

21 They stood up, each soldier in his assigned place surrounding the encampment, and the entire army ran away, sounding the alarm to retreat.

22 As the 300 trumpets were being sounded, the LORD turned the swords of the Midianite soldiers against one another throughout the entire army, and the army ran away as far as Beth-shittah in the direction of Zererah. They got as far as the outskirts of Abel-meholah, near Tabbath.

23 Israeli soldiers were called out from the territories of Naphtali, Asher, and throughout Manasseh, and they chased after the Midianites.

24 Gideon dispatched messengers throughout the mountainous region of Ephraim, notifying them, "Come down to fight Midian. Capture the water crossings as far as Beth-barah and the Jordan River before they can get to them."

25 They captured two Midianite leaders, Oreb and Zeeb. While they were pursuing the Midianites, they executed Oreb at Oreb's Rock and Zeeb at Zeeb's Winepress, and then they carried the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon from the east bank of the Jordan River.

Mark 9

33 Then they came to Capernaum. While Jesus was at home, he asked the disciples, "What were you arguing about on the road?"

34 But they kept silent, because they had argued on the road with one another about who was the greatest.

35 So he sat down, called the Twelve, and told them, "If anyone wants to be first he must be last of all and servant of all."

36 Then he took a little child and had him stand among them. He took him in his arms and told them,

37 "Whoever welcomes a child like this in my name welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me welcomes not me but the one who sent me."

38 John told Jesus, "Teacher, we saw someone driving out demons in your name. We tried to stop him, because he wasn't a follower like us."

39 But Jesus said, "Don't stop him, because no one who works a miracle in my name can slander me soon afterwards.

40 Whoever is not against us is for us.

41 I tell you with certainty, whoever gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to the Messiah will never lose his reward."

42 "If anyone causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a large millstone were hung around his neck and he were thrown into the sea.

43 So if your hand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life injured than to have two hands and go to hell, to the fire that cannot be put out.

44 In that place, worms never die, and the fire is never put out.

45 And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life crippled than to have two feet and be thrown into hell.

46 In that place, worms never die, and the fire is never put out.

47 And if your eye causes you to sin, tear it out. It is better for you to enter the kingdom of God with one eye than to have two eyes and be thrown into hell.

48 In that place, worms never die, and the fire is never put out.

49 Because everyone will be salted with fire, and every sacrifice will be salted with salt.

50 Salt is good. But if salt loses its taste, how can you restore its flavour? Keep on having salt among yourselves, and live in peace with one another."

Judges 8

- 1 Later on, the descendants of Ephraim spoke to Gideon. They argued vehemently, "What are you doing to us? You never called us! But you went out to fight Midian!"
- 2 "What have I accomplished compared to you?" he responded. "Isn't what's left from Ephraim's harvest better than the best vintage of Abiezer?"
- 3 God gave Oreb and Zeeb, the leaders of Midian, into your control. What was I able to do compared to you?" When he said this, their anger calmed down.
- 4 Meanwhile, Gideon and the 300 soldiers with him came to the Jordan, exhausted but continuing their pursuit.
- 5 He told the men of Succoth, "Please give loaves of bread to the soldiers who are following behind me. They're tired, and I'm pursuing Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian."
- 6 But the officials of Succoth replied, "Do you have Zebah and Zalmunna in custody already, so that we should give food to your army?"
- 7 So Gideon responded, "Okay then, but when the LORD has turned over Zebah and Zalmunna into my control, I'm going to whip you with thorns and briers from the desert!"
- 8 Then he left there to go to Penuel and asked the same thing from them, but the men of Penuel responded the same way the men of Succoth did.
- 9 So he responded the same way to the men of Penuel, "When I come back safely, I'm going to tear down this tower."
- 10 Now Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor, along with their armies, about 15,000 men who survived from the entire army of the group from the east, since 120,000 swordsmen had already fallen.
- 11 Gideon went up by a caravan route east of Nobah and Jogbehah and attacked their encampment when they were off guard.
- 12 When Zebah and Zalmunna escaped, he pursued them, captured those two kings of Midian, and threw the entire army into a panic.
- 13 Then Joash's son Gideon returned from the battle along the Heres Ascent.
- 14 He caught a young man from Succoth and interrogated him. He wrote out for Gideon a list of the 77 officials of Succoth, including its elders.
- 15 Then Gideon approached the men of Succoth and announced, "Here are Zebah and Zalmunna. You criticized me about them when you said, 'Do you have Zebah and Zalmunna in custody already, so that we should give food to your weary army?'"
- 16 So he took the elders of the city and disciplined the men of Succoth with thorns and briers from the desert.
- 17 He also demolished the tower in Penuel and killed the men of the city.
- 18 Afterwards, he asked Zebah and Zalmunna, "What were the men like whom you killed at Tabor?" They answered, "Like you, each one like the son of a king. . ."
- 19 Gideon replied, "They were my brothers — sons from my own mother. As the LORD lives, if you had let them live, I wouldn't be killing you."
- 20 Then he told his firstborn son Jether, "Get up and kill them!" But he was afraid, since he was still only a youngster.
- 21 Then Zebah and Zalmunna responded, "Get up and attack us yourself, since a man's valour is only as good as the man himself." So Gideon got up, killed Zebah and Zalmunna, and took away the crescent-shaped necklaces that adorned the necks of their camels.
- 22 Then the men of Israel asked Gideon, "Rule over us — you, your son, and your grandsons — because you have delivered us from Midian's domination."
- 23 But Gideon told them, "I won't rule over you and my son won't rule over you. The LORD will rule you."

24 But Gideon also added, "I would like to ask that each of you give me a ring from his war booty" because, as Ishmaelites, the Midianites had been wearing gold rings.
25 They responded, "We'll be happy to give them." So they laid out a garment, and each of them contributed a ring from his war booty.
26 The weight of the rings that he had asked for was 1,700 gold coins, not counting the crescent-shaped necklaces, pendants, and purple garments worn by the Midian kings, and also not counting the bands adorning the necks of their camels.
27 Gideon crafted the booty into an ephod and enshrined it in his home town of Ophrah. Then all of Israel committed spiritual adultery with it there, and it became a snare for Gideon and his household.
28 Midian remained subjugated to the Israelis, and they didn't so much as raise their heads anymore, so the land was peaceful for 40 years during the lifetime of Gideon.
29 Afterwards, Joash's son Jerubbaal went home and retired.
30 Gideon raised 70 sons as his direct descendants, since he had many wives.
31 His mistress in Shechem bore him a son whom he named Abimelech.
32 Later, Joash's son Gideon died at a ripe old age and was buried in the tomb of his father Joash at Ophrah, which belonged to the descendants of Abiezer.
33 Later on, as soon as Gideon was dead, the Israelis again committed spiritual adultery with various Canaanite deities and appointed Baal-berith to be their god.
34 The Israelis did not remember the LORD their God, who continually delivered them from the domination of their enemies who surrounded them on every side.
35 And they showed no gracious love to the household of Jerubbaal — also known as Gideon — despite all the good that he had done for Israel.

Judges 9

1 Then Jerubbaal's son Abimelech went to his mother's relatives in Shechem. He spoke to the entire family of his mother's father, telling them,
2 "Ask all the "lords" of Shechem, 'What's better for you? That 70 men, each of them Jerubbaal's sons, rule over you? Or that one man rule over you?' Keep in mind that I'm like your own close relative."
3 So his mother's relatives spoke all of this on his behalf in the presence of all the "lords" of Shechem. Since they were inclined to follow Abimelech, they said, "He's our relative!"
4 and they gave him 70 silver coins from the temple that they had built to Baal-berith. Abimelech hired some worthless and useless men, who followed him
5 to his father's house in Ophrah. There he murdered his own brothers, Jerubbaal's sons — all 70 of them — in one place. But Jerubbaal's youngest son Jotham survived by hiding himself.
6 All the men from Shechem and Beth-millo gathered together and set up Abimelech as king near the pillar erected in Shechem.
7 When Jotham was informed about this, he went out, took his stand on top of Mount Gerizim, and cried out loudly, "Listen to me, you "lords" of Shechem, and God will listen to you.
8 "Once upon a time the trees went out to consecrate a king for themselves. "So they told the olive tree, 'Reign over us!'
9 But the olive tree asked them, 'Should I stop producing my rich oils by which both God and men are honoured and go take dominion over trees?'
10 "So the trees told the fig tree, 'Hey you! Come and reign over us!'
11 But the fig tree asked them, 'Should I leave my sweet, good fruit and go take dominion over trees?'
12 "So the trees told the grape vine, 'Hey you! Come and reign over us!'
13 But the grape vine asked them, 'Should I leave my new wine, which cheers God and man, and go take dominion over trees?'

14 "So all the trees told the bramble bush, 'Hey you! Come and reign over us!'
15 Then the bramble bush replied to the trees, 'If you really are consecrating me to rule you, come and put your confidence in my shade; but if not, may fire spring out from the bramble bush and burn up the cedars of Lebanon. . .'
16 "Now then, if you have been acting in good faith and integrity by making a king out of Abimelech, if you have treated Jerubbaal and his household appropriately by acting toward him as he deserved —
17 because my father fought on your behalf, throwing away all concern for his own life, and delivered you from Midian's domination.
18 "But now as for you, you've rebelled against my father's house today. You've murdered his sons — 70 men — in one place, and you've installed Abimelech, the son of his mistress, as king to rule over the "lords" of Shechem, since he's related to you.
19 So if you've acted in good faith and integrity toward Jerubbaal and his household today, then you're welcome to Abimelech, and he's welcome to you. . .
20 But if not, may fire spring out from Abimelech and consume the "lords" of Shechem and Beth-millo, and may fire spring out from the "lords" of Shechem and Beth-millo to consume Abimelech."
21 Then Jotham escaped by running away. He went to Beer and remained there because of his brother Abimelech.

Mark 10

- 1 Then Jesus left that place and went into the territory of Judea on the other side of the Jordan. Crowds gathered around him as usual, and he began to teach them again as was his custom.
- 2 Some Pharisees came to test him. They asked, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife?"
- 3 He answered them, "What did Moses command you?"
- 4 They said, "Moses allowed a man to write a certificate of divorce and to divorce her."
- 5 But Jesus told them, "It was because of your hardness of heart that he wrote this command for you.
- 6 But from the beginning of creation, 'God made them male and female.'
- 7 'That is why a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife,
- 8 and the two will become one flesh.' So they are no longer two, but one flesh.
- 9 Therefore, what God has joined together, man must never separate."
- 10 Back in the house, the disciples asked him about this again.
- 11 So he told them, "Whoever divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery against her.
- 12 And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another man, she commits adultery."
- 13 Some people were bringing little children to Jesus to have him touch them. But the disciples rebuked those who brought them.
- 14 When Jesus saw this, he became furious and told them, "Let the little children come to me, and stop keeping them away, because the kingdom of God belongs to people like these.
- 15 I tell you with certainty, whoever doesn't receive the kingdom of God as a little child will never enter it."
- 16 Then after he had hugged the children, he tenderly blessed them as he laid his hands on them.
- 17 As Jesus was setting out again, a man ran up to him, knelt down in front of him, and asked him, "Good Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"
- 18 "Why do you call me good?" Jesus asked him. "Nobody is good except for one — God.
- 19 You know the commandments: 'Never murder.' 'Never commit adultery.' 'Never steal.' 'Never give false testimony.' 'Never cheat.' 'Honour your father and mother.'"
- 20 The man replied to him, "Teacher, I have obeyed all of these since I was a young man."
- 21 Jesus looked at him and loved him. Then he told him, "You're missing one thing. Go and sell everything you own, give the money to the destitute, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come back and follow me."
- 22 Shocked at this statement, the man went away sad, because he had many possessions.

Judges 9

22 Abimelech dominated Israel for three years.

23 Then God sent an evil spirit to divide Abimelech and the "lords" of Shechem

24 so that the violence committed against the 70 sons of Jerubbaal might come back on their brother Abimelech, who murdered them, and so it might come back on the "lords" of Shechem, who provoked him to murder his brothers.

25 The "lords" of Shechem sent out men to ambush him on the mountain tops, and they robbed everyone who came by them along the roads, and this was reported to Abimelech.

26 Meanwhile, Ebed's son Gaal arrived with his relatives and crossed over into Shechem. The "lords" of Shechem put their faith in him.

27 They went out into the fields, harvested their vineyards, made some wine, and threw a party. Then they went into the temple of their god, ate, drank, and cursed Abimelech.

28 Then Ebed's son Gaal remarked, "Who is this Abimelech? And who is Shechem? Should we serve him? Isn't he Jerubbaal's son? Isn't Zebul his lieutenant? Serve the men of Hamor, Shechem's ancestor — but why are we serving him?"

29 If only authority over this people were given to me. Then I would remove Abimelech!" Then he challenged Abimelech: "Build up your army and then come out and fight!"

30 When Zebul, the ruler of the city, heard what Ebed's son Gaal had said, he flew into a rage.

31 He sent messengers to Abimelech in secret and told him, "Look out! Ebed's son Gaal and his family have arrived here in Shechem. Watch out! They're stirring up the city against you.

32 So get up at night, take your soldiers with you, and wait in ambush out in the field.

33 Tomorrow morning when the sun is up, get up early and attack the city. When Gaal and his army come out to fight you, do whatever you can to them."

34 So Abimelech and his entire army got up that night and waited in ambush against Shechem in four separate companies.

35 Ebed's son Gaal went out and stood in the entrance to the city gate while Abimelech and his army were creeping out of their ambush.

36 When Gaal saw the army, he observed to Zebul, "Look there! People are coming down from the top of the mountains." But Zebul replied to him, "You're looking at morning shadows cast by the mountains. They just look like men to you."

37 Gaal spoke up again to say, "Look! People are coming down from the highest part of the land, and there's a company approaching from the diviner's oak tree."

38 So Zebul replied, "Right. . . So where's your boasting now? You said, 'Who is Abimelech? Should we serve him?' Isn't this the army that you insulted? So go out right now and fight them!"

39 So Gaal went out in full view of the "lords" of Shechem and fought Abimelech.

40 Abimelech chased him, and Gaal ran away from him. Many fell wounded right up to the entrance to the city gate.

41 Afterwards, Abimelech remained at Arumah, but Zebul expelled Gaal and his family so they couldn't remain in Shechem.

42 The next day, the people went out to the field, and Abimelech learned about it.

43 So he took his army, divided it into three separate companies, and laid in ambush out in the field. When Abimelech noticed the people coming out from the city, his army attacked them and killed them.

44 Then Abimelech and the soldiers who were with him rushed forward and commandeered the entrance to the city gate while the other two companies ran out to kill everyone who was in the field.

45 Abimelech fought against the city all that day, captured the city, killed the people in it, then tore the city to the ground and sowed it with salt.

46 When all the "lords" at the tower of Shechem heard what had happened, they retreated into the inner chamber of the temple of El-berith.

47 Abimelech was told that all of the "lords" of the Shechem Tower had assembled there.

48 So he went up to Mount Zalmon, accompanied by his entire army. Abimelech had an axe in his hand, so he cut down a branch from a tree, lifted it up, and laid it on his shoulder. Then he told the army that had accompanied him, "You've seen what I just did. Hurry up! Do the same thing!"

49 Then his entire army also cut down a branch for each soldier, followed Abimelech to the inner chamber, and set fire to it while they were inside. As a result, all the men of the tower of Shechem died, including about a thousand men and women.

50 Later on, Abimelech went to Thebez, set up a siege encampment there, and captured it.

51 But there was a fortified tower in the centre of the city, and all the men, women, and leaders of the city escaped to it, shut themselves in, and went up to the roof of the tower.

52 So Abimelech approached the tower, attacked it, and approached the tower's gate, intending to burn it down.

53 But a certain woman threw an upper millstone down on Abimelech's head, fracturing his skull.

54 So he cried out to his young armour bearer and ordered him, "Draw your sword and kill me, so no one will say about me that 'A woman killed him.'" So the young man pierced him through, and he died.

55 When the men of Israel noticed that Abimelech was dead, they each left for home.

56 That's how God repaid Abimelech for the evil thing he did to his father by killing his 70 brothers.

57 God also repaid the men of Shechem for their wickedness, and the curse of Jerubbaal's son Jotham came true for them.

Judges 10

1 A man from the tribe of Issachar, Puah's son Tola, grandson of Dodo, arose to save Israel. He lived in Shamir, in the mountainous region of Ephraim.

2 He governed Israel for 23 years and then died. He was buried in Shamir.

3 After him, Jair the Gileadite arose and governed Israel for 22 years.

4 His 30 sons rode on 30 donkeys, controlling 30 cities in the territory of Gilead named Havvoth-jair to this day.

5 Jair died and was buried in Kamon.

6 Later on, the Israelis again practised what the LORD considered to be evil by serving the Baals, the stars, the gods of Aram, the gods of Sidon, the gods of Moab, the gods of the descendants of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines. In doing so, they ignored the LORD and wouldn't serve him.

7 In his burning anger against Israel, he sold them into domination by the Philistines and the Ammonites,

8 who trampled and troubled the Israelis during that year — eighteen years for the Israelis who lived east of the Jordan River in Gilead, the land occupied by the Amorites.

9 The Ammonites crossed the Jordan River to fight against the tribes of Judah, Benjamin, and the house of Ephraim. As a result, Israel was deeply distressed.

10 Then the Israelis cried out to the LORD and told him, "We have sinned against you because we have abandoned our God to serve the Baals."

11 The LORD replied to the Israelis, "Aren't you away from the Egyptians, the Amorites, the Ammonites, and the Philistines?"

12 And when the Sidonians, the Amalekites, and the Maonites harassed you, you cried out to me, and I delivered you from under their domination.

13 But you have abandoned me and served other gods. Therefore I will no longer be delivering you.

14 Go and cry out to the gods that you have chosen for yourselves. Let them deliver you in your time of trouble."

15 The Israelis replied to the LORD, "We have sinned, so do to us anything that's right to do in your opinion, just please deliver us right now."

16 When they put away their foreign gods and served the LORD, he brought Israel's misery to an end.

17 The Ammonites were summoned and they encamped in Gilead. The Israelis assembled together and encamped in Mizpah.

18 The people and Gilead's officials inquired among themselves, "Who will begin our attack against the Ammonites? He'll become head over everyone who lives in Gilead."

Judges 11

1 Now Jephthah the Gileadite was a valiant soldier, but he was also the son of a prostitute and Jephthah's father Gilead.

2 Gilead's wife bore two sons through him, but when his wife's sons grew up, they expelled Jephthah and declared to him, "You won't have an inheritance in this house, since you're the son of a different woman."

3 So Jephthah escaped from his brothers and lived in the territory of Tob, where worthless men gathered themselves around him and went out on raiding parties with him.

4 Later on, the Ammonites attacked Israel.

5 When this happened, the elders of Gilead went to the territory of Tob to find Jephthah.

6 They told him, "Come and be our commander so we can fight the Ammonites!"

7 But Jephthah replied to the elders of Gilead, "Weren't you the ones who hated me and drove me out of my father's house? And you come to me now that you're in trouble?"

8 So the elders of Gilead told Jephthah, "Well, we're coming back to you now so you can accompany us, fight the Ammonites, and become the head of all the inhabitants of Gilead."

9 Then Jephthah asked the elders of Gilead, "If you all send me to fight against the Ammonites and the LORD hands them over right in front of me, will I really become your head?"

10 The elders of Gilead responded to Jephthah, "May the Lord serve as a witness that we're making this agreement between ourselves to do as we've said."

11 So Jephthah went with the elders of Gilead, and the people appointed him head and military commander over them. Jephthah uttered everything he had to say with the solemnity of an oath in the LORD's presence at Mizpah.

Mark 10

23 Then Jesus looked around and told his disciples, "How hard it will be for those who are wealthy to enter the kingdom of God!"

24 The disciples were startled by these words, but Jesus told them again, "Children, how hard it is for those who trust in their wealth to get into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to squeeze through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to get into the kingdom of God."

26 The disciples were utterly amazed and asked one another, "Then who can be saved?"

27 Jesus looked at them intently and said, "For humans it is impossible, but not for God. All things are possible for God."

28 Then Peter began to say to him, "See, we have left everything and followed you."

29 Jesus said, "I tell you with certainty, there is no one who has left his home, brothers, sisters, mother, father, children, or fields because of me and the gospel

30 who will not receive a hundred times as much here in this world — homes, brothers, sisters, mothers, children, and fields, along with persecution — as well as eternal life in the age to come.

31 But many who are first will be last, and the last will be first."

32 Now Jesus and his disciples had been on the road going up to Jerusalem, with Jesus walking ahead of them. They were astonished, and the others who followed were afraid.

33 "See, we are going up to Jerusalem. The Son of Man will be handed over to the high priests and the scribes, and they will condemn him to death. Then they will hand him over to the gentiles, 34 and they will make fun of him, spit on him, whip him, and kill him. But after three days he will be raised."

35 James and John, the sons of Zebedee, went to Jesus and told him, "Teacher, we want you to do for us whatever we ask you."

36 He asked them, "What do you want me to do for you?"

37 They asked him, "Let us sit in your glory, one on your right and one on your left."

38 But Jesus told them, "You don't realize what you're asking. Can you drink from the cup that I'm going to drink from or be baptized with the baptism with which I'm going to be baptized?"

39 They told him, "We can." Jesus told them, "You will drink from the cup that I'm going to drink and be baptized with the baptism with which I'm going to be baptized.

40 But it's not up to me to grant you a seat at my right or my left. Those positions have already been prepared for others."

41 When the ten other disciples heard this, they began to be furious with James and John.

42 Jesus called his disciples and told them, "You know that those who are recognized as rulers among the gentiles lord it over them, and their superiors act like tyrants over them.

43 That's not the way it should be among you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant,

44 and whoever wants to be first among you must be a slave to everyone,

45 because even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many people."

Judges 11

12 Afterwards, Jephthah sent messengers to the king of the Ammonites to ask him, "What's your dispute between us that prompted you to come and attack my land?"

13 The king of the Ammonites answered the messengers of Jephthah, "We're here because Israel took away my land from the Arnon River as far as the Jabbok River and as far as the Jordan River when they came up from Egypt! So restore it as a gesture of good will."

14 But Jephthah sent additional messengers again to the king of the Ammonites

15 and they informed him, "This is Jephthah's response: 'Israel didn't seize the land of Moab nor the land of the Ammonites.

16 Here's what happened: When Israel came up from Egypt, passed through the desert to the Red Sea, and arrived at Kadesh,

17 Israel sent a delegation to the king of Edom and asked him, "Please let us pass through your territory." 'But the king of Edom wouldn't listen. So they also sent word to the king of Moab, but he wouldn't consent, either. So Israel stayed at Kadesh.

18 Then they went through the desert, circumventing the territory belonging to Edom and Moab. They encamped on the other side of the Arnon River, but never entered the territory of Moab because the Arnon River is the border of Moab.

19 'Then Israel sent a delegation to Sihon, king of the Amorites and king of Heshbon. Israel requested of him, "Please let us pass through your territory to our place."

20 But Sihon didn't trust Israel to pass through his territory, so he assembled his entire army, encamped in Jahaz, and fought against Israel.

21 'The LORD God of Israel handed Sihon and his entire army into the control of Israel, and defeated them. As a result, Israel took control over the entire land of the Amorites, who were living in that country.

22 They took possession of the entire territory of the Amorites from the Arnon River as far as the Jabbok River and from the desert as far as the Jordan River.

23 'Now then, since the LORD God of Israel expelled the Amorites right in front of his people Israel, are you going to control their territory?

24 Don't you control what your god Chemosh gives you? In the same way, we'll take control of whomever the LORD our God has driven out in front of us.

25 Also ask yourselves: do you have a better case than Zippor's son Balak, king of Moab? Did he ever have a quarrel with Israel or ever win a fight against them?

26 When Israel was living in Heshbon and its surrounding villages, in Aroer and its surrounding villages, and in all the cities that line the banks of the Arnon River these past three hundred years, why didn't you retake them during that time?

27 'I haven't sinned against you, but you are acting wrongly against me by declaring war on me. May the LORD, the Judge, sit in judgement today between the Israelis and the Ammonites.'

28 But the king of the Ammonites wouldn't heed the message that Jephthah had sent to him.

29 The Spirit of the LORD came on Jephthah, so he swept through Gilead and the territory of Manasseh, then swept through Mizpah in Gilead, and from Mizpah in Gilead he proceeded toward where the Ammonites were encamped.

30 Jephthah made this solemn vow to the LORD: "If you truly give the Ammonites into my control,

31 then if I return from the Ammonites without incident, whatever comes out the doors of my house to meet me will become the LORD's, and I will offer it up as a burnt offering."

32 Then Jephthah crossed over to the Ammonites and attacked them. The LORD gave them into his control.

33 He attacked them from Aroer to the entrance of Minnith — twenty cities in all — even as far as Abel-keramim. As a result, the Ammonites were subdued right in front of the Israelis.

34 When Jephthah arrived at his home in Mizpah — surprise! — it was his daughter who came out to meet him, playing tambourines and dancing. She was his one and only child. Except for her, he had no other son or daughter.

35 When he saw her, he ripped his clothes and cried out, "Oh no! My daughter! You have terribly burdened me! You've joined those who are causing me trouble, because I've given my word to the LORD, and I cannot go back on it.

36 She told him, "My father, you have given your word to the LORD. Do to me according to what has come out of your own mouth, considering that the LORD has paid back your enemies, the Ammonites."

37 Then she continued talking with her father, "Do this for me: leave me alone by myself for two months. I'll go up to the mountains and cry there because I'll never marry. My friends and I will go."

38 So he said, "Go!" He sent her away for two months. She left with her friends and cried there on the mountains because she would never marry.

39 Later, after the two months were concluded, she returned to her father, and he fulfilled what he had solemnly vowed — and she never married. That's how the custom arose in Israel

40 that for four days out of every year the Israeli women would go to mourn the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite in commemoration.

Judges 12

1 A little while later, the army of Ephraim was mustered, and they crossed to Zaphon. They confronted Jephthah and asked, "Why did you cross over to fight the Ammonites without calling us to accompany you? We're going to burn your house down around you!"

2 But Jephthah replied to them, "My army and I were engaged in a serious fight with the Ammonites. I called for you, but you didn't deliver me from their control.

3 When I saw that you wouldn't be delivering me, I took my own life in my hands, crossed over to fight the Ammonites, and the LORD gave them into my control. So why have you come here today to fight me?"

4 Then Jephthah mustered all the men of Gilead, fought the tribe of Ephraim, and defeated them, because they had been claiming, "You descendants of Gilead are fugitives in the midst of the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh."

5 The descendants of Gilead seized control of the Jordan River's fords along the border of Ephraim's territory. Later on, when any fugitive from Ephraim asked them, "Let me cross over," the men from Gilead would ask him, "Are you an Ephraimite?" If he said "No,"

6 they would order him, "Pronounce the word 'Shibboleth' right now." If he said "Sibboleth," not being able to pronounce it correctly, they would seize him and slaughter him there at the fords of the Jordan River. During those days 42,000 descendants of Ephraim died that way.

7 Jephthah governed Israel for six years. Then Jephthah died and was buried somewhere in the cities of Gilead.

8 After he died, Ibzan from Bethlehem governed Israel for ten years.

9 He had 30 sons and 30 daughters, but he gave his daughters in marriage to outsiders and brought in 30 outsiders for his sons. He governed Israel for seven years,

10 then he died and was buried in Bethlehem.

11 Elon the Zebulunite governed Israel after him for ten years.

12 Then Elon the Zebulunite died and was buried in Aijalon within the territory of Zebulun.

13 Hillel the Pirathonite's son Abdon governed Israel after him.

14 He had 40 sons and 30 grandsons who rode on 70 donkeys. He governed Israel for eight years.

15 Then he died and was buried at Pirathon in the territory of Ephraim, in the mountainous region of the Amalekites.

Judges 13

1 Some time later, the Israelis again practised what the LORD considered to be evil, so the LORD handed them over into the domination of the Philistines for 40 years.

2 There was one man from Zorah, from the family of the descendants of Dan, whose name was Manoah. Since his wife was infertile, she hadn't borne children.

3 One day the angel of the LORD presented himself to the woman. "Hello!" he greeted her. "Though you are infertile at this time and haven't borne a child, you're about to conceive and give birth to a son.

4 So be sure that you don't drink wine or anything intoxicating, and don't eat anything unclean

5 because — surprise! — you're going to conceive and give birth to a son! Don't put a razor to his head, because the young man will be a Nazirite, dedicated to God from inside the womb. He will begin to deliver Israel from domination by the Philistines."

6 Then the woman went to tell her husband. She said, "A man of God appeared to me. He looked like what an angel of God would look like — very frightening. I didn't ask him where he had come from and he didn't tell me his name.

7 He told me, 'Surprise! — you're going to conceive and give birth to a son!' and as for you, 'Be sure that you don't drink wine or anything intoxicating, and don't eat anything unclean,' 'because the young man will be a Nazirite dedicated to God from inside the womb' until the day he dies."

8 So Manoah prayed to the LORD, "Please, Lord, have the man of God whom you sent before come again so he can instruct us what to do on behalf of the child who is to be born."

9 God listened to Manoah's request, and the angel of God came again to the woman as she was sitting out in the pasture. But her husband Manoah wasn't with her,

10 so the woman ran quickly to tell her husband, "Look! The man who came the other day appeared to me!"

11 So Manoah got up quickly and followed his wife, and when he came to the man he told him, "Are you the man who spoke to my wife?" He replied, "I am."

12 Manoah asked, "Now, when what you've said occurs, what is to be the young man's way of life and work?"

13 The angel of the LORD replied to Manoah, "Just have your wife be careful to carry out everything that I told her.

14 She must not consume anything extracted from grape vines, including wine or anything intoxicating, and she must not eat anything unclean, doing everything that I commissioned her to do."

15 Manoah responded to the angel of the LORD, "Please, let us detain you while we prepare a young goat for you."

16 The angel of the LORD answered Manoah, "If you detain me, I won't be eating your food, but if you prepare a burnt offering, you'll be making a sacrifice to the LORD." The angel of the LORD said this because Manoah didn't know that he was the angel of the LORD.

17 Manoah asked the angel of the LORD, "What's your name, because when what you've said happens, we'll glorify you?"

18 The angel of the LORD answered him, "Why are you asking this about my name? It's 'Wonderful.'"

19 So Manoah prepared a young goat and a grain offering and offered it on a boulder to the LORD, who kept on performing miracles while Manoah and his wife watched continuously.

20 When the burnt offering was engulfed in flames that sprang up from the altar toward heaven, the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame that came from the altar. When Manoah and his wife observed this, they collapsed on their faces to the ground.

21 The angel of the LORD did not appear again to Manoah or to his wife, and then Manoah knew confidently that the visitor had been the angel of the LORD.

22 Then Manoah told his wife, "We're going to die for sure, because we've seen God!"

23 But his wife replied to him, "If the LORD had intended to kill us, he wouldn't have accepted a burnt offering and a grain offering from us, he wouldn't have shown us all these things, and he wouldn't have permitted us to hear things like this, now would he?"

Mark 10

46 Then they came to Jericho. As Jesus, his disciples, and a large crowd were leaving Jericho, a blind beggar named Bartimaeus (the son of Timaeus) was sitting by the road.

47 When he heard that Jesus of Nazareth was there, he began to shout, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!"

48 Many people sternly told him to be quiet, but he started shouting even louder, "Son of David, have mercy on me!"

49 So Jesus stopped and said, "Call him!" So they called the blind man and told him, "Have courage! Get up. He's calling you."

50 He threw off his coat, jumped up, and went to Jesus.

51 Then Jesus asked him, "What do you want me to do for you?" The blind man told him, "Rabbouni, I want to see again."

52 Jesus told him, "Go. Your faith has made you well." At once the man could see again, and he began to follow Jesus down the road.

Mark 11

1 When they came near Jerusalem, at Bethphage and Bethany, near the Mount of Olives, Jesus sent two of his disciples on ahead

2 and told them, "Go into the village ahead of you. As soon as you go into it, you will find a colt tied up that no one has ever ridden. Untie it, and bring it along.

3 If anyone asks you, 'Why are you doing this?,' say, 'The Lord needs it,' and he will send it back here at once."

4 So they went and found the colt outside in the street tied up next to a doorway. While they were untying it,

5 some men standing there asked them, "What are you doing untying that colt?"

6 The disciples told them what Jesus had said, and the men let them go.

7 They brought the colt to Jesus and threw their coats upon it, and he sat on it.

8 Many people spread their coats on the road, while others spread leafy branches that they had cut in the fields.

9 Those who went ahead and those who followed him were shouting, "Hosanna! How blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord!

10 How blessed is the coming kingdom of our ancestor David! Hosanna in the highest heaven!"

11 Then Jesus went into Jerusalem and into the Temple and looked around at everything. Since it was already late, he went out with the Twelve to Bethany.

12 The next day, as they were leaving Bethany, Jesus became hungry.

13 Seeing in the distance a fig tree covered with leaves, he went to see if he could find anything on it. When he came to it, he found nothing except leaves because it wasn't the season for figs.

14 So he told it, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again!" Now his disciples were listening to this.

Judges 13

24 Later on, the woman gave birth to a son and named him Samson. The child grew strong and the LORD blessed him.

25 Then the Spirit of the LORD began to rouse him where the tribe of Dan was encamped, between Zorah and Eshtaol.

Judges 14

1 A while later, Samson went down to Timnah and observed a woman in Timnah who was of Philistine origin.

2 Then he returned and told his father and mother, "In Timnah I saw a woman of Philistine origin." He ordered them, "Get her for me as a wife. Now!"

3 His father and mother asked him, "Isn't there a woman suitable among the daughters of your relatives or among all of our people, since you're going to get your wife from the uncircumcised Philistines?" But Samson retorted to his father, "Get her for me, since she looks fine to me."

4 Meanwhile, his father and mother did not know that she was from the LORD, because he had been seeking a favourable opportunity concerning the Philistines, since the Philistines were dominating Israel at that time.

5 Then Samson went down in the direction of Timnah with his father and mother and arrived as far as the vineyards of Timnah. And — surprise! — a young lion came roaring at him!

6 The Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and he ripped the lion apart as one might dissect a young goat, even though he carried nothing in his hand. But he didn't tell his father and mother what he had done.

7 Then he went down and talked to the woman, and she looked fine to Samson.

8 When he came back later to marry her, he turned aside to observe the lion's carcass. Amazingly, there was a swarm of bees in the body of the lion, complete with honey.

9 So he scraped some out into his hands and went on his way, eating all the while. When he met his father and mother, he gave some to them, and they ate it, too. But he didn't inform them that he had scraped the honey from the carcass of the lion.

10 Later on, when his father went down to visit the woman, Samson threw a party there, since young men customarily did this.

11 When they saw him, they brought 30 companions to accompany him.

12 "Let me tell you a riddle," Samson told them. "If you can solve it during this week-long feast, I'll give you 30 linen garments and 30 formal garments.

13 But if you don't solve it, then you'll give me 30 linen garments and 30 formal garments." "Tell us your riddle and we'll solve it," they responded.

14 So he told them: From the eater came something edible; from the strong something sweet. For three days they couldn't solve the riddle.

15 The next day, they told Samson's wife, "Coax your husband to explain the riddle or we'll set fire to your father's house — with you in it! You've invited us here to make us paupers, haven't you?"

16 So Samson's wife cried in front of him and accused him, "You only hate me. You don't love me. You've told a riddle to my relatives, but you haven't told the solution to me." Samson responded, "Look, I haven't told my parents, either. Why should I tell you?"

17 So she kept on crying in front of him for the entire seven days of the wedding party. On the seventh day he told the solution to her because she nagged him, and then she told the solution to the riddle to her relatives.

18 Then the men of the city answered him just before sunset on the seventh day: "What's sweeter than honey? What's stronger than lions?" Samson responded, "If you hadn't ploughed with my heifer you wouldn't have solved my riddle."

19 Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, and he went down to Ashkelon, killed 30 men, took their belongings, and gave the garments to those who had told him the solution to the riddle. He remained furious, left for his father's house, 20 and Samson's wife went to the best man at his wedding.

Judges 15

1 A while later during the wheat harvest, Samson visited his wife, bringing along a young goat, and told his father-in-law, "I'm going into my wife's room." But her father wouldn't give permission for him to go.

2 Her father said, "Because I honestly thought that you hated her deeply, I gave her in marriage to your best man. Isn't her younger sister better than she? Please then, let her be yours instead."

3 Samson replied to them, "This time I'll be blameless when I do something evil to the Philistines."

4 So Samson went out, caught 300 foxes, grabbed some torches, tied the foxes together in pairs at their tails, and fastened a torch between each pair of tails.

5 Then he ignited the torches, set the foxes loose into the Philistines' unharvested grain, and burned up both the harvested shocks and the standing grain, along with their vineyards and olive groves.

6 Then the Philistines demanded, "Who did this?" Someone said, "Samson, son-in-law of the Timnite, because his father-in-law took Samson's wife and gave her to the best man at Samson's wedding." In retaliation, the Philistines came up and burned her and her father to death.

7 Samson replied to them, "Because you did this, I'm not going to stop until I get my revenge against you!"

8 So he attacked them ruthlessly in a massive slaughter, then left to live in the caves of Etam.

9 In response, the Philistines went up, encamped in the territory of Judah, and raided Lehi.

10 The leading men of Judah asked, "Why have you invaded us?" They replied, "We're here to arrest Samson. Then we're going to do to him what he did to us."

11 In response, 3,000 soldiers from the tribe of Judah went down to the caves of the rock of Etam and asked Samson, "Don't you know that the Philistines have us in their control? What have you done to us?" "I did to them what they did to me," he answered.

12 They responded, "We've come here to arrest you and transfer you to the custody of the Philistines." Samson told them, "Promise me that you won't kill me."

13 So they said, "No, we won't. But we're going to tie you up securely and transfer you to their custody. But we won't kill you." Then they bound him with two ropes and brought him up from the caves.

14 When Samson arrived at Lehi, the Philistines came shouting to meet him. Then the Spirit of the LORD rushed upon him, so that the ropes that bound him were like flax that's been burned by fire, and his bonds dissolved.

15 He happened upon a jawbone from a putrefying donkey, reached out to grab it, and killed 1,000 men with it.

16 Then Samson declared, "With a jawbone from the donkey — here a heap, there a pair of heaps — with the jawbone of the donkey I've killed 1,000 men."

17 When he finally finished bragging, he discarded the jawbone and named that place "Jawbone Heights."

18 Afterward, he became thirsty, called out to the LORD, and told him, "So, you provided this great deliverance at the hands of your servant, but now I'm to die of thirst and fall into the hands of the uncircumcised?"

19 So God split a hollow place that's in Lehi, and water sprang out of it. After he had taken a drink, his strength returned, and he revived. That's why it was named "En-hakkore," which is in Lehi to this day.

20 Samson governed Israel for twenty years during the Philistine domination.

Judges 16

1 Sometime later, Samson went to Gaza, saw a prostitute there, and went in to have sex with her.

2 When the Gazites were informed, "Samson has come here!" they surrounded him, intending to lie in wait for him at the city gate throughout the entire night. They kept quiet all night, telling each other, "At first light, let's kill him!"

3 Meanwhile, Samson had sex until midnight, then at midnight he got up, grabbed the doors, the two door posts, and the bars of the city gate, and uprooted them. He put them on his shoulders and carried them to the top of the mountain opposite Hebron.

4 After this incident, he loved a woman in Sorek Valley whose name was Delilah.

5 The Philistine officials approached her and told her, "Entice him to discover where his great strength is, and how we can overpower him. We intend to tie him up and torture him. We'll each pay you 1,100 silver coins."

6 So Delilah asked Samson, "Please tell me the secret to your great strength and how you may be tied up and tortured."

7 Samson replied, "If I'm tied up with seven green cords that have never been dried out, then I'll become weak and just like any other human being."

8 Then the Philistine leaders brought her seven green cords that had never been dried, and she tied him up with them.

9 Meanwhile, some kidnappers were hiding inside an inner room, waiting for her signal. So she told him, "The Philistines are attacking you!" But he snapped the cords as one might break a burned candle wick. So his secret remained undiscovered.

10 Some time later, Delilah told Samson, "Look here! You've been mocking me and lying to me. Now please tell me how you can be tied up."

11 He told her, "If I'm tied up securely with new ropes that have never been used, then I'll become weak and just like any other human being."

12 So Delilah grabbed some new ropes and tied him up. Then she told him, "The Philistines are attacking you, Samson!" because some kidnappers were hiding inside an inner room. But he snapped the ropes from his arms like thread.

13 Later on, Delilah told Samson, "You're still mocking me and telling me lies! Tell me how to tie you up!" He answered her, "If you weave the seven locks of my hair into a loom and fasten it with a peg, then I will become weak and just like any other human being."

14 So Delilah took the seven locks of his hair and wove them into the loom while he slept. She fastened his hair with a peg and then told him, "The Philistines are attacking you, Samson!" But he woke up from his nap and pulled the pin from the loom and the weaving.

15 Some time later, she asked him, "How can you keep saying 'I love you!' when your heart isn't with me? These three times you've lied to me and haven't told me where your great strength lies."

16 She nagged him every day with this speech, pestering him until he was annoyed nearly to death.

17 So he finally disclosed everything. He told her, "A razor has never touched my head, because I've been a Nazirite for God before I was born. If I am shaved, then my strength will abandon me and I will become weak like every human being."

18 When Delilah realized that he had disclosed everything to her, she sent for the Philistine officials and told them, "Hurry up and come here at once, because he has told me everything." So the Philistine officials went to her and brought their money with them.

19 So she enticed him to fall asleep on her lap, called for a man to shave off his seven locks of hair from his head, and so began to humiliate him. Then his strength abandoned him.

20 When she cried out, "The Philistines are attacking you, Samson!" he woke from his sleep and told himself, "I'll go out like I did at other times like this and shake myself free." But he didn't know that the LORD had abandoned him.

Mark 11

15 When they came to Jerusalem, he went into the Temple and began to throw out those who were selling and those who were buying in the Temple. He overturned the moneychangers' tables and the chairs of those who sold doves.

16 He wouldn't even let anyone carry a vessel through the Temple.

17 Then he began to teach them: "It is written, is it not, 'My house is to be called a house of prayer for all nations'? But you have turned it into a hideout for bandits!"

18 When the high priests and elders heard this, they began to look for a way to kill him, because they were afraid of him, since the whole crowd was amazed at his teaching.

19 When evening came, Jesus and his disciples would leave the city.

20 While they were walking along early the next morning, they saw the fig tree dried up to its roots.

21 Remembering what Jesus had said, Peter pointed out to him, "Rabbi, look! The fig tree you cursed has dried up!"

22 Jesus told his disciples, "Have faith in God!

23 I tell you with certainty, if anyone says to this mountain, 'Be lifted up and thrown into the sea,' if he doesn't doubt in his heart but believes that what he says will happen, it will be done for him.

24 That is why I tell you, whatever you ask for in prayer, believe that you have received it and it will be yours.

25 "Whenever you stand up to pray, forgive whatever you have against anyone, so that your Father in heaven will forgive your sins.

26 But if you do not forgive, your Father in heaven will not forgive your sins."

27 Then they went into Jerusalem again. While Jesus was walking in the Temple, the high priests, the scribes, and the elders came to him

28 and asked him, "By what authority are you doing these things, and who gave you this authority to do them?"

29 Jesus told them, "I will ask you one question. Answer me, and then I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things.

30 Was John's authority to baptize from heaven or from humans? Answer me."

31 They began discussing this among themselves. "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will say, 'Then why didn't you believe him?'

32 But if we say, 'From humans'. . . ?" They were afraid of the crowd, because everyone really thought John was a prophet.

33 So they answered Jesus, "We don't know." Then Jesus told them, "Then I won't tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

21st April

Judges 16

21 Then the Philistines grabbed him, gouged out his eyes, brought him down to Gaza, tied him up in bronze chains, and made him grind grain in their prison.

22 But the hair on his head began to grow again after it had been shaved off.

23 Some time later, the Philistine officials got together to present a magnificent sacrifice to their god Dagon, and to throw a party, because they were claiming, "Our god has given Samson into our control!"

24 When the people saw Samson, they praised their god, claiming: Our god has given our enemy into our control; the one who was destroying our land, and who has killed many of us.

25 Because they all got good and drunk, they ordered, "Go get Samson, so he can entertain us." So they called for Samson from the prison, and he entertained them while they made him stand between the pillars.

26 Then Samson told the young man who had been leading him around by the hand, "Let me touch and feel the pillars on which this building rests, and I'll support myself against them."

27 Now the building was full of men, women, and all the Philistine officials, with about 3,000 men and women on the roof watching Samson while he was entertaining them.

28 Then Samson cried out to the LORD, "Lord God, please remember me. And please strengthen me this one time, God, so that I can repay the Philistines right now for my two eyes."

29 Then Samson grabbed the two middle pillars upon which the house rested and braced himself against them with one pillar in his right hand and the other in his left.

30 Then Samson said, "Let me die with the Philistines!" He strained with all his strength until the building collapsed on the officials and every person in it. As a result, the dead whom he killed at his death were more than those whom he killed during his lifetime.

31 Afterwards, his brothers and his father's household servants came down, took him, brought him back, and buried him in his father Manoah's tomb between Zorah and Eshtaol. He had governed Israel for 20 years.

Judges 17

1 A man named Micah lived in the mountainous region of the territory of Ephraim.

2 He told his mother, "Do you remember those 1,100 silver coins that were stolen from you and about which you uttered a curse when I could hear it? Well, I have the silver. I took it." So she replied, "May my son be blessed by the LORD."

3 Her son gave back the 1,100 silver coins to his mother, and she said, "I'm totally giving this silver — from my hand to the LORD — so my son can make a carved image and a cast image. So I'm returning it to you."

4 When he had returned the silver to his mother, his mother took 200 of the silver coins and handed them over to a silversmith. He crafted them into a carved image and into a cast image, and they were set up in Micah's house.

5 This man Micah had his own shrine, had crafted his own ephod and some household idols, and had installed one of his sons as a priest.

6 Back in those days, Israel didn't yet have a king, so each person did whatever seemed right in his own opinion.

7 A young male descendant of Levi happened to be visiting there from Bethlehem in the territory of Judah.

8 The man had left his city Bethlehem in Judah to live wherever he could. As he travelled along, he eventually arrived at Micah's house in the mountainous region of Ephraim, looking for work.

9 Micah asked him, "Where did you come from?" He replied, "I'm a descendant of Levi from Bethlehem in Judah, and I'm going to stay temporarily wherever I can find a place."
10 So Micah replied, "Come live with me! You can be a spiritual father to me, as well as a priest. I'll pay you ten silver coins a year, plus a priestly uniform and an income." So the descendant of Levi moved in.
11 The descendant of Levi agreed to live with the man, and the young man became like one of the family.
12 Micah set up the descendant of Levi in ministry, and the young man became his priest while he lived in Micah's house.
13 As for Micah, he kept saying, "Now I know the LORD will make me rich, because I have a descendant of Levi for a priest!"

Judges 18

1 Back in those days, Israel didn't have a king yet, and during that time the tribe of Dan had been seeking a territorial inheritance to live in, because up until that time no territory had been allotted to them as a possession among the tribes of Israel.
2 So the tribe of Dan sent from their families five valiant men of their number from Zorah and Eshtaol to scout the land and search through it. Following their orders, which were "Go and scout the land," they came to the mountainous region of Ephraim, arrived at Micah's home, and stayed there.
3 As they approached Micah's home, they recognized the voice of the young male descendant of Levi. They turned aside from there and spoke to him, asking him, "Who brought you here? What work are you doing here? And what's your business here?"
4 He answered, "Micah did such and such for me, and has hired me, so I've become his priest."
5 They replied, "Go ask God, please, about whether or not we'll be successful in this journey."
6 The priest responded to them, "Travel in peace. The mission that you're to accomplish is from the LORD."
7 So the five men left and went to Laish, and observed the people who were living there carefree, as Sidonians tend to do, in peace and quiet. There was no ruler in the land oppressing them for any reason. They were living far away from the Sidonians, and had no dealings with anyone.
8 When they returned to their relatives at Zorah and Eshtaol, their relatives asked them, "What's your report?"
9 They replied, "Let's get going and attack them. We've scouted out the land — and look! — it's a very good one. Why should we sit still? We can't wait to go back, invade, and take over the land."
10 When you invade, you'll meet a carefree people living in a spacious territory. God has given it into your control — it's a place that lacks nothing on this earth!"
11 So 600 descendants of Dan from Zorah and Eshtaol set out for battle, armed with military weapons.
12 They went out and encamped at Kiriath-jearim in the territory of Judah. (That's why they call the place Mahaneh-dan to this day. It lies west of Kiriath-jearim).
13 They proceeded from there to the mountainous region of Ephraim and arrived at Micah's house.
14 Then the five men who had gone to scout out the territory of Laish told their relatives, "Are you aware that in these houses there's an ephod, some household idols, a carved image, and a cast image? You know what you need to do."
15 So they turned aside from there, went to Micah's house, and greeted him.
16 While the 600 Danite soldiers, armed with military weapons, stood guard at the entrance to the gate,

17 the five men who had gone to scout out the land arrived, entered Micah's home and took possession of the carved image, the ephod, the household idols, and the cast image. Meanwhile, the priest stood outside by the entrance to the gate with the 600 men armed with military weapons.

18 After they went into Micah's home and took the carved image, the ephod, the household idols, and the cast image, the priest challenged them. "What are you doing?" he asked them.

19 They told him, "Shut up and keep quiet. Come with us and be our spiritual father and priest. It's better for you, isn't it, to be a priest to an entire tribe and family in Israel than to be priest to the home of one man?"

20 The priest was happy to oblige, so he took the ephod, the household idols, and the carved image and went along with the army.

21 Then they turned around and left, sending their little ones, their livestock, and their valuables on ahead.

22 When they had been gone a short distance from Micah's home, some of Micah's neighbours assembled a search party and overtook the descendants of Dan.

23 They yelled at the descendants of Dan, who turned around to face Micah and asked, "What's wrong with you? You've assembled together. . . ?"

24 Micah replied, "You took my gods that I crafted, along with the priest, and left! What do I have left? So what's with this 'What's wrong with you?'"

25 The descendants of Dan answered him, "You had better not talk to us about this, or else these bad guys here will attack you. You will lose your life, along with the lives of your whole household."

26 Then the descendants of Dan went on their way. Because Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back home.

27 But the descendants of Dan took what Micah had made, along with the priest who had worked for him, and went to Laish, to a quiet and carefree people, and killed them with swords. Then they set fire to the city.

28 They had no one else to deliver them, because they lived far from Sidon and had no dealings with anyone. It lay in the valley near Beth-rehob. They rebuilt the city and lived in it.

29 They renamed the city Dan, after the name of their ancestor Dan, who had been born in Israel. The former name of the city was Laish.

30 The descendants of Dan set up the carved image, and Gershom's son Jonathan, a descendant of Manasseh, served along with his descendants as priests to the tribe of Dan until the land was taken captive.

31 Micah's carved image, that he himself had crafted, was in place during the entire time that God's tent was set up at Shiloh.

Judges 19

1 Now it happened in those days, before there was a king in Israel, that a certain male descendant of Levi, who lived in a remote part of the mountainous region of Ephraim, took a mistress for himself from Bethlehem in the territory of Judah.

2 But his mistress was sexually unfaithful to him, and then she left him to live in her father's home in Bethlehem in the territory of Judah. She had been living there for a period of about four months

3 when her husband got up and went after her, intending to speak lovingly to her in order to win her back. He took with him his young man servant and a pair of donkeys. When she brought him into her father's house to see him, her father was happy to have met him.

4 The young woman's father (that is, his father-in-law) made him stay there for three days while they ate and drank during his visit there.

5 On the fourth day, they got up early that morning, and the descendant of Levi got ready to leave. Then the young woman's father-in-law told him, "Fortify yourself by eating some food before you go."

6 So both of them sat down for a bit, ate and drank together, and the young woman's father invited the man, "Please, enjoy yourself and spend another night."

7 The man got up, intending to leave, but his father-in-law urged him to spend the night there again.

8 On the fifth day, he got up early in the morning, but the young woman's father-in-law told him, "Please, fortify yourself," so they delayed until later that afternoon while both of them ate together.

9 When the man got up to leave with his mistress and servant, his father-in-law, the young woman's father, told him, "Look now, evening is coming, so please spend another night. See how the daylight is fading, so spend the night here and enjoy yourself. Then tomorrow get up early and leave on your journey home."

Mark 12

1 Then Jesus began to speak to them in parables. "A man planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a pit for the wine press, and built a watchtower. Then he leased it to tenant farmers and went abroad.

2 At the right time he sent a servant to the farmers to collect from them a share of the produce from the vineyard.

3 But the farmers grabbed the servant, beat him, and sent him back empty-handed.

4 Again, the man sent another servant to them. They beat the servant over the head and treated him shamefully.

5 Then the man sent another, and that one they killed. So it was with many other servants. Some of these they beat, and others they killed.

6 He still had one more person to send, a son whom he loved. Finally, he sent him to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.'

7 But those farmers told one another, 'This is the heir. Come on, let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours!'

8 So they grabbed him, killed him, and threw him out of the vineyard.

9 "Now what will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come, execute the farmers, and give the vineyard to others.

10 Haven't you ever read this Scripture: 'The stone that the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is amazing in our eyes?'"

12 They were trying to arrest him but were afraid of the crowd. Realizing that he had spoken this parable against them, they left him alone and went away.

13 Then they sent some Pharisees and some Herodians to him, intending to trap him in what he said.

14 They came and told him, "Teacher, we know that you are sincere. You don't favour any individual, because you pay no attention to external appearance. Rather, you teach the way of God truthfully. Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not? Should we pay them or should we not?"

15 Seeing through their hypocrisy, Jesus replied to them, "Why are you testing me? Bring me a denarius and let me look at it."

16 So they brought one. Then he asked them, "Whose face and name are on this?" They told him, "Caesar's."

17 So Jesus told them, "Give back to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's." And they were utterly amazed at him.

18 Then some Sadducees, who claim there is no resurrection, came to Jesus and asked him,

19 "Teacher, Moses wrote for us that if a man's brother dies and leaves a wife but no child, he should marry the widow and have children for his brother.

20 There were seven brothers. The first one married and died without having children.

21 Then the second married her and died without having children, and so did the third.

22 None of the seven left any children. Last of all, the woman died, too.

23 In the resurrection, whose wife will she be, since all seven had married her?"

24 Jesus answered them, "Aren't you mistaken because you don't know the Scriptures or God's power?

25 When people rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage but are like the angels in heaven.

26 As for the dead being raised, haven't you read in the book of Moses, in the story about the bush, how God said, 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob'?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You are badly mistaken!"

Judges 19

10 Because the man was unwilling to spend the night, he got up, left, and arrived opposite Jebus (now known as Jerusalem). He had with him a pair of saddled donkeys, along with his mistress.

11 As they approached Jebus, the daylight was almost gone, so the servant suggested to his master, "Come on, let's spend the night in this Jebusite city."

12 But his master replied, "We're not going to turn aside into a city of foreigners who are not part of the Israelis. Instead, we'll go on to Gibeah."

13 He also told his servant, "Come on, let's go to one of these places and spend the night in Gibeah or Ramah."

14 So they continued on their way, and the sun set on them near Gibeah, which is part of Benjamin's territorial allotment.

15 They turned aside there, intending to enter Gibeah and spend the night.

16 Just then, an old man was coming out of the fields that evening from work. The man was from the mountainous region of Ephraim and had been staying in Gibeah, even though the men of that place were descendants of Benjamin.

17 As the old man looked up and saw the travelling man in the public square of the city, he asked, "Now then, where are you headed? And where are you from?"

18 He replied, "We're travelling from Bethlehem in Judah to the remote part of the mountainous region of Ephraim, because I'm from there, and I've been visiting Bethlehem in Judah. I'm going home now, but no one will take me into his home.

19 Meanwhile, we also have straw and fodder for our donkeys, and bread and wine for me, for this young woman servant, and for the young man who is with your servants. We don't need anything else."

20 The old man replied, "Don't be alarmed. I'll take care of all your needs. Just don't spend the night in the public square."

21 So he took him into his home and fed the donkeys while they refreshed themselves and had dinner.

22 While they were enjoying themselves, all of a sudden certain ungodly men who lived in the city surrounded the house, pounded on the door, and ordered the old man who owned the home, "Bring out the man who came to visit your home so we can have sex with him."

23 The man who owned the house went out to talk to them and pleaded with them, "No, my brothers, please don't act so wickedly. This man is my guest! Don't try to do this stupid thing.

24 Instead, here's my virgin daughter and my visitor's mistress. Please let me bring them out to you. Occupy yourselves with them, and do to them whatever you would like. But don't commit such a stupid thing against this man."

25 But the men were unwilling to listen to him. So the descendant of Levi grabbed his mistress, took her out to them, and they raped and tortured her all night until morning. Then they released her as the first daylight was beginning to appear.

26 As dawn was breaking, the woman approached the door of the man's home where her master was and collapsed. Eventually, full daylight came.

27 When her master got up that morning and opened the doors of the house to leave on his way, there was his mistress, fallen dead at the door of the house with her hands grasping the threshold.

28 He spoke to her, "Get up, and let's go." But there was no response. So he placed her on the donkey, mounted his own animal, and went home.

29 When he arrived home, he grabbed a knife, took hold of his mistress, cut her apart limb by limb into twelve pieces, and sent her remains throughout the land of Israel.

30 All the witnesses said, "Nothing has happened or has been seen like this from the day the Israelis came here from the land of Egypt to this day! Think about it, get some advice about it, and then speak up about it!"

Judges 20

1 Then the entire Israeli nation — from Dan to Beer-sheba, including the territory of Gilead — came out for war. The army assembled as one united force to God at Mizpah.

2 The officials of the entire nation, including every tribe of Israel, took their stand in the assembly of the people of God: 400,000 foot soldiers, all of them expert swordsmen.

3 While the descendants of Benjamin were learning that the Israelis had gone up to Mizpah, the Israelis asked, "Somebody tell us how this evil could happen?"

4 So the descendant of Levi, the husband of the murdered woman, spoke up and replied, "I came to spend the night at Gibeah, which is part of Benjamin, along with my mistress.

5 But the officials of Gibeah attacked me and surrounded the house because of me. They intended to kill me, but instead they tortured my mistress to death.

6 So I grabbed my mistress, cut her in pieces, and sent her remains throughout the territory of Israel's inheritance, because they've committed a vile, stupid outrage in Israel.

7 So look, all you sons of Israel! Speak up and give us your advice!"

8 Then the entire army stood up as a single unit and declared, "Nobody's going back to his tent, and nobody's going home!

9 This is what we'll do to Gibeah: we're going to assemble an army by lottery.

10 We'll take ten men out of 100 from all of the tribes of Israel. We'll appoint 100 out of 1,000 and 1,000 out of 10,000 to supply provisions for the army. And when we reach Gibeah in the territory of Benjamin, we'll punish them for all of the stupid things that they've done in Israel."

11 That's how the army of Israel came to be gathered together to attack the city, united as a single unit.

12 The tribes of Israel sent men throughout the entire tribe of Benjamin to ask them, "What is this evil thing that has occurred among you?

13 Now then, hand over the men — those ungodly men, and we'll execute them in order to remove this evil from Israel." But the descendants of Benjamin wouldn't obey the request of their own relatives, the Israelis, 14 so the descendants of Benjamin assembled from the cities of Gibeah to fight the Israelis in battle.

15 The day of the battle, the army from the descendants of Benjamin numbered 26,000 expert swordsmen from their cities, not including the inhabitants of Gibeah, who numbered 700 special forces soldiers.

16 Out of all these soldiers, 700 of them were left-handed — and each one could sling a stone at a hair and never miss.

17 But the Israeli army — not counting the tribe of Benjamin — numbered 400,000 expert swordsmen, all of them battle-hardened soldiers.

18 The Israelis mounted up, travelled to Bethel, and asked God what to do. They said, "Who is to lead us in our opening attack against the descendants of Benjamin?" The LORD replied, "Judah is to open the attack."

19 So the Israelis got up in the morning, encamped near Gibeah,

20 and the army of Israel went out to fight the tribe of Benjamin, assembling in battle array against them at Gibeah.

21 The descendants of Benjamin came out of Gibeah, and 22,000 soldiers of Israel fell in battle that day.

22 But the army — the men of Israel — encouraged themselves and arrayed for battle again the next day in the same place where they had gathered the day before.

23 From there the Israelis went up and wept in the LORD's presence until evening. Then they asked the LORD, "Should we attack the descendants of Benjamin again?" The LORD replied, "Attack them."

24 So the Israelis attacked the descendants of Benjamin for a second day,
25 and the tribe of Benjamin went to war against them from Gibeah during that second day, and 18,000 soldiers from the Israelis — all of them expert swordsmen — fell to the ground.

26 All the Israelis, including its army, went up from there to Bethel and wept, remaining there in the LORD's presence, fasting throughout the day until dusk, when they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings in the LORD's presence.

27 The Israelis inquired of the LORD, since the Ark of the Covenant was there at that time
28 while Eleazar's son Phinehas, a descendant of Aaron, served before it in those days. They asked, "Should we go out to war again against the descendants of our relative Benjamin, or shall we cease?" And the LORD answered, "Go out, and tomorrow I will deliver them into your control."

29 So Israel set soldiers in ambush around Gibeah.

30 The Israelis went out against the descendants of Benjamin on the third day, arraying themselves against Gibeah as they had done previously.

31 They attacked the army and were drawn away from the city as they began to inflict casualties on the soldiers along the roads to Bethel and Gibeah, just as they had done the other times. About 30 soldiers from Israel fell in battle there and in the fields.

32 Then the descendants of Benjamin told themselves, "They're falling right in front of us, just like before!" But the army of Israel told themselves, "Let's draw them away by escaping to the highways from the city."

33 So the entire army of Israel moved from their location and arrayed themselves at Baaltamer while that part of their army moved from their ambush positions from Maareh-geba.

34 As 10,000 of Israel's best soldiers came to fight Gibeah, the battle became fierce, but the army of Benjamin didn't know that disaster was close at hand.

35 The LORD struck Benjamin in the full view of Israel. As a result, the Israelis destroyed 25,100 soldiers of Benjamin that day, all expert swordsmen.

36 Then the descendants of Benjamin realized that they had been defeated. The army of Israel pretended to retreat from the army of Benjamin, knowing that they had set some soldiers in ambush near Gibeah.

37 The soldiers in ambush rushed out to attack Gibeah, deploying in force and executing the entire city with swords.

38 Meanwhile, the army of Israel had arranged to signal their soldiers who had been hiding in ambush by sending up a cloud of smoke from the city.

39 The army of Israel turned around in the battle, and the army of Benjamin began to attack and kill about 30 soldiers, thinking, "Now we're really defeating them, just like before."

40 But then the smoke began to rise from the city in a column. The army of Benjamin observed behind them that the whole city was going up in flames straight into the sky!

41 At that point, as the army of Israel turned back to face the army of Benjamin, the army of Benjamin was filled with terror, because they realized that disaster was about to overtake them.

42 So they turned tail and ran away from the army of Israel toward the wilderness, but they were overtaken in battle when soldiers came out from the cities to destroy them.

43 They surrounded the army of Benjamin, pursuing them ceaselessly until they defeated them near the east-facing border of Gibeah.

44 That's how 18,000 men from the tribe of Benjamin fell in battle, all of whom were valiant soldiers.

45 The rest of them turned and ran into the wilderness in the direction of the rock of Rimmon, but 5,000 of them were killed on the highways while 2,000 of them were overtaken and killed near Gidom.

46 To sum up, the soldiers from the tribe of Benjamin who died that day totalled 25,000 men, all of them expert swordsmen and valiant soldiers.

47 However, 600 soldiers ran into the wilderness in the direction of the rock of Rimmon, where they remained as fugitives for four months.

48 Meanwhile, the army of Israel went back to fight the surviving descendants of Benjamin. They attacked the entire city with swords, including its cattle and everyone they could find. Then they set fire to all of the cities that they could find.

Mark 12

28 Then one of the scribes came near and heard the Sadducees arguing with one another. He saw how well Jesus answered them, so he asked him, "Which commandment is the most important of them all?"

29 Jesus answered, "The most important is, 'Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord,
30 and you must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.'

31 The second is this: 'You must love your neighbour as yourself.' No other commandment is greater than these."

32 Then the scribe told him, "Well said, Teacher! You have told the truth that 'God is one, and there is no other besides him.'

33 To love him with all your heart, with all your understanding, and with all your strength, and to love your neighbour as yourself is more important than all the burnt offerings and sacrifices."

34 When Jesus saw how wisely the man answered, he told him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." After that, no one dared to ask him another question.

35 While Jesus was teaching in the Temple, he asked, "How can the scribes say that the Messiah is David's son?

36 David himself said by the Holy Spirit, 'The Lord told my Lord, "Sit at my right hand, until I put your enemies under your feet.'"

37 David himself calls him 'Lord,' so how can he be his son?" And the large crowd kept listening to him with delight.

38 As he taught, he said, "Beware of the scribes! They like to walk around in long robes, to be greeted in the marketplaces, 39 and to have the best seats in the synagogues and the places of honour at banquets.

40 They devour widows' houses and say long prayers to cover it up. They will receive greater condemnation!"

41 As Jesus sat facing the offering box, he watched how the crowd was dropping their money into it. Many rich people were dropping in large amounts.

42 Then a destitute widow came and dropped in two small copper coins, worth about a cent.

43 He called his disciples and told them, "I tell you with certainty, this destitute widow has dropped in more than everyone who is contributing to the offering box,

44 because all of them contributed out of their surplus, but out of her poverty she has given everything she had to live on."

Mark 13

1 As Jesus was leaving the Temple, one of his disciples told him, "Look, Teacher, what large stones and what beautiful buildings!"

2 "Do you see these large buildings?" Jesus responded. "Not one stone here will be left on another that will not be torn down."

Judges 21

1 Now the people of Israel had taken a vow in Mizpah that went like this: "Not even one of us will give his daughter in marriage to a descendant of Benjamin!"

2 So the people went to Bethel, sat before God until dusk, where they cried out loud and wept bitterly.

3 "Why, LORD God of Israel," they asked him, "is one tribe missing from Israel?"

4 The next day, the people got up early, built an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.

5 The Israelis asked themselves, "Who didn't come up in our assembly in the LORD's presence from among all of the tribes of Israel?" They had taken a solemn oath concerning those who didn't come up to meet with the LORD at Mizpah that "They will certainly be executed."

6 But the Israelis were mourning for their relatives in the tribe of Benjamin. They announced, "One tribe has been eliminated from Israel today!"

7 What can we do to find wives for the survivors who remain, since we've already taken an oath in the LORD's presence not to give them any of our daughters in marriage?"

8 They asked, "What one group of the tribes of Israel didn't come up to meet the LORD at Mizpah?" It turned out that no one had come to the encampment from Jabesh-gilead, 9 since when they took a census of the assembly, not even one of the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead was in attendance.

10 So the congregation sent out 12,000 of their valiant soldiers, issuing these orders to them: "Go and attack the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead with swords, including the women and little ones.

11 You're to completely destroy every man and every married woman."

12 They discovered among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead 400 young virgins who hadn't had sex with a man, and they brought them to the encampment at Shiloh in the territory of Canaan.

13 Then the entire congregation sent for the surviving descendants of Benjamin who were living at the rock of Rimmon and assured them that their intentions toward them were peaceful.

14 So the survivors of the tribe of Benjamin returned at that time, and the Israelis gave them the women whom they had kept alive from the raid on Jabesh-gilead. Even so, there weren't enough for them.

15 The people felt sorry for the tribe of Benjamin because the LORD had broken one of the tribes of Israel.

16 So the elders of the congregation asked, "What will we do to obtain wives for the survivors, since the women of Benjamin have been devastated?"

17 They continued, "Let's make sure that there's an inheritance for the survivors of the tribe of Benjamin, so that a tribe won't be blotted out from Israel.

18 But we can't give them wives from our own daughters, since we've taken this vow: 'May the LORD curse anyone who gives his daughter as a wife to the tribe of Benjamin!'"

19 So they concluded, "Look, there's a feast to the LORD every year in Shiloh on the north side of Bethel, south of Lebonah and on the east side of the highway that runs from Bethel to Shechem. . ."

20 So they told the descendants of Benjamin, "Go and hide in the vineyards.

21 Watch when the unmarried women from Shiloh come out to participate in the dances. Then come out of the vineyards and each of you grab a wife from the unmarried women from Shiloh. Then go back home to the territory of Benjamin.

22 If their fathers or brothers come complaining to us, we'll tell them 'Be generous! Give them to us voluntarily, because we didn't take anyone to be a wife for the men of the tribe of Benjamin as a result of the battle. And you haven't incurred guilt by giving your daughters to them.'"

23 So the descendants of Benjamin did all of this: they chose and carried away just enough wives from those who danced to meet the number needed, then they left to return to their inheritance, to rebuild their cities, and to live there.

24 The Israelis left there at that time, each man to his tribe and family, and each of them went down from there to his territorial allotment.

25 Back in those days, Israel didn't yet have a king, so each person did whatever seemed right in his own opinion.

Ruth 1

1 Now there came a time of famine while judges were ruling in the land of Israel. A man from Bethlehem of Judah, his wife, and his two sons left to live in the country of Moab.

2 The man's name was Elimelech, his wife's name was Naomi, and their two sons were named Mahlon and Chilion — Ephrathites from Bethlehem of Judah. They journeyed to the country of Moab and lived there for some time.

3 Then Naomi's husband Elimelech died, and she was left with her two sons.

4 Each of her sons married Moabite women: one named Orpah and the other named Ruth. After they lived there about ten years,

5 both Mahlon and Chilion died, leaving Naomi alone with neither her husband nor her two sons.

6 She and her daughters-in-law prepared to return from the country of Moab, because she had heard while living there how the LORD had come to the aid of his people, giving them relief.

7 So she left the place where she had been, along with her two daughters-in-law, and they travelled along the return road to the land of Judah.

8 But along the way, Naomi told her two daughters-in-law, "Each of you go back home. Return to your mother's house. May the LORD show his gracious love to you, as you have shown me and our loved ones who have died.

9 May the LORD grant each of you security in your new husbands' households." Then she kissed them good-bye, and they cried loudly.

10 They both replied to her, "No! We will go back with you to your people."

11 But Naomi responded, "Go back, my daughters. Why go with me? Are there still sons to be born to me as future husbands for you?

12 So go on back, my daughters! Be on your way! I'm too old to remarry. If I were to say that I'm hoping for a husband tonight and then also bore sons this very night,

13 would you wait for them until they were grown? Would you refrain from marriage for them? No, my daughters! I'm more deeply grieved than you, because the LORD is working against me!"

14 They began to cry loudly again. So Orpah kissed her mother-in-law good-bye, but Ruth remained with her.

15 Naomi told Ruth, "Look, your sister-in-law has returned to her people and to her gods. Follow your sister-in-law!"

16 But Ruth answered, "Stop urging me to abandon you and to turn back from following you. Because wherever you go, I'll go. Wherever you live, I'll live. Your people will be my people, and your God, my God.

17 Where you die, I'll die and be buried. May the LORD do this to me — and more — if anything except death comes between you and me."

18 When Naomi observed Ruth's determination to travel with her, she ended the conversation.

19 So they continued on until they reached Bethlehem. Now when the two of them arrived in Bethlehem, the entire town got excited at the news of their arrival and they asked one another, "Can this be Naomi?"

20 But Naomi replied, "Don't call me 'Naomi'! Call me 'Mara'! That's because the Almighty has dealt bitterly with me.

21 I left here full, but the LORD brought me back empty. So why call me 'Naomi'? After all, the LORD is against me, and the Almighty has broken me."

22 So Naomi returned to Bethlehem from the country of Moab, along with her daughter-in-law Ruth the Moabite woman. And they arrived in Bethlehem at the beginning of the barley harvest.

Ruth 2

1 Naomi had a close relative of her late husband, a man of considerable wealth from the family of Elimelech. His name was Boaz.

2 Ruth the Moabite told Naomi, "Please allow me to go out to the fields and glean grain behind anyone who shows me kindness." So Naomi replied, "Go ahead, my daughter."

3 So she went out, proceeded to the field, and gleaned behind the harvesters. And it happened that she came to the portion of land belonging to Boaz, of the family of Elimelech.

4 Now when Boaz arrived from Bethlehem, he told the harvesters, "The LORD be with you." "May the LORD bless you!" they replied.

5 At this point, Boaz asked the foreman of his harvesters, "To whom does this young woman belong?"

6 The foreman of the harvesters answered, "She is the Moabite who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab.

7 She asked us, 'Please allow me to glean what's left of the grain behind the harvesters.' So she came out and has continued working from dawn until now, except for a short time in a shelter."

Mark 13

3 As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives facing the Temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew were asking him privately,

4 "Tell us, when will these things happen, and what will be the sign when these things will be put into effect?"

5 Jesus began to say to them, "See to it that no one deceives you.

6 Many will come in my name and say, 'I AM,' and they will deceive many people.

7 But when you hear of wars and rumours of wars, stop being alarmed. These things must take place, but the end hasn't come yet,

8 because nation will rise up in arms against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be earthquakes and famines in various places. These things are only the beginning of the birth pains."

9 "As for yourselves, be on your guard! People will hand you over to local councils, and you will be beaten in their synagogues. You will stand before governors and kings to testify to them because of me.

10 But first, the gospel must be proclaimed to all nations.

11 "When they take you away and hand you over for trial, don't worry ahead of time about what you will say. Instead, say whatever is given to you at that time, because it won't be you speaking, but the Holy Spirit.

12 Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child. Children will rebel against their parents and have them put to death.

13 You will be hated continuously by everyone because of my name. But the person who endures to the end will be saved."

14 "So when you see the destructive desecration standing where it should not be (let the reader take note), then those who are in Judea must flee to the mountains.

15 The one who is on his housetop must not come down and go into his house to take anything out of it,

16 and the one who is in the field must not turn back to get his coat.

17 "How terrible it will be for women who are pregnant or who are nursing babies in those days!

18 Pray that it may not be in winter,

19 because those days will be a time of suffering, a kind that has not happened from the beginning of God's creation until now, and certainly will never happen again.

20 If the Lord had not shortened those days, no one would be saved. But for the sake of the elect whom he has chosen, he has shortened those days.

21 "At that time, if anyone says to you, 'Look! Here is the Messiah!', or, 'Look! There he is!', don't believe it, 22 because false messiahs and false prophets will appear and produce signs and omens to deceive, if possible, the elect.

23 So be on your guard! I've told you everything before it happens."

24th April

Ruth 2

8 Boaz then addressed Ruth: "Listen, my daughter! Don't glean in any other field. Don't even leave this one, and be sure to stay close to my women servants.

9 Keep your eyes on the field where they are harvesting, and follow them. I have ordered my young men not to bother you, have I not? And when you are thirsty, drink from the water vessels that the young men have filled."

10 At this she fell prostrate, bowing low to the ground, and asked him, "Why is it that you're showing me kindness by noticing me, since I'm a foreigner?"

11 Boaz answered her, "It has been clearly disclosed to me all that you have done for your mother-in-law following the death of your husband — how you abandoned your father, your mother, and your own land, and came to a people you did not previously know.

12 May the LORD repay you for your work, and may a full reward be given you from the LORD God of Israel, under whose wings you have come for refuge."

13 She responded, "May I continue to find favour in your sight, sir, since you've been comforting me and you have spoken graciously to your servant, even though I am not one of your servants."

14 At lunchtime, Boaz invited her, "Come on over, have some food, and dip your bread in our oil and vinegar." So she sat down beside the harvesters, and he handed her some roasted grain, which she ate until she was satisfied. She kept what was left over.

15 After she had left to glean, Boaz commanded his servants, "Allow her to glean also among the cut sheaves, and don't taunt her.

16 One other thing — drop some handfuls deliberately, leaving them for her so she can gather it. And don't bother her."

17 So Ruth gathered grain out in the field until dusk, and then threshed what she had gathered — about a week's supply of barley.

18 She picked up her grain and went back to town. Her mother-in-law noticed how much Ruth had gleaned and had brought back from what was left over from her lunch.

19 So her mother-in-law quizzed her, "Where did you glean today? Where, precisely, did you work? May the one who took notice of you be blessed." So Ruth told her mother-in-law with whom she had worked. She said, "The man's name with whom I worked today is Boaz."

20 Naomi replied, "May the one who hasn't abandoned his gracious love to the living or to the dead be blessed by the LORD." Naomi added, "This man is closely related to us, our related redeemer, as a matter of fact!"

21 Then Ruth the Moabite woman added, "He also told me 'Stay close to my young men until they have completed my entire harvest.'"

22 Naomi responded to her daughter-in-law Ruth, "It is prudent, my daughter, for you to go out with his women servants, so someone won't attack you in another field."

23 So Ruth continued to stay close to the young women who worked for Boaz, gathering grain until both the barley and wheat harvests were complete, all the while living with her mother-in-law.

Ruth 3

1 Ruth's mother-in-law Naomi, told her, "My daughter, should I not make inquiries about your financial security, so you'll be better off in life?

2 Isn't Boaz one of our close relatives? You've been associating with his women servants lately. Look, he'll be winnowing barley at the threshing floor tonight.

3 So get cleaned up, put on some perfume, dress up, and go to the threshing floor, but don't let him see you until after he's finished eating and drinking.

4 When he lies down, be sure to notice where he is resting. Then go over, uncover his feet, and lie down. He'll tell you what to do."

5 Ruth replied, "I'll do everything you've said."

6 So she went out to the threshing floor and did precisely what her mother-in-law had advised.

7 After Boaz had finished eating and drinking to his heart's content, he went over and laid down next to the pile of threshed grain. Ruth came in quietly, uncovered his feet, and lay down.

8 In the middle of the night, Boaz was startled awake and turned over in surprise to see a woman lying at his feet.

9 He asked her, "Who are you?" She answered, "I'm only Ruth, your servant. Spread the edge of your garment over your servant, because you are my related redeemer."

10 He replied, "May you be blessed by the LORD, my daughter. You've added to the gracious love you've already demonstrated by not pursuing younger men, whether rich or poor.

11 Don't be afraid, my daughter. I'll do for you everything that you have asked, since all of my people in town are aware that you're a virtuous woman.

12 It's true that I'm your related redeemer, but there is another related redeemer even closer than I.

13 Stay the night, and if he fulfils his duty as your related redeemer in the morning, that will be acceptable. But if he isn't inclined to do so, then, as the LORD lives, I will act as your related redeemer myself. So lie down until morning."

14 So she lay down at his feet until dawn approached, then got up while it was still difficult for anyone to be recognized. Then he told her, "It shouldn't be known that a woman has come to the threshing floor."

15 So he said, "Take your cloak and hold it out." She did so, and he measured out six units of barley and placed them in a sack on her. Then she left for town.

16 When Ruth returned to her mother-in-law, Naomi asked her, "How did it go, my daughter?" Then she related everything that the man had done for her.

17 Ruth also said, "He gave me these six units of barley and told me, 'Don't go back to your mother-in-law empty-handed.'"

18 Naomi replied, "Be patient, my daughter, until you learn how this works out, because the man won't rest until he finishes everything today."

Ruth 4

1 Meanwhile, Boaz approached the city gate and sat down there. Just then, the very same related redeemer whom Boaz had mentioned came by, so Boaz called out to him, "Come over and sit down here, my friend!" So the man came over and sat down.

2 Boaz selected ten of the town elders and spoke to them, "Sit down here." So they sat down

3 and Boaz addressed the related redeemer directly: "A portion of a field belonging to our relative Elimelech is up for sale by Naomi, who recently returned from the country of Moab.

4 So I thought to myself I ought to tell you that you must make a public purchase of this before the town residents and the elders of my people. So if you intend to act as the related redeemer, then do so. But if not, let me know, because except for you — and I after you — there is no one to fulfil the duties of a related redeemer." The man responded, "I will act as related redeemer."

5 Boaz continued, "On the very day you buy the field from Naomi, you're also "buying" Ruth the Moabite woman, the wife of her dead husband, so the family name may be continued as an inheritance."

6 At this, the nearer related redeemer replied, "Then I am unable to act as related redeemer, because that would complicate my own inheritance. You act instead as the related redeemer, because I cannot do so."

7 During Israel's earlier history, all things concerning redeeming or changing inheritances were confirmed by a man taking off his sandal and giving it to the other party, thereby creating a public record in Israel.

8 So when the nearer related redeemer told Boaz, "Make the purchase yourself," he then took off his sandal.

9 At this, Boaz addressed the elders and all of the people: "You all are witnesses today that I hereby redeem everything from Naomi that belonged to Elimelech, including what belonged to Chilion and Mahlon,

10 along with Mahlon's wife Ruth the Moabite woman. I will marry her to continue the family name as an inheritance, so that the name of the deceased does not disappear from among his relatives, nor from the public record. You are all witnesses today!"

11 Then all of the assembled people — along with the elders who were there — said, "We are witnesses! May the LORD make this woman who enters your house like Rachel and Leah, who together established the house of Israel. May you prosper in Ephrathah, and may you excel in Bethlehem!

12 Moreover, may your house be like the house of Perez, whom Tamar bore for Judah, from the offspring that the LORD gives you from this young woman."

13 So Boaz took Ruth to be his wife, and when he had marital relations with her, the LORD made her conceive, and she bore a son.

14 Then the women of Bethlehem told Naomi, "May the LORD be blessed, who has not left you today without a related redeemer. May his name become famous throughout Israel!

15 And he will restore your life for you and will support you in your old age, because your daughter-in-law, who loves you and who has borne him, is better for you than seven sons!"

16 Naomi took care of the child, taking him to her breast and becoming his nurse.

17 So her women neighbours gave the child a nickname, which is "Naomi has a son!" They named him Obed. He became the father of Jesse, who was the father of David.

18 This is the genealogy of Perez: Perez fathered Hezron,

19 Hezron fathered Ram, and Ram fathered Amminadab.

20 Amminadab fathered Nahshon, and Nahshon fathered Salmon.

21 Salmon fathered Boaz, and Boaz fathered Obed.

22 Then Obed fathered Jesse, who fathered David.

Mark 13

24 "But after the suffering of those days, 'The sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light,
25 the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of heaven will be shaken loose.'
26 Then people will see 'the Son of Man coming in clouds' with great power and glory.
27 He will send out his angels and gather his elect from the four winds, from the ends of the earth to the ends of heaven."
28 "Now learn a lesson from the fig tree. When its branches become tender and it produces leaves, you know that summer is near.
29 In the same way, when you see these things taking place, you will know that the Son of Man is near, right at the door.
30 I tell you with certainty, this generation will not disappear until all these things take place.
31 Heaven and earth will disappear, but my words will never disappear."
32 "No one knows when that day or hour will come — not the angels in heaven, not the Son, but only the Father.
33 Be careful! Watch out! Because you don't know when the time will come.
34 It's like a man who went on a trip. As he left home, he put his servants in charge, each with his own work, and he ordered the doorkeeper to be alert.
35 So keep on watching, because you don't know when the master of the house is coming — whether in the evening, at three o'clock in the morning, or at dawn.
36 Otherwise, he may come suddenly and find you asleep.
37 I'm telling you what I'm telling everyone: Be alert!"

Mark 14

1 Now it was two days before the Passover and the Festival of Unleavened Bread. The high priests and the scribes were looking for a way to arrest Jesus secretly and to have him put to death,
2 because they kept saying, "This must not happen during the festival. Otherwise, there'll be a riot among the people."
3 While Jesus was in Bethany sitting at the table in the home of Simon the leper, a woman arrived with an alabaster jar of very expensive perfume made from pure nard. She broke open the jar and poured the perfume on his head.
4 Irritated, some who were there asked one another, "Why was the perfume wasted like this?
5 This perfume could have been sold for more than 300 denarii and the money given to the destitute." So they got extremely angry with her.
6 But Jesus said, "Leave her alone. Why are you bothering her? She has done a beautiful thing for me,
7 because you will always have the destitute with you and can help them whenever you want, but you will not always have me.
8 She has done what she could. She poured perfume on my body in preparation for my burial.
9 I tell you with certainty, wherever the gospel is proclaimed in the whole world, what she has done will also be told as a memorial to her."

1 Samuel 1

1 A certain man lived in Ramathaim-zophim, which is in the hill country of Ephraim. He was Jeroham's son Elkanah, the grandson of Elihu and grandson of Tohu, who was the son of Zuph, an Ephraimite.

2 He had two wives; the name of one was Hannah and the name of the other was Peninnah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah had no children.

3 That man would go up from his town each year to worship and sacrifice to the LORD of the Heavenly Armies at Shiloh, where Eli's two sons Hophni and Phineas served as priests of the LORD.

4 On the day when Elkanah offered sacrifices, he would give portions to his wife Peninnah and to all her sons and daughters,

5 but he would give twice as much to Hannah because he loved her. Now the LORD had closed her womb.

6 Her rival would provoke her severely so that she complained loudly because the LORD had closed her womb.

7 Elkanah would do this year after year, as often as Hannah went up to the house of the LORD. Likewise, Peninnah would provoke her, and Hannah would cry and would not eat.

8 Elkanah her husband told her, "Hannah, why are you crying and why don't you eat? Why are you upset? Am I not better to you than ten sons?"

9 Hannah got up after she had finished eating and drinking in Shiloh. Now Eli the priest was sitting on the chair by the doorpost of the tent of the LORD.

10 Deeply distressed, she prayed to the LORD and wept bitterly.

11 Hannah made a vow: "LORD of the Heavenly Armies, if you just look at the misery of your maid servant, remember me, and don't forget your maid servant. If you give your maid servant a son, then I'll give him to the LORD for all the days of his life, and a razor is never to touch his head."

12 As she continued to pray in the LORD's presence, Eli was watching her mouth.

13 Hannah was praying inwardly. Her lips were quivering, and her voice could not be heard. So Eli thought she was drunk.

14 Eli told her, "How long will you stay drunk? Put away your wine!"

15 "No, sir!" Hannah replied. "I'm a deeply troubled woman. I've drunk neither wine nor beer. I've been pouring out my soul in the LORD's presence.

16 Don't consider your maid servant a worthless woman. Rather, all this time I've been speaking because I'm very anxious and distressed."

17 "Go in peace," Eli answered. "May the God of Israel grant the request you have asked of him."

18 She said, "Let your servant find favour in your eyes." Then she went on her way and ate, and her face was no longer sad.

19 They got up early the next morning and worshipped in the LORD's presence, and then they returned and came to their house at Ramah. Elkanah had marital relations with his wife Hannah, and the LORD remembered her.

20 By the time of the next year's sacrifice, Hannah had become pregnant and had borne a son. She named him Samuel because she said, "I asked the LORD for him."

21 Then Elkanah went up with all his family to offer the yearly sacrifice to the LORD and pay his vow.

22 Hannah did not go up because she had told her husband, "As soon as the child is weaned, I'll take him to appear in the LORD's presence and remain there forever.

23 "Do what you want," Elkanah told her. "Stay until you have weaned him, only may the LORD bring about what you have said." So Hannah stayed and nursed her son until she had weaned him.

24 Then, when she had weaned him, she brought him up with her to Shiloh, along with a three-year-old bull, a half-bushel of flour, and a skin of wine. She brought him to the house of the LORD at Shiloh, and the boy was young.

25 They slaughtered the bull and brought the boy to Eli.

26 Hannah said, "Sir, as surely as you are alive, I'm the woman who stood before you here praying to the LORD.

27 I prayed for this boy, and the LORD granted me the request I asked of him.

28 Now I'm dedicating him to the LORD, and as long as he lives, he will be dedicated to the LORD." Then they worshipped the LORD there.

1 Samuel 2

1 Then Hannah prayed: "My heart exults in the LORD; my strength is increased by the LORD. I will open my mouth to speak against my enemies, because I rejoice in your deliverance.

2 There is no one holy like the LORD, indeed there is no one besides you, there is no rock like our God.

3 Don't continue to talk proudly, and don't speak arrogantly, for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and by him actions are weighed.

4 The bows of warriors are shattered, but those who stumble are equipped with strength.

5 Those who had an abundance of bread now hire themselves out, and those who were hungry hunger no more. While the barren woman gives birth to seven children, she who had many children languishes.

6 The LORD kills and gives life, he brings people down to where the dead are and he raises them up.

7 The LORD makes people poor and he makes people rich, he brings them low, and he also exalts them.

8 He raises the poor up from the dust, he lifts up the needy from the trash heap to make them sit with princes and inherit a seat of honour. Indeed the pillars of the earth belong to the LORD, and he has set the world on them.

9 He guards the steps of his faithful ones, while the wicked are made silent in darkness. Indeed it's not by strength that a person prevails.

10 The LORD will shatter those who contend against him, he will thunder against them in the heavens. The LORD will judge the ends of the earth, he will give strength to his king, and he will increase the strength of His anointed one."

11 Then Elkanah went to his house at Ramah, while the boy was ministering to the LORD in the presence of Eli the priest.

12 Now the sons of Eli were worthless men who did not know the LORD.

13 The custom of the priests with the people was that whenever a person offered a sacrifice, a servant of the priest would come with a three pronged fork in his hand while the meat was boiling.

14 He would stick it into the basin or pot or kettle or pan, and whatever the fork brought up, the priest would take for himself. This is what they were supposed to do with all the Israelis who came there to Shiloh.

15 But even before they burned the fat, the servant of the priest would come and say to the person offering the sacrifice, "Give me meat to roast for the priest. He won't accept boiled meat from you, but only raw."

16 If the man told him, "They must surely burn up the fat first, and then take for yourself whatever you desire," the servant would say, "No, give it now, and if you don't, I'll take it by force!"

17 By doing this, the sin of the young men was very serious in the LORD's sight because the men despised the LORD's offering.

18 Now Samuel was ministering in the LORD's presence, as a boy wearing a linen ephod.

19 His mother would make a small robe for him, and she would bring it each year when she went up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

20 Then Eli would bless Elkanah and his wife and say, "May the LORD give you descendants from this woman in place of the one she dedicated to the LORD." Then they would return to their home.

21 The LORD took note of Hannah, and she became pregnant and gave birth to three sons and two daughters. Meanwhile, the boy Samuel continued to grow, and the LORD was constantly with him.

22 Now Eli was very old, and he had heard everything that his sons were doing to all Israel, and how they lie with the women who were serving regularly at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.

23 "Why are you doing these things that I'm hearing about?" he asked his sons, "These reports about your evil deeds are coming from all these people!

24 No, my sons, I'm not hearing good news being circulated by the LORD's people.

25 If a person sins against another, God will mediate for him, but if a person sins against the LORD, who can intercede for him?" But they would not listen to their father; for the LORD wanted to put them to death.

26 But the boy Samuel continued to grow both physically and in favour with the LORD and the people.

27 A man of God came to Eli, saying to him, "This is what the LORD says: 'When they were in Egypt and slaves to the house of Pharaoh, did I not reveal to the family of your ancestor Aaron

28 that I had chosen him out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priest, to offer up burnt offerings on my altar, burn incense, and carry the ephod in my presence? And did I not give to your ancestors' family all the Israeli fire-offerings?

29 Why then do all of you show contempt for my sacrifice and offering that I've commanded for my dwelling? And you honour your sons more than me in order to fatten yourselves from the best of all the offerings of my people Israel.'

30 "Therefore, the LORD God of Israel has declared, 'I did, in fact, say that your family and your ancestor's family would walk before me forever,' but now the LORD declares, 'Far be it from me! The one who honours me I'll honour, and the one who despises me is to be treated with contempt.

31 The time is coming when I'll cut away at your family and your ancestor's family until there are no old men left in your family.

32 Distress will settle down to live in your household, and despite all the good that I do for Israel, there will never be an old man in your family forever.

33 Any of you whom I don't eliminate from serving at my altar will grow tired from weeping, and their souls will grieve. All the increase of your family will die by violence.

34 Here's a sign for you — your two sons Hophni and Phineas will both die on the same day!

35 And I'll raise up for myself a faithful priest who will do according to what is in my heart and according to my desire. I'll build for him an enduring house and he will walk before my anointed one forever.

36 Anyone who remains in your family will come and prostrate themselves before him for a small wage or a loaf of bread and will say, 'Please put me in one of the priest's offices so I can eat a piece of bread.'""

1 Samuel 3

1 Meanwhile the boy Samuel was serving the LORD before Eli. A word from the LORD was rare in those days, and visions were infrequent.

2 At that time Eli, whose vision was growing dim, was lying down in his bedroom.

3 The lamp of God had not yet been extinguished, and Samuel was lying down in the tent of the LORD where the Ark of God was.

4 The LORD called out to Samuel, who answered, "Here I am."

5 He ran to Eli and said, "Here I am! You called me." "I didn't call you," Eli said. "Go back and lie down." So he went and lay down.

6 Then the LORD again called out, "Samuel!" So Samuel got up, went to Eli, and said, "Here I am! You called me." He said, "I didn't call you, my son. Go back and lie down."

7 Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD and had not yet had the word of the LORD revealed to him.

8 Then the LORD called out to Samuel again a third time, and he got up, went to Eli, and said, "Here I am! You called me." Then Eli understood that the LORD was calling the boy,

9 so Eli told Samuel, "Go lie down, and then if he calls you, answer, 'Speak, LORD, because your servant is listening.'" Then Samuel went and lay down.

Mark 14

10 Then Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, went to the high priests to betray Jesus to them.

11 After they had listened to him, they were delighted and promised to give him money. So he began to look for a good opportunity to betray him.

12 On the first day of the Festival of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb is sacrificed, Jesus' disciples asked him, "Where do you want us to go and make preparations for you to eat the Passover meal?"

13 He sent two of his disciples, telling them, "Go into the city, and you will meet a man carrying a jug of water. Follow him.

14 When he goes into a house, say to its owner that the Teacher asks, 'Where is my room where I can eat the Passover meal with my disciples?'

15 Then he will show you a large upstairs room that is furnished and ready. Get everything ready for us there."

16 So the disciples left and went into the city. They found everything just as Jesus had told them, and they prepared the Passover meal.

17 When evening came, Jesus arrived with the Twelve.

18 While they were at the table eating, Jesus said, "I tell you with certainty, one of you is going to betray me, one who is eating with me."

19 They began to be very sad and asked him, one after the other, "Surely I am not the one, am I?"

20 He told them, "It's one of you Twelve, the one who is dipping his bread into the bowl with me.

21 For the Son of Man is going away, just as it has been written about him, but how terrible it will be for that man by whom the Son of Man is betrayed! It would have been better for him if he had never been born."

22 While they were eating, Jesus took a loaf of bread and blessed it. Then he broke it in pieces and handed it to them, saying, "Take some. This is my body."

23 Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it.

24 He told them, "This is my blood of the covenant that is being poured out for many people.

25 I tell you with certainty, I will never again drink this wine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God."

26 After singing a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

27 Then Jesus told them, "All of you will turn against me, because it is written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.'

28 However, after I have been raised, I will go to Galilee ahead of you."

29 But Peter told him, "Even if everyone else turns against you, I certainly won't."

30 Jesus told him, "I tell you with certainty, today, this very night, before a rooster crows twice, you will deny me three times."

31 But Peter kept saying emphatically, "Even if I have to die with you, I will never deny you!" And all the others kept saying the same thing.

26th April

1 Samuel 3

10 Later, the LORD came and stood there, calling out, "Samuel! Samuel!" as he had before. Samuel said, "Speak, because your servant is listening."

11 "Look," the LORD told Samuel. "I'm about to do something in Israel that will make both ears of anyone who hears it tingle.

12 I'll fulfil every promise that I've spoken concerning Eli's family, from beginning to end.

13 I've told him that I'm about to judge his family forever because of the iniquity that he knew about. His sons committed blasphemy and he did not rebuke them.

14 Therefore I've sworn concerning Eli's family that the iniquity of his family is not to be atoned for by sacrifice or offering forever."

15 Samuel lay down until morning and then opened the doors of the house of the LORD, but he was afraid to report the vision to Eli.

16 Then Eli called Samuel: "Samuel, my son." He said, "Here I am."

17 Eli said, "What did the LORD say to you? Please don't conceal anything from me. May God do this to you and even more if you conceal from me one word of all that he spoke to you."

18 Samuel told him everything — he did not conceal anything from him. Eli said, "He is the LORD. May he do what seems good to him."

19 As Samuel grew, the LORD was with him and did not let any of Samuel's predictions fail.

20 All Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba knew that Samuel was confirmed as the LORD's prophet.

21 The LORD continued to appear at Shiloh, because he revealed himself to Samuel at Shiloh by means of messages from the LORD.

1 Samuel 4

1 What Samuel had to say was directed to all Israel, and Israel went out to engage the Philistines in battle. The Israelis were camped at Ebenezer, while the Philistines were camped at Aphek.

2 The Philistines deployed their forces to meet Israel, and as the battle spread Israel was defeated by the Philistines, who killed about four thousand men on the battlefield.

3 When the people came to the camp, the elders of Israel said, "Why did the LORD defeat us today when we fought the Philistines? Let's take the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD from Shiloh, so it may go with us and deliver us from the power of our enemies."

4 So the people sent word to Shiloh and took away from there the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD of the Heavenly Armies, who sits above the cherubim. Now the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phineas, were there with the Ark of the Covenant of God.

5 When the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel gave a great shout and the earth reverberated!

6 When the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they asked, "What is this noise coming from shouting in the camp of the Hebrews?" Then they realized that the Ark of the LORD had come into the camp,

7 and the Philistines were terrified. "God has come into the camp," they said. "How terrible for us, because nothing like this has ever happened before!

8 How terrible for us! Who will deliver us from the hand of these mighty gods? These are the gods who struck the Egyptians with all kinds of plagues in the desert.

9 Philistines, be strong and be men, or you will become slaves to the Hebrews just as they have been slaves to you! Be men and fight!"

10 The Philistines fought and Israel was defeated; each of them fled to his own tent. It was a very great slaughter, and 30,000 soldiers of Israel died.

11 The Ark of God was captured, and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phineas, died.

12 That very same day, a man who was a descendant of Benjamin ran from the battle line and came to Shiloh, with his garments torn and dirt on his head.

13 When he arrived, Eli was sitting there on a seat beside the road, watching because his heart trembled for the Ark of God. The man went into the town to give the report, and the whole town cried out.

14 Eli heard the sound of the cry and asked, "What is the meaning of this commotion?" Then the man quickly came and told Eli.

15 Now Eli was 98 years old, and his vision had failed.

16 The man told Eli, "I've just come from the battle line, and I escaped from the battle today." He asked, "What happened, my son?"

17 The messenger answered, "Israel fled from the Philistines and the people suffered a great defeat as well. Moreover, your two sons, Hophni and Phineas, are dead, and the Ark of God was captured."

18 When he mentioned the Ark of God, Eli fell off the seat backwards by the side of the gate. His neck was broken and he died, since he was old and heavy. Eli had judged Israel for 40 years.

19 Eli's daughter-in-law, the wife of Phineas, was pregnant and ready to give birth. When she heard the report about the capture of the Ark of God and that her father-in-law and husband were dead, she crouched down and gave birth, because her labour pains suddenly began.

20 As she was about to die, the women standing around her said, "Don't be afraid! You've given birth to a son." But she did not respond or pay attention.

21 She had named the boy Ichabod, saying, "Glory has departed from Israel," because the Ark of God had been captured and because her father-in-law and husband were dead.

22 She said, "Glory has departed from Israel, because the Ark of God has been captured."

1 Samuel 5

1 The Philistines took the Ark of God and brought it from Ebenezer to Ashdod.

2 Then the Philistines took the Ark of God, brought it to the temple of Dagon, and placed it beside Dagon.

3 When the people of Ashdod got up the next morning, there was Dagon, lying on the ground in front of the Ark of the LORD. They took Dagon and put him back in his place.

4 But when they got up the next morning, there was Dagon, lying on the ground again in front of the Ark of the LORD. Dagon's head and both of his arms were broken off and lying on the threshold. Only the trunk of Dagon was left intact.

5 This is why neither the priests of Dagon nor anyone who enters the temple of Dagon step on the threshold of Dagon in Ashdod to this day.

6 The LORD heavily oppressed the people of Ashdod, devastating and afflicting Ashdod and its territories with tumours of the groin.

7 When the men of Ashdod saw how things were, they said, "Don't let the Ark of the God of Israel stay with us, because he is severely attacking us and our god Dagon."

8 They sent messengers and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines and asked, "What are we to do with the Ark of the God of Israel?" They said, "Let the Ark of the God of Israel move to Gath." So they moved the Ark of the God of Israel.

9 After they moved it, the LORD moved against the town, causing a very great panic. He struck the men of the town, from young to old with tumours of the groin.

10 Then they sent the Ark of God to Ekron. When the Ark of God arrived in Ekron, the people of Ekron cried out, "They have brought the Ark of the God of Israel to us to kill us and our people!"

11 They sent messengers and gathered together all the Philistine lords: "Send away the Ark of the God of Israel, and let it return to where it belongs so that it does not kill us and our people." Meanwhile, a deadly panic had spread all over the town, and God kept on pressuring them there.

12 The people who did not die were afflicted with tumours of the groin, and the cry of the town went up to heaven.

1 Samuel 6

1 The Ark of the LORD remained in Philistine territory for seven months.

2 The Philistines summoned the priests and diviners and asked, "What should we do about the Ark of the LORD? Tell us how we should send it back to its place."

3 They said, "If you send the Ark of the God of Israel back, don't send it empty, but rather be sure to send back to him a guilt offering. Then you will be healed and will know why his oppression has not been removed from you."

4 They asked, "What is the guilt offering that we should send back to him?" "Five gold tumours and five gold mice," they answered, "according to the number of the lords of the Philistines, since the same plague was on all of you and on your lords."

5 Make images of your tumours and images of the mice that are destroying your land, and you are to give glory to the God of Israel. Perhaps he will remove his pressure from you, your gods, and your land.

6 Why should you harden your hearts just as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? Isn't it true that after God toyed with them, they let Israel go, and off they went?

7 "So make a new cart, and take two milk cows that have never had a yoke on them. Hitch the cows to the cart and take their calves away from them and back to the house.

8 Take the Ark of the LORD, put it on the cart, and put the gold objects that you are returning to him as a guilt offering in a box beside it. Then send it away and let it go.

9 Keep watching it. If it goes up along the road to its own territory to Beth-shemesh, it's the LORD who has done this great evil to us. But if it does not, then we will know that he wasn't pressuring us. It happened to us as a natural event."

10 The men did this. They took two milk cows, hitched them to the cart, and penned up their calves in the house.

11 They put the Ark of the LORD, the box, the gold mice, and the images of their tumours on the cart.

12 The cows took a straight path along the road to Beth-shemesh. They stayed on the highway, lowing as they went, and did not turn to the right or the left. The Philistine lords followed them as far as the border of Beth-shemesh.

13 Now the people of Beth-shemesh were gathering their wheat harvest in the valley. They looked up, saw the Ark, and rejoiced to see it.

14 The cart came to the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh, and stopped there. In that place there was a large stone. They broke up the wood from the cart, and offered up the cows as a burnt offering to the LORD.

15 The descendants of Levi took down the Ark of the LORD, along with the box that was with it, containing the objects of gold, and they put them on the large stone. The men of Beth-shemesh offered burnt offerings and made sacrifices to the LORD that day.

16 When the five Philistine lords saw this, they returned to Ekron that very day.

17 These are the gold tumours that the Philistines returned as a guilt offering to the LORD: one for Ashdod, one for Gaza, one for Ashkelon, one for Gath, and one for Ekron.

18 The gold mice represented the number of all the Philistine towns belonging to the five lords, both fortified towns and unwallled villages. The large stone, beside which they put the Ark of the LORD, is a witness to this day in the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh.

19 God struck down the men of Beth-shemesh because they had looked into the Ark of the LORD. He struck down 50,070 men among the people, and the people mourned because the LORD struck down the people with a great slaughter.

20 The men of Beth-shemesh asked themselves, "Who can stand in the presence of the LORD, this holy God? And to whom will the Ark go from here?"

21 They sent messengers to the residents of Kiriath-jearim, who told them, "The Philistines have returned the Ark of the LORD. Come down and take it up with you."

Mark 14

32 Then they came to a place called Gethsemane, and he told his disciples, "Sit down here while I pray."

33 He took Peter, James, and John along with him, and he began to feel distressed and troubled.

34 So he told them, "I am deeply grieved, even to the point of death. Wait here and stay awake."

35 Going on a little farther, he fell to the ground and kept praying that if it were possible the hour might pass from him.

36 He kept repeating, "Abba! Father! All things are possible for you. Take this cup away from me. Yet not what I want but what you want."

37 When he went back, he found his disciples asleep. "Simon, are you asleep?" he asked Peter. "You couldn't stay awake for one hour, could you?"

38 All of you must stay awake and pray that you won't be tempted. The spirit is indeed willing, but the flesh is weak."

39 He went away again and prayed the same prayer as before.

40 Again he came back and found them asleep, because they could not keep their eyes open. They didn't even know what they should say to him.

41 He came back a third time. "Are you still sleeping and resting?" he asked. "Enough of that! The time has come. Look! The Son of Man is being betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Get up! Let's go! See, the one who is betraying me is near!"

43 Just then, while Jesus was still speaking, Judas, one of the Twelve, arrived. A crowd armed with swords and clubs was with him. They were from the high priests, the scribes, and the elders.

44 Now the betrayer personally had given them a signal, saying, "The one I kiss is the man. Arrest him, and lead him safely away."

45 So Judas immediately went up to Jesus and said, "Rabbi," and kissed him tenderly.

46 Then the men took hold of Jesus and arrested him.

47 But one of those standing there drew his sword and struck the high priest's servant, cutting off his ear.

48 Jesus asked them, "Have you come out with swords and clubs to arrest me as if I were a bandit?"

49 Day after day I was with you in the Temple teaching, yet you didn't arrest me. But the Scriptures must be fulfilled."

50 Then all the disciples deserted Jesus and ran away.

51 A certain young man, who was wearing nothing but a linen sheet, was following Jesus. When the men grabbed him, 52 he left the linen sheet behind and ran away naked.

1 Samuel 7

1 The men of Kiriath-jearim came and took the Ark of the LORD. They brought it to the house of Abinadab on the hill, and they consecrated his son Eleazar to care for the Ark of the LORD.

2 A long time passed — it was twenty years — from the time the Ark came to reside in Kiriath-jearim, and all the house of Israel mourned because of the LORD.

3 Then Samuel told the whole house of Israel, "If you're returning to the LORD with all your heart, then remove the foreign gods and the Ashtaroath from among you, direct your hearts back to the LORD, and serve him only. Then he will deliver you from the control of the Philistines."

4 So the Israelis removed the Baals and Ashtaroath, and served the LORD only.

5 Samuel said, "Bring all Israel together at Mizpah, and I'll pray to the LORD on your behalf."

6 So they came together at Mizpah, drew water, and poured it out in the LORD's presence. On that day they fasted there and said, "We have sinned against the LORD." Then Samuel judged the Israelis at Mizpah.

7 When the Philistines heard that the Israelis had gathered at Mizpah, the Philistine lords came up against Israel. When the Israelis heard this, they were afraid of the Philistines.

8 The Israelis told Samuel, "Don't stop crying out to the LORD our God for us that he may deliver us from the hand of the Philistines."

9 Then Samuel took a nursing lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the LORD. Samuel cried out to the LORD on behalf of Israel, and the LORD answered him.

10 While Samuel was sacrificing the burnt offering, the Philistines approached to attack Israel. But that day the LORD thundered against the Philistines and threw them into panic, and they were defeated before Israel.

11 The men of Israel went out from Mizpah, pursued the Philistines, and struck them down as far as a point below Beth-car.

12 Then Samuel took a stone, placed it between Mizpah and Shen and named it Ebenezer. He said, "The LORD has helped us this far."

13 The Philistines were subdued, and they did not continue to enter the territory of Israel. The LORD continued to oppose the Philistines all during Samuel's life time.

14 The towns that the Philistines had taken from Israel were returned to Israel, from Ekron to Gath, and Israel delivered their territory from Philistine control. There was also peace between Israel and the Amorites.

15 Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life.

16 He went on a circuit each year to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah, and he judged Israel in all those places.

17 He would return to Ramah because his house was there, and judged Israel from there. He also built an altar to the LORD there.

1 Samuel 8

1 When Samuel became old, he appointed his sons judges over Israel.

2 The name of his firstborn son was Joel and the name of his second was Abijah. They were judges in Beer-sheba.

3 His sons did not follow Samuel's example. Instead, they pursued dishonest gain, took bribes, and perverted justice.

4 All the elders of Israel gathered together, and came to Samuel at Ramah.

5 They told him, "Look, you're old, and your sons don't follow your example. So appoint a king to govern us like all the other nations."

6 Samuel was displeased when they said, "Give us a king to govern us." So Samuel prayed to the LORD.

7 The LORD told Samuel, "Listen to the people in all that they say to you. In fact, it's not you they have rejected, but rather they have rejected me from being their king.

8 Like all the things they have done from the day I brought them up out of Egypt until this very day, they have forsaken me and followed other gods. They're also doing the same thing to you.

9 Now, listen to them, but you are to clearly warn them and inform them about how the king who rules over them will operate."

10 Samuel reported everything the LORD told him to the people who were asking him for a king.

11 He said, "This is how the king who rules over you will operate: He will conscript your sons and assign them to his chariots. He will conscript them as his horsemen, and they'll run in front of his chariots.

12 He will appoint his officers over thousands and officers over fifties — some will plough his fields, reap his harvest, and craft his war implements and equipment for his chariots.

13 He will take your daughters for perfumers, cooks, and bakers.

14 He will take the best products of your fields, your vineyards, and your olive groves and give them to his servants.

15 He will take a tenth of your seed and your vineyards and give it to his officers and servants.

16 He will take your male and female servants, your best young men, and your donkeys to do his work.

17 He will take a tenth of your flock, and you will become his servants.

18 When all of this comes about, you will cry out because of your king whom you chose for yourselves, but the LORD won't answer you at that time."

19 The people refused to listen to Samuel. Instead, they insisted, "No! Let a king rule over us instead!

20 We, too, will be like all the nations! Our king will govern us and go out before us to fight our battles."

21 So Samuel listened to all the words of the people, and he repeated them directly to the LORD.

22 The LORD told Samuel, "Listen to them, and appoint a king for them." Then Samuel told the men of Israel, "Each of you go to his own town."

1 Samuel 9

1 There was a man from Benjamin named Kish, Abiel's son, the grandson of Zeror and great-grandson of Aphiah's son Becorath. A prominent man from Benjamin,

2 he had a son named Saul, who was a choice and handsome young man. There was no one among the Israelis as handsome as he, and he was a head taller than any of the other people.

3 The donkeys belonging to Kish, Saul's father, were lost, and Kish told his son Saul, "Take one of the young men with you, get up, and go look for the donkeys."

4 He went through the hill country of Ephraim and through the region of Shalishah, but they did not find them. Then they went through the region of Shaalim, but they were not there. They also went through the territory of the descendants of Benjamin, but they did not find them.

5 When they entered the region of Zuph, Saul told the young man with him, "Come on, let's go back so my father does not stop worrying about the donkeys and become anxious about us."

6 The young man said, "Look, there's a man of God in this town. The man is respected, and everything he predicts happens. Now, let's go there. Perhaps he can tell us about the journey on which we have set out."

7 Saul told the young man, "Look, we could go, but what could we bring the man? The bread is gone from our bags, and there is no present to bring to the man of God. What do we have with us?"

8 The young man answered Saul again, "Look here! I have in my hand a quarter shekel of silver. I'll give it to the man of God, and he will tell us about our journey."

9 (Previously in Israel, a person would say when he went to inquire of God, "Come on! Let's go to the seer!" because the person known as a prophet today was formerly called a seer).

10 Saul told his young man, "That's a good suggestion! Come on, let's go!" Then they entered the town where the man of God was.

11 As they were going up the hill to the town, they met some young women going out to draw water, and they told them, "Is the seer here?"

12 They answered them: "Yes, he's right there ahead of you. Hurry, for he came to town just today because there is a sacrifice for the people on the high place today.

13 When you come into town you can find him before he goes up to the high place to eat. For the people don't eat until he arrives, because he must bless the sacrifice and then after that those who are invited will eat. So go up right now because you can find him now."

14 They went up to the town, and as they were coming to the centre of the town, Samuel was coming out to meet them, on his way up to the high place.

15 Now one day before Saul's arrival, the LORD had revealed to Samuel:

16 "About this time tomorrow I'll send you a man from the land of Benjamin, and you are to anoint him as Commander-in-Chief over my people Israel. He'll deliver my people from the control of the Philistines, because I've seen the suffering of my people and because their cry has come up to me."

17 When Samuel saw Saul, the LORD told him, "Here is the man I told you about. This man will rule over my people."

18 As Saul approached Samuel in the middle of the gate, he said, "Please tell me where the seer's house is."

19 Samuel answered Saul: "I'm the seer. Go up ahead of me to the high place, and eat with me today. In the morning I'll send you away and tell you everything that is on your mind.

20 Now as for your donkeys that were lost three days ago, don't give any thought to them, because they've been found. Meanwhile, to whom is all Israel looking, if not to you and all of your father's household?"

21 Saul answered: "Am I not a descendant of Benjamin from the least of the tribes of Israel? Isn't my family the least important of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? Why have you spoken to me like this?"

22 Then Samuel took Saul and his young man and brought them to a room where he gave them a place at the head of those who were invited, of whom there were about 30 men.

23 Then Samuel told the cook, "Bring the portion that I gave you, the one I told you to set aside."

24 The cook picked up the thigh and what was on it and set it in front of Saul. Then Samuel said, "Here is what is left! Set it before you and eat, for it has been kept for you until the appointed time, about which I said, 'I've invited the people.'" So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

25 When they had come down from the high place into town, Samuel spoke to Saul on the roof.

26 They got up early in the morning, and about daybreak Samuel called to Saul on the roof, "Get up and I'll send you off." Saul got up and the two of them, he and Samuel, went outside.

27 As they were going down to the edge of the town, Samuel told Saul, "Tell your young man to go ahead of us and when he has gone ahead, stop for a while so I may declare God's word to you."

Mark 14

53 Then they took Jesus to the high priest. All the high priests, elders, and scribes had gathered together.

54 Peter followed Jesus at a distance as far as the high priest's courtyard. He was sitting with the servants and warming himself at the fire.

55 Meanwhile, the high priests and the whole Council were looking for some testimony against Jesus in order to have him put to death, but they couldn't find any.

56 Although many people gave false testimony against him, their testimony didn't agree.

57 Then some men stood up and gave false testimony against him, saying,

58 "We ourselves heard him say, 'I will destroy this sanctuary made by human hands, and in three days I will build another one not made by human hands.'"

59 But even on this point their testimony didn't agree.

60 Then the high priest stood up before them and asked Jesus, "Don't you have any answer to what these men are testifying against you?"

61 But he kept silent and didn't answer at all. The high priest asked him again, "Are you the Messiah, the Son of the Blessed One?"

62 Jesus said, "I AM, and 'you will see the Son of Man seated at the right hand of the Power' and 'coming with the clouds of heaven.'"

63 Then the high priest tore his clothes. "Why do we still need witnesses?" he asked.

64 "You have heard his blasphemy! What is your verdict?" All of them condemned him as deserving death.

65 Some of them began to spit on him. They blindfolded him and kept hitting him with their fists and telling him, "Prophecy!" Even the servants took him and slapped him around.

66 While Peter was down in the courtyard, one of the high priest's servant girls came by.

67 When she saw Peter warming himself, she glared at him and said, "You, too, were with Jesus from Nazareth."

68 But he denied it, saying, "I don't know — or even understand — what you're talking about!" Then he went out into the entryway. Just then a rooster crowed.

69 The servant girl saw him and again told those who were standing around, "This man is one of them!"

70 Again he denied it. After a little while the people who were standing there began to say to Peter again, "Obviously you're one of them, because you are a Galilean!"

71 Then he began to invoke a divine curse and to swear with an oath, "I don't know this man you're talking about!"

72 Just then a rooster crowed a second time. Peter remembered that Jesus told him, "Before a rooster crows twice, you will deny me three times." Then he broke down and cried.

1 Samuel 10

- 1 Samuel took a flask of oil, poured it on Saul's head, kissed him, and said, "The LORD has anointed you Commander-in-Chief over his inheritance, has he not?"
- 2 When you leave me today, you will find two men by Rachel's tomb in the territory of Benjamin at Zelzah. They'll tell you, 'The donkeys you went to look for have been found. Now your father has stopped worrying about the donkeys and he's anxious about you. He's asking, 'What will I do about my son?'
- 3 Then you'll go on further from there and come to the oak at Tabor. There three men going up to the LORD at Bethel will meet you. One will be herding three young goats, one will be carrying three loaves of bread, and one will be carrying a bottle of wine.
- 4 They'll greet you and give you two loaves of bread, which you're to accept from them.
- 5 "After that you will come to Gibeath-elohim where the Philistine garrison is. As you arrive there at the town, you'll meet a band of prophets coming down from the high place with a harp, tambourine, flute, and lyre being played in front of them, and they'll be prophesying.
- 6 The Spirit of the LORD will come upon you, and you'll prophesy with them and be changed into a different person.
- 7 When these signs occur, do whatever you want to do, because the LORD is with you.
- 8 You are to go down ahead of me to Gilgal, and then I'll come down to offer burnt offerings and to sacrifice peace offerings. You are to wait seven days until I come to you to let you know what you are to do."
- 9 Now it happened as Saul turned his back to leave Samuel, that God gave him another heart, and all these signs occurred on that day.
- 10 When they arrived there at Gibeath, a band of prophets was right there to meet them. The Spirit of God came upon Saul, and he prophesied along with them.
- 11 When all those who had known Saul previously saw that he was there among the prophets prophesying, the people told one another, "What has happened to Kish's son? Is Saul also among the prophets?"
- 12 A man from there answered: "Now who is their father?" Therefore it became a proverb, "Is Saul also among the prophets?"
- 13 When he had finished prophesying, he went to the high place.
- 14 Saul's uncle told him and to his young man, "Where did you go?" He said, "To look for the donkeys, and when we saw that they couldn't be found, we went to Samuel."
- 15 Then Saul's uncle said, "Please tell me what Samuel told you."
- 16 Saul told his uncle, "He actually told us that the donkeys had been found," but he did not tell him about the matter of kingship about which Samuel had spoken.
- 17 Samuel summoned the people to the LORD at Mizpah.
- 18 He told the Israelis, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'I brought Israel up out of Egypt, and I rescued you from the power of Egypt and from the power of all the kingdoms that were oppressing you.'
- 19 But today you have rejected your God who delivers you from all your troubles and difficulties. You have said, 'No! Instead, appoint a king over us.' Now present yourselves in the LORD's presence by your tribes and clans."
- 20 Samuel brought forward all the tribes of Israel, and the tribe of Benjamin was chosen.
- 21 Then he brought forward the tribe of Benjamin according to its families, and the family of Matri was chosen. Finally, Kish's son Saul was chosen, but when they looked for him, they couldn't find him.
- 22 So they inquired further of the LORD, "Has the man come here yet?" The LORD said, "He is here, hiding among the baggage."

23 They ran and brought him from there. When he stood among the people, he was taller than any of the others by a head.

24 Then Samuel told all the people, "Do you see the man whom the LORD has chosen? For there is no one like him among all the people." Then all the people shouted, "Long live the king!"

25 Samuel explained to the people the regulations concerning kingship. He wrote them in a scroll and placed it in the LORD's presence. Then Samuel sent all the people to their own houses.

26 Saul also went to his house in Gibeah, and the soldiers whose hearts God had touched went with him.

27 But some troublemakers said, "How can this man deliver us?" They despised him and did not bring him a gift. But Saul remained silent.

28 Meanwhile, Nahash, king of the Ammonites, had been severely oppressing the descendants of Gad and descendants of Reuben, gouging out their right eyes and not allowing Israel to have a deliverer. No one was left among the Israelis across the Jordan whose right eye Nahash, king of the Ammonites, had not gouged out. However, 7,000 men had escaped from the Ammonites and entered Jabesh-gilead.

1 Samuel 11

1 So after a month, Nahash the Ammonite came up and laid siege to Jabesh-gilead. All the men of Jabesh told Nahash, "Make a covenant with us, and we will serve you."

2 Nahash the Ammonite told them, "I'll make a covenant with you on the condition that I gouge out the right eye of every one of you and so bring disgrace on all Israel."

3 The elders of Jabesh told him, "Leave us alone for seven days so that we may send messengers through all the territory of Israel. Then if no one delivers us, we will come out to you and surrender."

4 When the messengers came to Gibeah of Saul and reported the terms to the people, all the people cried loudly.

5 Just then Saul was coming in from the field behind the oxen and he said, "What's with the people? Why are they crying?" They reported to him what the men of Jabesh had said.

6 When Saul heard these words, the Spirit of God came on him, and he was very angry.

7 He took a yoke of oxen, cut them in pieces, and sent the pieces by messengers through all the territory of Israel: "This is what will be done to the oxen of anyone who does not come out and join Saul and Samuel!" The fear of the LORD fell on the people and they came out as one man.

8 Saul mustered them at Bezek, and there were 300,00 Israelis and 30,000 men of Judah.

9 They told the messengers who had come, "You are to say this to the men of Jabesh-gilead, 'Tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, you will be delivered.'" The messengers went and reported to the men of Jabesh, and they rejoiced.

10 The men of Jabesh said, "Tomorrow we will come out to you and surrender. Then you can do whatever you want to us."

11 The next day Saul separated the people into three companies. They came into the camp during the morning watch, and struck down the Ammonites until the heat of the day. Those who survived were scattered so that no two of them remained together.

12 The people told Samuel, "Who said, 'Will Saul reign over us?' Bring them to us and we will put them to death!"

13 But Saul said, "Let no one be put to death this day, because today the LORD has delivered Israel."

14 Then Samuel told the people, "Come, let's go to Gilgal and reaffirm the kingship there."

15 So all the people went to Gilgal and there they made Saul king in the LORD's presence in Gilgal. There they sacrificed peace offerings in the LORD's presence, and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

1 Samuel 12

1 Then Samuel told all Israel, "Take note! I've listened to you, to everything you have told me, and I've appointed a king over you.

2 Now here is the king walking before you, while I'm old and grey, and my sons are with you. I've walked before you from my youth until this day.

3 Here I am. Testify against me in the LORD's presence and before his anointed. Whose ox have I taken, or whose donkey have I taken? Who have I cheated? Who have I oppressed? Who bribed me to look the other way? I'll restore it to you."

4 They said, "You haven't cheated us or oppressed us, and you haven't taken anything from anyone's hand."

5 He told them, "Today the LORD is testifying, along with his anointed, that you haven't found any bribes in my possession." They said, "He's a witness."

6 Then Samuel told the people, "It is the LORD who appointed Moses and Aaron and who brought your ancestors up out of the land of Egypt.

7 Now stand up and I'll pass judgement on you in light of the LORD's righteous acts that he did for you and your ancestors.

8 After Jacob went to Egypt, and your ancestors cried out to the LORD, he sent Moses and Aaron, who brought your ancestors out of Egypt and settled them in this place.

9 But they forgot the LORD their God, so he handed them over to the domination of Sisera, the commander of the army of Hazor, and into domination by the Philistines and by the king of Moab, and Israel fought against them.

10 "Then they cried out to the LORD: 'We have sinned because we have forsaken the LORD and have served the Baals and the Ashtaroath. Now deliver us from the hand of our enemies, and we will serve you.'

11 Then the LORD sent Jerubbaal, Barak, Jephthah, and Samuel and he delivered you from the hand of your enemies on every side, so that you lived securely.

12 But when you saw that Nahash, king of the Ammonites, was coming to fight you, you told me, 'No, let a king rule over us instead,' even though the LORD your God was your king.

13 "Now, here is the king you have chosen, the one whom you asked for. See, the Lord has appointed a king over you.

14 If you fear the LORD, serve him, obey him, and don't rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then both you and the king who rules over you will truly follow the LORD your God.

15 But if you don't obey the LORD and rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then the LORD will turn against you as he did against your ancestors.

16 "Now then, stand up and see this great thing that the LORD is about to do before your eyes.

17 Is it not the wheat harvest today? I'll call upon the LORD, and he will send thunder and rain. Then you will know and understand that you have done a great evil in the sight of the LORD by asking for a king for yourselves."

18 Samuel called upon the LORD that same day, and the LORD sent thunder and rain. So all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel.

19 Then all the people told Samuel, "Pray to the LORD your God for your servants, so that we don't die, because we made all our sins worse by asking for a king for ourselves."

20 Samuel told all the people, "Don't be afraid. You have done all this evil. Yet don't turn aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart.

21 Don't turn aside after useless things that cannot profit or deliver because they're useless.

- 22 Indeed, the LORD won't abandon His people for the sake of His great name, for the LORD desires to make you a people for himself.
- 23 Now as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the LORD by ceasing to pray for you. I'll also instruct you in the way that is good and right.
- 24 Only, fear the LORD and serve him faithfully with all your heart. Indeed, consider what great things he has done for you.
- 25 But if you persist in doing evil, both you and your king will be swept away.”

Mark 15

1 As soon as it was morning, the high priests convened a meeting with the elders and scribes and the whole Council. They bound Jesus with chains, led him away, and handed him over to Pilate.

2 Pilate asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?" Jesus answered him, "You say so."

3 The high priests kept accusing him of many things.

4 So Pilate asked him again, "Don't you have any answer? Look how many accusations they're bringing against you!"

5 But since Jesus no longer answered, Pilate was astonished.

6 At every festival Pilate would release any one prisoner whom the people requested.

7 Now there was a man in prison named Barabbas. He had been with the insurgents who had committed murder during the rebellion.

8 So the crowd came and began to request that Pilate do for them what he always did.

9 Pilate answered them, "Do you want me to release the king of the Jews for you?"

10 because he knew that the high priests had handed him over due to jealousy.

11 But the high priests stirred up the crowd to get him to release Barabbas for them instead.

12 So Pilate asked them again, "Then what should I do with the man you call 'the King of the Jews'?"

13 They shouted back, "Crucify him!"

14 Pilate asked them, "Why? What has he done wrong?" But they shouted even louder, "Crucify him!"

15 So Pilate, wanting to satisfy the crowd, released Barabbas for them, but he had Jesus whipped and handed over to be crucified.

16 The soldiers led Jesus into the courtyard of the palace (that is, the governor's headquarters) and called out the whole guard.

17 They dressed him in a purple robe, twisted some thorns into a victor's crown, and placed it on his head.

18 They began to greet him, "Long live the king of the Jews!"

19 They kept hitting him on the head with a stick, spitting on him, kneeling in front of him, and worshipping him.

20 When they had finished making fun of him, they stripped him of the purple robe, put his own clothes back on him, and led him away to crucify him.

1 Samuel 13

- 1 Saul was 30 years old when he began to reign, and he ruled for 42 years over Israel.
- 2 Saul chose for himself 3,000 men from Israel. There were 2,000 with Saul in Michmash and the hill country of Bethel, while 1,000 were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin. He had sent the rest of the people home.
- 3 Jonathan attacked the Philistine garrison in Geba, and the Philistines heard about it. Saul blew the trumpet throughout the land: "Listen, Hebrews!"
- 4 All Israel heard the report, "Saul has attacked the Philistine garrison and Israel has also become repulsive to the Philistines." Then the people were summoned to Saul at Gilgal.
- 5 The Philistines assembled to fight against Israel with 30,000 chariots, 6,000 horsemen, and people as numerous as the sand on the seashore. And they advanced and camped in Michmash, east of Beth-aven.
- 6 When the men of Israel saw that they were in distress (for the people were in a tight spot), the people hid themselves in caves, in thickets, in crags, in tombs, and in pits.
- 7 Hebrews went across the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead, but Saul remained in Gilgal, and all the people followed him trembling.
- 8 Saul waited seven days for the appointment set by Samuel. When Samuel did not arrive at Gilgal, as the people began to scatter from Saul,
- 9 Saul said, "Bring the burnt offering and the peace offering to me," and he offered the burnt offering.
- 10 Just as he finished offering the burnt offering, Samuel arrived, and Saul went out to meet and greet him.
- 11 Samuel said, "What have you done?" Saul replied, "When? I saw that the people were scattering from me, that you didn't come at the appointed time, and that the Philistines were assembling at Michmash.
- 12 I thought, 'The Philistines will come down against me at Gilgal but I've not sought the favour of the LORD,' so I forced myself to offer the burnt offering."
- 13 Then Samuel told Saul, "You have acted foolishly. You haven't obeyed the commandment of the LORD your God, which he commanded you. For then the LORD would have established your kingdom over Israel forever,
- 14 but now your kingdom won't be established. The LORD has sought for himself a man after his own heart, and the LORD has appointed him as Commander-in-Chief over his people because you didn't obey that which the LORD commanded you."
- 15 Then Samuel got up and went from Gilgal to Gibeah of Benjamin. Saul mustered the people present with him, about 600 men.
- 16 Saul, his son Jonathan, and the people present with them remained in Geba of Benjamin, while the Philistines camped in Michmash.
- 17 Raiders went out of the Philistine camp in three companies. One company turned in the direction of Ophrah, to the land of Shual,
- 18 one company turned in the direction of Beth-horon, while the one company turned toward the border that overlooks the valley of Zeboiim toward the desert.
- 19 No blacksmith could be found in all the land of Israel because the Philistines thought, "This will keep the Hebrews from making swords or spears."
- 20 All Israel would have to go to the Philistines so each person could sharpen his plough, his mattock, his axe, and his sickle.
- 21 The charge was two thirds of a shekel for ploughs, mattocks, three pronged forks, and axes, or for setting the goads.
- 22 On the day of battle no sword or spear was found in the hands of any of the people who were with Saul and Jonathan, but Saul and his son Jonathan did have them.
- 23 Now a garrison of the Philistines had gone out to the pass of Michmash.

1 Samuel 14

1 One day Jonathan told his armour bearer, "Come, let's go over to the Philistine garrison which is on the other side," but he did not tell his father.

2 Saul was sitting on the outskirts of Geba under the pomegranate tree which was at Migron, and with him were about 600 men.

3 Along with him were Ahitub's son Ahijah, Ichabod's brother, who was Phineas' son and a grandson of Eli the priest of the LORD at Shiloh, who was carrying the ephod. The people did not know that Jonathan had gone.

4 Now in the pass through which Jonathan planned to get across to the Philistine garrison, there was a sharp crag on one side and a sharp crag on the other side. The name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other was Seneh.

5 One crag rose on the north opposite Michmash, and the other on the south opposite Geba.

6 Jonathan told his armour bearer, "Come, let's go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised ones. Perhaps the LORD will work for us, since nothing prevents the LORD from delivering, whether by many or by a few."

7 His armour bearer told him, "Do whatever you want. Let's move out! I'm right here with you, as you wish."

8 Jonathan said, "Look, we're going over to the men, and we will show ourselves to them.

9 If they say to us, 'Stay there until we come to you,' then we will stay where we are and not go up to them.

10 But if they say, 'Come up and fight us,' then we will go up, for the LORD has given them into our hands, and this will be the sign for us."

11 When the two of them showed themselves to the Philistine garrison, the Philistines said, "Look, the Hebrews are coming out of the holes where they have been hiding."

12 The men of the garrison responded to Jonathan and his armour bearer: "Come up and fight us, and we will show you something." Jonathan then told his armour bearer, "Follow me, for the LORD has given them into Israel's control."

13 Jonathan crawled up on his hands and feet, with his armour bearer following him. The Philistines fell before Jonathan, and his armour bearer who was behind him also killed some.

14 In the initial attack, Jonathan and his armour bearer struck down about twenty men in an area of about half an acre of land.

15 There was terror in the camp, in the field, and among all the people. Even the garrison and the raiders were terrified. The earth shook, and there was even greater terror.

16 Saul's sentries in Gibeah of Benjamin watched as the camp was in disarray, going this way and that.

17 Saul told the people who were with him, "Do a roll call and see who has left us." They did a roll call, and Jonathan and his armour bearer were not there.

18 Saul told Ahijah, "Bring the Ark of God here." For at that time the Ark of God was with the Israelis.

19 While Saul was still speaking to the priest, the commotion in the Philistine camp increased more and more, and Saul told the priest, "Remove your hand."

20 Then Saul and all the people who were with him assembled and went into battle. Now the swords of all the Philistines were against each other, and there was very great confusion.

21 The Hebrews who had previously been with the Philistines, who had gone up with them from the surrounding areas to the camp, even they joined Israel and those who were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 All the Israelis who had been hiding in the hill country of Ephraim heard that the Philistines were fleeing, and even they pursued the Philistines in the battle.

23 On that day the LORD delivered Israel, and the battle moved past Beth-aven.

24 The men of Israel were hard pressed on that day, and Saul required the army to take an oath: "Cursed is the person who eats food before evening and before I've been avenged of my enemies." So no one tasted food.

25 Later on, all the soldiers entered the woods, and there was honey on the ground.

26 The people came into the woods and there was flowing honey, but no one put his hand to his mouth to eat it because the people were afraid due to the oath.

27 But Jonathan had not heard that his father had required the army to swear an oath, so he stretched out the end of the staff that was in his hand and dipped it in the honeycomb. He brought it back to his mouth and his eyes brightened.

28 Then one of the people responded: "Your father strictly ordered the army to take an oath. That's why he said, 'Cursed is the person who eats food today,' and so the army is exhausted."

29 Jonathan said, "My father has troubled the land. See how my eyes have brightened because I tasted a little of this honey.

30 How much better if the army had eaten freely today of their enemy's spoil that they found, because the slaughter among the Philistines has not been great."

31 That day they struck down the Philistines from Michmash to Aijalon, and the army was very weary.

32 The army grabbed the spoil, took sheep, oxen, and calves, and slaughtered them on the ground, and then the army ate them with the blood.

33 Someone reported this to Saul: "Right now the army is sinning against the LORD by eating meat with the blood." He said, "You have acted treacherously. Roll a large stone to me today."

34 Then Saul said, "Disperse yourselves among the soldiers and say to them, 'Let each man bring his ox and his sheep to me, and you are to slaughter them here and eat. But don't sin against the LORD by eating meat with the blood.'" So every soldier brought his ox with him that night, and they slaughtered them there.

35 Saul built an altar to the LORD; it was the first altar that he built to the LORD.

36 Saul said, "Let's go down after the Philistines tonight and plunder them until dawn, and let's not leave a single one of them alive." They said, "Do whatever seems good to you!" But the priest said, "Let's draw near to God here."

37 Saul inquired of God, "Shall I go down after the Philistines? Will you give them into the hand of Israel?" But God did not answer him that day.

38 Saul said, "All you army officers are to come here to find out what constitutes this sin today.

39 Indeed, as the LORD who delivers Israel lives, even if the sin is with my son Jonathan, he will surely die!" Not a single one of the soldiers answered him.

40 Then he told all Israel, "You will be on one side, and I and my son Jonathan will be on the other side." The people told Saul, "Do what seems good to you."

41 Then Saul told the LORD God of Israel, "Judge us properly." Jonathan and Saul were selected, but the army was cleared.

42 Saul said, "Cast lots between me and my son Jonathan," and Jonathan was selected.

Mark 15

21 They forced a certain passer-by named Simon of Cyrene, the father of Alexander and Rufus, who happened to be coming in from the country, to carry Jesus' cross.

22 They took Jesus to a place called Golgotha, which means Skull Place.

23 They tried to give him wine mixed with myrrh, but he wouldn't accept it.

24 Then they crucified him. They divided his clothes among themselves by throwing dice to see what each one would get.

25 It was nine in the morning when they crucified him.

26 The written notice of the charge against him read, "The king of the Jews."

27 They crucified two bandits with him, one on his right and the other on his left.

29 Those who passed by kept insulting him, shaking their heads, and saying, "Ha! You who were going to destroy the sanctuary and rebuild it in three days —

30 save yourself and come down from the cross!"

31 In the same way the high priests, along with the scribes, were also making fun of him among themselves. They kept saying, "He saved others but can't save himself!

32 Let the Messiah, the king of Israel, come down from the cross now, since seeing is believing!" Even the men who were crucified with him kept insulting him.

33 At noon, darkness came over the whole land until three in the afternoon.

34 At three o'clock Jesus cried out with a loud voice, "Eloi, eloi, lema sabachthani?", which means, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?"

35 When some of the people standing there heard this, they said, "Listen! He's calling for Elijah!"

36 So someone ran and soaked a sponge in some sour wine. Then he put it on a stick and offered Jesus a drink, saying, "Wait! Let's see if Elijah comes to take him down!"

37 Then Jesus gave a loud cry and breathed his last.

38 The curtain in the sanctuary was torn in two from top to bottom.

39 When the centurion who stood facing Jesus saw how he had cried out and breathed his last, he said, "This man certainly was the Son of God!"

40 Now there were women watching from a distance. Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of young James and Joseph, and Salome.

41 They used to accompany him and care for him while he was in Galilee. Many other women who had come up to Jerusalem with him were there, too.

30th April

1 Samuel 14

43 Saul told Jonathan, "Tell me what you've done." So Jonathan spoke to him: "I did taste a little honey from the end of the staff that was in my hand. Here I am; I'm ready to die!"

44 Saul said, "May God do this to me and even more, if you don't surely die, Jonathan!"

45 Then the army told Saul, "Shall Jonathan die, who brought about this great deliverance in Israel? As the LORD lives, not one hair of his head will fall to the ground, because today he did this with God's help."

46 Then Saul stopped pursuing the Philistines, and the Philistines went back to their territory.

47 When Saul became king over Israel, he fought against all his enemies on every side — against Moab, the Ammonites, Edom, the kings of Zobah, and the Philistines. Everywhere he turned he was victorious.

48 He acted valiantly, defeated Amalek, and delivered Israel from those who had been plundering them.

49 Saul's sons included Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchi-shua. Of his two daughters, the firstborn was named Merab, and the younger one was named Michal.

50 Saul's wife was Ahinoam, daughter of Ahimaaz, while the commander of his army was Saul's uncle Ner's son Abner.

51 Saul's father Kish and Abner's father Ner were sons of Abiel.

52 There was intense fighting against the Philistines during Saul's entire reign, and whenever Saul discovered a strong or valiant warrior, he would enlist him for service.

1 Samuel 15

1 Samuel told Saul, "The LORD sent me to anoint you king over his people, Israel. Now listen to the words of the LORD.

2 This is what the LORD of the Heavenly Armies says: 'I'll punish Amalek for what he did to Israel, when he set himself against Israel in the way, as they were going up from Egypt.

3 Now, go and attack Amalek. Completely destroy all that they have. Don't spare them, but put to death both man and woman, child and infant, both ox and sheep, camel and donkey.'"

4 Saul summoned the people and mustered them in Telaim, 200,000 foot soldiers and 10,000 men from Judah.

5 Saul came to the city of Amalek and set an ambush in the valley.

6 Saul told the Kenites, "Withdraw from the Amalekites so that I don't destroy you with them, for you showed kindness to all the Israelis when they departed from Egypt." So the Kenites withdrew from the Amalekites.

7 Saul attacked the Amalekites from Havilah to Shur, which is east of Egypt.

8 He captured alive Agag king of Amalek, but he completely destroyed all the people, executing them with swords.

9 Saul and the people spared Agag and the best of the sheep and cattle — the fattened animals and lambs — along with all that was good. They were not willing to completely destroy them, but they did completely destroy everything that was worthless and inferior.

10 This message from the LORD came to Samuel:

11 "I regret that I made Saul king, because he has turned away from following me and has not carried out my commands." Samuel was angry, and he cried out to the LORD all night.

12 Samuel got up early in the morning to meet Saul, but Samuel was told, "Saul went up to Carmel to set up a monument for himself. Then he turned around and travelled on to Gilgal."

13 Samuel approached Saul. "May the LORD bless you," Saul said. "I've carried out the LORD's command."

14 Samuel said, "Then what is this bleating of sheep in my ears and the lowing of cattle that I hear?"

15 Saul replied, "They brought them from the Amalekites. The people spared the best of the sheep and cattle to offer sacrifices to the LORD your God, and the rest they completely destroyed."

16 "Be quiet!" Samuel said. "I'll tell you what the LORD told me last night." Saul told him, "Speak."

17 So Samuel replied, "Is it not true that though you were small in your own eyes you became head of the tribes of Israel, and the LORD anointed you king over Israel?"

18 The LORD sent you on a mission: 'Go and completely destroy the sinners, the Amalekites, and fight against them until they're destroyed.'

19 Why didn't you obey the LORD, but grabbed the spoil and did evil in the LORD's sight?"

20 Saul told Samuel, "I did obey the LORD. I went on the mission on which the LORD sent me, I brought Agag king of Amalek, and I completely destroyed the Amalekites."

21 The people took some of the spoil — sheep, cattle, and the best of what was to be completely destroyed — to sacrifice to the LORD your God at Gilgal."

22 Samuel said, "Does the LORD delight as much in burnt offerings and sacrifices as in obeying the LORD? Surely, to obey is better than sacrifice, to pay attention is better than the fat of rams."

23 Indeed, rebellion is the sin of divination, and arrogance is iniquity and idolatry. Because you have rejected this message from the LORD, he has rejected you from being king."

24 "I've sinned," Saul replied to Samuel. "I've broken the LORD's command and your word, because I was afraid of the people and listened to them."

25 Now, please forgive my sin and return with me so I may worship the LORD."

26 Samuel told Saul, "I won't return with you because you have rejected the message from the LORD, and the LORD has rejected you from being king over Israel."

27 As Samuel turned to go Saul seized him by the corner of his robe, and it tore.

28 Samuel told him, "The LORD has torn the kingdom of Israel away from you today, and he has given it to your neighbour who is better than you."

29 Moreover, the Glory of Israel does not lie or change his mind, for he's not a man that he should change his mind."

30 "I've sinned," Saul said. "But please honour me now before the elders of my people and before Israel, and return with me so I may worship the LORD your God."

31 Samuel returned, following Saul, and Saul worshipped the LORD.

32 Then Samuel said, "Bring Agag king of Amalek to me." Agag came to him in fetters, saying to himself, "Surely the bitterness of death is past."

33 Samuel said, "Just as your sword has made women childless, so your mother will be childless among women." Then Samuel cut Agag into pieces in the LORD's presence in Gilgal.

34 Then Samuel went to Ramah, and Saul went to his house in Gibeah of Saul.

35 Samuel did not see Saul again until the day of his death, but Samuel grieved over Saul, and the LORD regretted that he had made Saul king over Israel.

1 Samuel 16

1 The LORD told Samuel, "How long will you grieve over Saul, since I've rejected him from being king over Israel? Fill your horn with oil and go. I'm sending you to Jesse from Bethlehem because I've chosen for myself one of his sons as king."

2 Samuel said, "How can I go? Saul will hear about this and kill me!" The LORD said, "Take a heifer with you and say, 'I've come to offer a sacrifice to the LORD.'"

3 You are to invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I'll show you what you are to do. You are to anoint for me the one I tell you."

4 Samuel did what the LORD said and went to Bethlehem. The elders of the town came out to meet him trembling, and said, "May your coming be in peace."

5 He said, "Peace, I've come to sacrifice to the LORD. Consecrate yourselves and come with me to the sacrifice." Samuel consecrated Jesse and his sons and invited them to the sacrifice.

6 When they arrived, Samuel saw Eliab, and said, "Surely he's the LORD's anointed."

7 The LORD told Samuel, "Don't look at his appearance or his height, for I've rejected him. Truly, God does not see what man sees, for man looks at the outward appearance, but the LORD sees the heart."

8 Then Jesse summoned Abinadab and brought him before Samuel, and he said, "Neither has the LORD chosen this one."

9 Then Jesse brought Shammah, and he said, "Neither has the LORD chosen this one."

10 Jesse brought seven of his sons before Samuel, and Samuel told Jesse, "The LORD has not chosen these."

11 Then Samuel told Jesse, "Are these all the young men?" He said, "There yet remains the youngest one, and right now he's tending the sheep." Samuel told Jesse, "Send someone to get him, for we won't do anything else until he arrives here."

12 So he sent and brought him. He had a dark, healthy complexion, with beautiful eyes, and he was handsome. The LORD said, "Get up and anoint him, for this is the one."

13 Then Samuel took the horn of oil and anointed David in the presence of his brothers, and the Spirit of the LORD came on David from that day forward. Then Samuel got up and went to Ramah.

14 The Spirit of the LORD departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the LORD troubled him.

15 Saul's servants told him, "Look, an evil spirit from God is troubling you.

16 Let our lord order his servants who attend you to look for a man who is skilled in playing the lyre. And then when an evil spirit from God comes on you, he will play and you will be better."

17 Saul told his servants, "Find a man for me who can play well and bring him to me."

18 One of the young men answered: "Look, I've seen a son of Jesse the Bethlehemite who is skilled in playing. The man is a valiant soldier, gifted in speech, and handsome. And the LORD is with him."

Mark 15

42 It was the Day of Preparation, that is, the day before the Sabbath. Since it was already evening,

43 Joseph of Arimathea, a highly respected member of the Council, who was waiting for the kingdom of God, went boldly to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus.

44 Pilate was amazed to hear that Jesus had already died, so he summoned the centurion to ask him if he was in fact dead.

45 When he learned from the centurion that he was dead, he let Joseph have the corpse.

46 Joseph bought some linen cloth, took the body down, wrapped it in the cloth, laid it in a tomb that had been cut out of the rock, and rolled a stone against the door of the tomb.

47 Now Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joseph observed where the body had been laid.

Mark 16

1 When the Sabbath was over, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices to go and anoint Jesus.

2 Very early on the first day of the week, when the sun had just come up, they were going to the tomb.

3 They kept saying to one another, "Who will roll away the stone for us from the entrance to the tomb?"

4 Then they looked up and saw that the stone had been rolled away. (It was a very large stone).

5 As they went into the tomb, they saw a young man dressed in a white robe sitting on the right side, and they were utterly astonished.

6 But he told them, "Stop being astonished! You are looking for Jesus of Nazareth, who was crucified. He has been raised. He is not here. Look at the place where they laid him.

7 But go and tell his disciples, especially Peter, that Jesus is going ahead of you to Galilee. There you will see him, just as he told you."

8 So they left the tomb and ran away, overwhelmed by shock and astonishment. They didn't say a thing to anyone, because they were afraid.

9 After Jesus had risen early on the first day of that week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had driven out seven demons.

10 She went and told those who had been with Jesus and who now were grieving and crying.

11 When they heard that he was alive and that he had been seen by her, they refused to believe Mary.

12 After this, Jesus appeared in a different form to two disciples as they were walking into the country.

13 They went back and told the others, who didn't believe them, either.

14 Finally he appeared to his eleven disciples while they were eating. He rebuked them for their unbelief and stubbornness, because they had not believed those who had seen him after he had risen.

15 Then he told them, "As you go into all the world, proclaim the gospel to everyone.

16 Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever doesn't believe will be condemned.

17 "These are the signs that will accompany those who believe: In my name they will drive out demons; they will speak in new tongues;

18 they will pick up snakes with their hands; even if they drink any deadly poison it will not hurt them; and they will place their hands on the sick, and they will recover."

19 So the Lord Jesus, after talking with his disciples, was taken up to heaven and sat down at the right hand of God.

20 Then his disciples went out and preached everywhere, while the Lord kept working with them and confirming the message by the signs that accompanied it.

1st May

1 Samuel 16

19 So Saul sent messengers to Jesse and said, "Send me your son David, who is with the sheep."

20 Jesse took a donkey loaded with bread, a container of wine, and one kid, and sent them to Saul along with his son David.

21 David went to Saul and began to serve him. Saul loved him very much, and he became his armour bearer.

22 Saul sent a messenger to Jesse to tell him, "Allow David to serve me, because I'm pleased with him."

23 Whenever an evil spirit from God came to Saul, David would take the lyre and play it. Relief would come to Saul and he would be better, because the evil spirit would leave him.

1 Samuel 17

1 The Philistines assembled their army for battle. They were assembled at Socoh, which belongs to Judah, and they camped between Socoh and Azekah, in Ephes-dammim.

2 Saul and the Israelis assembled and camped in the valley of Elah, where they set up their forces to meet the Philistines.

3 The Philistines were standing on the hill on one side while the Israelis were standing on the hill on the other side, with the valley between them.

4 A champion named Goliath from Gath came out from the Philistine camp. He was six and a half feet tall,

5 wore a bronze helmet on his head, and wore bronze scale armour that weighed about 125 pounds.

6 He had bronze armour on his legs and carried a bronze javelin slung between his shoulders.

7 The shaft of his spear was like a weaver's beam and the iron point of his spear weighed fifteen pounds. A man carrying his shield walked in front of him.

8 He stood still and called out to the ranks of Israel, "Why should you move into position for battle? Am I not a Philistine and you Saul's servants? Choose a man for yourselves to come down against me.

9 If he's able to fight me and strike me down, then we will become your servants; but if I prevail against him and strike him down, then you will become our servants and serve us."

10 The Philistine said, "I defy the ranks of Israel today. Send me one man and let's fight together."

11 When Saul and all the Israelis heard these words of the Philistine, they were dismayed and very frightened.

12 David was the son of that Ephrathite man named Jesse from Bethlehem in Judah. He had eight sons; at the time when Saul was king he was old, having lived to an advanced age.

13 The three oldest sons of Jesse followed Saul into battle. The names of his three sons who went to the battle were his firstborn Eliab, Abinadab, his second son, and Shammah, the third.

14 David was the youngest, while the three oldest had followed Saul.

15 And David would go back and forth from Saul to tend his father's sheep in Bethlehem.

16 For 40 days the Philistine would come forward, morning and evening, to take his position.

17 Jesse told his son David, "Take for your brothers this half-bushel of roasted grain and these ten loaves of bread and quickly take them to your brothers in the camp.

18 Take these ten pieces of cheese to the commander of the unit, check on the well-being of your brothers, and bring something back from them.

19 Saul, your brothers, and all the men of Israel are in the valley of Elah fighting with the Philistines."

20 David got up early in the morning, left the sheep with a keeper, took the supplies, and went as Jesse had directed him. He arrived at the encampment as the army was going out to the battle line, shouting the battle cry.

21 Israel and the Philistines moved into position for battle, battle line facing battle line.

22 David left the supplies he had with him in the care of the supply keeper and ran to the battle line. When he arrived there, he asked his brothers about their well-being.

23 As he was speaking with them, the Philistine champion named Goliath from Gath came up from the Philistine battle lines and spoke his usual words, as David listened.

24 When all the Israelis saw the man, they fled from him and were very frightened.

25 "Did all of you see this man coming up?" one Israeli asked. "He comes up to defy Israel, and the king will richly reward the man who kills him. He will give his daughter to him and will make his father's house tax free in Israel."

26 David asked the men who were standing by him, "What will be done for the man who kills this Philistine and takes away the reproach from Israel? Indeed, who is this uncircumcised Philistine that he should defy the armies of the living God?"

27 The people also told him the same thing, saying, "This is what will be done for the man who kills him."

28 Eliab his oldest brother heard him talking to the men. Eliab was angry with David and said, "Why did you come down here? And who did you leave those few sheep with in the wilderness? I know your insolence and wicked intentions. You came down just to see the battle!"

29 "What have I done now?" David asked. "It was just a question, wasn't it?"

30 Then he turned from him toward another person and asked the same thing. The people replied to him the same way as the first one had.

31 When the words that David had spoken were heard, they were reported to Saul, and he sent for him.

32 David told Saul, "Let no one's courage fail because of him; your servant will go fight this Philistine."

33 Saul told David, "You can't go against this Philistine and fight him. You are only a young man, but he has been a warrior since his youth."

34 David told Saul, "Your servant has been a shepherd for his father. When a lion or bear came and took a lamb from the flock,

35 I would go out after it, strike it down, and rescue the lamb from its mouth. Then when it rose up against me, I would grab it by its fur, strike it down, and kill it.

36 Your servant has struck down both lions and bears, and this uncircumcised Philistine will be like one of them, since he defied the armies of the living God."

37 David continued, "The LORD who delivered me from the power of the lion and the power of the bear will also deliver me from the power of this Philistine." Saul told David, "Go, and may the LORD be with you."

38 Saul put his garments on David, set a bronze helmet on his head, and put armour on him.

39 David strapped Saul's sword over his garments and tried to walk, but he was not used to the armour. David told Saul, "I can't walk in these because I'm not used to them," and then took them off.

40 He took his staff in his hand and chose for himself five smooth stones from the brook and put them in the pouch in his shepherd's bag. He approached the Philistine with his sling in his hand.

41 With a man carrying his shield in front of him, the Philistine kept coming closer to David.

42 When the Philistine looked and saw David, he had contempt for him, because he was only a young man. David had a dark, healthy complexion and was handsome.

43 The Philistine asked David, "Am I a dog that you come at me with sticks?" Then the Philistine cursed David by his own gods and

44 told David, "Come to me! I'll give your flesh to the birds of the sky and to the beasts of the field."

45 Then David told the Philistine, "You come at me with a sword, a spear, and a javelin, but I come to you in the name of the LORD of the Heavenly Armies, the God of the armies of Israel whom you have defied.

46 This very day the LORD will deliver you into my hand, and I'll strike you down and remove your head from you. And this very day I'll give the dead bodies of the Philistine army to the birds of the sky and to the animals of the earth, so that all the earth will know that there is a God in Israel,

47 and this whole congregation will know that the LORD does not deliver by sword or spear. Indeed, the battle is the LORD's and he will give you into our hands."

48 When the Philistine got up and came closer to meet David, David quickly ran to the battle line to meet the Philistine.

49 David reached his hand into the bag, took out a stone, slung it, and struck the Philistine in his forehead. The stone sunk into his forehead, and he fell on his face to the ground.

50 David defeated the Philistine with a sling and a stone; he struck down the Philistine and killed him, and there was no sword in David's hand.

51 David ran and stood over the Philistine. He took the Philistine's sword, pulled it from its sheath, killed him, and then he cut off his head with it. When the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, they fled.

52 The men of Israel and Judah got up with a shout and pursued the Philistines as far as the entrance to the valley and to the gates of Ekron. Wounded Philistines fell along the way to Shaaraim as far as Gath and Ekron.

53 The Israelis returned from pursuing the Philistines and plundered their camp.

54 David took the Philistine's head and brought it to Jerusalem, but he put Goliath's weapons in his tent.

55 When Saul saw David going out to meet the Philistine, he asked Abner, the commander of the army, "Whose son is this young man, Abner?" Abner said, "As surely as you live, your majesty, I don't know."

56 The king replied, "Go find out whose son the young man is."

57 When David returned from striking down the Philistine, Abner took him and brought him to Saul with the Philistine's head in his hand.

58 Saul told him, "Whose son are you, young man?" David said, "The son of your servant Jesse of Bethlehem."

2 Corinthians 1

1 From: Paul, an apostle of the Messiah Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother.
To: God's church in Corinth, and to all the holy people throughout Achaia.

2 May grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be yours!

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah! He is our merciful Father and the God of all comfort,

4 who comforts us in all our suffering, so that we may be able to comfort others in all their suffering, as we ourselves are being comforted by God.

5 For as the Messiah's sufferings overflow into us, so also our comfort overflows through the Messiah.

6 If we suffer, it is for your comfort and salvation. If we are comforted, it is for your comfort when you patiently endure the same sufferings that we are suffering.

7 Our hope for you is unshaken, because we know that as you share our sufferings, you also share our comfort.

8 For we do not want you to be ignorant, brothers, about the suffering we experienced in Asia. We were so crushed beyond our ability to endure that we even despaired of living.

9 In fact, we felt that we had received a death sentence so we would not rely on ourselves but on God, who raises the dead.

10 He has rescued us from a terrible death, and he will continue to rescue us. Yes, he is the one on whom we have set our hope, and he will rescue us again,

11 as you also help us by your prayers for us. Then many people will thank God on our behalf because of the favour shown us through the prayers of many.

12 For this is what we boast about: Our conscience testifies that we have conducted ourselves in the world with pure motives and godly sincerity, without earthly wisdom but with God's grace — especially toward you.

13 For what we are writing you is nothing more than what you can read and also understand. I hope you will understand completely,

14 just as you have already understood us partially, so that on the Day of our Lord Jesus we can be your reason to boast, even as you are ours.

15 Because I was confident, I planned to come to you first so you might receive a double blessing.

16 I planned to leave you in order to go to Macedonia, and then come back to you from Macedonia, and let you send me on to Judea.

17 When I planned this, I did not do it lightly, did I? Are my plans so fickle that I can say "Yes" and "No" at the same time?

18 As certainly as God is faithful, we haven't talked to you with mixed messages like that.

19 For God's Son, Jesus the Messiah, who was preached among you by us — by me, Silvanus, and Timothy — was not "Yes" and "No." But with him it is always "Yes."

20 For all God's promises are "Yes" in him. And so through him we can say "Amen," to the glory of God.

21 Now the one who makes us — and you as well — secure in union with the Messiah and has anointed us is God,

22 who has placed his seal on us and has given us the Spirit in our hearts as a down payment.

23 I call upon God as a witness on my behalf that it was in order to spare you that I did not return to Corinth.

24 It is not that we are trying to rule over your faith, but rather to work with you for your joy, because you have been standing firm in the faith.

2nd May

1 Samuel 18

- 1 When David finished speaking with Saul, Jonathan became a close friend to David, and Jonathan loved him as himself.
- 2 Saul took David that day and did not let him return to his father's house.
- 3 Jonathan made a covenant with David because he loved him as he loved himself.
- 4 Jonathan took off the robe that he had on and gave it to David, along with his coat, his sword, his bow, and his belt.
- 5 David went out and was successful everywhere Saul sent him, and Saul put him in charge of the troops. This pleased the entire army, as well as Saul's officials.
- 6 When David returned from defeating the Philistine, as they were entering the city, women from all the towns of Israel came out to meet King Saul, singing and dancing as they joyously played tambourines and lyres.
- 7 As the women sang and played, they said, "Saul has struck down his thousands but David his ten thousands."
- 8 Saul was very angry and he did not like what the women sang. He told himself, "They have attributed tens of thousands to David, but to me they have attributed thousands. What else can he have but the kingdom?"
- 9 From then on Saul kept his eye on David.
- 10 The next day, while David was playing the lyre as he had before, the evil spirit from the LORD attacked Saul, and he began to rave inside the house with a spear in his hand.
- 11 Saul hurled it, thinking, "I'll pin David to the wall." But David escaped from him twice.
- 12 Now Saul was afraid of David because the LORD was with him and had departed from Saul.
- 13 Saul removed David from his presence and made him an officer over a division of soldiers. So David led the troops in battle.
- 14 David was successful in all that he did, for the LORD was with him.
- 15 When Saul saw that David was highly successful, he feared him.
- 16 But all Israel and Judah loved David because he led them in battle.
- 17 Saul told David, "Here is my older daughter Merab. I'll give her to you as a wife. Just be an excellent soldier for me and fight the LORD's battles." Now Saul told himself, "I won't harm him myself. Instead, I'll let the Philistines harm him."
- 18 David told Saul, "Who am I and what is my life or my father's family in Israel that I should be the king's son-in-law?"
- 19 And when the time came to give Saul's daughter Merab to David, she was given as a wife to Adriel of Meholah.
- 20 Saul's daughter Michal loved David. Saul was informed of this and he liked the idea.
- 21 Saul told himself, "I'll give her to him and she can be a snare to him and the Philistines will harm him." So Saul told David, "For a second time you can be my son-in-law today."
- 22 Saul commanded his officials, "Speak with David privately and say, 'Look, the king delights in you, and all his officials love you. Now become the king's son-in-law.'"
- 23 Saul's officials delivered this message to David, and he asked, "Is becoming the king's son-in-law an unimportant thing to you? I'm a poor and unimportant man."
- 24 Saul's officials reported to him: "This is what David said."
- 25 Saul said, "This is what you are to tell David, 'The king desires no bride price except 100 Philistine foreskins to take vengeance on the king's enemies.'" Now Saul thought he would cause David to die at the hand of the Philistines.
- 26 When his officials delivered this message to David, David decided it would be a good thing to become the king's son-in-law. Before the time was up, 27 David got up, went out with his men, and struck down 200 Philistine men. David brought their foreskins and gave them all to the king so he could become the king's son-in-law. So Saul gave him his daughter Michal as a wife.

28 As Saul continued to observe, he realized that the LORD was with David and that Saul's daughter Michal loved him.

29 Then Saul was even more afraid of David, and Saul was David's enemy from that time on.

30 The Philistine commanders would go out to fight and whenever they did, David was more successful than any of Saul's other leaders. His name was held in high esteem.

1 Samuel 19

1 Saul told his son Jonathan and all his officials to kill David, but Saul's son Jonathan was very fond of David.

2 So Jonathan told David, "My father Saul is trying to kill you. In the morning be careful and stay hidden in a secret place.

3 I'll go out and stand by my father in the field where you are. I'll speak to my father about you. If I find out what he intends to do, I'll tell you."

4 Jonathan spoke to his father Saul favourably about David. "The king shouldn't wrong his servant David because he has not wronged you and because what he has done has been very beneficial for you.

5 He risked his life and struck down the Philistine, and the LORD brought about a spectacular deliverance for all Israel. You saw that and rejoiced, so why would you do wrong and shed innocent blood by killing David without cause?"

6 Saul listened to Jonathan, and swore by the life of the LORD that David would not be killed.

7 Jonathan summoned David and told him all this. Then Jonathan brought David to Saul, and David served him as before.

8 The war continued and David went out to fight against the Philistines. He thoroughly defeated them, and they fled before David.

9 The evil spirit from the LORD attacked Saul while he was sitting in his house with his spear in his hand and David was playing the lyre.

10 Saul tried to pin David to the wall with the spear, but he jumped away from Saul and the spear stuck in the wall. That night David escaped and fled.

11 Saul sent messengers to David's house to watch him so they could kill him in the morning. David's wife, Michal, told him, "If you don't escape with your life tonight, tomorrow you'll be put to death."

12 So Michal let David down through the window, and he escaped and fled.

13 Then Michal took the household idol and laid it on the bed with a cover of goat hair placed at its head. Then she covered it with clothes.

14 When Saul sent the messengers to take David, Michal said, "He's sick."

15 Then Saul sent messengers to check on David. He told them, "Bring him to me on the bed so I may kill him."

16 The messengers went in, and there was the household idol in the bed with the cover of goat hair at its head!

17 Then Saul told Michal, "Why did you deceive me like this and let my enemy go so he could escape?" Michal told Saul, "He told me, 'Let me go or I'll kill you!'"

18 David escaped and fled. He came to Samuel at Ramah and told him all that Saul had done to him. Then he and Samuel went and stayed at Naioth.

19 It was reported to Saul saying, "David is at Naioth in Ramah right now."

20 Saul sent messengers to take David, and they saw a group of prophets caught up in prophetic ecstasy, with Samuel standing beside them leading them. Then the Spirit of God came on Saul's messengers, and they also were caught up in prophetic ecstasy.

21 They reported this to Saul, he sent other messengers, and they also were caught up in prophetic ecstasy.

22 Then Saul himself went to Ramah, and he arrived at the large well that is in Secu. He asked, "Where are Samuel and David?" Someone replied, "They're at Naioth in Ramah."

23 Saul went to Naioth in Ramah, and the Spirit of God came on him also. He continued in prophetic ecstasy until he came to Naioth in Ramah.

24 He also removed his clothes and was caught up in prophetic ecstasy right in front of Samuel! He fell down naked and remained there all that day and all night. That is why people say, "Is Saul also among the prophets?"

1 Samuel 20

1 David fled from Naioth in Ramah. He came to Jonathan and said, "What have I done? What is my crime, and how have I wronged your father so that he's determined to kill me?"

2 Jonathan told him, "Far from it! You won't die. Look, my father never does anything, great or small, without telling me; so why should my father hide this thing from me? It's not like that!"

3 David again took an oath: "Your father certainly knows that I've found favour with you, and so he told himself, 'Jonathan must not know this so he won't be upset.' But as certainly as the LORD is alive and living, and as certainly as I'm alive and living, too, there is only a step between me and death."

4 Jonathan told David, "Whatever you say, I'll do."

5 David told Jonathan, "Look, the New Moon is tomorrow, and I'm expected to sit down with the king to eat. Let me go so I can hide in the field until the evening of the day after tomorrow.

6 If your father actually notices that I'm not there, then you are to say, 'David urgently requested that I allow him to run to his hometown of Bethlehem because the yearly sacrifice for the entire family was taking place there.'

7 If he says, 'Good,' then your servant will be safe. But if he actually gets angry, you will know that his intentions are evil.

8 Now, show gracious kindness to your servant because you have entered into a sacred covenant with your servant. If there is iniquity in me, then kill me yourself — why should you bring me to your father?"

9 "Nonsense!" Jonathan replied. "If I actually knew that my father intended evil against you, wouldn't I tell you about it?"

10 Then David told Jonathan, "Who will tell me if your father answers you harshly?"

11 Then Jonathan told David, "Come, let's go into the field." So the two of them went into the field.

2 Corinthians 2

- 1 Now I decided not to pay you another painful visit.
- 2 After all, if I were to grieve you, who should make me happy but the person I am making sad?
- 3 This is the very reason I wrote you, so that when I did come I might not be made sad by those who should have made me happy. For I had confidence that all of you would share the joy that I have.
- 4 I wrote to you out of great sorrow and anguish of heart — along with many tears — not to make you sad but to let you know how much love I have for you.
- 5 But if anyone has caused grief, he didn't cause me any grief. To some extent — I don't want to emphasize this too much — it has affected all of you.
- 6 This punishment by the majority is severe enough for such a man.
- 7 So forgive and comfort him, or else he will drown in his excessive grief.
- 8 That's why I'm urging you to assure him of your love.
- 9 I had also written to you to see if you would stand the test and be obedient in every way.
- 10 When you forgive someone, I do, too. Indeed, what I have forgiven — if there was anything to forgive — I did in the presence of the Messiah for your benefit,
- 11 so that we may not be outsmarted by Satan. After all, we are not unaware of his intentions.
- 12 When I went to Troas on behalf of the gospel of the Messiah, the Lord opened a door for me,
- 13 but my spirit could not find any relief, because I couldn't find Titus, my brother. So I said goodbye to them and went on to Macedonia.
- 14 But thanks be to God! He always leads us triumphantly by the Messiah and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of knowing him.
- 15 To God we are the aroma of the Messiah among those who are being saved and among those who are being lost.
- 16 To some people we are a deadly fragrance, while to others we are a living fragrance. Who is qualified for this?
- 17 At least we are not commercializing God's word like so many others. Instead, we speak with sincerity in the Messiah's name, like people who are sent from God and are accountable to God.

2 Corinthians 3

- 1 Are we beginning to recommend ourselves again? Unlike some people, we do not need letters of recommendation to you or from you, do we?
- 2 You are our letter, written in our hearts and known and read by everyone.
- 3 You are demonstrating that you are the Messiah's letter, produced by our service, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts.

3rd May

1 Samuel 20

12 Jonathan told David, "The LORD God of Israel is my witness that I'll carefully question my father by tomorrow or the next day. And if the response is favourable for David, will I not then send word to you and let you know?"

13 But if my father intends to harm you, may the LORD strike me dead if I don't let you know and send you away so you may go safely. May the LORD be with you as he has been with my father.

14 If I remain alive, don't fail to show me the LORD's gracious love so that I don't die.

15 And don't stop showing your gracious love to my family forever, not even when the LORD eliminates each of David's enemies from the surface of the earth."

16 Jonathan made a covenant with the house of David: "May the LORD punish any violation of this covenant by the hand of David's enemies."

17 Jonathan made David vow again out of his love for him, because he loved him as himself.

18 Jonathan told him, "Tomorrow is the New Moon, and you will be missed because your seat is empty.

19 On the third day go down quickly and come to the place where you hid earlier. Remain beside the rock at Ezel.

20 I'll shoot three arrows to the side of the rock as though I were shooting at a target.

21 Then I'll send a servant, saying, 'Go, find the arrows.' If I specifically say to the servant, 'Look, the arrows are on this side of you, get them,' then come out because it's safe for you, and, as surely as the LORD lives, there is no danger.

22 But if I say this to the young man: 'Look, the arrows are beyond you,' then go, for the LORD has sent you away.

23 As for the matter about which you and I spoke, remember that the LORD is a witness between us forever."

24 David hid in the field. When the New Moon arrived, the king sat down to eat.

25 The king sat down at his place as before, in the seat by the wall. Jonathan stood while Abner sat next to Saul, but David's place was empty.

26 Saul didn't say anything that day because he told himself, "Something has happened; he's unclean; surely he's not clean."

27 But the next day, on the second day of the New Moon, David's place was empty, and so Saul told his son Jonathan, "Why didn't Jesse's son come to the feast, either yesterday or today?"

28 Jonathan answered Saul, "David urgently requested that I let him go to Bethlehem.

29 He said, 'Please let me go because our family has a sacrifice in the town, and my brother has ordered me to come. Now, if it's acceptable to you, please let me get away so I can see my brothers.' That's the reason he didn't come to the king's table."

30 Saul flew into a rage and told Jonathan, "You son of a perverse and rebellious woman! Don't I know that you have chosen Jesse's son to your shame and to the shame of your mother who bore you?"

31 As long as Jesse's son lives on the earth, neither you nor your kingdom will be established! Now send someone and bring David to me. He's a dead man!"

32 Jonathan asked his father Saul, "Why should he be killed? What did he do?"

33 Then Saul threw the spear that was beside him to strike Jonathan down. So Jonathan realized that his father was determined to kill David.

34 So on the second day of the New Moon Jonathan angrily got up from the table without eating because he was upset about David, and because his father had humiliated him.

35 In the morning Jonathan, accompanied by a servant, went out to the field for the appointment with David.

36 Jonathan told his servant, "Run, find the arrows that I'm shooting." As the servant ran, Jonathan shot the arrow beyond him.

37 The servant came to the place where Jonathan had shot it, and Jonathan called out to him, "The arrow is beyond you, isn't it?"

38 Jonathan called out to the servant, "Hurry, be quick, don't stand around." Jonathan's servant picked up the arrow and brought it to his master.

39 The servant was not aware of anything. Only Jonathan and David understood what had happened.

40 Then Jonathan gave his equipment to the servant who was with him and told him, "Go, take these things to the city."

41 The servant went. Then David came out from the south side of the rock, fell on his face, and bowed down three times. The men kissed each other, and both of them cried, but David even more.

42 Jonathan told David, "Go in peace since both of us swore in the name of the LORD: 'May the LORD be between me and you, and between my descendants and your descendants forever.'" Then David got up and left, while Jonathan went to the city.

1 Samuel 21

1 David came to Nob to Ahimelech the priest, and Ahimelech was trembling as he came to meet David. Ahimelech told him, "Why are you alone, and no one with you?"

2 David told Ahimelech the priest, "The king commanded me about a matter, saying to me, 'Don't let anyone know anything about the matter I'm sending you to do and about which I've commanded you. I've directed the young men to a certain place.'

3 Now, what do you have available? Give me five loaves of bread or whatever you have."

4 The priest answered David: "There is no ordinary bread available; only consecrated bread, provided that the young men have kept themselves from women."

5 David answered the priest, saying to him, "Indeed, women were kept from us as is usual whenever I go out on a mission, and the equipment of the young men is consecrated even when it's an ordinary journey, so how much more is their equipment consecrated today?"

6 So the priest gave him consecrated bread because no bread was there except the Bread of the Presence that had been removed from the LORD's presence and replaced with hot bread on the day it was taken away.

7 Now, Doeg the Edomite, one of Saul's officials, was there that day, detained in the LORD's presence. He was the chief of Saul's shepherds.

8 David told Ahimelech, "Is there no spear or sword available here? I took neither my sword nor my weapons with me, because the king's mission is urgent."

9 The priest said, "The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom you struck down in the Valley of Elah is wrapped up in a cloth behind the ephod. If you want it, take it because there is no other except it here." So David said, "There is none like it. Give it to me."

10 David got up that day and fled from Saul, and he went to King Achish of Gath.

11 The officials of Achish told him, "Isn't this David, king of the land? Isn't this the one about whom they sang as they danced, 'Saul has struck down his thousands, but David his ten thousands'?"

12 David took these words seriously, and he was very frightened of King Achish of Gath.

13 So David changed his behaviour before them and acted like he was crazy in their presence. He scribbled on the doors of the gate, and let his saliva run down his beard.

14 Achish told his officials, "Look, you see a person acting like a madman. Why'd you bring him to me?"

15 Am I lacking madmen that you bring me this one to act like a madman around me? Shall this one come into my house?"

1 Samuel 22

1 David left from there and escaped to the Cave of Adullam. His brothers and all his father's family heard about this and went down to him there.

2 Everyone who was in distress, everyone who was in debt, and everyone who was discontent gathered around him, and he became their leader. There were about 400 men with him.

3 David went from there to Mizpah of Moab, and he told the king of Moab, "Please let my father and mother come and stay with you until I know what God is going to do for me."

4 David left them with the king of Moab, and they stayed with him all the time David was in the stronghold.

5 The prophet Gad told David, "Don't remain in the stronghold. Go and enter the territory of Judah." So David left and went into the forest of Hereth.

6 When Saul heard that David and the men who were with him had been found, he was sitting in Gibeah, under the tamarisk tree on the hill, with his spear in his hand. All his officials were standing around him.

7 Saul told his officials who were standing around him, "Listen, men of Benjamin! Will Jesse's son also give fields and vineyards to all of you? Will he make all of you officers over thousands and officers over hundreds?

8 But all of you have conspired against me, and no one tells me about my son's covenant with Jesse's son. None of you feels sorry for me and tells me that my son has stirred up my servant against me to lie in wait, as he's doing this day."

9 Then Doeg the Edomite, who was in charge of Saul's servants answered: "I saw Jesse's son coming to Nob to Ahitub's son Ahimelech.

10 Ahimelech inquired of the LORD for him, gave him provisions, and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

11 The king sent for Ahitub's son Ahimelech the priest and for all his father's family who were priests at Nob. All of them came to the king.

12 Saul said, "Listen, son of Ahitub!" And he said, "Here I am, your majesty."

13 Then Saul asked him, "Why have you conspired against me — you and Jesse's son — by giving him food and a sword, and by inquiring of God for him, so he can rise up against me to lie in wait, as he's doing today?"

14 Ahimelech answered the king, "Who among all your officials is as faithful as David? He is the king's son-in-law, the captain of your bodyguard, and he's honoured in your household.

15 Is today the first time I inquired of God for him? Absolutely not! The king shouldn't accuse his servant, or any of my father's family of anything, because your servant didn't know anything at all about this."

16 The king said, "Ahimelech, you will surely die, you and all your father's family!"

2 Corinthians 3

4 Such is the confidence that we have in God through the Messiah.
5 By ourselves we are not qualified to claim that anything comes from us. Rather, our credentials come from God,
6 who has also qualified us to be ministers of a new covenant, which is not written but spiritual, because the written text brings death, but the Spirit gives life.
7 Now if the ministry of death that was inscribed in letters of stone came with such glory that the people of Israel could not gaze on Moses' face (because the glory was fading away from it),
8 will not the Spirit's ministry have even more glory?
9 For if the ministry of condemnation has glory, then the ministry of justification has an overwhelming glory.
10 In fact, that which once had glory lost its glory, because the other glory surpassed it.
11 For if that which fades away came through glory, how much more does that which is permanent have glory?
12 Therefore, since we have such a hope, we speak very boldly,
13 not like Moses, who kept covering his face with a veil to keep the people of Israel from gazing at the end of what was fading away.
14 However, their minds were hardened, for to this day the same veil is still there when they read the old covenant. Only in union with the Messiah is that veil removed.
15 Yet even to this day, when Moses is read, a veil covers their hearts.
16 But whenever a person turns to the Lord, the veil is removed.
17 Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Lord's Spirit is, there is freedom.
18 As all of us reflect the glory of the Lord with unveiled faces, we are becoming more like him with ever-increasing glory by the Lord's Spirit.

2 Corinthians 4

1 Therefore, since we have this ministry through the mercy shown to us, we do not get discouraged.
2 Instead, we have renounced secret and shameful ways. We do not use trickery or pervert God's word. By clear statements of the truth we commend ourselves to everyone's conscience before God.
3 So if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are dying.
4 In their case, the god of this world has blinded the minds of those who do not believe to keep them from seeing the light of the glorious gospel of the Messiah, who is the image of God.
5 For we do not preach ourselves, but rather Jesus the Messiah as Lord, and ourselves as merely your servants for Jesus' sake.
6 For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," has shone in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of God's glory in the face of Jesus the Messiah.
7 But we have this treasure in clay jars to show that its extraordinary power comes from God and not from us.

1 Samuel 22

17 The king told the guards, who were standing beside him, "Turn and kill the priests of the LORD because they supported David, and because they knew he was fleeing, but didn't inform me." But the officials of the king did not want to lift their hands to attack the priests of the LORD.

18 Then the king told Doeg, "You turn and attack the priests." Doeg the Edomite turned and attacked the priests. That day he killed eighty-five men who carry the linen ephod.

19 He attacked the priestly town of Nob with the sword. Men and women, children and infants, oxen, donkeys and sheep were put to the sword.

20 One man, Ahimelech's son Abiathar, a grandson of Ahitub, escaped and fled to David.

21 Abiathar told David that Saul had killed the priests of the LORD.

22 David told Abiathar, "I knew on that day when Doeg the Edomite was there that he would certainly tell Saul! I'm responsible for the deaths of your father's whole family.

23 Stay with me, and don't be afraid because the one who seeks my life, seeks your life. Indeed, you will be safe with me."

1 Samuel 23

1 Someone told David, "Look, the Philistines are fighting at Keilah and are plundering the threshing floors."

2 David inquired of the LORD: "Shall I go and strike down these Philistines?" The LORD told David, "Go strike down the Philistines and deliver Keilah."

3 David's men told him, "Look, we're afraid here in Judah. How much then, if we go to Keilah against the Philistine army?"

4 David inquired of the LORD again, and the LORD answered him: "Get up, go down to Keilah. I'll give the Philistines into your control."

5 David and his men went to Keilah and fought the Philistines. He carried off their livestock and defeated them decisively, and so David delivered the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 Now when Ahimelech's son Abiathar had fled to David in Keilah, the ephod had come down with him.

7 It was reported to Saul that David had come to Keilah, and Saul said, "The LORD has delivered him into my hand because he has shut himself in by going into a town with double gates and bars."

8 Saul summoned for battle all his forces to go down to Keilah, to besiege David and his men.

9 David knew that Saul was devising evil plans against him, and so he told Abiathar the priest, "Bring the ephod."

10 David said, "LORD God of Israel. Your servant has definitely heard that Saul intends to come to Keilah to destroy the town because of me.

11 Will the people of Keilah hand me over to him? Will Saul come down just as your servant has heard? LORD God of Israel, please inform your servant." The LORD said, "He will come down."

12 Then David said, "Will the people of Keilah hand me over to Saul?" The LORD said, "They'll hand you over."

13 David and his men, about 600 strong, got up and left Keilah. They moved around wherever they could go. Saul was advised that David had escaped from Keilah, so he stopped the campaign.

14 David stayed in the wilderness in the strongholds, and he lived in the hill country in the wilderness of Ziph. Saul sought him every day, but God did not let David slip into Saul's control.

15 David was afraid because Saul had come out to seek his life while David was in the wilderness of Ziph at Horesh.

16 Saul's son Jonathan got up and went to David at Horesh, and he encouraged him to trust in God.

17 Jonathan told him, "Don't be afraid. My father Saul won't find you, and you will be king over Israel. I'll be your second-in-command. My father Saul also knows this."

18 The two of them made a covenant in the LORD's presence. David remained at Horesh while Jonathan went home.

19 People from Ziph came up to Saul at Gibeah and informed him, "David is hiding with us in the strongholds in Horesh and on the hill of Hachilah south of Jeshimon, isn't he?"

20 Now, your majesty, whenever you want to come down, come down, and our part will be to hand him over to the king."

21 Saul said, "May you be blessed by the LORD, because you have been gracious to me.

22 Go and again make sure, find out and investigate where he is and who has seen him there, for people tell me that he's very clever.

23 Investigate and find out all the hiding places there where he hides, and return to me with reliable information. Then I'll go down with you, and if he's in the land, I'll search him out among all the thousands of Judah."

24 The people from Ziph got up and left Saul, while David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon in the Arabah south of Jeshimon.

25 When Saul and his men went to search for David, some people told David, and he went down to the Rock of Escape and remained in the wilderness of Maon. Saul heard this and he pursued David into the wilderness of Maon.

26 Saul went on one side of the mountain while David and his men went on the other side of the mountain. David was hurrying to get away from Saul while Saul and his men were closing in on David and his men to capture them.

27 Then a messenger came to Saul with this news: "Come quickly, because the Philistines have made a raid on the land!"

28 So Saul turned around from pursuing David and went to meet the Philistines. Therefore, they call that place the Rock of Escape.

29 David went up from there and stayed in the strongholds of En-gedi.

1 Samuel 24

1 When Saul returned from pursuing the Philistines, he was told, "Look, David is in the wilderness of En-gedi."

2 Saul took 3,000 of his best troops from all over Israel, and he went to look for David and his men in the direction of the Rocks of the Wild Goats.

3 He came to the sheepfolds beside the road. There was a cave there, and Saul went in to relieve himself. Now David and his men were sitting in the inner recesses of the cave.

4 David's men told him, "Look, today is the day about which the LORD spoke to you when he said, 'I'll give your enemy into your hand.' Do to him whatever you want!" David rose and stealthily cut off the corner of Saul's robe.

5 Afterwards, David's conscience bothered him because he had cut off the corner of Saul's robe.

6 He told his men, "God forbid that I should do this thing to your majesty, the LORD's anointed, by stretching out my hand against him, since he's the LORD's anointed."

7 David restrained his men with his words and did not allow them to rebel against Saul. Saul got up from the cave and started off.

8 Then David got up, went out of the cave, and called out to Saul: "Your majesty!" Saul looked behind him, and David bowed down with his face to the ground and prostrated himself.

9 Then David told Saul, "Why do you listen to the words of those who say, 'Look, David is trying to harm you?'"

10 Look, this very day you saw with your own eyes that the LORD gave you into my control in the cave, and one of my men told me to kill you, but I had pity on you and responded, 'I won't lift my hand against his majesty because he's the LORD's anointed.'

11 See, my father, see! The corner of your robe is in my hand. Indeed, by my cutting off the corner of your robe and not killing you, you may know and understand that I have no evil intent or transgression — I haven't wronged you, even though you are hunting me to take my life.

12 May the LORD judge between me and you, and may he take vengeance on you for me, but I won't be attacking you.

13 Just like the ancient proverb says, 'From wicked people comes wickedness,' but I'm not against you.

14 After whom is the king of Israel going out? Whom are you pursuing? A dead dog or a single flea?

15 May the LORD act as judge, and may he decide between me and you. May he see, may he plead my case, and may he vindicate me in this dispute against you."

16 When David had finished saying these things to Saul, Saul asked, "Is this your voice, my son David?" Then Saul cried loudly

17 to David, "You are more righteous than I am, because you have treated me well even though I've treated you poorly.

18 You have explained how you treated me well, in that the LORD delivered me into your hand but you didn't kill me.

19 For who would find his enemy and then send him away safely? May the LORD repay you for what you have done for me today.

20 Now I know for certain that you will be king, and that the kingdom will be established under your authority.

21 Now swear to me by the LORD that you will never eliminate my descendants after me, and that you won't erase my name from my father's family."

22 David made this vow to Saul, and then Saul went home, while David and his men went up to the stronghold.

1 Samuel 25

1 Samuel died and all Israel assembled to mourn for him. They buried him at his home in Ramah.

2 Now there was a man in Maon whose business was in Carmel of Judah, and the man was very rich. He had 3,000 sheep and 1,000 goats, and he was shearing his sheep in Carmel.

3 The man's name was Nabal and his wife's name was Abigail. The woman was intelligent and beautiful, while the man was harsh and wicked in his dealings. He was a descendant of Caleb.

4 While David was in the wilderness, he heard that Nabal was shearing his sheep.

5 David sent ten young men, saying to the young men, "Go up to Carmel, find Nabal, and greet him in my name.

6 Then say, 'May you live long. Peace to you, peace to your family, and peace to all that you have.

7 Now, I've heard that the sheep shearers are with you. Now, your shepherds have been with us. We didn't harm them, and they didn't miss anything all the time they were in Carmel.

8 Ask your young men and they'll tell you. Therefore let my young men find favour with you since we came on a special day. Please give whatever you have available to your servants and to your son David.'"

9 David's young men came to Nabal and told him all this in David's name, and then they waited.

2 Corinthians 4

8 In every way we're troubled but not crushed, frustrated but not in despair,
9 persecuted but not abandoned, struck down but not destroyed.
10 We are always carrying around the death of Jesus in our bodies, so that the life of Jesus may be clearly shown in our bodies.
11 While we are alive, we are constantly being handed over to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may be clearly shown in our mortal bodies.
12 And so death is at work in us, but life is at work in you.
13 Now since we have the same spirit of faith in keeping with this Scripture: "I believed, and so I spoke," we also believe and therefore speak.
14 We know that the one who raised the Lord Jesus will also raise us with Jesus and present us to God together with you.
15 All this is for your sake so that, as his grace spreads, more and more people will give thanks and glorify God.
16 That's why we are not discouraged. No, even if outwardly we are wearing out, inwardly we are being renewed each and every day.
17 This light, temporary nature of our suffering is producing for us an everlasting weight of glory, far beyond any comparison,
18 because we do not look for things that can be seen but for things that cannot be seen. For things that can be seen are temporary, but things that cannot be seen are eternal.

2 Corinthians 5

1 We know that if the earthly tent we live in is torn down, we have a building in heaven that comes from God, an eternal house not built by human hands.
2 For in this one we sigh, since we long to put on our heavenly dwelling.
3 Of course, if we do put it on, we will not be found without a body.
4 So while we are still in this tent, we sigh under our burdens, because we do not want to put it off but to put it on, so that our dying bodies may be swallowed up by life.
5 God has prepared us for this and has given us his Spirit as a guarantee.
6 Therefore, we are always confident, and we know that as long as we are at home in this body we are away from the Lord.
7 For we live by faith, not by sight.
8 We are confident, then, and would prefer to be away from this body and to live with the Lord.
9 So whether we are at home or away from home, our goal is to be pleasing to him.
10 For all of us must appear before the judgement seat of the Messiah, so that each of us may receive what he deserves for what he has done in his body, whether good or worthless.
11 Therefore, since we know what it means to fear the Lord, we try to persuade people. We ourselves are perfectly known to God. I hope we are also really known to your consciences.

1 Samuel 25

10 Nabal answered David's servants: "Who is David? Who is this son of Jesse? There are many servants today who are breaking away from their masters.

11 Should I take my food, my water, and my meat that I've slaughtered for my shearers and give it to men who came from who knows where?"

12 David's men turned and went on their way. They came back and told David everything.

13 David told his men, "Put on your swords." They put on their swords, and David put on his sword. Then about 400 men followed David, while 200 stayed with the supplies.

14 Now, one of the young men told Nabal's wife Abigail: "Look, David sent messengers from the wilderness to greet our lord, but he screamed insults at them.

15 The men were very good to us. They didn't harm us, and we didn't miss anything all the time we moved around with them when we were in the field.

16 They were a wall around us both day and night, all the time we were with them taking care of the sheep.

17 Now, be aware of this and consider what you should do. Calamity is being planned against our master and against his entire household. He's such a worthless person that no one can talk to him."

18 Abigail quickly took 200 loaves of bread, two skins of wine, five butchered sheep, five measures of roasted grain, 100 bunches of raisins, and 200 fig cakes and loaded them on donkeys.

19 She told her young men, "Go ahead of me, I'll be coming right behind you." But she said nothing to her husband Nabal.

20 She was riding on the donkey and as she went down a protected part of the mountain, David was there with his men, coming down to meet her, and she went toward them.

21 Now David had said, "Surely it was for nothing that I protected everything that belonged to this man in the wilderness, and nothing was missing of all that belonged to him. But he has repaid me with evil for good!

22 May the LORD do this to the enemies of David — and more also — if by the morning I've left alive a single male of all those who belong to him."

23 When Abigail saw David, she quickly got down from the donkey and fell on her face before David, prostrating herself on the ground.

24 She fell at his feet and pleaded, "Your majesty, let the guilt be on me alone, and please let your servant speak to you. Listen to the words of your servant.

25 Please, your majesty, don't pay attention to this worthless man Nabal, for he's just like his name. Nabal is his name and folly is his constant companion. But I, your servant, didn't see your majesty's young men whom you sent.

26 Now, your majesty, as the LORD lives and as you live, the LORD has kept you from shedding blood and from delivering yourself by your own actions. Now, may your enemies and those seeking to do evil to your majesty be like Nabal.

27 Now let this present that your servant has brought to your majesty be given to the young men who follow your majesty.

28 Please forgive the offence of your servant. For the LORD will certainly make a strong dynasty for your majesty, for your majesty is fighting the LORD's battles. May evil not be found in you for all of your life.

29 If anyone should arise to pursue you and seek your life, may the life of your majesty be bound up with the LORD your God in a bundle of the living, and may he sling out the lives of your enemies from the pocket of a sling.

30 When the LORD does for your majesty all the good that he promised concerning you and appoints you Commander-in-Chief over Israel,

31 this shouldn't be an obstacle or stumbling block for your majesty's conscience, that he poured out blood without cause or that your majesty delivered himself. When the LORD does good things for your majesty, remember your servant."

32 David told Abigail, "Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who sent you to meet me today. Blessed be your good judgement, and blessed be you, who today stopped me from shedding blood and delivering myself by my own actions.

34 For as surely as the LORD God of Israel lives, the one who restrained me from harming you — indeed, had you not quickly come to meet me, by dawn there wouldn't be a single male left to Nabal."

35 David took from her what she had brought him and told her, "Go up to your house in peace. Look, I've heard your request and will grant it."

36 Abigail returned to Nabal, and he was there in his house holding a feast like the feast of a king. Nabal's heart was glad, and he was very drunk, so she didn't tell him anything at all until morning.

37 After Nabal became sober the next morning, his wife told him all that had happened. Nabal's heart failed and he became paralyzed.

38 About ten days later the LORD struck Nabal, and he died.

39 When David heard that Nabal had died, he said, "Blessed be the LORD who has judged the dispute over my insult at the hand of Nabal, and has held back his servant from evil. The LORD has repaid Nabal's wickedness." Then David sent word to Abigail that he would take her as his wife.

40 David's servants went to Abigail at Carmel and told her, "David sent us to you to take you to him as his wife."

41 She got up, prostrated herself face down on the ground, and replied, "Your servant would be a slave to wash the feet of your majesty's servants."

42 Then Abigail quickly got up and got on a donkey, with five young women walking behind her. She followed David's messengers, and she became his wife.

43 David also married Ahinoam of Jezreel, and both of them became his wives.

44 Meanwhile, Saul had given his daughter Michal, David's wife, to Laish's son Palti from Gallim.

1 Samuel 26

1 People from Ziph came to Saul in Gibeah and informed him, "David is hiding on the hill of Hachilah which is across from Jeshimon, isn't he?"

2 So Saul rose and went down with 3,000 select men of Israel to the Wilderness of Ziph, to look for David in the Wilderness of Ziph.

3 Saul camped by the road on the hill of Hachilah, across from Jeshimon, while David was staying in the wilderness. When he realized that Saul had come after him in the wilderness,

4 David sent out spies and found out for certain that Saul had arrived.

5 David rose and went to the place where Saul was camped. David saw the place where Saul and Abner, his Commander-in-Chief, lay down. Saul was lying down within the encampment, and the army was camped all around him.

6 David said to Ahimelech the Hittite, and to Joab's brother Abishai, Zeruiah's son, "Who will go down with me to Saul in the camp?" Abishai said, "I'll go down with you."

7 David and Abishai went to the army at night, and Saul was lying there asleep in the encampment. His spear was stuck in the ground at his head, and Abner and the army were lying all around him.

8 Abishai told David, "Today God has delivered your enemy into your hand. Let me run the spear through him into the ground with a single blow. I won't need to strike him twice!"

9 David told Abishai, "Don't destroy him. Who can raise his hand to strike the LORD's anointed and remain innocent?"

10 As the LORD lives, the LORD will strike him down, or his time will come to die, or he will go into battle and perish.

11 The LORD forbid that I should raise my hand against the LORD's anointed. Now take the spear that is at his head and the jug of water, and let's go."

12 So David took the spear and the jug of water at Saul's head, and they left. No one saw, and no one knew, because no one was awake. They were all asleep, because a deep sleep from the LORD had fallen over them.

13 Then David crossed over to the other side and stood on top of the hill some distance away with a large distance between them.

14 David called out to the army and to Ner's son Abner, "Abner, won't you answer me?" Abner answered: "Who are you who calls out to the king?"

15 David told Abner, "Are you not a man, and who is like you in Israel? Why didn't you guard your lord, the king? Indeed, a soldier came to destroy the king, your lord.

16 This thing that you did is not good. As the LORD lives, you deserve to die, you who didn't guard your lord, the LORD's anointed. Where is the king's spear and where is the jug of water that was at his head?"

17 Saul recognized David's voice and said, "Is this your voice, my son David?" David replied, "It is my voice, your majesty."

18 David said, "Why is your majesty pursuing his servant? For what have I done, and what evil do I bear toward you?"

19 Now let your majesty listen to the words of his servant. If the LORD incited you against me, then may he accept an offering. But if it is people, may they be cursed in the LORD's presence, because they have driven me out today from sharing in the inheritance of the LORD by saying, 'Go serve other gods.'

20 Now, don't let my blood fall to the ground away from the LORD's presence. Indeed, the king of Israel has come out to seek a single flea, like someone hunts a partridge in the mountains."

21 Then Saul said, "I've wronged you. Return, my son David, for I won't harm you again because my life was precious to you today. Look, I've acted foolishly and have made a very great mistake."

22 David replied, "Here's the king's spear. Have one of the young men come over and get it.

23 The LORD repays a person for his righteousness and his faithfulness. The LORD gave you into my control today, but I refused to raise my hand against the LORD's anointed.

24 Look, just as your life was valuable in my eyes today, so may my life be valuable in the LORD's eyes, and may he deliver me from all trouble."

25 Saul told David, "Blessed are you, my son David. In whatever you do you will surely succeed." So David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

1 Samuel 27

1 David told himself, "One of these days I'll perish by Saul's hand. There is nothing better for me to do than to escape to Philistine territory. Saul will give up searching for me anymore within the borders of Israel, so I'll escape from him."

2 So David got up, and he and the 600 men who were with him went to Maach's son Achish, the king of Gath.

3 David stayed with Achish in Gath along with his men, each of whom was with his household. David had his two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, who had been the wife of Nabal of Carmel.

4 Saul was told that David had fled to Gath, and he did not continue to search for him.

2 Corinthians 5

12 We are not recommending ourselves to you again but are giving you a reason to be proud of us, so that you can answer those who are proud of outward things rather than inward character.

13 So if we were crazy, it was for God; if we are sane, it is for you.

14 The love of the Messiah controls us, for we are convinced of this: that one person died for all people; therefore, all people have died.

15 He died for all people, so that those who live should no longer live for themselves but for the one who died and rose for them.

16 So then, from now on we do not think of anyone from a human point of view. Even if we did think of the Messiah from a human point of view, we don't think of him that way anymore.

17 Therefore, if anyone is in the Messiah, he is a new creation. Old things have disappeared, and — look! — all things have become new!

18 All of this comes from God, who has reconciled us to himself through the Messiah and has given us the ministry of reconciliation,

19 for through the Messiah, God was reconciling the world to himself by not counting their sins against them. He has committed his message of reconciliation to us.

20 Therefore, we are the Messiah's representatives, as though God were pleading through us. We plead on the Messiah's behalf: "Be reconciled to God!"

21 God made the one who did not know sin to be sin for us, so that God's righteousness would be produced in us.

2 Corinthians 6

1 Since, then, we are working with God, we plead with you not to accept God's grace in vain.

2 For he says, "At the right time I heard you, and on a day of salvation I helped you." Listen, now is really the "right time"! Now is the "day of salvation"!

3 We do not put an obstacle in anyone's way. Otherwise, fault may be found with our ministry.

4 Instead, in every way we demonstrate that we are God's servants by tremendous endurance in the midst of difficulties, hardships, and calamities;

5 in beatings, imprisonments, and riots; in hard work, sleepless nights, and hunger;

6 with purity, knowledge, patience, and kindness; with the Holy Spirit, genuine love,

7 truthful speech, and divine power; through the weapons of righteousness in the right and left hands;

8 through honour and dishonour; through ill repute and good repute; perceived as deceivers and yet true,

9 as unknown and yet well-known, as dying and yet — as you see — very much alive, as punished and yet not killed,

10 as sorrowful and yet always rejoicing, as poor and yet enriching many, as having nothing and yet possessing everything.

11 We have spoken frankly to you, Corinthians. Our hearts are wide open.

12 We have not cut you off, but you have cut off your own feelings toward us.

13 Do us a favour — I ask you as my children — and open wide your hearts.

14 Stop becoming unevenly yoked with unbelievers. What partnership can righteousness have with lawlessness? What fellowship can light have with darkness?

15 What harmony exists between the Messiah and Beliar, or what do a believer and an unbeliever have in common?

16 What agreement can a temple of God make with idols? For we are the temple of the living God, just as God said: "I will live and walk among them. I will be their God, and they will be my people."

17 Therefore, "Get away from them and separate yourselves from them," declares the Lord, "and don't touch anything unclean. Then I will welcome you.

18 I will be your Father, and you will be my sons and daughters," declares the Lord Almighty.

6th May

1 Samuel 27

5 David told Achish, "If it pleases you, give me a place in one of the outlying towns, so I may live there. Why should your servant live with you in the royal city?"

6 So that day Achish gave him Ziklag, and therefore, Ziklag has belonged to the kings of Judah until the present time.

7 David lived in Philistine territory for a year and four months.

8 David and his men went up and raided the descendants of Geshur, the descendants of Girzi, and the Amalekites, for they had been living in the land since ancient times, from the entrance of Shur all the way to the land of Egypt.

9 David struck the land and did not leave a man or woman alive. He took sheep, cattle, donkeys, camels, and clothing, and then came back and went to Achish.

10 Achish said, "Where did you raid today?" David answered, "Against the Negev of Judah, against the Negev of the Jerahmeelites, and against the Negev of the Kenites."

11 David did not leave a man or woman alive to bring to Gath. He told himself, "Otherwise, they'll say, 'This is what David is doing, and this has been his practice all the time he has lived in Philistine territory.'"

12 Achish believed David, telling himself, "He has certainly made himself repulsive to his people in Israel. He will be my servant forever."

1 Samuel 28

1 At that time the Philistines assembled their army for war to fight against Israel. Achish told David, "You know, of course, that you and your men will go out with me into the battle."

2 David told Achish, "Very well, you will now see what your servant will do." Achish told David, "Very well, I'll appoint you as my permanent bodyguard."

3 Now Samuel had died, and all Israel had mourned for him and buried him in his own town of Ramah. Saul had expelled the mediums and spiritists from the land.

4 The Philistines assembled, moved out, and camped at Shunem, while Saul assembled all Israel and camped at Gilboa.

5 When Saul saw the Philistine camp, he was afraid, and his heart trembled greatly.

6 Saul inquired of the LORD, but the LORD did not answer him, either through dreams or Urim or through prophets.

7 Saul told his servants, "Find me a woman who is a medium so I can go to her and make my inquiry through her." His servants told him, "Look, there's a woman at Endor who is a medium."

8 Saul disguised himself, putting on different clothes. He went along with two men to the woman at night. He said, "Consult a familiar spirit for me and bring up for me the one whom I tell you."

9 The woman told him, "Look, you know what Saul has done. He has removed mediums and spiritists from the land, so why are you trying to entrap me, so as to cause my death?"

10 Saul swore to her by the LORD: "As surely as the LORD lives, no punishment will come on you for this thing."

11 The woman said, "Whom shall I bring up for you?" Saul said, "Bring up Samuel for me."

12 When the woman saw Samuel, she cried out loudly. The woman told Saul, "Why have you deceived me? You are Saul!"

13 The king told her, "Don't be afraid; but what do you see?" The woman told Saul, "I see a divine being coming up out of the ground."

14 Saul told her, "What does he look like?" She said, "An old man is coming up, and he's wrapped in a robe." Saul knew that it was Samuel, and he bowed low to the ground and prostrated himself.

15 Samuel told Saul, "Why did you disturb me by bringing me up?" Saul said, "I'm in great distress. The Philistines are waging war against me. God has departed from me and won't answer me anymore, either by messages written by the hand of the prophets or by dreams. So I've summoned you to tell me what I should do."

16 Samuel said, "Why do you ask me, since the LORD has departed from you and become your enemy?"

17 The LORD has done to you exactly as he spoke through me. The LORD has torn the kingdom away from you and has given it to your colleague David.

18 Because you didn't obey the LORD and didn't display his fierce anger against Amalek, therefore, the LORD will do this thing to you today.

19 The LORD is giving both you, and Israel with you, into Philistine control. Tomorrow, the LORD will give you, your sons with you, and also the army of Israel into the control of the Philistines."

20 Saul immediately fell down full-length on the ground. He was terrified because of Samuel's words, and he had no strength because he had not eaten food all day and all night.

21 Then the woman came to Saul and saw that he was very disturbed. She told him, "Look, your servant obeyed you. I put my life into your hands, and I listened to your words that you spoke to me.

22 Now, please listen to your servant. I'll put a piece of bread before you so you can eat and have strength to go on your way."

23 Saul refused, saying, "I won't eat!" Both his servants and the woman urged him, and so he listened to them. He got up off the ground and sat on the bed.

24 The woman had a fattened calf in the house, and she quickly slaughtered it. She took flour, kneaded it, and baked unleavened bread.

25 She brought it to Saul and to his servants, and they ate. Then they got up and went out that night.

1 Samuel 29

1 The Philistines gathered all their troops at Aphek, while Israel was camped at the spring in Jezreel.

2 The Philistine leaders were passing in review among the military units, and David and his men were among them in the rear with Achish.

3 The Philistine leaders said, "What are these Hebrews doing here?" Achish asked the Philistine leaders, "Isn't this David, the servant of King Saul of Israel, who has been with me these days, or rather these years? I've found no fault in him from the day he deserted until now."

4 But the Philistine leaders were angry with him, so they pleaded with him, "Send the man back! Let him return to the place you assigned him. He mustn't go into battle with us. Otherwise, he may become our adversary in the battle! How could there be a better way for this fellow to reconcile himself with his lord? Wouldn't it be with the heads of these men?"

5 Isn't this the same David about whom the maidens sang when they were dancing, 'Saul has struck down his thousands, but David his ten thousands'?"

6 Then Achish summoned David and told him, "As surely as the LORD lives, you are trustworthy, and it seems good to me for you to campaign with me as part of the army. Indeed, I've not found any evil in you from the time you came to me until now. But the leaders don't approve of you.

7 Now return and go in peace, so you do nothing to displease the Philistine leaders."

8 David told Achish, "What have I done, and what have you found in your servant from the time I came before you until this very moment, that I shouldn't go out and fight the enemies of your majesty?"

9 Achish answered David, "I know that I'm pleased with you. You're like an angel of God. But the Philistine leaders have said, 'He mustn't go into battle with us.'
10 Now, get up early in the morning along with your lord's servants who came with you. Get up early in the morning, and go as soon as you have light."
11 So David and his men got up early in the morning to return to Philistine territory, while the Philistines went up to Jezreel.

1 Samuel 30

1 When David and his men came to Ziklag on the third day, the Amalekites had raided the Negev and Ziklag. They had attacked Ziklag and set it on fire.
2 They took the women in it captive, from young to old. They did not kill anyone. Instead, they carried them off and went on their way.
3 David and his men came to the town, and it had been burned down. Their wives, their sons, and their daughters had been taken captive.
4 Then David and the people who were with him lifted their voices and cried until they had no more strength left to cry.
5 David's two wives, Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, Nabal's former wife, had been captured.
6 David was in great danger because all the people were bitter because of their sons and daughters, and they were talking about stoning him. But David found strength in the LORD his God.
7 David told Ahimelech's son Abiathar the priest, "Bring me the ephod." So Abiathar brought the ephod to David.
8 David inquired of the LORD: "Shall I pursue this raiding party? Will I overtake them?" The LORD told David, "Pursue them! You will definitely overtake them and rescue the captives."
9 So David and 600 men who were with him set out. They came to the Wadi Besor where those who were left behind stayed.
10 David and 400 men continued the pursuit, while the 200 men who were too exhausted to cross over the Wadi Besor remained there.
11 They found an Egyptian man in the field, and they took him to David. They gave him food to eat and provided water for him.
12 They gave him part of a fig cake and two bunches of raisins. After he had eaten, he revived, since he had neither eaten food nor had he drunk water for three days and three nights.
13 David told him, "To whom do you belong and where are you from?" The Egyptian replied, "I'm a young Egyptian man, the slave of an Amalekite man. My master abandoned me, because I got sick three days ago."
14 We raided the Negev of the Cherethites, the territory that belongs to Judah, and the Negev of Caleb, and we set Ziklag on fire."
15 David asked him, "Will you take me to this raiding party?" He said, "Swear to me by God that you won't kill me or turn me over to my master, and I'll take you to the raiding party."

2 Corinthians 7

1 Since we have these promises, dear friends, let's cleanse ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit by becoming mature in our holy fear of God.

2 Make room for us in your hearts! We have not treated anyone unjustly, harmed anyone, or cheated anyone.

3 I am not saying this to condemn you. I told you before that you are in our hearts to die together and to live together.

4 I have great confidence in you. I am very proud of you. I am very much encouraged. I am overjoyed in all our troubles.

5 For even when we came to Macedonia, our bodies had no rest. We suffered in a number of ways. Outwardly there were conflicts, inwardly there were fears.

6 Yet God, who comforts those who feel miserable, comforted us by the arrival of Titus,

7 and not only by his arrival but also by the comfort he had received from you. He told us about your longing for me, your sorrow, and your eagerness to take my side, and this made me even happier.

8 If I made you sad with my letter, I do not regret it, although I did regret it then. I see that the letter caused you sorrow, though only for a while.

9 Now I am happy, not because you had such sorrow, but because your sorrow led you to repent. For you were sorry in a godly way, and so you were not hurt by us in any way.

10 For having sorrow in a godly way results in repentance that leads to salvation and leaves no regrets. But the sorrow of the world produces death.

11 See what great earnestness godly sorrow has produced in you! How ready you are to clear yourselves, how indignant, how alarmed, how full of longing and enthusiasm, how eager to seek justice! In every way you have demonstrated that you are innocent in this matter.

12 So, even though I wrote to you, it wasn't because of the man who did the wrong or because of the man who was hurt. Instead, I wrote to you so that your devotion to us might be made perfectly clear to you before God.

13 This is what comforted us. In addition to our own comfort, we were even more delighted at the joy of Titus, because his spirit had been set at rest by all of you.

14 For if I have been doing some boasting about you to him, I have never been ashamed of it. Moreover, since everything we told you was true, our boasting to Titus has also proved to be true.

15 His heart goes out to you even more as he remembers how obedient all of you were and how you welcomed him with fear and trembling.

16 I rejoice that I can have complete confidence in you.

1 Samuel 30

16 The Egyptian led him to the camp, and there the Amalekites were spread out over the whole area, eating, drinking, and celebrating with the great amount of spoil they had taken from the territory belonging to the Philistines and to Judah.

17 David struck them down from twilight until the evening of the next day, and not one of them escaped except for 400 young men who mounted camels and fled.

18 David rescued everyone whom the Amalekites had captured, including his two wives.

19 Nothing of theirs was missing, whether small or large, sons or daughters, spoil, or anything that they had taken for themselves — David brought back everything.

20 David took all the rest of the sheep and cattle, driving them ahead of their rescued livestock. People said about all this, "This is David's spoil."

21 David came to the 200 men who were too exhausted to follow him and who had been left at the Wadi Besor. They came out to meet David and the people who were with him. As David approached the people, he asked them how they were doing.

22 At this point, all the wicked and worthless men of the group who had gone with David answered, "Because they didn't go with us, we won't give them any of the spoil that we recovered, except that each person may take his wife and his children and go."

23 David said, "No, you won't do this, my brothers, with what the LORD has given us. He guarded us and gave the raiding party that came against us into our hand.

24 Who will listen to you in this matter? Indeed, the share of those who went down into battle and the share of those who stayed with the supplies will be the same. They'll share alike."

25 From that day forward he made it a statute and an ordinance for Israel, and it remains to this present day.

26 David came to Ziklag, and he sent some of the spoil to the elders of Judah, and to his friends, telling them, "Look, this is a gift for you from the spoil of the enemies of the LORD

27 in Bethel, Ramoth-negev, Jattir,

28 Aroer, Siphmoth, Eshtemoa,

29 Rachal, in the Jerahmeelite towns, in the Kenite towns,

30 in Hormah, Bor-ashan, Athach,

31 Hebron, and for all those places where David and his men had frequented."

1 Samuel 31

1 The Philistines fought against Israel, and the army of Israel fled before the Philistines. They fell slain on Mount Gilboa.

2 The Philistines pursued Saul and his sons. The Philistines struck down Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchi-shua, Saul's sons.

3 The heaviest fighting was directed toward Saul, and when the bowmen who were shooting located Saul, he was severely wounded by them.

4 Saul told his armour bearer, "Draw your sword and run me through with it, or these uncircumcised people will come and run me through and make sport of me." But his armour bearer did not want to do it because he was very frightened, so Saul took the sword and fell on it.

5 When his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died with him.

6 As a result, Saul, his three sons, his armour bearer, and all his men died together that day.

7 When the men of Israel who were across the valley and who were across the Jordan saw that the army of Israel had fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned the cities and fled, and the Philistines came and occupied them.

8 The next day, the Philistines came to strip the dead, and they found Saul and his three sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.

9 They cut off his head and stripped him of his weapons. They sent people throughout the territory of the Philistines to report the good news in the temples of their idols and to the people.

10 They put Saul's weapons in the temple of Asherah and fastened his corpse to the wall of Beth-shan.

11 When the residents of Jabesh-gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 every valiant soldier got up, travelled all night, and removed Saul's body and the bodies of his sons from the wall of Beth-shan. Then they went to Jabesh and cremated the bodies there.

13 They took their bones, buried them under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh, and fasted for seven days.

2 Samuel 1

1 Shortly after Saul had died, David returned from defeating the Amalekites and remained in Ziklag for two days.

2 The next day, a man escaped from Saul's camp! With torn clothes and dirty hair, he approached David, fell to the ground, and bowed down to him.

3 David asked him, "Where did you come from? He answered him, "I just escaped from Israel's encampment."

4 David continued questioning him, "How did things go? Please tell me!" He replied, "The army has fled the battlefield, many of the army are wounded or have died, and Saul and his son Jonathan are also dead."

5 David asked the young man who related the story, "How do you know that Saul and his son Jonathan are dead?"

6 The young man who had been relating the story answered, "I happened to be on Mount Gilboa and there was Saul, leaning on his spear! Meanwhile, the chariots and horsemen were rapidly drawing near.

7 Saul glanced behind him, saw me, and called out to me, so I replied, 'Here I am!'

8 He asked me, 'Who are you?' So I answered him, 'I'm an Amalekite!'

9 He begged me, 'Please — come stand here next to me and kill me, because I'm still alive.'

10 So I stood next to him and killed him, because I knew that he wouldn't live after he had fallen. I took the crown that had been on his head, along with the bracelet that had been on his arm, and I have brought them to your majesty."

11 On hearing this, David grabbed his clothes and tore them, as did all the men who were attending to him.

12 They mourned and wept, and then decided to fast until dusk for Saul, for his son Jonathan, for the army of the LORD, and for the house of Israel, because they had fallen in battle.

13 Meanwhile, David asked the young man who had told him the story, "Where are you from?" He answered, "I'm an Amalekite, the son of a foreign man."

14 At this David asked him, "How is it that you weren't afraid to raise your hand to strike the LORD's anointed?"

15 Then David called out to one of his young men and ordered him, "Go up to him and cut him down!" So he attacked him and killed him.

16 David told him, "Your blood is on your own head, because your own words testified against you! After all, you said, 'I myself have killed the LORD's anointed!'"

17 So David intoned this song of lament about Saul and his son Jonathan,

18 and he gave orders to teach the descendants of Judah the art of warfare, as is recorded in the Book of Jashar:

19 "Your beauty, Israel, lies slain on your high places!
O, how the valiant have fallen!

20 Don't make it known in Gath!
Don't declare it in the avenues of Ashkelon!
Otherwise, the daughters of Philistia will rejoice;
and the daughters of the uncircumcised will triumph.

21 Mountains of Gilboa,
let no dew or rain fall on you,
and may none of your fields be filled with plenty,
because in that place the shield of the valiant ones was defiled,
the shield of Saul without an anointing with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain,

- from the blood of the valiant,
Jonathan's bow would not retreat
nor would Saul's sword return empty.
- 23 Saul and Jonathan, loved and handsome in life,
in death were not separated.
Swifter than eagles they were,
and more valiant than lions.
- 24 Daughters of Israel, weep over Saul!
He clothed you in scarlet luxury and decorated your garments with gold.
- 25 How have the valiant fallen in the tumult of battle!
Jonathan lies slain on your high places.
- 26 I am in distress for you, my brother Jonathan.
You have been most kind to me. Your love for me was extraordinary — beyond love from women.
- 27 How the valiant have fallen!
How the weapons of war are destroyed!"

2 Corinthians 8

1 We want you to know, brothers, about God's grace that was given to the churches of Macedonia.

2 In spite of their terrible ordeal of suffering, their abundant joy and deep poverty has led them to be abundantly generous.

3 I can testify that by their own free will they have given to the utmost of their ability, yes, even beyond their ability.

4 They begged us earnestly for the privilege of participating in this ministry to the saints.

5 We did not expect that! They gave themselves to the Lord first and then to us, since this was God's will.

6 So we urged Titus to finish this work of kindness among you in the same way that he had started it.

7 Indeed, the more your faith, speech, knowledge, enthusiasm, and love for us increase, the more we want you to be rich in this work of kindness.

8 I am not commanding you but testing the genuineness of your love by the enthusiasm of others.

9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah. Although he was rich, for your sakes he became poor, so that you, through his poverty, might become rich.

10 I am giving you my opinion on this matter because it will be helpful to you. Last year you were not only willing to do something, but had already started to do it.

11 Now finish what you began, so that your eagerness to do so may be matched by your eagerness to complete it.

12 For if the eagerness is there, the gift is acceptable according to what you have, not according to what you do not have.

13 Not that others should have relief while you have hardship. Rather, it is a question of fairness.

14 At the present time, your surplus fills their need, so that their surplus may fill your need. In this way things are fair.

15 As it is written, "The person who had much did not have too much, and the person who had little did not have too little."

16 But thanks be to God, who placed in the heart of Titus the same dedication to you that I have.

17 He welcomed my request and eagerly went to visit you by his own free will.

18 With him we have sent the brother who is praised in all the churches for spreading the gospel.

19 More than that, he has also been selected by the churches to travel with us while we are administering this work of kindness for the glory of the Lord and as evidence of our eagerness to help.

20 We are trying to avoid any criticism of the way we are administering this great undertaking.

21 We intend to do what is right, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of people.

22 We have also sent with them our brother whom we have often tested in many ways and found to be dedicated. At present he is more dedicated than ever because he has so much confidence in you.

23 As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker on your behalf. Our brothers, emissaries from the churches, are bringing glory to the Messiah.

24 Therefore, demonstrate to the churches that you love them and show them publicly why we boast about you.

2 Samuel 2

- 1 Some time later, David inquired of the LORD to ask, "Am I to move to any one of the cities of Judah?" The LORD told him, "Go." So David asked, "To which one?" He replied, "To Hebron."
- 2 So David went there, along with his two wives Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, widow of Nabal from Carmel.
- 3 David brought his army with him, each soldier accompanied by his household, and they settled in the cities of Hebron.
- 4 After this, the army of Judah arrived, and they anointed David king over the house of Judah. There they informed David, "The men of Jabesh-gilead buried Saul."
- 5 So David sent messengers to the people of Jabesh-gilead and told them, "May the LORD bless you, because you showed gracious love like this to your lord Saul by burying him.
- 6 Now may the Lord reward you with gracious love, as well as faithfulness, to you, too! And I will also reward you because you did this good thing.
- 7 So strengthen yourselves, and be valiant in heart, because your lord Saul has died, and the household of Judah has anointed me to be king over them."
- 8 Meanwhile, Ner's son Abner, the commander of Saul's army, had taken Saul's son Ish-bosheth and brought him to Mahanaim.
- 9 He installed him as king over Gilead, the Ashurites, Jezreel, Ephraim, Benjamin, and all of the rest of Israel.
- 10 Ish-bosheth began to reign over Israel at the age of 40 years, and he reigned for two years, even though Judah's lineage followed David.
- 11 The period of David's kingship in Hebron lasted seven years and six months.
- 12 Ner's son Abner and the servants of Saul's son Ish-bosheth set out from Mahanaim for Gibeon.
- 13 Zeruiah's son Joab and some of David's staff went out to meet them at the pool of Gibeon. One side encamped on one side of the pool while the other encamped on the other side of the pool.
- 14 Abner told Joab, "Let's have the young men get up and fight in our presence." Joab replied, "Let them come."
- 15 So they got up and twelve were counted to represent Benjamin and Saul's son Ish-bosheth and twelve to represent members of David's staff.
- 16 Each man grabbed his opponent by the head, plunged his sword into his opponent's side, and then they both fell together. That's why the place at Gibeon was named The Field of Swords.
- 17 The battle was very violent that day, with Abner and the men of Israel being defeated in the presence of David's servants.
- 18 Zeruiah's three sons Joab, Abishai, and Asahel were there. As a runner, Asahel was fast, like one of the wild gazelles.
- 19 So Asahel ran straight after Abner, following him.
- 20 When Abner looked behind him, he said, "Is that you, Asahel?" He answered, "I am."
- 21 Abner told him, "Go off to your right or left after one of the young men and grab some war spoils." But Asahel would not stop following him,
- 22 so Abner told Asahel again, "Stop following me. Why should I strike you down? How could I show my face to your brother Joab?"
- 23 But Asahel refused to turn away, so Abner struck Asahel in the abdomen with the butt end of his spear, and the spear protruded through his back. He collapsed to the ground and died where he fell. Everyone gathered round the place where Asahel had collapsed and died, and stood still there.

24 Meanwhile, Joab and Abishai continued to chase Abner. At dusk, as they approached the hill of Ammah that is located near Giah on the way to the Gibeon desert,
25 the descendants of Benjamin rallied around Abner, forming a single military force. They took their stand on top of the hill.
26 Then Abner called out to Joab, "Must the battle sword keep on devouring forever? Don't you realize that the end result is bitterness? How long will it take for you to order your army to stop pursuing their own relatives?"
27 Joab answered, "As God lives, if you hadn't spoken up, by morning my army would have broken off their pursuit of their own relatives."
28 So Joab sounded his battle trumpet, his entire army stopped pursuing Israel any longer, and they quit fighting.
29 Abner and his army travelled through the Arabah by night, crossed the Jordan, and arrived at Mahanaim after marching all morning.
30 Joab returned from his pursuit of Abner, and when he had mustered his entire army, nineteen of David's soldiers were missing besides Asahel.
31 Meanwhile, other soldiers of David had killed 360 of Abner's men from the tribe of Benjamin.
32 They retrieved Asahel's body and buried him in his father's tomb at Bethlehem. Then Joab and his men marched all night until daybreak and arrived back in Hebron.

2 Samuel 3

1 After this, a state of protracted war existed between Saul's dynasty and David's dynasty, and the dynasty of David continued to grow and become strong while the dynasty of Saul continued to grow weaker.
2 During this time, sons were born to David while he was living in Hebron. His firstborn was Amnon by Ahinoam from Jezreel,
3 his second was Chileab by Abigail, widow of Nabal from Carmel, his third was Absalom by Maacah, daughter of King Talmi from Geshur,
4 his fourth was Adonijah by Haggith, his fifth was Shephatiah by Abital,
5 and his sixth was Ithream by David's wife Eglah. They were all born to David in Hebron.
6 While war continued between the dynasties of Saul and David, Abner was growing in influence within the dynasty of Saul.
7 Meanwhile, Saul had a mistress named Rizpah, who was the daughter of Aiah. Ish-bosheth asked Abner, "Why did you have sex with my father's mistress?"
8 What Ish-bosheth said made Abner furious, so he replied, "A dog's head for Judah — is that what I am? Up until today I've kept on showing loyalty to your father Saul's dynasty, to his relatives and friends, and I haven't turned you over to David, but you're charging me today with moral guilt regarding this woman!"
9 Therefore may God do to me — and more also! — just as the LORD has promised to David, since I'm doing this for him:
10 I will take away the kingdom from the dynasty of Saul by making the throne of David firm over Israel and Judah — from Dan to Beer-sheba!"
11 Ish-bosheth couldn't say another word in response to Abner, because he was terrified of him.
12 So Abner sent messengers to David at Hebron to ask him, "Who owns this land? Cut a deal with me, and look! — I'll lend my hand in bringing all of Israel over to you!"
13 David replied, "Sounds good to me! I'll cut a deal with you under one condition: you're not to show yourself in my presence unless you bring Saul's daughter with you when you come to see me."
14 Then David sent a delegation to Saul's son Ish-bosheth to say, "Give me my wife Michal, to whom I was engaged with a dowry of 100 Philistine foreskins."
15 So Ish-bosheth ordered that she be taken away from her husband, Laish's son Paltiel.

16 Her husband accompanied her, crying as he followed after her all the way to Bahurim, where Abner told him, "Leave! Go back!" So he went back.

17 Later, Abner had a talk with the elders of Israel. He said, "In the past you were looking to see David made king over you.

18 So do it, then! Because the LORD has said this about David: 'Through my servant David I will save my people Israel from the control of the Philistines and from all of their enemies.'"

19 Abner also addressed the tribe of Benjamin. Furthermore, with David's permission, Abner said anything that seemed like it would be good for Israel and for the entire tribe of Benjamin.

20 Afterwards, Abner brought 20 soldiers to David at Hebron, and David threw a party for Abner and the men who were with him.

21 So Abner told David, "Give me permission to go out and rally all of Israel to your majesty the king so they can enter into a formal agreement with you to reign over everything that your heart desires." So David sent Abner off, and he went away in peace.

22 Right about then, David's servants returned from a raid, bringing plenty of war booty with them, but Abner wasn't in Hebron with David, since David had sent him away and Abner had left in peace.

23 When Joab returned with his entire army, Joab was informed, "Ner's son Abner visited the king, and he has dismissed him. He has left in peace."

24 So Joab approached the king and asked him, "What have you done? Look, Abner came to you! What's this? You sent him away? He's long gone now!

25 You know Ner's son Abner came to mislead you, to learn your troop movements, and to learn everything you're doing!"

26 As soon as Joab left David, Joab sent messengers after Abner, and they brought him back from the cistern at Sirah, but David was not aware of this.

27 When Abner returned to Hebron, Joab brought him aside within the gateway to talk to him alone and then stabbed him in the abdomen. So he died for shedding the blood of Joab's brother Asahel.

28 Later on, David found out about it and proclaimed, "Let me and my kingdom remain guiltless forever in the LORD's presence for the death of Ner's son Abner.

29 May judgement rest on Joab's head and on his father's entire household. May Joab's dynasty never be without one who has a discharge, who is a leper, who walks with a cane, who commits suicide, or who lacks food!"

30 He said this because Joab and his brother Abishai murdered Abner after he had killed their brother Asahel in the battle at Gibeon.

2 Corinthians 9

- 1 I do not need to write to you any further about the ministry to the saints.
- 2 For I know how willing you are, and I boast about you to the people of Macedonia, saying that Achaia has been ready since last year, and your enthusiasm has stimulated most of them.
- 3 Now I have sent the brothers so that our boasting about you in this matter may not prove to be an idle boast, and so that you may stand ready, just as I said.
- 4 Otherwise, if any Macedonians come with me and find out that you are not ready, we would be humiliated — to say nothing of you — in this undertaking.
- 5 Therefore, I thought it necessary to urge these brothers to visit you ahead of me, to make arrangements in advance for this gift you promised, and to have it ready as something given generously and not forced.
- 6 Remember this: The person who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and the person who sows generously will also reap generously.
- 7 Each of you must give what you have decided in your heart, not with regret or under compulsion, since God loves a cheerful giver.
- 8 Besides, God is able to make every blessing of yours overflow for you, so that in every situation you will always have all you need for any good work.
- 9 As it is written, "He scatters everywhere and gives to the poor; his righteousness lasts forever."
- 10 Now he who supplies seed to the farmer and bread to eat will also supply you with seed and multiply it and enlarge the harvest that results from your righteousness.
- 11 In every way you will grow richer and become even more generous, and this will cause others to give thanks to God because of us
- 12 because this ministry you render is not only fully supplying the needs of the saints, it is also overflowing with more and more prayers of thanksgiving to God.
- 13 Because your service in giving proves your love, you will be glorifying God as you obey what your confession of the Messiah's gospel demands, since you are generous in sharing with them and with everyone else.
- 14 And so in their prayers for you they will long for you because of God's exceptional grace that was shown to you.
- 15 Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!

2 Corinthians 10

- 1 Now I myself, Paul, plead with you with the gentleness and kindness of the Messiah — I who am humble when I am face to face with you but forceful toward you when I am away!
- 2 I beg you that when I come I will not need to be courageous by daring to oppose some people who think that we are living according to the flesh.
- 3 Of course, we are living in the world, but we do not wage war in a world-like way.
- 4 For the weapons of our warfare are not those of the world. Instead, they have the power of God to demolish fortresses. We tear down arguments
- 5 and every proud obstacle that is raised against the knowledge of God, taking every thought captive in order to obey the Messiah.
- 6 Once your obedience is complete, we will be ready to reprimand every type of disobedience.

2 Samuel 3

31 David ordered Joab and all the people who were with him, "Tear your clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourn for Abner." King David walked behind the funeral procession,
32 and they buried Abner at Hebron. The king wept loudly at Abner's grave, and all the people wept, too.

33 The king composed this mourning song for Abner:

"Should Abner's death be like a fool's?
34 Your hands were not bound,
nor were your feet in irons.
As one falls before the wicked,
you have fallen."

Then all the people cried again because of him.

35 Everyone tried to persuade David to have a meal while there was still daylight, but David took an oath by saying, "May God do like this to me and more, if I taste bread or anything else before the sun sets!"

36 Everybody took note of this and was very pleased, just as everything else the king did pleased everyone.

37 As a result, the entire army and all of Israel understood that day that the king had nothing to do with the murder of Ner's son Abner.

38 The king reminded his staff, "Don't you know that a prince and a great man has fallen today in Israel?"

39 Today, even though I'm anointed as king, I'm weak. These men, sons of Zeruiah, are too difficult for me. May the LORD repay the one who acts wickedly in accordance with his wickedness!"

2 Samuel 4

1 When Saul's son heard that Abner had died in Hebron, his courage failed and all of Israel was disturbed.

2 Now Saul's son had two officers in charge of some raiding parties. One was named Baanah and the other was named Rechab. They were sons of Rimmon, a descendant of Benjamin from Beeroth, which was considered to belong to the tribe of Benjamin.

3 (The residents of Beeroth had evacuated to Gittaim and live there as resident aliens to this day).

4 Meanwhile, Saul's son Jonathan had a son whose feet were crippled. When he was five years old, news had arrived about Saul and Jonathan from Jezreel, and his nurse picked him up to flee, but in her hurry to leave, he happened to fall and became lame. His name was Mephibosheth.

5 Rechab and Baanah, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite, left and arrived during the hottest part of the day at the home of Ish-bosheth while he was taking a noon day nap.

6 They entered the house as though they intended to obtain some grain and stabbed him in the abdomen. Then Rechab and his brother Baanah escaped.

7 While they were in the house, they struck him, killed him, and cut off his head while he was lying on his bed in his bedroom. They took his head, and travelled all night along the Arabah road.

8 They brought Ish-bosheth's head to David at Hebron and told the king, "Look! Here's the head of your enemy Ish-bosheth, Saul's son, who sought your life. Today the LORD has given your majesty the king vengeance on Saul and his descendants."

9 David responded to Rechab and his brother Baanah, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite: "As the LORD lives, who has saved my life in every adversity,
10 when the man who told me 'Look! Saul is dead!' thought he was bringing me good news, I arrested him and had him killed at Ziklag as the reward I gave him for his news.
11 How much worse will it be, then, when evil men kill an innocent man on his own bed in his own house! Shouldn't I avenge his blood — which you are responsible for shedding — by removing you from the earth?"
12 So David commanded his personal guards, and they killed Rechab and Baanah, cut off their hands and feet, and hung up their bodies beside the pool at Hebron. They took Ishbosheth's head and buried it in Abner's tomb at Hebron.

2 Samuel 5

1 After this, all of the tribes of Israel assembled with David at Hebron and declared, "Look, we're your own flesh and blood!
2 Even back when Saul was our king, it was you who kept on leading Israel out to battle and bringing them back again. The LORD told you, 'You yourself will shepherd my people Israel and serve as Commander-in-Chief over Israel.'"
3 So all the elders of Israel approached the king at Hebron, where King David entered into a covenant with them in the presence of the LORD. Then they anointed David to be king over Israel.
4 David began to reign when he was 30 years old, and he reigned 40 years.
5 He reigned over Judah for seven years and six months in Hebron, and he reigned over all of Israel including Judah for 33 years in Jerusalem.
6 Later, the king and his army marched on Jerusalem against the Jebusites, who were inhabiting the territory at that time and who had told David, "You're not coming in here! Even the blind and the lame could turn you away!" because they were thinking "David can't come here."
7 Even so, David captured the stronghold of Zion, which is now known as the City of David.
8 At that time, David had said, "Whoever intends to attack the Jebusites will have to climb up the water shaft to attack the lame and blind, who hate David." Therefore they say, "The blind and lame are never to come into the house."
9 David occupied the fortress, naming it the City of David. He built up the surroundings from the terrace ramparts inward.
10 David became more and more esteemed because the LORD God of the Heavenly Armies was with him.
11 Later, King Hiram of Tyre sent a delegation to David, accompanied by cedar logs, carpenters, and stone masons. They built a palace for David.
12 So David concluded that the LORD had established him as king over Israel and that he had exalted his kingdom in order to benefit his people Israel.
13 But after arriving in Jerusalem after leaving Hebron, David took more wives and mistresses, and more sons and daughters were born to David.
14 These are the names of those who were born to him in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,
15 Ibhar, Elishua, Nepheg, Japhia,
16 Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet.
17 When the Philistines eventually learned that Israel had anointed David to be king over Israel, they marched out in search of him. But David heard about it and retreated to his stronghold.
18 Meanwhile, the Philistines arrived and encamped in the Rephaim Valley,

19 so David asked the LORD, "Am I to go attack the Philistines? Will you give me victory over them?" "Go get them," the LORD replied to David, "because I'm going to put the Philistines right into your hand!"

20 So David went to Baal-perazim and defeated them there. He called the place Baal-perazim, because he said, "Like a bursting flood, the LORD has jumped out in front of me to fight my enemies."

21 The Philistines abandoned their idols there, and David and his army carried them off.

22 Later, the Philistines once again marched out and encamped in the Rephaim Valley.

23 When David asked the LORD about it, he said, "Don't attack them directly. Instead, go around to the rear and attack them opposite those balsam trees.

24 When you hear the sound of marching coming from the tops of the balsam trees, then be sure to act quickly, since the LORD will have gone out ahead of you to cut down the Philistine army."

25 So David did exactly what the LORD ordered him to do, and he struck down the Philistines from Geba to Gezer.

2 Samuel 6

1 After this, David gathered together again 30,000 men from all of the choicest men of Israel.

2 Then David and all the people with him set out from Baal-judah to bring up from there the Ark of God, who is called the Name, the name of the LORD of the Heavenly Armies, and who is enthroned on the cherubim.

3 They mounted the Ark of God on a new cart and brought it from Abinadab's home in Gibeah, with Abinadab's sons Uzzah and Ahio driving the new cart.

4 As they left Abinadab's house in Gibeah accompanied by the Ark of God, Ahio was walking ahead of the ark.

5 David and the entire assembly of Israel were dancing in the presence of the LORD with all of their strength, accompanied by all sorts of wood instruments, harps, tambourines, castanets, and cymbals.

6 When they arrived at Nacon's threshing floor, Uzzah reached out and grabbed the Ark of God because the oxen had stumbled.

7 Just then, the anger of the LORD blazed against Uzzah, and God struck him down right there because of his failure, and he died there beside the Ark of God.

8 David flew into a rage because the LORD had killed Uzzah. That's why that place is called Perez-uzzah to this day.

9 But David feared the LORD that day, and asked, "How can the Ark of God come to me?"

10 As a result, David was unwilling to take the ark of the LORD into his care in the city of David. Instead, David left it at the home of Obed-edom the Gittite.

11 So the ark of the LORD remained for three months in the household of Obed-edom the Gittite while the LORD blessed Obed-edom and his entire household.

12 Later on, David was informed, "The LORD has blessed the home of Obed-edom and everything he has since he's in possession of the Ark of God." So David went out joyfully and brought up the Ark of God to the City of David from Obed-edom's home.

13 After those who were carrying the ark of the LORD had taken six steps, he sacrificed oxen and fattened animals,

14 dancing in front of the LORD with all of his strength and wearing a linen ephod.

15 So David and the entire assembly of Israel brought up the ark of the LORD with shouting and trumpet blasts.

16 As the ark of the LORD was coming into the City of David, Saul's daughter Michal was peering out a window, watching King David jumping and dancing in the LORD's presence, and she despised him in her heart.

17 They brought in the ark of the LORD, set it in place inside the tent that David had erected for it, and David sacrificed burnt offerings and peace offerings in the presence of the LORD.

18 After David had finished sacrificing the burnt offerings and peace offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the LORD of the Heavenly Armies

19 and distributed to all the people — the entire multitude of Israel, including both men and women — a cake made of bread, one made of dates, and one made of raisins to each one. Then all the people left, each headed for home.

20 When David returned to bless his household, Saul's daughter Michal came out to meet him and called out, "How the king of Israel honoured himself today by undressing himself right in front of his women staff members, just like any pervert would dare to expose himself!"

21 But David replied to Michal, "It was in front of the LORD, who appointed me to replace your father and his entire household by selecting me as Commander-in-Chief over Israel, the people of the LORD, that I danced in front of the LORD.

22 I'm going to act more shamelessly than this, even to humbling myself in my own eyes. Now as to the women staff members about whom you have spoken, they are to hold me in honour!"

23 And Saul's daughter Michal bore no children from that day on until the day she died.

2 Corinthians 10

7 Look at the plain facts! If anyone is confident that he belongs to the Messiah, he should remind himself of this: Just as he belongs to the Messiah, so do we.

8 So if I boast a little too much about our authority, which the Lord gave us to build you up and not to tear you down, I will not be ashamed of it.

9 I do not want you to think that I am trying to frighten you with my letters.

10 For someone is saying, "His letters are impressive and forceful, but his bodily presence is weak and his speech contemptible."

11 Someone like this should take note of the following: What we say by letter when we are absent is what we will do when present!

12 We would not dare put ourselves in the same class with, or compare ourselves to, those who recommend themselves. Whenever they measure themselves by their own standards or compare themselves among themselves, they show how foolish they are.

13 We will not boast about what cannot be evaluated. Instead, we will stay within the field that God assigned us, so as to reach even you.

14 For it is not as though we were overstepping our limits when we came to you. We were the first to reach you with the gospel of the Messiah.

15 We are not boasting about work done by others that cannot be evaluated. On the contrary, we cherish the hope that your faith may continue to grow and enlarge our sphere of action among you until it overflows.

16 Then we can preach the gospel in the regions far beyond you without boasting about things already accomplished by someone else.

17 "The person who boasts should boast in the Lord."

18 It is not the person who commends himself who is approved, but the person whom the Lord commends.

2 Corinthians 11

1 I wish you would tolerate a little of my foolishness. Yes, please tolerate me!

2 I am jealous of you with God's own jealousy, because I promised you in marriage to one husband, to present you as a pure virgin to the Messiah.

3 However, I am afraid that just as the serpent deceived Eve by its tricks, so your minds may somehow be lured away from sincere and pure devotion to the Messiah.

4 For if someone comes along and preaches another Jesus than the one we preached, or should you receive a different spirit from the one you received or a different gospel from the one you accepted, you are all too willing to listen.

5 I do not think I'm inferior in any way to those "super-apostles."

6 Even though I may be untrained as an orator, I am not so in the field of knowledge. We have made this clear to all of you in every possible way.

7 Did I commit a sin when I humbled myself by proclaiming to you the gospel of God free of charge, so that you could be exalted?

8 I robbed other churches by accepting support from them in order to serve you.

9 When I was with you and needed something, I did not bother any of you, because our brothers who came from Macedonia supplied everything I needed. I kept myself from being a burden to you in any way, and I will continue to do so.

2 Samuel 7

1 After the king had settled down in his palace and the LORD had given him respite from all of his surrounding enemies,

2 he told the prophet Nathan, "Look now, I'm living in a cedar palace, but the Ark of God resides behind a tent curtain."

3 Nathan replied to the king, "Go do everything you have in mind, because the LORD is with you."

4 But later that same night, this message came to Nathan from the LORD:

5 "Go tell my servant David, 'This is what the LORD says: ""Are you going to build a house for me to inhabit?

6 After all, I haven't lived in a house since the day I brought up the Israelis from Egypt until now. Instead, I've moved around in a tent that served as my dwelling place.

7 Wherever I moved among the Israelis, did I ever ask even one tribal leader of Israel whom I commanded to shepherd my people Israel, 'Why haven't you built me a cedar house?'

8 ""Now therefore this is what you are to tell my servant David: 'This is what the LORD of the Heavenly Armies says: "I took you from the pasture myself — from tending sheep — to become Commander-in-Chief over my people, that is, over Israel.

9 ""Furthermore, I have remained with you everywhere you have gone, annihilating all your enemies right in front of you. I will make a great reputation for you, like the reputation of great ones who have lived on earth.

10 I will establish a homeland for my people — for Israel — planting them so they may live in a secure location where they will never be disturbed anymore. Wicked people will no longer afflict them, as happened in the past

11 when I had commanded judges to administer my people Israel. I'll also grant you relief from all your enemies.'" "The LORD also announces to you: "The LORD will himself build a house for you.

12 When your life is complete and you go to join your ancestors, I will raise up your offspring after you, who will come forth from your body, and I will fortify his kingdom.

13 He will build a Temple dedicated to my Name, and I will make the throne of his kingdom last forever.

14 I will be a father to him, and he will be to me a son who, when he commits iniquity, I will discipline with the rod wielded by armies and with wounds inflicted by human beings.

15 But I'll never remove my gracious love from him as I did from Saul, whom I removed from your presence.

16 Your dynasty and your kingdom will remain forever in my presence — your throne will be secure forever.""

17 Nathan communicated this complete oracle to David with precisely these words.

18 Then King David went in to the presence of the LORD, sat down, and said: "Who am I, Lord God, and what is my household, since you have brought me to this?

19 And this is still a small thing to you, Lord God, and yet you have spoken to your servant's household for a great while to come, and this is the charter of mankind, Lord God.

20 "What more can David say to you, and you surely know your servant, Lord God.

21 For the sake of your word and consistent with your desire, you have done all of these great things, informing your servant.

22 And therefore you are great, Lord God, there is no one like you, there is no God except for you, just as we've heard with our own ears.

23 "And who is like your people, like Israel, the one nation on earth that God went out to redeem as a people for himself, to make a name for himself, and to carry out for them great and awe-inspiring accomplishments, driving out nations and their gods in front of your people, whom you redeemed to yourself from Egypt?

24 You have prepared your people Israel to be your very own people for ever, and you, LORD, have become their God!

25 "And now, LORD God, let what you have spoken concerning your servant and his household be done — and let it be done just as you've promised.

26 May your name be made great forever with the result that it is said that the LORD of the Heavenly Armies is God over Israel, and that the household of your servant David may be established before you.

27 For you, LORD of the Heavenly Armies, the God of Israel, have revealed this to your servant, telling him, 'I will build a dynasty for you,' so that your servant has found fortitude to pray this prayer to you.

28 "Now therefore, Lord GOD, you are God, and your words are true, and you have spoken to your servant these good things.

29 So may it please you to bless the household of your servant, so that it might remain forever in your presence, because you, Lord GOD, have spoken, and from your blessing may the household of your servant be blessed forever."

2 Samuel 8

1 Sometime later, David defeated and subdued the Philistines, taking Metheg-ammah away from the Philistines.

2 David also conquered Moab, then measured them with a cord, making them lie down on the ground. He executed everyone measured out in each two lengths' measurement of the cord, but spared the ones measured out by every third length. Then the Moabites were placed under servitude to David, and made to pay tribute.

3 David also attacked King Hadadezer, Rehob's son from Zobah, when he was attempting to restore his hegemony over the Euphrates River.

4 David captured 1,000 of his chariots, 1,700 horsemen, and 20,000 foot soldiers. David hamstrung all the chariot horses except for enough to supply 100 chariots.

5 When Arameans came from Damascus to help King Hadadezer of Zobah, David killed 22,000 of them.

6 David erected garrisons in the Aramean kingdom of Damascus, placing the Arameans under servitude to him, and they paid tribute to him.

7 David also confiscated the gold shields that belonged to Hadadezer's officers and took them to Jerusalem.

8 He also confiscated a vast quantity of bronze from Betah and Berothai, cities under Hadadezer's control.

9 When King Tou of Hamath learned that David had conquered the entire army of King Hadadezer of Zobah,

10 Tou sent his son Joram to King David to greet him and congratulate him on his victory over Hadadezer, because he had been at war with Tou. Joram brought articles of silver, gold, and bronze with him,

11 and King David dedicated them to the LORD, along with the silver and gold that had been dedicated from all the nations that he had conquered,

12 including from Edom, Moab, the Ammonites, the Philistines, Amalek, and spoil from King Hadadezer, Rehob's son from Zobah.

13 David made a name for himself when he returned from killing 18,000 Edomites in the Salt Valley.

14 He erected garrisons throughout Edom, and all the Edomites became subservient to David, while the LORD gave victory to David wherever he went.

15 David reigned over all of Israel, administering justice and equity to every one of his people.

16 Zeruiah's son Joab served in charge of the army, Ahilud's son Jehoshaphat was his personal archivist,
17 Ahitub's son Zadok and Abiathar's son Ahimelech were priests, Seraiah was his personal secretary,
18 Jehoida's son Benaiah supervised the special forces and mercenaries, and David's sons were priests.

2 Samuel 9

1 Later on, David asked, "Is there anyone left alive from Saul's household to whom I can show gracious love in memory of Jonathan?"
2 A household servant of Saul named Ziba was called to appear before David, and the king asked him, "Are you Ziba?" "I am your servant," Ziba replied.
3 At this the king asked, "Isn't there still someone left from Saul's household to whom I may show God's gracious love?" "There's Jonathan's son. He has maimed feet, " Ziba answered.
4 So David asked, "Where is he?" Ziba responded, "He's in Lo-debar at the home of Ammiel's son Makir."
5 At this, King David sent for him and brought him from the home of Ammiel's son Makir in Lo-debar.
6 When Mephibosheth, Jonathan's son and a grandson of Saul, approached David, he threw himself on his face out of respect. "Mephibosheth!" David said as he greeted him. "Hello! I am your servant," he replied.
7 "Don't be afraid," David reassured him, "because I'm going to show gracious love to you in memory of your father Jonathan. I'm going to restore to you all the land that belonged to your grandfather Saul, and you'll always have a place at my table!"
8 Mephibosheth bowed low again and asked, "Who am I, your servant, that you would pay attention to a dead dog like me?"
9 At this, the king called for Saul's servant Ziba and told him, "I'm restoring to your master's grandson everything that belonged to Saul and his family.
10 You and your servants are to farm the land on his behalf and bring in the crops in order to provide for your master's grandson. Meanwhile, Mephibosheth, your master's grandson, will always have a place at my table." (Now Ziba had fifteen sons and 20 servants).
11 Later, Ziba told the king, "Your servant will do everything that your majesty the king commands him." So Mephibosheth ate at David's table like one of the king's sons.
12 Mephibosheth fathered a son named Mica, and everyone who lived in Ziba's house became Mephibosheth's servants.
13 Mephibosheth continued to live in Jerusalem, always eating at the king's table, since he was maimed in both feet.

2 Samuel 10

1 Sometime later, the Ammonite king died and his son Hanun succeeded him as king,
2 so David told himself, "I will be loyal to Nahash's son Hanun, since in his loyalty his father showed gracious love to me." So David sent a delegation to Hanun to console him about his loss of his father. But when David's delegation arrived in Ammonite territory,
3 the Ammonite officials asked their lord Hanun, "Do you think that because David has sent a delegation of consolers to you that he is honouring your father? His delegation has arrived intending to search, scout the land, and then overthrow it, hasn't it?"
4 So Hanun arrested David's delegation, shaved off half of their beards, cut off their clothes at the waist line, and sent them away in disgrace.
5 When David had been informed about the incident, he sent word to them, since the men had been deeply humiliated. The king told them, "Stay at Jericho until your beards have grown back, and then return."

2 Corinthians 11

10 As surely as the truth of the Messiah is in me, my boasting will not be silenced in the regions of Achaia.

11 Why? Because I do not love you? God knows that I do!

12 But I will go on doing what I'm doing in order to deny an opportunity to those people who want an opportunity to be recognized as our equals in the work they are boasting about.

13 Such people are false apostles, dishonest workers who are masquerading as apostles of the Messiah.

14 And no wonder, since Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light.

15 So it is not surprising if his servants also masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their doom will match their deeds!

16 I will say it again: No one should think that I am a fool. But if you do, then treat me like a fool so that I can also boast a little.

17 When I talk as a confident boaster, I am not talking with the Lord's authority but like a fool.

18 Since many people boast in a fleshly way, I will do it, too.

19 You are wise, so you will gladly be tolerant of fools.

20 You tolerate anyone who makes you his slaves, devours what you have, takes what is yours, orders you around, or slaps your face!

21 I am ashamed to admit it, but we have been too weak for that. Whatever anyone else dares to claim — I am talking like a fool — I can claim it, too.

22 Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelis? So am I. Are they among Abraham's descendants? So am I.

23 Are they the Messiah's servants? I am insane to talk like this, but I am a far better one! I have been involved in far greater efforts, far more imprisonments, countless beatings, and have faced death more than once.

24 Five times I received from the Jews 40 lashes minus one.

25 Three times I was beaten with a stick, once I was pelted with stones, three times I was shipwrecked, and I drifted on the sea for a day and a night.

26 I have travelled extensively and have been endangered from rivers, robbers, my own people, and gentiles. I've also been in danger in the city, in the open country, at sea, from false brothers, 27 in toil and hardship, through many a sleepless night, through hunger, thirst, many periods of fasting, coldness, and nakedness.

28 Besides everything else, I have a daily burden because of my anxiety about all the churches.

29 Who is weak without me being weak, too? Who is caused to stumble without me becoming indignant?

30 If I must boast, I will boast about the things that show how weak I am.

31 The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is blessed forever, knows that I am not lying.

32 In Damascus, the governor under King Aretas put guards around the city of Damascus to catch me,

33 but I was let down in a basket through an opening in the wall and escaped from him.

2 Samuel 10

6 When the Ammonites realized that they had created quite a stink with David, they hired 20,000 Aramean mercenaries from Beth-rehob and Zobah, along with the king of Maacah and 1,000 men, and 12,000 men from Tob.

7 In response, David sent out Joab and his entire army of elite soldiers.

8 The Ammonites went out in battle formation at the entrance to the city gate, while the Arameans from Zobah and Rehob, along with the army from Tob and Maacah, were out by themselves in the open fields.

9 When Joab observed that the battle lines were set up to oppose him both in front and behind, he appointed the best troops in Israel and arrayed them to oppose the Arameans, putting the rest of his forces under the command of his brother Abishai, who arrayed them to oppose the Ammonites.

11 He said, "If the Arameans prove too strong for me, then you are to help me. If the Ammonites prove too strong for you, then I will come help you.

12 Be strong, be courageous on behalf of our people and for the cities of our God, and may the LORD do what he thinks is best."

13 So Joab and the soldiers who were with him attacked the Arameans in battle formation, and the Arameans retreated in front of him.

14 When the Ammonites saw the Arameans retreating, they also retreated from Abishai back to the city. Then Joab broke off his attack against the Ammonites and went back to Jerusalem.

15 After the Arameans realized that they had been defeated by Israel, they regrouped.

16 Hadadezer sent for the Arameans who lived beyond the Euphrates River, and they set out for Helam, with Shobach leading them as commander of Hadadezer's army.

17 When David learned this, he mustered all of Israel, crossed the Jordan River, and approached Helam. The Arameans assembled in battle array to attack David, and started their assault.

18 But the Arameans retreated from Israel, and David's forces killed 700 of their charioteers, 40,000 soldiers, and mortally wounded Shobach, the commander of their army. As a result, Shobach died there.

19 When all the kings who were allied with Hadadezer saw that they had been defeated by Israel, they sought terms of peace with the Israelis and became subservient to them. Furthermore, the Arameans were afraid to help the Ammonites anymore.

2 Samuel 11

1 One spring day, during the time of year when kings go off to war, David sent out Joab, along with his personal staff and all of Israel's army. They utterly destroyed the Ammonites and then attacked Rabbah while David remained in Jerusalem.

2 Late one afternoon about dusk, David got up from his couch and was walking around on the roof of the royal palace. From there he watched a woman taking a bath, and she was very beautiful to look at.

3 David sent word to inquire about her, and someone told him, "This is Eliam's daughter Bathsheba, the wife of Uriah the Hittite, isn't it?"

4 So David sent some messengers, took her from her home, and she went to him, and he had sex with her. (She had been consecrating herself following her menstrual separation). Then she returned to her home.

5 The woman conceived, and she sent this message to David: "I'm pregnant."

6 So David summoned Joab, and told him, "Send me Uriah the Hittite." So Joab sent Uriah to David.

7 When Uriah arrived, David inquired about how Joab was doing, how the army was doing, and how the war was progressing.

8 Then David told Uriah, "Go on down to your house and relax a while." So Uriah left the king's palace, and the king sent a gift along after him.

9 But Uriah spent the night sleeping in the alcove of the king's palace in the company of all his master's staff members. He refused to go down to his own home.

10 When David was told that Uriah hadn't gone home the previous night, he quizzed him, "You just arrived from a long journey, so why didn't you go down to your own house?"

11 Uriah replied, "The ark, along with Israel and Judah, are encamped in tents, while my commanding officer Joab and my master's staff members are camping out in the open fields. Should I go home, eat, drink, and have sex with my wife? Not on your life! I won't do something like this, will I?"

12 Then David invited Uriah, "Stay here today, and tomorrow I'll send you back." So Uriah remained in Jerusalem all that day and the next.

13 Then at David's invitation, he and Uriah dined and drank wine together, and David got him drunk. Later that evening, Uriah went out to lie on a couch in the company of his lord's servants, and he did not go down to his house.

14 The next morning, David sent a message to Joab that Uriah took with him in his hand.

15 In the message, he wrote: "Assign Uriah to the most difficult fighting at the battle front, and then withdraw from him so that he will be struck down and killed."

16 So as Joab began to attack the city, he assigned Uriah to a place where he knew valiant men would be stationed.

17 When the men of the city came out to fight Joab, some of David's army staff members fell, and Uriah the Hittite died, too.

18 Then Joab sent word to David about everything that had happened at the battle.

19 He instructed the courier, "When you have finished conveying all the news about the battle to the king,

20 if the king starts to get angry and asks you, 'Why did you get so near the city to fight? Didn't you know they would shoot from the wall?

21 Who killed Jerubbesheth's son Abimelech? Didn't a woman kill him by throwing an upper millstone on him from the wall at Thebez? Why did you go so close to the wall?' then tell him, 'Your servant Uriah the Hittite also died.'"

22 So the messenger left Joab, set out for Jerusalem, and disclosed to David everything that Joab had sent him to say.

23 The messenger told David, "The men surprised us and attacked us in the field, but we drove them back to the entrance of the city gate.

24 Then the archers shot at your servants from the wall. Some of the king's staff members are dead, and your servant Uriah the Hittite has died as well."

25 David responded to the messenger, "Here's what you're to tell Joab: 'Don't be troubled by this incident, because the battle sword consumes one or another from time to time. Consolidate your attack against the city and conquer it.' Be sure to encourage him."

26 When Uriah's wife heard about the death of her husband Uriah, she went into mourning for the head of her household.

27 When her mourning period was completed, David sent for her, brought her to his palace, and she became his wife. Later on, she bore him a son. Meanwhile, what David had done grieved the LORD,

2 Samuel 12

1 so the LORD sent Nathan to David.

2 Nathan approached David and said, "There are two men in the city. One is rich and one is poor. The rich man has many flocks and herds,

3 but the poor man had nothing except for one little ewe lamb that he had bought. He raised it, and it grew up with him and his children. It used to share his food and drink from his own cup. It even slept in his arms. It was like a daughter to him.

4 A traveller arrived to visit the rich man. Because he was unwilling to take an animal from one of his own flocks or herds to prepare for the guest who had come to visit him, he took the poor man's lamb and prepared it for the man who had come to visit him."

5 David flew into a rage at the man and told Nathan, "As the LORD lives, the man who did this deserves to die!

6 He will restore the lamb four times its value, because he did this thing, and because he did it without compassion."

7 But Nathan replied to David, "You are the man! This is what the LORD God of Israel says: "I anointed you king — and you became king over Israel. "I delivered you from Saul's control.

8 "I gave you your former master's household. "I placed your former master's wives right in your arms. "I gave you Israel and Judah. "And if this had been too little, I would have added much more than that to you!

9 "Why did you despise what the LORD has promised by doing what is detestable in his sight?

"You struck down Uriah the Hittite with a battle sword. "You took his wife to be your own. "You killed him with the sword of the Ammonite army.

10 "Therefore the sword will never leave your household, because you have despised me by taking the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your own.'

11 "This is what the LORD says: "Listen very carefully! "I'm raising up evil against you right out of your own household. "I'm going to take your wives away from you right before your eyes. "Then I'll give them to your neighbour. "And then he's going to have sex with your wives in broad daylight!

12 "What you did in secret I'm going to do right in front of all Israel and in broad daylight as well!"

13 At this point, David told Nathan, "I have sinned against the LORD." Nathan responded to David, "There's one other thing: the LORD has forgiven your sin. You won't die.

14 Nevertheless, because you have despised the LORD's enemies with utter contempt, the son born to you will most certainly die."

15 Then Nathan went home.

16 David begged God on behalf of the youngster. He fasted, went inside, and spent the night lying on the ground.

17 His closest advisors at the palace got up, remained with him, and tried to help him get up from the ground, but he would not do so. He also wouldn't eat with them.

18 A week later, the child died, and David's staff was afraid to tell him that the child had died. They were telling themselves, "Look, when the child was still alive, we talked to him but he wouldn't listen to what we said. Now what kind of trouble will he bring on himself if we tell him that the child has died?"

19 But as David observed his staff whispering together, he perceived that the child had died, so he asked his staff, "Is the child dead?" They replied, "He has died."

20 At this, David got up from the ground, washed, anointed himself, changed his clothes, and went into the LORD's tent to worship. Then he went back to his palace where, at his request, they served him food and he ate.

21 His staff asked him, "What's this about? When the child was alive, you fasted and cried. Now that the child has died, you get up and eat!"

22 He answered, "When the child was alive, I fasted and cried. I asked myself, 'Who knows? Maybe the LORD will show grace to me and the child will live.'

23 But now that he has died, what's the point of fasting? Can I bring him back again? I'll be going to be with him, but he won't be returning to me."

2 Corinthians 12

1 I must boast, although it does not do any good. Let's talk about visions and revelations from the Lord.

2 I know a man who belongs to the Messiah. Fourteen years ago — whether in his body or outside of his body, I do not know, but God knows — that man was snatched away to the third heaven.

3 I know that this man — whether in his body or outside of his body, I do not know, but God knows —

4 was snatched away to Paradise and heard things that cannot be expressed in words, things that no human being has a right even to mention.

5 I will boast about this man, but as for myself I will boast only about my weaknesses.

6 However, if I did want to boast, I would not be a fool, because I would be telling the truth. But I am not going to do it in order to keep anyone from thinking more of me than what he sees and hears about me.

7 To keep me from becoming conceited because of the exceptional nature of these revelations, a thorn was given to me and placed in my body. It was Satan's messenger to keep on tormenting me so that I would not become conceited.

8 I pleaded with the Lord three times to take it away from me,

9 but he has told me, "My grace is all you need, because my power is perfected in weakness." Therefore, I will most happily boast about my weaknesses, so that the Messiah's power may rest on me.

10 That is why I take such pleasure in weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and difficulties for the Messiah's sake, for when I am weak, then I am strong.

11 I have become a fool. You forced me to be one. Really, I should have been commended by you, for I am not in any way inferior to your "super-apostles," even if I am nothing.

12 The signs of an apostle were performed among you with utmost patience — signs, wonders, and powerful actions.

13 How were you treated worse than the other churches, except that I did not bother you for help? Forgive me for this wrong!

14 Now I'm ready to visit you for a third time, and I will not bother you for help. I do not want your things, but rather you yourselves. Children should not have to support their parents, but parents their children.

15 I will be very glad to spend my money and myself for you. Do you love me less because I love you so much?

16 Granting that I have not been a burden to you, was I a clever schemer who trapped you by some trick?

17 I did not take advantage of you through any of the men I sent you, did I?

18 I encouraged Titus to visit you, and I sent along with him the brother you know so well. Titus didn't take advantage of you, did he? We conducted ourselves with the same spirit, didn't we? We took the very same steps, didn't we?

19 Have you been thinking all along that we are trying to defend ourselves before you? We are speaking before God in the authority of the Messiah, and everything, dear friends, is meant to build you up.

20 I am afraid that I may come and somehow find you not as I want to find you, and that you may find me not as you want to find me. Perhaps there will be quarrelling, jealousy, anger, selfishness, slander, gossip, arrogance, and disorderly conduct.

21 I am afraid that when I come my God may again humble me before you and that I may have to grieve over many who formerly lived in sin and have not repented of their impurity, sexual immorality, and promiscuity that they once practised.

2 Samuel 12

24 Then David consoled his wife Bathsheba. He went in and had sex with her, and she bore a son whom he named Solomon. The LORD loved him,
25 and sent a message written by Nathan the prophet to call his name Jedidiah, for the Lord's sake.
26 Meanwhile, Joab attacked the Ammonite city of Rabbah and captured its stronghold.
27 Then Joab sent messengers to David to tell him, "I just attacked Rabbah and captured its municipal water supply,
28 so call out the rest of the army, attack the city, and capture it. Otherwise, I'll take the city myself and name it after me."
29 So David mustered his entire army and marched on Rabbah, attacked it, and captured it.
30 He confiscated the crown of their king from his head — it weighed 75 pounds in gold and was set with precious stones — and it was placed on David's head. He confiscated a great amount of war booty that had been plundered from the city,
31 brought back the people who had lived in it, placing them under conscripted labour with saws, iron picks, and axes. He did this to every Ammonite city, and then David and his entire army returned to Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 13

1 Sometime after this, David's son Amnon fell in love with David's other son Absalom's beautiful sister Tamar.
2 Amnon became so emotionally distressed that he fell sick over his half-sister Tamar. She was a virgin, and Amnon found it difficult to do anything to her.
3 Meanwhile, Amnon had a friend named Jonadab, who was the son of David's brother Shimeah. Now Jonadab was a very shrewd man.
4 "Why are you so depressed these past few mornings," Jonadab asked Amnon, "since you're a son of the king? Why not tell me?" Amnon replied, "I'm in love with my brother Absalom's sister Tamar."
5 Jonadab advised him, "Lie down and fake being sick. When your father visits you, ask him, 'Please let my sister Tamar come and give me something to eat that she prepares especially for me, and after she makes dinner for me, let her feed it to me personally.'"
6 So Amnon lay down and faked being sick. When the king came to visit him, Amnon asked the king, "Please let my sister Tamar come and make some of her bread especially for me, so she can feed it to me personally."
7 So David sent for Tamar back at the palace, telling her, "Please go to your brother Amnon's home and prepare some food for him."
8 Tamar went to her brother Amnon's home, where he was lying down. She brought along some dough, kneaded it, prepared some cakes especially for him, baked them,
9 and emptied the baking skillet just for him, but he refused to eat. "Send everybody out of here," Amnon said. So everyone left the room.
10 Amnon told Tamar, "Bring the food into my private bedroom, so I can eat it with you personally." So Tamar took the cakes she had prepared and brought them into the private bedroom for her brother Amnon.
11 But as soon as she brought them near him to eat, he overpowered her and told her, "Come here and have sex with me, my sister!"
12 "No, my brother!" she kept telling him. "Don't humiliate me like this! This just isn't done in Israel! Don't do this utterly foolish thing!"

13 And what about me? Where will I go to escape this disgrace? And as for you, you'll be known as one of Israel's greatest fools! So please talk to the king, because he won't withhold me from you!"

14 But he was unwilling to listen to what she was saying. Since he was stronger than she was, he forced her into having sex with him.

15 Afterwards, though, Amnon hated her very intensely. As a result, his hatred for her exceeded the love that he had previously for her. So Amnon told her, "Get up! Leave!"

16 Even so, she tried to tell him, "No! After all, it's more wrong to send me away than what you just did to me!" But he was unwilling to listen to her.

17 So he called out to a young man who was serving him, and told him: "Send this woman away from me and lock the door after her."

18 Now she was clothed in a long sleeved, multi-coloured ornamental tunic, commonly worn by the king's virgin daughters. When Amnon's servant threw her out and locked the door after her,

19 Tamar rubbed her head with ashes, tore her tunic that she was wearing, put her hand to her head, and ran off, crying aloud as she went away.

20 Later, her brother Absalom asked her, "Has Amnon, that brother of yours, raped you? Then keep quiet about your half-brother for now, my sister. Stop taking this so personally." From that time on, Tamar lived in continual desolation within her brother Absalom's house.

21 When King David heard all about these developments, he flew into a rage over it.

22 But Absalom never said a word, either good or bad, to Amnon. Nevertheless, he hated Amnon because he had humiliated his sister Tamar.

23 Two full years later, Absalom took some men to Baal-hazor near Ephraim to shear his sheep. He also invited all of the king's sons to come.

24 Absalom had gone to the king to ask him, "I've brought some men to shear the sheep. Won't you please come and join me, along with your senior staff?"

25 But King David declined, saying to Absalom, "No, my son, we won't all go, since that would be too much trouble for you." Although Absalom begged David, he would not go, even though he did give his blessing.

26 So Absalom responded, "If you aren't coming, please allow my brother Amnon to accompany us." The king asked, "Why should he go with you?"

27 But Absalom kept begging David until he sent Amnon and all of David's sons to accompany Absalom.

28 Then Absalom instructed his young men, "Please keep watching Amnon until he's drunk. Then I'll tell you, 'Attack Amnon!' As soon as I do, kill him and don't be afraid! You have your orders, so be strong and brave!"

29 So Absalom's young men did to Amnon just as they had been ordered, but the rest of David's sons jumped up, mounted their mules, and escaped.

30 While they were still on the road, this rumour came to David: "Absalom has struck down all of the king's sons and none of them has survived."

31 David arose, ripped his clothes in anguish, and collapsed to the ground while all of his staff stood by with their own clothes torn.

32 But David's brother Shimeah's son Jonadab reported, "Your majesty, don't assume they've killed all of the young men — the king's sons — only Amnon has died, since that was Absalom's intention from the day Amnon raped his sister Tamar.

33 Now your majesty, don't be concerned about this rumour that all the king's sons have died, because only Amnon is dead."

34 Meanwhile, Absalom had run away. While the young man standing watch was looking around, all of a sudden he observed many people coming down the road behind and to the west of the mountain! So the watchman left his post and reported, "I have seen men coming from the direction of Horonaim."

35 Jonadab told the king, "Look! Here come the king's sons. This thing has turned out just like your servant reported."

36 Just as he finished his comments, the king's sons arrived, crying loudly. At this, with tears overflowing, the king and his entire staff wept bitterly.

37 Absalom continued to flee, eventually going to Ammihud's son King Talmai of Geshur, while King David continued to mourn for his son every day.

38 After fleeing to Geshur, Absalom remained there for three years.

39 Meanwhile, King David longed to visit Absalom, since he was moved to compassion over Amnon's death.

2 Samuel 14

1 Meanwhile, Zeruiah's son Joab knew that the king's attention was focused on Absalom, so he sent messengers to Tekoa to bring a wise woman from there. He told her, "Please play the role of a mourner, wear the clothes of a mourner, and refrain from using makeup. Act like a woman who's been in mourning for the dead for many days.

2 Then go to the king and speak to him like this. . ." Then Joab told her what to say.

3 When the woman from Tekoa spoke to the king, she fell on her face to the ground, prostrating herself to address him, "Help, your majesty!"

4 The king asked her, "What's your problem?" "I've been a widowed woman ever since my husband died," she answered.

5 "Your humble servant used to have two sons, but they got into a fight out in the field. Because there was no one to keep them apart, one of them attacked the other and killed him.

6 Now please pay attention closely! My whole family is attacking your humble servant! They're saying, 'Turn over the one who attacked his brother and we'll put him to death in retribution for his brother, whose life he took. That way, we'll kill the heir also!' They're going to extinguish the only light left in my family, leaving my late husband neither an ongoing name nor a survivor on the face of the earth!"

7 Then the king replied to the woman, "Go home and I'll issue a special order just for you."

8 But the woman from Tekoa told the king, "Your majesty, let any guilt for this be on me and on my ancestors' household, and not on my king or his throne!"

9 The king replied, "Bring anyone who talks to you about this to me, and he certainly won't be bothering you anymore!"

10 Then she said, "Your majesty, please remember the LORD your God, so that blood avengers don't do any more damage! Otherwise, they'll destroy my son!" So he promised, "As the LORD lives, not even a single hair from your son's head will fall to the ground!"

11 At this, the woman responded, "Would your majesty the king please allow your humble servant to say one more thing?" "Say it. . ." he replied.

12 "Why, then," the woman asked, "are you planning to act just like this against God's people? Based on what your majesty has said, you're acting like one who is guilty himself, because you're not bringing back the one whom you've banished!"

13 After all, even though we all die, and we're all like water being spilled on the ground that cannot be recovered, nevertheless God doesn't take away life, but carries out his plans so as not to cast away permanently from him those who are presently estranged.

14 "Now as to why I've come to speak with your majesty the king, it's because the people have made me afraid, so your humble servant told herself, 'I'll go speak to the king, so perhaps the king will do what his humble servant has requested.

15 Perhaps the king will listen and deliver his humble servant from the oppression of the man who intends to eliminate both me and my son from what God has apportioned to us!"

17 "So your humble servant is saying, 'Please, your majesty, let what the king has to say be of comfort, because just as the angel of God is, so also is your majesty the king to discern both good and evil. And may the LORD your God remain present with you.'"

2 Corinthians 13

1 This will be the third time I am coming to you. "Every accusation must be verified by two or three witnesses."

2 I have already warned those who sinned previously and all the rest. Although I am absent now, I am warning them as I did on my second visit: If I come back, I will not spare you,

3 since you want proof that the Messiah is speaking through me. He is not weak in dealing with you but is making his power felt among you.

4 Though he was crucified in weakness, he lives by God's power. We are weak with him, but by God's power we will live for you.

5 Keep examining yourselves to see whether you are continuing in the faith. Test yourselves! You know, don't you, that Jesus the Messiah lives in you? Could it be that you are failing the test?

6 I hope you will realize that we haven't failed our test.

7 We pray to God that you will not do anything wrong — not to show that we have not failed the test, but so that you may do what is right, even if we seem to have failed.

8 For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth.

9 We are glad when we are weak and you are strong. That is what we are praying for — your maturity.

10 For this reason I am writing this while I am away from you: When I come I do not want to be severe in using the authority the Lord gave me to build you up and not to tear you down.

11 Finally, brothers, goodbye. Keep on growing to maturity. Keep listening to my appeals. Continue agreeing with each other and living in peace. Then the God of love and peace will be with you.

12 Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints greet you.

14 May the grace of the Lord Jesus the Messiah, the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with all of you!

2 Samuel 14

18 In reply, the king asked the woman, "Please don't conceal anything about which I'm going to be asking you now." So the woman replied, "Please, your majesty, let the king speak."

19 Then the king asked, "Is Joab behind all of this with you?" "As your soul lives, your majesty, the king," the woman answered, "no one can divert anything left or right from what your majesty the king has spoken! As a matter of fact, it was your servant Joab! He was there, giving me precise orders about everything that your humble servant was to say. Your servant Joab did this,

20 intending to change the outcome of this matter. Nevertheless, your majesty is wise, like the wisdom of the angel of God, to be aware of everything that's going on throughout the earth."

21 Then the king addressed Joab, "Look! I'll do this thing that you've requested. Go bring back the young man Absalom."

22 At this, Joab fell on his face to the ground, prostrating himself to bless the king, and then said, "Today your servant realizes that he's found favour with you, your majesty, in that the king has acted on the request of his servant."

23 Then Joab got up, went to Geshur, and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem.

24 Nevertheless, the king said, "Let him return to his own home and not show his face to me." So Absalom returned to his own home and did not show his face to the king.

25 Now throughout all of Israel no one was as handsome as Absalom or so highly praised, from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head there wasn't a single thing wrong about him.

26 Whenever he cut his hair — he cut it at the end of every year, because it grew thick on his head, which is why he cut it — his hair weighed in at 200 shekels measured by the royal standard.

27 Absalom fathered three sons and one daughter, whom he named Tamar. She was a beautiful woman, both in form and appearance.

28 Meanwhile, Absalom lived in Jerusalem for two years, but never saw the king's face.

29 After this, Absalom sent for Joab, intending to send him to the king, but Joab would not come. Absalom sent for him a second time, but he still would not come.

30 So Absalom told his servants, "Observe that Joab's grain field lies next to mine. He has barley planted there. Go set it on fire." So Absalom's servants set the field on fire.

31 At this, Joab got up, went to Absalom's home, and demanded of him, "Why did your servants set fire to my grain field?"

32 In answer to Joab, Absalom replied, "Look, I sent for you, telling you 'Come here so I can send you to the king to ask him 'What's the point in moving here from Geshur? I would have been better off to have remained there!'" So let me see the king's face, and if I'm guilty of anything, let him execute me!"

33 So when Joab approached the king and told him what Absalom had said, he summoned Absalom, who then came to the king and fell to the ground on his face in front of him.

Then the king kissed Absalom.

2 Samuel 15

1 Sometime later, Absalom acquired a chariot equipped with horses and recruited 50 men to accompany him.

2 Then he would get up early, stand near the passageway to the palace gate, and when anyone arrived to file a legal complaint for a hearing before the king, Absalom would call to him and ask, "You're from what city?" If he replied, "Your servant is from one of Israel's tribes,"

3 Absalom would respond, "Look, your claims are valid and defensible, but nobody will listen to you on behalf of the king.

4 Who will appoint me to be a judge in the land? When anyone arrived to file a legal complaint or other cause, he could approach me for justice and I would settle it!"

5 Furthermore, if a man approached him to bow down in front of him, he would put out his hand, grab him, and embrace him.

6 By doing all of this to anyone who came to the king for a hearing, Absalom stole the loyalty of the men of Israel.

7 And so it was that forty years after Israel had demanded a king, Absalom asked the king, "Please let me go to Hebron so I can pay my vow that I made to the LORD,

8 because when I was living at Geshur in Aram, your servant made this solemn promise: 'If the LORD ever brings me back to Jerusalem, then I will serve the LORD.'"

9 The king replied to him, "Go in peace!" So Absalom got up and left for Hebron.

10 But Absalom sent agents throughout all of the tribes of Israel, telling them, "When you hear the sound of the battle trumpet, you're to announce that Absalom is king in Hebron."

11 Meanwhile, 200 men left Jerusalem with Absalom. They had been invited to go along, but were innocent, not knowing anything about what was happening.

12 Absalom also sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counsellor, to come from his home town of Giloh while Absalom was presenting the sacrificial offerings. And so the conspiracy widened, because the common people increasingly sided with Absalom.

13 Then a messenger arrived to inform David, "The loyalties of the men of Israel have shifted to Absalom."

14 So David told all of his staff who were with him in Jerusalem, "Let's get up and get out of here! Otherwise, none of us will escape from Absalom. Hurry, or he'll overtake us quickly, bring disaster on all of us, and execute the inhabitants of the city!"

15 "Look!" the king's staff replied. "Your servants will do whatever the king chooses."

16 So the king left, taking his entire household with him except for ten mistresses, who were to keep the palace in order.

17 The king left, along with all of his people with him, and they paused at the last house.

18 All of his staff were going on ahead of him — that is, all of the special forces and mercenaries, all of the Gittites, and 600 men who had come to serve him from Gath, went on ahead of the king.

19 Then the king suggested to Ittai the Gittite, "Why should you have to go with us? Return and stay with the new king, since you're a foreigner and exile. Stay where you want to stay.

20 It seems only yesterday that you arrived, so should I make you wander around with us while I go wherever I can? Go back, and take your brothers with you. May gracious love and truth accompany you!"

21 "As the LORD lives," Ittai answered in reply, "and as your majesty the king lives, wherever your majesty my king may be — whether living or dying — that's where your servant will be!"

22 So David replied, "Come along, then!" So Ittai the Gittite went along also, accompanied by all of his men and all of his little ones.

23 With all of the people in the territory crying loudly, everybody passed over the Kidron brook, along with the king. Then everyone headed out toward the road that leads to the wilderness.

24 Meanwhile, Zadok showed up also, along with all of the descendants of Levi with him, carrying the Ark of the Covenant of God. They set down the Ark of God and Abiathar approached while all the people finished abandoning the city.

25 The king told Zadok, "Take the Ark of God back to the city. If I'm shown favour in the LORD's sight, then he'll bring me back again and show me both it and the place where it rests.

26 But if he should say something like 'I'm not pleased with you,' well then, here I am — let him do to me whatever seems right to him."

27 The king also asked Zadok the priest, "Aren't you a seer, too? Go back to the city in comfort, along with your son Ahimaaz and Abiathar's son Jonathan.

28 Look! I'll camp at the wilderness fords until you send word to inform me."

29 So Zadok and Abiathar returned the Ark of God to Jerusalem and remained there.

30 David then left, going up the Mount of Olives, crying as he went, with his head covered and his feet bare. All of the people who were with him covered their own heads and climbed up the Mount of Olives, crying as they went along.

31 Just then, someone told David, "Ahithophel is one of Absalom's conspirators!" So David prayed, "LORD, please turn Ahithophel's counsel into foolishness."

32 Just as David was coming to the top of the Mount of Olives where God was being worshipped, there was Hushai the Archite to meet him, with his coat ripped and dust all over his head!

33 David greeted him, "If you come along with me, you'll be a burden to me.

34 So go back to the city and tell Absalom, 'I'll be your servant, your majesty! Just as I served your father in the past, I can be your servant now.' That way you can manipulate Ahithophel's advice to my benefit.

35 Won't Zadok and Abiathar the priests be there with you? So whatever you hear from the king's palace, you're to report to Zadok and Abiathar the priests.

36 Their two sons — Zadok's son Ahimaaz and Abiathar's son Jonathan — are with them there. You'll be sending me everything that you hear through them."

37 So David's friend Hushai went back to the city just as Absalom was arriving in Jerusalem.

2 Samuel 16

1 Now just as David happened to have passed the summit of the Mount of Olives, suddenly Mephibosheth's servant Ziba met him, accompanied by a couple of saddled donkeys loaded with 200 loaves of bread, 100 clusters of raisins, 100 pieces of summer fruit, and a skin of wine!

2 The king asked Ziba, "What are those for?" Ziba replied, "The donkeys are for the king's household to ride, the bread and summer fruit are for your young men to eat, and the wine is for whoever wants to drink if they get weary in the wilderness."

3 Then the king asked, "Where is your master's son?" "He's staying in Jerusalem!" Ziba answered the king. "He's saying 'The nation of Israel will restore my father's kingdom to me today!'"

4 So the king told Ziba, "Pay attention! Everything that belongs to Mephibosheth is now yours!" In response Ziba said, "I'm submitting to you. Let me find favour in your sight, your majesty the king!"

5 Later on, as King David approached Bahurim, Gera's son Shimei, who was related to the family of Saul's household, went out to meet David, cursing continuously as he came.

6 He threw rocks at David and all of David's staff who were accompanying him, while all the rest of the entourage, including all of David's security detail, were close by him.

7 "Get out of here! Get out!" Shimei yelled as he cursed. "You murderer! You who think you're above the law!

8 The LORD has repaid you personally for murdering the entire dynasty of Saul, whose place you've taken to reign! And the LORD has given the kingdom into your son Absalom's control. Now look! Your own evil has caught up with you, because you're guilty of murder!"

Galatians 1

- 1 From: Paul — an apostle not sent from men or by a man, but by Jesus the Messiah, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead —
- 2 and all the brothers who are with me. To: The churches in Galatia.
- 3 May grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be yours!
- 4 He gave himself for our sins in order to rescue us from this present evil age according to the will of our God and Father.
- 5 To him be the glory forever and ever! Amen.
- 6 I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the one who called you by the grace of the Messiah and, instead, are following a different gospel,
- 7 not that another one really exists. To be sure, there are certain people who are troubling you and want to distort the gospel about the Messiah.
- 8 But even if we or an angel from heaven should proclaim to you a gospel contrary to what we proclaimed to you, let that person be condemned!
- 9 What we have told you in the past I am now telling you again: If anyone proclaims to you a gospel contrary to what you received, let that person be condemned!
- 10 Am I now trying to win the approval of people or of God? Or am I trying to please people? If I were still trying to please people, I would not be the Messiah's servant.
- 11 For I want you to know, brothers, that the gospel that was proclaimed by me is not of human origin.
- 12 For I did not receive it from a man, nor was I taught it, but it was revealed to me by Jesus the Messiah.
- 13 For you have heard about my earlier life in Judaism — how I kept violently persecuting God's church and was trying to destroy it.
- 14 I advanced in Judaism beyond many of my contemporaries, because I was far more zealous for the traditions of my ancestors.
- 15 But when God, who set me apart before I was born and who called me by his grace, was pleased
- 16 to reveal his Son to me so that I might proclaim him among the gentiles, I did not confer with another human being at any time,
- 17 nor did I go up to Jerusalem to see those who were apostles before me. Instead, I went away to Arabia and then came back to Damascus.
- 18 Then three years later I went up to Jerusalem to become acquainted with Cephas, and I stayed with him for fifteen days.
- 19 But I did not see any other apostle except James, the Lord's brother.
- 20 (Before God, what I'm writing to you is the truth).
- 21 Then I went to the regions of Syria and Cilicia.
- 22 But the churches of the Messiah that are in Judea did not yet know me personally.
- 23 The only thing they kept hearing was this: "The man who used to persecute us is now proclaiming the faith he once tried to destroy!"
- 24 So they kept glorifying God for what had happened to me.

2 Samuel 16

9 At this point, Zeruiah's son Abishai asked the king, "Why should this dead dog be cursing your majesty the king? May I have permission to go over and cut off his head?"

10 But the king responded, "What do I have in common with you sons of Zeruiah? If he continues to curse — and if the LORD has told him, 'Curse David!' — then who are you to be demanding to know 'Why have you done this?'"

11 So David ordered Abishai and all of his staff: "Look! My own son wants to kill me! How much more now is this descendant of Benjamin? Leave him alone and let him go on cursing, because the LORD has ordered him to do this.

12 Perhaps the LORD will take note of my troubles and return good to me instead of curses today!"

13 So David and his entourage went on their way, and Shimei walked along the hillside with him, cursing, throwing rocks, and tossing dirt at David as they went along.

14 Eventually, the king and his entourage arrived exhausted at their destination, and David refreshed himself there.

15 Right about then, Absalom and his entourage from the people of Israel entered Jerusalem, accompanied by Ahithophel.

16 When David's friend Hushai the Archite approached Absalom, Hushai greeted Absalom, "Long live the king! Long live the king!"

17 But Absalom asked Hushai, "So this is how you demonstrate your loyalty to your closest friends? Why didn't you leave with your friend?"

18 Hushai replied, "No! On the contrary, whomever the LORD, this group, and all the men of Israel choose is where I'll be, and I'll remain with him!

19 Besides, who else should I be serving? Why not the son? The same way I served your father, I'll serve you."

20 So Absalom asked Ahithophel, "What's your advice? What should we do?"

21 Ahithophel responded, "Go inside and have sex with your father's mistresses, whom he left to keep the palace in order. Then everyone in Israel will hear how your father has come to hate you and everyone who has joined you will be emboldened to act."

22 So they erected a tent for Absalom on the palace roof and Absalom went in and had sex with his father's mistresses right in front of all Israel.

23 Now Ahithophel's advice that he provided at that time was being compared to one who inquired of God, so highly regarded was Ahithophel's counsel by both David and Absalom.

2 Samuel 17

1 "Give me 12,000 men! I'll leave tonight and pursue David," Ahithophel advised Absalom.

2 "I'll catch him while he is still tired and weak. I'll frighten him so all his people with him desert him. But I'll only kill the king.

3 Then I'll bring everybody else back to you. When the man you're looking for is dead, all the rest of the people will return quietly."

4 Even though this plan seemed like a good idea to Absalom and to all of the elders of Israel,

5 Absalom replied, "Call in Hushai the Archite so I can hear what he has to say, too!"

6 When Hushai approached Absalom, Absalom asked him, "Here's what Ahithophel had to advise. Should we do what he says? Or if not, say so!"

7 "Ahithophel's advice is not best at this time," Hushai suggested to Absalom.

8 "You know how strong your father and his men are. They're as mad as a bear robbed of her cubs! Furthermore, your father is a skilled warrior. He won't stay with his army at night.

9 Look! He's probably already hiding in a cave or someplace like that. If the first attack fails, people will hear about it and think, 'Absalom's army is losing!'

10 Then even men who would otherwise be as brave as lions will be scared, because every Israeli knows your father is a mighty man, and they know his men are valiant!

11 So here's my advice: Muster everybody from one end of the country to the other! You'll have an army in number like the sand on the seashore! Then you'll go into battle!

12 We'll go find David wherever he's hiding. We'll fall on him like dew on the ground! We'll kill him and all of his men, and we won't leave even one man alive!

13 If he escapes into a city, we'll bring ropes to that city and tear it down! We won't leave a single stone left in the valley!"

14 Absalom and all of the Israelis replied, "The advice of Hushai the Archite is better than Ahithophel's!"

15 So Hushai told Zadok and Abiathar, the priests, what Ahithophel had suggested to Absalom and the elders of Israel. He also reported what he himself had proposed. Hushai said,

16 "Quick! Get word to David! Tell him not to spend the night at the crossings that lead to the desert. Instead, he must cross the Jordan River immediately. That way, if he crosses the river, the king and his entourage will survive."

17 Meanwhile, since they could not risk being seen entering the city, Jonathan and Ahimaaz had been waiting at En-rogel, where a young servant woman was to go to inform them and they would then go brief King David.

18 But a young man observed Jonathan and Ahimaaz and informed Absalom, so they left in a hurry, arrived at the home of a man who lived at Bahurim, and hid inside a well that was in his courtyard.

19 The man's wife grabbed a sheet, covered the mouth of the well with it, and spread some dried grain over it. As a result, nobody could tell it was a hiding place.

20 When Absalom's servants approached the woman of the house, they asked her, "Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?" "They've already crossed the brook," the woman answered. So Absalom's servants went away in search of Jonathan and Ahimaaz, but they couldn't find them, so they returned to Jerusalem.

21 A little while later, the men crawled up out of the well and went off to talk to King David. They told David, "Get up! Cross the water quickly, because this is what Ahithophel advised about you. . ."

22 So David got up and all of his entourage crossed the Jordan River. Everyone had crossed the Jordan River by dawn's first light.

23 Meanwhile, when Ahithophel observed that his counsel was not being acted upon, he saddled his donkey, got up, and left for his hometown. Leaving behind a set of orders for his household, he hanged himself. After his death he was buried in his father's tomb.

24 Later, David arrived at Mahanaim. Absalom and all of the Israelis who supported him crossed the Jordan River.

25 Absalom had installed Amasa in place of Joab over the army. (Amasa was the son of a man named Jether the Ishmaelite. His mother was Abigail, a daughter of Nahash and a sister of Zeruiah, Joab's mother).

26 Absalom and the Israelis with him camped in the territory of Gilead.

27 When David arrived at Mahanaim, Shobi (Nahash's son from the Ammonite town of Rabbah), Makir (Ammiel's son from Lo-debar), and Barzillai (from Rogelim in Gilead) were already there.

28 They brought along bedding, bowls, clay basins, wheat, barley, flour, roasted grains, beans, peas,

29 honey, cheeses, sheep, and cheese made from cow's milk for David and his entourage because they had been reasoning, "The people are hungry, tired, and thirsty there in the wilderness."

2 Samuel 18

1 David mustered his forces and appointed officers in charge of regiments and companies.
2 Dividing his forces into three groups, he set Joab as commander of one third of his army, Zeruiah's son Abishai, Joab's brother, as commander of another third, and Ittai from Gath as commander of another third. The king informed the army, "I'm going out to battle with you, too."

3 "No way!" his army responded. "If we have to retreat from the battle, Absalom's men won't care about us. Even if half of us die, they won't care about us. But you are worth 10,000 of us. The best thing you can do for us is to remain in the city."

4 So David responded, "I'll do what you think best." Then he stood alongside the city gate as the army went out in battle array by hundreds and thousands.

5 As they were going out, the king ordered Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, "Treat young Absalom gently for my sake." Everyone heard what the king had ordered his commanders about Absalom.

6 David's army left for the battlefield to fight Absalom and his Israeli followers, and they also fought in the Ephraim forest,

7 where David's army of servants defeated the Israelis. Many died that day — 20,000 men.

8 The battle spread throughout the entire countryside, and the forest claimed more casualties that day than did the sword fighting.

9 Absalom happened to run into David's soldiers. While Absalom was trying to get away on his mule, it ran under the thick branches of a giant oak tree, and Absalom's head got caught in the tree! As his mule ran out from under him, Absalom was left hanging above the ground.

10 When one of the soldiers saw what had happened, he told Joab, "I saw Absalom stuck in an oak tree!"

11 Joab asked the man who was reporting to him, "What! You saw him? Why didn't you kill him right then and there? I would've given you ten pieces of silver and a warrior's sash!"

12 But the soldier replied to Joab, "I wouldn't have touched the king's son even if you dropped 1,000 pieces of silver right into my hands, because we heard the king command you, Abishai, and Ittai, 'Watch how you treat the young man Absalom!'

13 If I had taken his life, the king would have uncovered everything about it, and you would never have protected me!"

14 "There's no reason to wait for you!" Joab retorted. Then he took three spears in his hand and stabbed Absalom in the heart while he was still alive, dangling from the branches of the oak tree.

15 Ten young men who served as Joab's personal assistants then surrounded Absalom, striking him repeatedly and killing him.

16 At this, Joab sounded his battle trumpet and his troops stopped pursuing the other Israelis.

17 Meanwhile, Joab's army grabbed Absalom's body, tossed it into a large pit in the forest, and filled it up with a huge pile of rocks. Then the Israelis ran away back to their homes.

18 While Absalom had been living, he had erected a pillar as a monument to himself in King's Valley because he had been telling himself, "I don't have a son to carry on my family name." So he named the pillar after himself — it's called Absalom's Monument even today.

Galatians 2

- 1 Then fourteen years later I again went up to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus with me.
- 2 I went in response to a revelation, and in a private meeting with the reputed leaders, I explained to them the gospel that I'm proclaiming to the gentiles. I did this because I was afraid that I was running or had run my life's race for nothing.
- 3 But not even Titus, who was with me, was forced to be circumcised, even though he was a Greek.
- 4 However, false brothers were secretly brought in. They slipped in to spy on the freedom we have in the Messiah Jesus so that they might enslave us.
- 5 But we did not give in to them for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might always remain with you.
- 6 Now those who were reputed to be important added nothing to my message. (What sort of people they were makes no difference to me, since God pays no attention to outward appearances).
- 7 In fact, they saw that I had been entrusted with the gospel for the uncircumcised, just as Peter had been entrusted with the gospel for the circumcised.
- 8 For the one who worked through Peter by making him an apostle to the circumcised also worked through me by sending me to the gentiles.
- 9 So when James, Cephas, and John (who were reputed to be leaders) recognized the grace that had been given me, they gave Barnabas and me the right hand of fellowship, agreeing that we should go to the gentiles and they to the circumcised.
- 10 The only thing they asked us to do was to remember the destitute, the very thing I was eager to do.
- 11 But when Cephas came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he was clearly wrong.
- 12 Until some men arrived from James, he was in the habit of eating with the gentiles, but after those men came, he withdrew from the gentiles and would not associate with them any longer, because he was afraid of the circumcision party.
- 13 The other Jews also joined him in this hypocritical behaviour, to the extent that even Barnabas was caught up in their hypocrisy.
- 14 But when I saw that they were not acting consistently with the truth of the gospel, I told Cephas in front of everyone, "Though you are a Jew, you have been living like a gentile and not like a Jew. So how can you insist that the gentiles must live like Jews?"
- 15 We ourselves are Jews by birth, and not gentile sinners,
- 16 yet we know that a person is not justified by doing what the Law requires, but rather by the faithfulness of Jesus the Messiah. We, too, have believed in the Messiah Jesus so that we might be justified by the faithfulness of the Messiah and not by doing what the Law requires, for no human being will be justified by doing what the Law requires.
- 17 Now if we, while trying to be justified by the Messiah, have been found to be sinners, does that mean that the Messiah is serving the interests of sin? Of course not!
- 18 For if I rebuild something that I tore down, I demonstrate that I am a wrongdoer.
- 19 For through the Law I died to the Law so that I might live for God. I have been crucified with the Messiah.
- 20 I no longer live, but the Messiah lives in me, and the life that I am now living in this body I live by the faithfulness of the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me.
- 21 I do not misapply God's grace, for if righteousness comes about by doing what the Law requires, then the Messiah died for nothing.

2 Samuel 18

19 Zadok's son Ahimaaz told Joab, "Let me run over to King David and take him the news. I'll mention that the LORD has delivered him from his enemies."

20 But Joab answered Ahimaaz, "You're not the man to deliver news today. Do it any other time, but not today, because the king's son is dead."

21 So Joab ordered a man from Ethiopia, "Go tell the king what you've seen." So the Ethiopian saluted Joab and then ran to tell David.

22 "Please," Zadok's son Ahimaaz continued, "No matter what happens, let me follow the Ethiopian!" Joab asked him, "Why this request to run, my son? There's no reward in it for you."

23 "No matter what, I'm running," Ahimaaz replied. So Joab told Ahimaaz, "Run!" And Ahimaaz ran, taking the Jordan Valley road, passing the Ethiopian.

24 Meanwhile, David was sitting between the inner and outer gates of the city. The watchman was up on the roof of the gateway near the walls, looking around, and there was a man running by himself!

25 So the watchman called out his news to the king. The king responded, "If he's alone, he's bringing some news to report." As the man continued to draw near and approach the palace,

26 the watchman observed another man running. So he called out to the gatekeeper, "There's another man running by himself!" The king replied, "He's also bringing some news to report!"

27 Then the watchman observed, "It looks to me that the runner out in front is running like Zadok's son Ahimaaz!" The king replied, "This is a good man bearing good news!"

28 "Everything's fine!" Ahimaaz announced to the king. He bowed low with his face to the ground before the king and said, "Praise be to the LORD your God! He has handed over the men who rebelled against your majesty the king."

29 "Are things fine with respect to the young man Absalom?" the king asked. Ahimaaz answered, "I saw a lot of confusion about the time Joab was getting ready to send the king's courier and me, your servant, but I'm not sure what was going on."

30 The king replied, "Stand here at attention and wait." So he stepped to the side and stood there waiting.

31 Just then the Ethiopian arrived. He reported, "Good news, your majesty the king! The LORD has delivered you from the control of everyone who rebelled against you!"

32 The king asked the Ethiopian, "Is the young man safe?" The Ethiopian answered, "May the enemies of your majesty the king — including everyone who rebels and tries to harm you — become like that young man. . . ."

33 Deeply shaken, the king went up to the chamber overlooking the city gate, weeping bitterly and crying out as he went along, "My son Absalom! My son! My son Absalom! I wish I had died instead of you, Absalom my son, my son!"

2 Samuel 19

1 Someone informed Joab, "The king is weeping bitterly, mourning for Absalom."

2 The victory had become an occasion for the army to mourn, because on that very day the troops heard the announcement, "The king is grieving for his son!"

3 So men sneaked into the city that day like men do who are ashamed after they've run away from a battle.

4 Meanwhile, the king veiled his face and kept on crying loudly, "My son Absalom! Absalom my son, my son!"

5 Joab went up to the palace and rebuked the king: "Today you've humiliated your entire army who just saved your life, the lives of your sons and daughters, and the lives of your wives and mistresses!

6 You love those who hate you and hate those who love you! You've made it abundantly clear today that your officers and the men under them mean nothing to you! I've learned today that you would rather have Absalom alive today and all the rest of us dead!

7 Now get up and restore the morale of your army. I swear by the LORD that if you don't get out there, you won't have a single man left in your army by nightfall! You'll be in more trouble today than all the disasters you've been through from your boyhood until now!"

8 So the king got up and took his seat in the gateway. When the army was informed, "The king is sitting in the gateway!" they all gathered together in his presence.

9 Throughout the tribes of Israel, everyone was quarrelling with one another:

"The king delivered us from the domination of our enemies. . . ."

"He's the one who rescued us from Philistine control. . . ."

"Now he's fleeing the country because of Absalom. . . !"

10 "The very same Absalom we anointed to rule just died in battle. . . !"

"Now then, why remain silent about bringing the king back. . . ?"

11 So King David sent this message to Zadok and Abiathar, the priests: "Ask the elders of Judah, 'Why are you the last to bring the king back to his palace, considering that what's being reported throughout all of Israel has come to the king at his palace?

12 You're my relatives! You're my own flesh and blood! So why are you the last to bring back the king?'

13 Then ask Amasa, 'Aren't you my own flesh and blood? So may God deal with me, no matter how severely, if from this day forward you don't take Joab's place as commander of my army.'

14 By doing things like this, he persuaded all the men of Judah to unite in support of him. They sent the king this message: "Come on back, you and all of your army!"

15 So the king returned to Israel as far as the Jordan River.

16 while Gera's son Shimei, a descendant of Benjamin from Bahurim, accompanied them to meet King David.

17 Ziba, the steward in charge of Saul's household, and 1,000 descendants of Benjamin accompanied him, along with Ziba's fifteen sons and 20 servants. They rushed toward the Jordan River ahead of the king

18 and forded it to assist the king at the crossing so he could do whatever he wished. Just as the king was about to ford the Jordan River, Gera's son Shimei fell down in front of the king

19 and addressed him, "May your majesty not hold me guilty. Don't remember how your servant did wrong the day your majesty the king left Jerusalem. May the king not let it burden his heart,

20 because your servant knows that I have sinned, but today I have come here as the first one from the entire house of Joseph to meet your majesty the king."

21 But Zeruiah's son Abishai asked, "Why shouldn't Shimei be put to death for this? After all, he cursed the LORD's anointed!"

22 David replied, "What do you sons of Zeruiah have in common with me? You've become my enemies today! Should anyone be executed in Israel today? Don't you know that I've been reinstated as king over Israel today?"

23 Then the king addressed Shimei, "You won't die!" affirming his promise with an oath.

24 Meanwhile, Saul's grandson Mephibosheth also went out to greet the king. He had not taken care of his feet, trimmed his moustache, or washed his clothes from the day the king left until the day he returned safely.

25 When he arrived from Jerusalem to greet the king, the king asked him, "So why didn't you come with me, Mephibosheth?"

26 He replied, "Well, your majesty, since your servant is lame, I told myself, 'I'll have my donkey saddled and I'll ride on it so I can leave with the king.' But my servant Ziba deceived me

27 by slandering your servant to your majesty. But your majesty the king is like an angel from God: so do what you think is best.

28 Everyone from my grandfather's household deserved nothing but death from your majesty the king, but you provided a place for your servant among those who have been eating from your table. So what right do I have to ask for anything more from the king?"

29 In response, the king told him, "What's the point of us talking anymore? My decision is that you and Ziba divide the fields."

30 But Mephibosheth told the king, "Let him take all of it, now that your majesty the king has returned safely to his palace."

31 Barzillai the Gileadite also had come down from Rogelim to cross the Jordan River with the king and to see him on his way from there.

32 Now Barzillai was a very old man at the age of 80 years. A very wealthy man, Barzillai had provided for king David during his sojourn in Mahanaim.

33 So the king invited Barzillai, "Cross the Jordan River with me, live with me in Jerusalem, and I'll provide for you there."

34 "How many more years do I have to live," Barzillai replied to the king, "that I should move to Jerusalem with the king?"

35 I'm now 80 years old! I can hardly tell the difference between what tastes good or bad! I can't tell what I eat or drink! I can't hear the voice of men and women when they sing! So why should your servant be an added burden to your majesty the king?

36 Your servant will cross the Jordan River with the king for a short distance, but why should the king offer me this reward?

37 Please let your servant return so I can die in my own home town near the grave of my father and mother. Meanwhile, here is your servant Chimham! Let him accompany your majesty the king. Please do for him whatever seems best to you."

38 So the king answered, "Chimham will accompany me, and I'll do for him whatever seems best to you! I'll do anything for you that you want!"

39 Then all the people crossed the Jordan River, followed by the king. The king embraced Barzillai, blessed him, and then Barzillai returned to his home.

40 As the king crossed over the Jordan River to Gilgal, Chimham accompanied him, as did all the troops of Judah and half the troops of Israel.

41 Not long afterward, all the men of Israel started coming to the king, complaining to him, "Why did our relatives in Judah's army sneak you away, taking the king and his household over the Jordan River, along with David's army?"

42 Everybody from Judah shouted to the men from Israel, "We did this because the king is closely related to us. So why are you angry about this? Have we lived off the king's expense? Have we appropriated anything for ourselves?"

43 But the men from Israel answered the men from Judah: "We represent ten of the tribes of Israel! So we have more right to David than you do! Why haven't you taken us seriously? Weren't we the first to talk about bringing back our king?" But what the people of Judah had to say was harsher than what the people of Israel were saying.

2 Samuel 20

1 Right about then, Bichri's son Sheba, an ungodly man from the tribe of Benjamin, sounded a battle trumpet and announced: We've never been a part of David! We'll never gain anything from Jesse's son! It's every man to his tent, Israel!

2 So all of the other Israeli soldiers abandoned David to follow Bichri's son Sheba, while the army of Judah remained with the king all the way from the Jordan River to Jerusalem.

3 When David arrived at his palace in Jerusalem, the king took the ten mistresses whom he had left behind to keep the palace in order and placed them in a separate house, providing for them under the care of a protective guard. He never visited them again, so they were under care until they died, living as if their husbands had died.

Galatians 3

1 You foolish Galatians! Who put you under a spell? Was not Jesus the Messiah clearly portrayed before your very eyes as having been crucified?

2 I want to learn only one thing from you: Did you receive the Spirit by doing the actions of the Law or by believing what you heard?

3 Are you so foolish? Having started out with the Spirit, are you now ending up with the flesh?

4 Did you suffer so much for nothing? (If it really was for nothing!)

5 Does God supply you with the Spirit and work miracles among you because you do the actions of the Law or because you believe what you heard?

6 In the same way, Abraham "believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."

7 You see, then, that those who have faith are Abraham's real descendants.

8 Because the Scripture saw ahead of time that God would justify the gentiles by faith, it announced the gospel to Abraham beforehand when it said, "Through you all nations will be blessed."

9 Therefore, those who believe are blessed together with Abraham, the one who believed.

10 Certainly all who depend on the actions of the Law are under a curse. For it is written, "A curse on everyone who does not obey everything that is written in the Book of the Law!"

11 Now it is obvious that no one is justified in the sight of God by the Law, because "The righteous will live by faith."

12 But the Law has nothing to do with faith. Instead, "The person who keeps the commandments will have life in them."

13 The Messiah redeemed us from the curse of the Law by becoming a curse for us. For it is written, "A curse on everyone who is hung on a tree!"

14 This happened in order that the blessing promised to Abraham would come to the gentiles through the Messiah Jesus, so that we might receive the promised Spirit through faith.

15 Brothers, let me use an example from everyday life. Once a person's will has been ratified, no one can cancel it or add conditions to it.

16 Now the promises were spoken to Abraham and to his descendant. It doesn't say "descendants," referring to many, but "your descendant," referring to one person, who is the Messiah.

17 This is what I mean: The Law that came 430 years later did not cancel the covenant that God ratified previously. The promise was never nullified.

18 For if the inheritance comes about through the Law, it no longer comes about through the promise. But it was through a promise that God so graciously gave it to Abraham.

19 Why, then, was the Law added? Because of transgressions, until the descendant came about whom the promise pertained. It was put into effect through angels by means of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator involves more than one party, but God is one.

21 So is the Law in conflict with the promises of God? Of course not! For if a law had been given that could give us life, then certainly righteousness would come through the Law.

22 But the Scripture has captured everything by means of sin's net, so that what was promised by the faithfulness of the Messiah might be granted to those who believe.

23 Now before faith came about, we were held in custody and confined under the Law in preparation for the faith that was to be revealed.

24 And so the Law was our guardian until the Messiah came, so that we might be justified by faith.

25 But now that faith has come about, we are no longer under a guardian.

26 For all of you are God's children through faith in the Messiah Jesus.

27 Indeed, all of you who were baptized into the Messiah have clothed yourselves with the Messiah.

28 Because all of you are one in the Messiah Jesus, a person is no longer a Jew or a Greek, a slave or a free person, a male or a female.

29 And if you belong to the Messiah, then you are Abraham's descendants indeed, and heirs according to the promise.

2 Samuel 20

4 Meanwhile, David ordered Amasa, "Mustering the army of Judah here within three days, and be here yourself!"

5 But when Amasa went out to muster the army of Judah, he delayed to act within the time allotted to him.

6 So David told Abishai, "Now Bichri's son Sheba is about to do more damage than did Absalom. So take my personal guards and go after them. Otherwise, he'll run to one of the fortified cities and escape from us."

7 So Joab's men, the special forces and mercenaries, and all of David's elite forces left Jerusalem in pursuit of Bichri's son Sheba.

8 When they arrived at the great stone that is in Gibeon, Amasa came out to meet them. Joab was dressed in a soldier's uniform, over which was a belt that fastened a sword sheath to his thigh. As he walked forward, the sword was exposed.

9 Joab asked Amasa, "Is everything going well with you, my brother?" As Joab took Amasa by his beard to greet him,

10 Amasa did not notice the sword that Joab was holding in his hand. Joab stabbed him in the abdomen, spilling his intestines to the ground in a single stroke and killing him. After this, Joab and his brother pursued Bichri's son Sheba.

11 One of Joab's soldiers stood by Amasa while he lay dying and announced, "Whoever is in favour of Joab and David, let him follow Joab."

12 While Amasa lay wallowing in his blood in the middle of the highway, everybody who passed by was stopping to stare at him, so when the soldier saw that all of the army was stopping, he carried Amasa off the highway into a nearby field and covered him with a garment.

13 After Amasa had been removed from the highway, the rest of the army followed Joab in pursuit of Bichri's son Sheba.

14 Meanwhile, Sheba travelled throughout the tribes of Israel in the direction of Abel and Beth-maacah, and all of the descendants of Beri gathered together and followed him inside.

15 All of the men who had accompanied Joab arrived and besieged Sheba in Abel of Beth-maacah. They threw up a siege ramp against the city rampart and began to batter the wall to demolish it.

16 Just then a wise woman called out from the city. "Attention!" she said, "Go tell Joab 'Come here! I want to talk to you!'"

17 Joab came over and the woman asked him, "Are you Joab?" "I am," he answered. So she told him, "Listen to what your servant has to say!" "I'm listening," he replied.

18 So she said, "In days past, people used to settle a dispute by saying 'Let's ask for advice at Abel!'"

19 I'm one of the peaceful and faithful citizens of Israel. You're trying to destroy a city that's a mother in Israel. Why are you devouring the heritage of the LORD?"

20 But Joab replied, "No way! No way! I'm not here to devour or destroy!"

21 That's a lie! But there is a man from the Ephraim hill country — he's known as Bichri's son Sheba — who has rebelled against King David. Turn him over and I'll withdraw from the city!" So the woman replied, "Watch this! His head will be thrown to you over the city wall."

22 Then the woman wisely went back to her people. They cut off the head of Bichri's son Sheba and threw it out to Joab, so Joab sounded his battle trumpet and they withdrew from the city. Everybody went back home and Joab returned to the king at Jerusalem.

23 Joab commanded the entire army of Israel, Jehoiada's son Benaiah commanded the special forces and mercenaries,

24 Adoram supervised conscripted labour, Ahilud's son Jehoshaphat was the recorder,

25 Sheva was secretary, Zadok and Abiathar were priests,
26 and Ira the Jairite was David's priest.

2 Samuel 21

1 One time there was a famine during David's reign that went on for three straight years. David sought the LORD, who said, "Saul and his household are guilty because he executed the Gibeonites."

2 So the king called together the Gibeonites and conferred with them. Now the Gibeonites weren't part of the nation of Israel, but were the survivors from the Amorites. Although the Israelis had promised to spare them, Saul had started to execute them in his zeal for the people of Israel and Judah.

3 So David asked the Gibeonites, "What am I to do for you? How am I to make atonement so that you will bless the LORD's heritage?"

4 "We're not looking for mere silver or gold to be paid by Saul or his household to us," the Gibeonites responded to him. "And it's not for us to execute anyone in Israel." In reply, David asked, "So what are you asking me to do for you?"

5 They told the king, "The man who consumed us, who planned our destruction — intending to leave us with nothing in the territory of Israel —

6 is to have seven of his sons turned over to us. We will hang them in the presence of the LORD at Gibeah, which belonged to Saul, whom the LORD chose." So the king answered, "I will give them."

7 The king exempted Mephibosheth, the son of Saul's son Jonathan, because of the promise to the LORD that existed between David and Saul's son Jonathan.

8 Instead, the king arrested Aiah's daughter Rizpah's two sons Armoni and Mephibosheth, whom she had borne to Saul, and the five sons of Saul's daughter Merab, whom she had borne to Barzillai the Meholahite's son Adriel.

9 Then he turned them over to the custody of the Gibeonites, who hanged them on the mountain in the presence of the LORD. All seven of them died at the same time. They were executed during the first days of harvest, just as the barley began to be gathered in.

10 Then Aiah's daughter Rizpah grabbed some sackcloth and spread it out for herself on the rock where her children had been hanged from the beginning of harvest until the first rain fell from the sky. She would not allow any scavenger birds to land on them during the day nor the beasts of the field to approach them at night.

11 When David was informed what Rizpah, the daughter of Saul's mistress had done,

12 David had Saul's bones and the bones of his son Jonathan removed from the custody of certain men from Jabesh-gilead, who had stolen them from the public square in Beth-shan, where the Philistines had hanged them — that is, back on the day when the Philistines had killed Saul on Mount Gilboa.

13 He brought the bones of Saul and his son Jonathan from there along with the bones of those who had been hanged,

14 and they buried Saul's bones and his son Jonathan's bones in the territory of Benjamin in Zela, in the tomb of Saul's father Kish. After they had done everything that the king commanded, God responded to prayers for the land.

15 Afterwards, war broke out between the Philistines and Israel, so David went down to fight the Philistines. David became weary,

16 and Ishbi-benob, who had been fathered by giants, said he intended to kill David. (His bronze spearhead weighed 300 shekels, and he carried state-of-the-art weaponry).

17 But Zeruiah's son Abishai came to David's aid, attacked the Philistine, and killed him. After this, David's army told him, "You're not going out anymore with us to battle, so Israel's beacon won't be extinguished!"

18 Sometime later after this incident, there was another battle with the Philistines at Gob. Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Saph, who had been fathered by giants.

19 In yet another battle at Gob, Jaare-oregim the Bethlehemite's son Elhanan killed Goliath the Gittite, the shaft of whose spear resembled that of a weaver's beam.
20 Later on, there was another battle at Gath, where there was a very tall man with six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot — 24 in number — who had also been fathered by giants.
21 When he defied Israel, David's brother Shimeah's son Jonathan killed him.
22 These four giants, who had been fathered by a giant in Gath, were killed at the hands of David and his servants.

2 Samuel 22

1 David composed the words of this song to the LORD the very day the LORD delivered him from the domination of all of his enemies, including from Saul's hands.
2 This is what he said: LORD, you are my stone stronghold and my fortified place; you are continually delivering me.
3 He is my God, my strong stone — in him I will find my refuge — my shield, the strength of my salvation, my high tower, my way of escape, and the one who is saving me. You will save me from violence.
4 As I am praising him, I will call out to the LORD, and I will be saved from my enemies.
5 Because deadly breakers engulfed me, while torrents of abuse from the ungodly overwhelmed me.
6 Binding ropes from Sheol entangled me while lethal snares hindered me.
7 I cried out to the LORD in the middle of my troubles; I cried out to my God. He listened to my voice from his sanctuary, and my call for help was heard.
8 Just then the earth shook and trembled! The foundations of heaven reeled and quaked because the LORD was angry.
9 Smoke poured out of his nostrils, and fire from his mouth kindling coals to flame by it.
10 He deformed heaven itself as he descended. Thick darkness enveloped his feet.
11 He rode on a cherub and flew, soaring on the wings of the wind!
12 The darkness around him was his canopies — amassed water was his overhanging clouds!
13 From the shining light that was his presence coals of fire blazed into flame!
14 The LORD roared from heaven! The Most High let his voice be heard!
15 He launched his arrows and scattered them — his lightning routed them.
16 The currents of the sea were revealed and the foundations of the world were exposed at the rebuke of the LORD and at the blazing breath from his nostrils!
17 He sent for me from on high! He grabbed hold of me, drawing me out of deep water.
18 He rescued me from my strong enemy — from those who continually hate me, since they were stronger than I.
19 They confronted me when I was in trouble, but the LORD remained my support!
20 He brought me to a wide open area, rescuing me because he was pleased with me!

Galatians 4

- 1 Now what I am saying is this: As long as an heir is a child, he is no better off than a slave, even though he owns everything.
- 2 Instead, he is placed under the care of guardians and servant managers until the time set by the father.
- 3 It was the same way with us. While we were children, we were slaves to the basic principles of the world.
- 4 But when the appropriate time had come, God sent his Son, born by a woman, born under the Law,
- 5 in order to redeem those who were under the Law, and thus to adopt them as his children.
- 6 Now because you are his children, God has sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts to cry out, "Abba! Father!"
- 7 So you are no longer a slave but a child, and if you are a child, then you are also an heir because of what God did.
- 8 However, in the past, when you did not know God, you were slaves to things that are not really gods at all.
- 9 But now that you know God, or rather have been known by God, how can you turn back again to those powerless and bankrupt basic principles? Why do you want to become their slaves all over again?
- 10 You are observing days, months, seasons, and years.
- 11 I am afraid for you! I don't want my work for you to have been wasted!
- 12 I beg you, brothers, to become like me, since I became like you. You did not do anything wrong to me.
- 13 You know that it was because I was ill that I brought you the gospel the first time.
- 14 Even though my condition put you to the test, you did not despise or reject me. On the contrary, you welcomed me as if I were an angel of God, or as if I were the Messiah Jesus.
- 15 What, then, happened to your positive attitude? For I testify that if it had been possible, you would have torn out your eyes and given them to me.
- 16 So have I now become your enemy for telling you the truth?
- 17 These people who have been instructing you are devoted to you, but not in a good way. They want you to avoid me so that you will be devoted to them.
- 18 (Now it is always good to be devoted to a good cause, even when I am not with you).
- 19 My children, I am suffering birth pains for you again until the Messiah is formed in you.
- 20 Indeed, I wish I were with you right now so that I could change the tone of my voice, because I am completely baffled by you!

2 Samuel 22

21 The LORD dealt with me according to my righteousness, rewarding me according to the degree of my innocence,
22 because I have kept the LORD's way — I haven't wilfully abandoned my God —
23 and because all of his decrees remain in my thoughts, I have not turned aside from his statutes,
24 I have been innocent before him, and I've kept myself from incurring guilt.
25 The Lord has repaid me according to my righteousness, that is, according to my clean standing as he looks at me.
26 In the company of the gracious you demonstrate your gracious love. In the company of the blamelessly valiant you demonstrate your blamelessness.
27 In the company of the pure you demonstrate your purity. In the company of the perverted you will appear to be perverse.
28 You save the nation who is humble but your eyes watch the proud, to bring them down.
29 For you are my lamp, LORD, the LORD who illuminates my darkness.
30 By you I devastate armies, by my God I scale walls.
31 This God! His way is perfect! What the LORD declares proves true. He shields everyone who flees for protection to him!
32 For who is God apart from the LORD? And who is a Rock, apart from our God?
33 This God is my strong place of valour! He has made my life blameless.
34 He has made my feet like those of a deer, setting me secure on his high places!
35 He has trained my hands for battle readiness — I can bend a bow made out of bronze.
36 He has equipped me with the shield that is your salvation, Your gentleness has made me great.
37 You've made room beneath me for my footsteps, and my feet didn't slip.
38 I pursued my enemies and conquered them; I didn't return until they were consumed.
39 I devoured them, striking them down until they could not get up again. They fell beneath my feet.
40 You strengthened me with valour sufficient for the battle; you made those who rebelled against me fall beneath me.
41 You made my enemies turn and run, — that is, those who hate me — and I destroyed them!
42 They looked around, but there was no one to save them — they looked to the LORD, but he paid no attention!
43 I pulverized them to powder, like the dust of the earth; I crushed them, stomping on them like mud on a street.
44 You delivered me from civil war among my own people. You preserved me as head of the nations. People whom I had never known served me!
45 Foreigners came cringing to me; they obeyed as soon as they heard me.
46 Foreigners lost their courage, coming trembling from their strongholds.
47 The LORD lives! Blessed be my Rock, and may my God be exalted, the Rock who is my salvation!
48 The God who keeps on avenging me, subjugating people beneath me,
49 delivering me from my enemies. You exalted me above those who rebelled against me, delivering me from violent men.
50 Because of all of this I will praise you among the nations, LORD, and I will sing praises to your name!
51 Great is the salvation he brings to his king, showing gracious love to his anointed, to David and to his offspring forever.

2 Samuel 23

1 This was David's last composition: The oracle of David, son of Jesse, an oracle by the valiant one who was exalted — anointed by the God of Jacob, the contented psalm writer of Israel.

2 The Spirit of the LORD speaks within me; his word is on my tongue!

3 The God of Israel has spoken; the Rock of Israel has talked to me. "When one is governing men justly, he fears God while governing.

4 He is like dawn's first light, like bright sun blazing on a cloudless morning, glistening on grassland that flourishes after a rain shower.

5 Is not my dynasty like this with God? Has he not made an eternal covenant with me, preparing every detail of it? And he has made it secure, including my complete salvation, has he not? He has been of continual help, has he not, even with the parts he has not yet brought about?

6 But ungodly men are like thorns that are discarded because they cannot be safely handled.

7 Whoever handles them wears heavy duty clothing, carries strong tools, and burns them to ashes on the spot!

8 Here's a list of the names of David's special forces: Josheb-basshebeth the Tahkemonite was head of the Three; he was nicknamed Adino the Eznite because he killed 800 men in a single battle engagement.

9 Next was Dodai the Ahohite's son Eleazar. Eleazar, who also was one of the Three, was with David when they challenged the Philistines. When the Philistines had assembled in battle array, the Israeli army retreated,

10 but Eleazar remained standing right where he was and fought so hard against the Philistines that he became exhausted — he couldn't even let go of his sword! The LORD magnificently delivered them that day. After Eleazar had won the battle, the other soldiers returned, but only to strip the weapons and armour from the dead.

11 Next was Shammah, Agee the Hararite's son. One time the Philistines assembled to fight in a field where lentils had been growing. Israel's army retreated from the Philistines, 12 but Shammah stood his ground in the middle of the field, defended it, and killed the Philistines. And the LORD brought about a great victory.

13 One day while the Philistine army was camping in the valley of giants, three of the 30 leaders joined David at the cave of Adullam.

14 David was living in that stronghold at the time, while a Philistine garrison was then at Bethlehem.

15 David expressed his longing, "Oh, how I wish someone would get me a drink of water from the Bethlehem well that's by the city gate!"

16 So the Three elite warriors broke through the Philistine ranks, drew some water from the Bethlehem well that was next to the city gate, and brought it back to David. But he refused to drink it. Instead, he poured it out in the LORD's presence,

17 and said, "The LORD forbid that I drink this — this is the blood of men who endangered their own lives!" The Three elite warriors did these things.

18 Zeruiah's son Abishai, Joab's brother, was the lieutenant in charge of the platoons. He used his spear to fight and kill 300 men, gaining a reputation distinct from the Three.

19 He was more well-known than the Three, and became their commander, but he never measured up to the Three.

20 Jehoiada's son Benaiah, who was a valiant man, accomplished great things. He was from Kabzeel. He killed two men named Ariel from Moab and then he also went down into a pit and struck down a lion during a snow storm one day.

21 He also killed a soldier from Egypt. Of handsome appearance, the Egyptian carried a spear, but Benaiah attacked him with a staff, snatched the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear.

22 Benaiah did things like this and gained a reputation comparable to the Three warriors.

23 He was well known among the platoons, but he didn't measure up to the Three. David placed him in charge of his security detail.

24 Among the Thirty were Joab's brother Asahel, Dodo's son Elhanan of Bethlehem,

25 Shammah from Harod; Elikah from Harod,

26 Helez the Paltite, Ikkesh's son Ira from Tekoa,

27 Abiezer from Anathoth, Mebunnai the Hushathite,

28 Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai of Netophah,

29 Baanah's son Heleb from Netophah, Ribai's son Ittai from Gibeah of the descendants of Benjamin,

30 Benaiah from Pirathon, Hiddai from the Gaash creeks area,

31 Abi-albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth from Bahurim,

32 Eliahba from Shaalbon, Jashen's sons,

33 Shammah's son from Harar, Sharar the Hararite's son Ahiam,

34 Ahasbai the Maacathite's son Eliphelet, Ahithophel the Gilonite's son Eliam,

35 Hezro from Carmel, Paarai the Arbite,

36 Nathan's son Igal from Zobah, Bani the Gadite,

37 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai from Beeroth (the armour-bearer for Zeruiah's son Joab),

38 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

39 Uriah the Hittite — for a total of 37.

Galatians 4

21 Tell me, those of you who want to live under the Law: Are you really listening to what the Law says?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by a slave woman and the other by a free woman.

23 Now the slave woman's son was conceived through human means, while the free woman's son was conceived through divine promise.

24 This is being said as an allegory, for these women represent two covenants. The one woman, Hagar, is from Mount Sinai, and her children are born into slavery.

25 Now Hagar is Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to present-day Jerusalem, because she is in slavery along with her children.

26 But the heavenly Jerusalem is the free woman, and she is our spiritual mother.

27 For it is written, "Rejoice, you childless woman, who cannot give birth to any children! Break into song and shout, you who feel no pains of childbirth! For the children of the deserted woman are more numerous than the children of the woman who has a husband."

28 So you, brothers, are children of the promise, like Isaac.

29 But just as then the son who was conceived according to the flesh persecuted the son who was conceived according to the Spirit, so it is now.

30 But what does the Scripture say? "Drive out the slave woman and her son, for the son of the slave woman must never share the inheritance with the son of the free woman."

31 So then, brothers, we are not children of the slave woman but of the free woman.

Galatians 5

1 The Messiah has set us free so that we may enjoy the benefits of freedom. So keep on standing firm in it, and stop putting yourselves under the yoke of slavery again.

2 Listen! I, Paul, am telling you that if you allow yourselves to be circumcised, the Messiah will be of no benefit to you.

3 Again, I insist that everyone who allows himself to be circumcised is obligated to obey the entire Law.

4 Those of you who are trying to be justified by the Law have been cut off from the Messiah. You have fallen away from grace.

5 Through the Spirit by faith we confidently await the fulfilment of our righteous hope,
6 for in union with the Messiah Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision matters. What matters is faith expressed through love.

7 You were running the race beautifully. Who cut in on you and stopped you from obeying the truth?

8 Such influence does not come from the one who calls you.

2 Samuel 24

1 Later, God's anger blazed forth against Israel, so he incited David to move against them by telling him, "Go take a census of Israel and Judah."

2 So the king ordered Joab, commander of the special forces, who was with him, "Go throughout the tribes of Israel from Dan to Beer-sheba and take a census of the people so I can be made aware of the total number."

3 But Joab replied, "May the LORD your God increase the population of the people a hundredfold while your majesty the king is still alive to see it happen! But why does your majesty the king want to do this?"

4 But the king's order overruled Joab and the commanders of the special forces, so Joab and the commanders of the special forces left David's presence to take a census of the people of Israel.

5 They crossed the Jordan River, encamped at Aroer south of the town that is located in the river valley, proceeding through Gad and then on toward Jazer.

6 They went on to Gilead and the territory of Tahtim-hodshi, then on toward Dan. From Dan they went around to Sidon

7 and arrived at the fortified city of Tyre and all of the towns of the Hivites and Canaanites. Eventually they proceeded to Beer-sheba in the Judean Negev.

8 After they had travelled throughout the entire land, they returned to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and 20 days.

9 Joab reported the total number of men to the king. In Israel there were 800,000 men trained for war. In Judah there were 500,000.

10 Later, David's conscience bothered him after he had numbered the army, so David told the LORD, "I have sinned greatly by what I did. But now I am asking you, please remove the guilt of your servant, since I have acted very foolishly."

11 Before David arose the next morning, this message from the LORD came to Gad, David's seer:

12 "Go tell David, 'This is what the LORD says: "I'm holding three choices out for you: pick one of them for yourself, and I will do it to you."'"

13 So Gad went to David and asked him, "Shall seven years of famine come to your land, or three months of reversals while you flee from your enemies as they pursue you, or three days of pestilence in your land? Decide right now what I am to answer to the one who sent me."

14 So David replied to Gad, "This is a very difficult choice for me to make! Let me now please fall into the hand of the LORD, since his mercy is very great, but may I never fall into human hands!"

15 That very morning, the LORD sent a pestilence to Israel until the conclusion of the time designated, and 70,000 men died from Dan to Beer-sheba.

16 As the angel was stretching out his hand to destroy Jerusalem, the LORD was grieved because of the calamity, so he told the angel who was afflicting the people, "Enough! Stay your hand!" So the angel of the LORD remained near the threshing floor that belonged to Araunah the Jebusite.

17 When David saw the angel who had been attacking the people, he told the LORD, "Look, I'm the one who has sinned! I did the evil. These are only sheep! What did they do? Please, let your hand fall on me and on my household!"

18 That very day, Gad approached David and told him, "Go up and build an altar to the LORD on the threshing floor that belongs to Araunah the Jebusite."

19 So David went up, just as Gad had ordered, consistent with the LORD's command.

20 When Araunah looked down, he saw the king and his staff approaching him. Araunah went out, bowed down before the king with his face on the ground,

21 and asked him, "Why has your majesty the king come to his servant?" David replied, "To purchase your threshing floor and to build an altar to the LORD, so the pestilence can be averted from the people."

22 Araunah responded to David, "May your majesty the king take it and offer whatever pleases him. Here are oxen for a burnt offering, along with the threshing sledges and yokes from the oxen for wood!

23 Your majesty, Araunah gives all of this to the king." Araunah also told the king, "May the LORD your God be pleased with you!"

24 "No!" the king replied to Araunah. "I will buy them from you at full price. I won't offer to the LORD my God burnt offerings that cost me nothing." So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for 50 silver shekels, 25 built an altar to the LORD there, and presented burnt offerings and peace offerings. So the LORD answered David's prayers for the land and the pestilence on Israel was averted.

1 Kings 1

1 When David had grown very old, they covered him with blankets, but he could not keep warm,

2 so his servants suggested to him, "Let's look for a young virgin woman to take care of you, your majesty. She will be of use to you if you have her lie down near you so that your majesty may keep warm."

3 So they conducted a search throughout the territory of Israel for a beautiful young woman, and Abishag the Shunammite was located and brought to the king.

4 The young woman was absolutely beautiful. She served the king and was very useful to him. The king was not sexually involved with her.

5 Meanwhile, about this time Haggith's son Adonijah began to seek a reputation for himself and decided, "I'm going to be king!" So he prepared chariots, cavalry, and 50 soldiers to serve as a security detail to guard him.

6 His father had never challenged him at any time during his life by asking him, "Why are you acting like this?" Adonijah was very handsome and had been born after Absalom.

7 He had the support of Zeruiah's son Joab and of Abiathar the priest, who followed Adonijah and assisted him,

8 but Zadok the priest, Jehoiada's son Benaiah, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and David's personal elite forces would have nothing to do with Adonijah.

9 Adonijah sacrificed sheep, oxen, and fatted cattle by the Serpent Stone near En-rogel, inviting all of his relatives, the king's sons, and all of the men of Judah who worked for the king,

10 but he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, David's personal elite forces, or his brother Solomon.

11 "Haven't you heard?" Nathan asked Solomon's mother Bathsheba. "Haggith's son Adonijah has become king and David, our true king, isn't aware of it.

12 If you listen to me, you'll save your life and the life of your son Solomon.

13 Go right now to King David and ask him, 'Your majesty, you promised your servant that "Your son Solomon will certainly become king after me and will sit on my throne," didn't you? So why has Adonijah become king?'

14 Then, while you are still talking to the king, I'll come in after you and verify your statement."

15 So Bathsheba went to the king in his private room. Now the king was very old, and Abishag the Shunammite was attending to him.

16 Bathsheba knelt and bowed down to the king, and the king asked her, "What do you wish?"

17 "Your majesty," she replied, "you promised your servant in the name of the LORD your God, 'Your son Solomon will certainly become king after me and will sit on my throne.'

18 Now look, Adonijah has become king, and your majesty is not aware of it.

19 Adonijah has sacrificed myriads of oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep, and he has invited all of the king's sons, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the commander of the army, but he has not invited your servant Solomon.

20 And as for you, your majesty, everyone in Israel is looking to you to tell them who will sit on your majesty's throne after you.

21 Otherwise, as soon as your majesty is laid to rest with his ancestors, my son Solomon and I will be branded as traitors."

22 While she was still talking to the king, Nathan the prophet arrived.

23 They informed the king, "Nathan the prophet is here." When he had been ushered into the presence of the king, Nathan bowed low in front of the king with his face to the ground

24 and asked, "Your majesty, did you say 'Adonijah will be king after me and will sit on my throne?'

25 Well now, he went down today and sacrificed lots of oxen, fattened cattle, and sheep, and has invited all the king's sons, the army commanders, and Abiathar the priest. They're having a party together and saying, 'Long live King Adonijah!'

26 Of course, he never invited me, Zadok the priest, Jehoiada's son Benaiah, nor your servant Solomon.

27 Were you behind this, your majesty, without letting your servants know who would sit on your majesty's throne after him?"

28 "Call Bathsheba for me," King David replied. So she came in and stood in front of the king.

29 "As the LORD lives," the king said with an oath, "who has redeemed me from all sorts of troubles,

30 I certainly did tell you in the name of the LORD God of Israel, 'Your son Solomon will be king after me and will sit on my throne in my place.' I'm certainly going to make this happen today!"

31 "King David," Bathsheba said as she bowed low in front of the king with her face to the ground, "your majesty, may you live forever."

32 "Get me Zadok the priest," King David said, "along with Nathan the prophet, and Jehoiada's son Benaiah." So they were ushered into the king's presence

33 and David addressed them. "Take your lord's servants, have my son Solomon ride on my own mule, and take him down to Gihon.

34 Have Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him there as king over Israel. Then sound a trumpet and declare 'Long live King Solomon!'

35 After this, you are to follow him back here, and he is to come and sit on my throne and take my place as king, because I've appointed him to be Commander-in-Chief over Israel and Judah."

36 "Amen!" replied Jehoiada's son Benaiah to the king. "May the LORD God of your majesty make this happen!

37 As the LORD has been with your majesty the king, so may he be with Solomon. May he make his throne greater than the throne of your majesty, King David."

Galatians 5

10 I am confident in the Lord that you will take no other view of this. However, the one who is troubling you will suffer God's judgement, whoever he is.

11 As for me, brothers, if I am still preaching the necessity of circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? In that case the offence of the cross has been removed.

12 I wish that those who are upsetting you would castrate themselves!

13 For you, brothers, were called to freedom. Only do not turn your freedom into an opportunity to gratify your flesh, but through love make it your habit to serve one another.

14 For the whole Law is summarized in a single statement: "You must love your neighbour as yourself."

15 But if you bite and devour one another, be careful that you are not destroyed by each other.

16 So I say, live by the Spirit, and you will never fulfil the desires of the flesh.

17 For what the flesh wants is opposed to the Spirit, and what the Spirit wants is opposed to the flesh. They are opposed to each other, and so you do not do what you want to do.

18 But if you are being led by the Spirit, you are not under the Law.

19 Now the actions of the flesh are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity, promiscuity,
20 idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, rivalry, jealousy, outbursts of anger, quarrels, conflicts, factions,

21 envy, murder, drunkenness, wild partying, and things like that. I am telling you now, as I have told you in the past, that people who practise such things will not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness,
23 gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against such things.

24 Now those who belong to the Messiah Jesus have crucified their flesh with its passions and desires.

25 Since we live by the Spirit, by the Spirit let us also be guided.

26 Let's stop being arrogant, provoking one another and envying one another.

1 Kings 1

38 So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Jehoiada's son Benaiah, the special forces and mercenaries went out and had Solomon ride the king's mule all the way to Gihon.
39 Zadok the priest brought from his tent a horn filled with oil and anointed Solomon, a trumpet was sounded, and everybody yelled out, "Long live King Solomon!"
40 All the people followed after him, playing on wind pipes and so full of joy that the earth shook because of all the noise!
41 Right about then, Adonijah and all of his guests were just finishing their meal when they heard all the noise. "Why is the city in such an uproar?" Joab asked as he heard the trumpet sounds.
42 While he was still asking that question, Jonathan, the son of Abiathar the priest arrived, so Adonijah told him, "Come on in, since you're a worthy man and are bringing us good news!"
43 "No," Jonathan answered. "Our lord King David has installed Solomon as king.
44 The king has sent Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Jehoiada's son Benaiah, the special forces and mercenaries, along with Solomon, who is riding the king's personal mule.
45 Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him in Gihon, and they just left from there rejoicing, and that's why the city is all in an uproar. That's the noise that you've been hearing!"
46 Solomon now sits on the royal throne.
47 In addition to all of this, the king's servants have come along to congratulate our lord King David. They've been telling David 'May your God make Solomon's reputation even more famous than yours, and may he make his throne greater than yours!' The king has himself bowed in worship on his own bed
48 and said 'Blessed be the LORD God of Israel, who has provided someone to sit on my throne today. I've seen it with my own eyes!'"
49 Terrified, all of Adonijah's guests jumped up and ran away.
50 Afraid of Solomon, Adonijah also jumped up and headed straight for the horns of the altar.
51 "Hey look!" somebody informed Solomon. "Adonijah is terrified of King Solomon! He's gone out, grabbed hold of the horns of the altar, and now he's begging King Solomon, 'Swear to me that you won't put your servant to death with a sword!'"
52 "If he's done nothing wrong, not a hair of his head will be harmed," Solomon replied. "But if we find evil in him, he's a dead man."
53 So King Solomon sent for him, and he was brought down from the altar. When he had arrived, he fell on his face in front of King Solomon, so Solomon told him, "Go home!"

1 Kings 2

1 As David's time to die approached, he addressed his son Solomon with these words:
2 "I'm headed down the road that everyone who lives on earth travels, so be strong and demonstrate that you're a grown man
3 by keeping the charge that the LORD your God entrusted to you. Live life his way, keep his statutes, his commands, his ordinances, and his testimonies, just as they're written down in the Law of Moses, so that you may succeed in everything you do and wherever you go,
4 and so that the LORD may fulfil his promise that he spoke about me when he said, 'If your sons pay attention to how they live by walking truthfully in my presence with all their heart and with all their soul, you will never lack a man on the throne of Israel.'
5 "Furthermore, you're aware of what Zeruiah's son Joab did to me and to those two commanders of the armies of Israel, Ner's son Abner and Jether's son Amasa, whom he killed, and how he shed the blood of wartime during times of peace, staining the very belt he wears around his waist and the sandals he wears on his feet.

6 So act consistently with your wisdom, and don't let him die as a peaceful old man.

7 Be gracious to the descendants of Barzillai the Gileadite, and provide for them in your household, because they helped me when I had to run from your brother Absalom.

8 "Pay attention now! You have with you Gera's son Shimei the descendant of Benjamin from Bahurim. He cursed me violently that day when I had to leave for Mahanaim. When he visited me at the Jordan River, I made an oath to the LORD and told him, 'I won't execute you with a sword.'

9 But don't let him off unpunished, since you're a wise man and you'll know what you need to do to him. Find a way that he dies in his old age by shedding his blood."

10 After this, David died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried in the city of David.

11 David had reigned over Israel for 40 years. He reigned in Hebron for seven years and in Jerusalem for 33 years.

12 Solomon then assumed his father David's throne, and his kingdom was firmly established.

13 Later, Haggith's son Adonijah approached Solomon's mother. "Are you here on a peaceful mission?" she asked. "Yes," he replied.

14 "I have something to ask you about." "Talk," she told him.

15 So he replied, "You know that the kingdom should have come to me, and that everyone in Israel intended to place me as the next king. However, the kingdom has turned around and now belongs to my brother, because it went to him from the LORD.

16 So now I'm asking one thing from you. Don't refuse me." "Talk," she told him.

17 Then he asked her, "Please talk to King Solomon for me, since he won't refuse you. Ask him to give me Abishag the Shunammite as a wife."

18 "Okay," Bathsheba replied. "I'll talk to the king for you."

19 So Bathsheba went to talk to King Solomon for Adonijah. The king rose to meet her, bowed to her, and sat down on his throne. He ordered a throne be set in place for his mother. She sat on a throne to his right

20 and told him, "I would like to make a minor request of you. Please don't refuse me."

"What is your request, mother?" the king asked her. "I won't turn you down."

21 So she asked him, "Give Abishag the Shunammite to your brother Adonijah as a wife."

22 But King Solomon replied to his mother, "Why are you asking Abishag the Shunammite for Adonijah? Why not ask me to give up the kingdom for him, since he's my older brother, and why not ask for Abiathar the priest, and for Zeruiah's son Joab?"

23 Then King Solomon took this oath in the name of the LORD: "May God do so to me, and more besides, if Adonijah hasn't endangered his life by bringing up this subject.

24 Now therefore, as the LORD lives, who has established me and set me on the throne of my father David, and who has established a dynasty, just like he promised, Adonijah will surely be executed today."

25 So King Solomon sent for Jehoiada's son Benaiah, who attacked and killed Adonijah.

26 The king also told Abiathar the priest, "Go home to Anathoth. You deserve to die, but I won't kill you today, because you carried the ark of the Lord God before my father David and because you shared all the troubles that my father went through."

27 So Solomon fired Abiathar as the LORD's priest, thus fulfilling the promise that the LORD had spoken in Shiloh concerning Eli's household.

28 When Joab learned what had happened, he ran to the LORD's tent and grabbed hold of the horns of the altar, since Joab had supported Adonijah (though he had not supported Absalom).

29 Somebody informed King Solomon, "Joab just ran to the LORD's tent and now he's standing beside the altar!" But Solomon ordered Jehoiada's son Benaiah, "Go kill him!"

30 So Benaiah went into the LORD's tent and told Joab, "The king orders you to come out!" "No," Joab said, "I'd rather die here!" So Benaiah went and informed the king, "This is how Joab answered me."

31 The king replied to him, "Do just what he asked. Kill him and bury him so that you may remove from me and from my father's household the guilt that Joab shed needlessly.

32 The LORD will repay him for his bloodshed because, without my father David's consent he attacked and murdered two men more righteous and better than he, Ner's son Abner, the commander of Israel's army and Jether's son Amasa, commander of Judah's army.

33 May their blood be repaid to Joab and to his descendants forever, and may there be peace shown from the LORD forever to David, to his descendants, to his household, and to his throne."

34 Jehoiada's son Benaiah then approached Joab, attacked him, killed him, and had him buried at Joab's home in the wilderness.

35 The king appointed Jehoiada's son Benaiah in charge of the army to replace Joab and also appointed Zadok the priest to replace Abiathar.

36 The king sent for Shimei and told him, "Build yourself a house in Jerusalem and live there, but don't go anywhere from there.

37 If you ever leave and cross the Kidron Brook, you can be sure that you'll die. You'll be responsible for your own death."

38 Shimei replied to the king, "What your majesty has decreed is acceptable to me. I'll do what you've said." So Shimei lived in Jerusalem for quite some time.

39 But three years later, two of Shimei's servants escaped to Maacah's son Achish, the king of Gath. Somebody told Shimei, "Look! Your servants went to Gath!"

40 So Shimei got up, saddled a donkey, and travelled to Gath to find his servants. He found them and brought them back from Gath.

41 Later, Solomon found out that Shimei had left Jerusalem, gone to Gath, and had returned,

42 so the king sent for Shimei and asked him, "Didn't I make a promise to the LORD and warn you, 'The day you leave and go anywhere else, you can be sure you'll die'? And you told me, 'What your majesty has decreed is acceptable to me.'

43 So why haven't you kept the oath you made to the LORD, and why didn't you obey my personal order to you?"

44 The king also reminded Shimei, "You know all the evil things that you admit you did to my father David. Therefore the LORD is going to repay you for all of your evil.

45 But King Solomon will be blessed, and David's throne will be established in the presence of the LORD forever."

46 So the king gave orders to Jehoiada's son Benaiah to go out, attack Shimei, and kill him. That is how the kingdom was established under Solomon's control.

Galatians 6

- 1 Brothers, if a person is caught doing something wrong, those of you who are spiritual should restore that person gently. Watch out for yourself so that you are not tempted as well.
- 2 Practise carrying each other's burdens. In this way you will fulfil the law of the Messiah.
- 3 For if anyone thinks he is something when he is really nothing, he is only fooling himself.
- 4 Each person must examine his own actions, and then he can boast about his own accomplishments and not about someone else.
- 5 For everyone must carry his own load.
- 6 The person who is taught the word should share all his goods with his teacher.
- 7 Stop being deceived; God is not to be ridiculed. A person harvests whatever he plants:
- 8 The person who sows through human means will harvest decay from human means, but the person who sows in the Spirit will harvest eternal life from the Spirit.
- 9 Let's not get tired of doing what is good, for at the right time we will reap a harvest — if we do not give up.
- 10 So then, whenever we have the opportunity, let's practise doing good to everyone, especially to the family of faith.
- 11 Look at how large these letters are because I am writing with my own hand!
- 12 These people who want to impress others by their external appearance are trying to force you to be circumcised, simply to avoid being persecuted for the cross of the Messiah.
- 13 Why, not even those who are circumcised obey the Law! They simply want you to be circumcised so that they can boast about your external appearance.
- 14 But may I never boast about anything except the cross of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, by which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world!
- 15 For neither circumcision nor uncircumcision matters. Rather, what matters is being a new creation.
- 16 Now may peace be on all those who live by this principle, and may mercy be on the Israel of God.
- 17 Let no one make any more trouble for me, because I carry the scars of Jesus on my own body.
- 18 May the grace of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be with your spirit, brothers! Amen.

1 Kings 3

1 Later, Solomon intermarried with the family of Pharaoh, the king of Egypt by taking his daughter and bringing her to the city of David to live until he had completed building his own palace, the LORD's Temple, and the wall around Jerusalem.

2 The people were sacrificing at various high places because the Temple had not yet been built and dedicated to the LORD.

3 Solomon loved the LORD, and lived according to the statutes that his father David obeyed, except that he sacrificed and burned offerings at the high places.

4 The king used to go to Gibeon to sacrifice, since there was a famous high place there, where Solomon once offered 1,000 burnt offerings on that altar.

5 The LORD appeared to Solomon one night in a dream and told him, "Ask me for whatever you want and I'll give it to you."

6 So Solomon said: "You have demonstrated abundant gracious love to your servant David, my father, as he lived in your presence truthfully, righteously, and uprightly in his heart. In addition, you have kept on showing this abundant gracious love by giving him a son to sit on his throne today.

7 Now, LORD my God, you have set me as king to replace my father David, but I'm still young. I don't have any leadership skills.

8 Your servant lives in the midst of your people that you have chosen, a great people that is too numerous to be counted.

9 So give your servant an understanding mind to govern your people, so I can discern between good and evil. Otherwise, how will I be able to govern this great people of yours?"

10 The LORD was pleased that Solomon had asked for this,

11 so God told him: "Because you asked for this, and you didn't ask for a long life for yourself, and you didn't ask for the lives of your enemies, but instead you've asked for discernment so you can understand how to govern,

12 look how I'm going to do precisely what you asked. I'm giving you a wise and discerning mind, so that there will have been no one like you before you and no one will arise after you like you.

13 I'm also giving you what you haven't requested: both riches and honour, so that no other king will be comparable to you during your lifetime.

14 If you will live life my way, keeping my statutes and my commands, just like your father David did, I'll also increase the length of your life."

15 Then Solomon woke up and realized that he had dreamed a dream. Then he went back to Jerusalem, stood before the ark of the LORD's covenant, offered burnt offerings and peace offerings, and threw a party for all of his servants.

16 Right about then, two prostitutes approached the king and requested an audience with him.

17 One woman said, "Your majesty, this woman and I live in the same house. I gave birth to a child while she was in the house.

18 Three days later, this woman also gave birth. We lived alone there. There was nobody else with us in the house. It was just the two of us.

19 This woman's son died overnight because she laid on top of him.

20 She got up in the middle of the night, took my son from me while your servant was asleep, and laid him to her breast after laying her dead son next to me.

21 The next morning, I got up to nurse my son, and he was dead. But when I examined him carefully in the light of day, he turned out not to be my son whom I had borne!"

22 "Not so," claimed the other woman. "The living child is my son, and the dead one is yours." But the first woman said, "Not so! The dead child is your son and the living one is my son." This is what they testified before the king.

23 The king said, "One of them claims, 'This living son is mine, and your son is the dead one' and the other claims 'No. Your son is the dead one and my son is the living one.'"

24 "Somebody get me a sword." So they brought a sword to the king.

25 "Divide the living child in two!" he ordered. "Give half to the one and half to the other."

26 The woman whose child was still alive cried out to the king, because her heart yearned for her son. "Oh no, your majesty!" she said. "Give her the living child. Please don't kill him." But the other woman said, "Cut him in half! That way, he'll belong to neither one of us."

27 The king announced his decision: "Give the living child to the first woman. Don't kill him. She is his mother."

28 When this decision that the king had handed down was announced, everybody in Israel was amazed at the king, because they all saw that God's wisdom was in him, enabling him to administer justice.

1 Kings 4

1 And so King Solomon ruled over all of Israel.

2 Here's a list of his officials: Zadok's son Azariah was priest,

3 Shisha's sons Elihoreph and Ahijah were his secretaries, Ahilud's son Jehoshaphat was recorder,

4 Jehoiada's son Benaiah commanded the army, Zadok and Abiathar served as priests,

5 Nathan's son Azariah supervised the governors, Nathan's son Zabud the priest was the king's counsellor,

6 Ahishar supervised palace matters, and Abda's son Adoniram supervised conscripted labour.

7 Solomon also appointed twelve governors over all of Israel, each of whom were responsible for providing one month's food provisions to the king and to his administration during each year.

8 Here's a list of their names: Ben-hur from the hill country of Ephraim;

9 Ben-deker in Makaz, Shaalbim and Beth-shemesh and Elonbeth-hanan;

10 Ben-hesed served in Arubboth (where he supervised Socoh and all of the territory of Hephher);

11 Ben-abinadab supervised the Dor heights (Solomon's daughter Taphath was his wife);

12 Ahilud's son Baana served Taanach, Megiddo, and all of Beth-shean near Zarethan below Jezreel, including from Beth-shean to Abel-meholah as far as the other side of Jokmeam;

13 Ben-geber in Ramoth-gilead, including the towns that belonged to Manasseh's descendant Jair that are in Gilead);

14 Iddo's son Ahinadab served in Mahanaim;

15 Ahimaaz served in Naphtali (he was married to Solomon's daughter Basemath);

16 Hushai's son Baana served in Asher and Bealoth;

17 Paruah's son Jehoshaphat served in Issachar;

18 Ela's son Shimei served in Benjamin;

19 and Uri's son Geber served in the territory of Gilead, the territory formerly ruled by King Sihon of the Amorites and King Og of Bashan (he was the only governor over that territory).

20 Judah and Israel became as numerous as the sand on the seashore. They enjoyed abundance, and ate, drank, and rejoiced regularly.

21 Solomon ruled over all the kingdoms from the Euphrates River to the territory of the Philistines and south to the border of Egypt. They brought tribute and served Solomon throughout his lifetime.

22 Solomon's daily provisions were 30 kors of fine flour, 60 kors of meal,

23 ten fattened oxen, 20 pasture-fed cattle, 100 sheep, as well as deer, gazelles, roebucks, and domestic poultry.

24 He ruled over everything west of the Euphrates River from Tiphseh to Gaza, over all of the kings west of the Euphrates River, and he enjoyed peace on all sides around him.

25 Judah and Israel lived safely, and everyone enjoyed their own vine and fig tree from Dan to Beer-sheba through all of Solomon's life.

26 Solomon owned 40,000 stalls for the horses that drove his chariots, and he employed 12,000 men to drive them.

27 His officers supplied provisions for King Solomon and for everyone who visited King Solomon's palace, each in their respective month of service responsibility. Nothing ever ran out.

28 They also provided barley and straw for the horses and camels to their respective locations, each consistent with their responsibilities.

29 God gave Solomon wisdom and great discernment. His insights were as numerous as sand on the seashore.

30 Solomon was wiser than any of the eastern leaders and wiser than anyone in Egypt.

31 He was wiser than anyone of his day — wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite, Heman, and wiser than Mahol's sons Calcol and Darda. His reputation was known throughout the surrounding nations.

32 Solomon wrote 3,000 proverbs and 1,005 songs.

33 He described trees — everything from cedars that grow in Lebanon to hyssop that grows on a garden wall. He described animals, birds, reptiles, and fish.

34 People came from everywhere to hear Solomon's advice. Every king on the earth heard of his wisdom.

Ephesians 1

1 From: Paul, an apostle of the Messiah Jesus by God's will. To: His holy and faithful people in Ephesus who are in union with the Messiah Jesus.

2 May grace and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah, be yours!

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah! He has blessed us in the Messiah with every spiritual blessing in the heavenly realm,

4 just as he chose us in the Messiah before the creation of the universe to be holy and blameless in his presence. In love

5 he predestined us for adoption to himself through Jesus the Messiah, according to the pleasure of his will,

6 so that we would praise his glorious grace that he gave us in the Beloved One.

7 In union with him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of our offences, according to the riches of God's grace

8 that he lavished on us, along with all wisdom and understanding,

9 when he made known to us the secret of his will. This was according to his plan that he set forth in the Messiah

10 to usher in the fullness of the times and to bring together in the Messiah all things in heaven and on earth.

11 In the Messiah we were also chosen when we were predestined according to the purpose of the one who does everything that he wills to do,

12 so that we who had already fixed our hope on the Messiah might live for his praise and glory.

13 You, too, have heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation. When you believed in the Messiah, you were sealed with the promised Holy Spirit, 14 who is the guarantee of our inheritance until God redeems his own possession for his praise and glory.

15 Therefore, because I have heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints,

16 I never stop giving thanks for you as I mention you in my prayers.

17 I pray that the God of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, the most glorious Father, would give you a wise spirit, along with revelation that comes through knowing the Messiah fully.

18 Then, with the eyes of your hearts enlightened, you will know the confidence that is produced by God having called you, the rich glory that is his inheritance among the saints,

19 and the unlimited greatness of his power for us who believe, according to the working of his mighty strength,

20 which he brought about in the Messiah when he raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly realm.

21 He is far above every ruler, authority, power, dominion, and every name that can be named, not only in the present age but also in the one to come.

22 God has put everything under the Messiah's feet and has made him the head of everything for the good of the church,

23 which is his body, the fullness of the one who fills everything in every way.

21st May

1 Kings 5

- 1 King Hiram of Tyre sent his servants to Solomon when he learned that Solomon had been anointed king to replace his father, because Hiram had been David's lifelong friend.
- 2 Solomon sent this message to Hiram:
- 3 "You know that my father David was unable to build a temple dedicated to the LORD his God because he was busy fighting wars all around him until the LORD defeated his enemies.
- 4 But now the LORD has given me rest all around, since I have neither foreign adversaries nor domestic crises.
- 5 So now I'm planning to build a temple dedicated to the LORD my God, just as the LORD told my father when he said, 'Your son, whom I will set on your throne to replace you, will build the Temple dedicated to me.'
- 6 Now therefore please order that cedars of Lebanon be cut for me. My servants will work with your servants, and I will pay your servants whatever wages you set, because you know there is no one among us who knows how to cut timber like the Sidonians do."
- 7 As soon as Hiram received the message from Solomon, he became so ecstatic that he exclaimed, "Blessed be the LORD today, who has given David a wise son to rule this great people!" Then he sent this message to Solomon:
- 8 "I have read the letter that you sent me. I'll do what you've asked about the cedar and cypress timber.
- 9 My servants will transport them from Lebanon to the sea, where we'll make them into rafts and float them by sea to the port that you tell me to send them. We'll have them prepared for transport there and then you can carry them from there. You can meet my needs by providing provisions for my household."
- 10 That's how Hiram came to provide Solomon as much cedar and cypress timber as he needed.
- 11 In return, Solomon paid Hiram 20,000 kors of wheat as food for his household, and 20 kors of beaten oil. Solomon provided this amount every year during the construction.
- 12 The LORD continued giving Solomon wisdom, just as he had promised, and Hiram and Solomon entered into a peace treaty between themselves.
- 13 King Solomon conscripted labourers from throughout Israel. The work force numbered 30,000 men.
- 14 He sent 10,000 men to Lebanon in shifts lasting one month. They worked one month in Lebanon for every two months they worked at home. Adoniram was placed in charge of the conscripted labour.
- 15 Solomon also employed 70,000 heavy-lift workers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hill country.
- 16 Solomon also employed 3,300 officials to supervise the work and to manage the people employed in the construction.
- 17 The king specified that large, expensive stones be quarried so the foundation of the Temple could be laid with cut stones.
- 18 As a result, Solomon's builders worked with Hiram's builders, accompanied by the Gebalites, to quarry the stone and to prepare the timber and other stone for the Temple's construction.

1 Kings 6

- 1 During the month of Ziv, which was the second month of the fourth year of Solomon's reign over Israel, 480 years after the Israelis left the land of Egypt, Solomon began to build the LORD's Temple.
- 2 The Temple for the LORD that Solomon was building was 90 feet long and 30 feet wide.

3 A portico extended in front of the Temple for 30 feet outward, corresponding to the width of the Temple. Along the front of the Temple its depth was 15 feet.

4 Solomon also constructed windows in the Temple with specially designed frames.

5 Against the wall of the Temple he built a series of rooms that encompassed the exterior of the Temple walls around the inner sanctuary. He built these side chambers all around the building.

6 The lower structures were seven and a half feet wide, the middle structures were nine feet wide, and the third structures were ten and a half feet wide. Offsets were placed all around the Temple so that beams would not protrude through the walls of the Temple.

7 The Temple was constructed of stone pre-cut at the quarry so that no hammer, axe, or any other iron implement would be heard in the Temple while it was being built.

8 A passageway to the side chamber was constructed on the south side of the Temple by which people could ascend winding stairs to the middle story, then from there to the third story.

9 After Solomon built the Temple and finished it, he covered the Temple with beams and planks made of cedar.

10 He constructed this structure to adjoin the entire Temple, seven and a half feet high, and fastened it to the Temple with cedar timbers.

11 Then this message from the LORD came to Solomon:

12 "Concerning this Temple that you're building, if you live your life according to my statutes, carry out my ordinances, and keep all of my commands, and live according to them, then I will do what I promised to your father David.

13 I will reside among the Israelis and will never abandon my people Israel."

14 So Solomon kept on building the Temple and finished it.

15 Then he built the inside walls of the Temple, lining them from floor to ceiling with cedar boards, and overlaying the Temple floor with boards made of cypress wood.

16 He lined 30 feet of the rear part of the Temple from floor to ceiling with cedar boards specially constructed for the inside to serve as the Most Holy Place.

17 The rest of the main nave in the front was 60 feet long.

18 Cedar carvings in the form of gourds and blooming flowers covered the entire interior of the Temple so that no stone could be seen.

19 Solomon also prepared an inner sanctuary within the Temple where the LORD's Ark of the Covenant was placed.

20 The inner sanctuary was 30 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 30 feet high, and overlaid with pure gold. The altar was also overlaid with cedar.

21 Solomon overlaid the inside of the Temple with pure gold, fastened gold chains across the front of the inner sanctuary, and overlaid it with gold.

22 He finished the Temple by overlaying it entirely with gold, including overlaying with gold the whole altar that was by the inner sanctuary.

23 Inside the inner sanctuary Solomon placed two cherubim crafted from olive wood, each fifteen feet high.

24 Each wing of one cherub was seven and a half feet long, and each wing of the other cherub was seven and a half feet long, so that the distance from the end of one wing to the end of the other wing was fifteen feet.

25 Each cherub was fifteen feet high, and both were of the same size and shape, 26 the height of one cherub being fifteen feet, as was the height of the other.

27 Solomon placed the cherubim in the middle of the inner sanctuary, with their wings spread in such a way that the wing of one was touching the one wall and the opposite wing of the other cherub was touching the opposite wall. Furthermore, their wings in the centre of the wall were touching each other wing-to-wing.

28 Each cherub was overlaid with gold.

29 Solomon also inlaid all the inner walls of the Temple — both the inner and outer sanctuaries — with carved engravings of cherubim, palm trees, and blooming flowers.
30 He also overlaid the floor of the Temple with gold in both the inner and outer sanctuaries.
31 Solomon also provided doors, lintels, and five-sided doorposts for the entrance to the inner sanctuary.
32 He installed two doors made of olive wood, inlaying them with carvings of cherubim, palm trees, and blooming flowers, and overlaying them with gold. Then he added more gold to cover the cherubim and palm trees.
33 Solomon also provided four-sided doorposts made of cypress wood for the entrance to the outer sanctuary,
34 along with two doors of cypress wood, one door of which had two leaves that turned on hinges, as did the other door, which also had two leaves that turned on hinges.
35 Solomon also inlaid the doors with cherubim, palm trees, and blooming flowers. He overlaid them with gold that was carefully applied on the engraved work.
36 He constructed the inner court with three rows of pre-cut stone and a row of cedar beams.
37 The foundation for the LORD's Temple was laid in the month of Ziv during the fourth year of Solomon's reign,
38 and the Temple was completely finished according to its plans and specifications in the eighth month of the eleventh year of Solomon's reign, that is, during the month of Bul. It took about seven years to build.

1 Kings 7

1 But Solomon took thirteen years to build his own palace, and finally finished it.
2 He built his own palace out of timber supplied from the forest of Lebanon. It was 150 feet long, 75 feet wide, and 45 feet tall, and was constructed on four rows of cedar pillars, with cedar beams interlocking the pillars.
3 There were 45 pillars panelled with cedar above the side chambers, with rows of fifteen pillars,
4 with three rows of framed windows facing each other in three ranks.
5 All the doorways and doorposts had rectangular frames, with the doorways facing each other in three tiers.

Ephesians 2

1 You used to be dead because of your offences and sins,
2 that you once practised as you lived according to the ways of this present world and according to the ruler of the power of the air, the spirit that is now active in those who are disobedient.
3 Indeed, all of us once behaved like them in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of our flesh and senses. By nature we were destined for wrath, just like everyone else.
4 But God, who is rich in mercy, because of his great love for us
5 even when we were dead because of our offences, made us alive together with the Messiah (by grace you have been saved),
6 raised us up with him, and seated us with him in the heavenly realm in the Messiah Jesus,
7 so that in the coming ages he might display the limitless riches of his grace that comes to us through his kindness in the Messiah Jesus.
8 For by such grace you have been saved through faith. This does not come from you; it is the gift of God
9 and not the result of actions, to put a stop to all boasting.
10 For we are God's masterpiece, created in the Messiah Jesus to perform good actions that God prepared long ago to be our way of life.
11 So then, remember that at one time you gentiles by birth were called "the uncircumcised" by those who called themselves "the circumcised." They underwent physical circumcision done by human hands.
12 At that time you were without the Messiah, excluded from citizenship in Israel, and strangers to the covenants of promise. You had no hope and were in the world without God.
13 But now, in union with the Messiah Jesus, you who once were far away have been brought near by the blood of the Messiah.
14 For it is he who is our peace. Through his mortality he made both groups one by tearing down the wall of hostility that divided them.
15 He rendered the Law inoperative, along with its commandments and regulations, thus creating in himself one new humanity from the two, thereby making peace,
16 and reconciling both groups to God in one body through the cross, on which he eliminated the hostility.
17 He came and proclaimed peace for you who were far away and for you who were near.
18 For through him, both of us have access to the Father by one Spirit.
19 That is why you are no longer strangers and foreigners but fellow citizens with the saints and members of God's household,
20 having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, the Messiah Jesus himself being the cornerstone.
21 In union with him the whole building is joined together and rises into a holy sanctuary for the Lord.
22 You, too, are being built in him, along with the others, into a place for God's Spirit to dwell.

Ephesians 3

1 For this reason I, Paul, am the prisoner of the Messiah Jesus for the sake of you gentiles.
2 Surely you have heard about the responsibility of administering God's grace that was given to me on your behalf,
3 and how this secret was made known to me through a revelation, just as I wrote about briefly in the past.
4 By reading this, you will be able to grasp my understanding of the secret about the Messiah,

5 which in previous generations was not made known to human beings as it has now been revealed by the Spirit to God's holy apostles and prophets. This is that secret:

6 The gentiles are heirs-in-common, members-in-common of the body, and common participants in what was promised by the Messiah Jesus through the gospel.

7 I have become a servant of this gospel according to the gift of God's grace that was given me by the working of his power.

22nd May

1 Kings 7

6 There was also a hall of pillars 75 feet long and 45 feet wide, and a porch in front with pillars, and a canopy in front of the pillars.

7 He constructed the Judgement Hall for the throne room where he would be ruling, panelling it with cedar from floor to ceiling.

8 Solomon's personal dwelling quarters, a separate court behind the hall, was of similar workmanship. Solomon also built a house similar to this for Pharaoh's daughter, whom Solomon had married.

9 All of these were made with expensive stones, pre-cut according to specifications, hand-sawed inside and out from the foundation to the coping, including from inside to the great court.

10 The foundation was made of expensive stone, including large stones fifteen feet long and stones twelve feet long.

11 Above these were expensive stones cut according to specifications, and cedar.

12 So the great court was surrounded by three rows of cut stone, along with a row of cedar beams, just like the inner court of the LORD's Temple and the porch surrounding the Temple.

13 King Solomon sent for Hiram from Tyre,

14 the son of a widow from the tribe of Naphtali, whose father was from Tyre. A bronze worker, he was wise, knowledgeable, and was skilled in all sorts of bronze working. He went to King Solomon and did all of his work.

15 He fashioned two bronze pillars, each one 27 feet high, with a circumference of 18 feet.

16 He also crafted two capitals of cast bronze and set them on top of the pillars. The height of one capital was seven and a half feet, and the height of the other capital was seven and a half feet.

17 A network of latticework on top of the pillars was inlaid with ornamental wreaths and chains, the top of each pillar containing seven groups of ornamental structures.

18 The pillars contained two rows of ornaments shaped like pomegranates around the latticework covering the top of each pillar.

19 The capitals on top of each pillar above the rounded latticework contained six feet of lily designs,

20 with the capitals on the two pillars covered by 200 pomegranates in rows around both the capitals above and adjoining the rounded latticework.

21 That's how he designed the pillars at the portico of the sanctuary. When he set up the right pillar, he named it Jachin. When he set up the left pillar, he named it Boaz.

22 The work on the pillars was finished with a lily design on top of the pillars.

23 Hiram also made a sea of cast metal fifteen feet from brim to brim, circular in shape and seven and a half feet high and 45 feet in its inner circumference.

24 Under the brim, completely encircling it, were two rows of gourds inlaid as part of the original casting, ten for each one and a half feet.

25 The sea stood on top of twelve oxen. Three faced north, three faced west, three faced south, and three faced east. The sea was set on top of them, and their hind parts faced the centre.

26 The reservoir, which held about 12,000 gallons, stood about three inches thick, and its rim looked like the brim of a cup or of a lily blossom.

27 Hiram also made ten bronze water carts. Each one was six feet wide, six feet long, and four and a half feet high.

28 The carts were designed with borders between cross-pieces,

29 and on the borders between the cross-pieces were lions, oxen, and cherubim. A pedestal was placed above the cross-pieces, and beneath the lions and oxen there were wreaths hanging down.

30 Each cart had four bronze wheels equipped with bronze axles with four support feet. Beneath the basin were cast support structures made like wreaths on each side.

31 The opening to each water cart inside the crown on top was one and a half feet wide, with engravings on the opening. The borders to the frames surrounding the opening were square, not round.

32 The four wheels were placed underneath the borders, and the axles for the wheels were on the stand. Each wheel stood 27 inches high.

33 The wheels resembled those of a chariot, with their axles, rims, spokes, and hubs made of cast bronze.

34 Four supports stood at the four corners of each cart, built into the carts themselves.

35 On top of each stand was a circular structure nine inches high, with its braces and support frames integral with it, forming a single piece.

36 Hiram engraved ornamental cherubim, lions, and palm trees on the surfaces of the supports and frames wherever there was space to do so, and encircled the artwork with wreaths.

37 He made ten identical water carts by using the same plans, castings, and shapes for all of them.

38 Hiram also fashioned ten bronze basins, each holding about 240 gallons, each basin measuring 6 feet in diameter, with one basin for each stand.

39 He set five of the stands on the right side of the Temple and five on the left side of the Temple. He set the bronze sea on the right side of the Temple eastward facing the south.

40 Hiram also made the basins, shovels, and bowls to complete the work that he performed for King Solomon in the LORD's Temple,

41 including the two pillars and the bowls for the capitals that stood on top of the two pillars, along with the two lattices that covered the two bowls of the capitals that stood on top of the pillars,

42 plus the 400 pomegranates for the two lattices (that is, the two rows of pomegranates for each lattice to cover the two bowls of the capitals that stood on top of the pillars),

43 the ten stands with the ten basins on the stands,

44 the single bronze sea and the twelve oxen that stood under the sea,

45 and the pots, shovels, and bowls — all of these utensils that Hiram made for King Solomon for the LORD's Temple were made from polished bronze.

46 The king had them cast in the clay ground between Succoth and Zarethan in the Jordan plain.

47 Solomon never inventoried the weight of the bronze used, because there were too many utensils, so the weight of the bronze used was never ascertained.

48 Solomon made all the furnishings that were placed in the LORD's Temple, including the golden altar and the golden table on which the bread of the Presence was placed,

49 along with the lamp stands (five on the right side and five on the left in front of the inner sanctuary), all made of pure gold, as well as the flower blossoms, lamps, and tongs of gold,

50 and the cups, snuffers, bowls, spoons, and the fire pans, all made of pure gold, and hinges for the doors of the inner sanctuary, the Most Holy Place, and for the gates of the Temple that led to the nave, also of gold.

51 Thus all the work that King Solomon performed in the LORD's Temple was finished. Then Solomon brought in the articles that had been dedicated by his father David, including silver, gold, and other utensils, and he placed them into storage in the treasuries of the LORD's Temple.

1 Kings 8

1 Then Solomon gathered together the elders of Israel, including all the heads of the tribes and the leaders of the ancestral households of the Israelis, to meet with him in Jerusalem so they could bring up the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD from Zion, the city of David.

2 So all the men gathered together to meet with King Solomon at the Feast of Booths in the month Ethanim, the seventh month.

3 All the Elders of Israel showed up, and the priests picked up the ark

4 and brought it, the Tent of Meeting, and all the holy implements that were in the tent. The priests and descendants of Levi carried them up to Jerusalem.

5 King Solomon and the entire congregation of Israel that had assembled to be with him stood in front of the ark, sacrificing so many sheep and oxen that they were neither counted nor inventoried.

6 After this, the priests brought the Ark of the Covenant of the LORD to the place prepared for it, into the inner sanctuary of the Temple, under the wings of the cherubim in the Most Holy Place.

7 The wings of the cherubim spread over the resting place for the ark, so that the cherubim made a covering over the ark and its poles when viewed from above.

8 The poles extended so far that their ends could be seen from the Holy Place in front of the inner sanctuary, but they could not be seen from outside. They remain there to this day.

9 The ark was empty except for the two stone tablets that Moses had placed there at Horeb when the LORD had made a covenant with the Israelis after they had come out of the land of Egypt.

10 When the priests left the Holy Place after setting the ark in place, the cloud filled the LORD's Temple

11 so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, since the glory of the LORD filled the LORD's Temple.

12 Then Solomon said, "The LORD has said that he lives shrouded in darkness.

13 Now I have been constructing a magnificent Temple dedicated to you that will serve as a place for you to inhabit forever."

14 Then the king turned to face the entire congregation of Israel while the congregation of Israel remained standing.

15 Then Solomon prayed: "Blessed is the LORD God of Israel, who made a commitment to my father David and then personally fulfilled what he had promised when he said:

16 'From the day I brought out my people Israel from Egypt I never chose a city from all the tribes of Israel to build a temple where my name might reside. I have chosen David to be over my people Israel.'

17 "My father David wanted to build a temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

18 The LORD told my father David: 'Therefore, since you determined to build a temple for my name, you acted well, because it was your choice to do so.

19 Nevertheless, you are not to build the Temple, but your son who will be born to you is to build a temple for my name.'

20 "The LORD has brought to fulfilment what he promised, and now here I stand, having succeeded my father David to sit on the throne of Israel, as the LORD promised. I have built the Temple for the name of the LORD God of Israel.

21 I have placed there the ark in which the covenant is stored that the LORD made with our ancestors when he brought them out of the land of Egypt."

Ephesians 3

8 To me, the very least of all the saints, this grace was given so that I might proclaim to the gentiles the immeasurable wealth of the Messiah

9 and help everyone see how this secret that has been at work was hidden for ages by God, who created all things.

10 He did this so that now, through the church, the wisdom of God in all its variety might be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realm

11 in keeping with the eternal purpose that God carried out through the Messiah Jesus our Lord,

12 in whom we have boldness and confident access through his faithfulness.

13 So then, I ask you not to become discouraged because of my troubles on your behalf, which work toward your glory.

14 This is the reason I bow my knees before the Father of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah, 15 from whom every family in heaven and on earth receives its name.

16 I pray that he would give you, according to his glorious riches, strength in your inner being and power through his Spirit,

17 and that the Messiah would make his home in your hearts through faith. Then, having been rooted and grounded in love,

18 you will be able to understand, along with all the saints, what is wide, long, high, and deep —

19 that is, you will know the love of the Messiah — which transcends knowledge, and will be filled with all the fullness of God.

20 Now to the one who can do infinitely more than all we can ask or imagine according to the power that is working among us —

21 to him be glory in the church and in the Messiah Jesus to all generations, forever and ever! Amen.

Ephesians 4

1 I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, urge you to live in a way that is worthy of the calling to which you have been called,

2 demonstrating all expressions of humility, gentleness, and patience, accepting one another in love.

3 Do your best to maintain the unity of the Spirit by means of the bond of peace.

4 There is one body and one Spirit. Likewise, you were called to the one hope of your calling.

5 There is one Lord, one faith, one baptism,

6 one God and Father of all, who is above all, through all, and in all.

7 Now to each one of us grace has been given proportionate to the measure of the Messiah's gift.

8 That is why God says, "When he went up to the highest place he led captives into captivity and gave gifts to people."

9 Now what does this "he went up" mean except that he also had gone down into the lower parts of the earth?

10 The one who went down is the same one who went up above all the heavens so that all things would be fulfilled.

23rd May

1 Kings 8

22 Then Solomon took his place in front of the LORD's altar in the presence of the entire congregation of Israel, spread out his hands toward heaven,

23 and said: "LORD God of Israel, there is no one like you, God in heaven above or on the earth below, who watches over his covenant, showing gracious love to your servants who live their lives in your presence with all their hearts.

24 It is you, LORD God, who have kept your promise to my father, your servant David, that you made to him. Indeed, you made a commitment to my father David and then personally fulfilled what you had promised today.

25 "Now therefore, LORD God of Israel, keep your promise that you made to my father, your servant David, when you said, 'You will not lack a man to sit on the throne of Israel, if only your descendants will watch their lives, to live in my presence just as you have lived in my presence.'

26 "Now therefore, God of Israel, may your promise that you made to your servant David my father be fulfilled. . .

27 and yet, will God truly reside on earth? Look! Neither the sky nor the highest heaven can contain you! How much less this Temple that I have built!

28 Pay attention to the prayer of your servant and to his request, LORD my God, and listen to the cry and prayer that your servant is praying in your presence today.

29 Let your eyes always look toward this Temple night and day, toward the location where you have said 'My name will reside there.' Listen to the prayer that your servant prays in this direction.

30 Listen to the requests from your servant and from your people Israel as they pray in this direction, listen from the place where you reside in heaven, then hear and forgive.

31 "If a man should sin against his neighbour and he is required to take an oath, and he then comes to take an oath in front of your altar in this Temple,

32 then listen in heaven, act, and judge your servants, condemning the wicked by bringing back to him the consequences of his choices and by justifying the righteous by recompensing him according to his righteousness.

33 "If your people Israel are defeated in a battle with their enemy because they have sinned against you, when they return to you and confess to you, pray, and in this Temple they ask you to show grace to them,

34 then hear in heaven, forgive the sin of your people Israel, and return them to the soil that you gave to their ancestors.

35 "When heaven remains closed, and there is no rain because they have sinned against you, and they pray in the direction of this place, confessing your name and turning from their sin when you afflict them,

36 then hear in heaven and forgive the sin of your servants and of your people Israel. Indeed, teach them the best way to live and send rain on your land that you have given to your people as an inheritance.

37 "If a famine comes to the land, or if plant diseases, mildew, locust, or grasshoppers appear, or if their enemies attack them in their settlements of the land, no matter what the epidemic or illness is,

38 whatever prayer or request is made, no matter whether it's made by a single man or by all of your people Israel, each praying out of his own hurting heart and anguish and stretching out his hands toward this Temple,

39 then hear from heaven, the place where you reside, and forgive, repaying each person according to all of his ways, since you know their hearts — for you alone know the hearts of all human beings —

40 so they will fear you every day and live on the surface of the land that you have given to our ancestors.

41 "Now concerning the foreigner who is not from your people Israel, when he comes from a land far away for the sake of your name

42 (for people will hear of your great name, your mighty acts, and your obvious power), when he comes and prays facing this Temple,

43 then hear in heaven where you reside, and do whatever the foreigner asks of you, so that all the people of the earth may know your name, fear you as do your people Israel, and so they may know that this Temple that I have built is called by your name.

44 "When your people go out to war against their enemies, no matter what way you send them, and they pray to the LORD in the direction of the city that you have chosen and in the direction of the Temple that I have built for your name, 45 then hear their prayer and their request in heaven, and fight for their cause.

46 "When they sin against you — because there isn't a single human being who doesn't sin — and you become angry with them and deliver them over to their enemy, who takes them away captive to the land that belongs to their enemy, whether near or far away,

47 if they turn their hearts back to you in the land where they have been taken captive, repent, and pray to you — even if they do so in the land of their captivity — confessing, 'We have sinned, we have committed abominations, and practised wickedness,'

48 if they return to you with all of their heart and with all of their soul in the land of their enemies who have taken them captive, as they pray to you in the direction of their land that you have given to their ancestors and to the city that you have chosen, and to the Temple that I have built for your name,

49 then hear their prayer and requests in heaven, where you reside, and fight for their cause,

50 forgiving your people who have sinned against you, along with their transgressions by which they have transgressed against you.

"Show your compassion in the presence of those who have taken them captive, so they may show compassion on them,

51 since they are your people and your heritage, which you brought out of Egypt, from an iron fire furnace.

52 Do this so your eyes may remain open to the requests of your servant and to the requests of your people's prayers, to listen to them whenever they call out to you,

53 because you have separated them to yourself as your heritage from all the people of the earth, as you spoke through your servant Moses when you brought our ancestors out of Egypt, Lord God."

54 When Solomon had completed saying this entire prayer to the LORD, he got up from kneeling with his hands spread out toward heaven in the presence of the LORD's altar,

55 stood up, and blessed all of the assembly of Israel in a loud voice. He said:

56 "Blessed is the LORD, who has given security to his people Israel, just as he promised. Not one of his promises has failed to come about that he gave through his servant Moses.

57 May the LORD our God be with us, just as he was with our ancestors. May he never leave us or abandon us, 58 so that he may turn our hearts toward him, so that we may live life his way, keeping his commands, statutes, and ordinances that he gave to our ancestors.

59 And may what I've had to say to the LORD remain with the LORD our God both day and night, so that he may defend the cause of his servant and the cause of his people Israel, as the need of the day may require it,

60 so that, in turn, all the people of the earth may know that the LORD is God — there is no one else.

61 Now let your heart be completely devoted to the LORD our God, to live according to his statutes and to keep his commands, as we are doing today.”

62 Then the king and all of Israel with him offered sacrifices to the LORD.

63 Solomon offered peace offerings to the LORD consisting of 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the Israelis dedicated the LORD's Temple.

64 That same day, the king consecrated the middle court that stood in front of the LORD's Temple, because that was where he offered burnt offerings, grain offerings, and fat from the peace offerings and because the bronze altar that was in the LORD's presence was too small to hold the burnt offerings, grain offerings, and fat from the peace offerings.

65 So Solomon observed the Feast of Booths at that time, as did all of Israel with him. A large assembly came up from as far away as Lebo-hamath and the Wadi of Egypt to appear in the presence of the LORD our God, not just for seven days, but for seven days after that, a total of fourteen days.

66 The following day, Solomon sent the people away as they blessed the king. Then they went back to their tents, rejoicing and glad for all the good things that the LORD had done for his servant David and to his people Israel.

1 Kings 9

1 Later, after Solomon had finished building the LORD's Temple, the royal palace, and everything else that Solomon wanted to do,

2 the LORD appeared to Solomon for a second time, just as he had appeared to him at Gibeon.

3 The LORD told him: "I've heard your prayer and your request that you made to me. I have consecrated this Temple that you have built by placing my name there forever. My eyes and my heart will be there continually.

4 "Now as for you, if you commune with me like your father did, with an upright heart of integrity and doing everything that I've commanded you and keeping my statutes and ordinances,

5 then I'll make your royal throne secure forever, just as I agreed to do so for your father David when I said, 'You are to not lack a man on the throne of Israel.'

6 But if you or your descendants abandon me, and do not keep my commandments and statutes that I have given to you, and if you go away, serve other gods, and worship them,

7 then I will eliminate Israel from the land that I gave them and from the Temple that I've consecrated for my name. I will throw them out of my sight, and Israel will become the butt of jokes and a means of ridicule among people worldwide!

8 "This Temple will become a pile of ruins. Everyone who passes by it will be so astounded that they will ask, 'Why did the LORD do this to this land and to this Temple?'

9 They will answer, 'Because they abandoned the LORD their God, who brought their ancestors out of the land of Egypt, and they adopted other gods and served them. That's why the Lord has brought all of this disaster on them.'"

10 It took 20 years for Solomon to finish working on the two houses — the LORD's Temple and the royal palace —

11 after which King Solomon gave Hiram 20 cities in the land of Galilee, because King Hiram of Tyre had provided Solomon with as much cedar, cypress timber, and gold that he wanted.

12 Hiram came out from Tyre to see the cities that Solomon had given him, but he wasn't happy with them,

13 so he asked him, "What are these cities that you have given to me, my brother?" That's why these cities were named "the land of Cabal" to this day.

14 Then Hiram paid the king 9,000 pounds of gold.

15 Here is a summary of the conscripted labour that King Solomon required to build the LORD's Temple, his royal palace, the terrace ramparts in the city of David, the wall of Jerusalem, Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer.

16 Pharaoh, the king of Egypt, had attacked and captured Gezer, burned it down, killed the Canaanites who lived in the city, and then gave it as a dowry for his daughter, Solomon's wife.

17 So Solomon rebuilt Gezer, lower Beth-horon,

18 Baalath, and Tamar in the wilderness,

19 along with the storage cities that Solomon used for his chariots and for his cavalry, everything that Solomon felt like building in Jerusalem, in Lebanon, and in every territory under his control.

Ephesians 4

11 And it is he who gifted some to be apostles, others to be prophets, others to be evangelists, and still others to be pastors and teachers,
12 to equip the saints, to do the work of ministry, and to build up the body of the Messiah
13 until all of us are united in the faith and in the full knowledge of God's Son, and until we attain mature adulthood and the full standard of development in the Messiah.
14 Then we will no longer be little children, tossed like waves and blown about by every wind of doctrine, by people's trickery, or by clever strategies that would lead us astray.
15 Instead, by speaking the truth in love, we will grow up completely and become one with the head, that is, one with the Messiah,
16 in whom the whole body is united and held together by every ligament with which it is supplied. As each individual part does its job, the body builds itself up in love.
17 Therefore, I tell you and insist on in the Lord not to live any longer like the gentiles live, thinking worthless thoughts.
18 They are darkened in their understanding and separated from the life of God because of their ignorance and hardness of heart.
19 Since they have lost all sense of shame, they have abandoned themselves to sensuality and practise every kind of sexual perversion without restraint.
20 However, that is not the way you came to know the Messiah.
21 Surely you have listened to him and have been taught by him, since truth is in Jesus.
22 Regarding your former way of life, you were taught to strip off your old nature, which is being ruined by its deceptive desires,
23 to be renewed in your mental attitude,
24 and to clothe yourselves with the new nature, which was created according to God's image in righteousness and true holiness.
25 Therefore, stripping off falsehood, "let each of us speak the truth to his neighbour," for we belong to one another.
26 "Be angry, yet do not sin." Do not let the sun set while you are still angry, 27 and do not give the devil an opportunity to work.
28 The thief must no longer steal but must work hard and do what is good with his own hands, so that he might earn something to give to the needy.
29 Let no filthy talk be heard from your mouths, but only what is good for building up people and meeting the need of the moment. This way you will administer grace to those who hear you.
30 Do not grieve the Holy Spirit, by whom you were marked with a seal for the day of redemption.
31 Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, quarrelling, and slander be put away from you, along with all hatred.
32 And be kind to one another, compassionate, forgiving one another just as God has forgiven you in the Messiah.

1 Kings 9

20 The people who survived from the Amorites, the Hittites, the Perizzites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites, who were not related to the Israelis,

21 and whose descendants had survived them and continued to live in the land because the Israelis were unable to completely eliminate them, Solomon placed under conscripted labour, a situation that remains in effect to this day.

22 However, Solomon did not force Israelis into conscripted labour, but they did serve as his soldiers, servants, princes, captains, chariot commanders, and cavalry.

23 There were 550 chief officers who supervised Solomon's activities and managed the staff that was doing the work.

24 As soon as Pharaoh's daughter arrived from the city of David to live in her house that Solomon had built for her, then he fortified the terrace ramparts in the city of David.

25 Three times every year Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar that he had built to the LORD, burning incense with the offerings in the presence of the Lord. This concludes the record of the Temple construction.

26 King Solomon also built a fleet of ships at Ezion-geber, which is near Eloth on the shore of the Reed Sea in the land of Edom.

27 Hiram sent his servants to sail with the fleet, since they were expert seamen, and so they accompanied Solomon's servants.

28 They sailed as far as Ophir and brought back 31,500 pounds of gold for Solomon.

1 Kings 10

1 When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon's reputation with the LORD, she came to test him with difficult questions.

2 She brought along a large retinue, camels laden with spices, and lots of gold and precious stones. Upon her arrival, she spoke with Solomon about everything that was on her mind.

3 Solomon answered all of her questions. Nothing was hidden from Solomon that he did not explain to her.

4 When the queen of Sheba had seen all of Solomon's wisdom for herself, the palace that he had built,

5 the food set at his table, his servants who sat with him, his ministers in attendance and how they were dressed, his personal staff and how they were dressed, and even his personal stairway by which he went up to the LORD's Temple, she was breathless!

6 "Everything I heard about your wisdom and what you have to say is true!" she gasped,

7 "but I didn't believe it at first! But then I came here and I've seen it for myself! It's amazing! I wasn't told half of what's really great about your wisdom. You're far better in person than what the reports have said about you!

8 How blessed are your staff! And how blessed are your employees who serve you continuously and get to listen to your wisdom!

9 Blessed be the LORD your God, who is delighted with you! He set you in place on the throne of Israel because the LORD loved Israel forever. That's why he made you to be king, so you could carry out justice and implement righteousness."

10 Then she gave the king 9,000 pounds of gold, a vast quantity of spices, and precious stones. No spices ever came again that were comparable to those that the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

11 Hiram's ships that brought gold from Ophir, also brought from Ophir lots of alghum wood and precious stones.

12 The king used the algum wood to have supports made for the LORD's Temple and for the royal palace, as well as lyres and harps for the choir, and nothing like that wood has ever come again or even been seen since right to this day.

13 In return, King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she wanted and had requested in addition to what he had given her consistent with his generosity. Afterward, she returned to her own land with her servants.

14 Solomon received annually about 49,950 pounds of gold,

15 not including revenue from traders, merchants, and from all the kings of Arabia and the governors of the land.

16 King Solomon made 200 large shields of beaten gold, overlaying each large shield with the gold from 600 gold pieces,

17 and 300 shields from beaten gold, overlaying each shield with the gold from 300 gold pieces. The king put them in his palace in the Lebanon forest.

18 The king also made a great ivory throne and overlaid it with pure gold.

19 Six steps led up to the throne, which had a round canopy fastened to the rear of the throne and armrests on each side of the seat and two lions standing on either side of each armrest.

20 Twelve lions were placed on both sides of the six steps leading to the throne, and nothing comparable was made for any other kingdoms.

21 All of King Solomon's drinking vessels were made of gold, and all the vessels in his palace in the Lebanon forest were made of pure gold. None were of silver, because silver was never considered to be valuable during Solomon's lifetime,

22 because the king had ships that sailed to Tarshish accompanied by Hiram's ships. Once every three years ships from Tarshish returned, bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

23 As a result, King Solomon became greater than all the kings of the earth in regards to wealth and wisdom.

24 All the earth continued to seek audiences with Solomon so they could hear the wise things that God had put in his heart.

25 Everyone kept on bringing gifts on an annual basis, including items made of silver and gold, garments, myrrh, spices, horses, and mules.

26 Solomon accumulated chariots and cavalry. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 cavalry soldiers. He stationed them in various chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem.

27 The king made silver as common as stones in Jerusalem, and made cedar trees as abundant as sycamore trees in the Shephelah.

28 Solomon imported horses from Egypt and Kue, and the king's buyers procured them at market price from Kue.

29 A chariot from Egypt cost 600 pieces of silver, and a horse 150 pieces of silver, but then they were exported to all the Hittite kings and to the Aramean kings.

1 Kings 11

1 But King Solomon married many foreign women besides the daughter of Pharaoh: women from Moab, Ammon, Edom, and Sidonia, along with Hittite women, too,

2 all of them from nations that the LORD had ordered the Israelites, "You are not to associate with them and they are not to associate with you, because they will most certainly turn your affections away to follow their gods." Solomon became deeply attached to them by falling in love.

3 He had 700 princess wives and 300 mistresses who turned his heart away from the LORD, 4 because as Solomon grew older, his wives turned his affections away after other gods, and his heart was not fully as devoted to the LORD his God as his father David's heart had been.

5 Solomon pursued Astarte, the Sidonian goddess, and Milcom, that detestable Ammonite idol.

6 Solomon practised what the LORD considered to be evil by not fully following the LORD, as had his father David.

7 Later, Solomon even constructed a high place on the mountain east of Jerusalem that was dedicated to Chemosh, that detestable Moabite idol, and to Molech, the detestable Ammonite idol.

8 Solomon did this for all of his foreign wives, who burned incense and sacrificed to their own gods.

9 The LORD became angry at Solomon because his heart wandered away from the LORD God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice

10 and warned him about this so he would not pursue other gods. But he did not obey what the LORD had commanded,

11 so the LORD told Solomon, "Because you have done this and haven't kept my covenant and statutes that I commanded you, I'm going to tear the kingdom from you and give it to your servant.

12 I'm not going to do this during your lifetime, for the sake of your father David, but I will tear it out of your son's control.

13 For the sake of my servant David and for the sake of Jerusalem, I won't tear away the entire kingdom. I'll leave one tribe for your son to govern."

14 After this, the LORD allowed Hadad the Edomite to oppose Solomon. He was part of the royal line of Edom.

15 During David's military campaign against Edom, when his army commander Joab had gone out to bury the dead, he killed every male in Edom.

16 Joab had his entire army of Israel stay there for six months until he had eliminated every male in Edom.

17 But Hadad escaped to Egypt in the company of some of his father's Edomite servants, while Hadad was still a little child.

18 They left Midian, arrived in Paran, and left from Paran with some men and travelled on to Egypt, where Pharaoh, king of Egypt, gave him a house to live in, assigned a food allotment to him, and gave him some land.

19 Hadad won the affection of the Pharaoh, who gave permission for Hadad to marry the sister of his own wife, Queen Tahpenes.

20 Queen Tahpenes' sister bore him his son Genubath, whom Tahpenes weaned in Pharaoh's palace while Genubath lived in Pharaoh's palace with the Pharaoh's own sons.

21 Later on, Hadad learned in Egypt that David had been buried with his ancestors and that Joab the army commander was dead. So Hadad asked Pharaoh, "Please send me out so I can go back to my own land."

22 Pharaoh asked him, "But have you lacked anything from me that would make you want to go back to your own country?" "No," he answered, "but I still really must leave."

23 God also raised up Eliada's son Rezon, who had escaped from his master King Hadadezer of Zobah.

24 He raised an army and commanded a gang of raiders after David had eliminated those who lived in Zobah. Rezon and his army moved to Damascus, remained there, and Rezon ruled from Damascus.

25 He opposed Israel during Solomon's entire reign, in addition to all of the evil things that Hadad did. Rezon also hated Israel while he reigned over Aram.

Ephesians 5

- 1 So be imitators of God, as his dear children.
- 2 Live lovingly, just as the Messiah also loved us and gave himself for us as an offering and sacrifice, a fragrant aroma to God.
- 3 Do not let sexual sin, impurity of any kind, or greed even be mentioned among you, as is proper for saints.
- 4 Obscene, flippant, or vulgar talk is totally inappropriate. Instead, let there be thanksgiving.
- 5 For you know very well that no immoral or impure person, or anyone who is greedy (that is, an idolater), has an inheritance in the kingdom of the Messiah and of God.
- 6 Do not let anyone deceive you with meaningless words, for it is because of these things that God becomes angry with those who disobey.
- 7 So do not be partners with them.
- 8 For once you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Live as children of light,
- 9 for the fruit that the light produces consists of every form of goodness, righteousness, and truth.
- 10 Determine what pleases the Lord,
- 11 and have nothing to do with the unfruitful actions that darkness produces. Instead, expose them for what they are.
- 12 For it is shameful even to mention what is done by these disobedient people in secret.
- 13 But everything that is exposed to the light becomes visible,
- 14 for the light is making everything visible. That is why it says, "Wake up, sleeper! Arise from the dead, and the Messiah will shine on you."
- 15 So, then, be careful how you live. Do not be unwise but wise,
- 16 making the best use of your time because the times are evil.
- 17 Therefore, do not be foolish, but understand what the Lord's will is.
- 18 Stop getting drunk with wine, which leads to wild living, but keep on being filled with the Spirit.
- 19 Then you will recite to one another psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs; you will sing and make music to the Lord with your hearts;
- 20 you will consistently give thanks to God the Father for everything in the name of our Lord Jesus, the Messiah;
- 21 and you will submit to one another out of reverence for the Messiah.

1 Kings 11

26 Solomon had a servant, Nebat's son Jeroboam, who was an Ephraimite from Zeredah. His widowed mother was named Zeruah. Jeroboam rebelled against Solomon,

27 and this is why he rose in rebellion against the king: Solomon had built up the terrace ramparts in the city of his father David in order to repair a weakness.

28 Jeroboam was a valiant soldier, and because Solomon observed that the young man was able to get things done, he set him in charge over all of the conscripted labour from the household of Joseph.

29 During that time, Jeroboam left Jerusalem and the prophet Ahijah the Shilonite met him on the road. Ahijah had wrapped himself up in a new cloak, and both of them were alone on the open road.

30 Ahijah grabbed the new cloak that he was wearing and tore it into twelve pieces!

31 Then he told Jeroboam, "Take ten pieces for yourself, because this is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Pay attention! I'm going to tear the kingdom out of Solomon's control and give you ten tribes.

32 I'll leave him one tribe for the sake of my servant David and one tribe for the sake of Jerusalem, the city that I chose from all of the tribes of Israel.

33 I'm doing this because they have abandoned me and worshipped that Sidonian goddess Astarte, the Moabite god Chemosh, and the Ammonite god Milcom. They haven't lived my way by doing what I consider to be right and observing my statutes and my ordinances, like his father David did.

34 'Nevertheless, I won't take the entire kingdom away from him, but I'll let him reign for the rest of his life, because of my servant David, whom I chose, who obeyed my commandments and statutes,

35 but I will take the kingdom away from his son's control and give ten tribes to you.

36 I'll give one tribe to his son, so my servant David will always have a light shining in my presence in Jerusalem, the city that I chose for myself and where I have placed my name.

37 I'm going to take you and have you reign over whatever you desire. You will be king over Israel.

38 If you listen to everything that I command you to do, and if you live your life my way, and if you do what I consider to be right by observing my statutes and my commandments, just like my servant David did, then I will be with you, I will build an enduring dynasty for you, just like I did for David, and I'll give Israel to you.

39 This is how I'm going to afflict David's descendants because of what they have done, though I won't do it continuously.'"

40 That's why Solomon tried to execute Jeroboam, but Jeroboam got up and fled to Egypt, where he lived as a guest of King Shishak and remained until Solomon had died.

41 Now the rest of Solomon's accomplishments, including everything else he did, as well as records of his wisdom, are recorded in the Book of the Acts of Solomon, are they not?

42 Solomon reigned over all of Israel from Jerusalem for a total of 40 years.

43 Then Solomon died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam reigned in his place.

1 Kings 12

1 Rehoboam travelled to Shechem because all of Israel went there to install him as king.

2 Nebat's son Jeroboam heard about it while he was still in Egypt, where he had fled to get away from King Solomon. Jeroboam returned from Egypt

3 after being summoned. When Jeroboam and the entire assembly of Israel arrived, they spoke to Rehoboam,

4 "Your father made our burdens unbearable. Therefore lighten your father's requirements and his heavy burdens that he placed on us, and we'll serve you."

5 "Come again in three days," Rehoboam told them. So the people left

6 while King Rehoboam conferred with his advisors who had worked for his father Solomon during his administration. He asked them, "What is your advice as to how I should respond to these people?"

7 They advised him, "If today you are a servant, you will serve this people by answering them and speaking kindly to them. Then they will serve you forever."

8 But Rehoboam ignored the counsel that his elder advisors had given him. Instead, he consulted the younger men who had grown up with him and who worked for him.

9 As a result, he asked them, "What's your advice so that we can give an answer to these people who have asked me, 'Please lighten the burden that your father put on us.'?"

10 "This is what you should tell these people who asked you 'Your father made our burden heavy, but you must make it lighter for us!'" the young men who grew up with Rehoboam replied. "Tell them, 'My little finger will be thicker than my father's whole body!

11 Not only that, but since my father loaded you down heavily, I'm going to add to that burden. My father disciplined you with whips, but I'm going to discipline you with scorpions!'"

12 So Jeroboam and all the people went back to Rehoboam on the third day, just as they had been directed when the king said, "Come back again in three days."

13 But the king gave the people a harsh response, because he was ignoring the counsel that his elders had given him.

14 Instead, Rehoboam spoke to them along the lines of what the younger men suggested. He told them "My father burdened you heavily, but I will add to that burden. If my father disciplined you with whips, I'm going to discipline you with scorpions!"

15 The king would not listen to the people, because the turn of events was from the LORD, to fulfil his prediction that the LORD spoke by means of Ahijah the Shilonite to Nebat's son Jeroboam

16 When all of Israel saw that the king wasn't listening to them, the people responded to the king's message, "What's the point in following David? We have no inheritance in the descendants of Jesse. Let's go home, Israel! David, take care of your own household!" So Israel left for home.

17 And so Rehoboam ruled over the Israelis who lived in the cities of Judah.

18 King Rehoboam sent Hadoram, who was in charge of conscripted labour, but all of Israel stoned him to death, and King Rehoboam had to jump in his chariot and flee back in a hurry to Jerusalem.

19 That's how Israel came to be in rebellion against David's dynasty to this day.

20 Now when all of Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, they sent for him and invited him to visit their assembly, where they installed him as king over all of Israel. Nobody (with the sole exception of the tribe of Judah) would align with David's dynasty.

21 As soon as Rehoboam returned to Jerusalem, he assembled 180,000 elite soldiers from the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, intending to attack the dynasty of Israel and restore the kingdom to Solomon's son Rehoboam.

22 But a message from God came to Shemaiah, a man of God:

23 "Tell Solomon's son Rehoboam, king of Judah, all the dynasty of Judah, Benjamin, and the rest of the people,

24 'This is what the LORD says: "You are not to fight or even approach your fellow Israelis in battle. Every soldier is to return to his own home, because this development comes from me."' So they listened to what the LORD had to say and returned home, just as the LORD had directed.

25 Later on, Jeroboam fortified Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived there. He also expanded from there and built Penuel.

26 Jeroboam was thinking to himself, "The kingdom is about to return to David's control.
27 If these people keep going up to Jerusalem to offer sacrifices to the LORD there, the hearts of these people will return to their lord, King Rehoboam of Judah. Then they'll kill me and return to Rehoboam, king of Judah!"
28 So the king sought some advice and then built two golden calves and announced, "It's too difficult for you to travel to Jerusalem. So here are your gods, Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt!"
29 He set one of them in Bethel and placed the other one in Dan.
30 Doing this was sinful, because the people travelled as far as Dan to appear before one of their idols.
31 Jeroboam built temples on the high places, and appointed his own priests from the fringe elements of the people who were not descendants of Levi.
32 Jeroboam invented a feast for the fifteenth day of the eighth month similar to the feast that takes place in Judah. He approached the altar that he had set up in Bethel and sacrificed to the calves that he had made, having stationed in Bethel the priests that he had appointed.
33 Then, on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, he went up to burn incense on the altar that he had set up in Bethel, thus beginning the feast that he had made up out of his own heart for the Israelis.

1 Kings 13

1 Right when Jeroboam was standing by the altar to burn some incense, a man of God arrived in Bethel from Judah in obedience to a command from the LORD.
2 He cursed the altar in this message from the LORD: "Hey altar! Hey altar! This is what the LORD says: 'Pay attention to this! A son is going to be born in David's dynasty. His name will be Josiah. He will sacrifice the priests who burn incense on you in these high places. Human bones will be burned on you!'"
3 Later that same day, he gave them a special display of power of what was to come when he said, "Here's proof that the LORD has decreed this: Look! This altar will be split apart and the ashes that are on it will spill out."
4 When he heard the man of God curse the altar in Bethel, the king pointed at the man of God from where the king was standing at the altar. "Seize him!" he ordered. But all of a sudden his hand that he had stretched out dried up, and he could not bring it back to his side!
5 Also, the altar broke apart and the ashes that were on it spilled out from the altar, providing just the proof that the man of God had predicted in his message from the LORD!
6 "Please!" the king begged the man of God, "Ask the LORD your God and pray for me that my hand may be restored for me!" So the man of God asked the LORD, and the king's hand was immediately and fully restored, just like it had been before.
7 So the king told the man of God, "Come back to my palace and rest a while. I'd like to give you a reward."
8 But the man of God replied to the king, "Even if you were to offer me half of your house, I wouldn't go with you, and I'm surely not going to eat even a piece of bread or drink water in this place,
9 because the LORD commanded me specifically, 'You are not to eat bread, drink water, or return by the way that you came to arrive here!'"
10 Then he left, returning a different way than the one by which he had travelled to Bethel.

Ephesians 5

22 Wives, submit yourselves to your husbands as to the Lord.

23 For the husband is the head of his wife as the Messiah is the head of the church. It is he who is the Saviour of the body.

24 Indeed, just as the church is submissive to the Messiah, so wives must be submissive to their husbands in everything.

25 Husbands, love your wives as the Messiah loved the church and gave himself for it,

26 so that he might make it holy by cleansing it, washing it with water and the word,

27 and might present the church to himself in all its glory, without a spot or wrinkle or anything of the kind, but holy and without fault.

28 In the same way, husbands must love their wives as they love their own bodies. A man who loves his wife loves himself.

29 For no one has ever hated his own body, but he nourishes and tenderly cares for it, as the Messiah does the church.

30 For we are parts of his body — of his flesh and of his bones.

31 "That is why a man will leave his father and mother and be united with his wife, and the two will become one flesh."

32 This is a great secret, but I am talking about the Messiah and the church.

33 But each individual man among you must love his wife as he loves himself; and may the wife fear her husband.

Ephesians 6

1 Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is the right thing to do.

2 "Honour your father and mother. . ." (This is a very important commandment with a promise).

3 ". . . so that it may go well for you, and that you may have a long life on the earth."

4 Fathers, do not provoke your children to anger, but bring them up by training and instructing them about the Lord.

26th May

1 Kings 13

11 Now there was an old prophet who lived in Bethel, and his sons went to him and told him everything that the man of God had accomplished that day in Bethel, including the message that he had delivered to the king.

12 "Which way did he go?" their father asked him, since his sons had observed the way that the man of God had taken to return to Judah from Bethel.

13 "Saddle my donkey for me!" he ordered. So they saddled the donkey for him

14 and he rode off after the man of God and found him sitting under an oak tree. "You're the man of God who came from Judah, aren't you?" the old prophet asked him. "I am," he replied.

15 "Come home with me and have a meal," he told him.

16 But he replied, "I can't go back with you to your home, be in your company, or even eat food or drink water with you in this place,

17 because I've been given a command in the form of this message from the LORD: 'You are to eat no food, drink no water, and do not return to Judah by travelling the way by which you go there.'"

18 "I'm a prophet like you," the old man replied, "and an angel spoke to me and delivered this message from the LORD: 'Bring him back with you to your house and give him food and water.'" But he was lying,

19 and the man of God accompanied the old prophet back to his house, ate some food, and drank some water.

20 Later, while they were sitting down at the table, a message from the LORD was delivered to the prophet who had brought him back,

21 so he cried out to the man of God from Judah: "This is what the LORD says: 'Because you disobeyed a command from the LORD and haven't done what the LORD your God commanded you to do,

22 but instead you returned to eat and drink in the very place that he told you "Eat no food and drink no water," your body will not be buried in the same grave as your ancestors.'"

23 After the meal was over, and the man had eaten food and had drunk water, the old prophet saddled the donkey for him — that is, for the man of God whom he had brought back.

24 Not long after the man of God had left, a lion met him along the road and killed him. His body was left lying in the middle of the road with the donkey standing beside it and with the lion also standing next to the body.

25 When some men passed by and noticed the body lying in the middle of the road and the lion standing beside the body, they went straight to the city and told what had happened in the city where the old prophet lived.

26 The prophet who had brought the man of God back from the road learned about it.

"It's the man of God who disobeyed the message from the LORD," he said. "That's why the LORD gave him to that lion, which mauled him and killed him, just as the message from the LORD told me to rebuke him."

27 Then he ordered his sons, "Saddle the donkey for me." So they did.

28 The old prophet went out, located the body on the road where the donkey and the lion were standing beside the body. The lion had not eaten the body nor mauled the donkey.

29 The prophet picked up the body of the man of God, laid it on the donkey, and brought it back to the city where the old man lived so he could mourn and bury him.

30 He buried the corpse in his own grave and his family mourned for him, crying out, "Oh, no! My brother!"

31 After he had buried the man of God, he gave these instructions to his children: "When I die, bury me in the same grave in which the man of God is buried. Place my bones beside his,
32 because what he predicted by a message from the LORD against the altar in Bethel and the temples built in the high places of the cities of Samaria will certainly come about."
33 Despite everything that happened, Jeroboam never did repent of his evil practices. Instead, he appointed even more people to act as priests for the high places. Anyone who wanted to be a priest was ordained to be a priest in the high places.
34 This practice became so sinful that the LORD decided to erase Jeroboam's dynasty, thus eliminating it from the face of the earth.

1 Kings 14

1 Right at that time, Jeroboam's son Abijah became ill,
2 so Jeroboam suggested to his wife, "Get up, disguise yourself so that no one will know that you're Jeroboam's wife, and go to Shiloh where the prophet Ahijah lives. He's the one who told me that I would be king over this people.
3 Take ten loaves with you, some cakes, and a jar of honey and go visit him. He will tell you what will happen to the boy."
4 So that's what Jeroboam's wife did. She got up, went to Shiloh, and found Ahijah's home. Ahijah was blind, because his eyes could not focus due to his age.
5 Meanwhile, the LORD had spoken to Ahijah, "Be on your guard! Jeroboam's wife is coming to ask you about her son, because he is ill. You're to say such and such to her. When she arrives, she will pretend to be someone else!"
6 When she arrived, Ahijah heard the sound of her feet as she came through the doorway. He said this to her: "Come in, wife of Jeroboam. What is this pretension at being someone else? I have some harsh news.
7 Go tell Jeroboam: 'I raised you up from among the people. 'I made you Commander-in-Chief over my people Israel.
8 'I tore the kingdom away from David's dynasty. 'Then I gave it to you. But you have not lived like my servant David, who kept my commands with all his heart, and did only what I considered to be right.
9 'Instead, you have done more evil than everyone who lived before you. 'You have gone out and crafted other gods for yourself. 'You made cast images. 'You have provoked me to anger. 'You have thrown me behind your back.
10 'Therefore, watch while I bring calamity on Jeroboam's dynasty! 'I will eliminate every male, both slave and free in Israel, from Jeroboam. 'I will burn up Jeroboam's dynasty, as a man burns up manure until it is gone.
11 Dogs will eat anyone who dies in the city that belongs to Jeroboam's household. The birds of the sky will eat anyone who dies in the open field, because the LORD has determined it.'
12 "Now get up and go home. When your feet cross the city line, your child will die.
13 Everyone in Israel will mourn for him and will bury him, because he alone from Jeroboam's family will receive a decent burial, because something good was observed in him with respect to the LORD God of Israel out of all the household of Jeroboam!
14 "In addition to this, the LORD will raise up for himself a king over Israel who will eliminate Jeroboam's dynasty, starting today and from now on.
15 The LORD will attack Israel, and Israel will shake like a reed shakes in a river current! He will uproot Israel from this good land that he gave to their ancestors and he will scatter them beyond the Euphrates River, because they erected their Asherim and provoked the LORD to become angry!
16 He will give up Israel because of Jeroboam's sins that he committed and by which Jeroboam caused Israel to sin."

17 Then Jeroboam's wife got up and left for Tirzah. As soon as she set foot over the threshold of the house, the child died.

18 All of Israel mourned him at his burial, just as the LORD had said when he spoke through Ahijah the prophet.

19 Now as for the rest of Jeroboam's accomplishments, including how he waged war and how he reigned, you may read about them in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

20 Jeroboam reigned for 22 years and then died, as had his ancestors, and his son Nadab reigned in his place.

21 Meanwhile, Solomon's son Rehoboam reigned in Judah. Rehoboam was 41 years old when he became king, and he reigned for seventeen years in Jerusalem, the city where the Lord had chosen from all the tribes of Israel to place his Name. His mother was an Ammonite named Naamah.

22 Judah practised what the LORD considered to be evil. They did more to provoke him to jealousy than their ancestors had ever done by committing the sins that they committed.

23 They erected high places, sacred pillars, and Asherim for themselves on every high hill and under every green tree.

24 They even maintained male shrine prostitutes throughout the land, and imitated every detestable practice that the nations practised whom the LORD had expelled in front of the Israelis.

25 As a result, during the fifth year of the reign of King Rehoboam, King Shishak of Egypt invaded and attacked Jerusalem.

26 He stripped the LORD's Temple and the royal palace of their treasures. He took everything, even the gold shields that Solomon had made.

27 King Rehoboam made shields out of bronze to take their place, and then committed them to the care and custody of the commanders of those who guarded the entrance to the royal palace.

28 Whenever the king entered the LORD's Temple, the guards would carry them to and from the guard's quarters.

29 As to the rest of Rehoboam's accomplishments, and everything else that he undertook, they are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, aren't they?

30 There was continual warfare between Rehoboam and Jeroboam,

31 but eventually Rehoboam died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His mother's name had been Naamah the Ammonite, and his son Abijah became king to replace him.

1 Kings 15

1 Abijah reigned over Judah starting in the eighteenth year of Nebat's son Jeroboam's reign.

2 He reigned for three years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maacah, the daughter of Abishalom.

3 He practised the same sins that his father committed before he was born. Unlike his ancestor David, his heart never became devoted to the LORD his God.

4 Nevertheless, for the sake of David, the LORD his God maintained a lamp for David in Jerusalem by raising up his son after him so that Jerusalem would be established,

5 because David had practised what the LORD considered to be right. He never avoided anything that the LORD had commanded him during his entire lifetime, except for the case of Uriah the Hittite.

6 There was continual military conflict between Rehoboam and Jeroboam throughout his entire lifetime.

7 The rest of Abijah's accomplishments, including everything he undertook, are written in the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not? And a state of war continued to exist between Abijah and Jeroboam.

8 Eventually, Abijah died, as did his ancestors, and he was buried in the city of David. His son Asa succeeded him as king.

Ephesians 6

5 Slaves, obey your earthly masters with fear, trembling, and sincerity, as when you obey the Messiah.

6 Do not do this only while you're being watched in order to please them, but be like slaves of the Messiah, who are determined to obey God's will.

7 Serve willingly, as if you were serving the Lord and not merely people,

8 because you know that everyone will receive a reward from the Lord for whatever good he has done, whether he is a slave or free.

9 Masters, treat your slaves the same way. Do not threaten them, for you know that both of you have the same Master in heaven, and there is no favouritism with him.

10 Finally, be strong in the Lord, relying on his mighty strength.

11 Put on the whole armour of God so that you may be able to stand firm against the devil's strategies.

12 For our struggle is not against human opponents, but against rulers, authorities, cosmic powers in the darkness around us, and evil spiritual forces in the heavenly realm.

13 For this reason, take up the whole armour of God so that you may be able to take a stand whenever evil comes. And when you have done everything you could, you will be able to stand firm.

14 Stand firm, therefore, having fastened the belt of truth around your waist, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness,

15 and being firm-footed in the gospel of peace.

16 In addition to having clothed yourselves with these things, having taken up the shield of faith, with which you will be able to put out all the flaming arrows of the evil one,

17 also take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

18 Pray in the Spirit at all times with every kind of prayer and request. Likewise, be alert with your most diligent efforts and pray for all the saints.

19 Pray also for me, so that, when I begin to speak, the right words will come to me.

Then I will boldly make known the secret of the gospel,

20 for whose sake I am an ambassador in chains, desiring to declare the gospel as boldly as I should.

21 So that you may know what has happened to me and how I am doing, Tychicus, our dear brother and a faithful minister in service to the Lord, will tell you everything.

22 I am sending him to you for this very reason, so that you may know how we are doing and that he may encourage your hearts.

23 May peace and love, with faith, be with the brothers, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus, the Messiah!

24 May grace be with all who sincerely love the Lord Jesus, the Messiah!

1 Kings 15

9 Asa began to reign as Judah's king during the twentieth year of the reign of Jeroboam as king over Israel.

10 He reigned 41 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Maacah, the daughter of Abishalom.

11 Asa practised what the LORD considered to be right, just like his ancestor David.

12 He also removed the male cult prostitutes from the land and destroyed all the idols that his ancestors had made.

13 He removed his mother Maacah from her position as Queen Mother because she had made a detestable image dedicated to Asherah. Asa cut down his mother's idol, crushed it, and burned it at the Kidron Brook.

14 Nevertheless, the high places were not removed, even though Asa's heart was blameless toward the LORD all of his life.

15 Asa brought into the LORD's Temple the things that his father had dedicated, as well as his own dedicated gifts such as silver, gold, and temple service implements.

16 A state of continual military unrest existed between Asa and King Baasha of Israel throughout their lifetimes.

17 King Baasha of Israel invaded Judah and interdicted Ramah by building fortifications around it so no one could enter or leave to join King Asa of Judah.

18 But Asa removed all the silver and gold from the treasuries of the Lord's Temple and from his royal palace, placed them into the care of some servants, and then sent them to Tabrimmon's son King Ben-hadad of Aram, the grandson of Hezion, who lived in Damascus.

19 "Let's make a treaty between you and me," he said, "just like the one between my father and your father. Notice that I've sent you silver and gold to break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel, so he'll retreat from his attack on me."

20 So King Ben-hadad did just what King Asa had asked: he sent his commanding officers to attack the cities of Israel, conquering Ijon, Dan, Abel-beth-maacah, all of Chinneroth, and the territory of Naphtali.

21 When Baasha learned of this, he stopped fortifying Ramah and remained in Tirzah,

22 so King Asa published a proclamation throughout Judah (no one was left out) and they carried away the stones and timber with which Baasha had been fortifying Judah. King Asa used them to fortify Geba in Benjamin and Mizpah.

23 The rest of Asa's accomplishments, his strength, everything that he undertook, and the cities that he fortified are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not? However, as he approached old age, he became diseased in his feet.

24 Then Asa died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried with his ancestors in the city of David, his ancestor. His son Jehoshaphat reigned in his place.

25 Jeroboam's son Nadab became king over Israel during the second year of the reign of King Asa over Judah. He reigned over Israel for two years,

26 practising what the LORD considered to be evil, living the way his father did, committing sins, and leading Israel to sin.

27 So Ahijah's son Baasha from the household of Issachar conspired against him and killed Nadab at Gibbethon in Philistia while Nadab and all of Israel were attacking Gibbethon.

28 Baasha killed him during the third year of the reign of King Asa of Judah and took Nadab's place as king.

29 As soon as he was established as king, he killed everyone in the household of Jeroboam. He left not even one single person alive. He destroyed them completely, just as the LORD had spoken through his servant Ahijah the Shilonite,

30 because of the sins that Jeroboam had committed, and because he led Israel into sin, provoking the LORD God of Israel to become angry.

31 Now the rest of Nadab's accomplishments, including everything he undertook, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
32 Meanwhile, a state of war continued to exist between Asa and Baasha king of Israel, throughout their reigns.
33 During the third year of the reign of King Asa of Judah, Ahijah's son Baasha became king over all of Israel. He reigned for 24 years at Tirzah.
34 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, living like Jeroboam did and leading Israel into sin.

1 Kings 16

1 Later, a message came from the LORD to Hanani's son Jehu. It was directed to rebuke Baasha, and this is what it said:
2 I raised you from the dirt to become Commander-in-Chief over my people Israel, but you've been living like Jeroboam, you've been leading my people Israel into sin, and you've been provoking me to anger with their sins.
3 So watch out! I'm going to devour Baasha and his household. I'm going to make your household just like the household of Jeroboam, Nebat's son.
4 Anyone from Baasha's household who dies in the city will be eaten by dogs, and anyone of his who dies in the field the birds of the sky will eat."
5 Now the rest of Baasha's accomplishments, including everything that he undertook, as well as his strengths, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
6 Eventually, Baasha died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried in Tirzah. His son Elah was installed as king in his place.
7 In addition, a message from the LORD came through Hanani's son Jehu the prophet against Baasha and his household, not only because of all of the things that Baasha did that the LORD considered to be evil, including provoking the LORD to anger by what he did and by being like the household of Jeroboam, but also because Baasha had destroyed Jeroboam's household.
8 During the twenty-sixth year of the reign of King Asa of Judah, Baasha's son Elah became king over Israel and reigned at Tirzah for two years.
9 But his servant Zimri, who commanded half of his chariot forces, conspired against Elah while he was drinking himself drunk in the home of Arza, who managed the household at Tirzah.
10 Zimri went inside, attacked him, and killed him in the twenty-seventh year of the reign of King Asa of Judah, and then became king in Elah's place.
11 As soon as he had consolidated his reign, he executed the entire household of Baasha. He did not leave a single male alive, including any of Baasha's relatives or friends.
12 In doing so, Zimri destroyed the entire household of Baasha, in keeping with the message from the LORD that he had spoken against Baasha through Jehu the prophet
13 because of all the sins that Baasha and his son Elah had committed and because of what they did to lead Israel into sin, thus provoking the LORD God of Israel to anger with their idolatry.
14 Now the rest of Elah's accomplishments, including everything he undertook, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
15 Zimri reigned for seven days at Tirzah during the twenty-seventh year of the reign of King Asa of Judah. At that time, the army was encamped in a siege against Gibbethon of Philistia.
16 The army at the encampment heard this report: "Zimri has conspired against the king and killed him." So the entire army of Israel made Omri, their commander, king over Israel.
17 Then Omri and the entire army of Israel left from Gibbethon and attacked Tirzah.

18 When Zimri observed that the city had been captured, he retreated into the king's palace, set fire to the citadel, and died when the palace burned down around him
19 because of the sins that he committed by doing what the LORD considered to be evil, living like Jeroboam did, and sinning so as to lead Israel into sin.
20 The rest of Zimri's accomplishments, including his conspiracy that he carried out, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
21 The army of Israel was divided into two parties: half of the army were loyal to Ginath's son Tibni and wanted to make him king, and half were loyal to Omri.
22 But the army that was loyal to Omri was victorious over Ginath's son Tibni. Tibni later died and Omri became king.
23 During the thirty-first year of the reign of King Asa of Judah, Omri became king over Israel. He reigned for twelve years, six of them at Tirzah.
24 He bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver, fortified the hill, and named the city Samaria after Shemer, the former owner of the hill.
25 Omri practised what the LORD considered to be evil, doing far more evil than anyone who had reigned before him.
26 He lived just like Nebat's son Jeroboam, and by his sin he led Israel into sin, provoking the LORD God of Israel with their idolatry.
27 Now the rest of Omri's accomplishments, including the power that he demonstrated, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
28 So Omri died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried in Samaria. His son Ahab became king in his place.
29 Omri's son Ahab became king over Israel in the thirty-eighth year of King Asa of Judah. He reigned over Israel in Samaria for 22 years.
30 Omri's son Ahab practised more of what the LORD considered to be evil than anyone who had lived before him.
31 In fact, as if it were nothing for him to live like Nebat's son Jeroboam, Ahab married Jezebel, the daughter of King Ethbaal of Sidon. Then he went out to serve Baal and worship him.
32 He built an altar for Baal in a temple for Baal that he constructed in Samaria.
33 Ahab also erected an Asherah, doing more to provoke the LORD God of Israel than all of the kings of Israel who had reigned before him.
34 It was during Ahab's reign that Hiel the Bethelite rebuilt Jericho. He laid its foundations just as his first born son Abiram was dying, and he erected its gates while his youngest son Segub was dying, thus fulfilling the message that the LORD delivered through Nun's son Joshua.

1 Kings 17

1 Elijah the foreigner, who was an alien resident from Gilead, told Ahab, "As the LORD God of Israel lives, in whose presence I'm standing, there will be neither dew nor rain these next several years, except when I say so."
2 Later, this message came to him from the LORD:
3 "Leave here and go into hiding at the Wadi Cherith, where it enters the Jordan River.
4 You will be able to drink from that brook, and I've commanded some crows to sustain you there."
5 So Elijah left and did exactly what the LORD had told him to do — he went to live near the Wadi Cherith, where it enters the Jordan River.
6 Crows would bring him bread and meat both in the morning and in the evening, and he would drink from the brook.

Luke 1

1 Since many people have attempted to write an orderly account of the events that have transpired among us,
2 just as they were passed down to us by those who had been eyewitnesses and servants of the word from the beginning,
3 I, too, have carefully investigated everything from the beginning and have decided to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus,
4 so that you may know the certainty of the things you have been taught.
5 In the days of King Herod of Judea, there was a priest named Zechariah, who belonged to the priestly order of Abijah. His wife was a descendant of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.
6 Both of them were righteous before God, having lived blamelessly according to all of the commandments and regulations of the Lord.
7 They had no children because Elizabeth was barren and because both of them were getting old.
8 When Zechariah was serving with his division of priests in God's presence,
9 he was chosen by lot to go into the sanctuary of the Lord and burn incense, according to the custom of the priests.
10 And the entire congregation of people was praying outside at the time when the incense was burned.
11 An angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right side of the incense altar.
12 When Zechariah saw him, he was startled, and fear overwhelmed him.
13 But the angel told him, "Stop being afraid, Zechariah, because your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you are to name him John.
14 You will have great joy, and many people will rejoice at his birth,
15 because he will be great in the Lord's presence. He will never drink wine or any strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit even before he is born.
16 He will bring many of Israel's descendants back to the Lord their God.
17 He is the one who will go before the Lord with the spirit and power of Elijah to turn the hearts of parents to their children and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous, and to prepare the people to be ready for the Lord."
18 Then Zechariah asked the angel, "How can I be sure of this, since I am an old man, and my wife is getting older?"
19 The angel answered him, "I am Gabriel! I stand in the very presence of God. I have been sent to speak to you and to announce this good news to you.
20 But because you did not believe my announcement, which will be fulfilled at its proper time, you will become silent and unable to speak until the day this happens."
21 Meanwhile, the people kept waiting for Zechariah and wondering why he stayed in the sanctuary so long.
22 But when he did come out, he was unable to speak to them. Then they realized that he had seen a vision in the sanctuary. He kept motioning to them but remained unable to speak.
23 When the days of his service were over, he went home.
24 After this, his wife Elizabeth became pregnant and remained in seclusion for five months. She said,
25 "This is what the Lord did for me when he looked favourably on me and took away my public disgrace."

1 Kings 17

7 But after a while, the brook dried up because there had been no rain in the land.

8 Then this message came to him from the LORD:

9 "Get up, move to Zarephath in Sidon, and stay there. Look! I've commanded a widow to sustain you there."

10 So he got up and went to Zarephath. As he arrived at the entrance to the city, a widow was there gathering sticks. So he asked her, "Please, may I have some water in a cup so I can have a drink."

11 While she was on her way to get the water, he called out to her, "Would you please also bring me a piece of bread while you're at it?"

12 "As the LORD your God lives," she replied, "I don't have so much as a muffin, just a handful of flour in a bowl and some oil left in a bottle. Now I'm going to find some sticks so I can cook a last meal for my son and for me. Then we're going to eat it and die."

13 But Elijah told her, "You can stop being afraid. Go and do what you said, but first make me a muffin and bring it to me. Then make a meal for yourself and for your son,

14 because this is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'That jar of flour will not run out, nor will that bottle of oil become empty until the very day that the LORD sends rain on the surface of the ground.'"

15 So she went out and did precisely what Elijah told her to do. As a result, Elijah, the widow, and her son were fed for days.

16 The jar of flour never ran out and the bottle of oil never became empty, just as the LORD had promised through Elijah.

17 Sometime later, the son of the woman who owned the house became ill. In fact, his illness became so severe that he died.

18 "What do we have in common, you man of God?" she accused Elijah. "You came to me so you could uncover my guilt! And you're responsible for the death of my son!"

19 "Give me your son," he replied. Then he took him from her lap, carried him upstairs to the room where he lived, and laid him on his bed.

20 Then he called out to the LORD and asked him, "LORD my God, have you also brought evil to this dear widow with whom I am living as her guest? Have you caused the death of her son?"

21 Then he stretched himself three times and cried out to the LORD, "LORD my God, please cause the soul of this little boy to return to him."

22 The LORD listened to Elijah, and the soul of the little boy returned to him, and he revived.

23 Then Elijah took the little boy downstairs from the upper chamber back into the main house and delivered him to his mother. "Look," Elijah told her, "your son is alive."

24 The woman responded to Elijah, "Now at last I've really learned that you are a man of God and that what you have to say about the LORD is the truth."

1 Kings 18

1 Quite some time later — three years later! — this message from the LORD came to Elijah: "Go visit Ahab, and I'll send some rain to the surface of the ground."

2 So Elijah went to show himself to Ahab, right when the famine in Samaria was most severe.

3 Ahab called for Obadiah, his household supervisor. This man, who feared the LORD very much,

4 had taken 100 prophets and had hidden them by fifties in a cave, providing them with food and water when Jezebel was trying to destroy the LORD's prophets.

5 Ahab had instructed Obadiah, "Go throughout the land to all of the water springs and to all of the valleys. Maybe we'll find some grass to keep the horses and mules alive. Also, maybe we won't have to kill some of our cattle."

6 So they divided the land between them so they could conduct their survey. Ahab went off by himself in one direction and Obadiah went off by himself in the other.

7 While Obadiah was on the road, Elijah met him. Obadiah recognized him and bowed down with his face to the ground. "It's you, isn't it, my master Elijah?"

8 "I am," he replied. "Go tell your master, 'Look! Elijah!'"

9 But Obadiah replied, "What did I do wrong, that you would put me in a position where Ahab would execute me?"

10 As surely as the LORD your God lives, there isn't a nation or kingdom where my master hasn't tried to find you. Whenever they would say 'He isn't here,' he forced that kingdom or nation to swear that they hadn't seen you.

11 But now you're saying 'Go tell your master, "Elijah is here!"'

12 As soon as I've left you, the Spirit of the LORD will carry you off to I don't know where! Then when I go tell Ahab and he can't find you, he'll kill me, even though I have been your servant and have feared the LORD since I was young!

13 Hasn't anyone told you, my master, what I did when Jezebel was killing the LORD's prophets? I hid 100 of the LORD's prophets by fifties in a cave and provided food and water for them.

14 Now you're saying, 'Go tell your master, "Elijah's here!"' He's sure to kill me!"

15 But Elijah promised him, "As the LORD of the Heavenly Armies lives, in whose presence I stand, I will appear to Ahab today."

16 So Obadiah went out to meet Ahab and reported to him. Then Ahab went to meet Elijah.

17 When Ahab saw Elijah, Ahab asked him, "Is it really you, you destroyer of Israel?"

18 But Elijah replied, "I'm no destroyer of Israel. But you and your ancestor's household have been doing that, because you have abandoned the LORD's commandments and have followed the Baals.

19 So go gather all of Israel to meet me on Mount Carmel. Bring along 450 prophets of Baal and 400 prophets of the Asherah who are funded at Jezebel's expense."

20 Ahab sent for the Israelis and brought the prophets together at Mount Carmel,

21 where Elijah approached all the people and asked them, "How long will you keep hesitating between both sides? If the LORD is God, go after him. If Baal, go after him." But the people didn't say a word.

22 So Elijah told the people, "I'm the only one left over as a prophet of the LORD, am I? But Baal's prophets number 450 men?"

23 So let them provide two oxen. They can choose one ox for themselves. Cut it up, lay it on top of some wood, but don't set fire to it. I will prepare the other ox and lay it on top of some wood, and I won't set fire to it.

24 Then you can call on the name of your god, and I'll call on the name of the LORD. Let the God who answers by fire be our God!" "That's a good idea!" all the people shouted.

25 So Elijah told the prophets of Baal, "Choose an ox for yourselves and you prepare it first, since there are so many of you. Call on the name of your god, but don't set fire to the offering."

26 So they took the ox that was given to them, prepared it, and called on the name of Baal from early morning until noon. "Baal! Answer us!" they cried. But there was no response. Nobody answered. So they kept on dancing around the altar that they had made.

27 Starting about noon, Elijah began to tease them: "Shout louder! "He's a god, so maybe he's busy. "Maybe he's relieving himself. "Maybe he's busy someplace. "Maybe he's taking a nap and somebody needs to wake him up."

28 So the prophets of Baal cried even louder and slashed themselves with swords and lances until their blood gushed out all over them, as was their custom.

29 They kept on raving right through midday and until it was time to offer the evening sacrifice, but there was still no response. Nobody answered, and nobody paid attention.

30 Eventually, Elijah told everybody, "Come here!" So everybody approached him, and he repaired the LORD's altar that had been torn down.

31 Elijah took twelve stones, one for each of the tribes of Jacob's descendants, to whom the message from the LORD had come that "Israel is to be your name."

32 So Elijah used the stones to build an altar to the name of the LORD. But then he dug a trench around the altar large enough to hold two measures of seed.

33 Then he laid the wood in order, cut the bull into pieces, and laid them on top of the wood." Fill four pitchers with water," he ordered. "Then pour them out on the burnt offering and the wood."

34 "Do it a second time," he ordered. So they did it a second time. "Do it a third time," he said. So they did it a third time.

35 The water ran down around the altar and completely filled the trench.

36 As the time for the evening offering arrived, Elijah the prophet approached and said, "LORD God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known today that you are God in Israel and that I, your servant, have done all of this in obedience to your word.

37 Answer me, LORD! Answer me so that this people may know that you, LORD, are God, and that you are turning back their hearts again."

38 Right then the LORD's fire fell and consumed the burnt offering, the wood, the stones, the dust, and even the water that was in the trench!

39 When all the people saw what had happened, they fell flat on their faces and cried out "The LORD is God! The LORD is God!"

40 But Elijah said, "Arrest the prophets of Baal. Don't let even one of them get away." So the people seized them, and Elijah brought them down to the Wadi Kishon and executed them there.

41 After this, Elijah told Ahab, "Get up and have something to eat and drink, because there's the sound of a coming rainstorm."

42 So Ahab got up to get something to eat and drink while Elijah went back up to the top of Mount Carmel, where he bowed low to the ground and placed his face between his knees.

43 Then he told his young servant, "Go and look toward the sea." So he went and looked out to sea. "Nothing there," he said. But Elijah told him to go back seven times.

44 On the seventh look, he said, "Look! There's a cloud, a small one, about the size of a man's hand. It's coming up out of the sea!" "Get up and find Ahab!" Elijah said. "Tell him, 'Mount your chariot and ride down the mountain so the storm doesn't stop you.'"

45 A little while later, the sky turned black with storm clouds and winds, and there was a heavy shower. So Ahab rode off to Jezreel.

46 After Ahab had left, the hand of the LORD came upon Elijah, and he tucked his mantle into his belt and outran Ahab in a race to the city gate of Jezreel.

Luke 1

26 Now in the sixth month of her pregnancy, the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city in Galilee called Nazareth,

27 to a virgin engaged to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary.

28 The angel came to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly favoured! The Lord is with you!"

29 Startled by his statement, she tried to figure out what his greeting meant.

30 Then the angel told her, "Stop being afraid, Mary, because you have found favour with God.

31 Listen! You will become pregnant and give birth to a son, and you are to name him Jesus.

32 He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High, and the Lord God will give him the throne of his ancestor David.

33 He will rule over the house of Jacob forever, and his kingdom will never end."

34 Mary asked the angel, "How can this happen, since I have not had relations with a man?"

35 The angel answered her, "The Holy Spirit will come over you, and the power of the Most High will surround you. Therefore, the child will be holy and will be called the Son of God.

36 And listen! Elizabeth, your relative, has herself conceived a son in her old age, this woman who was rumoured to be barren is in her sixth month.

37 Nothing is impossible with respect to any of God's promises."

38 Then Mary said, "Truly I am the Lord's servant. Let everything you have said happen to me." Then the angel left her.

39 Later on, Mary set out for a Judean city in the hill country.

40 She went into Zechariah's home and greeted Elizabeth.

41 When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the baby jumped in her womb. Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit

42 and she loudly exclaimed, "How blessed are you among women, and how blessed is the infant in your womb!

43 Why should this happen to me, to have the mother of my Lord visit me?

44 As soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby in my womb jumped for joy.

45 How blessed is this woman for believing that what was spoken to her by the Lord would be fulfilled!"

1 Kings 19

- 1 Ahab complained to Jezebel about everything that Elijah had done, especially the part about him killing all the prophets of Baal with a sword.
- 2 Jezebel sent a messenger to tell Elijah, "May the gods do the same to me and even more if tomorrow about this time I haven't made you like one of those prophets you had killed."
- 3 Elijah was terrified, so he got up and ran for his life to Beer-sheba, which is part of Judah, and left his servant there
- 4 and ran for a day's journey deep into the wilderness. He found a juniper tree, sat down under it, and prayed that he could die. He asked God, "Enough! LORD! Take my life, because I'm not better than my ancestors!"
- 5 Then he lay down and went to sleep under the juniper tree. All of a sudden, there was an angel, who kept grabbing him and telling him, "Get up! Eat!"
- 6 So he looked around, and there near his head was a muffin sitting on top of some heated stones, along with a jar of water. Elijah ate and drank and then lay down again.
- 7 Later, the angel of the LORD came a second time, grabbed him, and said "Get up! Eat! The journey ahead is too difficult for you!"
- 8 So Elijah got up, ate and drank, and survived on that one meal for 40 days and nights as he set out on his journey to Horeb, God's mountain.
- 9 Elijah arrived at a cave and stayed there. All of a sudden this message came from the LORD: "What are you doing here, Elijah?"
- 10 "I've been very zealous for the LORD God of the Heavenly Armies," he replied. "The Israelis have abandoned your covenant, demolished your altars, executed your prophets with swords, and I — that's right, just me! — am the only one left. Now they're seeking my life, to get rid of me!"
- 11 "Go out," he responded, "and stand on the mountain in the presence of the LORD." And there was the LORD, passing by! A tremendous, mighty windstorm was tearing at the mountains and breaking the rocks in pieces in the presence of the LORD, but the LORD was not in the windstorm. After the wind there came an earthquake, but the LORD was not in the earthquake.
- 12 After the earthquake there came fire, but the LORD was not in the fire. And after the fire, there was the sound of a gentle whisper.
- 13 As soon as Elijah heard it, he covered his face in his mantle, went outside, and stood at the entrance to the cave. And there a voice spoke to him and said, "What are you doing here, Elijah?"
- 14 "I've been very zealous for the LORD God of the Heavenly Armies," he replied. "The Israelis have abandoned your covenant, demolished your altars, executed your prophets with swords, and I — that's right, just me! — am the only one left. Now they're seeking my life, to get rid of me!"
- 15 The LORD replied to him, "Go! Return to Damascus, and when you get there, anoint Hazael as king over Aram,
- 16 anoint Nimshi's son Jehu as king over Israel, and anoint Shaphat's son Elisha from Abel-meholah as a prophet to replace you.
- 17 Whoever escapes from Hazael's sword Jehu will execute, and whoever escapes from Jehu's sword Elisha will put to death.
- 18 Nevertheless, I've reserved 7,000 in Israel who have neither bowed their knees to Baal nor kissed him."
- 19 Elijah left there and located Shaphat's son Elisha, who was ploughing, along with a total of twelve pairs of oxen. (He was ploughing with the twelfth pair). As Elijah passed by, he tossed his cloak at Elisha.

20 He abandoned the oxen, ran off to follow Elijah, and asked him, "Please, let me kiss my mother and father good-bye, and then I'll come after you." "Go back again," Elijah replied. "What have I done to you?"

21 So Elisha turned back, took the pair of oxen, sacrificed them, boiled their flesh using the farm implements for fuel, and gave the food to the people with him. Then he got up, followed Elijah, and became his servant.

1 Kings 20

1 A little while later, King Ben-hadad of Aram mustered an army of cavalry and chariots in a military confederacy with 32 kings, invaded Samaria, and set up siege encampments there.

2 Then he sent envoys to visit King Ahab of Israel and told him, "This is what Ben-hadad says:

3 'Your silver and gold belong to me. So do the most beautiful of your wives and children.'"

4 "Whatever you want, your majesty," the king of Israel answered. "I belong to you, as does everything I own."

5 After delivering Ahab's answer, the envoys returned with this message: "This is what Ben-hadad says: 'I've sent my envoys to you to tell you that your silver, gold, wives, and children are to be given to me.

6 About this time tomorrow, I'll send my servants to you, and they'll search through your palace and your servants' houses. Whatever is important to you will be seized and taken away.'"

7 Then the king of Israel called together all of the elders of the land and told them, "Please note that this man is here looking for trouble. He sent a message to me, demanding my wives, my children, and my silver and gold, and I haven't refused him."

8 "Don't listen to him," all the elders and the people replied. "And don't agree to his terms."

9 So he told Ben-hadad's envoys, "Tell his majesty the king, 'Everything that you asked for the first time I will do, but this thing I cannot do.'"

10 Ben-hadad sent this message back: "May the gods do so to me, and more than that also, if the dust that remains of Samaria is enough to fill up a few handfuls for all of the armies at my disposal."

11 But the king of Israel replied, "Tell him, 'The one who is starting to strap on his battle armour should never brag like the one who is taking it off.'"

12 Ben-hadad received Ahab's response while he was celebrating with his kings in the battle pavilions. "Sound 'Battle Stations!'" he ordered, and the army began to prepare their attack.

13 Right about then, a prophet approached King Ahab of Israel and told him, "This is what the LORD says: 'You see all of this great big army, do you? Well now, I'm going to deliver them all right into your hand, and you will learn that I am the LORD!'"

14 "By whom?" Ahab asked. "This is what the LORD says," the prophet replied. "'By the young men who serve as officials within the provinces.'" "Who is to begin the battle?" Ahab asked. "You," the prophet answered.

15 So Ahab gathered together 232 young men who served as officials within the provinces and then mustered 7,000 soldiers from among the Israelis.

16 They attacked at noon, just as Ben-hadad was drinking himself drunk in the battle pavilions, along with the 32 kings who had joined him.

17 The young men who served as officials within the provinces led the charge, and somebody informed Ben-hadad, "Some men have come out from Samaria."

18 "Take them alive, whether they've come in peace or not," he ordered.

19 Meanwhile, as the young men who served as officials within the provinces left the city, their army followed after them.

20 Each man struck down his opponent, and the Arameans ran away with Israel in pursuit. King Ben-hadad of Aram escaped on horseback with the help of his cavalry.

21 The king of Israel went out and attacked the cavalry and chariots and killed the Arameans in a massive victory.

22 The prophet approached the king of Israel and told him, "Go replenish your forces and prepare for the future, because early this next year the king of Aram will attack you again."

23 Sure enough, the advisors to the king of Aram told him, "Their gods are mountain gods. That's why they were stronger than we were. But when we fight them on the plains, we're certain to be the stronger army!"

24 So do this: remove the kings from command and replace them with captains.

25 Then replace the army that you lost, horse-for-horse and chariot-for-chariot. We'll fight them on the plains, and we're certain to be the stronger army." Ben-hadad listened to what they had to say and carried out their advice.

26 Early the next year, Ben-hadad mustered the Arameans and invaded Aphek in a battle against Israel.

27 The Israelis were mustered, equipped with provisions, and sent out to fight. The Israeli encampment looked like two little flocks of goats compared to how the Aramean encampments filled the countryside!

28 Right about then, a man of God approached and told the king of Israel, "This is what the LORD says: 'Because the Arameans keep saying "The LORD is a mountain god, but isn't a valley god," I'm going to deliver this entire vast army right into your control, so you'll learn that I really am the LORD.'"

29 So they remained in opposing camps for seven days. Then on the seventh day the battle commenced, and the Israelis killed 100,000 Aramean infantry troops in a single day.

30 The rest of the Aramean army retreated into Aphek, but the city wall collapsed on 27,000 soldiers who had taken shelter there. Ben-hadad himself ran away and hid inside a closet somewhere in the city.

31 "Look, now," his advisors suggested, "we've heard that the Israeli kings are merciful. So let's clothe ourselves with sackcloth, tie our hair back with ropes, and go out to the king of Israel. Maybe he'll spare your life."

32 So they put on some sackcloth, tied their hair back with ropes, and approached the king of Israel. "Your servant Ben-hadad says this," they said. "Please let me live." "Is he still alive?" Ahab asked. "He's my brother."

33 Ben-hadad's advisors, quickly analysing the signs in what Ahab was saying, responded, "Yes, your brother Ben-hadad." "Go get him," Ahab responded. So Ben-hadad came out to him, and Ahab took him up into his personal chariot.

34 Ben-hadad made this promise to Ahab: "I will restore the cities that my ancestors took from your ancestors. You'll be able to build streets named after yourself in Damascus, as my father did in Samaria." "With this promise I will release you," Ahab replied. So Ahab made a treaty with Ben-hadad and let him go.

35 Right about then, one of the members of the guild of prophets told another through a message from the LORD: "Please strike me!" But the man refused to do so,

36 so he told him, "Because you haven't obeyed the LORD's voice, as soon as you leave here, a lion will kill you." As soon as the man left, a lion found him and killed him.

37 Later, he found another man and told him, "Please strike me!" So the man struck him and wounded him.

38 Then the prophet left and waited for the king to pass by, disguising himself with a bandage over his eyes.

39 As the king was passing by, he cried out to the king and told him, "Your servant went out into the middle of the battle, and a soldier turned aside, brought a prisoner to me, and told me, 'Guard this man. If he turns up missing for any reason at all, you'll pay for it with your life or be fined 75 pounds of silver.'

40 While your servant was busy here and there, the prisoner escaped." The king told him, "By your actions you've earned the proper judgement!"

41 Then the prophet quickly tore off his bandage, and the king of Israel recognized him as being one of the prophets.

42 He told the king, "This is what the LORD says: 'Because you let the man whom I had dedicated to destruction go free, therefore your life is to be forfeited for his life, and your people for his people.'"

43 After hearing this, the king of Israel rode back to his palace in Samaria, frustrated and in a foul mood.

Luke 1

46 Then Mary said, "My soul praises the greatness of the Lord!
47 My spirit exults in God, my Saviour,
48 because he has looked favourably on his humble servant. From now on, all generations will call me blessed,
49 because the Almighty has done great things for me. His name is holy.
50 His mercy lasts from generation to generation for those who fear him.
51 He displayed his mighty power with his arm. He scattered people who were proud in mind and heart.
52 He pulled powerful rulers from their thrones and lifted up humble people.
53 He filled hungry people with good things and sent rich people away with nothing.
54 He helped his servant Israel, remembering to be merciful,
55 according to the promise he made to our ancestors — to Abraham and his descendants forever."
56 Now Mary stayed with Elizabeth about three months and then went back home.
57 When the time came for Elizabeth to have her child, she gave birth to a son.
58 Her neighbours and relatives heard that the Lord had shown his great mercy to her, and they rejoiced with her.
59 On the eighth day they went to circumcise the child. They were going to name him Zechariah after his father,
60 but his mother said, "Absolutely not! He must be named John."
61 Their friends told her, "None of your relatives has that name."
62 So they motioned to the baby's father to see what he wanted to name him.
63 He asked for a writing tablet and wrote, "His name is John." And everyone was amazed.
64 Suddenly, Zechariah could open his mouth, his tongue was set free, and he began to speak and to praise God.
65 Fear came over all their neighbours, and throughout the hill country of Judea all these things were being discussed.
66 Everyone who heard about it kept thinking what had happened and asked, "What will this child become?" because it was obvious that the hand of the Lord was with him.

30th May

1 Kings 21

1 Meanwhile, there was a man named Naboth from Jezreel who owned a vineyard that was located contiguous to King Ahab's palace in Samaria.

2 Ahab addressed Naboth and asked him, "I would like to plant a vegetable garden near my house. Please exchange your vineyard with a better one from me, or if you'd rather have cash, I'll buy it for its full value."

3 But Naboth replied to Ahab, "No way! The LORD prohibits the sale to you of the inheritance of my ancestors!"

4 Ahab went back to his palace, sullen and in a foul mood, because Naboth the Jezreelite had turned down Ahab's offer by saying "I will not transfer my ancestors' inheritance to you!" He laid down on his bed, curled up with his face to the wall, and refused to eat.

5 But his wife Jezebel went to him and asked him, "How is it that you're so sullen and refusing to eat?"

6 "I asked Naboth the Jezreelite, 'Sell me your vineyard for cash, or if you want, I'll give you a better one in its place.' But he refused. He told me, 'I won't give you my vineyard!'"

7 "Aren't you the reigning king of Israel," his wife Jezebel replied. "Get up, have a meal, and get ready to be happy. I'll go get you the vineyard that Naboth the Jezreelite owns."

8 So she wrote some memos in Ahab's name, set his personal seal to them, and sent them to the elders and nobles who lived with Naboth in his city.

9 In the memos, she wrote the following directives: "Proclaim a public fast and seat Naboth in the front row.

10 Seat two wicked men in front of him, and make them testify against him. Tell them to claim 'You cursed God and the king.' Then take him out and stone him to death."

11 So the leading men of the city, along with the elders and nobles who lived there, did precisely what Jezebel had directed them to do. They followed the instructions that she had set forth in the memos:

12 They proclaimed a public fast and seated Naboth in the front row.

13 Two wicked men came in, sat down in front of them, and testified against Naboth in public, "Naboth cursed God and the king!" So they took him outside the city and stoned him to death.

14 Afterwards, they sent a message to Jezebel that said, "Naboth has been stoned. He's dead."

15 When Jezebel heard that Naboth had been stoned to death, she told Ahab, "Get up and confiscate Naboth's vineyard that he refused to sell you for cash. Naboth the Jezreelite isn't alive anymore. He's dead!"

16 So once he heard that Naboth was dead, Ahab got up, went down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, and confiscated it.

17 That's when this message from the LORD came to Elijah the foreigner:

18 "Get up and go down to meet King Ahab of Israel. He's in Samaria. Look! He's in Naboth's vineyard, where he's gone to confiscate it.

19 Ask the king, 'Did you commit murder? And now you're going to steal as well?' Also tell him, 'This is what the LORD says: "Where the dogs were licking up Naboth's blood, dogs will also lick up your blood — that's right — yours!"'"

20 Later on, Ahab asked Elijah, "Have you found me, my enemy?" But Elijah answered, "I've found you because you sold yourself to do what the LORD considers to be evil!

21 Now pay attention! I'm going to send evil in your direction! I will completely sweep you away and eliminate from Ahab every male, whether indentured servant or free, throughout Israel.

22 I will make your household resemble that of Nebat's son Jeroboam, or like the household of Ahijah's son Baasha, because of how you've provoked me to anger and made Israel to sin.

23 The LORD also has this to say about Jezebel: 'Dogs will eat Jezebel within the outer ramparts of Jezreel.

24 Dogs will eat whoever belongs to Ahab and who dies in the city. The birds of the sky will eat whoever dies in the fields."

25 It can be truly said that no one else sold himself to practise what the LORD considered to be evil quite like the way Ahab did, because his wife Jezebel incited him.

26 His behaviour in pursuing idolatry was detestable, just like the Amorites had done whom the LORD had expelled in front of the army of Israel.

27 Nevertheless, as soon as Ahab heard this message, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and fasted. He even slept in sackcloth and wandered around meekly.

28 Later, this message from the LORD came to Elijah the foreigner:

29 "Have you noticed that Ahab has humbled himself in my presence? Because he has humbled himself in my presence, I will not bring his evil to harvest during his lifetime, but I will bring evil to his household during his son's lifetime."

1 Kings 22

1 Three years passed without war between Aram and Israel.

2 During that third year, King Jehoshaphat of Judah went to visit the king of Israel.

3 The king of Israel asked his servants, "Were you aware that Ramoth-gilead belongs to us, but we aren't doing anything to remove it from the control of the king of Aram?"

4 Then he asked Jehoshaphat, "Will you join me in battle against Ramoth-gilead?" "I'm with you," Jehoshaphat answered the king of Israel. "My army will join yours, and my cavalry will be your cavalry."

5 But Jehoshaphat also asked the king of Israel, "Please ask for a message from the LORD, first."

6 So the king of Israel called in about 400 prophets and asked them, "Should we go attack Ramoth-gilead, or should I call off the attack?" "Go attack them," they all said, "because the Lord will drop them right into the king's hand!"

7 But Jehoshaphat asked, "Isn't there a prophet of the LORD left here that we could talk to?"

8 "There is still one man left by whom we could ask the LORD what to do," the king of Israel replied to Jehoshaphat, "but I hate him because he never prophesies anything good about me. Instead, he prophesies evil. He is Imla's son Micaiah." But Jehoshaphat rebuked Ahab, "Kings should never talk like that."

9 Nevertheless, the king of Israel called one of his officers and ordered him, "Bring me Imla's son Micaiah quickly."

10 Now the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah were each sitting on their respective thrones, arrayed in their robes, on the threshing floor at the entrance to the city gate of Samaria, and all of the prophets were prophesying in front of them.

11 Chenaanah's son Zedekiah made iron horns for himself and told them, "This is what the LORD says, 'With these horns you are to gore the Arameans until they are eliminated!'"

12 All the other prophets were saying similar things, like "Go up to Ramoth-gilead and you will be successful, because the LORD will hand it over to the king!"

13 Meanwhile, the messenger who had gone off to summon Micaiah advised him, "Look, everything that the other prophets were saying was unanimously favourable to the king. So please, cooperate with them and speak favourably."

14 "As the LORD lives," Micaiah replied, "I'll say what my God tells me to say."

15 When Micaiah approached the king, the king asked him, "Micaiah, should we go to war against Ramoth-gilead, or should I not?" "Go to war," Micaiah replied, "and you will be successful, because the LORD will hand it over to the king!"

16 When he heard this, the king asked him, "How many times do I have to make you swear to tell me nothing but the truth? Now do it in the name of the LORD!"

17 So Micaiah replied: I saw all of Israel scattered on the mountains like sheep without a shepherd. And the LORD told me, 'These have no master, so let them each return to his own home in peace.'

18 Then the king of Israel told Jehoshaphat, "Didn't I tell you that he wouldn't prophesy anything good about me, but only evil?"

19 But Micaiah responded, "Therefore, listen to what the LORD has to say. I saw the LORD, sitting on his throne, and the entire Heavenly Army was standing around him on his right hand and on his left hand.

20 "The LORD asked, 'Who will tempt King Ahab of Israel to attack Ramoth-gilead, so that he will die there?' And one was saying one thing and one was saying another.

21 "But then a spirit approached, stood in front of the LORD, and said, 'I will entice him.'

22 "And the LORD asked him, 'How?' "'I will go,' he announced, 'and I will be a deceiving spirit in the mouth of all of his prophets!' "So the LORD said, 'You're just the one to deceive him. You will be successful. Go and do it.'

23 "Now therefore, listen! The LORD has placed a lying spirit in the mouth of all of these prophets of yours, because the LORD has determined to bring disaster upon you."

24 Right then, Chenaanah's son Zedekiah approached Micaiah and struck him on the cheek. Then he asked him, "How did the Spirit of the LORD move from me to speak to you?"

25 Micaiah replied, "You'll see how when the day comes that you run away to hide yourself in a closet!"

26 Then the king of Israel ordered, "Take Micaiah and place him in the custody of Amon, the city governor. Hand him over to Joash, the king's son.

27 Give him this order: 'Place him in prison on survival rations of bread and water only until I come back safely.'

28 "If you return alive," Micaiah responded, "then the LORD has not spoken by me." Then he added, "Listen, all you people!"

29 So the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah both attacked Ramoth-gilead.

30 The king of Israel suggested to Jehoshaphat, "I'll go into battle in disguise, but you keep your royal uniform on." So the king of Israel disguised himself and they both went into the battle.

31 Meanwhile, the king of Aram had issued these orders to 32 of his chariot commanders: "Don't attack unimportant soldiers or ranking officers. Go after only the king of Israel."

32 So when the chariot commanders observed Jehoshaphat, they said by mistake, "It's the king of Israel!" and they turned aside to attack him. But Jehoshaphat cried out.

33 When the chariot commanders saw that their target was not the king of Israel, they stopped pursuing him.

Luke 1

67 Then his father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied:
68 "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel! He has taken care of his people and has set them free.
69 He has raised up a mighty Saviour for us from the family of his servant David,
70 just as he promised long ago through the mouth of his holy prophets
71 that he would save us from our enemies and from the grip of all who hate us.
72 He has shown mercy to our ancestors and remembered his holy covenant,
73 the oath that he swore to our ancestor Abraham. He granted us
74 deliverance from our enemies' grip so that we could serve him without fear
75 and be holy and righteous before him all of our days.
76 And you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High, because you will go ahead of the Lord to prepare his way
77 and to give his people knowledge of salvation through forgiveness of their sins.
78 Because of the tender mercy of our God, his light from on high has visited us,
79 to shine on those who sit in darkness and in death's shadow, and to guide our feet into the way of peace."
80 Now the child continued to grow and to become spiritually strong. He lived in the wilderness until the day he appeared in Israel.

Luke 2

1 Now in those days an order was published by Caesar Augustus that the whole world should be registered.
2 This was the first registration taken while Quirinius was governor of Syria.
3 So all the people went to their hometowns to be registered.
4 Joseph, too, went up from the city of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to the city of David called Bethlehem, because he was a descendant of the household and family of David.
5 He went there to be registered with Mary, who had been promised to him in marriage and was pregnant.
6 While they were there, the time came for her to have her baby,
7 and she gave birth to her first child, a son. She wrapped him in strips of cloth and laid him in a feeding trough, because there was no place for them in the guest quarters.

31st May

1 Kings 22

34 Meanwhile, somebody drew his bow aimlessly and struck the king of Israel between the scales where his armour breastplates joined, so he instructed his chariot driver, "Turn around and take me out of the battle, because I've been severely wounded."

35 The battle continued on for the rest of the day while the king of Israel was propped up in front of the Arameans until the sun set, at which time he died. The blood from Ahab's wound ran down into the bottom of the chariot.

36 As the day drew to a close, this order was circulated throughout the army telling the soldiers, "Everybody go back to his city and to his own land."

37 So the king died and was brought back to Samaria, and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 They washed the chariot by the reservoir of Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood near where the prostitutes went to bathe, in keeping with the message that the LORD had spoken.

39 Now as to the rest of Ahab's accomplishments, everything that he undertook, the ivory palace he built, and the cities that he built, they are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

40 That's how Ahab died, just as his ancestors had, and his son Ahaziah became king in his place.

41 Asa's son Jehoshaphat became king over Judah during the fourth year of the reign of King Ahab of Israel.

42 Jehoshaphat was 35 years old when he became king. He reigned 25 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Azubah. She was the daughter of Shilhi.

43 He lived like his father Asa and never abandoned that life. He did what the LORD considered to be right. Nevertheless, the high places were not demolished, and the people continued to sacrifice and burn incense on the high places.

44 Jehoshaphat also made a peace treaty with the king of Israel.

45 Now the rest of Jehoshaphat's accomplishments, the power that he demonstrated, and how he waged war are written in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

46 He also eliminated the male cult prostitutes who still remained from the time of his father Asa.

47 There was no king reigning in Edom; there was only a stand-in king.

48 Jehoshaphat had ocean-going vessels from Tarshish sail to Ophir for gold, but they never made it because they were shipwrecked at Ezion-geber.

49 Ahab's son Ahaziah had offered to go. "Let my servants go with your servants in the ships!" he said. But Jehoshaphat was not willing.

50 Later, Jehoshaphat died, as did his ancestors, and he was buried alongside his ancestors in the city of David. Jehoram his son became king in his place.

51 Ahab's son Ahaziah became king over Israel in Samaria in the seventeenth year of King Jehoshaphat of Judah. He reigned for two years over Israel.

52 He practised what the Lord considered to be evil by living life like his father and mother did. He lived like Nebat's son Jeroboam, who led Israel into sin.

53 He served Baal, worshipped him, and provoked the LORD God of Israel to anger, in accordance with everything his father had done.

2 Kings 1

1 Moab rebelled against Israel after Ahab died.

2 Meanwhile, Ahaziah had fallen through the lattice in his upper room in Samaria and lay injured. He sent messengers to Ekron with these orders: "Go and consult with Ekron's god Baal-zebub to find out if I'm going to recover from this injury."

3 But the angel of the LORD spoke to Elijah the foreigner, "Get up and go meet the messengers from the king of Samaria. Ask them 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you're going to consult with Ekron's god Baal-zebub?'"

4 Now therefore this is what the LORD says: "You won't be getting up from that bed of yours on which you're lying. You will most certainly die!" So Elijah got up and went.

5 The messengers returned to the king and he asked them, "What's this? You've come back?"

6 They replied, "We met a man who told us, 'Go back to the king who sent you and ask him, 'Is it because there is no God in Israel that you're going to consult with Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron? Therefore you won't be getting up from that bed on which you're lying. You will most certainly die!'"

7 He told them, "Describe the man who met you and told you these things."

8 They answered, "The man was a hairy fellow. He wore a leather sash around his waist." The king responded, "It's Elijah, that foreigner!"

9 So the king sent out 50 men, along with their leader. The leader approached Elijah, who was sitting at the top of a hill. He ordered Elijah, "Hey, man of God! The king orders you to come down!"

10 Elijah responded to the leader who was in charge of the 50 soldiers, "So I'm a man of God, am I? If so, may fire fall from heaven and devour you and your 50 soldiers. . ." Just then, fire fell from heaven and devoured that leader and his 50 soldiers.

11 Later the king tried again — he sent another company of 50 soldiers, along with their leader, who ordered Elijah, "Hey, man of God! This is what the king orders: 'Come down!'"

12 Elijah responded to the leader and to his entire company, "So I'm a man of God, am I? If so, may fire fall from heaven and devour you and your 50 soldiers. . ." Just then, fire fell from heaven and devoured him and his 50 soldiers.

13 Then the king tried yet again! The king sent a third company of 50 soldiers along with their leader. The third leader went up the hill, approached Elijah, fell on his knees in front of him, and begged him, "Hey, man of God, please treat my life and the lives of these servants of yours as precious!"

14 Look how fire fell from heaven and devoured the two other companies of 50 soldiers, along with their captains, but now please treat me as if my life were precious!"

15 The angel of the LORD told Elijah, "Go down the hill with that man. Don't be afraid of him!" So Elijah got up and went down with him to meet the king.

16 Then Elijah spoke to the king, "This is what the LORD says: 'Since you sent messengers to consult with Baal-zebub, the god of Ekron — is it because there is no God in Israel with whom to consult regarding his word? — therefore you're not getting up from the bed on which you're lying. You certainly will die!'"

17 And die he did, just as the LORD had said and just as Elijah had spoken! After this, Jehoram ascended to the throne during the second year of the reign of Jehoshaphat's son Jehoram from Judah. He took the place of Ahaziah, who had no son.

18 The rest of Ahaziah's activities are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

2 Kings 2

1 As the time drew near when the LORD was about to take Elijah to heaven in a wind storm, Elijah and Elisha were on their way from Gilgal.

2 Elijah instructed Elisha, "Remain here on this side, please, because the LORD is sending me as far as Bethel." But Elisha replied, "As the LORD lives, I'm not going to leave you while you're still alive!" So they both went on to Bethel.

3 When the Guild of Prophets who lived in Bethel came out to greet Elisha, they asked him, "You are aware, aren't you, that later today the LORD is going to remove your master from being your mentor?" "Of course I'm aware of it," he said. "Calm down."

4 Elijah also spoke to him, "Elisha, remain here on this side, please, because the LORD is sending me to Jericho." But Elisha responded, "As the LORD lives, and while you're still alive, I'm not going to leave you!" So they went to Jericho.

5 The Guild of Prophets who lived in Jericho approached Elisha and asked him, "You are aware, aren't you, that later today the LORD is going to remove your master from being your mentor?" "Of course I'm aware of it," he said. "Calm down."

6 Elijah also spoke to him, "Elisha, remain here on this side, please, because the LORD is sending me to the Jordan River." But Elisha responded, "As the LORD lives, and while you're still alive, I'm not going to leave you!" So they went on their way,

7 accompanied by 50 men from the Guild of Prophets, who stood at a short distance from them while they were both standing by the Jordan.

8 Elijah took off his ornamented cloak, wrapped it up in a roll, struck the water, and all of a sudden the water divided into two parts! One side of the river stood still opposite the other until the two of them crossed over on dry ground.

9 When they had crossed the Jordan River, Elijah invited Elisha, "Ask me what you want me to do for you before I'm taken away from you." So Elisha asked, "Please, may there be a double portion of your spirit upon me!"

10 "That's a hard thing to ask for," Elijah answered, "but if you see me while I'm being taken from you, it will happen for you. But if you don't see me, it won't happen."

11 As they continued on, talking as they went, suddenly chariots blazing with fire and pulled by fiery horses appeared, separated the two of them, and Elijah ascended in a wind storm to heaven!

12 As Elisha continued to watch, he cried out, "My father! My father! The chariots of Israel and its cavalry!" Then he did not see Elijah anymore. After this, Elisha gripped his clothes that he was wearing, tore them apart into two pieces, 13 picked up Elijah's ornamented cloak that had fallen from him, and went back to stand on the bank of the Jordan River.

14 Elisha took hold of Elijah's ornamental cloak that had been left behind, struck the water, and cried out: "Where is the LORD God of Elijah?" All of a sudden, after he had struck the water, the water divided into two parts! One side of the river stood opposite the other, and Elisha crossed over.

15 As soon as the Guild of Prophets who lived adjacent to Jericho saw Elisha, they began to announce, "The spirit of Elijah is at rest on Elisha!" So they came out to meet him and they greeted him by bowing low to the ground in front of him.

16 Then they asked Elisha, "Look! We have 50 valiant men here with your servant! Please let them go out and search for your master Elijah. Perhaps the Spirit of the LORD has taken him up on a mountain or into a valley." Elisha responded, "Don't bother searching."

17 But they persisted until he was frustrated, so he said, "Send them out!" So they sent out the 50 men, and they looked around for three days but did not find Elijah.

18 By the time they returned, Elisha was living in Jericho. Then Elisha asked them, "Didn't I tell you not to go?"

19 The men who lived in the city addressed Elisha. "Look now," they said, "our city's location is good, as you have been observing, but the water springs here are bad and the land isn't sustaining crops."

20 Elisha ordered them, "Bring me a new bowl and put some salt in it." So they brought him what he had requested.

21 Elisha went out to the springs, threw the salt into them, and declared, "This is what the LORD says: 'I have purified these waters. Neither death nor barrenness is to flow from them anymore.'"

22 As a result, the water springs remain pure to this day, just as Elisha had declared.

23 Later, Elisha left there to go up to Bethel, and as he was travelling along the road, some insignificant young men came from the city and started mocking him. They told him, "Get on up, baldy! Get on up, baldy!"

24 He looked behind him, took note of the young men, and cursed them in the name of the LORD. Suddenly two female bears emerged from the woods and mauled 42 of the young men.

25 After this, he left from there to go to Mt. Carmel, and from there he went back to Samaria.

Luke 2

8 In that region there were shepherds living in the fields, watching their flock during the night.

9 An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified.

10 Then the angel told them, "Stop being afraid! Listen! I am bringing you good news of great joy for all the people.

11 Today your Saviour, the Lord Messiah, was born in the city of David.

12 And this will be a sign for you: You will find a baby wrapped in strips of cloth and lying in a feeding trough."

13 Suddenly a multitude of the Heavenly Army appeared with the angel, praising God by saying,

14 "Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth to people who enjoy his favour!"

15 When the angels had left them and gone back to heaven, the shepherds told one another, "Let's go to Bethlehem and see what has taken place that the Lord has told us about."

16 So they went quickly and found Mary and Joseph with the baby, who was lying in the feeding trough.

17 When they saw this, they repeated what they had been told about this child.

18 All who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds told them.

19 However, Mary continued to treasure all these things in her heart and to ponder them.

20 Then the shepherds returned to their flock, glorifying and praising God for everything they had heard and seen, just as it had been told to them.

21 After eight days had passed, the infant was circumcised and named Jesus, the name given him by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 When the time came for their purification according to the Law of Moses, Joseph and Mary took Jesus up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord,

23 as it is written in the Law of the Lord, "Every firstborn son is to be designated as holy to the Lord."

24 They also offered a sacrifice according to what is specified in the Law of the Lord: "a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons."

25 Now a man named Simeon was in Jerusalem. This man was righteous and devout. He was waiting for the one who would comfort Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him.

26 It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not die until he had seen the Lord's Messiah.

27 Led by the Spirit, he went into the Temple. When the parents brought the child Jesus to do for him what was customary under the Law,

28 Simeon took the infant in his arms and praised God, saying,

29 "Master, now you are dismissing your servant in peace according to your promise.

30 Because my eyes have seen your salvation,

31 which you prepared for all people to see —

32 a light that will reveal salvation to the gentiles and bring glory to your people Israel."

33 Jesus' father and mother kept wondering at the things being said about him.

34 Then Simeon blessed them and told Mary, his mother, "This infant is destined to cause many in Israel to fall and rise. Also, he will be a sign that will be opposed.

35 Indeed, a sword will pierce your own soul, too, so that the inner thoughts of many people might be revealed."

2 Kings 3

1 Ahab's son Jehoram ascended to the throne of Israel at Samaria during the eighteenth year of the reign of Judah's king Jehoshaphat. He reigned for twelve years,

2 practising evil in the LORD's presence, only not to the extent that his mother and father had done — he forced abolition of the sacred pillar to Baal that his father had crafted.

3 Even so, he kept on committing the sins that Nebat's son Jeroboam had done, which ensnared Israel in sin — he never abandoned them.

4 Meanwhile, Moab's king Mesha was a sheep breeder. He used to pay 100,000 lambs and the wool from 100,000 rams to the king of Israel as tribute.

5 After Ahab died, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 So king Jehoram left Samaria at that time and mustered the entire army of Israel.

7 As he was going out, he sent this message to King Jehoshaphat of Judah: "The king of Moab has rebelled against me. Will you go with me to fight Moab? 'I'm coming,'

Jehoshaphat replied. "I'm like you! My army will act like your army and my cavalry like your cavalry," Then Jehoshaphat added:

8 "What road do we take?" Jehoram answered, "We'll go along the Edom desert road."

9 So the king of Israel, the king of Judah, and the king of Edom made a complete circuit on the road for seven days, but there was no water for the army or for the livestock that accompanied them.

10 Then the king of Israel remarked, "Oh no! The LORD has summoned us three kings so he can hand us over to Moab, hasn't he?"

11 Jehoshaphat asked, "Isn't there a prophet who belongs to the LORD and through whom we can ask the LORD a question?" One of the king of Israel's attendants replied, "Shaphat's son Elisha lives here. He used to be Elijah's personal attendant."

12 Jehoshaphat answered, "He receives messages from the LORD." So the king of Israel, Jehoshaphat, and the king of Edom went to visit Elisha.

13 Elisha asked the king of Israel, "What do I have in common with you? Go visit your parents' prophets." The king of Israel replied, "No! The LORD has summoned these three kings so he can hand them over to Moab!"

14 But Elisha responded, "As the LORD of the Heavenly Armies lives, in whose presence I stand, I would never pay attention to you or even look in your direction were it not for my continual respect for the presence of King Jehoshaphat of Judah.

15 Now bring me a musician." As the musician played, the hand of the LORD rested on Elisha,

16 so he said, "This is what the LORD says: 'Fill this valley with trench after trench!'

17 For this is what the LORD says: 'Though you won't see wind or storm, nevertheless that river will overflow with water so that you, your cattle, and your livestock may drink.'

18 And this is the easy part for the LORD — he's also going to hand the Moabites over to you!

19 Then you are to attack every fortified city and every significant city. Cut down every significant tree, fill in all of the water springs, and ruin every prime piece of land with stones."

20 The very next day, about the time of the morning offering, water suddenly appeared, coming from the direction of Edom, and the land overflowed with water!

21 Meanwhile, all the Moabites heard that the kings had come up to attack them, so everyone old enough to wear battle armour was mustered to stand guard at the border.

22 As the Moabites arose early that morning, the sun cast its rays on the water, and to the Moabites, the water across from them appeared to be red like blood.

23 So they concluded, "This must be blood! The kings must have had one mighty big fight and each man killed the other! So let's go get the battle spoil, Moab!"

24 But when the Moabites arrived at the Israeli encampment, the Israelis got up and attacked them. The Moabites ran away from the Israelis, who followed them into the land as they continued their pursuit against Moab.

25 They destroyed their cities, and all of them threw stones onto every piece of farm land, ruining the fields. Then they filled in all the water wells and chopped down all of the useful trees. Stone walls remained surrounding Kir-hareseth only, until the archers surrounded and attacked that city.

26 When the king of Moab realized that the battle was going strongly against him, he took 700 expert swordsmen to attempt to break through to the king of Edom, but was unable to do so.

27 So he took his first born son, whom he intended to reign after him, and offered him up as a burnt offering on the wall. There subsequently came great anger against Israel, so they abandoned the attack and returned to their homeland.

2 Kings 4

1 Now there happened to be a certain woman who had been the wife of a member of the Guild of Prophets. She cried out to Elisha, "My husband who served you has died, and you know that your servant feared the LORD. But a creditor has come to take away my children into indentured servitude!"

2 Elisha responded, "What shall I do for you? Tell me what you have in your house?" She replied, "Your servant has nothing in the entire house except for a flask of oil."

3 He told her, "Go out to all of your neighbours in the surrounding streets and borrow lots of pots from them. Don't get just a few empty vessels, either."

4 Then go in and shut the door behind you, taking only your children, and pour oil into all of the pots. As each one is filled, set it aside."

5 So she left Elisha, shut the door behind her and her children, and while they kept on bringing vessels to her, she kept on pouring oil.

6 When the last of the vessels had been filled, she told her son, "Bring me another pot!" But he replied, "There isn't even one pot left." Then the oil stopped flowing.

7 After this, she went and told the man of God what had happened. So he said, "Go sell the oil, pay your debt, and you and your children will be able to live on the proceeds."

8 Some time later, Elisha went to Shunem, where he met a prominent and wealthy woman who persuaded him to have a meal with her. As a result, whenever he was in the area, he stopped by to eat with her.

9 So she had a talk with her husband. "Look here! I've learned that this is a holy and godly man who comes by here on a regular basis."

10 Now then, let's build a small upper room and put a bed in it for him there, along with a table, a chair, and a lamp stand. That way, when he comes to visit, he can rest there."

11 One day Elisha came by to visit and stopped in to rest in the upper chamber.

12 He told his attendant Gehazi, "Call this Shunammite." So when he had summoned her, she stood in front of him.

13 Elisha told him, "Ask her, 'Look how you've gone to all this trouble to care for us! What can I do for you? Do you wish to be mentioned to the king or to the head of the army?'" She replied, "I'm at home living among my own people."

14 He responded, "What, then, is to be done on her behalf?" Gehazi answered, "Well, she has no son and her husband is growing old."

15 "Call her," Elisha ordered. After he called her, she came and stood in the doorway,

16 and he told her, "About this time next year you will be embracing a son." "No, sir! Please, as a godly man, don't mislead your servant!"

17 But the woman did conceive and did bear a son at that very same time the next year, just as Elisha had told her.

18 After the child had grown up a bit, one day he went out to visit his father, who was with the harvesters.

19 He told his father, "My head! My head!" So his father ordered his servant, "Carry him over to his mother!"

20 So the servant carried him over to his mother, where he rested on her lap until mid-day, and then he died.

21 The woman went upstairs, laid him on the bed belonging to the man of God, and shut the door, leaving him behind as she left.

22 Then she called to her husband and asked him, "Please send me one of the servants, along with one of the donkeys, so I can ride quickly to see that godly man. I'll be right back."

23 He asked her, "What's the point of visiting him today? It's not a New Moon, and it isn't the Sabbath!" But she kept saying, "Things will go well."

24 So she saddled a donkey and told her servant, "Forward, driver! Don't slow down on my account, unless I tell you!"

25 So out she went and eventually she arrived at Mount Carmel to visit the man of God. When the man of God noticed her from a distance, he told his attendant Gehazi, "Look! There's the woman from Shunem!"

26 Please run out quickly and greet her. Ask her, 'Are things going well with you? Are things going well with your husband? Are things going well with your child?'" She answered Gehazi, "Things are going well."

27 As she came near the man of God on the mountain, she grabbed his feet. When Gehazi intervened to push her away, the man of God said, "Leave her alone! She is deeply troubled! The LORD has concealed the thing from me, and hasn't informed me."

28 Then she asked, "Did I ask my lord for a son? Didn't I beg you, 'Don't mislead me?'"

29 At this he told Gehazi, "Get ready to run! Take my staff in your hand, and get on the road. Don't greet anyone you meet. If anyone greets you, don't respond. Just go lay my staff on the youngster's face."

30 At this the youngster's mother replied, "As long as you and the LORD live, I'm not leaving you!" So he got up and followed her.

31 Meanwhile, Gehazi went on ahead of them and placed the staff on the youngster's face, but when there was no sound or reaction, he returned, met Elisha, and told him, "The youngster has shown no sign of awakening."

32 When Elisha entered the house, there was the youngster, dead and laid out on Elisha's bed!

33 So he entered, shut the door behind them both, and prayed to the LORD.

34 Then he approached the child and lay down with his mouth near the child's, with his eyes near those of the child, and taking the child's hands in his. As Elisha stretched himself on the child, the child's flesh began to grow warm.

35 Then he went downstairs, walked around back and forth inside the house once, went back up to his upper chamber, and stretched himself over the child again. The young man sneezed seven times and then opened his eyes.

36 He called out to Gehazi, "Go get the Shunammite woman!" So he called her. When she came in to see Elisha, he told her, "Take back your son!"

37 Then she approached him, fell at his feet, bowing low to the ground, took back her son, and went out.

Luke 2

36 Now Anna, a prophetess, was also there. She was a descendant of Phanuel from the tribe of Asher. She was very old, having lived with her husband for seven years after her marriage,
37 and then as a widow for 84 years. She never left the Temple, but continued to worship there night and day with times of fasting and prayer.
38 Just then she came forward and began to thank God and to speak about Jesus to everyone who was waiting for the redemption of Jerusalem.
39 After doing everything required by the Law of the Lord, Joseph and Mary returned to their hometown of Nazareth in Galilee.
40 Meanwhile, the child continued to grow and to become strong. He was filled with wisdom, and God's favour rested upon him.
41 Every year Jesus' parents would go to Jerusalem for the Passover Festival.
42 When Jesus was twelve years old, they went up to the festival as usual.
43 When the days of the festival were over, they left for home. The young man Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but his parents did not know it.
44 They thought that he was in their group of travellers. After travelling for a day, they started looking for him among their relatives and friends.
45 When they did not find him, they returned to Jerusalem, searching desperately for him.
46 Three days later they found him in the Temple sitting among the teachers, listening to them, and posing questions to them.
47 All who heard him were amazed at his intelligence and his answers.
48 When Jesus' parents saw him, they were shocked. His mother asked him, "Son, why have you treated us like this? Your father and I have been worried sick looking for you!"
49 He asked them, "Why were you looking for me? Didn't you know that I had to be in my Father's house?"
50 But they did not understand what he told them.
51 Then he went back with them, returning to Nazareth and remaining in submission to them. His mother continued to treasure all these things in her heart.
52 Meanwhile, Jesus kept on growing wiser and more mature, and in favour with God and his fellow man.

Luke 3

1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Caesar Tiberius, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituraea and Trachonitis, Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,
2 and Annas and Caiaphas high priests, a message from God came to John, the son of Zechariah, in the wilderness.
3 John went throughout the entire Jordan region, proclaiming a baptism about repentance for the forgiveness of sins,
4 as it is written in the book of the words of the prophet Isaiah, "He is a voice calling out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way for the Lord! Make his paths straight!
5 Every valley will be filled, and every mountain and hill will be levelled. The crooked ways will be made straight, and the rough roads will be made smooth.
6 Everyone will see the salvation that God has provided.'"

2 Kings 4

38 Elisha returned to Gilgal during a time of famine in the land. While the Guild of Prophets were having a meal with him, he instructed his attendant, "Put a large pot on the fire and boil some stew for the Guild of Prophets."

39 Somebody went out into the fields to grab some herbs, found a wild vine, and gathered a lap full of wild gourds, which he came and sliced up into the stew pot, but nobody else knew.

40 When they served the men, they began to eat the stew. But they cried out, "That pot of stew is deadly, you man of God!" So they couldn't eat the stew.

41 But he replied, "Bring me some flour." He tossed it into the pot and said, "Serve the people so they can eat." Then there was nothing harmful in the pot.

42 Later on, a man arrived from Baal-shalishah, bringing the man of God some bread as a first fruit offering. He had 20 loaves of barley and ripe ears of corn in his sack. So Elisha said, "Give them to the people so they can eat."

43 Elisha's attendant asked, "What? Will this serve 100 men?" But he replied, "Distribute it to the people so they can eat, because this is what the LORD says: 'They will eat and have a surplus!'"

44 So he served them, and they ate and had some left over, just as the LORD had indicated.

2 Kings 5

1 Naaman, the commander of the army of the king of Aram, was a great man in the opinion of his master. He was highly favoured, because by him the LORD had given victory to Aram. Though he was a mighty and valiant man, he was suffering from leprosy.

2 On one of their raids to the territory of Israel, Aram had taken captive a young girl when she was an infant, who had eventually become an attendant to Naaman's wife.

3 She mentioned to her mistress, "If only my master were to visit the prophet who is in Samaria! He would cure him of his leprosy."

4 Later, Naaman went to inform his master and told him something like this: "Thus and so spoke the young woman from the territory of Israel."

5 The king of Aram replied, "Go now, and I'll send a letter to the king of Israel." So he left and took with him ten talents of silver and 6,000 units of gold, along with ten sets of clothing.

6 He also brought the letter to the king of Israel, which read as follows: ". . . and now as this letter finds its way to you, look! I've sent my servant Naaman to you so you may heal him of his leprosy."

7 When the king of Israel read the letter, he ripped his clothes and cried out, "Am I God? Can I kill and give life? Is this man sending me a request to heal a man's leprosy? Let's think about this — he's looking for a reason to start a fight with me!"

8 When Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his clothes, he sent a message to the king and asked, "Why did you tear your clothes? Please, let the man come visit me and he will learn that there is a prophet in Israel!"

9 So Naaman arrived with his horses and chariots and stood in front of the door to Elisha's house.

10 Elisha sent a messenger out to him, who told him, "Go bathe in the Jordan River seven times. Your flesh will be restored for you. Now stay clean!"

11 But Naaman flew into a rage and left, telling himself, "Look! I thought 'He's surely going to come out to me, stand still, call out in the name of the LORD his God, wave his hand over the infection, and cure the leprosy!'"

12 Aren't the Abana and Pharpar rivers in Damascus better than all of the water in Israel? Couldn't I just bathe in them and become clean?" So he turned away and left, filled with anger.

13 But then his servants approached him and spoke with him. They said, "My father, had the prophet only asked of you something great, you would have done it, wouldn't you? Yet he told you, 'Bathe, and be clean. . . !'"

14 So he went down and plunged himself into the Jordan River seven times, just as the man of God had said, and his flesh rejuvenated like the flesh of a new-born child. And he was clean.

15 Naaman went back to the man of God, along with his entire entourage, and stood before him. "Please look!" he said. "I know that there is no God in all the earth, except in Israel! So please, take a present from your servant."

16 But Elisha replied, "As the LORD lives, before whom I stand, I will not receive anything from you." Though Naaman urged him to take it, Elisha declined.

17 So Naaman asked, "No? Then please let your servant load two mules with dirt from Israel, because your servant will no longer offer any burnt offering or sacrifice to any other god but the LORD.

18 In this one area may the LORD pardon your servant: Whenever my master enters the temple of Rimmon to worship there, he will lean on my hand while I bow down in the temple of Rimmon. So may the LORD pardon your servant in this one area."

19 "Go in peace," he said. So Naaman left. After Naaman had gone only a short distance, 20 Gehazi, the attendant to Elisha the man of God, told himself, "Look how my master has spared this Aramean Naaman! He declined to take from him what he brought. As the LORD lives, I'm going to run after him and get something from him."

21 So Gehazi ran after Naaman. When Naaman noticed someone running after him, he came down from his chariot, greeted him and asked, "Is everything all right?"

22 Gehazi said, "Everything's all right. My master sent me to tell you, 'Just now two men from the Guild of Prophets have arrived from the hill country of Ephraim. Please give them a talent of silver bullion and two sets of clothes.'"

23 But Naaman said, "Please accept my invitation to take two talents of silver bullion." He urged him, binding two talents of silver bullion in two bags, along with two sets of clothes. He placed them in the care of two of his young men, and they went on ahead of Gehazi.

24 When he arrived at the stronghold, Gehazi took the bags from their custody and hid them away in the house. Then he sent the men away and they left.

25 Later he went to address his master. Elisha asked him, "Where did you go, Gehazi?" "Your servant went nowhere in particular," he said.

26 But Elisha responded, "Didn't my heart break as the man was turning from his chariot to greet you? Is now the time to receive money? To receive clothes? And olive groves, vineyards, sheep, oxen, servants, or female attendants?"

27 Naaman's leprosy will plague you and your descendants forever!" As he left Elisha's presence, he was infected with leprosy that looked like white snow.

2 Kings 6

1 One day the Guild of Prophets told Elisha, "Notice how the place where we are living is too small for us.

2 Let's go to the Jordan River, fashion some rafters, and build a place for us so we can live there." So he said, "Go!"

3 Someone said "Would you be willing to come with your servants?" "I'm willing," he replied

4 So he accompanied them, and when they came to the Jordan River they cut down some trees.

5 It happened that as one of them was felling a beam, his axe head fell into the water. He cried out, "Oh no! Master! The axe was on loan to me!"

6 The man of God asked, "Where did it fall?" When he was shown the place, he cut off a branch, tossed it there, and made the iron axe head float.

7 Then Elisha said, "Pick it up!" So the young man reached out and picked it up.

8 Eventually the king of Aram went to war against Israel, taking counsel with his advisors and concluding, "In such and such a place I'll build my encampment."

9 So the man of God sent a message to the king of Israel, warning him, "Keep an eye on that area, because the Arameans are going to be there!"

10 The king of Israel confirmed the matter about which the man of God had warned him. Having been forewarned, he was able to protect himself there on more than one or two occasions.

11 The king of Aram flew into a rage over this, so he called in his advisors and asked them, "Will you please tell me which of us has joined the king of Israel?"

12 "No, your majesty!" One of his servants said. "Elisha the prophet, who lives in Israel, tells the king of Israel what you talk about in your bedroom!"

13 So the king ordered, "Go and discover where he is, so I may send men to take him into custody." Later somebody told him, "Look! He's in Dothan!"

14 So the king of Aram sent out horses, chariots, and an elite force, and they arrived during the night and surrounded the city.

15 Meanwhile, the attendant to the man of God got up early in the morning and went outside, and there were the elite forces, surrounding the city, accompanied by horses and chariots! So Elisha's attendant cried out to him, "Oh no! Master! What will we do!?"

16 Elisha replied, "Stop being afraid, because there are more with us than with them!"

17 Then Elisha prayed, asking the LORD, "Please make him able to really see!" And so when the LORD enabled the young man to see, he looked, and there was the mountain, filled with horses and fiery chariots surrounding Elisha!

18 When the army approached him, Elisha spoke to the LORD, asking him, "LORD, I'm asking you please to afflict this group of people with blindness!" So he afflicted them with blindness, just as Elisha had asked.

19 Then Elisha told the army, "This isn't the way, and this isn't the city! Follow me, and I'll bring you to the man you're seeking. Then he led them to Samaria.

20 When they arrived in Samaria, Elisha asked the LORD, "Enable them to see again." So the LORD did so, and there they were — right in the middle of Samaria!

21 When the king of Israel saw Elisha, he asked him "Shall I execute them, my father!"

22 But he replied, "No! You're not to kill them! Would you execute those whom you've taken captive at the point of a sword or with your bow? Give them food and water so they can eat and drink. Then send them back to their master!"

23 So he prepared a large feast for them, and when they had finished eating and drinking, he sent them back to their master, and marauding gangs of Arameans never came into the territory of Israel again.

24 Some time later, King Ben-hadad from Aram mustered his army, invaded the land, and attacked Samaria

25 until there was a great famine throughout Samaria. The siege lasted until a donkey's head cost 80 silver coins and one quarter of a unit of dove's dung cost five silver coins.

26 While the king of Israel was walking along the city wall, a woman cried out to him. "Help me, your majesty!" she said.

27 He replied, "No! Since the LORD won't give you victory, how will I be able to deliver you? From the threshing floor? From the wine press?"

28 Then the king asked her, "What's bothering you?" She said, "This woman told me, 'Give up your son, and we'll eat him today, and we'll eat your son tomorrow.'"

29 So we boiled my son and ate him. The next day, I told her, 'Give me your son so we can eat him!' But she has hidden her son!"

30 When the king heard what the woman said, he ripped his garments as he continued walking along the city wall. As the people watched, all of a sudden they noticed he was wearing sackcloth underneath his clothes, inside next to his flesh!

31 He said, "May God do to me — and more also! — if the head of Shaphat's son Elisha remains on his shoulders today!"

Luke 3

7 John would say to the crowds that were coming out to be baptized by him, "You children of serpents! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath?"

8 Produce fruit that is consistent with repentance! Don't begin to say to yourselves, 'We have father Abraham!' because I tell you that God can raise up descendants for Abraham from these stones!

9 The axe already lies against the roots of the trees. So every tree not producing good fruit will be cut down and thrown into a fire."

10 The crowds kept asking him, "What, then, should we do?"

11 He answered them, "The person who has two coats must share with the one who doesn't have any, and the person who has food must do the same."

12 Even some tax collectors came to be baptized. They asked him, "Teacher, what should we do?"

13 He told them, "Stop collecting more money than the amount you are told to collect."

14 Even some soldiers were asking him, "And what should we do?" He told them, "Never extort money from anyone by threats or blackmail, and be satisfied with your pay."

15 Now the people were filled with expectation, and all of them were wondering if John was perhaps the Messiah.

16 John replied to all of them, "I am baptizing you with water, but one is coming who is more powerful than I, and I'm not worthy to untie his sandal straps. It is he who will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire.

17 His winnowing fork is in his hand to clean up his threshing floor. He will gather the grain into his barn, but he will burn the chaff with inextinguishable fire."

18 With many other exhortations John continued to proclaim the good news to the people.

19 Now Herod the tetrarch had been rebuked by John because he had married his brother's wife Herodias and because of all of the other evil things Herod had done.

20 Added to all this, Herod locked John up in prison.

21 When all the people had been baptized, Jesus, too, was baptized. While he was praying, heaven opened,

22 and the Holy Spirit descended on him, appearing in the form of a dove. Then a voice came from heaven, saying, "You are my Son, whom I love. I am pleased with you!"

23 Jesus himself was about 30 years old when he began his ministry. He was (so it was thought) the son of Joseph, the son of Heli,

24 the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, the son of Melchi, the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph,

25 the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum, the son of Esli, the son of Naggai,

26 the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semein, the son of Josech, the son of Joda,

27 the son of Joanan, the son of Rhesa, the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Shealtiel, the son of Neri,

28 the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam, the son of Elmadam, the son of Er,

29 the son of Joshua, the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim, the son of Matthat, the son of Levi,

30 the son of Simeon, the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonam, the son of Eliakim,

31 the son of Melea, the son of Menna, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David,

2 Kings 6

32 Meanwhile, Elisha was sitting in his house, along with the elders, when the king sent a man to kill him, but before the messenger arrived, Elisha told the elders, "Are you watching how this descendant of murderers has ordered my head be cut off? Look, when the messenger arrives, shut the door and hold it to shut them out! Don't you hear the sound of his master's feet right behind him?"

33 While he was still talking with them, the messenger arrived to see him and delivered the king's message to Elisha, "Look! This evil has come from the LORD! Why should I wait for the LORD anymore?"

2 Kings 7

1 So Elisha responded, "Listen to this message from the LORD! 'This is what the LORD says: "At about this time tomorrow in Samaria's city gate a seah of finely ground flour will sell for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel.'""

2 But the royal attendant on whom the king depended responded to the man of God: "Look here! Even if the LORD were to open a window in the sky, how could this happen?" He replied, "No, you look! You'll see it with your eyes, but you won't eat any of it!"

3 Now there happened to be four lepers who were at that very moment at the entrance to the city gate. As they were talking with one another, they said, "Why are we sitting here waiting to die?

4 If we tell ourselves, 'Let's remain in the city,' we'll die there since there's famine in the city. But if we sit here, we'll die, too. So let's go over to the Arameans! If they spare our lives, we'll live, and if they kill us. . . we're dying anyway!"

5 So they got up at dusk and went out to the Aramean encampment. But when they arrived at the outskirts of the Aramean encampment, there was no one there!

6 The LORD had made the Aramean army hear the sounds of chariots, horses, and a large army, so they told one another, "Look! The king of Israel has hired the kings of the Hittites and the Egyptians to come attack us!"

7 So the Arameans got up and ran away in the gathering darkness. They left behind their tents, horses, and donkeys just as they were — and fled for their lives!

8 When the lepers arrived at the outskirts of the encampment, they entered one tent and ate and drank. Then they carried off from there some silver, gold, and clothes, and went out and hid them. After this they returned, entered another tent, raided it, and went and hid all of that, too!

9 But then they told each other. "We're not doing the right thing. This is a day of good news, but if we keep quiet until morning, we're sure to be punished! So let's leave and go tell the king's household!"

10 So they left, called out to the city gatekeepers, and reported to them: "We went out to the Aramean encampment, and there was nobody there! Not even the sound of men — only horses and donkeys tied up, and tents left just as they were!"

11 The gatekeepers announced the report to the king's attendants,

12 so the king got up in the middle of the night and ordered his servants: "Let me explain what the Arameans have done to us. They know that we're hungry, so they've left their encampment to conceal themselves in the surrounding fields. They're telling themselves, 'When they come out of the city, we'll capture them alive and enter the city!'"

13 One of his attendants suggested, "Please, let's take five of the remaining horses, since those who remain here will end up like the rest of Israel, which has already died, and we'll send them out to look."

14 So they took two chariots and horses, and the king sent them out after the Aramean army with the orders, "Go and look!"

15 They went out in the direction of the Jordan River, and the entire roadway was strewn with clothes and equipment that the Arameans had abandoned in their haste to leave! So the messengers returned and reported to the king.

16 At this, the people went out and plundered the camp of the Arameans. At that time, a seah of finely ground flour was sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel, in accordance with the LORD's message.

17 Meanwhile, the king appointed the same royal attendant on whom he depended to take control of the city gate, but the people trampled him to death in the gate, just as the man of God had told the king when the king came down to him.

18 It happened just as the man of God had spoken to the king: "At about this time tomorrow in Samaria's city gate a seah of finely ground flour will sell for a shekel, and two seahs of barley for a shekel."

19 But the royal attendant on whom the king depended responded to the man of God: "Look here! Even if the LORD were to make a window in the sky, how could this happen?" He replied, "No, you look! You'll see it with your eyes, but you won't eat any of it!"

20 And so it happened to him, because the people trampled him in the city gate and he died.

2 Kings 8

1 Meanwhile, Elisha urged the woman whose son he had restored to life, "You must get up and leave with your household to go live wherever you can, because the LORD has called for a famine, and it's going to come over the land for seven years."

2 So the woman followed the instructions given to her by the man of God, and she went to the territory of the Philistines to live for seven years with her household.

3 At the end of the seven years, the woman returned from the territory of the Philistines and went to the king in order to file an appeal regarding her house and her grain field.

4 The king was talking with Gehazi, the attendant of the man of God. He had asked Gehazi, "Please tell me about all of the great things that Elisha has done."

5 Just as he was telling the king about Elisha's having restored the dead to life, the woman whose son had been restored arrived and appealed to the king for her house and her land! Gehazi told the king, "Your majesty, this is the woman! And here's her son, whom Elisha restored to life!"

6 The king consulted with the woman, who related the story. So the king appointed a court official to represent her and ordered him: "Restore to her everything that belonged to her, including all of the produce that her fields yielded from the day she left the land until now."

7 Later on, Elisha travelled to Damascus. King Ben-hadad of Aram was ill, but someone informed him, "The man of God has come here!"

8 So the king told Hazael, "Take a gift with you and go meet the man of God. Inquire of the LORD through him and ask, 'Will I recover from this sickness.'"

9 So Hazael went out to meet with him and took a gift with him — 40 camel loads filled with samples of everything good in Damascus. He approached the man of God and said, "Your son King Ben-hadad from Aram has sent me to you to ask you, 'Will I recover from this sickness?'"

10 But Elisha told him, "Go tell him, 'You will certainly recover,' but the LORD has shown me that he will certainly die."

11 Then Elisha looked steadily at Hazael until Hazael grew ashamed, and then the man of God began to cry.

12 "Why are you crying, sir?" Hazael asked. "Because I know the evil that you're about to bring on the Israelis," he replied. "You'll burn down their fortified cities, execute their young men with swords, dash to pieces their little ones, and you'll tear open their pregnant women!"

13 But Hazael responded, "What? Who am I, your servant, that I should do such a horrible thing?" But Elisha answered, "The LORD has shown me that you will be king over Aram."

14 So he left Elisha and returned to his master, who asked him, "What did Elisha tell you?" He replied, "He told me that you would certainly get better."

15 But the very next day, Hazael grabbed a thick covering, soaked it in water, and spread it over the king's face, and he suffocated. Then Hazael succeeded Ben-hadad as king.

16 Sometime during the fifth year of the reign of Ahab's son Joram, king of Israel (while Jehoshaphat was still ruling as king of Judah), Jehoshaphat's son Jehoram ascended to the throne of Judah.

17 He was 32 years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for eight years.

18 He lived his life like the kings of Israel did, following the example of Ahab's household when he married Ahab's daughter and practised what was evil in the LORD's presence.

19 But the LORD remained unwilling to destroy Judah for the sake of his servant David, since he had promised to keep David's lamp burning brightly through his descendants every day.

20 During Jehoram's lifetime, Edom rebelled from Judah's hegemony and appointed a king to rule over themselves.

21 Then Joram crossed over to Zair, along with all of his chariots. At night he attacked the Edomites who had surrounded him and the commanders of his chariots, but the army ran away to their tents.

22 Edom remains in rebellion against Judah to this day, and Libnah revolted at the same time.

23 The rest of the official acts of Joram, along with everything else that he did, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

24 After Joram was laid to rest with his ancestors in the city of David, his son Ahaziah replaced him as king.

25 Joram's son Ahaziah began to reign as king of Judah during the twelfth year of the reign of Ahab's son Joram, king of Israel.

26 Ahaziah was 22 years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for one year. His mother was named Athaliah. She was the granddaughter of Omri, king of Israel.

27 Ahaziah lived his life following the example of Ahab's household, practising what the LORD considered to be evil, just like the household of Ahab, because he was a son-in-law to Ahab's household.

28 He joined Ahab's son Joram in an attack on King Hazael of Aram at Ramoth-gilead, and that's where the Arameans wounded Joram.

29 Then King Joram retreated to Jezreel to recover from the wounds that the Arameans had inflicted on him at Ramah during the battle against King Hazael of Aram. Jehoram's son Ahaziah, king of Judah, went to visit Ahab's son Joram in Jezreel because Joram was sick.

2 Kings 9

1 Elisha called one of the members of the Guild of Prophets and told him, "Get ready to run, take this flask of oil in your hand, and go to Ramoth-gilead.

2 As soon as you get there, go find Jehoshaphat's son Jehu, the grandson of Nimshi. When you do, go in, tell him to get up and go apart with you away from his brothers. Lead him into a private chamber,

3 take the flask of oil, and pour it out on his head. Then tell him, 'This is what the LORD says: I'm anointing you king over Israel.' Then open the door and leave. Don't linger there!"

4 So the young man, who was an attendant to the prophet, went to Ramoth-gilead.

5 When he arrived, the army commanders were seated, so he said, "I have a message for you, captain!" Jehu asked, "For which one of us?" "For you, captain!" he answered.

6 So Jehu got up and went inside the house, and the young man told him, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says: 'I have anointed you king over the people of the LORD — that is, over Israel.

7 You are to attack the household of your master Ahab, so I may avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, as well as the blood of all of the servants of the LORD that has been spilled at Jezebel's orders.

8 The entire household of Ahab will die, and I will cut off from Ahab every male person in Israel, whether imprisoned or surviving.

9 I will make the household of Ahab like the household of Nebat's son Jeroboam and the household of Ahijah's son Baasha.

10 Furthermore, the dogs will eat Jezebel in the territory of Jezreel. There will be no burial for her.'" Then he opened the door and left.

Luke 4

1 Then Jesus, filled with the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan River. He was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,
2 where he was being tempted by the devil for 40 days. During that time he ate nothing at all, and when they were over he became hungry.
3 The devil told him, "Since you are the Son of God, tell this stone to become a loaf of bread."
4 Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'One must not live on bread alone, but on every word of God.'"
5 The devil also took him to a high place and showed him all the kingdoms of the world in an instant.
6 He told Jesus, "I will give you all this authority, along with their glory, because it has been given to me, and I give it to anyone I please.
7 So if you will worship me, all this will be yours."
8 But Jesus answered him, "It is written, 'You must worship the Lord your God and serve only him.'"
9 The devil also took him into Jerusalem and had him stand on the highest point of the Temple. He told Jesus, "Since you are the Son of God, throw yourself down from here,
10 because it is written, 'God will put his angels in charge of you to watch over you carefully.
11 With their hands they will hold you up, so that you will never hit your foot against a rock.'"
12 Jesus answered him, "It has been said, 'You must not tempt the Lord your God.'"
13 After the devil had finished tempting Jesus in every possible way, he left him until another time.
14 Then Jesus returned to Galilee by the power of the Spirit. Meanwhile, the news about him spread throughout the surrounding country.
15 He began to teach in their synagogues and was continuously receiving praise from everyone.

2 Kings 9

11 As Jehu was coming out to his master's attendants, one of them asked him, "Is everything all right? Why did this maniac visit you?" "You know the man and how he speculates," Jehu replied.

12 "That's a lie!" they said. "Tell us what's going on!" "He said 'This and that' to me," he responded. "'This is what the LORD says: 'I have anointed you king over Israel.'"

13 At this, each man quickly grabbed his own garment, placed it under him at the top of the stairs, sounded a trumpet, and announced, "Jehu is king!"

14 Meanwhile, Jehoshaphat's son Jehu, the grandson of Nimshi had been conspiring against Joram while Joram and all the army of Israel had been defending Ramoth-gilead against King Hazael from Aram.

15 King Jehoram had returned to Jezreel to recover from wounds he had sustained from the Arameans when he had fought against King Hazael from Aram. So Jehu concluded, "Since this is what you've decided, then let no one get away, leave the city, and go report to Jezreel!"

16 Then Jehu rode by chariot to Jezreel, since Joram was recovering there. King Ahaziah from Judah had come to visit Joram.

17 While the watchman was standing guard in the tower at Jezreel, he watched Jehu's entourage arrive. So he called out, "I see a group arriving." Joram ordered, "Take a horseman, send him out to meet them, and have him ask, 'Have you come in peace?'"

18 So a horseman went out, greeted Jehu and said, "This is what the king said: 'Have you come in peace?'" But Jehu responded, "What do you have to do with peace? Fall in behind me." The watchman reported, "The messenger arrived there, but he hasn't returned."

19 Then Joram sent out a second horseman, who went out to them and said, "This is what the king said: 'Have you come in peace?'" Jehu responded, "What do you have to do with peace? Fall in behind me."

20 The watchman reported to Joram, "He arrived there, but he hasn't returned. Also, he drives like Nimshi's son Jehu drives — irrationally!"

21 Joram replied, "Let's begin our attack!" As soon as his chariot was prepared, both King Joram of Israel and King Ahaziah of Judah went out, each in his own chariot, to fight against Jehu. They met together in the property that had belonged to Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 As soon as Joram noticed Jehu, he cried out, "Peace, Jehu?" Jehu replied, "What peace, given your mother Jezebel's prostitution and all of her witchcraft?"

23 Joram reined his horse around to flee and cried out to Ahaziah, "Ahaziah! Treachery!"

24 But Jehu drew his bow with all of his strength, shooting Joram between his shoulder blades. The arrow pierced his heart, and he collapsed in his chariot.

25 After this, Jehu called out to Bidkar, his third in command, "Pick up Joram's body and throw it in the field, the property that belonged to Naboth the Jezreelite, because you and I remember how when we were riding together in pursuit of his father Ahab, that the LORD pronounced this oracle against him:

26 'This is what the LORD says, "I have certainly observed the blood of Naboth and his sons, and I will repay you on this property," declares the LORD.' "Therefore take the body and throw it in the field, just as the LORD said."

27 As soon as King Ahaziah of Judah observed this, he attempted to flee by the garden house road, but Jehu pursued him. At the ascent toward Gur which is near Ibleam, he ordered, "Shoot him in the chariot, too!" Ahaziah fled to Megiddo, where he died.

28 Ahaziah's servants transported the king's body by chariot to Jerusalem and buried it in his own sepulchre near his ancestors in the city of David.

29 Ahaziah had begun to reign over Judah in the eleventh year of the reign of Ahab's son Joram.

30 As soon as Jehu arrived at Jezreel, Jezebel adorned her eyes, arranged her hair, and peered out a window.

31 When Jehu had entered through the gate, she asked, "Was Zimri, who murdered his master, received well?"

32 Jehu looked up toward the window and called out, "Who is on my side? Who?" When two or three eunuchs looked out at him,

33 he ordered, "Throw her down!" So they did, and her blood splashed against the wall and on the horses, while Jehu trampled her underfoot.

34 Later on, after he had come in to eat and drink, he ordered, "Go and see to this cursed woman, and bury her, because she was a king's daughter."

35 But when they went out to bury her, they found nothing left of her except her skull, her feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 So they returned and reported to Jehu, and he responded, "This fulfils this message from the LORD that he spoke through his servant Elijah the foreigner, who said: 'Dogs will eat Jezebel's flesh on the property of Jezreel,

37 and her corpse will lie like dung on the surface of the field on the property in Jezreel, but no one will say, "This is Jezebel."'"

2 Kings 10

1 Meanwhile, Ahab had 70 sons who lived in Samaria. So Jehu wrote letters and sent them to Samaria — to the rulers of Jezreel, the elders, and the guardians of Ahab's children. He told them,

2 "As soon as you receive this letter (since your master's children are with you, you have chariots and horses there with you, and you are protected by a walled city and weaponry),

3 select the best and most qualified of your master's sons, set him in place on his father's throne, and fight for your master's dynasty!"

4 But they were too terrified, and so they told one another, "Look! Two previous kings couldn't stand up to Jehu, so how can we?"

5 So the household overseer, the city supervisor, along with the elders and the children's guardians sent word to Jehu, telling him, "We will serve you and do everything you ask. We won't set up a king, so do what you want to do."

6 But Jehu wrote them another letter: "If you're loyal to me, and if you intend to obey my commands, then bring the heads of your master's sons and meet me in Jezreel about this time tomorrow." Now the king's sons, totalling 70 men, were living with the leading men of the city, who were their guardians.

7 When the letter from Jehu arrived, the city leaders arrested the king's sons, slaughtered all 70 of them, put their heads in baskets, and sent them to Jehu at Jezreel.

8 When the messenger arrived to report to the king, he said, "They have brought the heads of the king's sons." Jehu replied, "Put them in two piles at the entrance of the city gate until morning."

9 The next morning, Jehu went out, stood still, and announced to all the people: "Are you righteous? I conspired against my master and killed him, but who slaughtered all of these?"

10 Keep this in mind — not a single statement by the LORD will fail to come about that he spoke concerning Ahab's dynasty, because the LORD has accomplished what he predicted by his servant Elijah."

11 So Jehu executed all those who remained from Ahab's dynasty in Jezreel, including all of Ahab's men, his friends, and his priests, until there remained not even one survivor.

12 Then Jehu got up, left the city, and went to Samaria. When he arrived at the shearing house that was located on the way,

13 Jehu met up with the relatives of king Ahaziah of Judah. He asked them "Who are you?" They answered, "We're Ahaziah's relatives, and we've come down to greet the king's sons and the sons of the queen mother."

14 Jehu ordered, "Take them alive!" So Jehu's soldiers captured them and executed all 42 of them near the pit at the shearing house. He left none of them alive.

15 After he left there, he encountered Rechab's son Jehonadab. After he greeted him, Jehu asked him, "Is your heart right, as my heart is with yours?" "It is," Jehonadab answered. "If it is," Jehu replied, "Put out your hand." So Jehonadab stuck out his hand, and Jehu took him up to stand in his chariot.

16 He told him, "Come with me and see my enthusiasm for the LORD!" So Jehu had Jehonadab ride in his chariot.

17 When Jehu arrived in Samaria, he executed everyone who remained of Ahab's household in Samaria, until he had utterly destroyed Ahab in accordance with the message from the LORD that he spoke to Elijah.

18 Then Jehu assembled all the people and announced to them, "Ahab served Baal a little, but Jehu will serve him a lot!

19 Therefore summon all of Baal's prophets to me, including all his worshippers and all his priests. Don't leave even one out, because I've prepared a great sacrifice for Baal. Whoever doesn't show up doesn't live!" But Jehu did this deceptively, intending to destroy Baal's worshippers.

20 Jehu ordered, "Set aside a solemn assembly for Baal!" And so they proclaimed it.

21 Jehu sent the proclamation throughout Israel, and all the Baal worshippers came. There wasn't a single man left who failed to come. When they entered Baal's temple, it was filled from one end to the other.

22 Then Jehu ordered the one in charge of the wardrobe, "Bring out garments for all of the worshippers of Baal." So he brought out garments for them.

23 Jehu and Rechab's son Jehonadab entered Baal's temple, and Jehu told the Baal worshippers, "Look around and be sure that no servant of the LORD is here among you, but only worshippers of Baal."

24 Then they went in to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Meanwhile, Jehu had stationed 80 men outside, ordering them, "If any of these men whom I've brought into your control escape, the one who allows it will forfeit his life."

25 As soon as he had completed the burnt offering, Jehu ordered the guards and the officers, "Go in and execute them. Don't let even one man escape." So they executed them with swords, and the guards and the officers threw the bodies out and proceeded into the inner room of Baal's temple, 26 from which they brought out the sacred pillars and burned them.

27 They also cut down the pillar to Baal, tore apart Baal's temple, and turned it into a latrine — and it remains that way today.

28 That's how Jehu eradicated Baal from Israel.

29 Even so, Jehu never abandoned the sins of Nebat's son Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin, regarding the golden calves that were at Bethel and Dan.

30 Nevertheless, the LORD told Jehu, "Because you have done well in carrying out what I saw as the right thing to do by completing everything I had in mind regarding Ahab's dynasty, your sons will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation."

31 But Jehu did not remain careful to walk in the instruction of the LORD God of Israel with all his heart. He never abandoned the sins of Jeroboam that had caused Israel to sin.

32 In those days the LORD began to reduce Israel in size: Hazael defeated them throughout the territory of Israel,

33 from the Jordan River eastward, all the territory of Gilead, the descendants of Gad, the descendants of Reuben, and the descendants of Manasseh, from Aroer by the Valley of the Arnon, including Gilead and Bashan.

- 34 Now as to the rest of Jehu's activities, including his valiant deeds, they are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?
- 35 Then Jehu died, as did his ancestors, and they buried him in Samaria. His son Jehoahaz reigned in his place.
- 36 Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria for 28 years.

Luke 4

16 Then Jesus came to Nazareth, where he had been raised. As was his custom, he went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day. When he stood up to read,

17 the scroll of the prophet Isaiah was handed to him. Unrolling the scroll, he found the place where it was written,

18 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; he has anointed me to tell the good news to the poor. He has sent me to announce release to the prisoners and recovery of sight to the blind, to set oppressed people free,

19 and to announce the year of the Lord's favour."

20 Then he rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant, and sat down. While the eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fixed on him,

21 he began to say to them, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled, as you've heard it read aloud."

22 All the people began to speak well of him and to wonder at the gracious words that flowed from his mouth. They said, "This is Joseph's son, isn't it?"

23 So he told them, "You will probably quote this proverb to me, 'Doctor, heal yourself! Do everything here in your hometown that we hear you did in Capernaum.'"

24 He added, "I tell all of you with certainty, a prophet is not accepted in his hometown.

25 I'm telling you the truth — there were many widows in Israel in Elijah's time, when it didn't rain for three years and six months and there was a severe famine everywhere in the land.

26 Yet Elijah wasn't sent to a single one of those widows except to one at Zarephath in Sidon.

27 There were also many lepers in Israel in the prophet Elisha's time, yet not one of them was cleansed except Naaman the Syrian."

28 All the people in the synagogue became furious when they heard this.

29 They got up, forced Jesus out of the city, and led him to the edge of the hill on which their city was built, intending to throw him off.

30 But he walked right through the middle of them and went away.

31 Then Jesus went down to Capernaum, a city in Galilee, and began teaching the people on Sabbath days.

32 They were utterly amazed at what he taught, because his message was spoken with authority.

33 In the synagogue was a man who had a demon. He screamed with a loud voice,

34 "Oh, no! What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are — the Holy One of God!"

35 But Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be quiet, and come out of him!" At this, the demon threw the man down in the middle of the synagogue and came out of him without hurting him.

36 Overwhelmed with amazement, they all kept saying to one another, "What kind of statement is this? — because with authority and power he gives orders to unclean spirits, and they come out!"

37 So news about him spread to every place in the surrounding region.

2 Kings 11

- 1 As soon as Ahaziah's mother Athaliah learned that her son had died, she seized the throne and executed the entire royal bloodline.
- 2 But King Joram's daughter Jehosheba, who was Ahaziah's sister, rescued Ahaziah's son Joash from the group of the king's sons who were being executed and hid him and his nurse in her bedroom, concealing him from Athaliah so he was not put to death.
- 3 So Joash remained hidden with her in the LORD's Temple for six years while Athaliah reigned over the land.
- 4 But during the seventh year of her reign, Jehoiada went out and called together the rulers of hundreds, the captains, and the guards, and assembled them together inside the LORD's Temple. He made a covenant with them, making them take an oath in the LORD's Temple, and then he revealed the king's son to them.
- 5 He ordered them: "Here's what we'll do: A third of you will enter here on this coming Sabbath dressed as guardians of the watch for the king's palace,
- 6 with a third of you at the Sur gate, and a third at the gate behind the guards. Keep watch over the palace and defend it.
- 7 Two of you who enter here on this coming Sabbath are to stand watch at the LORD's Temple,
- 8 guarding the king and surrounding him with weapons in hand. Whoever comes within range is to be killed. Stay with the king wherever he goes, coming or going."
- 9 So the captains of hundreds did just as Jehoiada the priest ordered. Each one of them assembled his men who were to enter on the Sabbath, along with those who were to leave on the Sabbath, and approached Jehoiada the priest.
- 10 The priest issued king David's personal spears and shields that had been stored in the LORD's Temple to the captains of hundreds.
- 11 So the guards stood assembled, every soldier with weapons in hand, surrounding the king from the right side corner of the Temple to the left side corner, including around the altar and the Temple.
- 12 Then he brought out the king's son, put the royal crown on him, presented him with the Testimony, and installed him as king. They anointed him, applauded, and said, "May the king live!"
- 13 When Athaliah heard all of the commotion coming from those who were guarding the people, she approached the people who were in the LORD's Temple.
- 14 She looked around — and there was the king, standing near a column, as was the royal custom! He was accompanied by the commanding officers, along with trumpeters who stood beside the king. All the people of the land sounded trumpets in their excitement. But Athaliah tore her clothes and bellowed, "It's a plot! A conspiracy!"
- 15 Jehoiada the priest commanded the captains in charge of the army, "Take her out the back way and execute anybody who follows her," since the priest had also issued this order: "Let's not put her to death in the LORD's Temple."
- 16 So they arrested Athaliah, took her out through the same entrance used by the horses for entering the king's palace, and executed her.
- 17 Then Jehoiada entered into a covenant with the LORD, the king, and the people, that they would live as the LORD's people, and also entered into a covenant with the king and the people.
- 18 Then all of the people of the land entered Baal's temple, tore it down, and broke his altars and his images to pieces, killing Mattan the priest of Baal right in front of the altars. Furthermore, Jehoiada the priest appointed officers to guard the LORD's Temple,

19 and brought the commanders of hundreds, the Carites, the guards, and all the people of the land, taking the king out of the LORD's Temple, marching through the guard's gate to the king's palace, where Joash took his seat on the throne of the kings.

20 After this, everyone throughout the land rejoiced and the city was at peace, because they had executed Athaliah at the king's palace.

21 Jehoash began to reign as king when he was seven years old,

2 Kings 12

1 ascending to the throne in the seventh year of the reign of Jehu and then reigning for 40 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Zibiah from Beer-sheba.

2 Jehoash did what the LORD considered to be right during the entire time when Jehoiada the priest was instructing him,

3 except that the high places were not demolished, so the people continued to sacrifice and burn incense on the high places.

4 Jehoash spoke to the priests about all of the proceeds of the consecrated gifts that were being brought into the LORD's Temple, cash from every man who was travelling through the area, cash obtained by personal assessment, and all the cash that came through voluntary gifts into the LORD's Temple:

5 "Let the priests get support for themselves from their own donors, and let them repair the Temple wherever a leak in need of repair is discovered."

6 But 23 years into the reign of king Jehoash, the priests still had not repaired the leaks in the Temple.

7 So king Jehoash called for Jehoiada the priest, along with other priests, and asked them, "Why haven't you fixed the leaks in the Temple? Stop receiving donations from your acquaintances for repairing the leaks in the Temple."

8 So the priests agreed to receive no more cash from the people, but they didn't repair the leaks in the Temple, either.

9 So Jehoiada the priest grabbed a chest, bored an opening in its lid, and placed it next to the altar, on the right side as one enters the LORD's Temple. The priests who tended the entryway put all the money that was brought into the LORD's Temple into the chest.

10 As a result, whenever they noticed that there was a lot of money in the chest, the king's secretary and the high priest went forward, put the money in bags, counted the money that had been given over to the LORD's Temple,

11 and disbursed the cash directly into the hands of those who did the work and who were in charge of the oversight of the LORD's Temple. They paid it to the carpenters and builders who worked on the LORD's Temple,

12 to masons and stonecutters, and for procurement of timber and quarried stone for making repairs to the LORD's Temple, and for all outlays needed for repairs of the Temple.

13 But no provision was included for the LORD's Temple from the money that was brought into the LORD's Temple for silver basins, snuffers, bowls, trumpets, or any vessels made of gold or silver, 14 because that money had been allocated to the workmen who were repairing the LORD's Temple.

15 Furthermore, they required no accounting from the men into whose hand they had paid the money to do the work, because the workers acted in good faith.

16 The money from the guilt offerings and from the sin offerings was not brought into the LORD's Temple, because it was allocated to the priests.

17 Later, King Hazael of Aram invaded and attacked Gath, captured it, and then set out to approach Jerusalem.

18 So King Jehoash of Judah took all of the sacred things that his ancestors Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah, kings of Judah, had dedicated, along with his own dedicated things, and all the gold that could be located within the treasure vaults of the LORD's Temple and in the king's palace, and paid off King Hazael of Aram. Then Hazael left Jerusalem.

19 Now the rest of Joash's activities — everything he did — are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

20 His servants rose up in rebellion, formed a conspiracy, and assassinated Joash in the palace at the terrace ramparts while he was on his way down to Silla.

21 Shimeath's son Jozacar and Shomer's son Jehozabad, his servants, attacked him and he died. They buried him alongside his ancestors in the city of David, and his son Amaziah became king to replace him.

2 Kings 13

1 During the twenty-third year of the reign of Ahaziah's son Joash, king of Judah, Jehu's son Jehoahaz began his seventeen year reign in Samaria over Israel.

2 He did what the LORD considered to be evil, after the pattern of Nebat's son Jeroboam. By doing so, he caused Israel to sin, and he never changed course from it.

3 As a result, the LORD's wrath flared up against Israel, so he handed them over to domination by king Hazael of Aram and later into the constant domination by Hazael's son Ben-hadad.

4 But Jehoahaz sought the LORD, and the LORD paid attention to him, because the LORD had been watching the oppression that Israel was enduring from the king of Aram.

5 The LORD provided Israel with a deliverer, so they escaped the Aramean oppression while the descendants of Israel lived in tents as they had formerly.

6 Nevertheless, they did not change course away from the sins of Jeroboam's household, by which he caused Israel to sin, but continued on that same course, with Asherah poles remaining in place in Samaria.

7 For the Aramean king had left only 50 cavalry, ten chariots, and 10,000 soldiers out of the army belonging to Jehoahaz, because the king of Aram had destroyed the others, making them like chaff left over after threshing.

8 Now the rest of the activities of Jehoahaz, including everything he did and his grandeur, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

9 So Jehoahaz died, as did his ancestors, and he was buried in Samaria while his son Joash replaced him as king.

10 During the thirty-seventh year of the reign of king Joash of Judah, Jehoahaz's son Jehoash began a sixteen year reign as king over Israel in Samaria.

11 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, not changing course from all of the sins practised by Nebat's son Jeroboam by which he caused Israel to sin. Instead, he continued on that same course.

12 The rest of Joash's activities, including everything he did and the vehemence with which he fought against king Amaziah of Judah are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

13 So Joash died, as did his ancestors, and Jeroboam assumed his throne after Joash was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 When Elisha fell ill with the sickness from which he was about to die, king Joash of Israel came down to see him, wept in his presence, and told him, "My father, Israel's chariots and horsemen!"

15 Elisha told him, "Pick up a bow and some arrows." So he picked up a bow and some arrows.

16 Then Elisha told Israel's king, "Draw the bow!" As he did so, Elisha laid his hands on top of the king's hands

17 and ordered him, "Open a window that faces east." So he did so. Elisha ordered him, "Shoot!" So he shot. Then Elisha said, "This is the LORD's arrow of victory — the victory arrow against Aram, because you will defeat the Arameans at Aphek until you will have utterly finished them off."

18 After this Elisha said, "Pick up the arrows." So the king picked them up. Then Elisha told the king of Israel, "Strike the ground!" So he struck it three times and then stood still.

19 At this the man of God became angry at him and told him, "You should have struck five or six times! Then you would have attacked Aram until you would have destroyed it! But as it is now, you'll defeat Aram only three times!"

Luke 4

38 Then Jesus got up to leave the synagogue and went into Simon's house. Now Simon's mother-in-law was sick with a high fever, so they asked Jesus about her.

39 He bent over her, rebuked the fever, and it left her. She got up at once and began serving them.

40 When the sun was setting, everyone who had any friends suffering from various diseases brought them to him. He placed his hands on each of them and began healing them.

41 Even demons came out of many people, screaming, "You are the Son of God!" But Jesus rebuked them and ordered them not to speak, because they knew he was the Messiah.

42 At daybreak he left and went to a deserted place, while the crowds kept looking for him. When they came to him, they tried to keep him from leaving them.

43 But he told them, "I have to proclaim the good news about the kingdom of God in other cities, because I was sent to do that also."

44 So he continued to preach in the synagogues of Galilee.

Luke 5

1 One day as the crowd was pressing in on him to listen to God's word, Jesus was standing by the lake of Gennesaret.

2 He saw two boats lying on the shore, but the fishermen had stepped out of them and were washing their nets.

3 So Jesus got into one of the boats (the one that belonged to Simon) and asked him to push out a little from the shore. Then he sat down and began to teach the crowds from the boat.

4 When he had finished speaking, he told Simon, "Push out into deep water, and lower your nets for a catch."

5 Simon answered, "Master, we have worked hard all night and caught nothing. But if you say so, I'll lower the nets."

6 After the men had done this, they caught so many fish that the nets began to tear.

7 So they signalled to their partners in the other boat to come and help them. They came and filled both boats until the boats began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw this, he fell down at Jesus' knees and said, "Leave me, Lord! I am a sinful man!" —

9 because Simon and all the people who were with him were amazed at the number of fish they had caught,

10 and so were James and John, Zebedee's sons and Simon's partners. Then Jesus told Simon, "Stop being afraid. From now on you will be catching people."

11 So when they brought the boats to shore, they left everything and followed Jesus.

2 Kings 13

20 Later, Elisha died and was buried. Now at that time various Moabite marauders had been invading the land each spring.

21 One day while some Israelis were burying a man, they saw some marauders, so they threw the man into Elisha's grave. But when the man fell against Elisha's remains, he revived and rose to his feet.

22 Meanwhile, king Hazael of Aram had been oppressing Israel throughout the reign of Jehoahaz,

23 but the LORD showed grace to them, displayed his compassion toward them, and turned to them due to his covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He would not destroy them or evict them from his presence up until that time.

24 After king Hazael of Aram died, his son Ben-hadad replaced him as king.

25 At that time, Jehoahaz's son Jehoash recaptured from Hazael's son Ben-hadad the cities that Hazael had captured through warfare from the control of Jehoahaz, Jehoash's father. Joash defeated and recovered cities of Israel from Ben-hadad three times.

2 Kings 14

1 Amaziah, son of Judah's king Joash, became king during the second year of the reign of Joash, son of king Joahaz of Israel

2 at the age of 25. He reigned 29 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jehoaddin of Jerusalem.

3 He practised what the LORD considered to be right, but not like his ancestor David did. He acted as his father Joash had done,

4 except that the high places were not abolished. The people continued to offer sacrifices and to burn incense on the high places.

5 Later on, as soon as he was in firm control of his kingdom, he executed the servants who had murdered his father the king,

6 but he did not execute the children of the murderers, in keeping with what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses, as the LORD had commanded: "Fathers must not be put to death because of their children's sin; nor are children to die because of their fathers' sin, for each person is to be put to death for his own sin."

7 Joash executed 10,000 Edomites in the Salt Valley and captured Sela in battle, renaming it Joktheel, which remains its name to this day.

8 Later, Amaziah sent couriers to Jehoahaz's son Jehoash, grandson of king Jehu of Israel, challenging him, "Come on! Let's fight face to face!"

9 But king Jehoash of Israel sent this message to king Amaziah of Judah: "The thorn bush in Lebanon sent this message to the cedar of Lebanon: 'Give your daughter to my son in marriage.' But just then a wild beast from Lebanon wandered by and trampled down the thorn bush.

10 You just defeated Edom and you're arrogant. Bask in your victory and stay home. Why incite trouble so that you — yes, you! — fall, along with Judah with you?"

11 But Amaziah refused to listen. So Israel's king Jehoash and Judah's king Amaziah faced each other at Beth-shemesh, which is part of Judah.

12 Judah was defeated by Israel, and everybody fled to their own tents.

13 Then king Jehoash of Israel captured Judah's king Amaziah, the son of Jehoash and grandson of Ahaziah, at Beth-shemesh. He went to Jerusalem and demolished 600 yards of the wall of Jerusalem from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate.

14 He confiscated all the gold and silver, all the instruments he could find in the LORD's Temple and in the palace treasuries. He also captured some hostages and then returned to Samaria.

15 The rest of Jehoash's activities that he undertook, including his valour in fighting king Amaziah of Judah, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

16 Jehoash died, as had his ancestors, and he was buried in Samaria alongside the kings of Israel. His son Jeroboam reigned in his place.

17 Joash's son king Amaziah of Judah lived for fifteen years after Jehoahaz' son king Jehoash of Israel died.

18 The rest of Amaziah's activities are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

19 A conspiracy arose against him in Jerusalem, and he ran off to Lachish, but he was pursued to Lachish and killed there.

20 His body was brought back on horses and he was buried at Jerusalem alongside his ancestors in the city of David.

21 All the people of Judah took Azariah, who was sixteen years old, and installed him as king to take the place of his father Amaziah.

22 He rebuilt Elath and restored it to Judah. Later on the king died, as did his ancestors.

23 In the fifteenth year of the reign of Amaziah son of Joash, king of Judah, Jeroboam son of Joash, king of Israel, began a 41 year reign in Samaria.

24 He did what the LORD considered to be evil by not abandoning all the sins of Nebat's son Jeroboam, who made Israel sin.

25 He rebuilt Israel's coastline from the entrance of Hamath as far as the Sea of the Arabah, in accordance with the message from the LORD God of Israel that he spoke through his servant Jonah the prophet, Amittai's son, who was from Gath-hepher.

26 For the LORD observed Israel's bitter misery, and there was no one left, neither slave nor free, and there was no deliverer for Israel.

27 The LORD had never said that he would erase the name of Israel from under heaven. Instead, he delivered them by Joash's son Jeroboam.

28 The rest of Jeroboam's actions — everything he did, including his powerful fighting and how on behalf of Israel he restored Damascus and Hamath to Judah — are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

29 Jeroboam died, as had his ancestors the kings of Israel, and his son Zechariah became king in his place.

2 Kings 15

1 Amaziah's son Azariah began reigning during the twenty-seventh year of the reign of Jeroboam, king of Israel.

2 He was sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned 52 years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Jecoliah; she was from Jerusalem.

3 He did what the LORD considered to be right, just as his father Amaziah had done in everything,

4 except that the high places were never removed, and the people kept on sacrificing and burning incense on the high places.

5 The LORD struck the king so that he was afflicted with leprosy until the day he died. He lived in a separate house while his son Jotham managed the household and ruled the people who lived in the land.

6 Now the rest of Azariah's activities, including everything he did, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

7 Later, Azariah died, as had his ancestors, and they buried him with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Jotham then reigned in his place.

8 During the thirty-eighth year of the reign of Azariah, king of Judah, Jeroboam's son Zachariah began a six-month reign in Samaria.

9 He did what the LORD considered to be evil, just as his ancestors had done. He never abandoned the sins of Nebat's son Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin.

10 So Jabesh's son Shallum conspired against him and attacked him in full view of the people, killed him, and reigned in his place.

11 The rest of Zachariah's activities are recorded in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

12 This is what the LORD told Jehu: "Your children will sit on Israel's throne for the next four generations." And that is what happened:

13 Jabesh's son Shallum began his reign in the thirty-ninth year of the reign of Uzziah, king of Judah. He reigned a full month in Samaria, 14 then Gadi's son Menahem approached Samaria from Tirzah and attacked Jabesh's son Shallum, executed him, and reigned in his place.

15 The rest of Shallum's activities, including the conspiracy that he carried out, are recorded in the book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

16 At another time, Menahem attacked Tiphsah and all of its inhabitants, including its coastlands from Tirzah, because they would not open the city gate for him. After defeating them, he ripped open all of their pregnant women.

17 In the thirty-ninth year of the reign of Azariah, king of Judah, Gadi's son Menahem began a ten-year reign over Israel from Samaria.

18 He did what the LORD considered to be evil by never abandoning the sins of Nebat's son Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin, as long as he lived.

19 Later on, King Pul of Aram attacked the land, and Menahem paid Pul 1,000 silver talents so Pul would join forces with Menahem to secure his hold on the kingdom.

20 Menahem exacted the money from all of Israel's powerful and wealthy men, 50 shekels from each, to pay the king of Aram. As a result, the king of Aram retreated and did not remain there in the land.

21 The rest of Menahem's activities, including everything that he did, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel, are they not?

22 Then Menahem died, as did his ancestors, and his son Pekahiah reigned in his place.

23 Menahem's son Pekahiah became king over Israel for two years during the fiftieth year of the reign of King Azariah of Judah.

24 He did what the LORD considered to be evil. Just as Nebat's son Jeroboam had led Israel into sin, so also Pekahiah did not stop doing the same thing.

25 Then Remaliah's son Pekah, Pekahiah's officer, conspired against him with Argob and Arieah. Accompanied by 50 Gileadite men, Pekah attacked Pekahiah inside the palace of the king's compound in Samaria, executed him, and reigned as king in his place.

26 The rest of Pekahiah's activities, including everything he did, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

27 Remaliah's son Pekah began a 20-year reign as Israel's king during the fifty-second year of King Azariah of Judah.

28 He did what the LORD considered to be evil by never abandoning the sins of Nebat's son Jeroboam, by which he caused Israel to sin.

29 During the lifetime of King Pekah of Israel, King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria attacked. He captured the cities of Ijon, Abel Beth Maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, and Hazor. He also captured Gilead, Galilee, and the entire territory of Naphtali, and carried its people off to Assyria.

30 So during the twentieth year of the reign of Uzziah's son Jotham, Elah's son Hoshea conspired against Remaliah's son Pekah, attacked him, executed him, and became king in his place.

31 The rest of Pekah's activities, including everything that he accomplished, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

Luke 5

12 One day while Jesus was in one of the cities, a man covered with leprosy saw Jesus and fell on his face, begging him, "Lord, if you want to, you can make me clean."

13 So Jesus reached out his hand and touched him, saying, "I do want to. Be clean!" Instantly the leprosy left him.

14 Then Jesus ordered him, "Don't tell anyone. Instead, go and show yourself to the priest and make an offering for your cleansing, just as Moses commanded, as proof to the authorities."

15 But the news about Jesus spread even more, and many crowds began gathering to hear him and to be healed of their diseases.

16 However, he continued his habit of retiring to deserted places and praying.

17 One day as Jesus was teaching, some Pharisees and teachers of the Law happened to be sitting nearby. The people had come from every village in Galilee and Judea and from Jerusalem. The power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 Some men were bringing a paralyzed man on a stretcher. They were trying to take him into the house and place him in front of Jesus.

19 When they couldn't find a way to get him in because of the crowd, they went up on the roof and let him down on his stretcher through the tiles into the middle of the room, right in front of Jesus.

20 When Jesus saw their faith, he said, "Mister, your sins are forgiven."

21 The scribes and the Pharisees began to argue among themselves, saying, "Who is this man who is uttering blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

22 Because Jesus knew that they were arguing, he asked them, "Why are you arguing about this among yourselves?"

23 Which is easier: to say 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say 'Get up and walk'?

24 But I want you to know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins." Then he told the paralyzed man, "I say to you: Get up, pick up your stretcher, and go home!"

25 So the man immediately stood up in front of them and picked up what he had been lying on. Then he went home, praising God.

26 Amazement seized all the people, and they began to praise God. They were filled with fear and declared, "We have seen wonderful things today!"

27 After that, Jesus went out and saw a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax collector's desk. He told him, "Follow me!"

28 So Levi left everything behind, got up, and followed him.

29 Then Levi gave a large banquet at his home for Jesus. A large crowd of tax collectors and others were eating with them.

30 The Pharisees and their scribes started complaining to Jesus' disciples, "Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?"

31 But Jesus answered them, "Healthy people don't need a physician, but sick people do.

32 I have not come to call righteous people, but sinners, to repentance."

2 Kings 15

32 Uzziah's son Jotham became king over Judah during the second year of the reign of Remaliah's son Pekah, king of Israel.

33 He was 25 years old when he became king. He reigned 16 years in Jerusalem. Zadok's daughter Jerusha was his mother.

34 He did what the LORD considered to be right, following everything his father Uzziah had done,

35 except the high places were not torn down, and the people still sacrificed and burned incense on the high places. But he rebuilt the upper gate of the LORD's Temple.

36 The rest of Jotham's activities, including everything that he accomplished, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

37 Right about that time, the LORD began to send King Rezin of Aram and Remaliah's son Pekah against Judah.

38 Meanwhile, Jotham died, as did his ancestors, and he was buried with them in the city of David, his ancestor, and Jotham's son Ahaz reigned in his place.

2 Kings 16

1 During the seventeenth year of the reign of Remaliah's son Pekah, Jotham's son Ahaz became king of Judah.

2 Ahaz was 20 years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for sixteen years. He did not practise what the LORD considered to be right, as had his ancestor David.

3 Instead, he behaved like the kings of Israel did by making his son pass through fire, the very same abomination that the heathen practised, whom the LORD evicted from the land right in front of the Israelis.

4 Furthermore, Ahaz sacrificed and burned incense on the high places, on top of hills, and under every green tree.

5 Later, King Rezin of Aram and Remaliah's son Pekah, king of Israel, approached Jerusalem to attack it. They besieged Ahaz but could not conquer him.

6 But at that time King Rezin of Aram recovered Elath for Aram, completely removing the Judeans from Elath. Then the Arameans returned to Elath and have remained there to this day.

7 So Ahaz sent envoys to Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria to tell him, "I am your servant and son. Save me from the king of Aram and the king of Israel, who are attacking me."

8 Then Ahaz took the silver and gold that was in the LORD's Temple and in the palace treasuries and sent them as a gift to the king of Assyria,

9 so the king of Assyria listened to Ahaz. He attacked Damascus, captured it, sent its people away into exile to Kir, and executed Rezin.

10 King Ahaz travelled to Damascus and met with King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria, where he observed the altar at Damascus. So King Ahaz sent a set of construction patterns of this altar to Uriah the priest.

11 Uriah the priest built an altar, following the plans that King Ahaz had sent him from Damascus and finishing the altar before King Ahaz returned from Damascus.

12 When the king returned from Damascus, as soon as he saw the altar, he approached it and offered sacrifices on it.

13 He presented a burnt offering, a meat offering, poured out a drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of a peace offering on his altar.

14 Then he took the bronze altar that stood in the LORD's presence from in front of the Temple, moved it to the north side of his altar,

15 and issued these orders to Uriah the priest: "Burn the morning burnt offering, the evening grain offering, the king's burnt offering and grain offering, the whole burnt offering, the grain offering, and the drink offering on behalf of all the people of the land on the large altar. And sprinkle all the blood from the burnt offering and from the sacrifice. But I will use the bronze altar to ask God questions."

16 So Uriah the priest did precisely what King Ahaz ordered.

17 Later, King Ahaz ordered the side panels removed from the bases, along with the washing bowls that had stood on top of the bases. He also removed the large bowl that was called the Sea from on top of the bronze bulls that supported it, and put it on a stone base.

18 Then Ahaz removed the covered walkway for use on the Sabbath that they had built in the Temple. Because of the king of Assyria, he also removed the outside entrance from the LORD's Temple that had been built exclusively for the king.

19 Now the rest of Ahaz's activities are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

20 Later, Ahaz died, as did his ancestors, and was buried alongside his ancestors in the city of David. His son Hezekiah reigned in his place.

2 Kings 17

1 During the twelfth year of the reign of King Ahaz of Judah, Elah's son Hoshea became king over Israel for nine years in Samaria.

2 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, though not like the kings of Israel who had preceded him.

3 King Shalmaneser of Assyria attacked him, and Hoshea became his servant and paid tribute to him.

4 But the king of Assyria uncovered a conspiracy involving Hoshea, who had sent envoys to King So of Egypt and stopped offering tribute to the king of Assyria, as he had done annually. As a result, the king of Assyria placed him under arrest and sent him to prison.

5 After this, the king of Assyria invaded the entire land, approached Samaria, and began a three year siege.

6 As a result, during the ninth year of the reign of Hoshea, the king of Assyria captured Samaria and took the Israelis off to Assyria, placing them in Halah, along the Habor River in Gozan, and in cities ruled by the Medes.

7 This happened because the Israelis had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up from the land of Egypt and from the domination of Pharaoh, king of Egypt, because they were fearing other gods,

8 and because they were following the rules of the nations whom the LORD had expelled before the Israelis and that the kings of Israel had practised.

9 The Israelis practised secret things that were not right, offending the LORD their God. In addition, they built high places for use by all their towns, watchtowers, and fortified cities.

10 They set up pillars and Asherim on every high hill and in the shade of every green tree,

11 where they made offerings on all the high places, as did the nations whom the LORD had expelled before them. They also practised other wickedness, provoking the LORD to become angry,

12 and they served idols, a practice that the LORD had warned them, "You are not to do this."

13 Nevertheless, the LORD had warned both Israel and Judah by means of every prophet and seer: "Turn away from your evil practices and keep my commandments and statutes according to the entire Law that I gave your ancestors and that I sent to you through my servants, the prophets."

14 But they would not listen. Instead, they were stubborn, just like their ancestors had been, who did not believe in the LORD their God.

15 They rejected the LORD's statutes, the covenant that he had made with their ancestors, and his warnings that he gave them. They pursued meaninglessness — and became meaningless themselves — as they followed the lifestyles of the nations that surrounded them, a practice that the LORD had warned them not to do.

16 They abandoned all of the commands given by the LORD their God, crafted for themselves cast images of two calves, constructed an Asherah, worshipped all of the stars in heaven, and served Baal.

17 They passed their sons and daughters through fire, practised divination, cast spells, and sold themselves to practise what the LORD considered to be evil, thereby provoking him.

18 As a result, the LORD was angry with Israel and removed them from his presence. No one was left except for the tribe of Judah.

19 But Judah, too, did not keep the commands of the LORD their God. Instead, they lived the lifestyle that Israel had chosen,

20 so the LORD rejected all of the descendants of Israel, afflicted them, and handed them over to the control of plunderers until he had thrown them away from his presence.

21 He ripped them away from the heritage of David, even as the people appointed Nebat's son Jeroboam to be king. Jeroboam drove Israel away from following the LORD and made them commit great sin.

22 The Israelis practised all the sins that Jeroboam had practised, and never wavered from them

23 until the LORD removed Israel from his presence, just as he had warned through all of his prophets who served him. So Israel was carried off into exile from their own land into Assyria, where they remain to this day.

24 Because the king of Assyria brought captives from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath, and Sephar-vaim and settled them in the cities of Samaria to replace the Israelis, the settlers possessed Samaria and lived in its cities.

25 When they first began to live there, the settlers did not fear the LORD, so he sent lions among them, and they killed a few of them.

26 As a result, they reported to the king of Assyria, "Because the nations whom you exiled to live in the cities of Samaria don't know the law of the god of the land, he has sent lions among them. Look how the lions are killing them, because they don't know the law of the god of the land!"

27 So the king of Assyria issued this order: "Take one of the priests whom you carried away and let him go back and live there. Let him teach them the law of the god of the land."

28 So one of the priests whom they had carried away from Samaria went to live in Bethel to teach them how they ought to fear the LORD.

29 Nevertheless, each nation continued to craft their own gods and install them in the temples on the high places that the people of Samaria had constructed — every nation in their own cities where they continued to live.

30 Settlers from Babylon built Succoth-benoth, settlers from Cuth built Nergal, settlers from Hamath built Ashima,

31 and settlers from Avva built Nibhaz and Tartak. The residents of Sephar-vaim burned their children in fire to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sephar-vaim.

32 Because they feared the LORD, they also appointed from among themselves priests for the high places who acted on their behalf in the temples on the high places.

33 While they continued to fear the LORD, they served their own gods following the custom of the nations whom they had carried away from there.

34 To this very day they still follow the former customs: they don't fear the LORD, they don't live in accordance with their statutes, ordinances, law, or commandments that the LORD had given to the descendants of Jacob, whom he renamed Israel

35 and with whom the LORD had made a covenant when he gave these orders to them: "You are not to fear other gods, bow down to them, serve them, or sacrifice to them.

36 Instead, it is to be the LORD, who brought you up from the land of Egypt, showing great power and public demonstrations of might, whom you are to fear, worship, and to whom you are to offer sacrifice.

37 Furthermore, you are to be careful to observe forever the statutes, ordinances, law, and the commandment that he wrote for you. And you are not to fear other gods.

38 You are not to forget the covenant that I've made with you, and you are not to fear other gods.

39 But you are to fear the LORD, and he will deliver you from the control of all your enemies."

40 But they wouldn't listen. Instead, they did what they had been doing before.

41 These nations feared the LORD and also served their carved images. Their descendants did the same thing, as did their grandchildren. Just as their ancestors had done, they also do the same thing to this day.

Luke 5

33 Then they told him, "John's disciples frequently fast and pray, and so do those of the Pharisees. But your disciples keep right on eating and drinking."

34 But Jesus told them, "You can't force the wedding guests to fast while the groom is still with them, can you?"

35 But the time will come when the groom will be taken away from them, and at that time they will fast."

36 Then he told them a parable: "No one tears a piece of cloth from a new garment and sews it on an old garment. If he does, the new cloth will tear, and the piece from the new will not match the old.

37 And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. If he does, the new wine will make the skins burst, the wine will be spilled, and the skins will be ruined.

38 Rather, new wine is to be poured into fresh wineskins.

39 No one who has been drinking old wine wants new wine, because he says, 'The old wine is good enough!'"

Luke 6

1 One time Jesus was walking through some grain fields on a Sabbath. His disciples were picking the heads of grain, rubbing them in their hands, and eating them.

2 Some of the Pharisees asked, "Why are you doing what is not lawful on Sabbath days?"

3 Jesus answered them, "Haven't you read what David did when he and his companions became hungry?"

4 How was it that he went into the house of God, took the Bread of the Presence and ate it, which was not lawful for anyone but the priests to eat, and then gave some of it to his companions?"

5 Then he told them, "The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath."

6 Once, on another Sabbath, Jesus went into a synagogue and began teaching. A man whose right hand was paralyzed was there.

7 The scribes and the Pharisees were watching Jesus closely to see whether he would heal on the Sabbath, in order to find a way of accusing him of doing something wrong.

8 But Jesus knew what they were thinking. So he told the man with the paralyzed hand, "Get up, and stand in the middle of the synagogue." So he got up and stood there.

9 Then Jesus asked them, "I ask you, is it lawful to do good or to do evil on the Sabbath, to save a life or to destroy it?"

10 He looked around at all of them and then told the man, "Hold out your hand." The man did so, and his hand was restored to health.

11 The others were furious and began to discuss with each other what they could do to Jesus.

12 Now it was in those days that Jesus went to a mountain to pray, and he spent the whole night in prayer to God.

13 When daylight came, he called his disciples and chose twelve of them, whom he also called apostles:

14 Simon (whom he named Peter), his brother Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew,

15 Matthew, Thomas, James (the son of Alphaeus), Simon (who was called the Zealot),

16 Judas (the son of James), and Judas Iscariot (who became a traitor).

17 Then Jesus came down with them and stood on a level place, along with many of his disciples and a large gathering of people from all over Judea, Jerusalem, and the seacoast of Tyre and Sidon.

18 They had come to hear him and to be healed of their diseases. Even those who were being tormented by unclean spirits were being healed.

19 The entire crowd was trying to touch him, because power was coming out from him and healing all of them.

2 Kings 18

- 1 Now it happened that during the third year of the reign of Elah's son Hoshea, king of Israel, that Ahaz' son Hezekiah became king.
- 2 He was 25 years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for 29 years. His mother was Zechariah's daughter Abi.
- 3 He did what the LORD considered to be right, according to everything that his ancestor David had done.
- 4 He removed the high places, demolished the sacred pillars, and tore down the Asherah poles. He also demolished the bronze serpent that Moses had crafted, because the Israelites had been burning incense to it right up until that time. Hezekiah called it a piece of brass.
- 5 He trusted the LORD God of Israel, and after him there were none like him among all the kings of Judah,
- 6 because he depended on the LORD, not abandoning pursuit of him, and keeping the LORD's commands that he had commanded Moses.
- 7 So the LORD was with him, and Hezekiah prospered wherever he went, even when he rebelled against the king of Assyria, refusing to serve him.
- 8 He attacked the Philistines, invading Gaza and its borders from watchtower to fortified garrison.
- 9 In the fourth year of King Hezekiah's reign (that is, during the seventh year of Elah's son Hosea's reign as king of Israel), King Shalmaneser from Assyria invaded Samaria and besieged it.
- 10 Three years later, they captured Samaria during the sixth year of Hezekiah's reign, which was the ninth year of Hoshea's reign as king of Israel.
- 11 After this, the king of Assyria carried off Israel into exile in Assyria, settling them in Halah, on the Habor River in Gozan, and in cities controlled by the Medes
- 12 because they would not obey the voice of the LORD their God. Instead, they transgressed his covenant, including everything that Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded, by neither listening nor putting what he had commanded into practice.
- 13 During the fourteenth year of the reign of King Hezekiah, King Sennacherib of Assyria approached all of the walled cities of Judah and seized them.
- 14 So Hezekiah sent this message to the king of Assyria at Lachish: "I have offended you. Withdraw from me, and I'll accept whatever tribute you impose." So the king of Assyria required Hezekiah to pay him 300 talents of silver and 30 talents of gold.
- 15 Hezekiah gave him all the silver that could be removed from the LORD's Temple and from the treasuries in the king's palace.
- 16 At that time, Hezekiah removed the doors to the LORD's Temple and the doorposts that King Hezekiah had overlaid with gold, and gave the gold to the king of Assyria.
- 17 Sometime later, the king of Assyria sent Tartan, Rab-saris, and Rab-shakeh from Lachish to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem, accompanied with a large army.
- 18 When they called for the king, Hilkiyah's son Eliakim, who managed the household, Shebna the scribe, and Asaph's son Joah the recorder, went out to them.
- 19 Rab-shakeh told them, "Tell Hezekiah right now, 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria says: "Why are you so confident?
- 20 You're saying — but they're only empty words — 'I have enough advice and resources to conduct warfare!' "Now who are you relying on, that you have rebelled against me?
- 21 Look, you're trusting on Egypt to lean on like a staff, but it's a crushed reed, and if you lean on it, it will collapse and pierce your hand. Pharaoh, king of Egypt, is just like that to everyone who relies on him!

22 "Of course, you might tell me, 'We rely on the LORD our God!' But isn't it he whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has demolished, all the while telling Jerusalem, 'You're to worship in front of this altar in Jerusalem?'

23 "Come now, and make a deal with my master, the king of Assyria, and I'll give you 2,000 horses, if you can furnish them with riders.

24 How can you refuse even one official from the least of my master's servants and rely on Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

25 "Now then, haven't I come up — apart from the LORD — to attack and destroy this place? The LORD told me, 'Go up against this land and destroy it!'"

26 At this, Hilkiyah's son Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah asked Rab-shakeh, "Please speak to your servants in Aramaic, because we understand it, but don't speak the language of Judah to us within the hearing of the people who are on the wall."

27 But Rab-shakeh spoke to them, "Has my master sent me to talk about this just to your master and to you, and not also to the men who are sitting on the wall, who will soon be eating their own faeces and drinking their own urine — along with you?"

28 Then Rab-shakeh stood up and cried out loud, "Listen to what the great king, the king of Assyria has to say.

29 This is what the king says: 'Don't let Hezekiah deceive you, because he will prove to be unable to deliver you from my control.

30 And don't let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD by telling you, 'The LORD will certainly deliver us and this city will not be handed over to the king of Assyria.'

31 'Don't listen to Hezekiah, because this is what the king of Assyria says: "Make peace with me and come out to me! Each of you will eat from his own vine. Each will eat from his own fig tree. And each of you will drink water from his own cistern

32 until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, one overflowing with grain and new wine, a land filled with bread and vineyards, with olive trees and honey, so you may live and not die.'" 'But don't listen to Hezekiah when he misleads you by saying "The LORD will deliver us!"

33 Has any of the gods of the nations delivered his land from control by the king of Assyria?

34 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sephar-vaim, of Hena, and Ivvah? Have they delivered Samaria from my control?

35 Who among all the gods of these lands has delivered their land from my control, so that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem from me?"

36 But the people remained silent and did not answer with even so much as a word, because the king's order was, "Don't answer him."

37 But Hilkiyah's son Eliakim, who managed the household, Shebna the scribe, and Asaph's son Joah the recorder came back to Hezekiah with their clothes torn and told him what Rab-shakeh had said.

2 Kings 19

1 When King Hezekiah heard Eliakim's report, he tore his clothes, put on a sackcloth covering, entered the LORD's Temple,

2 and sent Eliakim, the household supervisor, Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, all of them covered in sackcloth, to Amoz's son, the prophet Isaiah.

3 They announced to him: "This is what Hezekiah says: 'Today is a day of trouble, rebuke, and blasphemy, because children are about to be born, but there is no strength to bring them to birth.

4 Perhaps the LORD your God will take note of everything that Rab-shakeh has said, whom his master the king of Assyria sent to taunt the living God, and then he will rebuke the words that the LORD your God has heard. Therefore offer a prayer for the survivors who remain.'"

5 That is how the King Hezekiah's servants approached Isaiah.

6 In reply, Isaiah responded to them, "Here's how you're to report to your master: 'This is what the LORD says: 'Never be afraid of the words that you have heard by which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.

7 Look! I'm going to cause an attitude to grow within him so that he'll hear a rumour and return to his own territory, where I'll make him die by the sword in his own land!'"

8 So Rab-shakeh returned and found the king of Assyria at war with Libnah, because Rab-shakeh had heard that the king had left Lachish.

9 When he heard what was being said about King Tirhakah of Ethiopia, "Look! He has come out to attack you!" he again sent messengers to Hezekiah. The messengers were told,

10 "This is what you are to say to King Hezekiah of Judah: 'Don't let your God in whom you trust deceive you by telling you "Jerusalem won't be turned over to the control of Assyria's king."

11 'Look! you've heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all the lands — they completely destroyed them! Will you be spared?

12 Did the gods of those nations whom my ancestors destroyed deliver them, including Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and Eden's descendants in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad, the king of the city of Sepharvaim, the king of Hena, or the king of Ivvah?"

14 Hezekiah took the messages from the couriers, read them, and went up to the LORD's Temple, and laid them out in the presence of the LORD.

15 Then Hezekiah prayed in the presence of the LORD, "LORD God of Israel! You live between the cherubim! You alone are the God of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have fashioned the heavens and the earth.

16 Turn your ear, LORD, and listen! Open your eyes, LORD, and observe! Listen to the message sent by Sennacherib to insult the living God!

17 Truly, LORD, the kings of Assyria have devastated nations and their territories,

18 throwing their gods into the fire, since they weren't gods but rather were the product of men's handiwork, wood and stone. And so they destroyed them.

19 Now, LORD our God, I'm praying that you will deliver us from his control, so that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that you alone, LORD, are God!"

20 Then Isaiah the son of Amoz send word to Hezekiah, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel says: 'Because you have prayed to me about King Sennacherib of Assyria, I have listened.'

21 This is what the LORD has spoken against him: 'She despises and mocks you, this virgin daughter of Zion! Behind your back she shakes her head, this daughter of Jerusalem!

22 Who are you reproaching and blaspheming? Against whom have you raised your voice? And against whom have you lifted up your eyes in arrogance? Against the Holy One of Israel!

23 By your messengers you have insulted the LORD. You have claimed, "With my many chariots I ascended the heights of the mountains, including the remotest regions of Lebanon; I cut down its tall cedars and the best of its cypress trees. I entered its most remote lodging place and its most fruitful forest.

24 I myself dug for and drank foreign water. With the sole of my foot I dried up all the streams of Egypt!"

Luke 6

20 Then Jesus looked at his disciples and said, "How blessed are you who are destitute, because the kingdom of God is yours!

21 How blessed are you who are hungry now, because you will be satisfied! How blessed are you who are crying now, because you will laugh!

22 "How blessed are you whenever people hate you, avoid you, insult you, and slander you because of the Son of Man!

23 Rejoice in that day and leap for joy, because your reward in heaven is great! That's the way their ancestors used to treat the prophets.

24 "But how terrible it will be for you who are rich, because you have had your comfort!

25 How terrible it will be for you who are full now, because you will be hungry! How terrible it will be for you who are laughing now, because you will mourn and cry!

26 "How terrible it will be for you when everyone says nice things about you, because that's the way their ancestors used to treat the false prophets!"

27 "But I say to you who are listening: Love your enemies. Do good to those who hate you.

28 Bless those who curse you, and pray for those who insult you.

29 If someone strikes you on the cheek, offer him the other one as well, and if someone takes your coat, don't keep back your shirt, either.

30 Keep on giving to everyone who asks you for something, and if anyone takes what is yours, do not insist on getting it back.

31 Whatever you want people to do for you, do the same for them.

32 "If you love those who love you, what thanks do you deserve? Why, even sinners love those who love them.

33 If you do good to those who do good to you, what thanks do you deserve? Even sinners do that.

34 If you lend to those from whom you expect to get something back, what thanks do you deserve? Even sinners lend to sinners to get back what they lend.

35 Rather, love your enemies, do good to them, and lend to them, expecting nothing in return. Then your reward will be great, and you will be children of the Most High, because he is kind even to ungrateful and evil people.

36 Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful."

37 "Stop judging, and you will never be judged. Stop condemning, and you will never be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven.

38 Give, and it will be given to you. A large quantity, pressed together, shaken down, and running over will be put into your lap, because you will be evaluated by the same standard with which you evaluate others."

39 He also told them a parable: "One blind person can't lead another blind person, can he? Both will fall into a ditch, won't they?

40 A disciple is not better than his teacher. But everyone who is fully-trained will be like his teacher.

41 "Why do you see the speck in your brother's eye but fail to notice the beam in your own eye?

42 How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me take the speck out of your eye,' when you don't see the beam in your own eye? You hypocrite! First remove the beam from your own eye, and then you'll see clearly enough to remove the speck from your brother's eye."

2 Kings 19

25 "Didn't you hear? I determined it years ago! I planned this from ancient times, and now I've brought it to pass, to turn fortified cities into piles of ruins
26 while their inhabitants, lacking strength, stand dismayed and confused. They were like vegetation out in the fields, and like green herbs — just as grass that grows on a housetop dries out before it can grow.
27 "But when you sit down, when you go out, and when you come in, I'm aware of it!
28 Because of your rage against me, your complacency has reached my ears. I'll put my hook into your nostrils and my bit into your mouth. Then I'll turn you back on the road by which you came.
29 "This will serve as a sign for you: you'll eat this year from what grows by itself, in the second year what grows from that, and in the third year you'll sow, reap, plant vineyards, and enjoy their fruit.
30 Those who survive from Judah's household will again put down deep roots and bear fruit extensively,
31 because a remnant will go out from Jerusalem, and survivors from Mount Zion. The zeal of the LORD will bring this about.
32 "Therefore this is what the LORD says concerning the king of Assyria: 'Not only will he not approach this city or shoot an arrow in its direction, he won't approach it with so much as a shield, nor will he throw up a siege ramp against it.
33 He'll return on the same route by which he came — he won't come to this city,' declares the LORD.
34 "I will defend this city and preserve it for my own reasons, and because of my servant David."
35 That very night, the angel of the LORD went out to the camp of the Assyrian army and killed 185,000 men. Early the next morning, when the army of Israel arose, all 185,000 soldiers were dead.
36 As a result, King Sennacherib of Assyria left and returned to Nineveh where he lived.
37 Later on, as he was worshipping in the temple of his god Nisroch, Adrammelech and Sharezer killed him with a sword and fled into the territory of Ararat. Then Sennacherib's son Esarhaddon became king in his place.

2 Kings 20

1 During this time, Hezekiah became sick with a fatal illness, so Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, approached him and told him, "This is what the LORD says: 'Put your household in order, because you are dying. You will not survive.'"
2 So Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD.
3 "Remember me, LORD," he said, "how I have walked in your presence with integrity, with an undivided heart, and I have accomplished what is good in your sight." And Hezekiah wept deeply.
4 Before Isaiah had left the middle court, this message from the LORD came to him.
5 "Return to Hezekiah," he said, "and tell the Commander-in-Chief of my people: 'This is what the LORD, the God of your ancestor David, says: 'I've heard your prayer and I've observed your tears. Look! I'm healing you. Three days from now you'll go visit the LORD's Temple.
6 Furthermore, I'll add fifteen years to your life. I'll deliver you and this city from domination by the king of Assyria, and I'll defend this city for my own sake and for the sake of my servant David.'"
7 Isaiah said, "Take a fig cake." So some attendants took it, laid it on Hezekiah's boil, and he recovered.

8 Now Hezekiah had asked Isaiah, "What is to be the sign that the LORD is healing me and that I'll be going up to the LORD's Temple three days from now?"

9 So Isaiah replied, "This will be your sign from the LORD that the LORD will do what he has promised. Shall the shadow go forward ten steps or go back ten steps?"

10 Hezekiah answered, "It's an easy thing for a shadow to lengthen ten steps. So let the shadow go backward ten steps."

11 So Isaiah cried out to the LORD, who brought the shadow back ten steps after it had gone down the stairway of Ahaz.

12 Some time later, Berodach-baladan, the son of King Baladan of Babylon, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, because he had heard that Hezekiah had been ill.

13 Hezekiah listened to the entourage and showed them his entire treasury, including the silver, gold, spices, the precious oil, his armoury, and everything that was inventoried in his treasuries. There was nothing in his household or in his holdings that Hezekiah did not show them.

14 Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah and asked him, "What did these men have to say, and where did they come from?" Hezekiah replied, "They came from a country far away — from Babylon."

15 He asked, "What did they see in your household?" Hezekiah answered, "They have seen everything. In my household there is nothing in my treasuries that I haven't shown them."

16 Then Isaiah replied to Hezekiah, "Listen to this message from the LORD:

17 'Watch out! The days are coming when everything that's in your house — everything that your ancestors have saved up right to this day — will be carried off to Babylon. Nothing will be left,' declares the LORD.

18 'Some of your descendants — your very own seed, whom you will father — will be carried away to become officials in the palace of the king of Babylon.'

19 At this, Hezekiah replied to Isaiah, "What you've spoken from the LORD is good," because he had been thinking, "Why not, as long as there's peace and security in my lifetime. . . ?"

20 Now the rest of Hezekiah's actions, as well as his glorious deeds, including how he constructed the pool and the conduit to bring water into the city, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

21 Hezekiah died, as did his ancestors, and his son Manasseh became king in his place.

2 Kings 21

1 Manasseh began to reign at the age of twelve, and he reigned for 55 years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Hephzibah.

2 He did what the LORD considered to be evil, following the despicable practices of the nations whom the LORD had expelled in full view of the people of Israel.

3 He rebuilt the high places that his father Hezekiah had destroyed. He erected altars for Baal, crafted an Asherah, just as King Ahab of Israel had done, and worshipped and served the stars of heaven.

4 He also built altars in the LORD's Temple, about which the LORD had said, "In Jerusalem I will place my Name."

5 He built two altars to every star in the heavens in the two courts of the LORD's Temple.

6 He made his son into a burnt offering, practised witchcraft, used divination, and consorted with mediums and spirit-channelers. He practised many things that the LORD considered to be evil and provoked him.

7 He also erected the carved image of Asherah that he had made inside the Temple about which the LORD had spoken to David and to his son Solomon, "I will put my Name forever in this Temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen from all of the tribes of Israel.

8 And I will not make Israel's feet to wander anymore from the land that I have given to their ancestors, if they will only be careful to do everything that I have commanded them according to the entire Law that my servant Moses commanded them."

9 But they would not listen. Manasseh led them astray to practise more evil than the nations whom the LORD had destroyed in the presence of the Israelis.

10 So the LORD announced through his prophets,

11 "Because King Manasseh of Judah has committed these despicable things, acting more sinfully than did all of the Amorites who preceded him, including making Judah sin with its idols,

12 therefore this is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Look! I'm going to bring such a disaster to Jerusalem and Judah that both ears of those who hear about it will ring.

13 I'll stretch out over Jerusalem the measuring line that is Samaria and the plumb line that is Ahab's dynasty. Then I'll wipe Jerusalem like one wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down!

14 I will abandon the survivors of my heritage and hand them over to their enemies. They will become war booty and spoil to all of their enemies

15 because they have done what I consider to be evil and they have provoked me from the day their ancestors left Egypt right up to this day!'"

16 In addition to this, Manasseh shed lots of innocent blood — until he had filled Jerusalem from one end to another, besides his sin by which he caused Judah to sin by practising what the LORD considered to be evil.

17 The rest of Manasseh's deeds, including everything that he accomplished and the sin that he practised, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

18 Manasseh died, as did his ancestors, and he was buried in the garden at his home in the Garden of Uzza. His son Amon became king in his place.

19 Amon began to reign at the age of 22, and ruled for two years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Meshullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, just as his father Manasseh had done, 21 because he completely adopted his father's lifestyle, serving the same idols his father had served and worshipped.

22 As a result, he abandoned the LORD God of his ancestors and did not walk in the LORD's way.

23 Later on, Amon's staff conspired against him and killed the king inside his own home.

24 But afterward, the people of the land executed everyone who had conspired against King Amon, and the people of the land installed his son Josiah to be king in his place.

25 Now the rest of Amon's activities that he undertook are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

26 He was buried in his own grave in the Garden of Uzza, and his son Josiah became king in his place.

Luke 6

43 "A good tree doesn't produce rotten fruit, and a rotten tree doesn't produce good fruit, 44 because every tree is known by its own fruit. People don't gather figs from thorny plants or pick grapes from a thorn bush.

45 A good person produces good from the good treasure of his heart, and an evil person produces evil from an evil treasure, because the mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart."

46 "Why do you keep calling me 'Lord, Lord,' but don't do what I tell you?

47 I will show you what everyone is like who comes to me, hears my words, and acts on them.

48 They are like a person building a house, who dug a deep hole to lay the foundation on rock. When a flood came, the floodwaters pushed against that house but couldn't shake it, because it had been founded on the rock.

49 But the person who hears what I say but doesn't act on it is like someone who built a house on the ground without any foundation. When the floodwaters pushed against it, that house quickly collapsed, and the resulting destruction of that house was extensive."

Luke 7

1 After Jesus had finished saying all these things to the people who were there listening, he went to Capernaum.

2 There a centurion's servant, whom he valued highly, was sick and about to die.

3 When the centurion heard about Jesus, he sent some Jewish elders to him to ask him to come and save his servant's life.

4 So they went to Jesus and begged him repeatedly, "He deserves to have this done for him,

5 because he loves our people and built our synagogue for us."

6 So Jesus went with them. He was not far from the house when the centurion sent friends to tell Jesus, "Sir, stop troubling yourself, because I'm not worthy to have you come under my roof.

7 That's why I didn't presume to come to you. But just say the word, and let my servant be healed,

8 because I, too, am a man under authority and have soldiers under me. I say to one 'Go' and he goes, to another 'Come' and he comes, and to my servant 'Do this' and he does it."

9 When Jesus heard this, he was amazed at him. Turning to the crowd that was following him, he said, "I tell you, not even in Israel have I found this kind of faith!"

10 Then the men who had been sent returned to the house and found the servant in perfect health.

2 Kings 22

1 Josiah was an eight year old child when he began to reign, and he reigned for 31 years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah of Bozkath.

2 He practised what the LORD considered to be right, living the way his ancestor David had lived, turning neither to the right nor to the left.

3 Eighteen years after King Josiah had begun to reign, the king sent Azaliah's son Shaphan, grandson of Meshullam the scribe, to the LORD's Temple. He told him,

4 "Go to the high priest Hilkiah, so he can count the money that has been brought into the LORD's Temple by the doorkeepers who have been gathering it from the people.

5 Have them deliver it to the workmen who are supervising the LORD's Temple, so that they may pay it over to the workmen who serve in the LORD's Temple to repair its damages,

6 including paying the carpenters, builders, and masons, as well as buying timber and pre-carved stone to repair the Temple.

7 But you won't need to force them to be accountable for money already paid to them, since they're faithful."

8 Later on, Hilkiah the high priest informed Shaphan the scribe, "I've discovered the Book of the Law in the LORD's Temple." Hilkiah gave the book to Shaphan, and he began to read it.

9 Shaphan the scribe reported to king Josiah, he brought up the matter to him and told him, "Your servants have distributed the money that was found in the Temple by giving it to the workmen who supervise the LORD's Temple."

10 Then Shaphan the scribe informed the king, "Hilkiah the priest has given me a book." Then Shaphan read from it in the king's presence.

11 When the king heard what was written in the Book of the Law, he tore his clothes

12 and issued these orders to Hilkiah the priest, Shaphan's son Ahikam, Micaiah's son Achbor, Shaphan the scribe, and the king's servant Asaiah:

13 "Go ask the LORD for me, for the people, and for all of Judah about what's written in this book that has been discovered, because the LORD's anger is burning against us, since our ancestors have not listened to the words written in this book and have not lived according to everything that is written concerning us."

14 So Hilkiah the priest, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to the prophet Huldah, the wife of Tikvah's son Shallum, the grandson of Harhas and supervisor of the royal wardrobe, who lived in the Second Quarter in Jerusalem. They spoke with her,

15 and she told them, "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Tell the man who sent you to me,

16 'This is what the LORD says: "Look! I'm bringing disaster on this place and on its inhabitants — everything written in the book that the king of Judah has read —

17 because they have abandoned me and burned incense to other gods, they have provoked me to anger with everything that they have done. Therefore my anger is kindled against this place and it won't be quenched!"

18 'Nevertheless, tell the king of Judah who sent you to ask the LORD about this: "This is what the LORD God of Israel says: 'Now about what you've heard,

19 because your heart was sensitive, and you humbled yourself in the LORD's presence when you heard what I had to say against this place and against its inhabitants — that they would become a desolation and a curse — and you have torn your clothes and cried out before me, be assured that I have truly heard you,' declares the LORD."

20 'Therefore, look! I will gather you to your ancestors, and you will be placed in your grave in peace. Your eyes will never see all the evil that I will bring on this place.'""

2 Kings 23

- 1 At this, the king sent for and gathered together all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.
- 2 The king went up to the LORD's Temple, accompanied by all the men of Judah, everyone who lived in Jerusalem, the priests, the prophets, and everyone — including those who were unimportant and those who were important — and he read to them everything written in the Book of the Covenant that had been discovered in the LORD's Temple.
- 3 The king stood beside a pillar and made a covenant in the presence of the LORD, to follow after the LORD, to keep his commandments, his testimonies, and his statutes with all of his heart and soul, and to carry out what was written in the covenant contained in the book. All the people consented to enter into the covenant.
- 4 The king ordered Hilkiah the high priest, the priests of the secondary order, and the doorkeepers to take out of the LORD's Temple all of the implements that had been crafted for Baal, for Asherah, and for every star in the heavens. Then he burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron and carried the ashes to Bethel.
- 5 The king unseated the idolatrous priests whom the kings of Judah had appointed to burn incense in the high places throughout the cities of Judah and in the environs surrounding Jerusalem, including those who had been burning incense to Baal, to the sun, to the moon, to the constellations, and to every star in the heavens.
- 6 He brought the Asherah from the LORD's Temple to the Kidron Brook outside Jerusalem, burned it at the Kidron brook, pulverized the ashes to dust, and scattered it over the graves of the common people.
- 7 He also demolished the temples of the cultic male prostitutes that had been operating in the LORD's Temple, where the women had been doing weaving for the Asherah.
- 8 Then he gathered together all the priests from the cities of Judah and defiled the high places from Geba to Beer-sheba, where the priests had burned incense. He also demolished the high places of the gates that had been erected to the left as one enters the city gate — that is, near the entrance operated by Joshua, the governor of the city.
- 9 Nevertheless, the priests of the high places did not approach the LORD's altar in Jerusalem, but instead they ate unleavened bread given to them by their relatives.
- 10 He also defiled Topheth, which is located in the Ben-hinnom Valley, so that no one would force his son or daughter to pass through the fire in dedication to Molech.
- 11 He abolished the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun at the entrance to the LORD's Temple, near the offices of Nathan-melech, the official, that was in the precincts. He also set fire to the chariots of the sun.
- 12 The king demolished the rooftop altars on top of Ahaz's upper chamber that the kings of Judah had erected, as well as the altars that Manasseh had made in the two courts of the LORD's Temple. He pulverized them where they stood and cast their dust into the Kidron Brook.
- 13 The king defiled the high places which faced Jerusalem on the south side of Corruption Mountain, which King Solomon of Israel had constructed for Ashtoreth, the Sidonian abomination, for Chemosh, the Moabite abomination, and for Milcom, the Ammonite abomination.
- 14 He broke the pillars to pieces, cut down the Asherim, and filled their locations with human bones.
- 15 Furthermore, he even broke down the altar that had been at Bethel as well as the high place constructed by Nebat's son Jeroboam, who had caused Israel to sin. He demolished its stones, pulverized them to dust, and burned the Asherah.
- 16 As Josiah turned around, he observed the graves located there on the mountain, so he sent for and recovered the bones from the graves and burned them on the altar to defile it, in keeping with the message from the LORD that the godly man had proclaimed when he was declaring these things.

17 He asked, "What is this monument that I'm looking at?" The men who lived in that city answered him, "It's the grave of that godly man who came from Judah and predicted these things that you've done against the altar at Bethel!"

18 Josiah replied, "Leave him alone. No one is to disturb his bones." So they preserved his bones undisturbed, along with the bones of the prophet who had come from Samaria.

19 Josiah also removed all of the temples on the high places that had been in the cities of Samaria and that the kings of Israel had erected, thereby provoking the LORD. He treated Samaria just as he had Bethel.

20 After he had slaughtered all the priests who served at the high places and burned their bones on those high places, he returned to Jerusalem.

21 After this, the king commanded all of the people, "Celebrate the Passover to the LORD your God, just as it's prescribed in this Book of the Covenant."

22 From the days of the judges who ruled in Israel, no Passover had been celebrated like this, not even in all the reigns of the kings of Israel and the kings of Judah.

23 In the eighteenth year of the reign of King Josiah, this Passover was observed in Jerusalem to honour the LORD.

24 Furthermore, Josiah removed the mediums, the necromancers, the household gods, the idols, and every despicable thing that could be seen in the territory of Judah and in Jerusalem, so that he might confirm the words of the Law that had been written in the book that Hilkiah the priest had discovered in the LORD's Temple.

25 There had been no king like him before him, who turned to the LORD with all his heart, with all his soul, and with all his strength, in obeying everything in the Law of Moses. No king arose like Josiah after him.

26 Even so, the LORD did not turn away from his fierce and great anger that burned against Judah because of everything with which Manasseh had provoked him.

27 The LORD said, "I'm going to remove Judah from my sight as well, just as I've removed Israel. I will abandon Jerusalem, this city that I've chosen, as well as the Temple about which I've spoken 'My Name shall remain there.'"

28 Now the rest of Josiah's actions, including everything that he did, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?

29 During his reign, Pharaoh Neco, king of Egypt, marched out toward the Euphrates River to meet the king of Assyria. King Josiah went out to engage him in battle, but Pharaoh Neco killed him at Megiddo as soon as he saw him.

30 Josiah's servants drove his corpse in a chariot from Megiddo to Jerusalem and buried him in a tomb made for him.

31 Jehoahaz was 23 years old when he became king. He reigned three months in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal. She was the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

32 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, just as all of his ancestors had done.

33 Pharaoh Neco placed him in custody at Riblah in the land of Hamath so that he would not reign in Jerusalem, and imposed a tribute of 100 talents of silver and a talent of gold.

34 Pharaoh Neco installed Josiah's son Eliakim as king to replace his father Josiah and changed his name to Jehoiakim. He transported Jehoahaz off to Egypt, where he died.

35 As a result, Jehoiakim paid the silver and gold tribute to Pharaoh, but he passed on the costs to the inhabitants of the land in taxes, in keeping with Pharaoh's orders. He exacted the silver and gold from the people who lived in the land, from each according to his assessment, in order to pay it to Pharaoh Neco.

36 Jehoiakim was 25 years old when he became king, and he reigned for eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Zebidah. She was the daughter of Pedaiiah of Rumah.

37 Eliakim practised what the LORD considered to be evil, just as his ancestors had done.

Luke 7

11 Soon afterwards, Jesus went to a city called Nain. His disciples and a large crowd were going along with him.

12 As he approached the entrance to the city, a man who had died was being carried out. He was his mother's only son, and she was a widow. A large crowd from the city was with her.

13 When the Lord saw her, he felt compassion for her. He told her, "You can stop crying."

14 Then he went up and touched the bier, and the men who were carrying it stopped. He said, "Young man, I say to you, get up!"

15 The man who had been dead sat up and began to speak, and Jesus gave him back to his mother.

16 Fear gripped everyone, and they began to praise God, saying, "A great prophet has appeared among us," and "God has helped his people."

17 This news about Jesus spread throughout Judea and all the surrounding countryside.

18 John's disciples told him about all these things. So John called two of his disciples

19 and sent them to the Lord to ask, "Are you the Coming One, or should we wait for someone else?"

20 When the men had come to Jesus, they said, "John the Baptist has sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the Coming One, or should we wait for someone else?'"

21 At that time Jesus had healed many people of diseases, plagues, and evil spirits and had given sight to many who were blind.

22 So he answered them, "Go and tell John what you have observed and heard: the blind see, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear again, the dead are raised, and the destitute hear the good news.

23 How blessed is anyone who is not offended by me!"

24 When John's messengers had gone, Jesus began to ask the crowds about John. "What did you go out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken by the wind?

25 Really, what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fancy clothes? See, those who wear fine clothes and live in luxury are in royal palaces.

26 Really, what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and even more than a prophet!

27 This is the man about whom it is written, 'See, I am sending my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you.'

28 I tell you, no one has ever been born who is greater than John. Yet even the least important person in the kingdom of God is greater than he."

29 By having been baptized with John's baptism, all the people who listened, including the tax collectors, acknowledged God's justice.

30 But the Pharisees and the experts in the Law rejected God's plan for themselves by refusing to be baptized by John.

31 Jesus continued, "To what may I compare the people living today?

32 They are like little children who sit in the marketplace and shout to each other, 'A wedding song we played for you, the dance you simply scorned. A woeful dirge we chanted, too, but then you did not mourn.'

33 Because John the Baptist has come neither eating bread nor drinking wine, yet you say, 'He has a demon!'

34 The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, 'Look! He's a glutton and a drunk, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!'

35 Wisdom is vindicated by all her children."

2 Kings 24

- 1 During his lifetime, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jehoiakim, who became his vassal for three years, after which he turned against Nebuchadnezzar and rebelled.
- 2 The LORD sent raiding parties from the Chaldeans, Arameans, Moabites, and Ammonites against Jehoiakim. He sent them against Judah to destroy it, in keeping with the message from the LORD that he had spoken through his servants, the prophets.
- 3 It was truly by the command of the LORD against Judah that it came, in order to remove them from his sight, because of every sin that Manasseh had committed,
- 4 as well as for the innocent blood that he had shed. He had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the LORD would not forgive them.
- 5 Now the rest of Jehoiakim's actions, and everything that he undertook, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah, are they not?
- 6 Jehoiakim died, as did his ancestors, and his son Jehoiachin became king in his place.
- 7 The king of Egypt did not leave his territory again, because the king of Babylon had taken everything that belonged to the king of Egypt from the Wadi of Egypt to the Euphrates River.
- 8 Jehoiachin became king at the age of eighteen years, and he reigned for three months in Jerusalem. His mother was named Hausa. She was the daughter of Elzaphan of Jerusalem.
- 9 He practised what the LORD considered to be evil, just as his ancestors had done.
- 10 At that time, the servants of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon attacked Jerusalem and the city was placed under siege.
- 11 King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came up against the city, along with his servants, who besieged it.
- 12 King Jehoiachin of Judah surrendered to the king of Babylon, as did his mother, his servants, his princes, and his officers, during the eighth year of his reign.
- 13 Nebuchadnezzar carried off from there all of the treasures of the LORD's Temple, along with the treasures in the king's palace. He cut into pieces all the gold vessels in the LORD's Temple that King Solomon of Israel had made, just as the LORD had said would happen.
- 14 Then Nebuchadnezzar sent away into exile all of Jerusalem — all the captains, all the valiant soldiers, 10,000 captives, and all of the craftsmen and ironworkers. Nobody remained except the poorest people of the land.
- 15 He sent Jehoiachin into exile to Babylon, along with the king's mother, the king's wives, his officials, and the leading men of the land. He took them into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon.
- 16 All 7,000 of the most valiant soldiers, 1,000 of the craftsmen and ironworkers, all physically fit and trained for battle were brought by the king of Babylon into exile in Babylon.
- 17 The king of Babylon installed Jehoiachin's uncle Mattaniah as king in his place and then changed his name to Zedekiah.
- 18 Zedekiah was 21 years old when he became king. He reigned for eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother was named Hamutal. She was the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.
- 19 Zedekiah practised what the LORD considered to be evil, just as Jehoiakim had done,
- 20 because through the LORD's anger these things happened to Jerusalem and Judah until he threw them from his presence. Zedekiah then rebelled against the king of Babylon,

2 Kings 25

- 1 so on the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, and his entire army approached Jerusalem, attacked it, encamped against it, and built a siege wall that surrounded the city.

2 The city remained under siege until the eleventh year of the reign of King Zedekiah.

3 By the ninth day of the fourth month, the resulting famine had become so severe in the city that no food remained for the people who lived in the land.

4 The city was breached, and the entire army left during the night through the gate that stood between the two walls beside the royal garden, even though the Chaldeans had surrounded the city. They escaped through the Arabah,

5 but the Chaldean army pursued the king and overtook him in the Jericho plains, where his entire army was scattered.

6 The Chaldeans captured the king, brought him to Riblah, where the king of Babylon determined his sentence.

7 They executed Zedekiah's sons in his presence, blinded Zedekiah, bound him with bronze chains, and transported him to Babylon.

8 On the seventh day of the fifth month, which was during the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar's reign as king of Babylon, captain of the guard Nebuzaradan, a servant of the king of Babylon, arrived in Jerusalem,

9 set fire to the LORD's Temple, the royal palace, and all the houses of Jerusalem. He even set fire to the lavish homes.

10 The Chaldean army that accompanied the captain of the guard demolished the walls that surrounded Jerusalem.

11 Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard, carried the survivors of the people who remained in the city, those who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude into exile.

12 However, the captain of the guard left some of the poor people of the land to work as vinedressers and farmers.

13 The Chaldeans also broke into pieces and carried back to Babylon the bronze pillars that stood in the LORD's Temple, along with the stands and the bronze sea that used to be in the LORD's Temple.

14 They also confiscated the pots, shovels, snuffers, spoons, and the rest of the bronze vessels that were used in ministry.

15 The captain of the guard also confiscated the fire pans, basins, and whatever had been crafted of pure gold and pure silver.

16 The bronze contained in the two pillars, the one sea, and the stands that Solomon had crafted for the LORD's Temple could not be inventoried for weight.

17 The height of one of the pillars was 24 feet, and the capital on top of it was four and a half feet high. A latticework carved in the form of pomegranates encircled the capital, crafted completely out of brass. The second pillar was identical to the first.

18 The captain of the guard arrested Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the second priest, three temple officials, 19 one overseer from the city who supervised the soldiers, five of the king's advisors who had been discovered in the city, the scribe who served the army captain who mustered the army of the land, and 60 men of the land who were discovered in the city.

20 Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them to the king of Babylon at Riblah, 21 where the king of Babylon executed them in the land of Hamath. And so Judah was transported into exile from the land.

22 Now as for the people who remained in the land of Judah whom King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon had left behind, he appointed Ahikam's son Gedaliah, the grandson of Shaphan, to rule.

23 When all the captains of the armies, along with their men, heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah, these men visited Gedaliah at Mizpah: Nethaniah's son Ishmael, Kareah's son Johanan, Tanhumeth the Netophathite's son Seraiah, and Jaazaniah, who was descended from the Maacathites.

24 Gedaliah made this promise to them and to their men: "Don't be afraid of the servants of the Chaldeans. Live in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and things will go well with you."

25 Nevertheless, seven months later Nethaniah's son Ishmael, the grandson of Elishama from the royal family, came with ten men and attacked Gedaliah. As a result, he died along with the Jews and Chaldeans who were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people, including those who were insignificant and those who were important, fled with the captains of the armed forces to Egypt, because they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

27 Later on, after King Jehoiachin of Judah had been in exile for 37 years, on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month, during the first year of his reign King Evil-merodach of Babylon released King Jehoiachin of Judah from prison.

28 He spoke kindly to him, and elevated his position above the thrones of the kings with him in Babylon.

29 Jehoiachin changed out of his prison clothes and had regular meals in the king's presence every day for the rest of his life,

30 and a regular stipend was provided to him by the king in accordance with his needs for as long as he lived.

Luke 7

36 Now one of the Pharisees invited Jesus to eat with him. So he went to the Pharisee's home and took his place at the table.

37 There was a woman who was a notorious sinner in that city. When she learned that Jesus was eating at the Pharisee's home, she took an alabaster jar of perfume

38 and knelt at his feet behind him. She was crying and began to wash his feet with her tears and dry them with her hair. Then she kissed his feet over and over again, anointing them constantly with the perfume.

39 Now the Pharisee who had invited Jesus saw this and told himself, "If this man were a prophet, he would have known who is touching him and what kind of woman she is. She's a sinner!"

40 Jesus told him, "Simon, I have something to ask you." "Teacher," he replied, "ask it."

41 "Two men were in debt to a moneylender. One owed him 500 denarii, and the other 50.

42 When they couldn't pay it back, he generously cancelled the debts for both of them. Now which of them will love him more?"

43 Simon answered, "I suppose the one who had the larger debt cancelled." Jesus told him, "You have answered correctly."

44 Then, turning to the woman, he told Simon, "Do you see this woman? I came into your house. You didn't give me any water for my feet, but this woman has washed my feet with her tears and dried them with her hair.

45 You didn't give me a kiss, but this woman, from the moment I came in, has not stopped kissing my feet.

46 You didn't anoint my head with oil, but this woman has anointed my feet with perfume.

47 So I'm telling you that her sins, as many as they are, have been forgiven, and that's why she has shown such great love. But the one to whom little is forgiven loves little."

48 Then Jesus told the woman, "Your sins are forgiven!"

49 Those who were at the table with them began to say among themselves, "Who is this man who even forgives sins?"

50 But Jesus told the woman, "Your faith has saved you. Go in peace."

Luke 8

1 After this, Jesus travelled from one city and village to another, preaching and spreading the good news about God's kingdom. The Twelve were with him,

2 as well as some women who had been healed of evil spirits and illnesses: Mary, also called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out;

3 Joanna, the wife of Herod's household manager Chuza; Susanna; and many others. These women continued to support them out of their personal resources.

4 Now while a large crowd was gathering and people were coming to Jesus from every city, he said in a parable:

5 "A farmer went out to sow his seed. As he was sowing, some seeds fell along the path, were trampled on, and birds from the sky ate them up.

6 Others fell on stony ground, and as soon as they came up, they dried up because they had no moisture.

7 Others fell among thorn bushes, and the thorn bushes grew with them and choked them.

8 But others fell on good soil, and when they came up, they produced a hundred times as much as was planted." As he said this, he called out, "Let the person who has ears to hear, listen!"

Luke 8

9 Then his disciples began to ask him what this parable meant.

10 So he said, "You have been given knowledge about the secrets of the kingdom of God. But to others they are given in parables, so that 'they might look but not see, and they might listen but not understand.'"

11 "Now this is what the parable means. The seed is God's word.

12 The ones on the path are the people who listen, but then the devil comes and takes the word away from their hearts, so that they may not believe and be saved.

13 The ones on the stony ground are the people who joyfully welcome the word when they hear it. But since they don't have any roots, they believe for a while, but in a time of testing they fall away.

14 The ones that fell among the thorn bushes are the people who listen, but as they go on their way they are choked by the worries, wealth, and pleasures of life, and their fruit doesn't mature.

15 But the ones on the good soil are the people who hear the word but also hold on to it with good and honest hearts, producing a crop through endurance."

16 "No one lights a lamp and hides it under a bowl or puts it under a bed. Instead, he puts it on a lamp stand so that those who come in will see the light.

17 There is nothing hidden that will not be revealed, and there is nothing secret that will not become known and come to light.

18 So pay attention to how you listen, because to the one who has something, more will be given. However, from the one who doesn't have, even what he thinks he has will be taken away from him."

19 His mother and his brothers came to him, but they couldn't get near him because of the crowd.

20 Jesus was told, "Your mother and your brothers are standing outside and want to see you."

21 But he answered those people, "My mother and my brothers are those who hear a message from God and heed it."

22 One day Jesus and his disciples got into a boat. He told them, "Let's cross to the other side of the lake." So they started out.

23 Now as they were sailing, Jesus fell asleep. A violent storm swept over the lake, and they were taking on water and were in great danger.

24 So his disciples went to him, woke him up, and kept telling him, "Master! Master! We're going to die!" He got up and rebuked the wind and the raging waves. They stopped, and there was calm.

25 Then he asked the disciples, "Where's your faith?" Frightened and amazed, they asked one another, "Who is this man? He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey him!"

Luke 8

26 They landed in the region of the Gerasenes, which is just across the lake from Galilee.
27 When Jesus stepped out on the shore, a man from the city met him. This man was controlled by demons and had not worn clothes for a long time. He did not live in a house but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he screamed, fell down in front of him, and cried out in a loud voice, "What do you want from me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I beg you not to torture me!"

29 because Jesus was in the process of ordering the unclean spirit to come out of the man. On many occasions the unclean spirit had seized the man, and though he was kept under guard and bound with chains and shackles, he would break the chains and be driven by the demon into deserted places.

30 Jesus asked the man, "What's your name?" He answered, "Legion," because many demons had gone into him.

31 Then the demons began begging Jesus not to order them to go into the bottomless pit.

32 Now a large herd of pigs was grazing there on the hillside. So the demons begged Jesus to let them go into those pigs, and he consented to that.

33 Then the demons came out of the man and went into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the cliff into the lake and drowned.

34 Now when those who had been taking care of the pigs saw what had happened, they ran away and reported it in the city and in the countryside.

35 So the people went out to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus and found the man from whom the demons had gone out sitting at Jesus' feet, dressed and in his right mind, they were frightened.

36 The people who had seen it told them how the demon-possessed man had been healed.

37 Then all the people from the region surrounding the Gerasenes asked Jesus to leave them, because they were terrified. So he got into a boat and started back.

38 Now the man from whom the demons had gone out kept begging Jesus to let him go with him. But Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 "Go home and tell what God has done for you." So the man left and kept proclaiming throughout the whole city how much Jesus had done for him.

40 When Jesus came back, the crowd welcomed him, because everyone was expecting him.

41 Just then a synagogue leader by the name of Jairus arrived. He fell at Jesus' feet and kept begging him to come to his home, 42 because his only daughter, who was about twelve years old, was dying. While Jesus was on his way, the crowds continued to press in on him.

43 A woman was there who had been suffering from chronic bleeding for twelve years. Although she had spent all she had on doctors, no one could heal her.

44 She came up behind Jesus and touched the tassel of his garment, and her bleeding stopped at once.

45 Jesus asked, "Who touched me?" While everyone was denying it, Peter and those who were with him said, "Master, the crowds are surrounding you and pressing in on you."

46 Still Jesus said, "Somebody touched me, because I know that power has gone out of me."

47 When the woman saw that she couldn't hide, she came forward trembling. Bowing down in front of him, she explained in the presence of all the people why she had touched Jesus and how she had been instantly healed.

48 Then he told her, "Daughter, your faith has made you well. Go in peace."

1 Chronicles 4

11 Chelub, Shuhah's brother, fathered Mehir, who fathered Eshton.
12 Eshton fathered Beth-rapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah, who fathered Ir-nahash. These are the men of Recah.
13 Kenaz's descendants were Othniel and Seraiah. Othniel's descendants were Hathath
14 and Meonothai, who fathered Ophrah. Seraiah fathered Joab, who fathered the Gharashim, because they became artisans.
15 The descendants of Jephunneh's son Caleb were Iru, Elah, and Naam. Elah's son was Kenaz.
16 Jehallelel's descendants were Ziph, Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.
17 Ezrah's descendants were Jether, Mered, Ephraim, and Jalon. Mered's wife conceived Miriam, Shammai, and Ishbah, who fathered Eshtemoa.
18 Then his Judean wife bore Jered, who fathered Gedor and then Heber, who fathered Soco and Jekuthiel, who fathered Zanoah. These are the descendants of Bithiah, daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered married.
19 The descendants of Hodiah's wife, Naham's sister, fathered Keilah the Garmite and Eshtemoa the Maacathite.
20 Shimon's descendants were Amnon, Rinnah, Ben-hanan, and Tilon. Ishi's descendants were Zoheth and Ben-zoheth.
21 The descendants of Judah's son Shelah were Er, who fathered Lecah, Laadah (who fathered Mareshah and the families who belonged to the guild of linen workers at Beth-ashbea), 22 Jokim, the men who lived in Cozeba, Joash, and Saraph (who married Moabite families), and Jashubi-lehem. (The records are ancient).
23 These people were potters who lived in Netaim and Gederah in service to their king, who lived there.
24 Simeon's descendants were Nemuel, Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, Shaul,
25 his son Shallum, his son Mibsam, and his son Mishma.
26 Mishma's descendants were his son Hammuel, his son Zaccur, and his son Shimei.
27 Shimei had 16 sons and six daughters, but his relatives did not have many children, nor did their entire family multiply like the Judeans did.
28 They lived in Beer-sheba, Moladah, Hazar-shual,
29 Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,
30 Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,
31 Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susim, Beth-biri, and Shaaraim. These were their cities until David began to reign.
32 Their cities were Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan, for a total of five cities,
33 along with all their settlements that surrounded these cities as far as Baal — this is their settlement history. They kept this genealogical record for themselves:
34 Meshobab, Jamlech, Amaziah's son Joshah,
35 Joel, Joshibiah's son Jehu (who was the grandson of Seraiah and great-grandson of Asiel),
36 Eliezer, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, Benaiah,
37 Shiphi's son Ziza (who was the grandson of Shiphi, who was fathered by Allon, who was fathered by Jedaiah, who was fathered by Shimri, who was fathered by Shemaiah) —
38 these people, enumerated by name, were leaders in their respective families, and their clans grew to be very abundant.
39 They journeyed as far as the entrance of Gedor on the east side of the valley in order to find pasture for their flocks.

40 They discovered abundant and excellent grazing lands there, where the land was very broad, secure, and tranquil, because the former inhabitants there were descendants of Ham.

41 Later on during the reign of Hezekiah, king of Judah, these people, enumerated by name, came and attacked both their homes and the Meunim who had settled there and who remain exterminated to this day. They settled down there, taking their place, because there was pasture there for their flocks.

42 Some of them, that is, 500 Simeonite men, went to Mount Seir. Under the leadership of Ishi's sons Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel, 43 they destroyed the survivors of the Amalekites who had escaped, and they have lived there to this day.

1 Chronicles 5

1 Here is a record of the descendants of Reuben, Israel's firstborn. (He was the firstborn, but because he defiled his father's marriage bed, his birthright was transferred to the descendants of Israel's son Joseph. As a result, Reuben is not enrolled in the genealogy according to the birthright.

2 Even though Judah became prominent among his relatives — that is, the Commander-in-chief will be his descendant — nevertheless the right of the firstborn went to Joseph).

3 The descendants of Reuben, Israel's firstborn, included Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

4 Joel's descendants were his son Shemaiah, his son Gog, his son Shimei,

5 his son Micah, his son Reaiah, his son Baal,

6 and his son Beerah, whom King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria carried away into exile, and who was a governor of the descendants of Reuben.

7 His relatives, listed by families when the genealogy was enrolled according to their generations, included the chief, Jeiel, Zechariah,

8 and Azaz's son Bela, grandson of Shema, and great-grandson of Joel, who lived in Aroer, near Nebo and Baal-meon.

9 He also lived eastward as far as the entrance to the wilderness this side of the Euphrates River, because their cattle had increased in the territory of Gilead.

10 During the reign of Saul they declared war on the Hagrites, who fell in battle by their hand. They lived in their tents throughout all of east Gilead.

11 Gad's descendants lived beside them in the land of Bashan as far as Salecah:

12 They included Joel their chief, Shapham their second in command, Janai, and Shaphat, who lived in Bashan.

13 Their seven relatives, according to the households of their clans, included Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jacan, Zia, and Eber.

14 These were the descendants of Huri's son Abihail, who was fathered by Jaroah, who was fathered by Gilead, who was fathered by Michael, who was fathered by Jeshishai, who was fathered by Jahdo, and who was fathered by Buz:

15 Abdiel's son Ahi, who was the grandson of Guni, was chief in their clan.

16 They lived in Gilead, in Bashan and its villages, and in all the surrounding suburbs of Sharon as far as their borders.

17 All of them were enrolled by genealogies during the reign of King Jotham of Judah and during the reign of King Jeroboam of Israel.

18 The descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh produced 44,700 valiant soldiers expert in shield, sword, and bow. Trained in warfare, they were equipped to serve at a moment's notice.

19 They fought in battle against the Hagrites, Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab.

20 When they received assistance against them, the Hagrites and all of their allies were handed over to their control, because they cried out to God during the battle. He honoured their entreaty, because they had placed their trust in him.

21 They captured 50,000 camels, 250,000 sheep, 2,000 donkeys, and 100,000 war captives from their possessions.

22 Many fell slain, because the battle's outcome was directed by God. They lived in their territory until the exile.

23 The half-tribe of Manasseh lived in the land, spread out from Bashan to Baal-hermon, including Senir and Mount Hermon.

24 These were the leaders of their clans: Ephraim, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel — they were mighty warriors, well known men, and leaders of their clans.

25 But they were unfaithful to the God of their ancestors by prostituting themselves to the gods of the peoples of the land, whom God had exterminated right in front of them.

26 So the God of Israel incited King Pul of Assyria (also known as King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria), who took them prisoner and brought the descendants of Reuben, the descendants of Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh to Halah, Habor, Hara, and to the Gozan River, where they remain to this day.

1 Chronicles 6

1 Levi's descendants included Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

2 Kohath's sons included Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

3 Amram's descendants included Aaron, Moses, and Miriam. Aaron's sons included Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

Luke 8

49 While he was still speaking, someone came from the synagogue leader's home and told him, "Your daughter is dead. Stop bothering the teacher anymore."

50 But when Jesus heard this, he told the synagogue leader, "Stop being afraid! Just believe, and she will get well."

51 When he arrived at the man's house, he allowed no one to go in with him except Peter, John, James, and the young girl's father and mother.

52 Now everyone was crying and wailing for her. But Jesus said, "Stop crying! She's not dead. She's sleeping."

53 They laughed and laughed at him, because they knew she was dead.

54 But he took her hand and called out, "Young lady, get up!"

55 So her spirit returned, and she got up at once. Then Jesus directed that she be given something to eat.

56 Her parents were amazed, but he ordered them not to tell anyone what had happened.

Luke 9

1 Jesus called the Twelve together and gave them power and authority over all the demons and to heal diseases.

2 Then he sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal the sick.

3 He told them, "Don't take anything along on your trip — no walking stick, travelling bag, bread, money, or even an extra shirt.

4 When you visit a home and stay there, and go out from there,

5 if people don't welcome you, when you leave that city, shake its dust off your feet as a testimony against them."

6 So they left and went from village to village, spreading the good news and healing diseases everywhere.

7 Now Herod the tetrarch heard about everything that was happening. He was puzzled because it was said by some that John had been raised from the dead,

8 by others that Elijah had appeared, and by still others that one of the ancient prophets had come back to life.

9 Herod said, "I beheaded John. But who is this man I'm hearing so much about?" So Herod kept trying to see Jesus.

10 The apostles came back and told Jesus everything they had done. Then he took them away with him privately to a city called Bethsaida.

11 But the crowds found out about this and followed him. He welcomed them and began to speak to them about the kingdom of God and to heal those who needed healing.

Luke 9

12 As the day was drawing to a close, the Twelve came to him and said, "Send the crowd away to the neighbouring villages and farms so they can rest and get some food, because we are here in a deserted place."

13 But he told them, "You give them something to eat." They replied, "We have nothing more than five loaves of bread and two fish — unless we go and buy food for all these people."

14 Now there were about 5,000 men. So he told his disciples, "Have them sit down in groups of about 50."

15 They did this and got all of them seated.

16 Taking the five loaves and the two fish, he looked up to heaven and blessed them. Then he broke the loaves in pieces and kept giving them to the disciples to pass on to the crowd.

17 All of them ate and were filled. When they collected the leftover pieces, there were twelve baskets.

18 One day while Jesus was praying privately and the disciples were with him, he asked them, "Who do the crowds say I am?"

19 They answered, "Some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, and still others one of the ancient prophets who has come back to life."

20 He asked them, "But who do you say I am?" "God's Messiah," Peter replied.

21 He gave them strict orders, commanding them not to tell this to anyone.

22 He said, "The Son of Man must suffer a great deal and be rejected by the elders, the high priests, and the scribes. Then he must be killed, but on the third day he will be raised."

23 Then he told all of them, "If anyone wants to come with me, he must deny himself, pick up his cross every day, and follow me continually,

24 because whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake will save it.

25 What profit will a person have if he gains the whole world, but destroys himself or is lost?

26 If anyone is ashamed of me and my words, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when he comes in his glory and the glory of the Father and the holy angels.

27 I tell you with certainty, some people who are standing here will not experience death until they see the kingdom of God."

28 Now about eight days after Jesus said this, he took Peter, John, and James with him and went up on a mountain to pray.

29 While he was praying, the appearance of his face changed, and his clothes turned dazzling white.

30 Suddenly, two men were talking with him. They were Moses and Elijah.

31 They had a glorified appearance, and were discussing Jesus' departure that he would shortly bring about in Jerusalem.

32 Now Peter and the men with him had been overcome by sleep. When they woke up, they saw Jesus' glory and the two men standing with him.

33 Just as Moses and Elijah were leaving, Peter told Jesus, "Master, it's good that we're here! Let's set up three shelters — one for you, one for Moses, and one for Elijah." (Peter didn't know what he was saying).

34 But while he was saying this, a cloud appeared and surrounded them, and they became terrified as they were being overshadowed by the cloud.

35 Then a voice came out of the cloud and said, "This is my Son, whom I have chosen. Keep listening to him!"

36 After the voice had spoken, Jesus was alone. The disciples kept silent and at that time told no one about what they had seen.

Luke 9

37 The next day, when they had come down from the mountain, a large crowd met Jesus.
38 Suddenly a man in the crowd shouted, "Teacher, I beg you to look at my son, because he is my only child.

39 Without warning a spirit takes control of him, and he suddenly screams, goes into convulsions, and foams at the mouth. The spirit mauls him and refuses to leave him.

40 I begged your disciples to drive it out, but they couldn't."

41 Jesus answered, "You unbelieving and perverted generation! How much longer must I be with you and put up with you? Bring your son here!"

42 Even while the boy was coming, the demon knocked him to the ground and threw him into convulsions. But Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, healed the boy, and gave him back to his father.

43 All the people continued to be amazed at the greatness of God. Indeed, everyone was astonished at all the things Jesus was doing. So he told his disciples,

44 "Listen carefully to these words. The Son of Man is going to be betrayed into human hands."

45 But they didn't know what this meant. Indeed, the meaning was hidden from them so that they didn't understand it; and they were afraid to ask him about this statement.

46 Later, an argument started among the disciples as to which of them might be the greatest.

47 But Jesus, knowing their inner thoughts, took a little child and had him stand beside him.

48 Then he told them, "Whoever welcomes this little child in my name welcomes me, and whoever welcomes me welcomes the one who sent me, because the one who is least among all of you is the one who is greatest."

49 John said, "Master, we saw someone driving out demons in your name. We tried to stop him, because he wasn't a follower like us."

50 Jesus told him, "Don't stop him! Because whoever is not against you is for you."

51 When the days grew closer for Jesus to be taken up to heaven, he was determined to continue his journey to Jerusalem.

52 So he sent messengers on ahead of him. On their way they went into a Samaritan village to get things ready for him.

53 But the people would not welcome him, because he was determined to go to Jerusalem.

54 When his disciples James and John observed this rejection, they asked, "Lord, do you want us to call fire down from heaven to destroy them?"

55 But he turned and rebuked them,

56 and they all went on to another village.

57 While they were walking along the road, a man told him, "I will follow you wherever you go."

58 Jesus told him, "Foxes have holes and birds have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to rest."

59 He told another man, "Follow me." But he said, "Lord, first let me go and bury my father."

60 But he told him, "Let the dead bury their own dead. But you go and proclaim the kingdom of God."

61 Still another man said, "I will follow you, Lord, but first let me say goodbye to those at home."

62 Jesus told him, "No one who puts his hand to the plough and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God."

24 The guardians were stationed on four sides — east, west, north, and south.
25 Their relatives who lived in their villages were required to visit every seven days to be with them in turn,
26 because the four senior gatekeepers (who were descendants of Levi) had been placed in charge of the chambers and the treasury of the Temple of God.
27 They spent the night near the Temple of God, since they had been entrusted to guard it. They were in charge of opening it every morning.
28 Some were responsible for the service utensils, and they were required to take an inventory of them when they were brought in and out.
29 Others were responsible for the furniture and for all of the holy utensils, including the flour, wine, oil, incense, and spices.
30 Other descendants of the priests prepared the mixed spices.

32 Some of their Kohathite relatives were responsible to prepare the rows of bread for each Sabbath.

38 Mikloth fathered Shimeam. They lived across town from their relatives in Jerusalem.
39 Ner fathered Kish, Kish fathered Saul, and Saul fathered Jonathan, Malchi-shua, Abinadab, and Esh-baal.
40 Jonathan fathered Merib-baal, and Merib-baal fathered Micah.
41 Micah's descendants included Pithon, Melech, Tahrea, and Ahaz.
42 Ahaz fathered Jarah, and Jarah fathered Alemeth, Azmaveth, and Zimri. Zimri fathered Moza, and 43 Moza fathered Binea, and Rephaiah was his son, Eleasah his son, and Azel his son.

44 Azel had six descendants with these names: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan — these were the descendants of Azel.

1 Chronicles 10

1 The Philistines were fighting against Israel, and each soldier of Israel fled before the Philistines. They fell slain on the mountain of Gilboa.

2 The Philistines followed after Saul and after his sons, and the Philistines struck down Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchi-shua, Saul's sons.

3 The heaviest fighting was against Saul, and when the archers who were shooting located Saul, he was gravely wounded by them.

4 Saul ordered his armour bearer, "Draw your sword and run me through with it, or these uncircumcised people will come and abuse me." But his armour bearer did not want to do it because he was very frightened, so Saul took the sword and fell on it.

5 When his armour bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died.

6 Therefore Saul, his three sons, and all his entire household died together.

7 When that part of the army of Israel that was in the valley saw that the rest of the army of Israel had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their cities and fled, and the Philistines came and occupied them.

Luke 10

- 1 After this, the Lord appointed seventy other disciples and was about to send them ahead of him in pairs to every town and place that he intended to go.
- 2 So he instructed them, "The harvest is vast, but the workers are few. So ask the Lord of the harvest to send workers out into his harvest.
- 3 Get going! See, I am sending you out like lambs among wolves.
- 4 Don't carry a wallet, a travelling bag, or sandals, and don't greet anyone on the way.
- 5 "Whatever house you go into, first say, 'May there be peace in this house.'
- 6 If a peaceful person lives there, your greeting of peace will remain with him. But if that's not the case, your greeting will come back to you.
- 7 Stay with the same family, eating and drinking whatever they provide, because the worker deserves his pay. Don't move from house to house.
- 8 "Whenever you go into a town and the people welcome you, eat whatever they serve you,
- 9 heal the sick that are there, and tell them, 'The kingdom of God is near you!'
- 10 But whenever you go into a town and people don't welcome you, go out into its streets and say,
- 11 'We are wiping off your town's dust that clings to our feet in protest against you! But realize this: the kingdom of God is near!'
- 12 I tell you, on the last day it will be easier for Sodom than for that town!"
- 13 "How terrible it will be for you, Chorazin! How terrible it will be for you, Bethsaida! If the miracles that happened in you had taken place in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.
- 14 It will be easier for Tyre and Sidon at the judgement than for you!
- 15 And you, Capernaum! You won't be lifted up to heaven, will you? You'll go down to Hell!
- 16 The person who listens to you listens to me, and the person who rejects you rejects me. The person who rejects me rejects the one who sent me."
- 17 The seventy disciples came back and joyously reported, "Lord, even the demons are submitting to us in your name!"
- 18 He told them, "I watched Satan falling from heaven like lightning.
- 19 Look! I have given you the authority to trample on snakes and scorpions and to destroy all the enemy's power, and nothing will ever hurt you.
- 20 However, stop rejoicing because the spirits are submitting to you. Rather, rejoice because your names are written in heaven."

1 Chronicles 10

8 The Philistines came to strip the dead the next day, and they found Saul dead on Gilboa mountain, along with his sons.

9 They stripped him, took his head and armour, and sent messengers throughout the territory of the Philistines to report the news to their idols and to the people.

10 Then they put Saul's armour in the temple of their gods and fastened his skull to the wall of the temple of Dagon.

11 When all the residents of Jabesh-gilead heard everything that the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 every valiant soldier got up, removed the bodies of Saul and his sons, took them to Jabesh, and buried their bones under the tamarisk tree in Jabesh. Then they fasted for seven days.

13 So Saul died for his transgressions; that is, he acted unfaithfully to the LORD by transgressing the message from the LORD (which he did not keep), by consulting a medium for advice,

14 and by not seeking counsel from the LORD, who therefore put him to death and turned the kingdom over to Jesse's son David.

1 Chronicles 11

1 Later on, all of Israel gathered together at Hebron in order to tell David, "Look, we're your own flesh and blood!

2 Even back when Saul was ruling as king, you kept on leading the army of Israel out to battle and bringing them in again. The LORD your God told you, 'You yourself will shepherd my people Israel and will be Commander-in-Chief over my people Israel.'"

3 So all the elders of Israel approached the king at Hebron, where David entered into a covenant in the presence of the LORD. Then they anointed David to be king over Israel, just as the LORD had sent word through Samuel.

4 Later, David and all of Israel marched to Jerusalem (then known as Jebus, where the Jebusites lived when they inhabited the land).

5 The inhabitants of Jebus told David, "You're not coming in here!" Nevertheless, David captured the fortress of Zion, now known as the city of David.

6 David had announced, "Whoever first attacks the Jebusites will be appointed chief and commander." When Zeruiah's son Joab went up first, he became chief.

7 David occupied the fortress, so it was named the City of David after him.

8 He built up the walls surrounding the city in a complete circle from the terrace ramparts, and Joab repaired the rest of the city.

9 David became more and more prestigious because the LORD of the Heavenly Armies was with him.

10 These are the leaders of the elite warriors who were strong supporters of David in his kingdom, along with all of Israel, in keeping with the message from the LORD concerning Israel.

11 This record of the warriors who were for David included Hachmoni's son Jashobeam, leader of the platoons, who killed 300 with his spear in a single encounter.

12 Next to him among the Three was Dodo the Ahohite's son Eleazar.

13 He was with David at Pas-dammim when the Philistines were there to engage them in battle. There was a field planted with barley, and the army had run away from the Philistines,

14 but they took a defensive stand in the middle of the field and killed the Philistines while the LORD saved them by means of a great victory.

15 Later, the Three platoon leaders went down to David's hideout at the cave of Adullam when the Philistine army was camping in the valley of giants.

16 David was living in that stronghold at the time, while a Philistine garrison was then at Bethlehem.

17 David expressed a longing, "Oh, how I wish someone would get me a drink of water from the Bethlehem well that's by the city gate!"

18 So the Three broke through the Philistine ranks, drew some water from the Bethlehem well that was next to the city gate, and brought it back to David. But David refused to drink it, poured it out in the LORD's presence, and 19 said in response, "May God forbid me to do this! I won't drink the blood of these men, will I? After all, they risked their lives to bring it to me." That's why he wouldn't drink it. The Three warriors did these things.

20 Joab's brother Abishai was the lieutenant in charge of the platoons. He used his spear to fight and kill 300 men, gaining a reputation distinct from the Three.

21 He was more well-known than the Three, but he never attained the stature of the Three.

22 Jehoiada's son Benaiah, who was a valiant man, accomplished great things. He was from Kabzeel. He killed two men named Ariel from Moab and then he also went down into a pit and struck down a lion during a snow storm one day.

23 He also killed a soldier from Egypt of enormous height — seven and a half feet tall. The Egyptian carried a spear comparable in size to a weaver's beam, but Benaiah attacked him with a staff, snatched the spear out of the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear.

24 Benaiah did things like this and gained a reputation comparable to the Three warriors.

25 He was well known among the platoons, but he didn't measure up to the Three. David placed him in charge of his security detail.

26 The elite forces included Asahel (Joab's brother), Dodo's son Elhanan from Bethlehem,

27 Shammoth from Haror, Helez the Pelonite,

28 Ikkesh's son Ira from Tekoa, Abiezer from Anathoth,

29 Sibbecai the Hushathite, Ilai the Ahohite,

30 Maharai from Netophah, Baanah's son Heled from Netophah,

31 Ribai's son Ithai from Gibeath, controlled by the descendants of Benjamin, Benaiah of Pirathon,

32 Hurai from the wadis of Gaash, Abiel the Arbathite,

33 Azmaveth from Baharum, Eliahba from Shaalbon,

34 Hashem the Gizonite, Shagee the Hararite's son Jonathan,

35 Sachar the Hararite's son Ahiam, Ur's son Eliphal,

36 Hephher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,

37 Hezro from Carmel, Ezbai's son Naarai,

38 Joel (Nathan's brother), Hagri's son Mibhar,

39 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai from Beeroth, who was the armour-bearer for Zeruiah's son Joab,

40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,

41 Uriah the Hittite, Ahlai's son Zabad,

42 Shiza the Reubenite's son Adina, a leader of the descendants of Reuben, along with thirty others with him,

43 Maacah's son Hanan, Joshaphat the Mithnite,

44 Uzzia the Ashterathite, Hotham the Aroerite's sons Shama and Jeiel,

45 Shimri's son Jediah and his brother Joha the Tizite,

46 Eliel the Mahavite, Elnaam's sons Jeribai and Joshaviah, Ithmah the Moabite, 47 Eliel, Obed, and Jaasiel the Mezobaite.

1 Chronicles 12

- 1 Here's a list of those who came to David at Ziklag when he was unable to travel freely due to Saul son of Kish. They were among the elite soldiers who assisted him in battle.
- 2 Equipped as archers, they could use both their right and left hands to shoot arrows and hurl stones. As descendants of Benjamin, they were Saul's relatives.
- 3 Their leaders were Shemaah's sons Ahiezer and Joash from Gibeah, Azmaveth's sons Jeziel and Pelet, Beracah, Jehu from Anathoth,
- 4 Ishmaiah from Gibeon (who was one of the elite among the Thirty and in charge over them), Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, Jozabad from Gederah,
- 5 Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, Shephatiah the Haruphite,
- 6 Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, Jashobeam, the descendants of Korah,
- 7 and Jeroham's sons Joelah and Zebadiah from Gedor.
- 8 Mighty and experienced warriors from the descendants of Gad joined David at his wilderness stronghold. They were expert handlers of both shield and spear, with hardened looks and as agile as a gazelle on a mountain slope.
- 9 Their leader was Ezer, Obadiah was second, Eliab third,
- 10 Mishmannah fourth, Jeremiah fifth,
- 11 Attai sixth, Eliel seventh,
- 12 Johanan eighth, Elzabad ninth,
- 13 Jeremiah tenth, and Machbannai eleventh.
- 14 These descendants of Gad were army leaders. The least of them was equal to a hundred other soldiers and the greatest to a thousand.
- 15 These men crossed the Jordan in the first month of the year during flood season and chased out everyone in the valleys, to the east and to the west.

Luke 10

21 At that moment, the Holy Spirit made Jesus extremely joyful, so Jesus said, "I praise you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because you have hidden these things from wise and intelligent people and have revealed them to infants. Yes, Father, because this is what was pleasing to you.

22 "All things have been entrusted to me by my Father. No one knows who the Son is except the Father, and no one knows who the Father is except the Son and the person to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."

23 Then turning to his disciples in private, he told them, "How blessed are the eyes that see what you see!

24 Because I tell you, many prophets and kings wanted to see the things you see but didn't see them, and to hear the things you hear but didn't hear them."

25 Just then an expert in the Law stood up to test Jesus. He asked, "Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

26 Jesus answered him, "What is written in the Law? What do you read there?"

27 He answered, "You must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your strength, and with all your mind. And you must love your neighbour as yourself."

28 Jesus told him, "You have answered correctly. 'Do this, and you will live.'"

29 But the man wanted to justify himself, so he asked Jesus, "And who is my neighbour?"

30 After careful consideration, Jesus replied, "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho when he fell into the hands of bandits. They stripped him, beat him, and went away, leaving him half dead.

31 By chance, a priest was travelling along that road. When he saw the man, he went by on the other side.

32 Similarly, a descendant of Levi came to that place. When he saw the man, he also went by on the other side.

33 But as he was travelling along, a Samaritan came across the man. When the Samaritan saw him, he was moved with compassion.

34 He went to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring oil and wine on them. Then he put him on his own animal, brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 The next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper, saying, 'Take good care of him. If you spend more than that, I'll repay you when I come back.'

36 "Of these three men, who do you think was a neighbour to the man who fell into the hands of the bandits?"

37 He said, "The one who showed mercy to him." Jesus told him, "Go and do what he did."

38 Now as they were travelling along, Jesus went into a village. A woman named Martha welcomed him into her home.

39 She had a sister named Mary, who sat down at the Lord's feet and kept listening to what he was saying.

40 But Martha was worrying about all the things she had to do, so she came to him and asked, "Lord, you do care that my sister has left me to do the work all by myself, don't you? Then tell her to help me."

41 The Lord answered her, "Martha, Martha! You worry and fuss about a lot of things.

42 But there's only one thing you need. Mary has chosen what is better, and it is not to be taken away from her."

1 Chronicles 12

16 Later, some descendants of Benjamin and Judah approached David at his stronghold,
17 and David went out to meet them. He told them, "If you've come in peace to be of help to me, then you'll have my commitment. But if you've come to betray me to my enemies, even though I'm innocent of wrongdoing, then may the God of our ancestors watch and judge."
